On the three sliders, enter the principal amount borrowed, the interest rate of the bank and the period of repayment. By adjusting the sliders, you can compare the variables and fix them as per your suitability. You can pay low EMIs by opting for lower loan amounts, thus reducing the interest rate, or increasing the loan tenure. The calculator makes predictive calculations quite easily for you.

title: How can an EMI calculator for a personal loan assist you?

, content: The handy and automatic online calculator gives you a head start in calculating the EMI numbers that you will need to pay while calculating your personal loan EMI. It allows you to assess your affordability and determine the loan term that is best for you.

If you can pay many EMIs, the interest rate will be lower, but the loan repayment period will be longer. Changing the EMI amount and numbers can help you find the best loan repayment term.

The loan interest rate is determined by the EMI and the loan term. Choose an interest rate from a vendor, who offers a competitive value.

title: Amortization Schedule for Personal Loans

, content: The personal loan amortisation schedule is a periodic tabular representation of loan repayment. The payment amount, which includes the principal and monthly interest, is shown until the end of the term. The loan repayment is structured in such a way that most of the payment goes toward interest and the remaining goes toward principal repayment.

A personal loan amortisation schedule displays the monthly payments that are due. Dividing each payment into interest and principal. It assists you in keeping track of the monthly due amount, and the forecast assists in budgeting.

title: Factors that affect a Personal loan EMI amount , content: The factor that affects a personal loan on EMI is the interest rate, loan tenure and amount.

Income: The lender looks at the borrower's ability to repay. The loan limit is determined by an individual's income, age and loan tenure. Details of employment: This criterion is critical because the bank determines whether you work in the public, private or self-employed sectors. The nature of your job, as well as your years of service, are also considered.

Credit score: The bank decides whether your behaviour is creditworthy. If your score is greater than 800, the best interest rates are offered.

Debt-to-Income Ratio: Your EMI should not be more than 40-50% of your net take-home pay. If your salary is Rs. 80,000 and your monthly EMI is Rs. 45,000, your debt-to-income ratio is nearly 60%. In such cases, the bank charges a higher interest rate. But you will get a competitive interest rate if the debt-to-income ratio is healthy.

title: Benefits of using the BOB Personal Loan EMI Calculator

, content: User-friendly: The tool is simple to use and provides adequate guidance, allowing the lender to understand what they are attempting to achieve at each stage. Select the desired personal loan amount and set the interest rate and repayment term. Your EMI is calculated automatically.

Time saver: This is a quick loan calculator that eliminates the need for manual calculations.

Correct results: These automatic PL EMI Calculators are completely accurate and make no errors, which are common in manual modes. You can change the factors for a comfortable EMI with time-saving accuracy.

Aids in better planning: You can plan accordingly once you understand the EMI calculation, the interest and principal payable on the loan amount. The repayment schedule for personal loans is broken.

title: How do banks calculate EMI for personal loans?, content: The banks consider the interest rate, principal amount, and tenure. The standard formula for calculating the EMI amount is:

$$EMI = [P \times R \times (1+R)^N] / [(1+R)^N - 1]$$
, wherein P is principal, R is the rate of interest, and N is the number of instalments.

title: How do I use the Bank of Baroda personal loan EMI calculator?, content: If you want to easily obtain the EMI amount due on a Personal Loan, you can rely on the Bank of Baroda Personal Loan EMI Calculator. It is simple to use, and you only have to fill in important details about your personal loan.

Those details would be – the amount borrowed, interest rate, and tenure by sliding the selection bars on the tool.

You will be able to see the EMI amount payable each month within seconds!

title: What is personal loan amortisation schedule?, content: When you repay a Personal Loan, the EMI amount consists of both the principal amount and interest payable. In the initial months, the interest amount will be greater than the principal amount, which progressively reduces. An amortisation schedule gives you a breakdown of the principal repayment and interest component of your EMI month by month.

title: How is the Personal Loan EMI to be paid?, content: You can make Personal Loan EMI payments via various methods, including post-dated cheques, standing instructions, bank transfers, etc. It is best to check the policy of the bank in question. Bank of Baroda allows you to pay via cash, cheque, or bank transfer.

title: What are the factors that affect personal loan EMI?, content: Personal Loan EMI depends upon the interest rate, principal amount, and tenure. The higher the Personal Loan interest rate, the higher will your EMI be. Similarly, EMI increases with a higher principal amount. However, while EMI reduces with a longer tenure, the overall interest pay-out on the loan increases. Your credit score, age, and income also play a significant role in determining your loan amount, interest rate, and EMI amount.

title: How is personal loan interest rate calculated?, content: Personal Loan interest rates are determined by different banks as per their policies and discretion. However, certain factors can impact this decision. Banks usually consider credit score and repayment history, the amount borrowed, and the tenure while setting an interest rate.

title: How can a personal loan EMI calculator help with a loan selection?, content: A Personal Loan EMI Calculator helps you enter different parameters of a loan to see what the possible EMI would be. Thus, you can alter the amount borrowed, the tenure, or interest rates and get an idea of the EMI due each month. This helps you understand what kind of EMI fits within your budget and aligns with your financial goals. Thus, you can opt for a loan on terms that make EMI repayment more feasible for you.

title: How to calculate the lowest EMI for your Personal Loan?

, content: To calculate the lowest EMI payable on your Personal Loan, you can use a Personal Loan EMI Calculator. Move the sliders for the different terms like the principal, interest rate, and tenure. When you hit the minimum limit for each, you will be shown the lowest EMI at which you can get a Personal Loan.

title: Why choose bank of baroda's personal loan?

, content: Bank of Baroda offers Personal Loans of higher amounts at:

Attractive interest rates

Allows flexible repayments tenures

Flexibility in the use of funds

Repayment through easy EMIs.

With simple documentation and eligibility criteria, applying for a personal loan at the bank of baroda is a hassle-free process.

title: What Is a Processing Fee for Personal Loan?

, content: If you are a rookie availing of loans, even a bit of knowledge can make your loaning experience easy. No service in this world is free, so personal loans without processing fees do not exist. Loans come at a cost, other than the interest paid on them. A personal loan processing fee is a charge levied on loans for a reason. It is a percentage amount charged by the lender from the borrower on the loan to cover the administrative cost for the application of the personal loan process. The processing fee may differ depending on the institute disbursing the loan. On special occasions, banks and NBFCs waive the processing fee for increased availability, however, if you choose to loan from PSU Banks, the processing fee is considerably reduced compared to private banks.

title: How Are Processing Fees Charged?

, content: Let's look at a situation where you are purchasing a home on loan. The personal loan process steps will involve an equated monthly instalment (EMI) which will include various charges that come with the loan along with the principal amount for the home loan. Some lenders group charges while others treat them separately. These can be fixed amounts, or a percentage is charged on the loan amount as the personal loan processing fee.

title: Fees And Charges on Your Personal Loan

, content: Just as you are about to compare the best option for availing of your loan, here is a comprehensive idea of what the processing fee for personal loans entails.

Application fee

The application fee is charged by the lender at the outset as an initial fee for the evaluation of the loan application. Below is the evaluation of the personal loan process steps:

If the application is furnished with relevant documents

If the information in the document is accurate for the next step

Cost recovery of the manpower assigned for the task

The fee can be charged flat by the lender as a personal loan processing fee or a variable fee on the personal loan process.

Technical fee

This personal loan processing fee is levied on the borrower by the lender as an assessment fee for inspection and assessment of market value.

Legal fee

For any personal loan, the lender needs to establish if the loan seeker is involved in any legal dispute. For this, a legal expert is hired to scrutinize documents. This legal fee is deducted from the personal loan processing fee.

Statutory loan charges

The lender collects statutory charges from the borrower on behalf of a regulatory body such as the government like the GST charges.

Pre EMI

Once the loan is disbursed, the procurement process can be delayed. However, the lender will start charging a simple interest known as pre-EMI till the loan amount is realised.

Loan Re-appraisal fee

In some cases, borrowers may not take the loan after its sanction and disbursement. If the period stretches for a long time, the loan application is re-evaluated.

Notary fee

This fee is charged from NRIs for additional paperwork as part of the loan processing fee. For documentation notary by the Indian embassy or the local notary of residence. If the individual is a Power of Attorney holder for an NRI, a notarised adjudication in India will be applied which comes at a fee.

title: Bottomline

, content: Personal loans are the smartest choices when you require extra cash for a special purpose that outstretches your salary. Instead of asking friends and family for financial help, loans provide solvency that helps you beat the cash crunch and gracefully return the money to your debtor through consistent regularity. However, one must not overlook the personal loan processing fee while calculating their loan amount for healthy planning.

title: Personal Loan Vs Car Loan - Which Is Better?

, content: Owning a car is a dream for many. A vehicle offers you the convenience of travelling when you want to and saves you from the rush of local commute. Having your own car also helps in times of emergency. With the outbreak of novel coronavirus, using local commute or public transportation can be daunting. Your own vehicle ensures your safety in such trying times.

Now, it is expensive to buy a car. Even low-cost vehicles run into several lakhs of rupees. Instead of saving up for years, you can take a loan to buy a car immediately. A loan helps you buy your dream car without too much of a financial burden. Car loans are loans that have been specially designed to help you purchase a four-wheeler. Many people also opt for a personal loan to finance their car purchase.

Now, you may wonder which loan is better. Should you take a car loan or a personal loan to buy a car? With each of these two types of loans having their own unique benefits, the debate of a personal loan vs car loan can go on and on. This article will take you through the major differences between personal loans and car loans that you must know about in order to pick the right option. Read on to know more about personal loans, car loans, the difference between the two and which loan will be apt for you.

title: What is a personal loan?

, content: A personal loan is a type of loan that can be availed of to meet any kind of expenses. Whether it is paying for your dream wedding, funding higher education or even doing debt consolidation, a personal loan always comes in handy. You can use a personal loan to buy a car as well.

A personal loan is an unsecured loan. This means that you do not need to provide the lender with collateral to secure the loan amount. A personal loan is offered based on your financial eligibility. Factors like your income and debt to income ratio are considered for personal loan approval. Along with these factors, your credit score also has an integral part to play in determining your eligibility for a personal loan. A good credit score will help you land much better terms on your loan.

Generally, a personal loan is offered at a higher interest rate than car loans. The primary reason behind this is that personal loans are 100% collateral-free and therefore, involve a higher risk for the lender.

title: What is a car loan?

, content: As the name suggests, a car loan is a loan that is given for car purchases only. You cannot use the loan amount to finance other expenses the way you can with a personal loan. Secondly, a car loan is a secured loan. The car that you purchase serves as collateral for the lender. The lender has the authority to seize the car in case you fail to make your payments.

Some important tips to consider about car loans is that these loans only offer up to around 80% of the car price. The other 20% of the price has to be taken care of by you in the form of a down payment. Since car loans are secured loans, they can be availed of at a lower interest rate than personal loans.

title: Personal loan vs car loan

, content: To help you understand the main differences between a personal loan and car loan, here is a table that illustrates the key features of the two types of loans.

Point of difference Personal loan Car loan

Loan amount The loan amount that can be availed of depends upon your eligibility and the maximum amount offered by the lender. If you have a strong financial standing and a higher credit score, you are eligible to get a loan of a higher amount. The loan amount that you secure is based upon the value of the car to be purchased. You can generally get around 80% of the total car cost. Some lenders may finance up to 90% of the car cost.

Interest rate Personal loans, being unsecured loans, tend have a higher interest rate. This is to compensate for the risk involved for the lender in the absence of collateral. Car loans are offered at a comparatively lower interest rate. The bank uses your car as collateral to secure the loan amount.

Tenure of repayment Personal loans are usually offered for a shorter tenure owing to the absence of collateral. This tenure lies anywhere between 1 to 5 years. Usually, car loans can be availed for 3 to 8 years of tenure.

title: Should I take a personal loan to buy a car?

, content: The answer to this question depends on many factors. Taking a personal loan for car purchase might suit some whereas a car loan may suit others. Let's look at how you can choose between the two.

To start off, a major point that makes many people opt for a personal loan to buy a car is that this form of a loan offers 100% funding. With a car loan, you can only avail of 80% of the amount. Paying the remaining lump sum amount of 20% in one go can be a challenge, especially for cars of higher value. So, a personal loan might make sense for someone who cannot afford the down payment on their vehicle.

Another factor that you must consider before making a choice is the car loan vs personal loan interest rate. As mentioned before, personal loans are usually offered at a higher interest rate for a shorter tenure. If you want to try for a lower interest rate, then you may want to choose a car loan.

Ownership of the car must also be considered before deciding which loan is better for you. In the case of a personal loan, you can get immediate ownership of the vehicle under your name. However, with a car loan, the ownership will be first transferred to the lender's name. You will get the ownership rights only when the entire loan amount is repaid.

Lastly, you need to look at which loan type is more easily accessible for you. Since personal loans are unsecured loans, they have a solid set of eligibility norms that you are required to meet. You need to have a strong financial portfolio and a suitable credit score and history. Your loan application undergoes scrutiny before it is approved. If you have a lower credit score, you may want to consider opting for a car loan instead.

title: Conclusion

, content: As we can see, the choice between a personal loan and a car loan depends entirely upon your unique financial needs and circumstances. Bank of Baroda offers car loans and personal loans with simple application procedures and affordable interest rates. Now, you can go ahead and live life with ease thanks to our easy loans. Get in touch with us today to know more.

title: Most Important Terms and Conditions (MITC), content:

A non-resident Indian (NRI) or an overseas corporate body (OCB) may purchase/sell shares and/or convertible debentures of an Indian company, through a registered broker on a recognised stock exchange, subject to the following:

The NRI/OCB designates a branch of an authorised dealer for routing his/its transactions relating to purchase and sale of shares/convertible debentures under this scheme, and routes all such transactions only through the branch so designated.

The paid up value of shares of an Indian company, purchased by each NRI or OCB both on repatriation and on non-repatriation basis, does not exceed 5 percent of the paid up value of shares issued by the company concerned.

The paid up value of each series of convertible debentures purchased by each NRI or OCB both on repatriation and non-repatriation basis does not exceed 5 percent of the paid up value of each series of convertible debentures issued by the company concerned.

The aggregate paid up value of shares of any company purchased by all NRIs and OCBs does not exceed 10 percent of the paid up capital of the company and in the case of purchase of convertible debentures the aggregate paid up value of each series of debentures purchased by all NRIs and OCBs does not exceed 10 percent of the paid up value of each series of convertible debentures.

Provided that the aggregate ceiling of 10 percent referred to in this clause may be raised to 24 percent if a special resolution to that effect is passed by the General Body of the concerned Indian company.

The NRI or OCB investor takes delivery of the shares purchased and gives delivery of shares sold.

Payment for purchase of shares and/or debentures is made by inward remittance in foreign exchange through normal banking channels or out of funds held in NRE/FCNR account maintained in India if the shares are purchased on repatriation basis and by inward remittance or out of funds held in NRE/FCNR/NRO/NRNR/NRSR account of the NRI/OCB concerned maintained in India where the shares or debentures are purchased on non-repatriation basis.

title: Positive Pay System: Secure Your Transactions with Mobile Banking &

Internet Banking, content: Now, high value cheque's are more secure than ever.

With this Positive Pay System our bank cross verifies your cheque details before it is encashed. Ensuring utmost safety of your transactions, Bank of Baroda offers you this facility via Mobile Banking, Internet Banking, SMS, Branch visit or call center. Watch this video to know more title: How do you calculate PPF?

, content: PPF account holders know that PPF is a tax saving investment option for long-term saving. PPF - the saving instrument - tells you to start saving by putting aside small amounts every month to create a corpus - that will fulfil the goals you have in your plan.

If you want to calculate the expected interest and maturity value for your PPF account, you can use the formula given below:

$$A = P \left[ \frac{(1+i)^n - 1}{i} \right]$$

A is the amount
P is principal amount
I is the expected rate of return
N is no. of years

To ensure you get quick and accurate figures for your PPF investment, you can rely on an online PPF Calculator.

title: What is a PPF Calculator?, content: An online tool which gives you an approximate estimate of the money you have to put aside. PPF calculator for monthly investment plans for you, once you have the values fed into the online calculator. It is programmed to be error-free.

title: How does the PPF Calculator work?
, content: A PPF Calculator is an online tool to help you perform complicated calculations. It has been programmed to compute details that you fill in regarding your PPF investment.

title: How to use a PPF Calculator?
, content: For instance, if you use Bank of Baroda's PPF Calculator, you just have to enter details like, frequency and the amount of investment. After you provide this information, you will be shown the maturity value (the value you will receive after the tenure ends). The PPF calculator showcases a complete breakdown of the deposit and interest amount within a few seconds.

title: What are the advantages of using PPF Calculator online?
, content: As the PPF interest rates keep changing, the PPF calculator turns out to be of immense help. It's free, easy to access and calculates without any mistakes.
Bank of Baroda PPF calculator also helps you keep track of your PPF investment and how it is growing. In return, this helps you to switch your savings and diversify your portfolio.

title: Banking Mantra, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life title: PPF: Ideal Tax-Saving Option for Low-Risk Investors, content: The Public Provident Fund (PPF) is a long-term savings and investment scheme introduced by the Government of India to encourage individuals to build a retirement corpus while enjoying various financial benefits established in 1968 under the Public Provident Fund Act.

title: Understand PPF in 5 easy steps, content: 1.While the PPF rate is prescribed by the government, it is linked to the 10-Year GSEC as a marker.2. Interest calculation Interest on PPF is compounded annually but calculated monthly.

3. Liquidity PPF investments are locked in for a period of 15 years. Partial withdrawal post completion of seven years is available to the extent of 50 % at the end of the fourth year from the date of account opening.

4. Investment limit Minimum investment = Rs 500 maximum and the maximum investment = Rs 1.5 lakhs. Investments over Rs 1.5 lakhs do not fetch a return.

5. Tax benefit PPF is among the rare investments that get a tax benefit at all three stages (EEEs) -Exemption on initial investment under section 80C of the Income Tax Act, Exemptions on the returns on investment made and Exemption on withdrawal of investment proceeds.

title: Benefits of PPF, content: Mutual Fund Investments are subject to market risks, read all scheme related documents carefully. The information provided is generic in nature and is for informational purpose only. Please consult your financial advisor before taking any decision.

title: National Pension Scheme (NPS): A Comprehensive Guide to Retirement Planning, content: nan title: Introduction of PPF, content: This article provides detailed information on PPF withdrawal rules. It covers the process of PPF withdrawal online, reasons for withdrawal, how to withdraw the PPF amount, PPF extension on maturity, partial withdrawal rules, and FAQs related to PPF withdrawal. How to Withdraw PPF Amount Online?

title: Rules of PPF Withdrawal, content: Any time after the expiry of five years from the end of the year in which the PPF account was opened, the account holder may, avail withdrawal by applying in specified Form, from the balance to his credit, an amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the amount that stood to his credit at the end of the fourth year immediately preceding the year of withdrawal or at the end of the preceding year, whichever is lower. Provided that the amount of loan outstanding, if any, along with interest shall be paid by the account holder before availing the facility of withdrawal under this paragraph: Provided further that the facility of withdrawal may be availed only once in a year only from the accounts which have not become discontinued.

title: Premature Closure of PPF Account, content: An account holder shall be allowed premature closure of his account or the account of a minor or person of unsound mind of whom is the guardian on an application to the accounts office in specified Form, on any of the following grounds, namely:-

title: Frequently Asked Questions on PPF Withdrawal:, content: How much can you withdraw from your PPF Account before Maturity?

title: How to Avail Loan Against Your PPF Account, content: Public Provident Fund (PPF) is a long-term investment with a tenure of 15 years that gives the investor a fixed income that is risk-free and tax-free. The account can be opened with a minimum balance of Rs.500 to a maximum deposit of Rs.1, 50,000 per year. It inculcates the habit of saving and planning for long-term goals. It also has a provision for availing loan against the PPF account investment for the short-term needs of the investor.

title: Step by Step Guide on How to Open a PPF Account, content: PPF accounts can be opened at designated banks and post offices across the country, with the option to invest either online or offline. The investment tenure for PPF accounts is 15 years, with the option to extend the term indefinitely in blocks of 5 years after maturity.

title: What is Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana

, content: Launched in August 2014, the Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana is a savings scheme introduced by the PM to ensure that every Indian citizen can open a savings account and gain a sense of financial independence without worrying about maintaining account balances. This scheme targets people belonging to the economically weaker and middle-income groups. It encourages them to open a savings account and benefit from a bouquet of financial facilities and services. Apart from providing a zero balance savings account, account holders also become eligible for benefits like credit insurance and pension as well as easy and affordable remittance, among other things.

title: What is the benefit of Jan Dhan Account?

, content: Launched in August 2014, the Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana is a savings scheme introduced by the PM to ensure that every Indian citizen can open a savings account and gain a sense of financial independence without worrying about maintaining account balances. This scheme targets people belonging to the economically weaker and middle-income groups. It encourages them to open a savings account and benefit from a bouquet of financial facilities and services. Apart from providing a zero balance savings account, account holders also become eligible for benefits like credit insurance and pension as well as easy and affordable remittance, among other things.

What is the benefit of Jan Dhan Account?

Having explained what is PMJDY, let's take a look at some benefits of the Jan Dhan account. They are as under:

It is a zero balance savings scheme

As mentioned above, the Jan Dhan Account is a zero balance savings account. This means that account holders don't have to worry about maintaining an average monthly balance in their savings account. They are not charged or penalised for non-maintenance of minimum monthly balances.

Account-holders can avail loans and overdraft facilities

People belonging to economically weaker sections, often do not have a bank account and have to rely on private money lenders for loans. These money lenders often quote high-interest rates, thus adding to the financial woes of such people, and putting them in an infinite loop of loans and EMIs. However, with PMJDY, account holders can avail bank loans at loan interest rates. People who've maintained balances for six consecutive months can also avail overdraft facilities of ₹5,000 against savings parked in the PMJDY account.

Account-holders receive accident and life insurance cover

Since people belonging to economically weaker sections cannot afford to invest in insurance, the PMJDY scheme offers the added incentive of accident and life insurance cover. This coverage is provided complimentary with the RuPay debit card under which account holders receive accidental insurance coverage and life insurance coverage worth ₹100,000 and ₹30,000 respectively.

Benefits from government schemes are directly transferred into the PMJDY account. Account-holders can easily access their pension accounts through the PMJDY account. Those individuals who have invested in any government schemes like the SCSS or Atal Pension Yojana, can opt to have their benefits directly transferred into their Jan Dhan savings account.

Final word: Now that you know what is PM Jan Dhan Yojana, and its benefits, you can consider opening your account and availing the benefits that go with it. Visit your nearest bank and find out how to open your PMJDY account.

Keywords used: what is Jan Dhan Yojana, What is Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana, What is the benefit of Jan Dhan Account, what is PMJDY, what is PM Jan Dhan Yojana title: What is Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana?, content: The Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana account is a financial umbrella provided by the Government of India to make economically backwards Indian citizens fall within a structured financial institution. The program endeavours to reach out to every adult to open accounts with affordable banking for all. Low-income unorganised sectors, with daily wagers, cannot opt for private banking facilities owing to eligibility criteria that impede them from maintaining those accounts. But the PMJDY allows all banking privileges to Indian citizens in zero balance accounts allowing them to save as they earn without depending on private and insecure saving cooperatives.

title: Establishment of Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana, content: The Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana account was launched in 2014. It has seen exponential success with the number of accounts rising from 17.9 crores in August 2015 to 46.25 crores in August 2022. The yojana has experienced an inflow of energetic account holders willing to save than take a loan, and the robust numbers of operative accounts show that India is looking forwards to being connected by households on a reliable countrywide banking system. The Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana account allows account holders to benefit from affordable credit, pension and insurance schemes. Cutting across the clutter of multiple transaction requirements with the direct government to the consumer, the process has been simplified for encouraging user support. The programme supports various other social schemes. The programme was initially planned for 2018 covering four years, however, going by the success of the scheme, the government planned to extend it targeting the one adult one account ratio.

title: Benefits of Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana, content: The PMJDY programme is a nationwide savings account scheme for those with low income. The benefits of Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana include savings and deposits, Remittance, Credit, Insurance, and Pension affordable to all Indian citizens fulfilling the scheme eligibility.

title: How to Open Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana Account?, content: The Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana account can be opened in person in any branch or Bank title: Final Takeaways, content: In the past eight years, the success of this initiative has gained traction covering increasing households under its productivity. The number of active accounts is far more than non-operative accounts. This robust financial initiative will urge people to save as they earn making them conscious of greater savings with more earnings. More than 56 per cent of women are PMJDY account holders, they can benefit from Microcredit self-help groups and Mudra Loans extended to women entrepreneurs. With PMJDY banking focused on rural and semi-urban areas, the scheme has triggered a banking demand as self-employment opportunities for bank Mitras are emerging in the hinterland. The State and Central government is finding it convenient to deliver welfare benefits such as MANREGA wages, pension and ex-gratia payments in the bank accounts directly. The successful permeation of PMJDY accounts has enabled a wider adaptation of digital payment modes through 31 crore RuPay cards, UPI and debit cards, making India more digitally prepared. The budding fintech industry that is retail focused with innovative customised investments through its various saving, credit and insurance products can open a whole new range of possibilities for the large section of low-income households. Bringing the grassroots level to greater compliance and stability will spearhead development in the real sense in our country.

Mitra outlet.

title: Successful 7 Years of Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana, content: Let us talk about Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY) in detail. It is a nationwide scheme launched in 2014. The programme makes financial services accessible to all eligible individuals in the country.

title: What is Zero Balance Account, content: The growth of the Mutual Funds in India has created its edge in the personal finance industry in India and has opened up opportunities for investors to diversify their investments across various asset classes. Mutual fund is a type of financial intermediary product that empowers millions of small as well as large investors across the country to participate and invest in capital market and derive benefits from the same.

title: What is PMJJBY?

, content: Launched by the Prime minister of India, Shri Narendra Modi on 9th May 2015, Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Jyoti Bima Yojana is a term insurance scheme that offers renewable insurance coverage of Rs. 2 lakh on a premium of Rs.436/- per annum per member. It covers death on account of any reason and needs to be renewed on a yearly basis. In this article, you will get all the necessary PMJJBY details.

title: Eligibility Criteria for Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Jyoti Bima Yojana

, content: Age - 18 to 50 years

A functioning bank/Post office account in India

A person holding multiple bank/Post office accounts, the person is eligible to join the scheme through one bank/ Post office account only.

Aadhaar Card linked to your participatory bank/Post office account title: PMJJBY Features and Benefits

, content: Enrolment Period

The enrolment period begins every year from 1st June till 31st May of the subsequent year. This particular period is also the time for which you get coverage. Hence, you must apply and give your auto-debit consent by 31st May. In case of delayed enrolment for prospective cover, payment of pro-rata premium is charged as:

In September, October & November – pro rata premium of Rs. 342/-

In December, January & February – pro rata premium of Rs. 228/-

In March, April & May – pro rata premium of Rs. 114/-

A lien period of 30 days is applicable from the date of enrolment.

You will be required to submit written consent to the bank/Post office for the auto-debit of premium and also ensure that the minimum amount of premium is available at the time of auto-debit.

Individuals joining after the last date of enrolment must pay the full premium at the time of joining with a self-declared health certificate.

Enrolment Modality

No claim would be admissible in case of death (other than due to accident) during the lien period.

Individuals who exit the scheme at any point may re-join the scheme in future years.

No claim would be passed in case of death (other than due to accident) during the lien period if the individual exits the scheme during or after the first year and re-joins on any date on or after 01st June 2021.

Tenure:

1 year from the date of signing

PMJJBY Renewal:

The insured person can renew his/her PMJJBY every year up to the age of 55 years. In case the insured person wishes to discontinue PMJJBY, he/she can stop renewing it. The renewal period is in the last week of May.

Payment Mode:

Auto-debit of the premium from your savings bank or Post office account.

Tax- Benefit:

Premiums paid towards the PMJJBY scheme are applicable for tax exemption under Section 80C of the Income Tax Act of India. But if the insurance holder fails to submit Form 15 G or 15 H, then any life insurance proceeds exceeding Rs. 1 lakh will be taxable by 2%.

No Maturity Benefit:

Since Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Jyoti Bima Yojana is a pure term insurance plan, it doesn't offer maturity or surrender benefits.

Termination of the scheme:

On attaining the maximum age of 55 years.

Closure of attached bank/Post office account.

Insufficiency of balance at the time of auto-detection or renewal.

title: How to Apply For PMJJBY?

, content: You can apply for the Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Jyoti Bima Yojana (PMJJBY) by visiting the nearest branch of your bank or Post office, by Policy SMS facility, by visiting the official Jansuraksha website, or by net banking facility.

title: PMJJBY Premium & Coverage

, content: PMJJBY Premium - Rs.436/- per annum per member.

PMJJBY Coverage - a risk coverage of Rs.2 lakh for 1 year is payable on a member's death due to any cause. Also the coverage amount given to the beneficiary is tax-free.

title: How to get enrolled in PMJJBY?

, content: Online enrolment process through the website:

Download the PMJJBY form from the official website gov.in.

Click on the 'Application Forms' tab.

Fill out the form and submit it.

Through SMS Facility:

Send a message on the toll-free number of your designated bank.

You'll in return receive the activation message.

Type 'PMJJBY Y' in reply

You will receive an acknowledgment receipt.

At last, the processing information will be handled by the bank from the back end of your savings account.

Through Internet Banking:

Log in to your internet banking account and click on the 'Insurance Tab'.

Select the bank account you wish to use for paying the premium.

Check your details once and confirm.

Download the receipt and don't forget to note down the reference number stated for future use.

