Allotment and Operations of Locker

Locker facility is provided by the bank at its select branches.

For obtaining a locker at the Bank of Baroda, you must be an account holder with our Bank.

Lockers can be allotted both individually (except minor) as well as jointly.

NRIs do not require any prior permission from the RBI to hire a Locker with the Bank of Baroda.

The lockers will be allotted on first come first served basis to the customers only

At the time of hiring the locker, bank will obtain a minimum-security deposit in the form of FDR from the lessee for the amount which would cover 3 years rent and the charges for breaking open the locker in case of such eventualities.

The security deposit will be kept under Bank's lien in respect of rentals and other dues on locker services viz. breaking open/replacement of lock in case of loss of keys, etc.

An acknowledgement will be issued by the bank for fixed deposit to be kept as security deposit.

The hirer of the locker will be provided the copy of the agreement i.e. 'Memorandum of Letting' by the bank.

Loss of key should be immediately informed to the Branch. The bank shall not be responsible for any loss. Charges for opening the locker, or replacing the lost key, and for changing the lock shall be payable by the Renter/s.

The renter is required to operate the locker at least once in every six months and if the locker remains unoperated for more than a year from the last date of operation then the Bank will have a right to cancel the allotment of the locker by giving a notice for security reasons and treat the Renter/s as a defaulter, notwithstanding that the rent has been paid up to date.

The locker will be operated during the specified timing displayed at the branches.

Benefits of Nomination/Survivorship Clause

The Bank has the facility of nomination in case of deposit of Locker and safe custody articles facility. However, the facility of nomination is not available in case of deposit of safe custody articles by more than one person.

In the event of the death of one of the joint holders of locker/safe custody, the right to the contents of the locker or the articles under safe custody does not automatically devolve on the surviving joint holder, unless there is a nomination/survivorship clause.

The customers are, therefore, advised to make nomination/open joint accounts under survivorship clause in their own interest.

Access to the Survivor(s)/Nominee(s)/Legal Heir(s) with Survivor/Nominee Clause

If the sole locker hirer nominates a person, bank will give to such nominee access of the locker and liberty to remove the contents of the locker in the event of the death of the sole locker hirer.

In case the locker was hired jointly with survivorship clause and the hirers instructed that the access of the locker should be given over to "either or survivor", "anyone or survivor" or "former or survivor" or according to any other survivorship clause, bank will follow the mandate in the event of the death of one or more of the locker-hirers

The similar procedure will be followed for return of articles placed in the safe custody to the survivor/nominee.

In case the locker was hired jointly with the instructions to operate it under joint signatures, and the locker hirer(s) nominates person(s), in the event of death of any of the locker hirers, the bank may give access of the locker and the liberty to remove the contents jointly to the survivor(s) and the nominee(s).

The claimants will have to establish their identity and submit documentary proof in respect of death of the locker hirer.

In such cases, the Bank will not insist on production of succession certificate, letter of administration or probate, etc., or obtain any bond of indemnity or surety from the survivor(s)/nominee(s).

There should not be any order from a competent court restraining the bank from giving access to the locker of the deceased.

In case of locker/safe custody with nomination/survivorship clause the bank will demand only following papers:

- Copy of death certificate (duly certified from original).

- Duly filled in claim application in the prescribed form no. 352.

- Stamped receipt for discharged safe custody receipt/locker.

The access given to the survivor(s)/nominee(s), subject to the applicable conditions, would constitute a full discharge of the bank's liability and the bank will not insist on production of succession certificate, letter of administration or probate, etc., or obtain any bond of indemnity or surety from the survivor(s)/Nominee(s).

Access to the Survivor(s)/Nominee(s)/Legal Heir(s) without Survivor/Nominee Clause

In case where the deceased locker hirer/depositor of the articles under safe custody had not made any nomination or clear survivorship clause, the access may be provided to the legal representative of the deceased based on Succession Certificate or Probate of a WILL or Letter of Administration. In such cases the bank will give access to their legal heir(s)/legal representative on the basis of following documents:

- Copy of death certificate (duly certified from original)

Duly filled in claim form together with surety letter

Legal representation i.e. succession certificate or letter of administration or Probate of Will.

Stamped receipt for discharged safe custody/Locker receipt.

However, in case the contents of the locker are not of great value, the Bank may at its discretion allow the heirs of the deceased to see the contents of the locker after fulfilling certain conditions and thereafter access to the locker may be allowed if the Bank deem fit so.

General Guidelines The Renter/Lessee and depositor of safe custody articles are advised that access to locker/safe custody articles may be given to survivor(s)/nominee(s) only as a trustee of the legal heirs of the deceased locker hirer/depositor of safe custody articles on the condition that such access if given to survivor(s)/nominee(s) shall not affect the right or claim which any person may have against the survivor(s)/nominee(s) to whom the access is given.

Rs. 200 p.m. or part thereof for first 3 months and Rs. 50 p.m. thereafter. When annual locker rental is above Rs. 3000

Rs. 100 per occasion Note

The revised locker rent will be applicable to the existing customers whose rent becomes due after 31/10/2015 and to all new lockers allotted on and after 01/11/2015.

Allotment of lockers is on first-come-first served basis. For this purpose, a wait list is maintained.

80% of the lockers are allotted strictly as per the wait list, while 20% can be allotted at the discretion of the Branch Manager having regard to business considerations.

In case of breaking open of the locker, Rs. 1000 to be recovered as incidental charges over and above actual cost incurred for the same.

Bank will obtain security deposit in the form of fixed deposit which would cover 3 years rent and the charges for breaking open the locker and it kept in RIRD scheme of time deposit. No receipt will be issued for security deposit. However, an acknowledgement will be given to the depositor.

Operation in the lockers will be stopped if rent is not paid on due date.

The Bank reserves the right to revise the rentals/security deposit amounts and existing Renter/s shall be given notice of revised rentals/security deposit amount and their effective dates through branch notice board and/or bank's website

Interest Payment: In terms of Reserve Bank of India directives, interest shall be calculated at quarterly compounding intervals on Term Deposits and paid at the rate decided by the Bank depending upon the period of deposits. In case of Monthly Deposit Scheme, the interest shall be calculated for the quarter on compounding basis and paid monthly at discounted value. The interest on Term deposits is calculated by the Bank in accordance with the formulae and conventions advised by Indian Banks' Association.

Accordingly Bank has adopted following methodology.

"In all cases of Domestic Term Deposits ( period of deposit more than a year) where the terminal quarter is incomplete, interest should be calculated for complete quarter and the actual number of days, reckoning the year 365/366 days viz the calculation of interest on such deposits should be in order of completed quarters and days.Ã¢â¬Å

For Deposits of 2 Quarters and above, interest is calculated in quarterly compounded for complete quarters and where the terminal quarter incomplete, interest is calculated proportionately for the actual no of days reckoning the year 365/366 days.

The Maturity Amount mentioned in the receipt is calculated without giving TDS effect. While calculating interest for half year(Quarterly compounded), the interest calculated for previous half year (quarterly compounded) minus TDS will be added to principal amount for calculating interest for current Half Year.

For Short Deposits of less than 2 quarters but more than 1 quarter simple interest will be paid for complete quarter and plus interest for remaining days reckoning the year 365-366 days( without compound effect).

For short deposits of less than one quarter interest is calculated proportionately for actual number for days reckoning the year 365-366 days. The interest on FCNR deposits shall be paid at the rates calculated in accordance with the basis prescribed by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) from time to time for various maturities. The interest on FCNR deposits shall be paid on the basis of 360 days to a year and shall be calculated at intervals of 180 days each.