Offline enrolment process:

Visit any nearest affiliated bank or insurance company.

Ask for a PMJJBY application form.

Submit the filled form.

A premium of 436/- per annum per member will be deducted automatically from the savings bank account.

title: PMJJBY Claim Process

, content: The claim process of Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Jyoti Bima Yojana (PMJJBY) is quite simple and understandable. Given below are the three different claim processes followed by the beneficiary, the bank, and the insurance company:

Claim process followed by the Beneficiary

Step 1 - In a situation, where the policyholder dies, the nominee has to visit the policyholder's savings bank account linked to the PMJJBY scheme and has to submit the policyholder's death certificate.

Step 2 - The beneficiary can then obtain the claim form from the bank or the insurance company.

Step 3 - Fill out the duly filled claim form and submit it along with supporting documents like discharge receipt, death certificate, a copy of cancelled cheque, policy holder's and nominee's bank account details, KYC documents of deceased & nominee and account statement of deceased.

Claim process followed by the Bank

Step 1: The bank will verify the form and documents submitted by the nominee.

Step 2: Once the verification is done, the bank will submit the claim through online to the designated insurance company.

Claim process followed by the Insurance Company

Step 1: Upon receiving the claim form and documents from the bank, the insurance company will also verify the filed claim.

Step 2: When the insurance company is fully satisfied with the information given by the nominee and the verification is successfully done, the claim amount will be transferred to the beneficiary's bank account.

The insurance company takes approximately 30 days to approve it and disburse the claim amount. You can follow up with the bank to know your PMJJBY claim status.

title: Conclusion

, content: Even though the Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Jyoti Bima Yojana (PMJJBY) was launched for the betterment of the poor and low-income section of society, any individual can take benefit as it not only secures the financial future of the individual but also provides security to his/her family to cover any fortuity.

title: Summary : BHIM UPI

, content: "BHIM Baroda Pay UPI" is a Unified Payment Interface application of Bank of Baroda. By downloading this app you agree to terms and conditions of this Privacy Policy given by the application. We will not be able to on-board you in case you are not in agreement with the terms and condition. By mere use of BHIM Baroda Pay, you expressly consent to our use and disclosure of your personal information in accordance with the Privacy Policy. This Privacy Policy is incorporated into and subject to terms and conditions.

title: Collection of Personally Identifiable Information and Other Information

, content: When you use our application, we collect and store your personal information provided by you from time to time. We do so to ensure that you are provided a safe, efficient, smooth and seamless experience. This also allows us to understand your needs and provide for services and features that best suit them. We strive to provide for services and features that best suit them. We strive to provide for customizations on our application to ensure that your experience is always safer and easier. This requires collection of personal information to the extent necessary for achieving this purpose and objective.

You may please note that it is mandatory to register yourself in order to use the app. And once you give us your personal information, you are not anonymous to us. We may automatically track certain information about you based upon your behaviour on our app to the extent permitted by law .

If you choose to transact on the app, we collect information about your transaction behaviour. We collect some additional information such as a billing address, details of recipient or payer of the transaction, location, etc. which may be used for providing better experience to you while using the App.

If you choose to provide information by way of messages on our message boards (as & when available) and/ or chat rooms or any other message areas or if you prefer to leave feedback, we will collect that information you provide to us. We retain this information as necessary to resolve disputes in terms of transactions and otherwise, where needed, provide customer support and troubleshoot problems as permitted by law. We collect personally identifiable information (email address, name, phone number, Aadhar number etc.) from you when you register with us to create your unique identification in terms of Virtual Payment Address and/ or any other unique registration identification that is/ shall be made available to our customers.

title: Use of Demographic/ Profile Data/ Your Information

, content: We use personal information to provide the services you request. We use personal information to resolve disputes; troubleshoot problems; Send money, collect money; measure consumer interest in our products and services and we may use the information to keep you apprised on any online and offline offers, products, services and updates that shall be made available for use of our customers. We use the information thus obtained to customize your experience; detect and protect us against error, fraud and other criminal activity; enforce our terms and conditions which are an integral part of the use of this application; and as otherwise described to you at the time of such collection.

We identify and use your IP address to help diagnose problems with our server, and to administer our app. Your IP address is also used to help identify you and to gather broad demographic information.

title: Sharing of personal information

, content: We may disclose personal information if required to do so by law or in the good faith belief that such disclosure is reasonably necessary to respond to subpoenas, court orders, or other legal processes. We may disclose personal information to law enforcement offices upon such requests, third party rights owners or others in the good faith belief that such disclosure is reasonable necessary to:

Enforce our Terms or Privacy Policy

Respond to claims that an advertisement, posting or other content violates the rights of a third party

To protect the rights, property or personal safety of our users or the general public.

We will share some or all of your personal information with another business entity should we( or our assets) plan to merge with, or be acquired by that business entity, or re-organisation, amalgamation, restructuring of business. Should such a transaction occur that other business entity (or the new combined entity) will be required to follow this privacy policy with respect to your personal information.

title: Methods of Data processing

, content: Data is controlled and processed in house by the bank. The in house Data centre processes the data of Users in a proper manner and appropriate security measures are taken to prevent unauthorized access, disclosure, modification, or unauthorized destruction of the Data. The Data processing is carried out using computers and / or IT enabled tools, following organizational procedures and modes strictly related to the purposes indicated. In addition to the Data centre, in some cases, the Data may be accessible to bank officials, involved with the operation of the service (administration, sales, marketing, legal, system administration) or external parties (such as vendors, third party technical service providers, mail & SMS carriers) appointed, if necessary, as Data Processors by the business Owner. The updated list of these parties may be requested from the business owner at any time.

title: Place of data processing

, content: The Data is processed at the bank's Data centre and in any other places where the parties involved with the processing are located.

title: Retention time

, content: The Data is kept for the time necessary to provide the UPI services, and the extend permitted by law.

title: Legal action

, content: The User's Personal Data may be used for legal purposes by the bank, in Court or in the stages leading to possible legal action arising from improper use of this application or the related services. The User is aware of the fact that the Data Controller may be required to reveal personal data upon request of public authorities.

title: System Logs and Maintenance

, content: For operation and maintenance purposes, this Application and any third party services may collect files that record interaction with this Application (System Logs). Information not contained in this policy: More details concerning the collection or processing of Personal Data may be requested from the bank at any time.

title: The rights of Users

, content: Users have the right, at any time, to know whether their Personal Data has been stored and can consult the bank to learn about their contents and origin, to verify their accuracy or to ask for them to be supplemented, cancelled, updated or corrected, or for their transformation into anonymous format or to block any data held in violation of the law, as well as to oppose their treatment for any and all legitimate reasons. Requests should be sent to the bank at the contact information set out above. This Application does not support "Do Not Track" requests. To determine whether any of the third party services it uses honor the "Do Not Track" requests, please read their privacy policies.

title: Changes to this privacy policy

, content: The bank reserves the right to make changes to this privacy policy at any time by giving notice to its Users on this page. It is strongly recommended to check this page often, referring to the date of the last modification listed at the bottom. If a User objects to any of the changes to the Policy, the User must cease using this Application and can request that the bank to erase the Personal Data. Unless stated otherwise, the then-current privacy policy applies to all Personal Data the bank has about title: Security Precautions

, content: Our app has stringent security measures in place to protect the loss, misuse, and alteration of the information under our control and follows the best practices in the industry in this regard. Whenever you change or access your account information, it is through secure channels. Once your information is in our possession we adhere to strict security guidelines, protecting it against unauthorized access.

title: Your consent

, content: By using the app and/ or by providing your information, you consent to the collection and use of the information you disclose on the app in accordance with this Privacy Policy, including but not limited to your consent for sharing your information as per this privacy policy.

title: Definitions and legal references

, content: Personal Data (or Data): Any information regarding a natural person, a legal person, an institution or an association, which is, or can be, identified, even indirectly, by reference to any other information, including a personal identification number.

Usage Data: Information collected automatically from this Application (or third party services employed in this Application), which can include: the mobile number and SIM serial number of the Users who use this Application, the method utilized to submit the request to the server, the size of the file received in response, the numerical code indicating the status of the server's answer (successful outcome, error, etc.), the features of the browser and the operating system utilized by the User, the various time details per visit (e.g., the time spent on each page within the Application) and the details about the path followed within the Application with special reference to the sequence of pages visited, and other parameters about the device operating system and/or the User's IT environment.

User: The individual (registered customer) using this Application, which must coincide with or be authorized by the bank Subject, to whom the Personal Data refer.

Data Subject: The legal or natural person to whom the Personal Data refers to Data Processor (or Data Supervisor) The natural person, legal person, public administration or any other body, association or organization authorized by the bank to process the Personal Data in compliance with this privacy policy.

Bank (or Owner): Bank of Baroda is the Owner of this Application.

This Application: The hardware or software tool by which the Personal Data of the User is collected.

Cookie: Small piece of data stored in the User's device.

title: Privacy Policy

, content: Customer's privacy is important to Bank of Baroda (hereinafter referred to as the Bank) and we are committed to protecting your privacy when you use Bank of Baroda's Digital Platforms. This Privacy Statement will explain the process on how your data will be collected, used, shared, and safeguarded when you use our Digital Platforms.

By using our Digital Platforms, you are expressly agreeing to and consenting to the terms of this privacy policy and is deemed to have given your consent for the processing of your Personal Data as set out in this Statement.

title: Collection of Data:

, content: Personal information is the information that identifies you as an individual and your other identity, such as your name, date of birth, mobile number, domicile, pan number, mailing address, email address, etc. Personal information is only obtained when you voluntarily provide the information to us. The personal information is used for better understanding your needs and interests and to provide you with better service.

Once you choose to provide us with personal information, you can be assured it will be used only for the intent it was collected for.

Non-Personal information is the information that does not identify you as an individual, such as your browser type, IP Address, the URL of the previous web site you visited, etc. We may automatically collect certain types of non-personal information from you when visiting our site. This helps us to understand the usage of our site and demographics of our visitors.

Location information is information that may be collected by certain mobile applications or from the browser that identifies your physical location. This information may be collected from your mobile device's location-aware features when you request certain services that are dependent on your physical location.

Device Information refer to all such information collected of your devices which were used to avail the services of bank, these may include the unique device identifier such as IMEI number of your device, your contact details (if required), technical Data about your computer and mobile device or your devices which were used to avail the services of bank and the details regarding applications and usage details.

Bureau / Creditability information is information which will be extracted from various credit rating agencies/bureau and from RBI on your credit worthiness, history and behavior.

Other information is all other informations, such as information relating to your occupation, employment, employers details, like name and address, your income, monthly loan obligations, nature of business/employment, licensee, income proof, GST returns, bank statements, income tax returns, etc. Further generation and storing password or PIN / OTP in encrypted form based on your request on the Digital Platform, Your photographs, KYC details, Social relationships detail such as your father's name, spouse's name and mother's name, nominee address, declaration related to your health etc.

title: Purpose for which the Data is collected, content: All the data is collected:

To provide you the detailed information regarding our Digital Lending Platform, update on its terms and conditions, policies and/or other administrative information.

To enable us to personalize your experience of the Journey in the Digital Lending Platform.

To enable us to accurately address your request and respond to your need based on the inquiries.

To enable us to evaluate your eligibility for the applied product and provide the best offer of the product which you may have applied for or shown interest in;

To enable us to perform our obligations under KYC norms as directed by RBI.

To enable us to improve risk control for fraud detection and prevention, to comply with laws and regulations, and to comply with other legal processes and law enforcement requirements;

To enable us to extract and evaluate your credit history and credit worthiness and access the risk based on extracted details.

To enable us to establish and manage our relationship with you in most effective way.

To enable us to protect our legal rights and comply with our legal obligations;
To enable us to arrive on the decision to enter into a contract with you or to take steps based on your request prior to entering into a contract.

To enable us to meet the legitimate interests to be pursued by us or by a third party.

And for all other purposes which may arise in due course as per the requirement of bank or as per the requirement of statutory bodies from time to time.

title: Sharing of your information:

, content: We will not reveal customer information to any external organization unless we have previously informed the customer in disclosures or agreements, have been authorized by the customer, or are required by law.

Whenever we hire other organizations to provide support services, we will require them to conform to our privacy standards and to allow us to audit them for compliance.

Notwithstanding above, the Bank shall endeavor to take all possible steps to maintain secrecy and confidentiality of information provided by Users, but shall not be liable to the Users for any damages whatsoever caused on account of breach of secrecy/confidentiality due to but not limited to reasons beyond the control of the Bank or its service providers.

The Bank has the absolute discretion to amend or change this privacy policy at any time, without prior notice. However, the Bank will endeavor to notify any such change by posting it on the website or through advertisement or any other means as the Bank may deem fit.

title: Storage of your information:

, content: With reference to the provision of the regulatory laws and rules, Bank shall maintain all necessary records of transactions between the Bank and the customer for at least five years from the date of the transaction.

Further, preserve the records pertaining to the identification of the customers and their addresses obtained while opening the account and during the course of business relationship, for at least eight years after the business relationship is ended.

Bank is also required to maintain the records for a longer duration in case there is a dispute and matter is pending in any Court/Enforcement Agencies etc.

Notwithstanding anything, Regulators/Courts may, by an order in writing, direct any banking company to preserve any of the books, accounts or other documents, for a period specified for their preservation.

In case of e-record, Bank has well defined procedures for process of sanitization, to expunge data from storage media for destruction.

Bank has well defined procedures and standards for handling data security.

title: Law, Jurisdiction and Resolution

, content: The provisions of this privacy policy shall be governed by and, construed in accordance with the Indian law and the courts located in India having jurisdiction shall deal with any dispute arising out of this privacy policy.

In case of any dispute/ grievance the user may contact us at 1800 5700 for the resolution of the grievance/ concerned.

We will continuously assess ourselves to ensure that customer privacy is respected.

title: Introduction, content: The protection of your information is important to us. Bank of Baroda is committed to safeguard and ensure the security of information that we may receive while you browse our website. This privacy policy divulges our practice with respect to the information collected by us while you are viewing or transacting on our bank's website ifsc.bankofbaroda.in. The privacy policy is applicable to all visitors, customers or non-customers who access or use the said website and/or has provided information to the Bank with the intention of establishing a relationship. By disclosing any information to us you agree and abide by the terms and conditions of this policy.

We follow best security practices in the industry to help prevent unauthorized access to confidential information about you and assure you that we maintain strict security procedures to protect your information.

title: Information we collect

, content: Personal Identifiable Information (PII): When you visit our website, your personal information like name, age, email address, mobile number, state, country, etc. gets stored in our servers.

Information you post: We may collect publicly available information about the user which the Bank reasonably believes is lawfully publicly available or information posted on our website or on a third-party social media site belonging to the bank. The nature of the information, not the source of the information, determines whether it is publicly available information for purposes of the privacy policy.

Demographic information. We may collect your demographic information, your interests, or any other information you provide during the use of our website. We might collect this as a part of a survey also.

Other information. If you use our website, we may collect information about your IP address and the browser you're using. We might look at what site you came from, duration of time spent on our website, pages accessed or what site you visit when you leave us. We might also collect the type of mobile device you are using, or the version of the operating system your computer or device is running.

title: We collect information in different ways

, content: We collect information directly from you when you fill up a form on our website. We also collect information if you post a comment on our website or get in touch with us via phone or email.

We collect information from you passively by using tracking tools. This helps in collecting information about your usage of our website.

We collect your information from third parties. For example, if you use an integrated social media feature on our website, the respective third-party social media site will provide us some information about you. This could include your name and email address.

We won't ask you to supply personal information publicly over Facebook, Twitter, or any other social media platform or any public site in internet.

title: Use of your personal information

, content: We use the information we collect about and from you for the relevant lawful purposes connected to our business as mentioned below.

We use information to contact you for confirmation of registration for a product on our website or for other promotional purposes.

We use information to respond to your requests or questions on our website/app or other portals.

We use information to improve our products and services and display content based on your interests and preferences.

We use information to understand website trends to make our website experience and products better.

We use information for security purposes such as protecting our bank or our website.

We use information for marketing purposes such as sending communication about special promotions or offers, new products, etc. of our bank we think you might find interesting.

We use information to send you communications via emails or SMS.

We use information for Advertising and Marketing: We use your personal information to offer you products and services we believe may interest you, but we will not do so if you tell us not to. These products and services may be directly offered by the Bank or an outsourced service provider for the Bank. The products and services may be offered by various means, including by mail, telephone, email, SMS or other electronic means, such as through social media or targeted advertising etc.

We use information to send you marketing communications on products and services that we believe may be of interest to you, and/or to prequalify you for such products and services

We use information to personalize your experience on our website by presenting products and offers tailored to you

We use information to respond to your enquiries and fulfil your requests title: Sharing of information with third-parties

, content: We intend to share your information with authorised third-parties such as:

Third Party Service Providers

Marketing and Data Analytics Organisations

Compliance with Local Laws

Sharing of personal information with third-parties is as per Bank's approved guidelines and that the information is shared and used as per the service level agreement and non-disclosure agreement wherever applicable.

We will be sharing the information with third parties for the purpose of marketing and in order to offer and/or suggest financial products / services to visitors. For other business purposes such as, data analysis, audits, developing new, improving existing products and services, enhancing our website, identifying usage trends, determining the effectiveness of promotional campaigns etc.

title: Third party sites

, content: Upon clicking on one of the redirection links to third party sites, you may be taken to websites that are not under our control. In such cases, this policy does not apply to the privacy practices of those third-party websites. Please read the privacy policy of other websites carefully before browsing. Bank of Baroda is not responsible for these third party sites. The use of the said third party website shall be at the risk of customers/ as per terms and conditions of that website and bank will not be liable for any damages.

title: Usage of Cookies

, content: A "Cookie" is a small piece of information stored by a web server on your browser, to enable your browser to read it later whenever you log back in. To enable the browser to store specific information related to you, we may use permanent as well as temporary cookies. You can always choose to disable cookies by going into the settings of your browser. To know more about our cookie policy, click here

title: Grievance, content: In case of any complaint or grievance related to us or handling of user data and other information may be brought to our attention by contacting us via our grievance redressal portal <https://www.bankofbaroda.in/grievance-redressal>. We will try to redress the grievances within reasonable time as may be provided in applicable laws.

title: Updates to this policy

, content: We may amend / Revise the Privacy Policy at any time without any prior notice. It is your responsibility to review the updated Privacy Policy. If you continue to use the Website post amendment / Revision of the Privacy Policy it will mean that you agree to the changed / amended Privacy Policy. Therefore, Please check this page periodically to be aware of any changes.

title: NRI Banking Products and Services, content: Bank of Baroda caters to all your banking needs. Looking to make investments? Wondering if you can get a loan? Or need to get the best digital banking services? Look no more! We have all these facilities and much more to offer. Get started with your first class banking experience, only at Bank of Baroda.

title: Purchase of Trade Finance Assets

, content: Purchase of trade finance loan / portfolio of other banks from secondary market. Banks are extending trade finance to its customers by way of Bills discounting, suppliers credit, Trade credit, Banker Acceptance and other trade lines such as issuance and confirmation of Letter of Credit, advance payment guarantees etc.

After extending the trade finance under the LC of obligor bank or extending trade loans to obligor bank sometimes these banks (seller Bank) approach other purchaser banks for participation in these transactions and float these transactions to buyer bank under risk participation. For undertaking such type of transaction it is mandatory that a Master Risk Participation Agreement is signed between seller bank and purchaser bank.

The refinancing rates/interest rate depends on the maturity period of the assets and the quality of the assets. The purchaser bank, after completing the due diligence of the underlying transaction, extends finance support at a mutually agreed rate based on the size and tenor of the transaction.

On the due date, the Obligor Bank remits the amount along with interest to Seller Bank and seller bank will remit the participated amount along with interest to purchaser bank.

The rate of interest proposed to be charged should be competitive depending upon the prevalent market conditions, branch's cost of funds, amount and tenor of the loan etc.

title: Leave a Comment, content: Thanks for submitting your details.

title: Rapid Funds2India : Features, content: Easy and hassle-free Easy and hassle-free money transfer service to India from our branches.

Instant credit

Instant credit to beneficiary's account with Bank of Baroda's interconnected branches in India under the core banking solution (CBS) network within 24 hours credit to the beneficiary's account with approximately 26,000 NEFT/RTGS branches of other banks.

No limits

No minimum or maximum amount for transfer to a Bank of Baroda branch and to branches of other Banks through NEFT. The minimum amount for an RTGS transaction is Rs. 2,00,000.

Confirmation of credit

Confirmation of credit to the remitter through overseas branch.

Free remittance

Free remittance in case both the remitter and beneficiary have an account with us.

Having an account is not mandatory

Neither the remitter nor the beneficiary need to have an account with Bank of Baroda.

title: Can I avail a home loan from Bank of Baroda?, content: Yes, you can avail a home loan from Bank of Baroda, if you plan to construct or purchase a house/flat or extend your existing house/flat and, you are:

A minimum of 21 years

Employed or self-employed with a regular income.

title: What is the average tenure of a home loan?, content: We grant term up to a maximum of 30 years. The term for the loan will under no circumstances exceed the age of retirement or completion of 65 years of age, whichever is earlier.

title: Who can be co-applicant?, content: The proposed owners of the residential accommodation as per the agreement for sale, in respect of which financial assistance is sought, must be co-applicants. Usually, joint applications are from husband-wife, father-son or mother-son, etc.

title: How much does Bank of Baroda lend?, content: Loan amount is determined on the basis of the repaying capacity of the applicant/s. Repaying capacity takes into consideration factors such as age, income, dependents, assets, liabilities, stability of occupation and continuity of income, savings, etc.

The maximum loan would be Rs.10 crores per unit to any individual applicant based on the area where the property is proposed to be constructed/purchased. We will extend a loan of up to 90% (for newly constructed houses/flat) of the cost of property under our Housing Loan Scheme.

title: For how long a period can I get the loan?, content: We grant a term up to a maximum of 30 years. The term for the loan will under no circumstances exceed the age of retirement or completion of 65 years of age, whichever is earlier.

title: But can I prepay the loan ahead of schedule?, content: Yes, you have the option to prepay the loan ahead of schedule either in parts or in full from your own sources.

title: What is the mode of repayment?, content: Equated Monthly Instalment (EMI): It means a uniform lumpsum amount, which includes repayment of a part of the principal amount and payment of interest, calculated on daily product basis. or title: What is the security for the loan?, content: The security for the loan is an equitable mortgage of the property to be financed. The security for the loan is equitable mortgage of the property to be financed.

Fixing the monthly/quarterly instalments on the graduated basis is permitted of EMI as requested by customers.

title: What are the supporting documents required while applying for the loan?, content: Common requirements for all applicants.

Application form duly filled in (with a photograph of all the applicant).

Residence and age verification, which may be established from the PAN Card, Election ID, Passport, Drivers Licence and Ration Card, etc.

Copy of approved plan and sanction letter from local civic authority.

Copy of NA permission.

One/two guarantor/s form/s and salary certificates: If a guarantor is in business, copies of I.T. returns or assessment orders for the last three years are required.

Bank passbook of statements for the last two years.

Latest salary slip/statement showing all deductions in case of employed applicants.

Certified copies of Balance Sheets and Profit and Loss accounts, IT

acknowledgments, advance tax challans (for both company/firm and personal account) for the last three years in case of self-employed applicants. Memorandum/articles of association for companies, partnership deeds for firms and a brief profile of your company/firm in case of self-employed applicants. Additional requirement.

In case of purchase from builder

Copy of agreement for sale.

Copy of registration receipt.

Copy of sanctioned plan & sanction letter of the competent authorities.

Copy of NA permission/ULC order.

Copies of receipts of payments already made.

NOC from builders in our format.

In case of direct allotment in a Co-operative Housing Society

Allotment letter.

Share certificate. Society registration certificate.

Copy of sale/lease deed in favour of the society.

NOC from society in our format.

Possession letter in original.

In case of resale:

Copy of all the previous vendors' agreements duly stamped and registered and the registration receipts. (original to be given before disbursement).

NOC from society/builder in our format.

Original share certificate.

title: Whether you have any housing loan products for NRIs?, content: Yes. We have housing loan products for NRIs/PIOs. For details, please visit our website at Housing Loans to NRIs /PIOs title: New Credit Card Billing Rules, content: Per the RBI notification, the new guidelines for credit card billing are as follows: • No delay in dispatching the credit card statement "The card issuing company must send the credit card bills and statements via mail or email on time. There should be no delay. The card issuer must provide adequate time to cardholders to make the payment before the card issuer charges interest. RBI states that cardholders must get at least one fortnight to pay the credit card bill. To make sure the cardholder receives the bill on time, the card issuing company can send the credit card statements through the internet banking or mobile banking, provided the cardholder gives their explicit consent."

- Addressing wrong bills within 30 days The card issuer should not raise wrong bills. If a cardholder raises queries for any transaction, the card issuer must address the queries and provide documentary evidence within 30 days of the date of the query raised.

- Modification of the billing cycle per cardholder's preference There is no standard billing cycle for the credit cards issued. Therefore, in line with the new guidelines for credit card, card issuers must provide cardholders with the option to change their billing cycle according to the cardholder's convenience.

- Zero charges for disputed transactions If the cardholder has disputed a transaction as 'fraud', the card issuer must not levy any charges on such transactions until they are resolved.

- Reversed transactions to be adjusted against payment due "The new credit card rules state that if the card issuer has yet to credit any refund or failed transaction amounts, and the cardholder has not made the credit card bill payment, the card issuer should adjust the pending credit amount against the payment

due. The same must be notified to the cardholder."

title: Key Highlights, content: Card issuers are financial institutions that are authorized by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) to issue credit cards. They can be banks or non-banking financial institutions (NBFCs), Among other things, credit card issuers set credit limits and interest rates and offer several card benefits. Based on card usage, the card issuer can increase your credit limit and offer loans as well.

title: Frequently Asked Questions, content: Card issuers are financial institutions that are authorized by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) to issue credit cards. They can be banks or non-banking financial institutions (NBFCs), Among other things, credit card issuers set credit limits and interest rates and offer several card benefits. Based on card usage, the card issuer can increase your credit limit and offer loans as well.

title: What are credit card issuers?, content: Card issuers are financial institutions that are authorized by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) to issue credit cards. They can be banks or non-banking financial institutions (NBFCs), Among other things, credit card issuers set credit limits and interest rates and offer several card benefits. Based on card usage, the card issuer can increase your credit limit and offer loans as well.

title: There seems to be a fraudulent transaction on my credit card bill. What should I do?, content: If you find a suspicious transaction, contact your card issuer immediately. Wait until the grievance is resolved to make the card payment. The card issuer cannot charge you for fraudulent transactions.

title: What are the Different Types of Credit Cards?, content: Card issuers can issue the following credit card types:

title: What are the Types of Credit Card Charges?, content: Following are the common credit card charges you may see on your credit card bill:

title: Get Your Bank of Baroda Credit Card, content: Bank of Baroda offers a host of credit cards you can choose from. You can enjoy exclusive offers and rewards with your credit card transactions. Click here to get started. Call our toll-free number 1800 5700 or contact your relationship manager to know about credit card offers.

title: How is the Recurring Deposit (RD) calculated?, content: Similar to a fixed deposit, a recurring deposit (RD) is a type of savings instrument. An RD, on the other hand, requires monthly deposits, whereas a fixed deposit only requires a single investment. Like a fixed deposit, you can earn regular returns with a recurring deposit. Manual RD return calculation is possible, but it can be challenging. This is when an RD calculator can be of immense help.

title: How to use a Recurring Deposit (RD) calculator?, content: For instance, when you use the Bank of Baroda Recurring Deposit Calculator, you must enter your monthly deposit amount and tenure (in years and months). Once you do so, the calculator will show you your total savings and interest earned within seconds.

You will also get a graphical representation of your recurring deposit for better understanding.

title: How to calculate the Recurring Deposit (RD) maturity amount?, content: If you want to calculate the maturity amount you receive via a Recurring Deposit, you can apply the following formula:

$$A = P \cdot (1 + R/N)^{Nt}$$
,
wherein,

A is the maturity amount

P is the monthly deposit

R is the rate of interest

N is the compounding frequency

(number of quarters since RD interest is compounded quarterly)

t is tenure

You can fill in the variables in this formula to calculate the RD maturity amount.

title: How to calculate Recurring Deposit interest?, content: It is a compound formula that calculates the interest on RD. The formula goes like this:

$$M = R \left[ \frac{(1+i)^n - 1}{i} \right]$$

Where:

R is the monthly RD instalment

n is the number of quarters (tenure)
I is the rate of Interest/ 400
Where M is the maturity value of the RD title: What is the minimum monthly instalment amount needed to invest in a bank RD?

, content: Yes, fixed deposit accounts do earn interest every month. You can select how you would like to receive payouts in addition to the Fixed Deposit's terms, such as the tenure and investment amount. You can typically choose between receiving payouts annually, semi-annually, quarterly, or monthly with FDs. To receive interest each month, choose the option for a monthly payout.

title: Will I have to pay a penalty if there is a delay in the monthly deposit?

, content: Yes, there is a penalty if you don't pay the required monthly deposit on time for your RD. Your bank's policies will determine the fine assessed and the related guidelines. Thus, it is better to check your bank's terms and conditions for the same.

For instance, Bank of Baroda charges Rs 1.00 for every Rs 100 pm for any period of deposit if you miss the deadline for your RD deposit.

Note: If the instalment payment is made in the following month, there shouldn't be any penalties.

title: Is the interest that is generated from the RD account taxable?

, content: Interest earned via RDs is taxable according to the tax slab that you fall in.

The rate of TDS is as mentioned below:

Nature	Rate of TDS	When TDS is applicable
Payment to a resident depositor who has furnished his PAN to our Bank	10%	If total interest paid/credited to the Customer exceeds Rs.40, 000 /- during a financial year and in the case of Senior Citizens if interest paid/credited exceeds Rs. 50,000.
Payment to a resident depositor who has not furnished his PAN to our Bank	20%

title: Mind Bridge, content: Canadian startup Mind Bridge creates a financial data analytics platform for auditing, based on AI and machine learning. It leverages accounting data and incorporates domain expertise to detect mistakes and anomalies, spot potential risks and investigate specific cases with built-in natural language processing (NLP) search to help banks and financial institutions resolve issues encountered during regulatory compliance.

title: Mind Bridge, content: Singapore-based startup Dathena utilizes AI to arrange a suite of regulatory data safeguarding tools for the financial, healthcare, travel and retail industries. This suite allows enterprises to organize their data repositories, manage secure access to files, classify data by importance and confidentiality, automate data protection policies implementation and ensure data security.

title: Dathena, content: Banks and financial organizations are obliged to cope with government norms and to regularly create and submit corresponding regulatory reports. Israeli startup Cappitech provides a regulatory reporting platform, Capptivate, for FinTechs. The solution automates data transfer, as well as report creation and submission. Besides, it validates given information and reformats it in accordance with regulatory requirements, monitors the reporting status and provides feedback on past reports.

title: Cappitech, content: Chile-based startup Ceptinel has developed a real-time regulatory monitoring system for financial companies. As government laws, regulations and procedures tend to change over time, established companies and FinTechs alike need to stay aware of any pending requirements, modifications in norms, or new state guidelines related to their business. It applies machine learning and complex event processing algorithms to treat large amounts of data coming from various sources to ensure compliance with new regulatory requirements.

solutions, expect to see insurers double down on successful partnerships and explore new ones.&nbsp;Credits : Akhil Handa Aparna Anand

title: Road Network Management with AI, content: Dear Reader, &nbsp;The lack of road safety in India is increasingly becoming a matter of major concern. According to National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) data, India recorded around 4.3 lakh road accidents in 2019, which took the lives of 1.5 lakh people. Poor road infrastructure, encroachment, and increasing number of vehicles have contributed to the high number of road hazards in the country. The solution seems clear: real-time road monitoring and information collation about road infrastructure.&nbsp;New Delhi-based deep tech startup Nayan India Science and Technologies has developed a road safety and traffic monitoring solution that uses a camera, computer vision and artificial intelligence. The application constantly monitors roads, infrastructure, and traffic violation. The AI Powered algorithms analyse the video feeds and alert in case of violations, defects or dangers on the road.&nbsp;The B2B SaaS startup works with road transport authorities, insurance companies, private aggregators, public transportation fleets etc. to provide real world, last-mile analytics to better revenue channels.&nbsp;RoadMetrics is an AI-based solution that uses image and sensor data obtained from a simple smartphone to classify road defects, signs, traffic signals, street lights, etc. This road and street-level data helps enterprise mapping firms and smart city bodies with analytics on road networks and a better mapping experience. The data is sold through the API model as well as on a per km basis, depending on the geography for Smart Cities.&nbsp;Swedish start-up, Mapillary, acquired by Facebook, is the street-level imagery platform that scales and automates mapping using collaboration, cameras and computer vision. Mapillary's tools enable anyone to collect, share, and use street-level images which are combined for improving the city maps.&nbsp;US based RoadBotics automated inspections and generated actionable data about road networks, including identification of individual distresses like potholes and alligator cracks. Their detailed maps, unbiased ratings, and practical tools save time and taxpayer dollars for hundreds of communities across the country and around the world.&nbsp;As per IBEF ORG, India has the second-largest road network in the world, spanning a total of 5.89 million kilometres (kms). This road network transports 64.5% of all goods in the country and 90% of India's total passenger traffic uses road network to commute. Road transportation has gradually increased over the years with improvement in connectivity between cities, towns and villages in the country. In India, sale of automobiles and movement of freight by roads is growing at a rapid rate. The startups are focused in solving road network issues by using India's main asset - its huge population.&nbsp;Credits : Akhil Handa Manisha Gawle title: What is RegTech?, content: Regulatory Technology refers to the use of innovative technologies to facilitate and automate regulatory compliance processes. It encompasses a wide range of tools, including artificial intelligence (AI), machine learning (ML), data analytics, blockchain, and cloud computing, among others. These technologies enable companies to effectively address regulatory requirements, monitor risks, and ensure adherence to relevant laws and regulations.

title: The Need for RegTech:, content: The regulatory landscape has witnessed a substantial increase in complexity over the past decade. Factors such as globalization, technological advancements, and changing regulatory frameworks have made compliance a significant challenge for organizations. RegTech offers advanced solutions to navigate the intricacies of compliance effectively.

title: Key Benefits of RegTech:, content: Enhanced Efficiency: RegTech solutions automate various compliance tasks, eliminating the need for time-consuming manual processes. By leveraging technologies such as artificial intelligence (AI), machine learning (ML), and natural language processing (NLP), RegTech streamlines data collection, analysis, and reporting, enabling organizations to allocate resources more efficiently.with up-to-date insights into compliance activities.

title: Enhanced Efficiency:, content: Cost Savings: RegTech solutions optimize workflows and streamline processes, leading to cost savings and improved resource allocation.

title: Rendezvous with Metaverse (in India)
, content: Dear Reader,

In the recent years, Metaverse has moved from being a niche topic of interest for tech enthusiasts to hit the fancy of mainstream population. For the uninitiated, Metaverse is an immersive virtual world that is facilitated by the use of virtual reality and augmented reality technologies. Bloomberg Intelligence estimates that global Metaverse revenue opportunities will reach $800 billion in 2024, compared to $500 billion in 2020.

India being no stranger to accelerating development and growth by leapfrogging to new technologies is perfectly poised to play an important role in building and adopting Metaverse. According to a report by DappRadar, a business that measures user behaviour across blockchain projects, India is placed fifth in terms of interest in metaverse projects, trailing only the United States, Indonesia, Japan, and the Philippines. The immersive world is ripe for exploration and provide unlimited opportunities for new business models and in India, companies are racing to gain the first-mover advantage.

A number of events companies have jumped at the possibility of such a platform and in January 2022, Somnium Space, an Ethereum based 3D virtual platform, hosted a metaverse concert by an Indian event agency, Cryptic Entertainments. Since then, India has seen Metaverse weddings as well.

Earlier this year IPL team Lucknow Super Giants launched itself into the metaverse with the help of Gigabyte Technology where Fans could meet and greet avatars of their cricketing idols and get a glimpse of Lucknow's heritage.

Lately, Wiztales announced the launch of their Metaverse 'Altyug' which is an E-commerce and Events Metaverse platform. Their platform allows users to experience shopping, 2D hypercasual gaming, intuitive interactions with individuals on the same platform and an option to explore multiple, immersive and futuristic events and venues.

Also, Flipkart recently launched Flipkart Labs, an in-house innovation capability to explore metaverse commerce, NFT-related use cases, virtual immersive stores etc.

Not limited to events and ecommerce, Rivaah by Tanishq, a wedding jewelry focussed sub brand from the house of Tanishq, launched its Polki collection in a virtual press conference hosted on the Metaverse platform. In the automobile sector, Maruti Suzuki India has unveiled the Grand Vitara on NEXAverse, its metaverse initiative.

Gartner has predicted that 25% of the global population is expected to spend at least an hour every day in the Metaverse by 2026. Against this backdrop, it will interesting to see how Metaverse in India evolves with so many new happening already happening.

Highlights of #Issue 10 of FinTalk are:

Home grown StartUp Stories: D'leaps - One Stop Solution for your Interiors Tiger Global backs Jodo's vision for India's education payments
Indian fintech market to achieve $1 trillion AUM by 2030: Report
New RBI rules: Safety net for borrowers of digital loans via online platforms India leads the world in real-time digital payments, says PM Modi
With Regards,

Akhil Handa

Chief Digital Officer

Bank of Baroda

title: How does the gold loan repayment work?, content: Borrowers can pledge their gold as collateral and borrow the principal amount based on the gold's purity, weight, and current market rate. The interest rate and the tenure vary from lender to lender. Borrowers can opt for a repayment method that best suits their circumstances. The different ways to repay the gold loan include paying the principal amount and interest amount equally in monthly instalments, paying the interest amount as EMIs and paying the principal amount at the end of tenure, making partial repayments based on fund availability throughout the tenure, and bullet repayment. Borrowers must follow the processes involved in the repayment method they choose. They can then take the pledged gold back from the lender at the end of the loan term.

title: Also Read:, content: Different procedures through which gold loan repayment can be carried out involve EMIs, bullet repayment, and partial repayments & foreclosure. Through the EMI option, you can repay the gold loan by paying EMIs to the lender for the predetermined tenure, you can also check your EMI using our gold loan EMI calculator. In the bullet repayment option, you can submit the principal and interest amount at once at the end of the loan tenure. You can also make partial repayments as per the availability of funds and pay the entire principal and interest amount before the end of the tenure. In this case, you can foreclose the loan and take back the pledged gold before the loan tenure ends.

title: Know your gold loan repayment period, content: The gold loan repayment period is usually short term. Maximum period is up to 12 months and 36 months for EMI scheme. Selecting the repayment period is important, as the interest amount increases with a longer tenure.

title: What are the best ways to repay your gold loan?, content: Following are the best ways for gold loan repayment:1. Pay interest amount as EMI and principal amount at the end "In this option, you can pay the interest amount through the schedule of EMI provided by the lender. The principal amount can be paid in a single payment at the end of the loan tenure. Borrowers prefer this option as they do not need to worry about paying the principal throughout the tenure."

2. Pay principal and interest amount as regular EMI during the tenure "This option works best for people with fixed monthly incomes. The EMI includes the principal and interest amount. This option works like most home or car loans in which borrowers pay a part of the total principal and interest amount every month as EMI throughout the tenure."

3. Bullet repayment "In this gold loan repayment option, a borrower needs to pay the entire principal and interest amount at the end of the loan tenure. Borrowers do not need to worry about following an EMI schedule or making partial payments throughout the tenure. Though the gold loan interest rate is calculated for each month of the entire tenure, the total principal and interest amount are payable at the end of the tenure in a single payment. So, it is known as bullet repayment."

4. Partial payments and foreclosure "Making partial payments and paying the entire principal and interest amount before the tenure is favorable for borrowers in two ways. They can repay the gold loan as per the availability of funds. Having no fixed EMI schedule gives borrowers some flexibility.

Moreover, if the entire loan is paid off before the end of the tenure, borrowers can save considerably as the interest amount for the remaining tenure will be waived off. Paying the entire principal and interest amount before the end of the tenure and closing the loan is known as foreclosure. This option is suitable if borrowers wish to save the interest amount and claim the pledged gold at the earliest."

title: Also Check:, content: A gold loan will always remain one of the most preferred ways to borrow owing to fast loan approval, minimal documentation, multiple repayment options, and other gold loan benefits.

Borrowers should compare interest rates and tenure options before deciding on a loan type. They also need to study various repayment methods and their financial situations to determine the best way of loan repayment.

title: How Does Gold Loan Affect Your CIBIL Score?, content: Gold is one of the most common options for secured loans among Indians. With a gold loan, you can borrow money at a reasonable interest rate in exchange for the gold you provide.
title: What Are the Gold Loan Eligibility Criteria?, content: Data revealed by the World Gold Council showed that Indian gold consumption increased by 78% in 2021 to 797.3 tonnes. In India, gold's financial value is accompanied by a deep sentimental connection as Indians purchase gold on numerous auspicious occasions.

title: Resident Foreign Currency A/C - for NRIs returning to India for settling in India : Benefits, content: Amounts in RFC accounts are deemed to be freely repatriable for the bona-fide purposes of the NRI.
No permission of Reserve Bank is required for opening or transferring RFC funds abroad.
RFC funds can be freely drawn in Indian Rupees for use locally.
For going abroad again, an NRI can freely use this money and also have the accounts re-designated as FCNR and NRE accounts just as they were before 'return to India'.

title: Resident Foreign Currency A/C - for NRIs returning to India for settling in India, content: Bank of Baroda offers remunerative deposits for NRIs returning to India with the intention of permanently settling down here. All your existing repatriable accounts will be renamed as RFC accounts. These accounts are maintained in US Dollars, GBP, EURO and AUD denomination title: Purchase of immovable property Applicability of Section 194IA, content: "Section 194IA, a newly inserted section, mandates a person to deduct Tax at Source (TDS) at 1% while paying consideration for buying any Immovable property other than rural agricultural land in India to any resident seller/builder.

The said provisions are applicable where the transaction value is more than Rs. 50 lakhs. Also, the given provisions have become a concern while buying and paying any amount for underdeveloped plot or under construction apartment/villa, etc., from builders. This amendment has taken effect from 1st June, 2013.

Further in case if the builder does not provide Permanent Account Number (PAN) to the buyer, then the buyer has to deduct TDS at higher rate i.e. at the rate of 20%."

title: RFC Domestic Account GCO for Resident Indians : Overview, content: This deposit plan is ideal for utilising foreign exchange acquired on account of:

A visit to any place outside India by way of payment for services not arising from any business or similar service in India.
Receipt of honorarium or gift or for services rendered or of settlement of any lawful obligation from any person not resident in India and who is on a visit to India.
Receipt of honorarium or gift while on a visit to any place outside India.
Unspent amount of foreign exchange acquired by him from an authorised person for travel abroad.

title: RFC Domestic Account GCO for Resident Indians : Benefits, content: Avail free cheque book facility.
Instant credit against currency notes.
Instant credit against traveller's cheque.
Provision for nomination.
Enjoy a limitless balance.
title: RFC Domestic Account GCO for Resident Indians : Most Important Terms and Conditions (MITC)

, content: Only a current account can be opened.
A minimum balance of USD 500 or equivalent is mandatory.
Deposits can be used for all purposes permissible under foreign exchange regulations for resident Indians.

title: Banking Mantra, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life
title: Nayan India Science and Technologies, content: RoadMetrics is an AI-based solution that uses image and sensor data obtained from a simple smartphone to classify road defects, signs, traffic signals, street lights, etc. This road and street-level data helps enterprise mapping firms and smart city bodies with analytics on road networks and a better mapping experience. The data is sold through the API model as well as on a per km basis, depending on the geography for Smart Cities.

title: RoadMetrics, content: Swedish start-up, Mapillary, acquired by Facebook, is the street-level imagery platform that scales and automates mapping using collaboration, cameras and computer vision. Mapillary's tools enable anyone to collect, share, and use street-level images which are combined for improving the city maps.

title: Mapillary, content: US based RoadBotics automated inspections and generated actionable data about road networks, including identification of individual distresses like potholes and alligator cracks. Their detailed maps, unbiased ratings, and practical tools save time and taxpayer dollars for hundreds of communities across the country and around the world.

title: RoadBotics, content: As per IBEF ORG, India has the second-largest road network in the world, spanning a total of 5.89 million kilometres (kms). This road network transports 64.5% of all goods in the country and 90% of India's total passenger traffic uses road network to commute. Road transportation has gradually increased over the years with improvement in connectivity between cities, towns and villages in the country. In India, sale of automobiles and movement of freight by roads is growing at a rapid rate. The startups are focused in solving road network issues by using India's main asset - its huge population.

title: Credits :, content: The contents of this article/infographic/picture/video are meant solely for information purposes and do not necessarily reflect the views of Bank of Baroda. The contents are generic in nature and for informational purposes only. It is not a substitute for specific advice in your own circumstances. Bank of Baroda and/ or its Affiliates and its subsidiaries make no representation as to the accuracy; completeness or reliability of any information contained herein or otherwise provided and hereby disclaim any liability with regard to the same. The information is subject to updation, completion, revision, verification and amendment and the same may change materially. The information is not intended for distribution or use by any person in any jurisdiction where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject Bank of Baroda or its affiliates to any licensing or registration requirements. Bank of Baroda shall not be responsible for any direct/indirect loss or liability incurred by the reader for taking any financial decisions based on the contents and information mentioned. Please consult your financial advisor before making any financial decision.

title: RegTech, content: Dear Reader, RegTech is the management of regulatory processes within the financial industry through technology. Regtech automates regulatory processes and ensures compliance with regulations. It uses technology to support the ongoing monitoring of regulations and facilitates necessary reporting. Regtech also creates transparency and consistency, as well as substantially increases the quality of risk management and compliance. Another advantage is greater security arising from the continuous monitoring of processes. Banks and financial companies have to act in accordance with many regulatory requirements. The UK-based startup REGnosys offers a regulatory technology compliance platform, called Rosetta. It aims at facilitating the implementation of the Common Domain Model (CDM) for financial sector players with programmatically enforced compliance mechanisms. The solution saves costs and risks based on a specific rule-based operational lifecycle design. Canadian startup Mind Bridge creates a financial data analytics platform for auditing, based on AI and machine learning. It leverages accounting data and incorporates domain expertise to detect mistakes and anomalies, spot potential risks and investigate specific cases with built-in natural language processing (NLP) search to help banks and financial institutions resolve issues encountered during regulatory compliance. Singapore-based startup Dathena utilizes AI to arrange a suite of regulatory data safeguarding tools for the financial, healthcare, travel and retail industries. This suite allows enterprises to organize their data repositories, manage secure access to files, classify data by importance and confidentiality, automate data protection policies implementation and ensure data security. Banks and financial organizations are obliged to cope with government norms and to regularly create and submit corresponding regulatory reports. Israeli startup Cappitech provides a regulatory reporting platform, Capptivate, for FinTechs. The solution automates data transfer, as well as report creation and submission. Besides, it validates given information and reformat it in accordance with regulatory requirements, monitors the reporting status and provides feedback on past reports. Chile-based startup Ceptinel has developed a real-time regulatory monitoring system for financial companies. As government laws, regulations and procedures tend to change over time, established companies and FinTechs alike need to stay aware of any pending requirements, modifications in norms, or new state guidelines related to their business. It applies machine learning and complex event processing algorithms to treat large amounts of data coming from various sources to ensure compliance with new regulatory requirements. Regtech increases effectiveness, efficiency, security and transparency for all market participants, enabling them to focus on their core competence, safe in the knowledge that they are operating in accordance with the legal and regulatory requirements. Credits : Akhil Handa, Manisha Gawle title: Smart Farming, content: Dear Reader, Smart farming can be referred to as the 4.0 green revolution in the field of agriculture combining agriculture methodologies with technology – Sensors & Actuators, Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Internet of Things (IoT), Robotics and Drones to achieve desired efficiencies of production which are sustainable. According to a survey, 80% of farmers in US and 24% farmers in UK have already started using Smart Farming Tool (SFT). These numbers are cognizant of the fact that SFTs are adding value to the farming ecosystem. As far as the scale of operations is considered, Smart farming tools and techniques can be applied to large scale and on the other hand distributed conventional farming can be applied to focused small farming set of organic farms. Through remote sensing, smart farming system reduces waste, improves productivity and enables optimum resource management. For the benefit of micro farming, multiple crops are grown simultaneously on remote lands which require different care, manure, soil and water. By linking local sensors to smart irrigation and control, things like sensing pH balance of the soil, gauging local temperature is now possible through remote monitoring and sensing rather than walking the field all the time. This leads to increase in the yield as farmers can save on time and focus on the real issues of farming – pest control, irrigation and amending soil conditions; all using sensing and automation. Companies like Robotics Plus, a startup with USD 10 million funding from Yamaha is planning to deploy its fruit plucking robots into production, while Ecorobotix with their Weed Zapping Robots have gained considerable momentum owing to the growth in Smart farming techniques. Precision farming system has a lot of dependency on the software management systems. Control systems manage sensory input, delivering remote data for supply and decision support, as well as automation of machines. Basically, it is a standardized business approach balancing the demand and supply side with respect to resource management. During production, it is mostly resource management from a growth and yield perspective. For instance, precision seeding uses automated tractors to reduce seed loss and seeding with proper space management between different plants. Another example is of precision water delivery. On the demand side, it is about demand forecasting and delivering goods just in time to reduce waste. India has always been an agrarian state, and traditional farming methods are manual and too labour intensive. Smart Farming can also provide great benefits in terms of environmental issues, for example, through more efficient use of water and optimisation of treatments and inputs. Credits : Akhil Handa Clint James title: RLFCDBenefits, content: This information is generic in nature and is for illustration purpose only. Kindly read all terms & condition prior investing. Please contact your Branch or Relationship Manager to confirm the yield before actual placement of funds.

title: Rupee Linked Foreign Currency Deposit Scheme for NRIs : Features , content: Forward contract can be booked on maturity amount. Product: Rupee linked foreign currency deposit for NRI. Eligibility: Non-resident Indians.

Period: 12, 24 and 36 months.

Rate of Interest: As applicable for FCNR (B) Scheme from time to time.

Pre-mature repayment: Permitted, but no interest shall be payable in case deposit has remained with bank for less than 12 months. The deposit receipt needs to be signed by all the depositors irrespective of the operational instructions "either or survivor", or "anyone of the survivor/survivors."

In case of premature payment, besides loss of interest, forward contract has to be cancelled and exchange loss or gain between exchange rate (on the date of repayment) and forward exchange rate (quoted at the time of placement of deposit) shall be passed on to the NRI customer.

Account Opening form: Existing NRE term deposit/FCNR application plus undertaking. Also available on Bank's website.

Expected yields: Depends on forward premium between two set of currencies.

Minimum Amount: Minimum USD 10,000 or its equivalent in any convertible currency including INR equivalent. The deposit receipt shall be issued in any of denominated foreign currencies i.e. USD, GBP, EUR and AUD. Source of funds - either from existing NRE/FCNR account or fresh inward remittance from abroad through normal banking channel.

title: What are important sites to check new updates on subsidy and Agri related activities ?, content: Important links

Ministry of Agriculture & Farmers Welfare - <http://agriculture.gov.in/>

National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development - <https://www.nabard.org>

National Horticulture Board - <http://nhb.gov.in> Department of Animal Husbandry Dairying and Fisheries - <http://dahd.nic.in/> Departments of Agriculture of states and Union Territories -

<https://agricoop.nic.in/>

Farmers' Portal of India by Department of Agriculture and Cooperation -

<https://farmer.gov.in/>

title: How can I apply for Agri Loans ?, content: You can avail Agri Loans by visiting your nearest Bank of Baroda Branch or any of the BOB's Business Correspondent (BC) working in your area. To explore our Branch network, click the URL

Our Bank has also developed various alternative channels to help interested parties to register interest for agri loans. Below are the alternate channels to apply for agri loans:

Access Apply Now tab in Rural and Agri Banking page in our Bank's Website

Directly apply through URL: <https://bobcrm.bankofbaroda.co.in/agriloads>

Access 'Agri Loans' tab in Baroda Kisan platform using URL :

<https://kisan.bankofbaroda.com>

title: Whether any credit guarantee is available for availing loans ?

, content: Credit guarantee facilities are offered by various agencies to avail loan for different Agri and allied activities like SFAC offer Credit guarantee to FPCs, CGTMSE to food & agro based units, CGFMU for SHG, NCDC to Cooperatives availing loan for Agri Purposes, NABARD to NBFCs and MFIs etc. To avail credit guarantee from these agencies, the borrower should comply with the eligibility criteria as specified in the scheme document of each agencies title: Whether total project cost is financed by Bank under agriculture ?,

content: Bank finances Agriculture Loan based on the financial viability and technical feasibility of the project. However, based on the type of loan, borrower has to contribute the required margin as per the Bank Norm. The minimum margin requirement varies according to the type of project. Viz the minimum margin for KCC is Nil, Mini Dairy is 10%, Tractor Loan is 15%, for construction of farm structure is 15% etc.

title: Whether takeover of loans are allowed in BOB ?, content: Yes, takeover of loans are allowed in BOB. Decision on takeover of loans is made after scrutinizing loan applications on different Financial & Non - Financial Parameters of the borrowers title: Can women apply for Agricultural Loans ?

, content: Yes. Bank of Baroda encourages women to get engaged towards agricultural activities and hence women are eligible under all agri lending schemes of our Bank title: What is the age criteria for availing loans ?, content: You can avail subsidy under different schemes sponsored by different State Level and National Level Agencies. Availability of subsidy is subject to various factors like latest Government notification, norms laid in that, sponsoring agencies, nature of activity, location of project (State/Rural area), social categories of Applicant i.e. SC/ST/OBC/Women etc.

The sanction of subsidy is completely based on the laid down norms of the subsidy sanctioning agency
The bank has no role in terms of sanction of subsidies from respective agencies title: What are the basic documents required to avail Agriculture Loans ?

, content: Following are the documents required to avail agricultural loans:

KYC Documents (AADHAR, Voter ID, PAN Card, Driving License etc.)
Passport Size photo
Land Record
Quotation/Invoice (if available)
Project Report (if available)
IT Returns

title: What is the collateral requirement for Agricultural Loans ?, content: As per RBI norms, agriculture loans up to aggregate amount of Rs. 1.60 lakh do not require any collateral security. For loans above Rs. 1.60 lakh, the security requirements are set as per the Scheme and Bank's terms and conditions. This would vary for different schemes title: What is the repayment frequency/schedule for Agri Loans ?, content: Repayment schedule in Agri loans is based on factors like cropping pattern/cash flow of the borrower, purpose of investment, economic life of asset etc. The Repayment frequency for Agri Loans can be as Monthly/Quarterly/Half Yearly or yearly based on these factors title: What is the available loan tenure for Agri Loans ?, content: The loan tenure depends on the type of activity for which the loan is availed. The loan tenure in Agri Loans ranges from 12 months to 15 years title: What are the other charges applicable for availing a Agri Loans from BOB ?

, content: Other charges include processing, documentation, post-sanction inspection charges applicable for availing Agri loans will be as per the Bank's extant guidelines. However, there is no processing charges for aggregate exposure under agricultural finance up to Rs. 3 lakhs. To know more Click here title: What are the applicable Rate of Interest for Agri Loans ?

, content: Rate of Interest in Agriculture loans are charged as per the RBI/Bank's guidelines which are revised time to time. To know more about the current applicable Rate of Interest in Agri Loans Click here title: What is the age criteria for availing loans ?, content: Minimum age criteria for availing Agri Loans is 18 years and maximum up to 70 years as on the date of availing facility. If the age of land holder exceeds 70 years, in such case the legal heirs to be made co borrowers title: What is the eligibility criteria for Agriculture Loans ?, content: The eligibility criteria to avail loan under different Agriculture Loan schemes depends on multiple factors like location, crop grown/activity undertaken, source of irrigation, purpose of loan, value of land, credit history, techno-economic feasibility etc.

For a specific agriculture loan, one needs to contact the local branch for more information

title: Objectives of FLC

, content: To provide financial counselling services through face-to-face interaction as well as through other available media like e-mail, fax, mobile etc. as per convenience of the interested persons, including education on responsible borrowing, proactive and early savings, and offering debt counselling to individuals who are indebted to formal and/or informal financial sectors;

To educate the people in rural and urban areas with regard to various financial products and services available from the formal financial sector;

To make the people aware of the advantages of being connected with the formal financial sector;

To formulate debt restructuring plans for borrowers in distress and will advice the beneficiary to submit the same to formal financial institutions, including co-operatives for consideration ;

To take up any such activity that promotes financial literacy, awareness of the banking services, financial planning and amelioration of debt-related distress of an individual.

title: What is a Salary Account?

, content: A Salary Account is a dedicated account where your employer deposits your monthly income or salary. Companies and corporations typically tie-up with banks to open Salary Accounts for their employees.

title: What is a Savings Account?

, content: A Savings Account is one in which you can deposit money to build your savings. You can use this account to manage your day to day finances. Savings Accounts can be of various types, and a Salary Account is also considered a type of Savings Account.

title: Salary Account vs Savings Account – Comparing the Differences, content: The following are the differences between Salary Account and Savings Account.

- Minimum Balance Requirements

You can withdraw all the funds from the salary account, which is why it is also known as a zero balance account. However, with Savings Accounts, you must maintain the minimum average balance required by the bank. This amount differs from bank to bank.

- Account Holding and Operation Status

Employers open Salary Accounts for their employees, and the account is held and operated on an individual basis. As for Savings Account, you can open the account on an individual or joint basis and operate it jointly as well.

- Eligibility Criteria

You need to be employed with an organisation to open a Salary account and qualify for the benefits that go with it. However, there are no specific eligibility criteria to open a Savings Account. Anyone who can provide the necessary documents required by the bank can open this account.

- Account Conversion

Banks will automatically convert your Salary Account to a Regular Savings Account if no salary has been credited into it for three consecutive months. On the other hand, if you have a Savings Account with the same bank with which your employer has a banking relationship, you can convert the Savings Account to a Salary Account.

- Choice of Bank

Since companies have tie-ups with banks, their employees do not get to choose their preferred bank for Salary Accounts. Conversely, when you open a Savings Account, you can do so in your preferred bank after assessing their average balance requirements, interest offered on savings, and other critical parameters.

title: Similarities Between a Savings Account and a Salary Accounts
, content: The common attributes between Salary and Savings Accounts are as follows.

You can earn interest income on both Salary and Savings Accounts deposits. Banks provide you with chequebooks, passbooks and debit cards with both accounts.

You can access both accounts remotely using services like internet and mobile banking.

You can efficiently conduct online fund transfers via NEFT, IMPS, RTGS, UPI payments and wallets, etc., from both accounts.

You can just as easily receive payments from anyone into both accounts.

Banks provide SMS alerts and notifications for all transactions conducted on both accounts.