Deduction of Income tax at source from payment of interest on time deposits (section 194A of income tax act 1961) w.e.f 1st July 1995

Income Tax is to be deducted in cases where the total interest paid or credited on all time deposits in the name of a depositor with Bank as a whole, whether singly or jointly (as first named person) exceeds the specified limit per financial year as under income tax act 1961, Tax is to be deducted either at the time of credit to the account or payment of interest to the depositor whichever is earlier subject to change in limits of interest eligible for tax limit from time to time.

In case the depositor submits following Form before end of April every year, no tax may be deducted.

Non-corporate customers other than Senior Citizens - Form No.15G along with PAN (w.e.f. 1st April 2010).

Senior Citizens i.e. individuals of the age of -60- years or more - Form No.15H along with PAN (w.e.f. 1st April 2010) w.e.f. 1st April 2010 I.T. Department has made it mandatory to quote Permanent Account No. (PAN) by deductees in all cases where TDS is applicable, failure of which would attract the TDS at a higher rate of 20% (against normal rate of 10%) or normal rate whichever is higher. Further it has also been made compulsory to mention PAN on form No.15G / 15H w.e.f. 1st April 2010.

The Bank will issue a system generated tax deduction certificate (TDS Certificate) for the amount of tax deducted on quarterly basis. Interest earned/accrued on NRE & FCNR Term Deposits is tax free in India under the relevant provisions of Income Tax Act in India and hence no tax at source is deductible in respect of these deposits. Ã¢â¬ÅIn case of NRO depositsÃ¢â¬Å The depositor can claim the benefit of reduced rates of tax under Double Tax Avoidance Agreement (DTAA), which India has with the governments of various countries, by submitting the documents prescribed by the Bank at the beginning of every financial year.

However, Bank has statutory obligation to deduct tax at source on any interest paid / payable on NRO Term Deposits at the specified rates. If PAN is submitted with a declaration applicable under Double Tax Avoidance Treaty - TDS is deducted @ applicable rate for the country of residence of the customer.

If PAN is submitted without declaration - TDS is deducted @30%

If declaration is submitted without PAN - TDS @normal rate or 20% whichever is higher.

If PAN and declaration is not submitted - TDS @30%

All interest payments will be rounded off to the nearest rupee.

The Term Deposit account holders at the time of placing their deposits can give instructions with regard to closure of Deposit account or renewal of deposit for further period on the date of maturity. In absence of such mandate, the Bank will automatically renew the deposit as under.

If Deposit is placed for more than one year it will be automatically renewed for one year at the prevailing rate on due date.

If Deposit is placed for less than one year it will be automatically renewed for same period at the prevailing rate on due date.

In case, the customer wishes to make changes in the tenure or wants premature proceeds of the Term deposit, the same is allowed at the written request of the customer. In case of deposits under callable scheme premature withdrawal of bulk deposit is done as per Bank's discretion.

Bulk Deposits (Rs.2 crore & above) "Bulk Deposit" means a single Rupee Term Deposits of Rs. 2 Crore and above (RBI/2018-19/128, DBR.DIR.BC.No.27/13.03.00/2018-19 dated.22.02.2019).

In case multiple deposits are created on same day aggregating Rs.2.00 Crores and more, but the same mature on different dates, then it will not tantamount to splitting of Bulk Deposit. Also multiple deposits created on same day aggregating Rs.2.00 Crores and more with same maturity period but for different specific purposes will not tantamount to splitting of Bulk Deposit, provided the customer submits supportive documents for the same.

Settlement of Dues in Deceased Deposit Account If the depositor has registered nomination with the Bank, the balance outstanding in the account of the deceased depositor will be transferred to the account of nominee after the Bank satisfies about the identity of the nominee etc. Payment is made to nominee as representative of legal heirs.

The above procedure will be followed even in respect of a joint account where nomination is registered with the Bank.

In a Joint Deposit Account, when one of the joint account holders dies, the Bank is required to make payment jointly to the legal heirs of the deceased person and the surviving depositor(s). However, if the joint account holders had given mandate for disposal of the balance in the account in the forms such as "either or survivor", "former / latter or survivor", anyone of survivors or survivor; etc., the payment will be made as per the mandate to avoid delays in production of legal papers by the heirs of the deceased.

In a Term Deposit account held in joint names if operating instructions is "either or survivor", "Former or survivor" when one of the depositor dies, the payment will be made to survivor on maturity. If prepayment is demanded, it will be allowed only after obtaining consent of legal heirs of the deceased.

In the absence of nomination and when there are no disputes among the claimants, the Bank will pay the amount outstanding in the account of deceased person against joint application and indemnity by all legal heirs or the person mandated by the legal heirs to receive the payment on their behalf without insisting on legal documents up to the limit approved by the Bank's Board. This is to ensure that the common depositors are not put hardship on account of delays in completing legal formalities.

Interest Payable on Term Deposit in Deceased Account In the event of death of the depositor before the date of maturity of Deposit and amount of the deposit is claimed after the date of maturity, the Bank shall pay interest at the contracted rate till the date of maturity. From the date of maturity till the date of payment, the Bank shall pay simple interest at the applicable rate as on the date of maturity, for the period for which the deposit remained with the Bank beyond the date of maturity, as per the Bank's policy in this regard.

However, in the case of death of the depositor after the date of maturity of the overdue deposit, the Bank shall pay interest at Savings Bank Deposit rate applicable on the date of maturity from the date of maturity till the date of payment.

Premature Withdrawal of Term Deposit Premature payment is not allowed. However, in case of death prepayment is allowed as per the Banks usual norms and procedures

Penalty is waived on settlement of claims in the deceased depositor's accounts and two or more joint depositors where one of the depositor has died, Interest is paid at applicable rate.

In normal circumstances premature closure of a joint deposit shall be permitted only if all the deposit holders sign a request to that effect. In the case of Term deposits with operating instructions Either Or Survivor, Former Or Survivor, Latter Or Survivor and Anyone Or Survivor and in the event of death of one of the joint holders, in the absence of relevant mandate, premature closure of such deposit will be allowed only if the legal heirs of the deceased agree for such premature closure. In cases where relevant mandate is available with the Bank, premature closure of such deposits shall be allowed in the favour of survivors.

Interest Payment: In terms of Reserve Bank of India directives, interest shall be calculated at quarterly compounding intervals on Term Deposits and paid at the rate decided by the Bank depending upon the period of deposits. In case of Monthly Deposit Scheme, the interest shall be calculated for the quarter on compounding basis and paid monthly at discounted value. The interest on Term deposits is calculated by the Bank in accordance with the formulae and conventions advised by Indian Banks' Association.

Accordingly Bank has adopted following methodology.

“In all cases of Domestic Term Deposits ( period of deposit more than a year) where the terminal quarter is incomplete, interest should be calculated for complete quarter and the actual number of days, reckoning the year 365/366 days viz the calculation of interest on such deposits should be in order of completed quarters and days.”

For Deposits of 2 Quarters and above, interest is calculated in quarterly compounded for complete quarters and where the terminal quarter incomplete, interest is calculated proportionately for the actual no of days reckoning the year 365/366 days.

The Maturity Amount mentioned in the receipt is calculated without giving TDS effect. While calculating interest for half year(Quarterly compounded), the interest calculated for previous half year (quarterly compounded) minus TDS will be added to principal amount for calculating interest for current Half Year.

For Short Deposits of less than 2 quarters but more than 1 quarter simple interest will be paid for complete quarter and plus interest for remaining days reckoning the year 365-366 days( without compound effect).

For short deposits of less than one quarter interest is calculated proportionately for actual number for days reckoning the year 365-366 days. The interest on FCNR deposits shall be paid at the rates calculated in accordance with the basis prescribed by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) from time to time for various maturities. The interest on FCNR deposits shall be paid on the basis of 360 days to a year and shall be calculated at intervals of 180 days each.