You can utilise all the banking facilities such as loan applications, opening fixed deposits or recurring deposits, making investments, checking account balances, etc., with both Savings and Salary Accounts.

title: Account Opening and Interest Rates

, content: In most cases, a bank representative visits your office to open your Salary Account. You only need to provide a copy of your PAN, ID, and address proof document, along with your photographs. The bank representative hands over an instant account-opening kit with the cheque book, passbook, debit card, and internet banking information. If you wish, you may apply for a personalised debit with your name embossed on it.

Unlike Salary Accounts, banks allow you to open a Savings Account online from the comfort of your home. You simply need to visit your preferred bank's website, fill out an online form and submit scanned or soft copies of your PAN, ID, and address proof documents. The bank may conduct a physical or video-KYC procedure, after which it opens your account and sends you the cheque book, passbook, debit card, and internet banking information.

Note that the interest rates for both accounts depend on the bank with which you have the account.

title: Open Your Account with Bank of Baroda

, content: Whether you wish to open a Bank of Baroda Salary Account or Savings Account, you can do so conveniently. While anyone can open a Bank of Baroda Savings Account, you must check with your employer if you can open your Salary Account with us. Enjoy attractive interest rates on your account deposits and take advantage of the incredible suite of facilities we offer to you as a Bank of Baroda customer.

title: Banking Mantra, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life

title: Official Blog of Bank of Baroda, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life title: Two Wheeler Loan, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life title: Table of Content, content: Salary accounts & pension for military personnel title: Salary accounts & pension for military personnel, content: Like all organisations, the defense services needs to pay its employees. Many banks have signed MoUs with India's Armed Forces. Military personnel can now also access all sorts of banking services usually Salary and pension accounts are zero balance accounts.

title: Benefits of salary and pension solutions for Indian military personnel, content: Let us dive deep into the various banking benefits that the Indian Army, Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard personnel can enjoy through Bank of Baroda:

title: Bank cards, content: Through these services, military personnel enjoy free debit card and credit card facilities. You pay zero annual card charges and can make unlimited free withdrawals at any of our bank's ATMs. However, the ATM cash withdrawal limit stands at Rs 50,000 per day, while the maximum Point-of-Sale (POS) purchase limit is Rs 2 lakh per day, owing to Reserve Bank of India (RBI) regulations. And the benefits don't end there. You can also enjoy discounted charges for gift and travel cards. Senior officials can enjoy exclusive features on select debit cards. Depending on your salary and eligibility criteria, you can also avail lifetime free credit card.

title: Free coverage, content: Military personnel also receive free personal accident death cover up to Rs 50 lakh, air accident insurance up to Rs 100 lakh, and disability cover between Rs 20 to Rs 40 lakh. There are additional insurance benefits which are offered such as girl child marriage cover and plastic surgery cover too. Furthermore, select debit and credit cards offer additional insurance coverage of their own.

title: Payment & transfers, content: Military personnel can make free transfers via National Electronic Fund Transfer (NEFT) or Real-Time Gross Settlement (RTGS), be it online or at the bank branch. Also, they get free demand drafts and cheque books. Bharat Interface for Money (BHIM)-integrated online facilities enable you to make instant payments.

title: Online banking, content: Mobile banking and internet banking platforms are completely free to use. Even financial products such as fixed deposits can be opened online. Military personnel can also transfer money and pay bills instantly using mobile or internet banking.

title: Loans, content: With this special account, the military personnel are eligible for overdraft facility of a maximum of Rs 3 lakh. Banks provide complete waiver of processing fees on home loans, personal loans, car loans, education loans and mortgage loans. Existing home loan customers can get a 0.25% concession on car loan rate of interest.

title: Locker facilities, content: Our Bank offers almost 50% discount on bank locker facilities. That way, military personnel can store their valuables such as jewellery, confidential documents, certificates, and so on in complete safety when away from home. The concession is applicable on the annual locker rent and the rent charges will be auto-debited from the linked salary account.

title: Investments, content: Armed Forces official can conveniently trade in equity with complete waiver on annual maintenance charges for their Demat account. They can also buy and sell multiple mutual fund units.

title: Life insurance, content: Life Insurance policies ensure that your family is financially secured in your absence. The sum paid out can be used by your loved ones to keep their home running and to meet daily expenses. A life insurance policy is especially important in single-income households.

title: Eligibility & documentation, content: The Indian army bank account benefits from Bank of Baroda are offered to personnel from:

title: What is saving and investing?, content: Saving money usually refers to a simple form of wealth accumulation, such as putting away money in a bank account or a fixed deposit. On the other hand, investing refers to the purchase of certain assets such as stocks, gold, land and so on in the hope that they will appreciate over time.

title: What is the difference between savings and investments?, content: Saving and investing are quite similar because they both help you achieve a comfortable financial future. Therefore, it is equally important that you do both. However, they are not the same."• Risk & return:" This is perhaps the most significant difference between saving and investing. Investments are subject to market risks. Hence, generally Investments may result in burgeoning returns over the long term, but also carry higher risk and volatility especially in the short term,. On the other hand, savings instruments usually offer lower yet predictable or guaranteed returns and are thus considered safer than investments.

• Objective:" Investments are usually geared for long-term goals such as your retirement, the purchase of a house or to cover the cost of your child's education. Savings can also serve these objectives. However, since they offer conservative returns, it would take much longer to build the corpus of funds required to meet these goals. Therefore, savings are better suited for short-term financial goals, such as your daily and monthly needs. A secondary objective of savings is to ensure you are financially prepared for financial emergencies as well.

"• Protection against inflation:" Since savings instruments usually offer lower levels of returns, they do not offer much protection against inflation. On the other hand, investments offer much higher returns and can help you effectively combat inflation especially from a long-term perspective.

"• Liquidity:" Investments such as gold and land offer lower levels of liquidity. Other investment instruments such as mutual funds while liquid may entail penal charges if you liquidate them before a predefined / maturity date. Savings, on the other hand, are usually highly liquid instruments. That's why they are better suited for short term financial goals and financial emergencies.

title: Investing vs saving, which is better?, content: Is investing better than saving, which is more important, should I start saving first or should I invest my money instead – these questions can seem really confusing, but the answer is simple. Both savings and investing are equally important, and you need to do both if you want to secure your financial future. Doing one without the other could lead an imbalance in your personal finances.

title: How to save effectively:, content: Saving money is easier said than done. With mounting expenses and rising inflation, setting aside money every month can seem like a daunting task. However, it is extremely important that you get into the habit of saving money, even if it means starting with small amounts. This is because small amounts saved periodically can snowball into a large amount of money over time.

title: How to invest efficiently:, content: Do your research on the various investment options and pick the ones that suit your needs best. When you do find the right investment instruments, remember to start small and build on them over time. Keep in mind that investments carry varying levels of risk and return. Therefore, it is important to diversify your investments as per your risk appetite, investment horizon and disposable income. Don't put all your eggs in one basket!

title: Complete Guide to Business Current Account, content: When you start a business, you have to set up several things. You might need to rent an office space, a shop, or set up your factory. You also need to open a bank account to manage your business transactions. However, a basic savings account may not suffice. You need an account that enables unlimited transactions, i.e., a Current Account. This article explains what a Current Account is, why it is essential for your business and the many advantages of Current Accounts.

title: Salary Account Vs Savings Account, content: A bank account is usually the first thing you need to begin your Savings journey. Indian Banks offer a wide variety of accounts wherein you can deposit money, earn interest income and build a corpus. Of these, the most common accounts are the Regular Savings Account and the Salary Account. In this article, we have compared the differences between Salary Account and Savings Account.

title: Features of Savings Account:, content: While a savings account has a lot of utility, it only earns interest at 3.5% to 6% per annum. In such a case, are there any benefits of having a savings account? The answer is yes. There are many benefits of opening a savings account. Let us consider them. Here are the benefits of having a savings account: "• Liquidity" One of the benefits of opening a savings account is that it offers you liquidity.

"• Safety of Funds" A savings bank account is a safe avenue to keep your funds rather than keeping it on hand where it is susceptible to get lost or stolen. Another important point to remember is that each account is insured by the Deposit Insurance and Credit Guarantee Corporation for up to Rs. 1 lakh.

"• Additional Earnings Because of Auto Sweep Facility" Most banks have an auto sweep facility where funds above a particular limit are automatically converted into a fixed deposit. These funds earn interest at fixed deposit rates as compared to regular savings rate. By enabling this feature, the depositor can get full benefits of keeping money in a savings account.

"• Automatic Debits for Payments" Banks allow customers to set up automatic debits for utility payments and bills. In such cases, the utility company or telecom company raises a demand with the bank and the bank automatically debits the bank account. This is a convenient way to make payments on time. When you take a loan, you can set up an auto debit facility from your savings account where the instalment will get debited from the savings bank account.

"• Auto Credits for Investment Incomes" One of the benefits of keeping money in a savings account is that it can be linked to a demat account and other investments. In such cases, the income from dividends and interest gets automatically credited to the bank account. This convenience ensures all incomes get pooled in one account.

"• Convenient Fund Transfers" It is extremely simple to make fund transfers from a savings account. There are different modes of a fund transfer which are easily available in both internet banking and mobile banking. A savings bank account holder can transfer funds using NEFT, RTGS, IMPS and UPI.

"• Joint Accounts" There are benefits of a joint savings account. Having a joint account provides greater flexibility since all the joint holders can sign cheques and operate the bank account. It makes it easy to track spends and incomes. A joint account can be maintained for household incomes and expenses which is excellent for financial planning.

title: Different Types of Savings Account, content: Savings give financial security and relieve stress. They are fundamental for a secure financial future. It is the fund that bails you out through rough times like the Pandemic. If it hadn't been for those wisely guarded pennies, people who went through layoffs or salary reductions could not have survived. Without their savings to fall back on, things would have been difficult. Saving account interest rates may have dropped but they still add 2.75 -3.35 % (subject to change) per year to your deposit. So, while we realise it is healthy to save, you should know the types of savings account that will best serve your purpose and be beneficial for your small, medium or large saving behaviour. Here's a quick checklist that will help you to make a more informed decision.

title: How To Open A Savings Account, content: A savings account is perhaps the first interaction a person has with a bank. It is the most basic of bank accounts. It offers the safety that a depositor looks for, plus interest rates and the flexibility of withdrawing money anytime and anywhere.

title: Savings account meaning, content: A savings account is a type of account in which you can park money that you wish to keep liquid for immediate expenses in the near future. You may also keep funds that you wish to spend at a later date or funds that you simply want at hand for any emergency. One of the main features of savings account is that you earn interest on the money you accumulate. While the interest paid is generally very nominal, it ensures that your liquid funds don't lie stagnant.

title: Why have a savings account?, content: There are many advantages to having a savings account."• Helps earn interest" As stated earlier, the money that you put into a savings account accumulates interest. Even though this interest is relatively lower than what you might earn from investing, it still helps by ensuring your liquid funds are not lying stagnant.

"• Provides a means of financial planning" If we were to keep all our cash on hand with us, we would most likely end up spending it. Having a savings account means you can keep your money accessible for various financial goals without facing the risk of spending it.

"• Permits easy transfer of funds" If you need to send money to anyone anywhere in the world, a savings account provides you with an easy means of doing so. You can simply use the NEFT, IMPS or UPI facility and transfer your money at a nominal cost. This way you can make important payments that you need to keep track of, such as your rent and utility bills.

"• Keeps funds safe" One of the biggest benefits of a savings account is that it keeps your money safe. It would be rather risky to keep large sums of money at home with you. A savings account provides you with a safe place to store money that you don't need to spend immediately.

"• Helps make bill payments easy" You can link up your savings account to all your bills and EMI payments so that you don't need to manually tend to your dues each month. Once you link the accounts, the money will directly get debited on the due date and ensure that you never default on payments just before you have forgotten.

"• Additional benefits" Some banks also offer savings account holders additional benefits for holding these accounts. For instance, you may get a reduction in the fees of renting a locker or even get insurance coverage free of cost on opening certain types of savings accounts. Do make it a point to check on these benefits before selecting a savings account.

title: How to open a saving account?, content: Earlier, you needed to visit a bank in person to open a savings account. You would have to fill an account opening form and submit a few documents that verified your identity. While you can still open a savings account this way, the procedure has also gone online.

title: Documents required for opening a savings account, content: Here is a quick look at the documents that are generally required to open a savings account:

title: How to make the most of your savings account?, content: Your savings account is more than just an account where you keep your money. If managed well, it can turn into one of the best tools in hand for financial planning. To help you get started on the right track, here are a few tips on how to make the most of your savings account: "• Choose the right saving account" There are many different types of savings account options available with leading banks. It is important that you understand the features of each of these so that you select the right one. For instance, if you are a senior citizen, you can opt in for a senior citizen account that offers higher rates of interest and discounts that can help you save money in your golden years.

"• Create a financial plan" Once you have chosen the right type of savings account, ensure that you create a savings plan. This way, you can determine how much money you need to put in without fail each month. You can also opt to have your salary credited directly to the account as this can help drive your savings goals.

"• Invest" You can opt in for various investment options like fixed deposits and recurring deposits to ensure that you earn more on your savings. These schemes will directly debit the money from your savings account each month.

title: Check Out These 7 Best Proven Money Saving Tips, content: We all have grown up listening to the importance of saving for a rainy day. However, things are easier said than done and saving a few hundred rupees by not eating at your favourite café will still probably not make a significant mark in the bank. So, what really is the best way to save money? Are there some tricks that can really make a difference and help you save enough cash for emergencies? If these are the questions running around in your mind right now, you have come to the right place. Let's take a look at 7 saving tips that will really make the difference for you in 2022.

title: Baroda Basic Savings Account, content: Basic Savings AccountIf you want to open a bank account where you are not required to maintain a minimum balance every month, you can open a basic savings account. Introduced to encourage more financial inclusion, in other words, have more people become part of the banking system, a basic savings account offers basic features like deposit and withdrawal, a debit card and internet banking facility. But there is no minimum balance requirement. There are some other features of a basic savings account that vary slightly from bank to bank.Benefits of a basic savings accountNo charges for not maintaining minimum balanceThe major benefit of a basic savings account is that unlike other savings accounts, you will not be fined for not maintaining minimum balance.Cheque bookThe deposit account holder will receive a 15 leaves cheque book while opening this account for no extra cost. The account holder will receive 30 cheque leaves free in a financial year.ATM-cum-debit cardYou will also get a Rupay Classic debit card free of cost that can be used to withdraw cash from ATMs or at points of sale when you make purchases.Free passbookThe passbook facility is also available to you for free on opening a basic savings deposit account.No charges for dormancyYou will not be charged for a dormant or non-operational account.Free registration for standing instructionsBasic savings deposit account holders will get a free registration for standing instructions and execution from the same branch. They will have to pay charges for any other branch within the same bank or other bank.Features of a basic savings accountAnyone can open itAnyone can open a basic savings deposit account after furnishing all the documents to complete KYC (Know Your Customer) norms. But please note, that if you open a basic banking deposit account and you already have regular savings accounts with the bank, you will have to close the regular Savings accounts within 30 days of opening the basic savings deposit account. You will also have to submit a declaration to the Bank stating that you are not maintaining any BSBD account with our/ any other Bank. Zero balance account Basic savings account is a zero balance account where you are not penalized for not maintaining a specified account balance, like the regular savings accounts. A Bank of Baroda basic savings deposit account has the following features-30 cheque leaves in a year for free. Debit cum ATM card at no cost however, annual fee will be applicable from second year onwards. Internet banking facility Four withdrawals allowed in a month for free (including ATM withdrawals from own/ other Bank's network) Account holders can provide standing instructions to the bank Interest rate, tenure, application of interest is the same as regular savings accounts No charges for dormant account or inoperative accounts. Regular KYC norms will apply for basic schemes as well.

title: What is the criteria for assisting professional & self-employed persons?
, content: Loans to professional and self-employed persons include loans to purchase equipment, repairing or renovating existing equipment; and/or acquiring and repairing business premises or for purchasing tools; and/or for working capital requirements to medical practitioners including dentists, chartered accountants, cost accountants, engineers, architects, surveyors, or management consultants or to a person trained in any other art or craft who holds either a degree or diploma from any institutions established, aided, or recognised by the Government or to a person who is considered by the Bank as technically qualified or skilled in the field in which he is employed.

title: Are both term finance and working capital finance sanctioned by the Bank?
, content: Yes, advances can be granted by way of cash credit for working capital and by way of demand/term loan for fixed assets, equipment, etc.

title: Is collateral security required?
, content: No collateral/third-party guarantee for loans up to Rs. 1 lakh.

title: Chairman of the board, content: I am delighted to join Bank of Baroda as Chairman of the Board of Directors and it gives me pleasure to put my thoughts before you. In the last 112 years, from the time the Bank of Baroda was set up, it has been pioneer in the banking field and has a rich legacy of serving the society and the nation. As Chairman of the Bank, I remain committed to nurturing and furthering this legacy.

title: The Banking Landscape
, content: A robust financial sector is essential for the growth of economy. We need to grow at 8-9% consistently over years to catch up with China and other developed economies. Achieving this requires a concerted effort that maintains the reform momentum and widens its scope for arriving at a durable solution to banking sector issues

The Government has adopted a multi-pronged strategy to improve the health of the Indian banking system. It announced a recapitalization plan of Rs. 2.11 lakh crore in October 2017. As part of the above program, the government infused the second tranche of Rs. 1.06 lakh crore in Public Sector Banks (PSBs) in FY 2019. Capital infusion by the government has helped in improving the health of the Indian banking system and has led to an improvement in credit growth of SCBs to 13.2% in FY 2019 from an average of 10% over the three previous years.

Indian banks had seen a large increase in non-performing loans over the years. In order to ensure a faster resolution of non-performing loans, the government implemented a new Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC). Under this mechanism, there have been a marked improvement in cash recoveries of the banking system at Rs. 98,493 crore in the period April to December 2018. The IBC process has resulted in structural changes such as faster resolutions; higher recoveries and improving credit culture which is positive for the banking system in the long-run.

The strategy adopted by the Government, RBI and PSBs for recognition, provisioning, resolution and recovery of non-performing assets has commenced to yield results in the form of declining stressed asset ratios and improvement in cash recovery. The gross NPAs for PSBs are now beginning to see a decline. RBI has projected that the gross NPA ratio for the SCBs would fall to around 10.3% in March 2019 from 11.5% in March 2018. The slippage ratio has declined from 7.6% in March 2018 to 4.1% in September 2018. The Provision Coverage Ratio (PCR) has also increased significantly from the levels in March 2018.

title: Consolidation in Indian Banking Industry

, content: Despite being the sixth largest economy in the world, India's financial institutions lack scale and size on global scale. To be globally competitive, we need banks that are bigger and stronger. Large financial institutions have the ability to weather economic shocks and benefits of scale help them to provide banking services at a relatively lower cost. Over the years, various committees on the financial sector such as the Narasimham Committee (1998), the Leeladhar Committee (2008) and the Nayak Committee (2014) have recommended consolidation among banking sector and that of PSBs

During the year, the government announced first three-way amalgamation of Vijaya Bank and Dena Bank with Bank of Baroda as a step towards achieving the above objectives. In terms of scale, the combined bank which came into operations from April 1, 2019, is now the second largest PSB in India. The consolidated bank has over 120 million+ customers across the globe through its network of 9,500+ branches and 13,400+ ATMs and 84,000+ employees. Our combined business mix now stands at Rs. 15+ lakh crore with market share of 6.4%. The amalgamation has provided an opportunity to build a world class banking institution for our stakeholders and we are determined to seize it.

title: Bank of Baroda – The Continuing Transformation

, content: The Bank has undertaken a comprehensive transformation journey centered around processes, products, platforms, building people capabilities and improving compliance. The details of the actions taken have been detailed out in last years' annual report. Given that the technology evolution is an ongoing process, the transformation has to be a continuing journey to ensure that the Bank remains competitive in the market place.

public sector banks. The capital adequacy ratio at 13.42% is above the regulatory requirements.

title: Looking Ahead

, content: Given the transformation undertaken by the Bank over the years to build a Bank that is future ready, the amalgamation ensures that the benefits of scale and size are available to wider set of customers and stakeholders. With amalgamation becoming operative, the integration process is underway with a detailed plan on customer, employee, IT and process integration. We foresee this as an opportunity to build a world class institution for our customers, employees and other stakeholders. As the Chairman of the Bank, I am happy to be a partner in driving these efforts

title: Financial Performance

, content: The financial year FY 2018 had been an eventful year. The credit growth in the banking sector picked up during second half of the financial year. However, on account of base effect and currency withdrawal in the beginning of the year, the deposit growth during the year touched a multi decade low. With the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) becoming operational and RBI mandating resolution of large part of NPAs of banking system to be resolved at NCLT, it provided a momentum to the resolution process. During the last quarter of the financial year, the RBI aligned its guidelines on resolution of stressed assets with IBC repealing its earlier guidelines on resolution of such assets. It front ended the recognition of NPAs in the system and impacted the profitability of banks in the short run. In the above environment, Bank performed well with improvement in core operating efficiency.

The net interest income (NII) of the Bank increased by 14.9% during the year. The other income marginally declined by 1.5% on account of lower treasury gains due to hardening of bond yields in the second part of the financial year. However, core fee income increased by 14.5%. Recovery from technically written off accounts increased by 90%. The operating expenses registered increase of 9.4%.

The Bank posted an operating profit of ₹ 12,006 crore registering an increase of 9.4%. Total provisions increased by 74% and higher GNPA pool led to increase in provisions for NPAs by 85%, leading to Bank posting loss of ₹ 2,431.8 crore. On account of this, there was no amount transferred to statutory and capital reserves and the loss amount was appropriated from general reserve.

Reflecting on the improved operating performance, the net interest margin (NIM) improved from 2.19% to 2.43%. This was led by reduction in the average cost of funds to 4.56% from 4.82% and almost flat average yield on funds. The cost to income ratio remained steady at 45.87%.

title: Dividend

, content: Bank is not eligible to pay dividend for the financial year 2017- 18 on account of not meeting the eligibility criteria stipulated by Reserve Bank of India for this purpose.

title: Global Economy

, content: Global economy grew at the fastest pace since 2011 at 3.8% in CY 2017, up from 3.3% registered in CY 2016. Advanced economies (AEs) are benefitting from a cyclical recovery and decline in unemployment which is resulting in higher consumption. At the same time, lower interest rates are boosting investment, particularly in housing. In CY 2017, Advanced Economies (AEs) are estimated to have grown by 2.3%, compared to 1.6% in CY 2016. Asian economies are also showing higher growth as a result of export recovery as well as higher domestic consumption. Emerging Market and Developing Economies (EMDEs) registered a robust growth of 4.8% in CY 2017 compared with 3.7% in CY 2016 largely driven by India (6.7%) and China (6.9%).

The most notable change in the global economy last year was uptick seen in global commodity prices which increased by 6.8% in CY 2017 vs (-) 1.2% in CY 2016 and (-) 14.1% in CY 2015. As a result commodity exporting countries such as Brazil, Russia and OPEC are seeing improvement in external account and fiscal position which will bolster their economic growth.

However, with higher global commodity prices inflation will also rise. In AEs inflation increased to 1.7% in 2017 from 0.8% in 2016. As unemployment levels fall further, inflation is likely to gather more momentum thus resulting in withdrawal of accommodative monetary policies by AE central banks. Global yields will be higher in 2018 and beyond.

In addition, fiscal stimulus announced by the U.S. will also boost global growth. The cyclical upturn is likely to lead to global growth rising to 3.9% in CY 2018 and CY 2019. According to World Economic Outlook released by IMF in Apr'18, AEs are projected to grow at 2.5% in CY 2018 before slowing down to 2.2% in CY 2019, while EMDEs will grow at 4.9% in CY 2018 and further at 5.1% in CY 2019. Within emerging markets, India will lead the way, followed by China, ASEAN-5, and Sub-Saharan Africa.

title: Indian Economy

, content: Indian economy witnessed transitional slowdown in FY 2018 as growth slipped to 6.6% from 7.1% in FY 2017 as a result of structural reforms implemented by the Government. The decline was led by manufacturing sector which posted a growth of 5.1% in FY 2018. Most of the impact was concentrated in H1 when manufacturing growth slipped to 2.6%. However, manufacturing sector did see a turnaround with growth improving to 6.4% in H2. Even agriculture growth slipped to 3% in FY 2018 from 6.3% in FY 2017 on the back of unseasonal rainfall and high base effect. Services sector led the growth momentum in FY 2018 at 8.3%, mainly attributable to Government spending and uptick in trade, hotels, transport, and communication segment.

With growth slowing down in FY 2018, retail inflation also dipped to a low of 3.6% in FY 2018. The decline was led by food inflation which fell to 1.8% in FY 2018 from 4.3% in FY 2017. On the other hand, retail inflation excluding food and fuel (core) increased by 4.7% in FY 2018 compared to 4.8% in FY 2017. Upward pressure in core inflation was visible in H2 at 5.1% compared with 4.3% in H1. Higher international oil prices along with statistical impact of implementation of 7th pay commission drove core inflation higher. Notably, upward pressure is visible across different categories of core inflation as gap between potential and actual output narrows.

Recent economic indicators are showing steady upturn in the economy. Credit growth is improving, investment activity as measured by gross fixed capital formation is increasing in double digits, airlines are reporting record increase in passenger travel and car and two-wheeler sales are inching up. Government has announced a new MSP policy from this Kharif season which will ensure much higher income for farmers, which in turn will be a boon for rural consumption. Urban consumption will get a boost as State Governments have started implementing 7th pay commission recommendations.

As a result economic growth is estimated to increase to 7.4% in FY 2019. Higher growth will be accompanied with higher interest rates. Not only increase in inflation, but also reduction in surplus liquidity with banking system (now at neutral level from surplus position earlier) might put upward pressure on interest rates. Higher rates will be observed globally as well. US Fed is likely to continue to raise rates in 2018 and 2019.

title: Developments in Indian Banking

, content: FY 2018 began with muted credit growth and high liquidity with banks due to impact of demonetization. The credit growth continued to be low in first half of the year. However, it picked up in the second half and FY 2018 ended with a 10.3% growth. However, deposit growth rate at the end of year was muted at 6.7% due to base effect and currency withdrawals.

On the banking front, a major step taken by the Government was recapitalizing the public sector banks with an infusion plan of ₹ 2.11 lakh crore including ₹ 1.35 lakh crore through recapitalization bonds and ₹ 76,000 crore via budgetary support and raising of funds by banks through capital markets. It should help address the overhang of NPLs and ease lending constraints thereby contributing to growth. For us, it provides growth capital to continue to focus on delivery of healthy credit growth in 2018-19 and onwards.

An important part of recapitalization programme is that the second stage of the recap is linked to banks performance on PSB Reform Agenda of Government which is aimed at EASE – Enhanced Access and Service Excellence, focusing on six themes of customer responsiveness, responsible banking, credit off take, PSBs as Udyami Mitra, deepening financial inclusion & digitalization and developing personnel for brand PSB. Under each of above six themes detailed action points have been stipulated along with timeline for implementation. The year also saw implementation of Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) enacted by the Government in 2017. Its implementation has made the resolution of stressed assets possible within defined time frame and making it feasible for corporates to exit or attempt a revival of their businesses while preserving the economic value of the assets, thereby making a change in NPAs climate for the banks. A significant percentage of NPAs of banking industry are under IBC process. Being a new legislation the process is taking its time to stabilize. The early successes particularly in sectors like iron and steel, cement are visible.

The non-performing loans in the banking system further increased in quarter ended in March 2018 after RBI revised framework for resolution of stressed assets in February 2018 repealing existing schemes like SDR, S4A, 5/25, CDR, etc. and discontinuing the JLF mechanism. This marks the final stage of a multi-year initiatives of RBI to recognize problem assets more accurately. With these guidelines, RBI has fully aligned the stressed asset resolution process to IBC. It has increased already high NPL ratios and provisioning burden of banks and strained their profitability in the near term. Going forward, cleaner and recapitalized balance sheets should help the banks to move forward leaving legacy asset quality issues behind. Further, with this step, RBI is also preparing the banking system for implementation of Ind-AS from the next financial year.

Apart from above, there were some serious issues relating to risk management, internal controls and audit quality in the banks arising out of incidents of frauds and the need for plugging the process gaps. The regulator has reviewed these incidents; initiated corrective measures and issued guidelines to ensure that the systems, business practices, operational processes and risk management practices for the sector are robust and safe.

On interest rates, the bond yields hardened during second half of FY 2018 as surplus liquidity dried up. The rise in bond yields led to reporting of mark to market losses on treasury portfolio by many banks in second and third quarter of FY 2018. To impart relief, RBI allowed banks to provide for such MTM losses over a period of four quarters of FY 2019. This also led to increase in term deposit rates as well as MCLR of the commercial banks during the said period.

title: Resource Mobilisation:-

, content: The domestic CASA deposits registered a growth of 10.8% on increased base of previous year. The CASA deposits ratio increased to 41.18% from 39.44% last year. The growth of term deposits was muted at 6.11% as a part of liability management and surplus liquidity with the Bank. Deposits in international operations de-grew by 23.1% as a part of strategy to bring down low yielding assets including placement assets in the international book. As a result, the total deposits saw a marginal decline of 1.7%.