Deduction of Income tax at source from payment of interest on time deposits (section 194A of income tax act 1961) w.e.f 1st July 1995

Income Tax is to be deducted in cases where the total interest paid or credited on all time deposits in the name of a depositor with Bank as a whole, whether singly or jointly (as first named person) exceeds the specified limit per financial year as under income tax act 1961, Tax is to be deducted either at the time of credit to the account or payment of interest to the depositor whichever is earlier subject to change in limits of interest eligible for tax limit from time to time.

In case the depositor submits following Form before end of April every year, no tax may be deducted.

Non-corporate customers other than Senior Citizens - Form No.15G along with PAN (w.e.f. 1st April 2010).

Senior Citizens i.e. individuals of the age of -60- years or more - Form No.15H along with PAN (w.e.f. 1st April 2010) w.e.f. 1st April 2010 I.T. Department has made it mandatory to quote Permanent Account No. (PAN) by deductees in all cases where TDS is applicable, failure of which would attract the TDS at a higher rate of 20% (against normal rate of 10%) or normal rate whichever is higher. Further it has also been made compulsory to mention PAN on form No.15G / 15H w.e.f. 1st April 2010.

The Bank will issue a system generated tax deduction certificate (TDS Certificate) for the amount of tax deducted on quarterly basis. Interest earned/accrued on NRE & FCNR Term Deposits is tax free in India under the relevant provisions of Income Tax Act in India and hence no tax at source is deductible in respect of these deposits. "In case of NRO deposits" The depositor can claim the benefit of reduced rates of tax under Double Tax Avoidance Agreement (DTAA), which India has with the governments of various countries, by submitting the documents prescribed by the Bank at the beginning of every financial year.

However, Bank has statutory obligation to deduct tax at source on any interest paid / payable on NRO Term Deposits at the specified rates. If PAN is submitted with a declaration applicable under Double Tax Avoidance Treaty - TDS is deducted @ applicable rate for the country of residence of the customer.

If PAN is submitted without declaration - TDS is deducted @30%

If declaration is submitted without PAN - TDS @normal rate or 20% whichever is higher.

If PAN and declaration is not submitted - TDS @30%

All interest payments will be rounded off to the nearest rupee.

The Term Deposit account holders at the time of placing their deposits can give instructions with regard to closure of Deposit account or renewal of deposit for further period on the date of maturity. In absence of such mandate, the Bank will automatically renew the deposit as under.

If Deposit is placed for more than one year it will be automatically renewed for one year at the prevailing rate on due date.

If Deposit is placed for less than one year it will be automatically renewed for same period at the prevailing rate on due date.

In case, the customer wishes to make changes in the tenure or wants premature proceeds of the Term deposit, the same is allowed at the written request of the customer. In case of deposits under callable scheme premature withdrawal of bulk deposit is done as per Bank's discretion.

In case multiple deposits are created on same day aggregating Rs.2.00 Crores and more, but the same mature on different dates, then it will not tantamount to splitting of Bulk Deposit. Also multiple deposits created on same day aggregating Rs.2.00 Crores and more with same maturity period but for different specific purposes will not tantamount to splitting of Bulk Deposit, provided the customer submits supportive documents for the same.

Settlement of Dues in Deceased Deposit Account If the depositor has registered nomination with the Bank, the balance outstanding in the account of the deceased depositor will be transferred to the account of nominee after the Bank satisfies about the identity of the nominee etc. Payment is made to nominee as representative of legal heirs.

The above procedure will be followed even in respect of a joint account where nomination is registered with the Bank.

In a Joint Deposit Account, when one of the joint account holders dies, the Bank is required to make payment jointly to the legal heirs of the deceased person and the surviving depositor(s). However, if the joint account holders had given mandate for disposal of the balance in the account in the forms such as "either or survivor", "former / latter or survivor", anyone of survivors or survivor; etc., the payment will be made as per the mandate to avoid delays in production of legal papers by the heirs of the deceased.

In a Term Deposit account held in joint names if operating instructions is "either or survivor", "Former or survivor" when one of the depositor dies, the payment will be made to survivor on maturity. If prepayment is demanded, it will be allowed only after obtaining consent of legal heirs of the deceased.

In the absence of nomination and when there are no disputes among the claimants, the Bank will pay the amount outstanding in the account of deceased person against joint application and indemnity by all legal heirs or the person mandated by the legal heirs to receive the payment on their behalf without insisting on legal documents up to the limit approved by the Bank's Board. This is to ensure that the common depositors are not put hardship on account of delays in completing legal formalities.

Interest Payable on Term Deposit in Deceased Account In the event of death of the depositor before the date of maturity of Deposit and amount of the deposit is claimed after the date of maturity, the Bank shall pay interest at the contracted rate till the date of maturity. From the date of maturity till the date of payment, the Bank shall pay simple interest at the applicable rate as on the date of maturity, for the period for which the deposit remained with the Bank beyond the date of maturity, as per the Bank's policy in this regard.

However, in the case of death of the depositor after the date of maturity of the overdue deposit, the Bank shall pay interest at Savings Bank Deposit rate applicable on the date of maturity from the date of maturity till the date of payment.

Premature Withdrawal of Term Deposit

The Bank on request from the depositor, at its discretion may allow withdrawal of Term deposit before completion of the period of the Deposit agreed upon at the time of placing the deposit. The components of penalty shall be clearly brought to the notice of the depositors at the time of acceptance of deposits and if not, no penalty shall be levied. Penal Interest Rate Policy for premature withdrawal of Term Deposit is as under No penalty for prepayment of deposit upto Rs. 5 lacs which remained with the Bank for a minimum period of 12 months. In such cases the rate of interest applicable for premature payment without penalty will be rate ruling on the date of accepting of deposits (i.e. the date of contract) for period for which the deposit has actually remained with the Bank or the Contracted Rate whichever is lower.

For premature withdrawal of all deposits which have remained for less than 12 months and also all deposits of the face value exceeding Rs 5 lacs, interest will be paid one percent less than the rate which was applicable at the time of placing the Deposit for the period for which the deposit has actually run or contracted rate, whichever is lower..

Penalty is waived on settlement of claims in the deceased depositor's accounts and two or more joint depositors where one of the depositor has died, Interest is paid at applicable rate.

Penalty for prepayment of Term deposit for Rs 1 Crore and above (for any period) will be allowed as per the discretion of Bank. In case of premature payment of deposits for Rs.1 Crore and above the following conditions will have to be complied with A penalty on premature close of deposit for Rs.1 Crore and above will be levied @1.5% from the applicable rate of interest for which the deposit has remained with the Bank.

The customer has to give a withdrawal notice of minimum 31 days prior to withdrawal of deposits except Flexi Fixed Deposit and deposits for the period up to 31 days.

However, the customer will have the window of 14 days from date of opening of FD or Renewal of FD for relook. The condition of 31 days notice will not be applicable during window of relook. He will be allowed to prematurely close the deposit within 14 days from the date of issue but interest will not be payable if deposit prematurely withdrawn within 7 days. If the deposit is withdrawn after 7 days, interest will be paid for the period it remains with the Bank. The applicable rate of interest will be prevailing card rate on date of deposit or renewal of deposit minus 1.5% penalty. After 14 days the Regional authority has power to take decision to allow the premature closure of the account subject to application of penalty of 1.5% on the applicable rate.

In normal circumstances premature closure of a joint deposit shall be permitted only if all the deposit holders sign a request to that effect. In the case of Term deposits with operating instructions Either Or Survivor, Former Or Survivor, Latter Or Survivor and Anyone Or Survivor and in the event of death of one of the joint holders, in the absence of relevant mandate, premature closure of such deposit will be allowed only if the legal heirs of the deceased agree for such premature closure. In cases where relevant mandate is available with the Bank, premature closure of such deposits shall be allowed in the favour of survivors.