For a sustained growth of deposits including low cost CASA, Bank has taken number of steps to improve our processes and strengthen the product preposition to meet the increasing requirement of the customers. The entire account opening process for savings account has been digitized through tablets leading to a turn-around time of few minutes. All the branches pan India have been enabled by this digitized process and its scope will be further extended. Bank has introduced value added services for HNI customers under "Baroda Radiance". This includes offering of services under wealth management suite, differentiated banking services and preferential pricing. During the year, Bank launched cash management product to meet the demands of our business customers. The product has been well received. Besides, Bank has undertaken number of initiatives like revamping of mobile banking app, launch of m-passbook, launch of mobile app for wealth management named as Baroda M-Invest, strengthening our e-payment products, tie-up with multiple payment aggregators, etc.

title: Credit Expansion:

, content: During the last financial year, Bank had focused on rebalancing of the loan book and execution of transformation initiatives including on credit processes. With their execution taking shape, Bank continued to have healthy credit growth. The domestic credit registered a growth of 16.8% during the year. The growth was led by retail and was well spread in other business verticals viz. corporate, MSME and agriculture. Retail loan growth was 42.4% while corporate loan growth was 16.8%. The ratio of retail loans to total domestic loans increased from 19.5% to 23.5% during the year. The international loan book declined marginally by 2.4% on account of continued focus of the Bank on re-balancing and decline of buyers' credit book after the discontinuation of issuance of LoUs by the Indian banks as per regulatory guidelines. On account of latter, the international loan book will de-grow further during FY 2019.

The total assets of the Bank increased by 3.6% from ₹ 6,94,875.4 crore to ₹ 7,19,999.8 crore as on March 31, 2018.

title: Operating Performance:

, content: The interest income of the Bank increased by 3.4% from ₹ 42,199.9 crore in FY 2017 to ₹ 43,648.5 crore in FY 2018. The yield on advances slightly decreased to 7.13% from 7.27%. The yield on domestic advances was 8.87% during FY 2018 against 9.10% during FY 2017. The reduction was on account of reversal of interest in SDR, S4A and NPA accounts and gradual migration of loan book under base rate to MCLR. The yield on international loan book slightly increased reflecting the global interest rate environment.

Total interest expenses declined by 2.0% from ₹ 28,686.5 crore in FY 2017 to ₹ 28,126.8 crore in FY 2018 due to improved liability management. The domestic cost of deposits decreased to 5.48% in FY 2018 from 6.08% in FY 2017. The cost of deposits in international book increased from 1.18% to 1.33% in line with global interest rate environment.

The net interest income (NII) of the Bank increased by 14.9% to ₹ 15,521.8 crore during FY 2018 from a level of ₹ 13,513.4 crore in FY 2017. The net interest margin (NIM) improved from 2.19% to 2.43% during FY 2018. Domestic as well as international NIM also improved from 2.64% to 2.88% and 1.05% to 1.10% respectively.

Other income of the Bank marginally decreased by 1.5% to ₹ 6,657.2 crore on account of decline in treasury gains by 28.3% to ₹ 1,877.6 crore. However, core fee income of the Bank increased by 14.5% to ₹ 3,249.7 crore. Recovery from written-off accounts was higher at ₹ 620.7 crore registering an increase of 90%.

Operating expenses increased by 9.4% to ₹ 10,173.4 crore in the year. While employee cost decreased by 0.7% during the year to ₹ 4,606.9 crore, other operating expenses increased by 19.5% to ₹ 5,566.5 crore. The increase was on account of higher depreciation charge on revalued assets.

Reflecting on the improved operating performance, operating profit of the Bank grew by 9.4% to ₹ 12,005.6 crore during FY 2018. Total provisions increased by 74.0% to ₹ 14,796.4 crore while provision for NPAs increased by 85.1% to ₹ 14,211.7 crore in FY 2018. As a result, Bank posted a net loss of ₹ 2,431.8 crore in FY 2018 against net profit of ₹ 1,383.1 crore in FY 2017.

title: Medium and Long-Term Strategy of the Bank

, content: It is the firm belief of the Bank that continuously evolving sound business processes and practices are the drivers of quality and profitable business growth on sustainable basis. During 2016, Bank embarked upon a comprehensive business transformation exercise christened "Project Navodaya". Bank aims to drive accelerated and profitable growth by bridging the gap with competition. Bank is pursuing a differentiated strategy to build a contemporary full-service universal bank and be India's premier bank with global standing. The execution of this vision is through initiatives across business units and functions and is structured along 5 key dimensions:

transform and grow 'core' business units (retail, corporate, MSME, agri & rural and the international), while managing the stressed assets building the capabilities for the future (e.g. new products like Supply chain financing, Cash Management, Digital, Wealth Management and centralization of operations to improve efficiency)
'nurture' the organization and 'unleash' the talent pool through dedicated leadership and talent initiatives
'embed change' and 'sequence' change through focused efforts on execution and capability building and building new alliances and partnerships.

title: Continuing Business Transformation Journey- Project Navoday
, content: To drive the above initiatives, a Project Management Office (PMO) has been set up supported by change leaders for cascading the change management to ground level. The execution of the project is progressing steadily on course in this transformation journey cutting across all segments of businesses, functions/processes which include focus on key aspects of its operations, including collections and recovery, risk management, compliance and controls, governance framework, market and brand building, and digitization and technology.

During the year, number of initiatives have been executed/ are in advanced stage of execution. The details of initiatives executed have been mentioned in statement of MD & CEO on page 13. Details of some of the steps taken are also mentioned in the respective item in the Director's Report.

title: Corporate Credit

, content: Corporate credit in the Bank is serviced at -9- Corporate Financial Service (CFS) branches and -5- Emerging Corporate branches which are managing about 80% of the corporate credit portfolio of the Bank. During FY 2018, the corporate credit registered a growth of 16.8% from a level of ₹ 1,41,069 crore as on March 31, 2017 to ₹ 1,64,783 crore as on March 31, 2018. During the year, Bank approved fresh / enhanced credit in 330 accounts.

During the year, the transformation initiated during FY 2017 was carried forward. Under the target market approach adopted by the Bank, the target markets have been clearly defined and simplified target account plans put in place at major metro centers. These are executed through dedicated Relationship Managers (RMs). In addition, Bank has put in place a team of sector specialists at corporate office. The number of layers for credit processing originating from CFS and Emerging Corporate branches has been reduced to one i.e. at centralized processing cell (CPC) at corporate office. A separate R & D wing has been set-up in corporate credit to provide industry updates to marketing and processing teams. International business is being leveraged as competitive advantage by synergizing domestic and international business by offering multiple currency facilities.

title: MSME Credit

, content: MSME is a vital sector to the nation's economy and provides employment to millions of people. Bank supports credit to this vital sector through 45 SME loan factories and a wide network of branches.

Supporting the Government efforts under Mudra scheme on employment generation, Bank lent ₹ 5,093 crore thereby achieving 121% of the set targets and stood 1st for lending under this scheme. Bank also ranked 1st under Stand-up India program in disposal of applications on Udyamimitra portal. In the Gram Swaraj Abhiyan, Bank exceeded the allocated targets in the states of UP and Rajasthan where Bank is the convener of SLBC. The Bank's MSME credit portfolio increased from ₹ 48,545 crore as of March 31, 2017 to ₹ 51,730 crore as of March 31, 2018.

To provide access to working capital to MSMEs at competitive rates on Trade Receivables electronic Discount System (TREDS), Bank was first to onboard on all the three TReDS platforms launched. As on March 31, 2018, Bank accounted for 22% of the business carried on the platform. In support of Government initiative to encourage digital transactions, Bank launched Baroda e-business pack for financing MSME units. To mitigate working capital pains of MSMEs arising out of GST implementation, Bank launched a special product for financing against GST receivables.

A fully digitized supply chain financing product launched by the Bank has provided a new vehicle for sourcing of MSME customers viz. vendors and dealers of anchor corporates. The cash management solution will also help in augmenting the efficiency of working capital through digitization of cash management. Bank also entered tie-ups / partnerships with e-commerce players and started providing credit to the sellers on the digital platform. Tie-ups /partnerships with FinTech players has led to value additions in terms of improved due diligence, better marketing opportunities and faster service delivery. Bank also entered into MoUs with multiple players in the field of transportation, travel, health care, food, dairy, etc. to provide credit to units under these niche sectors. In addition, Bank has -13- area specific schemes for financing SME clusters and -16- specific products for MSME customers.

Towards transformation of the business vertical, Bank commissioned a dedicated collection centre for MSME borrowers. To ensure consistency in underwriting, faster turnaround time and timely collections, Bank has plans to centralize MSME loan processing, approval, disbursal and monitoring. It has been implemented at -2- centres viz. Mumbai and Delhi with plans to roll out further. For making available timely credit to beneficiaries under Government schemes, Bank is in process of setting up a centralized cell in each district for processing of such loan applications.

title: Retail Credit

, content: Retail Credit in our Bank is primarily dispensed through -74- Specialized Mortgage Stores (SMSs) and a wide network of branches. During the year, Bank opened -3- new SMSs at Bhilwara, Hubballi and Bengaluru.

With most of the transformation initiatives executed during FY 2018, the retail credit registered a healthy growth of 42.44% during FY 2018 to ₹ 82,604 crore. Within retail loans, home loans grew by 48.20% to ₹ 44,711 crore; auto loans by 30.33% to ₹ 5,727 crore and other mortgage loans by 12.90% to ₹ 14,125 crore. This led to increase in size of retail loan book to 23.5% as on March 31, 2018 as against 19.5% at the end of previous year. The transformation initiatives executed include simplifying retail loan approval and underwriting process; augmenting distribution channels in addition to existing branch channels; extending the centralized mortgage loan processing by adding more geographies etc. Centralization of the processing of non-mortgage loans viz. auto and education loans was initiated and has been currently done in Mumbai. Bank has already introduced risk based pricing and commissioned dedicated retail loan collection centre.

With the revamp in approach towards retail credit delivery, the risk profile of the portfolio has improved. The percentage of customers with credit bureau score < 725 has come down from 19% to 1% and those with scores > 725 has increased from 41% to 63% between April 1, 2016 and March 31, 2018.

title: Rural and Agricultural Lending

, content: The Bank has a network of 1,833 branches in rural and 1,537 branches in semi-urban areas which is leveraged for priority sector and agriculture lending. During FY 2018, Bank opened 37 new rural and semi urban branches. Bank is the Convener of State Level Bankers' Committee (SLBC) in the states of Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan and shoulders the Lead Bank responsibility in 48 districts; 14 in Gujarat, 12 in Rajasthan, 15 in Uttar Pradesh, 2 each in Uttarakhand, Madhya Pradesh and Bihar and 1 in Delhi.

Bank continues to be front runner in lending to agriculture sector. The sector got impetus with the Government's target of doubling the income of the farmers by FY 2022. During the year, Bank issued 1.19 lakh kisan credit cards. Baroda Kisan RuPay Card, an ATM enabled smart card, was issued to 12.89 lakh farmers. Bank financed 2,14,547 new farmers during FY 2018 granting them loans worth ₹ 3,834.9 crore. As a part of its microfinance initiatives, Bank linked 22,708 Self Help Groups by granting loans amounting to ₹ 308.6 crore. To facilitate credit linkage of Farmer Producer Organisations (FPOs), the Bank tied up with agencies. Including under Maharashtra Agricultural Competitiveness Program (MACP). Bank was awarded for being best performer in SHG bank linkage for FY 2018. The Total agricultural advances as on March 31, 2018 were well above the regulatory requirements.

The key elements of Bank's agriculture and rural strategy continue to be developing an ecosystem of alliances and partnerships with financial services providers, agri finance companies, insurance companies, private equity firms seed and fertilizer companies, warehouses and cold-storages, Agri universities, drip irrigation companies etc. The underlying idea is to increase the farm productivity; enhance the income of farmers and serve the rural economy. Bank has set-up an integrated rural banking organization that caters to the agri and financial inclusion initiatives. The strategic partnerships entered include key agri players building the rural ecosystem like agri tech companies which provide technical knowledge to the farmers right from crop selection to marketing; leading micro irrigation companies; collateral managers to finance farmers to prevent distress selling; dairy companies, etc. Bank has moved beyond granting simple farm credit to a more diversified rural lending strategy focusing on new products across rural customer segments like farm mechanization, horticulture loans, warehouse receipt financing, food and agro processing and adopting a community based lending model for the small farmers and communities.

During the year, Bank was awarded winner in agriculture lending in large bank category in Agriculture Banking summit cum Social Banking excellence Award ceremony organized by ASSOCHAM.

title: Priority sector lending

, content: Priority sector advances of the Bank increased from ₹ 1,27,672 crore as of March 31, 2017 to ₹ 1,49,629 crore as of March 31, 2018. Bank was well above the mandated levels of priority sector advances and its other sub-components.

title: Advances to SC/ST Communities

, content: The outstanding advances to SC/ST communities went up from ₹ 5,312 crore as of March 31, 2017 to ₹ 5,765 crore as of March 31, 2018. SC/ST communities accounted 14.4% share in total advances granted to weaker sections by the Bank. Furthermore, a special thrust is laid by our Bank in financing SC/ST under various Government sponsored schemes such as National Rural Livelihood Mission (NRLM), Start-up India and Stand-up India.

title: Stand-Up India

, content: The Stand-Up India initiative of the Government is aimed at promoting entrepreneurship among SCs/STs and women. In FY 2018, Bank sanctioned ₹ 552.7 crore under the scheme. With a view to enlarge the foot print in delivery of products and services in MSME eco-system, Udyammitra, an interactive portal has been launched which leverages IT architecture of Stand-Up Mitra portal. Bank was ranked 1st under Stand-up India program in disposal of applications on this Udyammitra portal.

title: Performance of RRBs Sponsored by Bank of Baroda

, content: The Bank has sponsored three Regional Rural Banks (RRBs): Baroda Uttar Pradesh Gramin Bank, Baroda Rajasthan Kshetriya Gramin Bank, and Baroda Gujarat Gramin Bank. The aggregate business of these three RRBs rose to ₹ 55,064 crore as of March 31, 2018 from ₹ 49,854 crore as of March 31, 2017, registering a growth of 10.5%. The three RRBs together posted a net profit of ₹ 208.6 crore during FY 2018 against ₹ 202.3 crore in the previous year. The Net Worth of these RRBs put together improved from ₹ 2,221.9 crore as of March 31, 2017 to ₹ 2,401.7 crore as of March 31, 2018.

title: Financial Inclusion (FI)

, content: In order to provide universal banking services to all sections of the society especially to rural/urban poor at an affordable cost, Bank has taken financial inclusion as a social commitment and also an opportunity to tap business through sustainable ICT based delivery channels. The Bank has been actively working towards ensuring financial inclusion in the country through our branch and BC network. With advent of technology, innovative steps are being taken for serving in unbanked areas. Bank has deployed around 14,659 BCs to cater to 21,826 villages and semi urban and urban areas across the country.

Total number of accounts under financial inclusion stand at 312 lakhs with a balance of ₹ 9,689 crore as on March 31, 2018. Average balance in these accounts increased from ₹ 2,873 to ₹ 3,105 during the year. The number of zero balance accounts reduced to 11.5% from 16.9%. The amount transacted through FI accounts during the year was ₹ 58,033 crore and the number of transactions carried through BCs were 2,229 lakhs.

Towards promoting financial inclusion along with digital program of the Government, Bank has taken a number of initiatives which include:

Digitized account opening by instant opening of accounts enabled by Aadhaar seeding, with PIN generation through tablets and account opening kiosks with spot debit card issuance;

A comprehensive mobile banking solution supporting the entire rural community to eliminate cash;

Seeding of Aadhaar through alternative delivery channels like ATM, SMS, Internet, BC points;

Deployment of micro and table-top ATMs in rural areas through BCs;

Expansion of the BC model;

Driving SHG/ JLG-based lending;

Expanding the scope of services of BCs like mobilizing deposits, follow up & recovery in small loan accounts including NPA & PWO accounts and providing special incentives for same to enable them to remain financially viable;

Enabling enrolment of micro insurance schemes viz. PMSBY & PMJJBY through internet banking and SMS etc.

Enabling increased utilization of bank accounts, expansive cash-in cash-out network comprising 14,659 BCs and 4 lakh POS terminals

The products / services offered at BC points are e-KYC enabled opening of BSB account, term deposit and recurring deposit account; cash withdrawal, cash deposit and fund transfer including third party transfer; immediate payment service (IMPS), Aadhaar enabled payment system (AEPS Transactions) RuPay card based transactions; deposits in current, cash credit, OD and loan account; enrollment for micro insurance – PMJJBY, PMSBY and Atal Pension Yojana; Aadhaar seeding cum authentication and mobile seeding.

title: Urban Financial Inclusion:

, content: Besides people living in rural areas, large population of urban poor including migrants from villages to urban areas who have no access to formal banking services. In order to bring them under the purview of formal banking system, our Bank has deployed urban 9,177 BCs under Kiosk Model at various locations across the country.

title: Highlights of performance under Financial Inclusion

, content: Bank surpassed target set for FY 2018 in respect of total BC outlets with achievement of 107.46%.

Bank achieved 86.19% and 126.01% of the target set for FY 2018 for BSBD account opening and amount under the same through branches.

Bank achieved 195.76% and 237.23% of the target set for FY 2018 for BSBD account opening and amount under the same through BC points.
During the year, Bank was conferred Banking Finnoviti Award-2017 by Banking Frontiers for the initiatives taken in financial inclusion.

title: Highlights of Performance under PMJDY

, content: Bank has 239.29 lakh accounts under PMJDY as on March 31, 2018, as against 196.40 lakhs at the end of previous year, an increase of 21.9%. The Bank's market share in incremental PMJDY accounts and outstanding deposits was 10.4% and 9.4% respectively. Outstanding balance in PMJDY accounts was ₹ 6,595 crore as of March 31, 2018 as against ₹ 4,747 crore at the end of previous year, an increase of 38.9%. RuPay debit Cards issued under PMJDY accounts increased to 221.50 lakh from 184.78 lakh. Aadhaar seeding in PMJDY accounts increased to 83.91% from 72.87% during the year.

title: Setting up Aadhaar Enrolment Centers

, content: Banks, vide gazette notification dated July 14, 2017 of Government of India, have been mandated to set up Aadhaar enrolment and update centers inside the branch premises with at least one centre in every 10 branches. Accordingly, Bank has set up more than 550 Aadhaar enrolment centers as of March 31, 2018.

title: International Operations

, content: In the international arena, Bank pursues strategy of driving growth and value by leveraging its relationship with Indian corporates; catering to India-linked cross-border trade flows for Indian and locally incorporated companies/firms and being preferred Bank for NRIs/persons of Indian origin.

Bank has international presence across 24 countries through 106 branches/offices. Bank has 59 branches in 16 countries while 47 branches operate through Bank's 8 overseas subsidiaries. During the year, Bank opened one off shore International Banking Unit (IBU) at International Financial Service Centre (IFSC) at GIFT City, Gandhinagar, Gujarat. Bank has two Joint Ventures: Indo Zambia Bank Ltd. in Zambia with 31 branches and India International Bank (Malaysia) Bhd. in Malaysia with one branch.

During FY 2018, Bank undertook a strategic review of its international presence based on a comprehensive evaluation framework and decided to rationalize the operations. As a part of this exercise, Bank closed down its representative office in Bangkok and one Electronic Banking Service Unit in UAE. Further, branches in Bahamas and Bahrain are under process of closure. Bank has also decided to close its operations in South Africa. During the year, the offshore banking unit in Singapore Branch was upgraded to wholesale banking unit which would enable it to conduct the business in local currency too.

During the year, Bank set up a centralized back office for account maintenance of NRIs.

As of March 31, 2018, Bank's total business from international operations was ₹ 2,27,534 crore and constituted 22.33% of the global business. Total deposits were at ₹ 1,24,341 crore while advances (net) were ₹ 1,03,193 crore. Bank continued its focus on rebalancing of the portfolio. The deposits degrew by 23.1% which reduced low yielding assets. The loan book also declined by 2.4%. In quarter ended March 2018, RBI discontinued the issuance of LoUs/LoCs by Indian banks which has impact on the buyer's credit portfolio of banks having international presence. Accordingly, the international loan book would de-grow in FY 2019 also. Bank continuously reorients its strategy in international operations in line with the new global environment.

As of March 31, 2018, 43% of the total International loanbook comprised of Buyers' Credit/BP/BD portfolio where the exposure was on counterparty banks. 24% of the book was to Indian corporates by way of ECB/Syndicated Loans. Exposure to non-Indian entities by way of syndicated loans was 7% and remaining 26% exposure was in the form of local credit.

title: UK Subsidiary

, content: Bank is in advanced stage of formation of subsidiary in UK to carve out its retail business and necessary regulatory approval has been received.

title: Treasury Operations

, content: Bank's Treasury operating from Mumbai is a prominent player in various market segments such as foreign exchange, fixed income, money market, derivatives, equity, currency and interest rate futures and other alternate asset classes. The treasury offers various hedging products to Bank's customers like forward contracts, interest rate swaps, currency swaps, currency options, etc. for managing their risks.

The treasury is responsible for managing the funds position of the Bank and ensuring the safety, liquidity and optimal yield on these funds. Besides, it maintains statutory reserve requirements. It also invests in corporate bonds, commercial papers, equity, venture capital, mutual funds, etc. as a part of the fund management.

Total size of the Bank's domestic investment book as of March 31, 2018 stood at ₹ 1,55,514 crore. The share of SLR securities in total investments was 86.7%. The per cent of SLR securities to NDTL was at 28.10%.

title: Government Business

, content: Government business is an important part of the Bank's strategy. It caters to the banking requirements of central/ state Government and PSUs besides payment of pension across India through our branch network. Bank is authorized to collect direct taxes across its designated branches and is an accredited banker to the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare.

Bank is partnering various departments at Central and State level in developing e-solutions in line with digital initiatives of the Government of India, leading to transparency and efficiency. Bank is associated with number of new digital initiatives as strategic partner.

Bank has started collection of GST along with accreditation as well as aggregator status under Non Tax Revenue Portal (NTRP) / Public Funds Management System (PFMS).

During the year, Bank completed centralization of all state pension related payments into -6- Central Pension Processing Centres (CPPCs). Bank is serving more than 2.60 lakh pensioners.

title: Wealth Management

, content: During the year, Bank commenced offering wealth management services to differentiated set of customers and launched "Baroda Radiance" services for HNIs in select cities through a dedicated team of relationship managers. Bank is in the process of putting up the necessary infrastructure to scale up the services. For offering enhanced bouquet of products to the customers, Bank extended its partnership with more players in the mutual fund arena. In addition, Bank also has corporate agency arrangement with non-life and health insurance players in the market besides agency tie-up with its joint venture partner in life insurance viz. IndiaFirst Life Insurance Co. Ltd.

Bank has launched a mobile app - M-Invest which offers paperless KYC, goal based investing, research based recommendations and straight through processing of transactions for investment in mutual funds. Bank is also implementing a dedicated wealth management solution. In FY 2018, fee income from wealth management products registered a growth of 91%.

title: Stressed Asset Management

, content: Management of stressed assets continues to be one of the biggest challenges facing the banking industry for the last few years.

During the year, the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC) became operative. It has provided a transparent mechanism for resolution of stressed assets. By legislative amendment, RBI was empowered to issue definitive directions to the banks for resolution of assets under IBC. Accordingly, RBI mandated banks to refer certain large value NPAs to National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) for resolution under IBC. A significant percentage of NPAs of banking system are under IBC process.

The NPAs of banking system were also impacted by revised framework for resolution of stressed assets prescribed by RBI aligning the resolution framework with IBC and repealing the earlier scheme for resolution like S4A, SDR, 5/25, CDR as also dismantling the JLF mechanism.

The Government of India in its Reforms Agenda for Responsive and Responsible PSBs directed banks for creation of Stressed Assets Management Vertical (SAMV). The Bank has a dedicated vertical for management of stressed assets. The Executive Director in-charge of stressed assets is assisted by three General Managers overseeing the entire stressed book. To strengthen the resolution of stressed assets and recovery and collection mechanism, Bank has taken number of measures like creation of a specialized cell for resolution of large value stressed assets, setting up of legal war-room, commissioning dedicated collection centres for MSME and retail loans, setting up of a separate in-house task force, introducing a special scheme for one time settlement of loans, organizing mega e-auction of assets charged to the Bank, migration of identified high value special mention accounts to SAMV etc.

title: Information Technology (IT)

, content: Bank truly believes on leveraging the information technology for customer centricity. Reliability of the business processes are key to the business capabilities. Bank's IT infrastructure is continuously upgraded to build the capabilities.

Bank has taken number of technology enabled business initiatives to deliver value to the customers. Some of the measures are:

Upgradation of Bank's core banking platform followed by several technology upgrades and integration with various digital applications which work seamlessly across multiple channels.

Launch of digital state-of-art supply chain financing solution to meet the requirements of customers. It is a end-to-end seamless and automated processing system having capabilities to generate real time alerts and reports.

Launch of digital cash management solution viz Baroda DigiNext which helps customers to achieve efficiencies in working capital through digitization of cash management.

Digitization of account maintenance by launch of Tabbanking. It has been launched for opening of savings accounts across the country. The fully responsive application with best in class user experience has the capability to deliver 35+ banking services at the tip of finger.

Launch of new digital trade finance platform- BarodaINSTA (Baroda Integrated Solution for Trade Finance Access). It is a comprehensive solution with objective of achieving faster processing and automation in trade finance for the customers and the Bank. It is currently launched for -2- products viz. Import LCs and Import Bills payments and the scope is being extended further.

Internet Payment Gateway - Bank is in the process of owning the entire Internet Payment Gateway infrastructure, to provide an electronic payment platform Baroda

E Gateway to its merchants for e-commerce business by enabling payment collection using credit card/ debit card and net banking.
Automated Collection System helping the Bank to streamline the debt collection process.

m-Passbook app which keeps the users updated of all his accounts and allows to monitors balance, deposits, withdrawals, etc.

The Bank is in the process of implementation of number of other applications to enhance the customer experience. Some of the applications are wealth management solution, internet banking upgrade, BBPS, etc. Besides, Bank has implemented/ is in the process of implementation number of support applications including a fraud risk management system and upgrading the AML systems to increase the efficiency and control in operations.

In order to remain abreast with technological changes, the Bank has set-up IT Center of Excellence (ITCoE) to enable it in identify new emerging trends and provide technology differentiation. The ITCoE would provide design thinking skills, process design, architectural skills and core development capacity in current and future technology, helping the business to leverage technology for realizing business outcomes.

Bank is also in the process of establishing Analytics Center of Excellence (ACoE) to facilitate insights of the customer and to add further power to Bank's business transformation journey.

title: Cyber Security

, content: Over the years, Bank has built a strong foundation of cyber security comprising a comprehensive set of information security measures to counter against cyber-attacks. Bank has well defined cyber security governance framework in place that is operated through a combination of management structure, policy framework and operational controls. Bank has implemented multi layered security architecture to protect IT Assets. A testimony of the security controls implemented by the Bank has resulted into the ISO27001 certification of Bank's Data Centre and Disaster Recovery operations.

In order to detect cyber incidents, Bank has captive Security Operations Center (SOC) which operates on 24X7 basis. During the current year, Bank has further added new capabilities to enhance SOC to cyber ready SOC to identify, manage, respond and resolve cyber security incidents quickly in efficient manner.

Further, Bank has placed the following controls:

Periodic risk assessment to identify critical assets and evaluate adequacy of controls to protect them.

Regular vulnerability assessment & penetration testing to identify the vulnerabilities and risks and appropriate mitigation.

Periodic audits of applications and infrastructure to identify weakness in the existing system and take mitigation steps to rectify deficiencies.

Phishing sites, rogue mobile apps and social media sites are monitored for malicious activities/contents and the same are taken down on detection through anti-phishing and brand protection services.

Risk based multi factor authentication implemented to control fraudulent transactions through internet banking channel.

Critical websites are scanned for detection of any malware present on the site. During the current year, Bank implemented technology to protect the systems from distributed denial of service (DDoS) and obtained clean pipe to ensure uninterrupted customer services.

Bank participated in the cyber security drills conducted by agencies such as IDRBT, CERT-In, RBI to test our capabilities and further strengthen defence against cyber-attacks. Bank has emergency response team and cyber crisis management plan in place and effectiveness of these plans is periodically tested through drills.

title: Digital Transformation

, content: Digital transformation and digitization of the traditional banking activities is rapidly changing the banking landscape. It offers convenient and faster banking services. The Bank is continuously investing in digital systems and technologies to ensure a smooth integration between its existing infrastructure and new digital products. The Bank's IT strategy has supported business initiatives by continuously updating technology and processes to meet evolving business requirements. Our major focus is to make the products suite available to customers through mobile channels such as Mobile banking, Unified payment Interface , BHIM Aadhaar. As more and more of our customers transition to digital modes of payment, Bank seeks to handhold and guide the customers through this journey.

Bank has been at the forefront of innovation through the following initiatives:

title: Hi-Tech Digital Branches and Digital Portable Branches

, content: Bank has evolved an innovative concept by setting-up of Hitech Digital branch equipped with advanced gadgets like Artificial Intelligence Robot named Baroda Brainy and Digital Lab with free Wi-Fi services. The robot guides customers to areas based on their needs and replies to queries raised by customers. In addition, the digital branch has self-service kiosks like cash recycler, account opening kiosk with personalized debit card dispenser, multi-function kiosk, selfservice pass book printer along with digital signage system (DSS) which displays the product information. An expert area is also provided to customers where services like specialized investment advisory, financial advisory are provided by the investment specialists. This area is equipped with remote teller (video assistant) to assist the customers in an interactive manner.

Bank opened -2- such hi-tech digital branches during the year at Mumbai and Baroda.

Bank has also implemented concept of "Digital Portable Branch" with an objective to reach out to technically savvy as well as traditional rural consumers through 24x7, selfservice, simple and easy to operate banking outlets. Digital Portable Branch is a pre-fabricated branch equipped with account opening kiosk, Cash Dispenser (ATM) and Self Service Passbook Printer (SSPBP) to provide round the clock common retail banking services like account opening, cash withdrawal, passbook up-dation, balance inquiry, fund transfer, bill payment etc. to customers without any manual intervention.