If Deposit is placed for more than one year it will be automatically renewed for one year at the prevailing rate on due date.

If Deposit is placed for less than one year it will be automatically renewed for same period at the prevailing rate on due date.

In case, the customer wishes to make changes in the tenure or wants premature proceeds of the Term deposit, the same is allowed at the written request of the customer. In case of deposits under callable scheme premature withdrawal of bulk deposit is done as per Bank's discretion.

Bulk Deposits (Rs.2 crore & above) "Bulk Deposit" means a single Rupee Term Deposits of Rs. 2 Crore and above (RBI/2018-19/128, DBR.DIR.BC.No.27/13.03.00/2018-19 dated.22.02.2019).

Settlement of Dues in Deceased Deposit Account If the depositor has registered nomination with the Bank, the balance outstanding in the account of the deceased depositor will be transferred to the account of nominee after the Bank satisfies about the identity of the nominee etc. Payment is made to nominee as representative of legal heirs.

The above procedure will be followed even in respect of a joint account where nomination is registered with the Bank.

In a Joint Deposit Account, when one of the joint account holders dies, the Bank is required to make payment jointly to the legal heirs of the deceased person and the surviving depositor(s). However, if the joint account holders had given mandate for disposal of the balance in the account in the forms such as "either or survivor", "former / latter or survivor", "anyone of survivors or survivor; etc.", the payment will be made as per the mandate to avoid delays in production of legal papers by the heirs of the deceased.

If prepayment is demanded, it will be allowed only after obtaining consent of legal heirs of the deceased.

In the absence of nomination and when there are no disputes among the claimants, the Bank will pay the amount outstanding in the account of deceased person against joint application and indemnity by all legal heirs or the person mandated by the legal heirs to receive the payment on their behalf without insisting on legal documents up to the limit approved by the Bank's Board. This is to ensure that the common depositors are not put hardship on account of delays in completing legal formalities.

Interest Payable on Term Deposit in Deceased Account In the event of death of the depositor before the date of maturity of Deposit and amount of the deposit is claimed after the date of maturity, the Bank shall pay interest at the contracted rate till the date of maturity. From the date of maturity till the date of payment, the Bank shall pay simple interest at the applicable rate as on the date of maturity, for the period for which the deposit remained with the Bank beyond the date of maturity, as per the Bank's policy in this regard.

However, in the case of death of the depositor after the date of maturity of the overdue deposit, the Bank shall pay interest at Savings Bank Deposit rate applicable on the date of maturity from the date of maturity till the date of payment.

Premature Withdrawal of Term Deposit

The Bank on request from the depositor, at its discretion may allow withdrawal of Term deposit before completion of the period of the Deposit agreed upon at the time of placing the deposit. Penalty is waived on settlement of claims in the deceased depositor's accounts and two or more joint depositors where one of the depositor has died, Interest is paid at applicable rate.

Penalty for prepayment of Term deposit for Rs 1 Crore and above (for any period) will be allowed as per the discretion of Bank. In case of premature payment of deposits for Rs.1 Crore and above the following conditions will have to be complied with A penalty on premature close of deposit for Rs.1 Crore and above will be levied @1.5% from the applicable rate of interest for which the deposit has remained with the Bank.

The customer has to give a withdrawal notice of minimum 31 days prior to withdrawal of deposits except Flexi Fixed Deposit and deposits for the period up to 31 days.

However, the customer will have the window of 14 days from date of opening of FD or Renewal of FD for relook. The condition of 31 days' notice will not be applicable during window of relook. He will be allowed to prematurely close the deposit within 14 days from the date of issue but interest will not be payable if deposit prematurely withdrawn within 7 days. If the deposit is withdrawn after 7 days, interest will be paid for the period it remains with the Bank. The applicable rate of interest will be prevailing card rate on date of deposit or renewal of deposit minus 1.5% penalty. After 14 days the Regional authority has power to take decision to allow the premature closure of the account subject to application of penalty of 1.5% on the applicable rate.

In normal circumstances premature closure of a joint deposit shall be permitted only if all the deposit holders sign a request to that effect. No penalty Interest Payment: In terms of Reserve Bank of India directives, interest shall be calculated at quarterly compounding intervals on Term Deposits and paid at the rate decided by the Bank depending upon the period of deposits.

In case of Monthly Deposit Scheme, the interest shall be calculated for the quarter on compounding basis and paid monthly at discounted value. The interest on Term deposits is calculated by the Bank in accordance with the formulae and conventions advised by Indian Banks' Association.

Accordingly Bank has adopted following methodology.

“In all cases of Domestic Term Deposits ( period of deposit more than a year) where the terminal quarter is incomplete, interest should be calculated for complete quarter and the actual number of days, reckoning the year 365/366 days viz the calculation of interest on such deposits should be in order of completed quarters and days.”

For Deposits of 2 Quarters and above, interest is calculated in quarterly compounded for complete quarters and where the terminal quarter incomplete, interest is calculated proportionately for the actual no of days reckoning the year 365/366 days.

The Maturity Amount mentioned in the receipt is calculated without giving TDS effect. While calculating interest for half year(Quarterly compounded), the interest calculated for previous half year (quarterly compounded) minus TDS will be added to principal amount for calculating interest for current Half Year.

For Short Deposits of less than 2 quarters but more than 1 quarter simple interest will be paid for complete quarter and plus interest for remaining days reckoning the year 365-366 days( without compound effect).

For short deposits of less than one quarter interest is calculated proportionately for actual number for days reckoning the year 365-366 days. The interest on FCNR deposits shall be paid at the rates calculated in accordance with the basis prescribed by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) from time to time for various maturities. The interest on FCNR deposits shall be paid on the basis of 360 days to a year and shall be calculated at intervals of 180 days each.

However, Bank has statutory obligation to deduct tax at source on any interest paid / payable on NRO Term Deposits at the specified rates. If PAN is submitted with a declaration applicable under Double Tax Avoidance Treaty - TDS is deducted @ applicable rate for the country of residence of the customer.

If PAN is submitted without declaration - TDS is deducted @30%

In case of Monthly Deposit Scheme, the interest shall be calculated for the quarter on compounding basis and paid monthly at discounted value. The interest on Term deposits is calculated by the Bank in accordance with the formulae and conventions advised by Indian Banks' Association.

Accordingly Bank has adopted following methodology.

“In all cases of Domestic Term Deposits ( period of deposit more than a year) where the terminal quarter is incomplete, interest should be calculated for complete quarter and the actual number of days, reckoning the year 365/366 days viz the calculation of interest on such deposits should be in order of completed quarters and days. For Deposits of 2 Quarters and above, interest is calculated in quarterly compounded for complete quarters and where the terminal quarter incomplete, interest is calculated proportionately for the actual no of days reckoning the year 365/366 days.

The Maturity Amount mentioned in the receipt is calculated without giving TDS effect. While calculating interest for half year(Quarterly compounded), the interest calculated for previous half year (quarterly compounded) minus TDS will be added to principal amount for calculating interest for current Half Year.

For Short Deposits of less than 2 quarters but more than 1 quarter simple interest will be paid for complete quarter and plus interest for remaining days reckoning the year 365-366 days( without compound effect).

For short deposits of less than one quarter interest is calculated proportionately for actual number for days reckoning the year 365-366 days. The interest on FCNR deposits shall be paid at the rates calculated in accordance with the basis prescribed by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) from time to time for various maturities. The interest on FCNR deposits shall be paid on the basis of 360 days to a year and shall be calculated at intervals of 180 days each.

In case the depositor submits following Form before end of April every year, no tax may be deducted. Non-corporate customers other than Senior Citizens - Form No.15G along with PAN (w.e.f. 1st April 2010).

Senior Citizens i.e. individuals of the age of -60- years or more - Form No.15H along with PAN (w.e.f. 1st April 2010) w.e.f. 1st April 2010 I.T. Department has made it mandatory to quote Permanent Account No. (PAN) by deductees in all cases where TDS is applicable, failure of which would attract the TDS at a higher rate of 20% (against normal rate of 10%) or normal rate whichever is higher. Further it has also been made compulsory to mention PAN on form No.15G / 15H w.e.f. 1st April 2010.

The Bank will issue a system generated tax deduction certificate (TDS Certificate) for the amount of tax deducted on quarterly basis.

However, Bank has statutory obligation to deduct tax at source on any interest paid / payable on NRO Term Deposits at the specified rates. The Term Deposit account holders at the time of placing their deposits can give instructions with regard to closure of Deposit account or renewal of deposit for further period on the date of maturity. In absence of such mandate, the Bank will automatically renew the deposit as under. If Deposit is placed for more than one year it will be automatically renewed for one year at the prevailing rate on due date.

If Deposit is placed for less than one year it will be automatically renewed for same period at the prevailing rate on due date. The above procedure will be followed even in respect of a joint account where nomination is registered with the Bank.

In a Joint Deposit Account, when one of the joint account holders dies, the Bank is required to make payment jointly to the legal heirs of the deceased person and the surviving depositor(s). However, if the joint account holders had given mandate for disposal of the balance in the account in the forms such as "either or survivor", "former / latter or survivor", "anyone of survivors or survivor; etc.", the payment will be made as per the mandate to avoid delays in production of legal papers by the heirs of the deceased.

In a Term Deposit account held in joint names if operating instructions is "either or survivor", "Former or survivor" when one of the depositor dies, the payment will be made to survivor on maturity. If prepayment is demanded, it will be allowed only after obtaining consent of legal heirs of the deceased.

In the absence of nomination and when there are no disputes among the claimants, the Bank will pay the amount outstanding in the account of deceased person against joint application and indemnity by all legal heirs or the person mandated by the legal heirs to receive the payment on their behalf without insisting on legal documents up to the limit approved by the Bank's Board. This is to ensure that the common depositors are not put hardship on account of delays in completing legal formalities.

Penal Interest Rate Policy for premature withdrawal of Term Deposit is as under No penalty for prepayment of deposit upto Rs. 5 lacs which remained with the Bank for a minimum period of 12 months. In such cases the rate of interest applicable for premature payment without penalty will be rate ruling on the date of accepting of deposits (i.e. the date of contract) for period for which the deposit has actually remained with the Bank or the Contracted Rate whichever is lower.

For premature withdrawal of all deposits which have remained for less than 12 months and also all deposits of the face value exceeding Rs 5 lacs, interest will be paid one percent less than the rate which was applicable at the time of placing the Deposit for the period for which the deposit has actually run or contracted rate, whichever is lower..

Penalty is waived on settlement of claims in the deceased depositor's accounts and two or more joint depositors where one of the depositor has died, Interest is paid at applicable rate.

Penalty for prepayment of Term deposit for Rs 1 Crore and above (for any period) will be allowed as per the discretion of Bank. In case of premature payment of deposits for Rs.1 Crore and above the following conditions will have to be complied with A penalty on premature close of deposit for Rs.1 Crore and above will be levied @1.5% from the applicable rate of interest for which the deposit has remained with the Bank.

The customer has to give a withdrawal notice of minimum 31 days prior to withdrawal of deposits except Flexi Fixed Deposit and deposits for the period up to 31 days.

However, the customer will have the window of 14 days from date of opening of FD or Renewal of FD for relook. The condition of 31 days' notice will not be applicable during window of relook. He will be allowed to prematurely close the deposit within 14 days from the date of issue but interest will not be payable if deposit prematurely withdrawn within 7 days. If the deposit is withdrawn after 7 days, interest will be paid for the period it remains with the Bank. The applicable rate of interest will be prevailing card rate on date of deposit or renewal of deposit minus 1.5% penalty. After 14 days the Regional authority has power to take decision to allow the premature closure of the account subject to application of penalty of 1.5% on the applicable rate.

In normal circumstances premature closure of a joint deposit shall be permitted only if all the deposit holders sign a request to that effect. In the case of Term deposits with operating instructions Either Or Survivor, Former Or Survivor, Latter Or Survivor and Anyone Or Survivor and in the event of death of one of the joint holders, in the absence of relevant mandate, premature closure of such deposit will be allowed only if the legal heirs of the deceased agree for such premature closure. IVR and by visiting any nearest Bank of Baroda ATM. No physical PIN would be sent (Applicable for domestic registered mobile number).
Ensure to change PIN at regular intervals.
Activate your debit card by using it first at any ATM. The card can be used at POS/e-commerce only after activation of the card at ATM.
Always ensure that your card is used in your presence when transacting at POS and ensure that you enter the PIN for authentication discreetly.
Register your mobile number with the bank, subscribe for SMS alerts for all Debit Card transactions to avoid suspicions/fraudulent activities in your account.
Please make sure you conduct any ATM transaction in complete privacy.
Beware if "Shoulder Surfing". Shield your PIN from onlookers by covering the keypad while entering the PIN.
Ensure to collect your card, cash and receipt, after completion of the transaction. The ATM does not take back cash if not collected.
Look extra devices attached to the ATMs. These may be put to capture your data! Inform security guard/bank immediately if any such device found.
After completion of your transaction and before leaving the premises be sure that "Welcome Screen" is displayed in the ATM.
Register your mobile number with the bank for getting alerts for your ATM transactions.
Regularly check account statements. Any unauthorised card transaction in the account, if observed, should be immediately reported to your bank after blocking your debit card.
Immediately inform the Bank, if the ATM/Debit Card is lost or stolen. If your card is held back by any ATM, please inform the same to the 24hrs, Customer Care Click Here
Keep an eye on suspicious movements of people around ATMs. Beware of strangers trying to engage you in conversation.
When you destroy your card upon card expiry or closure of your account, cut it into four pieces through the magnetic stripe before disposing it off.
If cash is not dispensed and account is debit then Bank of Baroda customer has to fill the complaint form and submit it to the Branch.
Verify emails and links in emails you supposedly get from your social networking site. These are often designed to gain access to your user name, password and ultimately your personal information. These mails could be phishing emails too.
Always ensure that the address of the website where transactions to be done, starts with https:// and not http://.
Don't Don't give your Debit Card to anyone. If you need to surrender the card, you may request for closure of card and handover the card to Bank Officials after destruction of the card. You may also block a card using Bank's Baroda BOB World (Mobile Banking), bob world internet (Internet Banking), IVR, WhatsApp Banking.
Don't keep a written record of the PIN in any form, place or manner that may facilitate its misuse by anyone. It would be better if you could memorise your PIN.

Never leave your card in the ATM.

While changing the password and while subsequently using it, please note that: Login PIN and UPI PIN must be of 4 digits and 4 digits (for BOB users) respectively.

For your safety, your password will be blocked, if attempt to log in fails for 5 times. (If your password is blocked (i.e., you perfectly remember your password, but while keying in, you keyed in wrongly for 5 times and it got locked).

In case you forgot your PINs, these can be reset through Baroda UPI Mobile App itself with the following Menu options:

Generate UPI PIN

Forgot Login PIN

Never write down, record, or save on your mobile your PIN or other security information.

Please avoid using important dates (wedding anniversary, birthdays of yourself/spouse/children etc.) as your PINs.

Phishing, also called spoofing, is the act of attempting to fraudulently acquire sensitive information, such as passwords and credit card details, by masquerading as a trustworthy person or business with a real need for such information in a seemingly official electronic notification or message. The e-mail directs the user to visit a web site where they are asked to update personal information, such as passwords and credit card, social security, and bank account numbers that the legitimate organization already has.