Bank opened -9- such digital branches during the year.

title: Multi-Function Kiosk

, content: To provide hassle free and convenient banking services through alternate delivery channels to customers by leveraging technology, Bank launched an innovative Self Service kiosk called Multi-Function Kiosk (MFK). It offers a number of customer centric services from a single hybrid services box. Bank has introduced grid based clearing using MFK, started on pilot basis in Mumbai and has seen good results. Grid based clearing has since been extended to Pune, Bhopal, Baroda, and Ahmedabad Zones which completes the entire Western Grid. Total cheques deposited have increased around 11 fold after the launch.

Our Digital Banking team continues to focus on strengthening digital and alternate delivery channels to our customers through the following channels:

ATMs, which will continue to support the cash needs of our customers. E-Lobbies christened as 'Me Lobby' having upgraded facilities, which include Baroda Non-Stop Lobby comprising five self-service machines viz. Cash Recycler, ATM, Multi-Function Kiosk, Passbook Printer and Digital Signage System for providing 24x7 banking services.

Bank has also introduced "Baroda Express - 24X7" lobby, which is a lean version of the Baroda Non-Stop Lobby for smaller centers by refurbishing the existing ATMs and providing additional services such as Cash Recycler and Passbook Printer

Internet Banking platform Baroda Connect, which has been enriched with multiple features to provide ease of use and better control for our customers

Mobile Banking - A completely revamped Mobile Banking application M-connect Plus with a 360 Degree view of Customer Accounts, has been launched which provides a robust, secure, scalable and feature rich innovative experience to our customers.

Bharat Bill Payment System (BBPS) - This is an initiative of national importance which offers real time bill payment service to customers/non customers across geographic and demographic lines. BBPS is a tiered platform wherein our Bank participates as Customer Bharat Bill Payment Operating Units (Customer BBPOU) through various channels. BBPS is a simple, secure and easy to use bill payment platform which offers interoperable and accessible bill payment services to customers with instant confirmation of receipt of payment.

UPI for retail payment systems - Bank has launched Baroda MPAY- UPI, which is an initiative of National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI) that aims to simplify and provide a single interface across all existing retail payment systems in India.

Global Contact Center - Bank has also operationalized state-of-the-art Contact Centers at GIFT City as well as at Bengaluru. Our Contact Centre provides most of the banking services through the telephone channel through a Toll Free Number from anywhere in the country and globe. A dedicated Toll free number has been provided for Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY) and other Financial Inclusion customers.

Unified Mobile Application for New-age Governance (UMANG): It is a Government of India all-in-one single unified secure multi-channel, multi-platform, multilingual, multi-service freeware mobile application inaugurated by our Honorable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi on November 23, 2017. Our Bank is first to provide Bharat BillPay Service on the application. It is designed to provide digital payments based bill pay services for various utility services.

BHIM Aadhaar : Our Bank is first to implement the BHIM Aadhaar pay cloud based solution, launched by our Honorable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi on April 14, 2017. This platform allows a customer to purchase goods and services at the merchant establishment using his/her Aadhaar number linked to his/her Bank account. The merchant can accept the payment. The Government has set a target of 20,00,000 BHIM Aadhaar devices in India. Bank has on-boarded more than 64,000 merchants on BHIM Aadhaar Pay in the FY 2018.

NACH e-Mandate: Bank became live for e-Mandate on March 21, 2018. Its primary objective is to reduce the burden of processing on the destination bank. E-Mandate utilizes the services of NPCI's National Automated Clearing House (NACH) and thus reduces turnaround time in the issuance and confirmation of mandate by customers through alternate channels.

Document Management System: As a step towards paperless banking, digitization of customer records has been undertaken. The records stored in the system can be retrieved by users online. The benefits of the process are improving customer service and reducing TAT for customer queries.

title: FinTech, content: The banking industry is undergoing a rapid technological change. Competition from fintech firms is increasing across different business segments. The change is driven by shift in consumer behaviour and spending pattern towards technological driven solutions rather than traditional channels. Bank has been at the forefront of such initiatives by establishing a separate fintech vertical to remain abreast with changes in the banking industry and provide best-in-class products and services to customers. The Bank is looking at not only innovating with respect to opportunities in the fintech area, but also embracing external technological expertise. For this purpose, Bank has tied-up with various fintech service providers in the area of MSME, Corporate, Retail, Payments and E-commerce segments.

The Bank has 20+ partnerships ranging from solutions for MSME clients to partnerships in retail and in payments space. In the MSME segment, the Bank is the first bank to onboard on all three Trade Receivables e-Discounting System (TReDS), an online platform for financing trade receivables of MSME sector. The Bank had a 22% market share on the platform as on March 31, 2018. Apart from this, the Bank is also financing suppliers on E-commerce marketplace. The Bank has also embarked on a partnership with "BankChain" the industry Block chain consortium. The Bank has entered into partnership with National e-Repository Limited (NERL) for financing against warehouse receipts in respect of warehouse registered with NERL. More partnerships are being explored in Ecommerce, Retail and Payments segments so that Bank is present across different fintech platforms.

title: Back Office Operations

, content: As a strategic step to improve operational efficiency; service delivery and quality, Bank's operating architecture is being revamped through digitization of processes and centralization of back office operations. Bank has set up a state-of-art Shared Services Centre (SSC) at GIFT City incorporated as a wholly owned subsidiary- Baroda Global Shared Services Limited.

Back office functions centralized at SSC include a 24*7 contact center; mortgage based retail loan processing for 6 zones; liability account opening covering 5,063 branches and forex and trade finance transactions (Trade Finance Back Office, TFB0). More geographies and functions are being added gradually to SSC.

A robust governance frame work adhering to standard operating procedures (SOPs) and risk and control selfassessment (RCSA) framework has been set up at SSC to improve efficiency and strengthen internal controls and compliance under one roof. At TFB0 in SSC, a quality control unit has also been set up.

title: Marketing

, content: During the year the Bank rolled out strategic brand building initiatives to create a meaningful and engaging narrative with its existing and prospective customers. The sponsorship of FIFA U17, viewed by more than 47 million persons across the globe backed by BTL activities and TVC on topline channels enhanced visibility for the Bank. Various other marketing initiatives include association with Jaipur Literary Festival, UP Global Summit, Classical Concert Udyeshwar etc. These efforts were reinforced by consistent interaction with customers through the social media campaigns and well researched digital campaigns like #AllInYourInterest.

The year was also important for Bank's foray in the digital marketing space. Taking forward the experience in Bank's Social Media pages, strategies were devised to improve the content in all digital platforms for enhancing search engine marketing and search engine optimization. The content enhancement in these mediums is aimed at engaging audience, especially the Gen Y audience.

The Bank leveraged on its brand endorsers P V Sindhu and K Srikanth by endorsing the core values of the Bank. The creatives were adopted with their imagery for print media, out of home media across metro railway stations, airports, malls etc. The association of Bank with them is in sync with Bank's approach to business – care, concern and competence.

Bank sponsored "Hunnerbaaz – Mission Skill India" on Doordarshan to share positive emotional and inspirational stories and showcase the role played by the Bank in the success and empowerment of its customers. The show covers real life success stories with inspiring celebrity participation and creates awareness about skills and entrepreneurship in India, career opportunities and many other aspects.

title: Currency Chests

, content: Bank has 98 Currency Chests. Two Currency Chests at Deokali, Faizabad and Burdwan, West Bengal were opened during the year. These are used for effective cash management in the Bank besides vaulting cash on behalf of Reserve Bank of India. All the currency chests as well as branches are provided Note Sorting Machines (NSMs). These currency chests have helped the Bank in efficient management of cash at branches.

title: Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR)

, content: Bank has a long legacy and tradition of contributing actively to the social and economic development of the communities through various developmental activities. Bank as a responsible corporate citizen always strives to contribute to the welfare of the society particularly the up-liftment of the underprivileged sections of the society to make sustainable social changes in their lives. Skill development through training for gainful employment, human welfare and other social activities for women and farmers continue to remain Bank's key focus areas. Bank sanctioned a sum of ₹ 1191 lakhs to different organizations engaged in various community development and socio-economic welfare activities for the benefit of weaker section, rural population and others.

Bank has established 49 Baroda Swarojgar Vikas Sansthan (BSVS), Bank's R-SETI centers in seven states of the country, out of which 45 are in our lead districts and 4 are in nonlead districts. These centers impart skill development training programmes to youth from rural & semi-urban areas for generating self-employment. Till date these centers have conducted 11,258 training programmes and imparted training to 3,29,452 youth, out of which 2,17,759 have already secured either employment or setup their own venture. The settlement ratio is at 66.09%. Our 44 BSVS centers have been graded as "AA/A" (outstanding) based on the overall performance/functioning of the RSETIs, during FY 2017. We have 19 Baroda R-SETIs operating from own building.

Bank has set up 51 Financial Literacy & Credit Counseling Centers (FLCCs) in eight states which provide financial counseling services and education to the people in rural and urban areas about various financial products and services available from the formal financial sector. These centers also take up activities that promote financial literacy, awareness about banking services, digital banking, financial planning and amelioration of debt-related distress of an individual.

title: Risk governance and Internal Controls

, content: The increased focus on risk and the supporting governance framework includes identifying the responsibilities of different parts of the Bank for addressing and managing risk. Often referred to as the "three lines of defence", each of the three lines has an important role to play. These are:

First line of defence - all the employees are required to own and ensure the effective management of risk and compliance with regulations, Bank's policies & guidelines.

Second line of defence - this comprises the risk control owners and include risk management function responsible for identifying, measuring, monitoring and reporting risk on an enterprise-wide basis independently from the first line of defence. The compliance function is also deemed part of the second line of defence.

Third line of defence - an independent assurance provided by the internal audit function conducting internal risk-based and other audits. Its reviews provide assurance to the Board that the overall governance framework, including the risk governance framework, is effective and that policies and processes are in place and consistently applied. The role of audit function is defined and overseen by Audit Committee of the Board.

title: Controls in Business

, content: Each employee of the Bank is the owner of the risk underlying in his area of operation and ensuring its effective management. For strengthening the internal controls and improving compliance culture across the organization, Bank continued the realignment of structure to sharpen the controls and compliance following the principle of (i) segregation of business and control functions and (ii) segregation of front office and back office functions by centralization of operations and processes which could be taken out of branches to increase efficiency and strengthen controls while enhancing customer experience.

The Bank made significant progress on both the areas. The centralization of processes and operations at Shared Service Center (SSC) at GIFT City, Gandhinagar, Gujarat continued with number of branch activities migrated at SSC where a robust governance framework adhering to standard operating procedures (SOPs) and risk and control self-assessment (RCSA) framework has been set up. At Trade Finance Back Office in SSC, a quality control unit has also been set up. Besides, Bank has a Transaction Monitoring Unit (TMU) for independent monitoring of exceptional transactions and monitoring and closure of alerts thrown out of AML system.

title: Risk Management

, content: Risk is an integral part of the banking business and the Bank aims at achieving an appropriate trade-off between risk and returns. To ensure sustainable and consistent growth, Bank has developed a sound risk management framework so that the risks assumed by the Bank are properly assessed and monitored. Bank undertakes business activities within the risk appetite limits and policies approved by the Board of Directors of the Bank. Specific committees of the Board have been constituted to facilitate focused oversight on various risks. The Board has also constituted a Risk Management Committee of Board which oversees the inter linkages between different type of risks. It is supported by onboarding of specialists in the area. Policies approved from time to time by the Board of Directors or committees of the Board form the governing framework for each type of risk.

During the year, Bank has undertaken implementation of Enterprise wide Risk Management project for measuring and monitoring the risks of the Bank. The Bank has comprehensive Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process and stress test policy. The Pillar 2 risks such as Liquidity Risk, Interest Rate Risk, Concentration Risk as well as adequacy of Capital under both normal and stressed conditions are assessed as per the policies.

A brief outline of the mechanism for identifying, evaluating and managing various risks within the Bank is as follows.

title: Credit Risk

, content: Credit Risk is managed in the Bank through a Board approved framework that sets out policies, procedures and reporting which is in-line with international best practices. Adequate attention is given to the independence of the risk evaluators and business functions for addressing sound credit process culture. Bank has a well-structured credit approval process, which functions within the defined Board approved credit policy.

Over the years Bank has gained good experience in internal ratings. This robust platform enabled the Bank to get an approval of regulator for parallel run for Foundation Internal Rating Based (FIRB) approach of credit risk under Basel II guidelines from March 31, 2013. Under the IRB approach the banks are allowed to develop their own empirical model to quantify required capital for credit risk. IRB implementation has helped the Bank with improved risk management systems and strong risk assessment processes.

Credit risk measurement models are validated by independent model validators for their discriminatory power, accuracy and stability. Corporate credit rating models have been updated during the year to enhance their predictive power of default.

To manage credit concentration risk, Bank has put in place prudential caps across industries, sectors and borrowers. The portfolio review cell carries out detailed studies on sectoral exposure, credit concentration, rating distribution and migration, which is used as a strategic input to decide on the credit risk strategy and to identify target markets of the Bank.

Bank has also implemented the Risk Adjusted Return on Capital (RARoC) framework for corporate credit exposures. It facilitates in evaluating credit risk exposures from the point of 'economic value addition' to the shareholders.

title: Market Risk

, content: Bank measures and monitors interest rate risk in its trading book through duration, modified duration, PV01 and Value at Risk (VaR) on daily basis. The foreign exchange risk is measured and monitored in terms of net overnight open position limits (NOOPL), VaR limits, Aggregate Gap Limits (AGL), Individual Gap Limits (IGL) on daily basis. At transaction level, stop loss limits and dealer-wise limits have been prescribed and implemented. Equity price risk is measured and monitored through VaR limits and portfolio size limits etc. At transaction level, stop loss limits and dealerwise limits are put in place to mitigate equity price risk.

Under its stress testing framework, Bank conducts comprehensive stress tests of its trading book portfolio on quarterly basis.

title: Asset Liability Management

, content: Liquidity Risk is the inability to meet expected and unexpected cash and collateral obligation at reasonable cost. In our Bank, the liquidity risk is measured and monitored through Flow Approach and Stock Approach and other prudential stipulations as per the latest guidelines of the Reserve Bank of India. Bank has implemented Basel III Framework on Liquidity Standards - Liquidity Coverage Ratio (LCR), Liquidity Risk Monitoring Tools and LCR Disclosure Standards. The LCR standard aims to ensure that banks maintain an adequate level of unencumbered High Quality Liquid Assets that can be converted into cash to meet liquidity needs for a 30 calendar day time horizon under a significantly severe liquidity stress scenario. Bank has always been well above the stipulated level of LCR on solo basis as well as on consolidated basis. Bank discloses simple average of daily LCR for the respective quarter as part of Notes to Accounts on its website.

Interest Rate Risk in the banking book (IRRBB) arises due to mismatch between rate sensitive assets and liabilities which adversely impact the earnings of the Bank with the change in rate of interest in the market. For measurement and monitoring of Interest rate risk in banking book, Bank uses risk management tools such as Traditional Gap Analysis, Earning at Risk and Modified Duration of Equity. The short-term impact of interest rate movements on Net Interest Income [NII] is worked out through "Earnings at Risk" approach taking into consideration parallel shift in yield curve, yield curve risk, basis risk and embedded options risk. The long-term impact of interest rate movements is measured and monitored through change in Market Value of Equity (MVE).

title: Operational Risk

, content: The Bank has implemented a web-based Operational Risk Management system SAS Enterprise Governance, Risk and Compliance (EGRC) for systemic, holistic and integrated management of Operational Risk. To mitigate and control operational risk at transaction level, Bank has established a Centralised Transaction Monitoring Unit for monitoring of all domestic transactions from KYC/ AML/ CFT angle. Bank has undertaken segregation of customer interface (front office) with the execution of transaction (back office) by centralizing number of back office functions. Centralized Trade Finance Back Office (TFBO) for forex transactions has been set up to minimize operational risk in forex transactions. Bank continues to create a strong risk awareness by imparting trainings to the employees at all levels and by organizing various locational workshops.

Roll out of Key Risk Indicators Programme (KRI), Risk Control and Self-Assessment Programme (RCSA) and root-cause analysis has further strengthened the control environment.

For improved fraud risk management, Bank is in the process of implementing a Enterprise Fraud Risk Monitoring Solution (EFRMS).

title: Basel III Implementation

, content: The Basel III capital regulations have been implemented by Indian banks with effect from April 1, 2013. This implementation requires enhanced quality and quantity of capital on one side and enhanced disclosures on the other. For augmenting and improving core capital of the Bank, new measures for the inclusion of FCTR, DTA and Revaluation Reserves were introduced by RBI in March 2016. Bank has started maintaining Capital Conservation Buffer (CCB) also from March 2016 onwards and will reach minimum prescribed level of 2.5% by FY 2019.

The Bank maintains the regulatory mandated liquidity coverage ratio (LCR) as per the transitional arrangements prescribed by RBI.

title: Compliance

, content: The compliance function is responsible for ensuring that the Bank operates with integrity and in compliance with applicable laws, regulations and internal policies. The Board of Directors oversee the management of Bank's compliance risk.

Bank has put in place a Board approved compliance policy outlining the compliance philosophy of the Bank. Compliance function in the Bank is an integral part of governance along with internal control and compliance risk management process. The compliance function advises senior management and the Board on the Bank's compliance with applicable laws, rules and standards globally and keeps them informed of developments in the area. It also educates employees about compliance issues by conducting periodic trainings and workshops for business staff and designated compliance officers. Knowledge management tools for this purpose have also been uploaded on the Bank's site.

During the year, Bank implemented a web based compliance management solution for certification and monitoring of various regulatory, statutory and internal guidelines at each level in the Bank for further strengthening the compliance function.

title: KYC/ AML Compliance

, content: Bank has well defined KYC-AML-CFT Policy, which is the foundation on which the Bank's implementation of KYC norms, AML standards, CFT measures and obligation of the Bank under Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) 2002 is based. Bank electronically generates Cash Transaction Reports (CTRs) for submission to Financial Intelligence Unit-India (FIU-IND). AML Solution for generating systembased alerts on the basis of transactions in the accounts of the customers is in place. A central transaction monitoring unit (CTMU) also monitors transactions/alerts generated in AML Solution and escalation of ST<sup>2</sup> System-based risk categorization of customers' accounts is done on half yearly basis. Bank files Counterfeit Currency Reports (CCRs) and Non Profit Organizations Transaction Reports (NTRs) to FIUIND, New Delhi every month. It generates cross border wire transfer (EFT) reports every month in electronic mode for submission to FIU-IND, New Delhi.

Bank has implemented Aadhaar based e-KYC in collaboration with UIDAI. Real-time verification with names of individuals/ entities appearing in the sanctions/ UNSCR list or any other blacklist issued by Govt. authorities, while opening of accounts has been put in place. The Bank is in the process of allotting Unique Customer Identification Code (UCIC) to all its existing customers as per the RBI guidelines. The guidelines in respect of beneficial owner are scrupulously followed. Regular trainings and workshops are organized on UCIC and KYC/ AML/CFT compliance for the employees.

title: Internal Audit

, content: Bank carries internal audit function through a Central Internal Audit Division (CIAD). CIAD administers various streams of audits besides Risk Based Internal Audit (RBIA) of branches and offices. Audit Committee of the Board oversees overall internal audit function and guides in developing effective internal audit, concurrent audit, IS Audit and all other audit functions of the Bank. The committee monitors the functioning of the Audit Committee of Executives and internal audit department in the Bank.

CIAD operates through thirteen Zonal Internal Audit Divisions to carry out internal audit of branches/offices as per the periodicity decided by the Risk Based Internal Audit Policy. All branches of the Bank are covered under Risk Based Internal Audit. Out of 4,827 branches audited during FY 2018, 3,873 branches (80.24%) were in Low Risk, 905 branches (18.75 %) were in Medium Risk, 46 branches (0.95 %) were in High Risk and 03 branches (0.06 %) were in Very High Risk category.

Bank engaged an independent firm as a knowledge partner for comprehensive review of the Audit function in line with the processes focusing on centralization of activities by use of technology, imaging solutions and digitization and the same is in progress. The whole gamut of audit approach will undergo a change with extensive use of technology, analytics, sampling and advanced audit methodology. Internal audit processes thus are being revamped aided by technology.

For streamlining the concurrent audit function, with the objective of improving oversight and consistency in approach, Bank has revamped its concurrent audit system whereby a single firm is appointed to conduct concurrent audit of all branches in a Zone. It brings in the benefits of uniformity of approach and of unified view on control & compliances, observations of irregularities and patterns if any. Further, in view of advancement in technology and growing transactional data, Bank has undertaken transformation of audit process supplementing on-site audit process with off-site one for timely preventive actions and improved internal controls.

title: Customer Service

, content: Bank is focused towards providing an excellent customer experience. It has been our constant endeavour to set industry benchmarks and pioneer advancements/innovations in products, processes and service delivery that is imperative to provide seamless experience to our customers. We have been actively engaged in understanding and identifying gaps between customer needs and expectations through the Voice of the customers (annual surveys and real-time ongoing bottoms-up surveys), embedding CX goals in the Organisation's goals, building "Client First Culture", redesigning experiences (product design, systems and processes) to deliver wow experiences for enhanced customer satisfaction and loyalty.

Some of the initiatives undertaken in this direction are as follows:

Voice of our customers: Customer feedback provides us an opportunity to improve our services, understand and identify gaps between customer needs and their expectations. We conduct an annual survey and a monthly bottoms-up surveys to measure customer satisfaction and ease of banking with us. Presently, a monthly customer satisfaction survey is being conducted across all access channels by 2 leading market research agencies on behalf of the bank. The Bank tops the list across public sector banks across all access channels.

Customer Experience goals have been embedded in the organisation's goals and scorecards with CX goals has been completed for more than 60% of the Bank (top management and branches).

Governance: Dashboards/customer centric metrics for key customer impacting processes – top 5 processes have been completed.

Organising for success : Bank has been constantly trying to reorganise by bringing together departments which require the similar skill sets and expertise under one umbrella, for FTE and cost optimisation (e.g. bringing digital operations under Operations at BGSS)

Mystery Shoppings/service audits to assess the service levels of the primary access channel, i.e. our branches, are being held on a regular basis. These audits cover every aspect of customer - branch ambience to wait time, priority for senior citizens and specially abled people, BCSBI Code compliance, awareness of processes and policies and more. A 20% coverage of the branches (selected randomly) in each Zone is the target. A task force comprising of officials from Customer Experience, Customer Service, Regional & Zonal Compliance and Regional training Centre teams has been formed to ensure regular feedback and trainings are provided to the branches basis the identified gaps.

Grievance Redressal - End to end revamp of the entire grievance machinery has been done. In Phase I - Bank's Online Grievance Redressal Portal SPGRS has been made a single repository of complaints. SPGRS has been integrated with DCRS (portal used for handling debit card related complaints) to have an improved mechanism for internal control, grievance monitoring, redressal, MIS & regulatory reporting. Various enhancements have also been made to make the system more robust and user friendly (like back up/DR & server upgrade, self-explanatory complaint category codes, options to consult, refer, attach and reopen complaints, auto-escalations, prioritization, option to capture customer feedback on resolution, auto acknowledgements, interims and close looping SMS are some of the options). Customers will also be able to provide their feedback on resolution through an SMS "Happy/Unhappy" (the development is underway). The improved monitoring & tracking has already helped in ensuring that than 75% of the complaints are now being resolved within 7 days.

Process reengineering: KYC and Account opening form, dispatch and delivery of welcome kit with cheque book, debit card along with welcome letter have been streamlined.

Customer segmentation for differential services- Baroda Radiance has been launched in 2 cities and RMs have been on boarded.

To embed the culture of "Client first " in all our interactions, the core values - Integrity, Courage, Customer Centricity, Passionate Ownership, Innovation and Excellence, have been put in place . Our next step is to ensure that Bank as a whole adopts these values to ensure "Client First " in all our day to day interactions with customers, and to ensure any change- be it systems/ processes - is done keeping customers' interest at the core of all our actions.

Contact Centre enhancements are underway to provide the best in class services through contact centre to our customers. The service level of contact centre has improved from 42.94% in August, 2017 to 93.39% in April,2018 and lost calls are now less than 2%.

The 24X7 Contact Centre is available in -6- regional languages which handles customer queries, complaints and emergency services such as card blocking and reissuance. It also handles calls from two overseas locations - Mauritius and Botswana. Call Centre also has a dedicated outbound sales unit handling auto loans, personal loans and insurance. A dedicated HNI number and team is available for Baroda Radiance customers. Initiatives currently underway include video chat and web chat.

A sub-committee of Board on customer service oversees the issues relating to the formulation of policies on customer service and experience and its compliance. Bank has also set up a Standing Committee on Procedures and Performance Audit on Customer Services which includes two eminent public personalities, Executive Directors and senior officials of the Bank. This Committee oversees timely and effective compliance of the RBI instructions on customer service and also reviews the practices and procedures prevalent in Bank and takes necessary corrective steps on an ongoing basis. At branch level, Branch Customer Service Committee is in place.

Bank is also a member of the Banking Codes and Standards Board of India (BCSBI) and has adopted the "Code of Commitment to the Customers" and the "Code of Bank's Commitment to MICRO and Small Enterprises". During the last rating exercise, Bank has been rated "Above Average" in overall score by BCSBI.

title: Vigilance

, content: Vigilance function in the Bank aims at proactively supporting bonafide decisions and simultaneously acting as a deterrent for ensuring that no wrongdoing takes place. The thrust remains on identifying leakages within the organization that may lead to financial losses, taking corrective and preventive action to plug them.

Bank gives importance to preventive vigilance to inculcate awareness on the compliance to internal systems and processes. To encourage employee confidence and enhanced awareness, various initiatives on preventive vigilance are taken by the Vigilance department. Preventive vigilance audits of sensitive branches identified on the basis of risk perception, are undertaken. Employees are sensitized on preventive vigilance aspect, as to consequences of flouting rules and regulations which may lead to perpetration of frauds by unscrupulous elements, through Vigilance newsletter, circulars, meetings etc.

The number of staff accountability cases has been brought down by ensuring speedy disposal of vigilance matters. Other initiatives include implementation of bio-metric authentication in CBS, online submission of property returns by officers and placing immoveable property return of executives on Bank's website. An exclusive portal BoB e-vigil, incorporating online vigilance clearance, disciplinary proceedings status, complaint management system etc. is being made operational which aims to make the transparency, supervisory and MIS function more effective.

The Vigilance machinery performs its role as decision facilitators, rather than decision deterrent, by strengthening the systems and procedures, plugging loopholes and erasing grey areas. It is imparting participative, proactive and preventive mechanisms to meet the desired impact.

During the year, online whistleblower complaint system has been made operative in addition to the traditional paper based system for raising concerns at the right time under whistle blower guidelines to avoid undue delay and restricting the potential damage.

title: Human Resources

, content: Bank believes that our human resources are the biggest differentiator having a direct and significant impact on Bank's overall performance. Bank has a rich reservoir of human resources comprising over 55,000+ employees. Bank's HR has undertaken a number of initiatives viz. recruitment and onboarding of talent in the wake of a large number of superannuations, strengthening performance management system through Project SparshPlus, addressing training needs, leadership development needs across the Bank through a comprehensive leadership development program - "WeLead", succession planning and increased levels of employee engagement.

During Bank's first employee engagement survey "Voice of Barodians", several positives that emerged were taken into account for variety of action plans. These include capability building initiatives to take on higher order challenges in the Bank's transformation journey. Bank's intent is to ensure that the employee experience across all levels is further enhanced so as to create a fun and happy place to work in. Towards this end, the Bank launched a series of initiatives for the employees.

Bank has undertaken a similar survey this year also to gauge the feedback on implementation on first survey.

title: 'Baroda Anubhuti' Programme

, content: This is an employee engagement programme. Various initiatives have been undertaken to enhance the overall employee engagement like 'Employee of the month', spot recognition - capturing 'Wow' moments, Fun hour at all branches/offices, local community service/social activities by employees and various sports, cultural and wellness activities.

As a part of the programme, once in six months, mandatory community service programme is carried through all branches/offices of the Bank. It helps build a social connect of employees with the local community besides inculcating a spirit of service and care while Bank undertaking its responsibility as good corporate citizen.

During the year, on the occasion of Bank's Foundation Day and on Republic Day, Bank undertook the following community service activities:

Blood Donation – more than 10,000 units of blood
Tree Plantations drive – around 35,000 saplings planted Cleanliness drive – more than 2,100 drives in various localities
Distribution of materials, miscellaneous items to the poor and needy – more than 81,000 items
Distribution of materials, misc. items to orphanages / old age homes – more than 55,000 items Conducting Health Check Up Camps – more than 8,200 people were covered.

title: 'WeLead' - a comprehensive Leadership Development Programme
, content: Bank introduced a comprehensive leadership development initiative called 'WeLead' with the objective of building a robust and sustainable pipeline of leaders for future. This is through -4- distinctive programmes:

Baroda Senior Leadership Programme – for Officers in Scales VI & VII
Baroda Emerging Leaders Programme – for Officers in Scales V
Baroda Rising Stars Programme – for Officers in Scales IV
Sayaji Rao Gaekwad Scholars Programme – for Officers in Scales I, II & III
Under the 4 programmes, Bank has identified over 2,700 potential leaders to take over the leadership positions in future. Bank has plans to extend the coverage of this programme.

title: Baroda GEMS (Growth and Empowerment Management System)
, content: Under Project "SparshPlus" Bank has introduced a new Performance Management System (PMS) for employees, christened as Baroda GEMS (Growth & Empowerment Management System). The approach of the entire PMS system is to shift the focus from an evaluative mechanism to a development and growth oriented mechanism of employee performance.