Digital Signage System DSS : Benefits of DSS to Bank
To communicate with people, you must get their attention. Watching TV and using computers has trained us to look at screens for information, so digital signage is a natural choice for reaching large audiences. It is also better than email, printed posters, and bulletin boards because: We can deliver breaking news in real-time

Like updated real-time bullion markets, stock markets rates, forex rates, etc.

Screens are bright and show motion

This feature can be used to provide video tutorial to the customers for learning the process to operate m-connect, Baroda connect, m-passbook, m-clip, etc.

We can display multiple things on a screen at once

At a time, multiple information can be displayed on screen like ticker showing information in text, images showing product information and guidelines. We can change what is on the screen throughout the day

Full control is in our hands by using centrally connected server we can display stock prices in real-time and can be updated on real-time basis. It is cheaper than print for big audiences

It can be used as digital poster hence can be used to display content to promote latest products or information.

It is better than print for green reasons - By using DSS in Bank of Baroda we are saving paper which is used for printing these ads hence it is a green initiative by using Environment friendly methods and cost saving initiative by using DSS in bank we are saving lakhs of funds by not using traditional paper and printer format of commercials to display new feature and schemes over an extended period.

Covers under Two-Wheeler Insurance

To start with, there are two types of insurance policies available to choose from:

Liability Only Insurance Policy

This is a mandatory policy as per Motor Vehicle Act. It covers the damages against property, bodily injury and death to a third party due to an accident caused by your two-wheeler. It also covers the owner of the insured vehicle against personal accident over.

Comprehensive Package Policy - Provides coverage in 3 categories:

It covers the insured two-wheeler against accidental damage, theft, natural disasters, explosion, riots, etc.

It covers the damages against third party property, bodily injury and death to the third party due to an accident caused by your two-wheeler

It also covers the insured (owner driver) against accidental death or permanent/temporary disablement while there are many products available in the market for two-wheeler insurance, it is imperative that one looks at not only the policy features, benefits but should also look at other factors such as company's claim paying capability, service, claim settlement ratio and brand etc. One of the leading two-wheeler insurance providers in the market is Tata AIG and it offers Auto Secure for Two-Wheeler Package Policy, a comprehensive package policy for two wheelers. TATA group has a brand heritage and legacy in India and is known for its values and business ethics. Tata Sons partnered with American International Group (AIG), one of the leading global insurance companies in the world and has been range of insurance products to its customers.

What does Tata AIG two-wheeler insurance cover?

Our two-wheeler vehicle insurance policy covers all three of the above. Want to know more? Gladly! Let us see the sections this version of the motor insurance policy covers. Loss of or Damage to the Vehicle Insured According to Bengaluru city police data as published by The Indian Express earlier this year, 16 two-wheelers are stolen in the city every single day. Tata AIG two-wheeler vehicle insurance policy also covers any damage that may occur to your bike, due to any or one of the following reasons-

Natural disasters like cyclones, earthquakes, etc

Terrorist activity/malicious act

External accident

By fire explosion: self-ignition/lightning

Whilst in transit on the road, rail, waterway, lift or air Now, as your bike grows old the value of its body-parts depreciates. Consider it the law of nature. Hence, the amount of cover granted to cover the damages is also subject

Now, before we take you through further details, let us first understand the basics of a motor insurance policy. Does that mean this sum insured remains the same for the life of the policy? No. That would be a fairy-tale. Yes, it depreciates. This brings us to the next important point regarding a motor insurance policy Depreciation- Only for the purpose of total loss and fixing the IDV, below is how the depreciation in IDV is scheduled.-

Age of Vehicle

% of Depreciation for Fixing IDV

Not exceeding 6 months

Exceeding 6 months but not exceeding 1 year

Similarly, the body parts of the car are subject to depreciation too. You can check that schedule in the policy document at leisure. As Indians, we are very used to that something extra. Even the vegetable shopping entails some extra coriander and chillies in your bag. Feels good, doesn't it? We understand.

Hence, allow us to introduce our own motor insurance add-ons to you!

Here are the Motor Insurance add-ons you will benefit from:

title: National Pension Scheme, content: The National Pension System, commonly referred to as NPS, is a voluntary, contribution retirement savings scheme and that has been designed to enable systematic savings during the subscriber's working life. Under the NPS, each subscriber opens an account with the Central Recordkeeping Agency (CRA), which is identified through a unique Permanent Retirement Account Number (PRAN).

title: National Pension Scheme : Introduction, content: National Pension Scheme : Introduction

The Government of India (GOI) rolled out the NPS scheme for all citizens of India from May 1, 2009, and corporate sector from December 2011.

The person (employee/citizen) who joins the NPS scheme is a "subscriber". Under the NPS, each subscriber opens an account with the Central Recordkeeping Agency (CRA), which is identified through a unique Permanent Retirement Account Number (PRAN).

Under the scheme, two types of NPS accounts are available to subscribers- Tier I & Tier II. The Tier I NPS account is meant for subscribers to contribute their savings for retirement into a non-withdrawable account. These savings can include an employer's contribution to NPS, in case of the corporate sector. The Tier II NPS account is a voluntary savings account from which subscribers are free to withdraw their savings whenever they wish. The facility of Tier II account was made available from December 1, 2009, to all citizens of India including government employees and corporate sector subscribers who are not mandatorily covered under the NPS. An active Tier I account is a pre-requisite for opening a Tier II NPS account.

The National Pension System, commonly referred to as NPS, is a voluntary, contribution retirement savings scheme and that has been designed to enable systematic savings during the subscriber's working life.

Bank of Baroda is registered with PFRDA (Pension Fund Regulatory and Development Authority) as POP (Point of Presence) for NPS under All Citizen Scheme and as an aggregator for the purpose of processing NPS Accounts (Tier-I and Tier-II) as well as acceptance of contributions.

Those who wish to register under the NPS scheme can visit our branch with identity proof, address proof and age proof and fill the required form. All branches of Bank of Baroda can facilitate the NPS account opening title: National Pension Scheme : Benefits, content: National Pension Scheme : Benefits

Opening an NPS account offers several advantages to subscribers. Some of the benefits of the NPS account are mentioned below:

NPS is voluntary - NPS scheme is open to every Indian citizen. As an NPS account subscriber, you can choose the amount of contribution to the NPS scheme every year.

NPS is simple - NPS account opening is an easy process. You only need to open an account with our bank and get a PRAN for the NPS scheme.

NPS is flexible - As a pension system, the NPS lets you choose your own NPS investment option and fund scheme. This NPS account feature helps you grow your money as per your financial goals.

NPS is portable - You can operate your NPS account from anywhere in the country, even if you change your city, job or pension fund manager.

NPS is regulated - The NPS scheme is regulated by the development authority PFRDA, with transparent investment norms, regular monitoring and a performance review of fund managers by the NPS Trust.

What is SIP?

Systematic Investment Plan (SIP) is a mode of Investment through which you can invest a specific amount at regular intervals in a Mutual Fund. Making investments in a consistent way makes it easier to achieve your financial goals.

Why SIP might be best for you?

Disciplined Way Of Investment

Small Ticket Size

Professional management

Benefit From Power Of Compounding

Liquid

Rupee Cost Averaging

Disciplined way of investment: As Investment amount is directly debited from Investors account and invested in a mutual fund, Investors emotional biases are kept at bay. Disciplined way of investment is imperative for long term wealth creation

Small Ticket Size: Investors can invest via SIP with as low as Rs. 500 a month

Benefit From power of Compounding

Compounding is a simple but powerful concept especially in the long run. It is a process through which returns earned on the principle amount is reinvested so that the returns from the investment also start generating return. As shown in the above table, the investment Value goes on increasing based on the investment duration.