Baroda GEMS is a digital platform and provides periodical updates to each officer on his/her performance. It provides performance analysis and feedback through performance scorecards and minimizes subjectivity in assessment process. It enables differentiation of performers through comparison in similar cohorts, provides officers with control on their output/ results, brings in more transparency and thereby enables a performance driven culture in the Bank.

title: Learning and Development
, content: To provide alternate learning channels and build learning environment, Bank undertook various initiatives like roll out a multi-function, one stop Baroda Academy Mobile application, Baroda Radio and such other interventions which cater to the requirement of learning. The Bank has put in place a 'life cycle concept of training' to provide training in a focused and phased manner aligned to the job role performed and to the requirements at various stages of employee's career. The e-learning platform of Baroda Net Academy hosts more than 230 modules and more than 7 lakh courses were completed by employees during FY 2018.

title: Wellness and fitness drives
, content: The Bank formed Sports & Cultural Clubs for employees in Zonal and Regional office centres across the country to promote sports and cultural activities and to inculcate wellness and fitness awareness amongst the employees. Bank conducted Inter Zonal Tournaments in 6 disciplines last year in different parts of the country which saw active participation by teams from all Zones.

The Bank also started a concept of "Annual Sports Day" of the Bank. First of such event was held on November 25, 2017. Sports activities were organized for the entire day simultaneously across all zonal and regional centres. The event saw active engagement by the families of the employees also.

title: Recruitment

, content: The Bank is focused on developing processes to attract the best talent. During the year, Bank revamped the selection process for admission to the Baroda Manipal School of Banking. The course contents have also been re-casted and tailor-made to develop required banking skills in the emerging environment.

To augment the skill sets and address the manpower requirements arising in the Bank, 6,257 employees were onboarded in various cadres through lateral, contractual and other recruitment channels taking the total employee strength to 55,662 as on March 31, 2018.

title: Thrust on Diversity

, content: Bank follows a non-discriminatory and equal opportunity policies for all its employees. Bank is transparent in all issues relating to promotion, career path, transfer policy and employee benefit/welfare schemes.

In order to create a more diverse workplace, Bank has been progressively increasing its recruitment of women employees. The percentage of women in the overall staff composition has increased to 23% in FY 2018 from 22.70% in FY 2017 and 22% in FY 2016. The gender diversity ratio (ratio of men to women employees) in the Bank now stands at 3:1.

In order to retain women employees at all levels and in recognition of the concomitant responsibilities of women, Bank has put in place various facilities to support women employees such as sabbatical leave, health check-up program for women employees and other initiatives.

title: Bank's Core Values

, content: During the year, Bank's core values aligned to leadership competencies were unveiled. These were formulated based on feed-back received from employees across the globe and are the guiding principles based on which we operate. Six core values of the Bank are:

Integrity – We are ethical and transparent in our words, actions and dealings with all stakeholders.

Customer Centricity – Our customers' interests lie at the core of all our actions.

Courage – We are resilient in the face of adversity and having faith in our beliefs.

Passionate Ownership – We display energy, enthusiasm and commitment towards our Bank and we work together for the Bank.

Innovation – We create value with break-through ideas.

Excellence – We strive for continuous improvement in our policies, systems and processes.

Bank has taken necessary steps for institutionalising these core values across the organisation.

title: Implementation of Official Language (OL) Policy

, content: During FY 2018, Bank made exemplary progress in implementing the Official Language Policy of Government of India. Besides compliance of various statutory requirements under Official Language Policy of the Union Government and directives issued by Reserve Bank of India, our Bank promoted Hindi as a tool for business development and establishing connect with the customers.

During the year, Bank was awarded First Prize by Government of India, Ministry of Home Affairs, Department of Official Language under linguistic Region 'B'. Similarly, our Zonal Office, Jaipur, Regional Office, Varanasi and Head Office, Baroda were also awarded with prizes in the related linguistic regions. President of India his Excellency Shri Ramnath Kovind distributed the prizes on Hindi Day 2017.

Jaipur, Varanasi, New Delhi, Goa, Guwahati, Lucknow, Manjhanpur (UP) and Patna offices of our Bank also received awards from Govt. of India through its Regional Implementation Offices for their outstanding work. Bank continued with its unique scheme "Medhavi Vidyarthi Samman Yojana" for popularising Hindi in 64 universities of the country.

title: BOB Financial Solutions Ltd. (BFSL) (erstwhile Bobcards Ltd):

, content: The name of this subsidiary was changed to reflect its new business role. Gradually widening the scope based on the expertise acquired in the payment card industry over a period of time and envisaging growth opportunities for cards and digital payments in India, BFSL is gearing up to be an important player in consumer credit and payment system in the evolving market landscape. The company is in process of introducing new business lines besides revamping the existing business. It aims to be a consumer finance company for credit card and personal loans business. During the year, various initiatives were taken by the company for its growth. It launched New 5x range of cards, EMI on transaction, online application processing & underwriting. Dedicated Call Centre to attend POS related complaints were set up. Pursuant to strong position to aggressively chase business growth, BFSL is completing technology and infrastructure upgrades, build the manpower backbone of the organization and reach a scalable and cost effective outsourcing operations model, delivering optimal customer experience and stable internal processes.

title: BOB Capital Markets Limited (BOBCAPS)

, content: BOBCAPS after refreshed branding realigned its business and focused on three lines of businesses viz. (a) Investment Banking – Debt & Equity (b) Institutional Broking and (c) Wealth Management and Online Retail Broking. It is also licensed to undertake portfolio management services (PMS). During the year, the company strengthened its teams in all business and support verticals as also its branding and infrastructure to be able to leverage strengths of the parent and establish itself as an important player in the businesses. The Company acted as Book Running Lead Manager (BRLM) in three QIP issuances and has a good pipeline of transactions in debt, equity and M&A investment banking. In broking, the company's enhanced products and services are resulting in rise in institutional and retail clients and business.

title: The Nainital Bank Limited

, content: The Nainital Bank Limited (NBL), promoted by Late Bharat Ratna Pandit Govind Ballabh Pant and others became an Associate Bank of Bank of Baroda in the year 1973. Bank's holding in Nainital Bank Ltd. is 98.57%. Total Business of NBL which was ₹ 10,132.7 crore as on March 31, 2017 increased to ₹ 10,772.1 crore as on March 31, 2018. Gross NPA of the Bank remained almost flat at ₹ 167.5 crore as on March 31, 2018 from a level of ₹ 164.3 crore as on March 31, 2017. The net profit of the Bank was ₹ 48.9 crore in FY 2018 against profit of ₹ 48.5 crore during previous year. Bank opened 3 new branches and established 5 Loan processing units named as Naini Loan Points (NLPs) at different locations. Bank installed 11 white label ATMs taking the total to 24 such ATMs and installed 772 POS machines. During the year NBL was awarded as "Best MSME Bank (Private Sector)" by ASSOCHAM.

title: Baroda Global Shared Services Ltd. (BGSS)

, content: Established during FY 2017, BGSS commenced its operations during the year. The subsidiary is providing services by helping Bank to digitize the processes and centralize its back office operations at the state-of-the-art Shared Services Centre (SSC) at GIFT City, Gandhinagar, Gujarat.

Currently it has more than 600 FTEs in non-voice (transaction processing) and ~ 750 FTEs in voice (call centre) which are being scaled up. Significant progress has been achieved on centralization of trade finance and forex operations, account opening (liabilities) and retail loan processing. The goal is to map complete foot print of branches (5400+) in line with centralized hub by which 24*7 customer service can be provided to clients

A robust governance frame work adhering to standard operating procedures (SOPs) and risk and control selfassessment (RCSA) framework has been set up at SSC to improve efficiency and strengthen internal controls and compliance under one roof. At TFBO in SSC, a quality control unit has also been set up.

title: Barodasun Technologies Ltd.

, content: During the year, Bank setup a wholly owned IT subsidiary. Bank is in the process of setting up an IT Centre of Excellence (ITCoE) to identify new emerging trends and provide technology differentiation. The ITCoE would provide design thinking skills, process design, architectural skills and core development capacity in current and future technology, helping the business to leverage technology for realizing business outcomes.

title: IndiaFirst Life Insurance Company Ltd.

, content: IndiaFirst Life Insurance Company Ltd., a joint venture with Andhra Bank and Legal & General group. It commenced business operations on November 16, 2009. It is the fastest life insurance company to break even in the 5th year of operations. Its current industry ranking in Individual New Business (APE) is 14th among the private players with Assets under Management (AUM) at ₹ 12,622 crore as on March 31, 2018.

The company was conferred with the "Bancassurance Leader of the Year" award in the large company category at the National Awards 2017 for Excellence in insurance for successfully implementing the Bancassurance model.

In line with its global strategy, Legal & General has plans to divest its stake in the joint venture. The process for the same is underway.

title: India Infradebt Limited (Infradebt)

, content: Infradebt is the first Infrastructure Debt Fund (IDF)-NBFC and is sponsored by Bank of Baroda, ICICI Bank, Citicorp Finance (India) Limited and LIC of India as the shareholders. The principle activity of the company is to re-finance the infrastructure projects which have achieved completion as well as one year of commercial operations. The synergy with the Bank arises from its focus on lending to infrastructure projects including to road and renewable energy sectors. Infradebt is rated AAA by CRISIL and ICRA and enjoys 100% Income-tax exemption. The company has delivered healthy growth in last full four years of operations. Its loan book as on March 31, 2018 was ₹ 7,718.6 crore and net profit for FY 2018 was ₹ 132.5 crore.

title: Baroda Pioneer Asset Management Company Limited

, content: It is a Joint Venture of the Bank with Pioneer Global Asset Management SpA and is in its eighth year of operation. The Average Assets under Management (AUM) of the venture were ₹ 11,502 crore as on March 31, 2018, registering an annual growth of 10%. Growth in its long term assets was higher than the overall growth. The company continued its focus on building retail assets. It also undertakes third party distribution and saw good success with the Independent management company.

Financial Advisor (IFA) channel during the year.

During the year, Bank entered into an agreement with UniCredit S.P.A.(the parent company of Pioneer Global Asset Management SpA) to buy its 51% stake in the company, subject to regulatory approvals. Post completion of the transaction, the Bank will own 100% of the asset title: Dividend Distribution Policy

, content: As required under Regulation 43A of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements), 2015, Bank has dividend distribution policy in place which sets out the parameters and circumstances that will be taken into account by Board in determining distribution of dividend to its shareholders. The policy is given in this Annual Report and is also available on the Bank's website at www.bankofbaroda.com/download/Dividend.pdf

title: Appointments

, content: Shri Lok Ranjan was nominated as Director w.e.f. August 26, 2017 by The Central Government u/s 9 (3) (b) of The Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1970 to hold the post until further orders.

Smt. Soundara Kumar was elected as Shareholder Director under section 9 (3)(i) of The Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1970, for a period of 3 years from December 24, 2017 to December 23, 2020.

Shri Bharatkumar D Dangar was elected as Shareholder Director under section 9 (3)(i) of The Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1970, for a second term of 3 years from December 24, 2017 to December 23, 2020.

title: Cessations

, content: Shri Mohammad Mustafa Director, ceased to be a Government Nominee Director w.e.f. August 26, 2017 on the appointment of Shri Lok Ranjan in his place.

Shri Prem Kumar Makkar Director, ceased to be a Non Workmen Director w.e.f. September 19, 2017 on completion of the tenure of -3- years.

Dr. R. Narayanaswamy Director, ceased to be a Shareholders Director w.e.f. December 24, 2017 on completion of the tenure of -3- years.

title: Board Evaluation

, content: In FY 2017, the Bank engaged a reputed external consulting firm to conduct an independent evaluation of the Board, its committees and individual directors. In FY 2018, this evaluation was followed up by an independently administered questionnaire by the same consulting firm. The questionnaire was completed by all the directors. The questionnaire included a range of topics to evaluate the performance of the Board. These includes:-

Composition & Effectiveness Governance

Relations with Management Committees

Continuous Improvement

The responses received from the Board members were compiled and a report was submitted by the consulting firm to all Directors on the Board. The Directors discussed the Report and agreed on a set of actions to drive further improvement in Board effectiveness.

title: Auditors' Compliance Certificate on Corporate Governance:

, content: The Auditors Compliance Certificate regarding the compliance of the conditions of Corporate Governance for the year 2017-18 is annexed with this report pursuant to "Part "E" of Schedule V of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015.

title: Business Responsibility Report

, content: Business Responsibility Report as required by SEBI has been hosted on the website of the Bank (www.bankofbaroda.co.in). Any member interested in obtaining a physical copy of the same may write to the Company Secretary of the Bank.

title: Directors' Responsibility Statement

, content: The Directors confirm that in the preparation of the annual accounts for the Financial Year ended March 31, 2018:

The applicable accounting standards had been followed along with proper explanation relating to material departures if any;

The accounting policies framed in accordance with the guideline of Reserve Bank of India were followed and the directors had selected such accounting policies and applied them consistently and made judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent so as to give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the Bank at the end of the financial year and of the profit and loss of the Bank for that period;

The directors had taken proper and sufficient care for the maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of applicable laws to the Bank for safeguarding the assets of the Bank and for preventing and detecting fraud and other irregularities;

The directors had prepared the annual accounts on a going concern basis; and

The directors had ensured that internal financial controls followed by the Bank are in accordance with guidelines issued by Reserve Bank of India in this regard and that such internal financial controls are adequate and were operating effectively.

Explanation. For the purposes of this clause, the term "internal financial controls" means the policies and procedures adopted by the Bank for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to Bank's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information;

The directors had devised proper systems to ensure compliance with the provisions of all applicable laws and that such systems were adequate and operating effectively.

title: Acknowledgements

, content: The Directors place on record their appreciation for the contributions made by the outgoing Directors viz. Shri Mohammad Mustafa, Shri Prem Kumar Makkar and Dr. R. Narayanaswamy.

The Directors express their sincere thanks to the Government of India, Reserve Bank of India, Securities and Exchange Board of India, other regulatory authorities and the overseas regulators for their continued co-operation, guidance and support.

Bank would like to take this opportunity to express sincere thanks to its valued clients for their continued patronage and support.

The Directors acknowledge with deep appreciation of the cooperation extended by all shareholders, banks and financial institutions, rating agencies, stock exchanges and all the well wishers in India and abroad.

The Directors also take this opportunity to place on record deep appreciation for the hard work and dedication of the employees of our Bank which enabled our Bank to record growth with quality year after year despite economic challenges and consolidate its position as one of the premier banks in the country.

P S Jayakumar

Managing Director and CEO

title: Statement of Chairman

, content: The Government of India began the process of reforming Public Sector Banks (PSBs) under mission "Indradhanush" in 2015. Over the past three years, Bank of Baroda has undertaken a comprehensive transformation to not only deal with the legacy of bad loans but to create a modern and competitive Bank. Although this transformation is very much a work in progress, I would like to share some of what has been accomplished.

title: What has been done to fundamentally reduce the risk of bad loans and frauds?

, content: Japanese companies like Toyota taught the world that quality must be prevention-driven not inspection-driven. A similar revolution is needed within PSU banks. Public sector banks are accident-prone by design and can only be fixed by making fundamental changes to the architecture, process controls and culture. Frauds and bad loans cannot be reduced simply by fear of staff accountability and ex-post investigations.

Over the last three years, there has been a massive effort at Bank of Baroda to redesign processes and to strengthen controls and compliance. The Bank has moved to a modern frontend/ backend decision architecture. Account opening, processing and approval of retail loans, forex and trade finance transactions have been moved from branches to a centralised back office. This ensures that there is a clear segregation of duties. Branches are only servicing customers; transaction processing is done at Shared Services Center in Gift City, Gandhinagar. All processes are being digitized to provide greater transparency and control. A dedicated and independent Fraud Risk Management Unit has been setup to monitor and mitigate fraud risks proactively and an enterprise fraud risk management system is being deployed which is integrated to Bank's overall risk management platform. A web based compliance management has been implemented across India. With a high degree of digitization, the Bank increasingly has access to enormous transaction data and this is enabling the Audit paradigm to evolve from manual, decentralized, transaction driven and ex-post to being preventive, analytical, intelligent and real time. Such a transformation will take time because it requires a change of mindset and capability.

To reduce the risk of bad loans, the Bank has moved to a new risk based pricing for retail customers leading to a sharp improvement in risk profile. The percentage of customers with credit bureau score < 725 is down from 19% to 1% and those with scores above 725 has increased from 41% to 63%. This approach along with a strong centralized collections team, is crucial to being able to rapidly expand our retail lending.

On the corporate side, public sector banks have been plagued by an "adverse-selection" problem where the least desirable customers target the banks rather than the banks targeting the most desirable customers. Bank of Baroda has shifted to a "target customer driven approach" where we proactively reach out to the most desirable customers with differentiated value propositions. The identification of target customers has been completed along with the establishment of risk based credit limits. Account plans are in place at major metro centres covering 80% of corporate credit and these accounts and plans are owned and executed through dedicated Relationship Managers (RMs). This has resulted in a significant change in the risk profile of our corporate customers. Now two-third of customers are above investment grade up from a 44% three years ago. These are but a few examples of the paradigm shift in lending practices at our Bank.

title: What has been done to make Bank of Baroda more competitive?

, content: Public sector banks have been hemorrhaging market share to their private sector competitors for some years. With many banks already under Prompt Corrective Action, this share erosion is likely to accelerate. Margins and profitability are also under significant stress. These are predictable outcomes;

banking is becoming a more sophisticated game where technology, analytics and expertise are becoming ever more vital. Public sector banks have to make the shift or lose out. Over the past three years, Bank of Baroda, has been able to make significant strides in becoming competitive and improving market share and profitability. The Bank has added more than 23mn customers over a span of 36 months with the customer base now at 78mn. CASA deposits have been growing with the CASA ratio rising by 8% to 41.2% over the period. During this year, retail lending has grown by 42% and corporate lending by 16%. MSME and Agricultural lending has also grown. These results are the consequence of several underlying initiatives.

On the consumer front, the Bank has invested massively in technology to improve the customer experience. For instance, new savings accounts now can be opened in a few minutes in a paperless format through Tablets. Significant improvements have been made to internet and mobile banking applications. Customer service is improving although there is a long way to go yet; service levels in the Bank's call centre operations have now improved to more than 93% compared with sub- 60% earlier. Turnaround time in closing customer complaints satisfactorily has come down substantially; 74% of customer complaints are closed within 7 working days. Customer service has been included as a KRA at the branch level.

Besides process revamping, new product innovation has also been a big focus and competitive products have been launched across all segments. These include Supply Chain Financing, Cash Management (Baroda DigiNext), Trade Finance platform-BarodaINSTA (Baroda Integrated Solution for Trade Finance Access), customised products such as gold loans, horticulture loans, wealth management services, educational, mortgage and automotive including commercial vehicle financing.

title: International Business

, content: Bank of Baroda is rightly called "India's International Bank". However, as the global order readjusts, there is a need to rethink on the Bank's international footprint. The Bank has undertaken a comprehensive strategic reassessment of its international presence based on business potential and risks. This has resulted in a decision to exit a number of countries including Bahrain, Guyana, Bangkok and South Africa. Discussions are underway with other PSBs for further consolidation of territories. In the future, the Bank will focus on the US, UAE and UK and develop stronger ties with Japan and Korea to take advantage of rapidly growing commerce with these countries.

title: Technology

, content: Banking is rapidly becoming a technology driven business and consequently, the Bank has invested massively in upgrading its technology capability. The Bank's main core banking platform has been upgraded; this has enabled customer-friendly internet and mobile banking and the seamless integration of many digital applications that work across various devices. Nearly 40+ new enterprise applications including a Supply Chain Financing solution, Cash Management System, Trade Finance Portal, Loan Management System, Fraud Management System, Central Compliance Management System, Digital Document Management System have been implemented. When these are fully deployed and integrated by the end of FY 2019, Bank of Baroda will have world class IT capability. Our Bank is amongst the first to establish a "Fintech" vertical; with over twenty partnerships delivering significant business already, BOB is seen as an emerging leader in this vital new arena.

Impressive as our catch-up has been, technology is a rapidly evolving arena. To ensure that Bank of Baroda remains at the leading edge of banking technology, an IT Subsidiary has been established with partnerships with world class companies like IBM and Accenture for IT and Analytics respectively.

title: People & Organization

, content: Public Sector banks face a significant shortage of talent especially more senior leaders who are able to drive performance and change. There is also an acute shortage of expertise in areas like technology, risk management and fraud control. To address this, our Bank has made very significant investments in improving leadership and people capabilities. One of the most important is a comprehensive leadership development initiative called 'We lead', with the objective of building a strong and sustainable pipeline of leaders for our Bank. Over 2700 high potential managers from Scale I to Scale VII have been carefully identified and are being developed into future leaders through a variety of intense interventions over the span of a year. This program is also integrated with succession planning.

To become a learning organization, employees are encouraged to continuously acquire new skills through a new "life cycle concept of training". Alternate learning channels such as the Baroda Academy mobile application and Baroda Radio try to make learning fun and encourage learning on the go providing bite sized content, videos, audios, quizzes and games. On the Bank's e-learning platform, our Baroda Net Academy now hosts more than 230 modules and more than 7 lakh courses were completed by employees during year FY 2018.

Investments in internal talent development have been selectively augmented by hiring experts from the market with specialised knowledge and skill sets on a contract basis. Striking an appropriate balance between talent promoted from within and selective assimilation of expertise from outside will be a critical success factor for public sector banks.

The Bank introduced a new Performance Management System for employees called Baroda GEMS (Growth & Empowerment Management System). Baroda GEMS is a state of the art, mobile-accessible system which enables individual goal setting, continuous feedback and coaching. A business analytics backend gives management unprecedented drilldown capability. GEMS is expected to deliver a big leap in transparency, accountability and development.

title: Governance

, content: Bank of Baroda has a committed and highly engaged Board. In FY 2018, the Board met 13 times for 15 days; median attendance was 92% with half the Directors having 100% attendance. In addition, the Management Committee met 37 times and the Audit Committee 15 times.

In FY 2018, the Board consciously spent over half of its time on business strategy and execution and risk mitigation.

In order to strengthen the Board, we have inducted expert Advisors onto Committees of the Board particularly in the areas of Risk Management, IT, HR and Financial Inclusion. This has been very helpful.

This is the second consecutive year when an independent review of Board effectiveness was conducted by an external agency and this has further strengthened processes and board dynamics.

title: Results

, content: The consequence of Bank of Baroda embarking on a fundamental transformation exercise in 2015 is that it has emerged as one of the strongest large banks in India. Early recognition and cleaning of books has resulted in a provision coverage of 67.21% which is highest amongst public sector banks. Capital adequacy ratio of 12.13% remains above regulatory requirements. Credit growth has been accelerating. Net Interest Margin has been improving and operating profits have grown 24% in FY 2017 and 9% in FY 2018.

I am confident that as the economy strengthens, as credit offtake improves, as the NPAs get resolved, Bank of Baroda will be able to grow profits strongly.

title: Acknowledgements

, content: I feel privileged to thank every stakeholder of the Bank who plays a vital role in our success. Without their support and tireless efforts we could not be where we are today.

I would also like to thank the Members of the Board for their valuable guidance, support and prudent advice rendered.

I and my colleagues on the Board place on record our appreciation for counsel and guidance received from the Government of India, RBI, SEBI, other regulatory authorities, various financial institutions, banks and correspondents in India and abroad.

I also place on record our appreciation for the unstinted trust and support of our customers, shareholders, investors and vendors.

I also thank the employees of Bank of Baroda for their efforts, dedication and commitment to Bank's growth.

Before I conclude, I would like to thank all of you for your presence and interest in the Bank.

Thank you.

Place: Vadodara

Date: 13th July 2018

Ravi Venkatesan

Chairman

title: MD & CEO's Statement

, content: " Sustaining Performance amidst Challenging Times"

Shri Ranjan Dhawan

Shri Ranjan Dhawan Managing Director and CEO

Dear Stakeholder,

I am pleased to report that during the year 2014-15 (FY15), Bank of Baroda not only displayed its resilience to challenges in the Indian economy, but also sustained its performance in these challenging times. With the help of well crafted business model, the Bank crossed the 10 trillion mark of business during the year by diversifying its operations across all the verticals and using technology to its advantage.

At this point, I deem it most appropriate to review the macroeconomic environment, within which Bank of Baroda operated during FY15.

title: Indian Economic Review

, content: During FY15, the Indian economy witnessed a gradual movement from stagflation, that is, stagnating growth and high inflation, to a phase of emerging green shoots of growth and sharp decline in inflation. The collapse of international commodity prices, in particular of crude oil prices, reduced political uncertainty, improved policy environment, increasing pace of reforms and fiscal consolidation have resulted in a better growth prospects for Indian economy.

The cyclical upturn signaling improvements in macro-economic stability showed up in lower than expected inflation, and manageable current account deficit with stable rupee and rising foreign exchange reserves. The CPI (combined) inflation slipped from 8.59% in April 2014 to 5.17% in March 2015, wholesale price index (WPI) dipped to (-) 2.33% by March 2015 on the back of sharp decline in fuel and food prices. Though, the exports and imports remained subdued due to weak domestic and global economies, the buoyant inflows driven by the sharp rally in stock market, kept the external sector stable. The current account deficit was at 1.6% in Q3 FY15 as against 2% in Q2, FY15. Also, foreign exchange reserves touched an all time high of US $343.0 billion during FY15.

Further, the Union Budget focused investment driven growth by increasing public expenditure on infrastructure especially roads and railways. Though, the Government achieved fiscal deficit target of 4.1% set for 2014-15, it adopted a moderate path for further fiscal consolidation by postponing the glide path to 3% from 2 years to 3 years. Moreover, the central government passed a number of key legislations relating to coal and insurance during FY15.

Even so, the macroeconomic environment remained weak during FY15 with agriculture being affected adversely both during the kharif and rabi season due to deficit and unseasonal rains. The Index of Industrial production which saw some better growth in the first quarter of FY15, slumped thereafter as structural constraints led to persistent decline in the production of core industries such as steel, natural gas and fertilizers. Also, capital goods production was marked by volatility due to stalled investments, risk aversion and weak demand. The consumer goods production was also affected by lower rural incomes and significant deceleration in corporate sales growth. The services sector growth remained mixed.

Amidst the weak operating economy, the deposit and credit growth of scheduled commercial banks remained lacklustre throughout the year. For banks, capital conservation and efficient utilization of capital has become an important challenge in view of stringent Basel -III capital norms, asset quality challenges and higher provisions. The asset quality was the major concern of the banking sector in view of subdued economic growth and worsened repayment capacity of the borrowers.

With the sharp fall in the inflation, the RBI reduced the SLR by 150 bps and benchmark repo rate was reduced by 50 bps during the year. The banks were in a position to reduce the deposit rates in the last quarter of the FY15.

Apart from this, the banking sector participated actively in the Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana, the biggest financial inclusion initiative of the Central Government. As of March 31, 2015, the banks opened a record 14.7 crore accounts with a balance of Rs 15,670 crore in such accounts. Besides this, the banking space is set to widen with the introduction of newer market participants such as small banks and payment banks in near future.

However, banks with relatively stronger systems of credit monitoring and cash recovery were better equipped to cope with this challenge and delivered a sound performance during FY15 despite challenging macroeconomic environment.

title: Bank of Baroda: Sustaining Performance amidst Challenging times
, content: During FY15, despite the macro headwinds, your Bank's global businesses crossed the 10 trillion mark and touched Rs 10,45,625 crore by registering a growth of 8.25%. The domestic business grew at a higher rate of 8.43% in FY15 and reached Rs 7,06,148 crore. During the year, your Bank pursued the strategy of continuing to diversify its loan book in favour of retail, MSME and agriculture credit, as opportunities in large-sized corporate segment had dried up. Further, as a part of conscious strategy, your Bank shed bulk and high cost deposits significantly to contain the liability costs.

Your Bank's international business grew at 7.88% (y-o-y) to reach Rs 3,39,477 crore in FY15. Healthy mobilization of domestic CASA deposits at the rate of 13.60% (y-o-y) and shedding of high-cost preferential deposits helped your Bank to improve its NIM in domestic operations at 2.91% in FY15 as against 2.87% in FY14.

Your Bank posted Operating Profit of Rs 9,915 crore (up 6.01%, y-o-y) supported by healthy Net Interest Income (at Rs 13,187 crore), Core Fees (Rs 2,200 crore), Treasury Gains (Rs 2,013 crore) and Recoveries from Written-Off Accounts (Rs 188.54 crore) combined with prudent control over Total Expenses. However, due to higher tax and non-tax provisions, your Bank posted Net Profit of Rs 3,398 crore (down 25.16%, y-o-y) during FY15.

Due to continuous stress in the economy and slow recovery, the banking industry continued to face the challenge of maintaining asset quality during the year under review also. Asset Quality therefore continued to show increased stress during the year. However, asset quality saw some improvement between the third quarter and the fourth quarter of FY15, wherein the Gross NPA declined from 3.85% at end-December, 2014 to 3.72% at end-March, 2015 and Net NPA declined from 2.11% to 1.89%. For the full year, the Gross NPA and Net NPA were at 3.72% and 1.89% in FY15 as against 2.94% and 1.52% in FY14, respectively. The Bank's Provision Coverage Ratio (PCR) remained at 64.99% in FY15 as against 65.45% in FY14.