Option	Monthly SIP
(Rs)	Investment	Duration
(No. of Years)	Investment Amount
(Rs Lacs)	Investment Value*
(Rs Lacs)	Gain
(Rs Lacs)	Multiple
A	2000	40	9.6 Lac	194.02	184.42	20.2x
B	2000	30	7.2 Lac	61.04	53.84	8.5x
C	2000	20	4.8 Lac	18.22	13.42	3.8x
D	2000	10	2.4 Lac	4.44	2.04	1.8x

*Rate of return is assumed to be 12% p.a. The table is only for illustration Purposes.

Rupee Cost Averaging: Rupee cost averaging is a concept whereby the Investor gets more MF units when NAVs are low and less units when NAVs are high for the same amount invested due to market fluctuations. This leads to your purchasing costs getting averaged over a period of time. You need not worry about timing the market when investing via SIP as you benefit from rupee cost averaging.

Dematerialisation

Dematerialisation is the process by which a client can get physical certificates converted into electronic balances.

Rematerialisation

Rematerialisation is the process of converting the securities held in electronic form in a demat account to an equivalent number of securities in physical form (certificates) after debiting the same from the demat account.

Transposition cum Demat

This is a facility whereby securities held jointly can be dematerialised in an account of same joint holders but having different sequence of names. e.g. securities held in joint names of X and Y can also be dematerialised in an account opened in the names of Y and X by submitting an additional form called transposition form along with dematerialisation request form (DRF) to the DP.

Consolidation of Accounts

Some clients could have opened multiple accounts to dematerialise their shares held in multiple combinations and sequence of names. However, they may not need so many accounts after they have dematerialised their securities and may want to bring all their shareholdings into one or fewer accounts. Using off-market account transfer instruction such consolidation can be done.

Closure of Account

If you want to close your demat account, you need to make a request for it in the prescribed form. The account closure form is available on website and at any Branch providing demat services. Please submit the duly filled-up form at the branch where your demat is maintained.

Before submitting the form, please ensure that:

Either there are no holdings in the account or you have requested transfer of all the holdings present in the account in the account-closure form (transferring the holding balance to the credit of another demat account opened by the same account holder(s) either with the same DP or with a different DP.) You have paid all your dues.

Freezing of Accounts

Account freezing means suspending any further transaction from the depository account till the account is de-frozen. The client has an option to freeze his account in case he does not intend to do any transaction in the near future. This helps in curbing unauthorised use of demat account and prevention of frauds. Once frozen, the account can be de-frozen only on the instruction of the account holders.

De-freezing of the account is required to enable the account again for transaction.

A depository account maintained with a DP can be frozen if the DP receives a freeze request form from the client. A frozen account can be de-frozen or re-activated if the client submits unfreeze request form to the DP.

What is Dematerialisation of Securities (demat)? and How does it work?

Dematerialisation of Securities (demat)

Process of dematerialisation

Rejection of demat requests

Transmission-cum-demat

Dematerialisation of Securities (Demat)

Dematerialisation is the process of converting the securities held in physical form (certificates) to an equivalent number of securities in electronic form and crediting the same to the investor's demat account.

Selected securities announced by SEBI can be delivered only in demat form in the stock exchanges connected to NSDL/CDSL.

All the names on the demat account opening form should be exactly the same as stated on the physical certificates to ensure seamless dematerialization of securities.

Process of Dematerialisation

An investor intending to dematerialise its securities needs to have a demat account with a DP.

To convert the physical shares into electronic/demat form, a dematerialization request form (DRF), has to be filled in and deposited along with share certificates. The investor has to deface and surrender the certificates registered in its name to the DP. On each share certificate, 'surrendered for dematerialization' needs to be mentioned.

The DP needs to process this request along with the share certificates to the company and simultaneously to registrars and transfer agents through the depository.

After intimating depository electronically, the DP sends the securities to the concerned issuer/R&T agent.

If the issuer/R&T agent finds the certificates in order, they communicate to depository the confirmation of dematerialisation request electronically and the share certificates in the physical form will be destroyed.

The depository will then confirm the dematerialization of shares to the DP. Once this is done, a credit in the holding of shares will reflect in the investor's demat account electronically.

The normal time taken for credit of shares to the account after confirmation by the Registrar is about 30 days. However, the time taken would vary from one registrar to another over which Bank has no control.

Availability of Forms

Submit a completely filled-up demat request form (DRF) in triplicate for each ISIN along with the defaced physical certificates. The forms are available at any Bank of Baroda branch offering demat services.

Filling up the form

Ensure that security mentioned on the certificates is eligible for demat. For being eligible for demat, the company has to sign up with NSDL/CDSL.

Use a separate DRF for each security having a unique International Security Identification Number (ISIN). Verify the certificates carefully and mention the correct ISIN. In case two or more sets of certificates of the same security have different ISIN (this is possible in case of partly paid up shares and non-pari passu shares), use separate DRFs for each ISIN. However, you can dematerialise multiple folio nos. of the same pattern of holders relating to the same ISIN under a single DRF.

Submit certificates under lock-in under separate DRF. Do not mix the same with free securities. In case of locked-in securities, fill up the lock-in reason and lock-in release date on the DRF. Amongst lock-in securities belonging to the same ISIN but having different lock-in release dates or lock-in reason, make separate DRF requests.

Demat requests received from client(s) with name(s) not matching exactly with the name(s) appearing on the certificates merely on account of initials not being spelt out fully or put after or prior to the surname, can be processed. However, this is possible only if the signature(s) of the client(s) on the DRF tallies with the specimen signature(s) available with the Issuer or its Registrar. For example, the shareholder may have opened the depository account in the name of Tanmay Kumar Shah but his name on the share certificate may appear as T.K. Shah or Tanmay Shah, etc.

The combination and the order of holders' names on DRF and as printed on the certificates should be identical with that in the DP account. For example, if the shares are in the name of X, Y (X as first holder and Y as second holder) it cannot be dematerialised in the account of either X or Y alone. Also if the shares are in the name of X, they cannot be dematerialised in the account of X, Y (X as first holder and Y as second holder).

However, where the combination of holders is the same in the certificates and in the demat account, and the difference is only in the order in which the name of the holders appear on the share certificates and in the demat account, dematerialisation is possible. Here, you have to submit a transposition request form along with the DRF. The form is also available at the nearest Branch.

The DRF must be signed by all the account holders and should be in the same order. The signature on the DRF should match with the specimen signature with Bank of Baroda. If the signature differs, you should sign the DRF in the presence of the Branch Officer

The details of certificates such as the folio no., certificate no., and distinctive no. must be filled up correctly on the DRF.

Submitting the form

You must deface the certificates by putting a stamp or by writing 'Surrendered for Dematerialisation'. However, defacing should be done only after checking the eligibility of security, as defaced securities cannot be sold in physical form. If defacing has been done by mistake then you should send the same to registrar for replacement.

*NSDL Business Rule 11.1.7.

The Participant shall ensure that the certificates submitted for dematerialisation are marked by the Client (customer) with the words "Surrendered for Dematerialisation".

Certificates should not be mutilated or defaced in such a way that the material information is not readable. Ensure that the certificates are attached in the same order as mentioned in the DRF. You should submit the DRF in triplicate to the branch. The acknowledgement slip at the bottom of the form will be stamped and handed over to you after verification by Bank official.

Rejection of Demat Requests

Dematerialisation request may get rejected for various below mentioned reasons either at the demat back office of Bank of Baroda or by the Registrar. Dematerialisation is done by the Registrar only when it is satisfied of genuineness of securities and ownership status.

On a rejection, the securities are sent back to DP stating the reason for the rejection. DP returns the rejected DRF request to branch and customer can collect from branch.

Customer can resubmit the certificates for dematerialisation after resolving the reason for the rejection. Please resubmit on a fresh DRF. Do not use the same DRF on which the objection was made.

Some common reason for Rejection of DRF request:

A dematerialisation request can be rejected in the case of the following objections:

Signature(s) of client on demat request form do not tally with specimen of signatures holder(s) recorded with R&T agent.

Details of all/some certificate(s) differ in demat request form received by R&T agent from DP.

Name(s) of holder(s) on all/some certificates received by R&T agent differs in demat request form received by R&T Agent from DP.

Physical quantity of shares/certificates received by R&T Agent from DP is less than or more than what is mentioned in demat request number or form.

All/ some certificates received by R&T Agent from DP is/are found to be fake.

All/ some certificates received by R&T Agent from DP is/are reported lost or stolen and a stop is recorded in computer master file(s) of R&T Agent.

All/ some certificate(s) sent to incorrect R&T Agent by DP.

Stop recorded as per Bank lien/Statutory Authority/Court Order, etc. in computer master file(s) of R&T Agent against all/some certificates) received for dematerialisation from DP.

Transmission-cum-Demat

In case of certificates held jointly, on the death of any one or more of the joint holder(s) mentioned on the certificate, the surviving joint holder(s) can get the name(s) of the deceased deleted from the physical certificate(s) and get the securities dematerialised in the DP account of the surviving holder(s) by submitting the following documents along with the DRF:

A copy of the death certificate duly notarised

A copy of the succession certificate duly notarised or an order of a court of competent jurisdiction where the deceased has not left a Will or

A copy of the Probate or Letter of Administration duly notarised.

Transmission of securities refers to the transfer of securities from an account to another as a result of the death of the sole/any of the holders of the former account. For this the latter need not approach each issuing company or its R & T Agent. Only the DP of the former account needs to be approached. Here the transfer may be done to:

Surviving holders

If the former account is a joint holding account and there is at least one survivor, the survivor(s) can request the DP for the securities to be transferred to his/their demat account. Surviving holder(s) has to request the DP vide a form called the transmission form along with a copy of notarised death certificate and original client master having demat account details of surviving holder to transmit the securities lying in the account of the deceased holder. For this purpose, the surviving clients must have a depository account, which can be with the same DP or with a different DP.

Nominee where a nomination has been made

Upon the death of sole account holder or there is no survivor amongst the account holders and a nomination had been made by the holder(s) earlier, the nominee can request the DP for the securities to be transferred to his demat account.

The nominee must request the DP in writing along with a certified true copy of the death certificate and transmission form and original client master having demat account details to transmit the securities covered by the nomination to the account of the nominee. The DP will ensure the completeness of the form and validity of the signature of the client and then execute the transmission request. Thus, transmission of securities where nomination has been made eliminates the need of cumbersome legal documents such as will, succession certificate, etc.

In addition to the documents specified under above, an affidavit duly completed by the nominee in the format specified by NSDL/CDSL and attested by a notary/magistrate should be submitted by the claimant.

Legal heir where nomination has not been made

In case of death of the sole holder, the legal heir(s) or legal representative(s) of the deceased must request the DP to transmit the balances lying in the client account of the deceased to the account of the legal heir(s) or legal representative(s). For this, the legal heir (s) or the legal representative(s) of such securities must submit an instruction called the transmission form to the DP along with the following documents:

A copy of the death certificate duly notarised

A copy of the succession certificate duly notarised or an order of a court of competent jurisdiction where the deceased has not left a Will; or

A copy of the Probate or Letter of Administration duly notarised.

However, if the legal heir(s) or the legal representative(s) express inability to produce either of the documents mentioned under (b) and (c) above, and the market value of the securities held in each account of the deceased as on the date of application for transmission does not exceed Rs. 1 lakh, then the DP will process the transmission request on the basis of the following documents:

Transmission form;

Copy of the death certificate duly notarised;

Letter of Indemnity duly supported by a guarantee of an independent surety acceptable to the DP, made on appropriate non judicial stamp paper;

 An affidavit made on appropriate non judicial stamp paper; and
 No objection certificate(s) from all the legal heir(s) who do not object to such transmission.

Original client master having demat account details

The DP will ensure that the documents submitted by the legal heir(s) or the legal representative(s) are in order and will then effect a transfer of the balances to the client account of the legal heir(s) or the legal representative(s). After effecting the transmission, the DP will close the account of the deceased.

Demat

Dematerialization (Demat) is the process by which securities held in physical form evidencing the holding of securities by any person are cancelled and destroyed and the ownership thereof is entered into and retained in a fungible form on a depository by way of electronic balances.

Demat facilitates paperless trading whereby securities transactions are executed electronically reducing/mitigating possibility of loss of related documents and/or fraudulent transactions.

Trading in demat form is regulated by the Depositories Act, 1996 and is monitored by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). There are only two depositories presently functioning in India and they are the National Securities Depository Limited (NSDL) & the Central Depository Services (India) Limited (CDSL).

Basic Services Offered by Depositories

Under the provisions of the Depositories Act, the National Securities Depository Limited (NSDL) and the Central Depository Services (India) Limited (CDSL) provide various services to investors and other participants in the capital market. This system, which facilitates paperless trading, offers various direct and indirect services to the market participants.

A depository cannot directly open account and provide services to clients. Any person willing to avail of the services of the depository can do so by entering into an agreement with the depository through any of its Depository Participants (DPs).

Depository Participant (DP)

It works as an agent of the depository i.e. NSDL & CDSL. The various activities must be carried out as per prescribed procedures, failing which respective depositories impose financial penalties on DPs during audit and inspection. Hence, between the depository and the investors, the relationship care must be taken while carrying out various activities. Depository Participant (DP) is in fact an intermediary between the investor and the depository and is governed by an agreement made between the two (i.e. investor and DP) under the Depositories Act.

CM: This account can be opened by a broker or by a clearing member for the purpose of settlement of trades executed on a recognized stock exchange.

Benefits of Depository System

No stamp duty on transfer of shares.

Quick transfers/settlements (the very next day of pay-out).

Elimination of bad deliveries, forgery, loss of certificate in transit, etc.

Reduced paper work (no filling of transfer deed, affixation of stamps and lodgement of shares for transfer with the company).

Security of the stocks held as they are held in electronic form and hence no worries of holding the securities physically at home and avoidance of possible loss or theft of the certificate(s), mutilation, forgery, etc.

Facility to pledge/hypothecate the securities.

Facility of trading in odd lots.

Quick transfer of shares.

Nomination facility available (for individuals).

In case of death of sole/joint holder(s) easy transmission of shares to the nominee or surviving joint holder(s).

Facilitates the company to determine entitlements like dividends and bonus easily and faster.

Account Opening

To avail of the various services offered by Depositories (NSDL/CDSL), an investor/a broker/an approved intermediary (for lending and borrowing) has to open an account with a DP.

Types of Accounts

Beneficiary Account

An investor who wants to hold securities in Dematerialized (Demat) form and receive or deliver securities by inter-account transfers must have an account called beneficiary account with a DP of his choice.

Clearing Member Account

Member brokers of those stock exchanges which have established electronic connectivity with NSDL/CDSL need to open a clearing member account, with a DP of his choice, to clear and settle trades in the demat form. This account is popularly known as settlement account or "Pool account". This account is meant only to transfer securities to and receive securities from the clearing corporation/house and hence, the member broker does not have any ownership (beneficiary) rights over the shares held in such an account.

The process of opening a Demat account is very similar to that of a bank account. There are some common details which are required for any type of account opening with the DP, these are:

Name of the account holder

Date of birth (for individual accounts)

Occupation and financial details

Address and phone/fax number

Bank details like name of bank, type of account (current/savings), account number, branch address, MICR, etc.

PAN number

Details of nomination (for individual accounts only)

Specimen signature.

E-mail address

Mobile number

Address for communication