Your Bank's Capital Adequacy Ratio continued to reflect its capital strength. The CRAR was healthy at 13.33% in terms of Basel II and 12.60% in terms of Basel III at end-March, 2015, with Tier 1 capital ratios at 10.14% and 9.87%, respectively. Common Equity Tier 1 was at 9.35% as per Basel III norms.

title: Corporate Credit

, content: The year FY15 was marked by low credit appetite by the corporate sector on account of weak investment sentiment and issues relating to infrastructural and other bottlenecks. Your Bank thus adopted a cautious approach towards corporate credit growth. As a result your Bank has relatively lower credit growth of 7.82%. During the year your Bank introduced the system of "Online loan application tracking" to facilitate knowing status of loan applications. Through this, the applicant would be able to track the status of his application by logging through 'loan tracking' link provided on your Bank's website.

To promote Forex business and increase fee based income, your Bank added 3 more "Authorised 'B' Category" Branches to deal in Forex Business directly.

title: Retail Business

, content: Your Bank strengthened its retail portfolio by placing special emphasis both on asset as well as on the liability side so as to increase customer satisfaction and also to generate synergy in its retail business model. On the liability side, with the formation of a special vertical of Deposit Resources, focus was placed on garnering higher share of retail term deposits while continuing to shedding the high cost bulk deposits. A number of initiatives were undertaken during the year for strengthening and reviving the relationship with existing customers for improving CASA deposits and promoting debit cards. Furthermore, some special drives were launched for activation of dormant accounts and funding of zero balance accounts to widen the active customer base.

From the assets side, your Bank placed added thrust on retail business to make its loan-book more balanced. To achieve this, your Bank introduced special measures to increase the attractiveness of its products. Under Home Loans, new schemes were introduced such as linking of Home Loan Advantage scheme with SB accounts, for funding premium for home loan borrowers a personal loan scheme was introduced, and a pre-approval home loan scheme was also introduced. Also, modifications and improvement to education loan schemes were also effected keeping in view the needs for higher education. Also, various campaigns were carried out to place targeted focus on retail business.

Your Bank has now extensive presence of 60 RLFs in FY15 catering to the retail sector across the country.

title: MSME Business

, content: To give a boost to the MSME business as well as its employment generating potential, your Bank undertook a number of initiatives during the year under review. With the purpose to effectively finance the micro enterprises, your Bank established Baroda Micro Enterprise Cell to facilitate focused attention on financing of Micro Enterprise. As at end March, 2015, your Bank operationalised 80 such cells. Your Bank introduced new schemes such as Integrated Development of leather sector (IDLS) scheme, promoted by Footwear Design & Development Institute, Baroda, self employment programme for individuals and group enterprises/SHGs (Restructured SJSRY scheme) and new schemes were designed for chemical and pharmaceuticals sector in Bharuch Region. Also, many area specific schemes were introduced given the demand and business potential. Apart from this, your Bank organized campaigns and celebrated MSME festivals to increase the awareness among borrowers. Moreover, to reduce the turnaround time, your Bank rolled out Lending Automation Processing System (LAPS) in all SME Loan Factories.

Your Bank has a set up of 54 SME Loan Factories (SMELFs) as of March 2015 across the country.

title: Priority Sectors

, content: Your Bank has always focused on rural areas with its wide network of 1,912 rural branches and 1,386 semi-urban branches as on March 31, 2015. In order to tap emerging opportunities, your Bank undertook various initiatives during the year under review. With the purpose of increasing awareness among farmers, your Bank undertook two special campaigns viz., Jodeen Kisan and investment credit. Given the area specific needs, your Bank formulated tailor made schemes to address their unique requirements and also concessional rate of interest were offered to them to enhance its attractiveness.

Furthermore, your Bank launched Agriculture Loan Factories for better customer service and improving the volume and quality of the agriculture advances. Three such factories are functioning in Mehsana in Gujarat, Bareilly in U.P and Muzaffarpur in Bihar.

Your Bank strongly supported the growth and development of social sectors through its various outfits like Baroda Swarajgar Vikas Samsthan (BSVS), Baroda R-Seti Centres, Financial Literacy Centres and Micro Loan Factories.

title: Financial Inclusion

, content: With the launching of Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY) during FY15, the financial inclusion received a massive impetus wherein its coverage and ambit was enlarged as compared to the earlier initiatives and it is operating under defined timelines in a mission mode. As always, your Bank has been a frontrunner even in this initiative as it looks at it not just as a social commitment but as an effective and profitable business proposition. Your Bank has achieved all the targets set under PMJDY well ahead of its timelines. As on 31.03.2015, your Bank has mobilized deposits of Rs 1,101 crore in PMJDY accounts with average balance per account above Rs 2500. Moreover, the share of Bank of Baroda in opening PMJDY account is at 5.7% of the total accounts opened by all banks and share in deposits mobilized is at 7.86%.

Apart from this, your Bank continued its pursuit of achieving the targets set under disaggregated Financial Inclusion Plan (FIP) 2016. Your Bank surpassed the target of covering 22,030 villages as against the target of 16,324. Similarly, your Bank surpassed its targets for opening of "Basic Savings Bank Deposit Account" and opening of urban kiosk, and opening of accounts through BC mode.

Given the importance of financial literacy in achieving meaningful financial inclusion, your Bank undertook Financial Literacy campaigns to educate villagers on various banking facilities and particularly, the benefits of savings, Aadhaar seeding, maintaining minimum balance, eligibility for availing Overdraft, use and safekeeping of RuPay cards, USSD facility, eligibility of availing accidental & life insurance, lodgment of claim under insurance, micro insurance products, pensions, benefits of KCC, GCC, prompt repayment, and availability of other retail and SME loans to them. Your Bank has set up a proper institutional structure for this purpose in the form of Baroda Sawaroggar Vikas Sansthan (Baroda RSETI). It is a trust formed by the Bank way back in 2003 for undertaking skill building activities for unemployed rural youth and providing hand holding support to them till their settlement in their respective venture. Further, there are Financial Literacy & Credit Counseling Centres (FLCCs) "SAARTHEE" that are operational across the country and Baroda Grameen Paramarsh Kendra that facilitate financial education, credit counseling, information sharing and problem solving on technical issues, synergy & liaison with other organizations for value added services and development activities in rural areas.

title: Asset Quality

, content: Due to continuous stress in the economy and slow recovery, the banking industry continued to face the challenge of maintaining asset quality during the year under review also. Asset Quality therefore continued to show increased stress during the year leading to increase in gross NPA level to Rs 16,261 crore during FY 15 (3.72% of gross advances) from level of Rs 11,876 crore (2.94% of gross advances) last year. Similarly, total restructured advances of the Bank increased to Rs 31,572 crore in FY 15 as against Rs 26,537 crore in FY 14.

Your Bank has developed a comprehensive structure for recovery and credit monitoring function at the Branch, Region, Zone and Corporate levels. From day one of FY15, your Bank kept a close watch on potential stress accounts. Apart from large accounts, , your Bank laid specific focus on recovery of small accounts by organizing Lok Adalats and Recovery Camps at village/town level. Moreover special Schemes called Bhagirath Prayas were also launched during first half of the FY15. Your Bank also launched an incentive linked recovery scheme called "Sankalp-VII", to enlist personalized attention of each and every staff member in pursuing recovery efforts.

title: Customer Service

, content: Your Bank is highly responsive to the needs and satisfaction of its customers, and is committed to the belief that all technology, processes, products and skills of its people must be leveraged for delivering superior banking experience to its customers. To improve the customer convenience further, your Bank introduced SMS alerts, missed call facility, comprehensive information about cheques for inward clearing and removal of maintenance charges on inoperative accounts. To get feedback on Bank's services, your Bank undertook online customer satisfaction survey to know about the customer's views / problems faced by customers and to take remedial measures.

title: Information Technology Structure

, content: Your Bank has been using Information and Communication Technology (ICT) not only to improve its own internal processes but also to increase facilities and services for its customers.

With the purpose to enhance the customer experience in alternative delivery channels, your Bank introduced new facilities in its internet Banking viz., Baroda Connect channel.

The new enhanced features includes such as online e-banking registration, view and deposit to PPF accounts, Salary upload facility, Mobile OTP generation through smartphone, Tax payments of various States, and IMPS (Immediate Payment services), etc. Moreover, Internet Banking facility is made available on all Smart-phones/tablets offering comfort of anywhere banking to its customers. Internet Banking has been implemented in total 16 overseas territories viz.

Tanzania, Uganda, Kenya, Mauritius, Seychelles, Botswana, New Zealand, UAE, Fiji, UK, Oman, Ghana, Australia, Trinidad & Tobago, Guyana and USA. Internet banking is also provided in all the RRBs sponsored by Bank.

Mobile Banking - one more alternate delivery channel that offers various facilities to your Bank's customers was completely revamped by enhancing its look and feel, user-friendliness and user experience for technology savvy customers. The Mobile Banking platform offers many features and facilities to customers, viz., icon based user interface, balance enquiry, mini statement, fund transfer, stop payment, cheque status, and other services. Mobile banking application is made available in all i-Phones, Blackberry, Android, Windows devices. Through mobile banking it is facilitated to make payments for Mobile topup / DTH top-up, Insurance premium payment, Online shopping, Over-the counter payments, fees payments to schools/colleges/ universities, Utility Bill payments, Travel & Ticketing, Temple Donations, and Non internet based railway ticket booking through mobile phones using IMPS - IRCTC.

During the year FY15, your Bank launched the first Cash Recyclers in the country on July 20, 2014. The unique aspect of Cash Recycler is that, it is enabled to accept cash as well as dispense cash apart from balance enquiry, mini statement and PIN change facilities. These have found good response from retail as well as business customers with ease of operation and 24x7 availability. As of end March 2015, your Bank has installed 390 Cash Recyclers. Moreover, your Bank installed 1,776 new ATMs and opened 106 NonStop e-Lobbies equipped with Five Self Service machines viz. Cash Recycler, ATM, Multi Function Kiosk, Passbook Printer and Digital Signage System for providing 24x7 routine banking services during the year. Your Bank also provided self service passbook printers to all Metro and Urban branches apart from select high footfall semi-urban and rural branches. In short, IT has made a visible difference in the functioning of your Bank and conduct of its banking operations.

title: H. R. initiatives

, content: Your Bank has adopted a very balanced people strategy to create a composite and responsible Human Resource in the Bank that can drive growth and also adequately meet the various challenges of the current times, viz, the large retirements, massive induction of talent, huge training requirements and challenges of successions.

During FY15, your Bank undertook automation and centralization of various routine HR activities such as claims and reimbursements, thereby achieving faster turn around time in settling of claims. Further, your Bank has put in place a manpower planning tool which determines manpower required for different Branches / units on a scientific basis. The output from the manpower planning tool facilitates various manpower planning related decisions, that is, recruitment, new hire allocation, transfers and promotions. Even the performance management for your Bank's officer has been completely automated making the system more robust, objective and quicker.

To enhance the "Employee Engagement", your Bank undertook various initiatives like conduct of satisfaction surveys and workshops for interaction between juniors and seniors. These workshops were conducted to improve the employee connect with HR and top management. Furthermore, to reward the top performers, your Bank has performance linked incentive scheme for its employees.

With a view to identify and groom young potential leaders, your Bank has implemented a well orchestrated Talent Management System that proactively identifies future potential leaders based on various criteria and also grooms them through a systematic developmental plan for each of the identified future leader.

Against the backdrop of massive recruitments in view of large retirements, training and developments of new recruits has assumed significant importance. Further, training has now emerged as a critical function in the organizational endeavour to compete and keep the workforce fit enough to take on the competition. Your Bank has instituted learning systems through Baroda Academy which consists of series of innovations and path breaking initiatives to groom staff in key banking areas like credit, forex, core banking etc. apart from on boarding new recruits. During FY15, your Bank rolled out state of the art Learning Management System for e-learning courses which are available on the internet providing the convenience of time and place. Your Bank is the first Bank to launch 'Mobile Snippets' a Mobile App for the benefit of employees. This enables the employees to access daily banking news, gist of important BOB / RBI circulars, in-house publications, announcements for upcoming events and video messages. Moreover, Baroda Apex Academy has a Facebook page for informal learning. Further, to broad base learning, your Bank organized events such as motivational speeches, video shows and group activities etc under the name Mind Gym Series. Apart from this, your Bank also sought to engage in external trainings so as to widen the knowledge base of its employees. In recognition of the efforts towards learning practices, your Bank received a number of awards from prestigious organization such as Golden Peacock, IBA and others.

title: Risk Management

, content: Risk is inevitable in the banking business and hence, a sound risk management framework is the touchstone of an efficient bank. Your Bank has robust architecture to address various risks inherent in its business viz - Credit Risk, Market Risk, Operational Risk, Liquidity Risk, Interest Rate Risk etc. The architecture includes mechanism of defining risk appetite, its monitoring, reporting and review. The objective of the architecture is to ensure that the asset quality is sustained against economic shocks and sufficient capital buffers are available to withstand them. The prudent risk taking culture revolves around continual and optimal enhancement in our systems, process, awareness and skill sets, so that a balance of support and control functions is achieved.

Few of the testimonies of enhanced risk management practices are that the Reserve Bank of India has permitted bank for a parallel run under Foundation Internal Rating-based (FIRB) Approach in respect of Credit Risk. For Market Risk, your Bank has set up Global Mid Office in Mumbai, which facilitate cost-efficient and more effective way of measuring, monitoring and reporting the Market Risk positions in its global operations. The systems to operationalise the Global Mid Office, compliant with Internal Model Approach of Basel II norms are in advance stage of implementation. In respect of Operational Risk, your bank has implemented a web based sophisticated Operational Risk Management solution, which is one of the best available solution in the industry. Similarly for Asset Liability Management, Fund Transfer Pricing and Profitability Analysis, Oracle Financial Services Analytical Application Infrastructure has been deployed.

Your Bank has successfully implemented Basel III norms pertaining to capital quantity and quality, Leverage Ratio and Liquidity Coverage Ratio with the transition rules specified by the Reserve bank of India.

title: Overseas Business

, content: Despite, the weakness in the global economies across advanced and emerging economies, the overseas business of your Bank continued to contribute significantly to its overall (global) business. Your Bank's wide-spread overseas presence provides it with significant risk diversification benefits across the globe. Your Bank's large network of branches in overseas territories and its continued thrust on overseas expansion helped exploit rich business opportunities even during FY15. As of 31st March 2015, it had operations in 24 countries with 104 offices. These 104 offices comprised of 60 overseas branches of your Bank, 43 branches of its overseas subsidiaries and one representative office. During the year under review, your Bank opened two new branches at Meru in Kenya and Mwanza in Tanzania.

title: Key Achievements in FY15

, content: In spite of the challenging business environment, your Bank ended the year under review with a satisfactory set of results.

Your Bank's Global Business expanded by 8.25% (y-o-y) to Rs 10,45,625 crore by end March 15. Within this, the Domestic Business expanded by 8.43% to Rs 7,06,148 crore and the Overseas Business increased by 7.88% to Rs 3,39,477 crore.

The Global Deposits registered a growth of 8.55% (y-o-y) to Rs 6,17,560 crore by end March 15. Within this, the Domestic Deposits expanded by 9.29% to Rs 4,14,278 crore and the Overseas Deposits rose by 7.08% to Rs 2,03,282 crore. Amidst aforementioned challenges, Your Bank's CASA deposits increased by 11.25% (y-o-y) to Rs 1,62,969 crore.

The share of Domestic CASA as on 31st March 2015 stood at 33.01% as against 31.76% as on end-March 2014.

The Global Advances increased by 7.82% (y-o-y) to Rs 4,28,065 crore by end March 15. Within this, the Domestic Advances rose by 7.24% to Rs 2,91,870 crore and the Overseas Advances surged by 9.10% to Rs 1,36,195 crore.

The Retail Credit of your Bank increased by 14.06% (y-o-y) to Rs 52,488 crore during FY15, of which Home Loans increased by 15.26% to Rs 22,542 crore.

Your Bank's SME Credit portfolio increased by 9.46% (y-o-y) to Rs 61,993 crore by end- March 2015. The Farm Credit increased by 31.55% and reached the level of Rs 37,403 crore and its credit to weaker sections increased by 9.28% to Rs 22,510 crore.

Your Bank's Operating Profit stood at Rs 9,915 crore and Net Profit at Rs 3,398 crore in FY15.

The Return on Average Assets (ROAA) stood at 0.49% in FY15.

Despite capital infusion by Government of India, the Return on Equity (ROE) was at 9.21% as at 31st March 2015.

Your Bank managed to improve its NIM at 2.91% in Domestic Operations and protect NIM at 2.31% in Global Operations during FY15.

Given your Bank's prudent approach, its Provision Coverage Ratio was at 64.99% as on 31st March 2015 – relatively higher in a PSU banking segment.

Your Bank's Capital Strength gets reflected in its CRAR (Basel II) at 13.33% and Tier I capital at 10.14% as on 31st March 2015.

Your Bank's Cost-Income Ratio was at 43.63% for FY15.

While its Earning per Share stood at Rs 15.83, its Book Value per Share stood at Rs 166.83.

title: Awards & Accolades

, content: During the year FY15, your Bank received several awards for its noteworthy performance across various business and financial parameters. The major ones were as follows.

The Bank of Baroda conferred "Best Bank – Global Business Development (Public Sector)" & "Best Bank – Overall (Public Sector)" Award in Dun & Bradstreet – Polaris Financial Technology Banking Awards 2014

Your Bank was awarded "Best PSU for MSME" by India SME Forum on 11th July, 2014 at New Delhi

The Bank of Baroda awarded Skoch Order of Merit in India's Best 2014 Financial Inclusion & Deepening Awards 2014 by Skoch Consultancy Services Pvt. Ltd

Your Bank Ranked 21st amongst Best Indian Brands 2014 in Brand Equity – The Economic Times dated 06.08.2014

The Bank of Baroda has won National Prize – First Rank in "Innovative Training Practices" for the year 2014 from "Indian Society for Training and Development"(ISTD) at Bhubaneshwar

Your Bank was conferred 'The Most Efficient Public Sector Bank' for the year 2014 by Dalal Street Investment Journal in the 'Best PSU's of India Awards' held at New Delhi.

These awards and recognition are particularly valuable, as they acknowledge the merits of your Bank's successful business model that made a difference to the nation's progress.

title: Looking Forward

, content: From the macroeconomic stability perspective, Indian economy has been witnessing lower inflation, lower current account deficit, robust foreign exchange reserves, contained fiscal deficit, momentum in reforms and therefore, improved growth prospects. Hence, Indian economy is better placed to withstand the challenges emanating from the possible interest rate reversal in United States and its implication on the domestic economy and weakening external demand.

In March 2015, the IMF has raised its forecast for India for 2015 to 7.5% from 6.3% projected earlier in response to the revision of its methodology for estimating GDP. Moreover, the IMF considers that Indian economy will be the fastest growing emerging market economy in the world driven by stronger investment following improvements to business climate. However, it is with a broad based recovery, the banking industry would see better credit demand as well as improvement in asset quality. Further, Moody's upgraded India's sovereign rating outlook to 'positive' from 'stable' in April 2015.

Even so, the growth in FY16 may be moderate given the uncertainties pertaining to monsoon as there are forecast of a less than normal monsoon, geopolitical risks surrounding oil prices, the uneven effects of currency and commodity prices and any unforeseen natural disaster.

During FY15, Bank of Baroda made significant progress towards building a preferred bank for its stakeholders. Despite challenging environment, its earnings remained resilient; its fresh slippages started easing and its strong funding position enabled it to continue to support its borrowers.

During FY16, Bank of Baroda will continue to focus on further strengthening its capital and funding position so as to grow its business sustainably with better profitability. Your Bank is confident that with its strategic focus on people, processes and technology, it will remain in the leadership position in the emerging business environment.

title: Bank's Corporate Goals and Strategy

, content: Supported by its achievements during FY15, your Bank has chosen to continue its motto of "Race Ahead" with addition "From Good to Great" to consolidate the synergy generated last year amidst emerging economic and banking scenario and by transforming from being a Good Bank to a Great Bank. Hence, the Bank has identified "RACE AHEAD" from Good to Great as its motto for FY16. The word RACE denotes the following:

R for – Retail Leaning

A for – Asset Quality

C for– Capacity Building

E for – Earnings Focus

In FY16, your Bank would consolidate the progress made so far and would focus on improving profitability and profitability ratios at a much faster pace by leveraging its vast technological advantage and extensive alternate delivery channel network. However, the movement from Goodness to Greatness involves considerable hard work and consistency in its performance in all spheres of activities to touch the hallowed goal of Greatness.

To strengthen the approach towards Retail Leaning, your Bank will emphasize on aggressively canvassing low-cost current and saving deposits plus retail term deposits as against the high-cost bulk deposits. Simultaneously, the focus will be on Retail Credit, MSME and Agriculture credit to make the loanbook more diversified. Further, your Bank plans to utilize its technological advantage to its benefits by extensive use of alternate delivery channels such as ATMs, internet banking, mobile banking, usage of cards (credit, debit and gift), and POS machines to garner more retail business.

Similar to its efforts to improve Asset Quality in FY15, your Bank will focus on credit appraisal including stringent KYC and documentation, and monitoring, NPA recovery and upgradation in a big way and further arrest the fresh slippages. Moreover, with better regulatory environment in terms of new bankruptcy code and commercial courts augurs well for maintaining better asset quality. Your Bank also plans to include sector specific focus to ensure better recovery, for instance, in case of agriculture, added focus would be laid on financial literacy and educating borrowers about benefits of timely repayment.

Capacity Building is another area where your Bank has been investing significantly. During FY15, your Bank opened 351 new Branches, installed 1,776 new ATMs, opened 106 NonStop e-Lobbies and provided a number of Bunch Note Acceptors, Self-service Pass book Printers, Cash Recyclers etc. to its branches. Your Bank will accord high priority to generate benefits from this extensive network and efficient alternate delivery channels spread across the country and globe during FY16.

To respond to increasing competition and other challenges, your Bank will make its business model more cost-efficient and try to improve its Earnings through an optimum mix of interest income and non-interest income. To achieve this, it will optimize the use of technology as the change agent. Your Bank will not only focus on traditional business unit but also non-interest income sources and fee income from various avenues. Your Bank will continue to focus on improving its return ratios.

Additionally, your Bank will continue to harness its advantage of its wide overseas presence by widening its geographical presence as well as initiate measures and products so as to increase attractiveness of its products as also cater to diverse population across the globe.

With its intrinsic strengths in the form of capital, human resources, technology and iconic brand, your Bank is well positioned for growth during FY16. In the current economic environment, your Bank will consolidate its positions by preserving its healthy ratios and building on it further to ensure buoyant growth in its profitability and return ratios.

We are encouraged by and grateful for the ongoing support of all our shareholders. I solicit your continued cooperation and patronage in future also.

Ranjan Dhawan
Managing Director & CEO

title: Performance Highlights

, content: Total Business (Deposit+Advances) increased to Rs 10,45,625 crore reflecting a growth of 8.25% (y-o-y).

Gross Profit and Net Profit were Rs 9,915 crore and Rs 3,398 crore respectively.

Net Profit registered a growth of (-) 25.16% over the previous year.

Credit-Deposit Ratio stood at 84.82% as against 86.15% last year.

Retail Credit posted a growth of 14.06% constituting 14.07% of your Bank's Gross Domestic Credit in FY15.

MSME Credit posted a growth of 9.46% constituting 17.27% of your Bank's Gross Domestic Credit in FY15.

Net Interest Margin (NIM) as per cent of interest earning assets in global operations was at the level of 2.31% and in domestic operations at 2.91% during FY15.

Net NPAs to Net Advances stood at 1.89% this year against 1.52% last year.

Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) as per Basel II stood at 13.33%.

Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) as per Basel III stood at 12.60%.

Net Worth at Rs 36,895 crore registering a rise of 11.48%.

Book Value improved from Rs 162.70 (Rs 813.50 pre split of shares) to Rs 166.83 on year.

Business per Employee moved up from Rs 1,865 lakh to Rs 1,889 lakh on year.

title: Segment-Wise Performance

, content: The Segment Results for the year FY15 reveal that the contribution of Treasury Operations was Rs 3,333 crore, that of Corporate/Wholesale Banking was Rs 936 crore, that of Retail Banking was Rs 3,005 crore, and of Other Banking Operations was Rs 50 crore. Your Bank earned a Profit after Tax (PAT) of Rs 3,398 crore after deducting Rs 1,904 crore of unallocated expenditure and Rs 2,022 crore towards provision for tax.

title: Dividend

, content: Your Bank's Directors have recommended dividend of Rs 3.20 per share. The face value of Rs 2 each for the total outgo in the form of dividend, including taxes, will be Rs 851.69 crore.

title: Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR)

, content: Your Bank's Capital Adequacy Ratio (CAR) was comfortable at 13.33% under Basel II and at 12.60% under Basel III as on 31st March 2015. Moreover, your Bank's Tier 1 ratio was at 9.87% and common equity Tier 1 was at 9.35% under Basel III framework.

Your Bank's Net Worth as at 31st March 2015 was Rs 36,895 crore comprising paid-up equity capital of Rs 443 crore and reserves (excluding revaluation reserves) and FCTR) of Rs 36,452 crore. An amount of Rs 2,547 crore was transferred to reserves from the profits earned.

title: Provisions towards Retirement and Other Benefits

, content: During the year FY15, your Bank made provision towards contribution to gratuity (Rs. 40.04 crore), pension funds (Rs . 920.69 crore), leave encashment (Rs . 148.54 crore) and additional retirement benefits of Rs (-)211.33 crores (reversal on actuarial basis). Total provisions under these four categories amounted to Rs. 897.94 crore during the year FY15 and Rs 1,276.37 crore during the year FY14. Total corpus available with your Bank at the end of March 2015 under these heads was: Rs 1,491.36 crore (gratuity), Rs 8,583.68 crore (pension funds), Rs 781.97 crore (leave encashment) and Rs 369.87 crore (additional retirement benefit)

title: Economic Scene in FY15 and Outlook for FY16

, content: During FY15, while the growth outlook remained subdued throughout the year, the sentiments were optimistic as they received a boost from a host of domestic and global factors such as formation of stable government, sharp fall in crude oil prices, passing of major bills such as insurance and mining, and investment oriented union budget. As a result, the Indian economic outlook improved amidst subdued growth prospects of major advanced and emerging economies.

As per the revised and rebased estimates for GDP data released by Central Statistical Office (CSO), the GDP is to grow at 7.4% in 2014-15 as against 6.9% in 2013-14 and 5.1% in 2012-13. While the industry and services sector are estimated to grow at a higher rate in 2014-15 than that in 2013-14, the agriculture sector was affected adversely by deficit and uneven spatial distribution of rains during kharif season and unseasonal rains in rabi season. The index of industrial production (IIP) which saw buoyant growth in first quarter of the year slipped sharply only to rise again in February 2015 at 5%. As a result, the IIP growth for FY15 was at low rate of 2.8% on y-o-y basis. Although production of capital goods and non-oil non-gold imports gathered some momentum, the vicious cycle of supply constraints, stranded investments, stressed bank balance sheets, risk aversion and weak demand continued during FY15. The exports growth was subdued during the year and the imports were also weak, resulting in narrowing of trade deficit. However, as the portfolio flows were buoyant given the surge in equity markets, the net capital flows being significantly larger than the external financing requirements, foreign exchange reserves rose to a peak level of US$ 343.0 billion during the year.

However, there were some green shoots of growth visible during the year. The new investments proposals saw some improvement in 2014-15. The parliament passed bills covering insurance and coal sectors. In the Union Budget, the government announced a 25% increase in capital spending – primarily on highways and railways to kick-start the investment demand. A healthy shift was underway from government subsidies to investments.

A slew of initiatives were taken in the current financial year that includes rationalization of administered pricing policies in petroleum and natural gas and to ensure adequate availability of key inputs like coal and power. The biggest financial inclusion initiative under the Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY), extending financial services to the large hitherto un-served population to unlock growth potential was successful. Substantive progress has been made in direct benefit transfer linked to Aadhar.

For a large net importer of crude oil like India, the decline in crude prices since June 2014 by about 50% has been a favourable external shock. This has had a wide positive effect, for instance, on growth, easing of inflationary pressure and lowering current account deficit. The declining input costs manifested in the sharp fall of the CPI (combined) from 8.59% in April 2014 to 5.17% in March 2015 much below the target set by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI)'s glide path and WPI slipped from 5.5% in April 2014 to (-) 0.17% in November 2014 and thereafter remained in negative zone till March 2015 at (-) 2.33%.

During the initial phase of the FY15, the inflation was at elevated level while growth remained subdued. The RBI kept the rates unchanged to contain the demand pressures and rupee volatility, however in order to support the slowing growth, the RBI had cut the SLR by 150 bps with 50 bps cut each on June 14, 2014, August 9, 2014 and February 7, 2015. But, as the disinflation process strengthened since July 2014 on account of faster than expected decline in fuel and food prices, given the persisting slack in economic activity and weakened pricing power, the RBI cut the repo rate by 50 bps with 25 bps on January 15, 2015 and March 4, 2015 each. This was also supported by high quality fiscal consolidation by the Union Government.

A number of important changes happened in the operation of the monetary policy during the year. As per the recommendation of the Dr Urjit Patel committee, the RBI adopted the new CPI (combined) as the key measure of inflation and there was explicit recognition of the glide path for disinflation. The RBI had set the target to keep the economy on a disinflationary course, taking CPI inflation to 8.0% by January 2015 and 6.0% by January 2016. The RBI revised its liquidity management framework from September 5, 2014, with more frequent 14-day term repos and daily overnight variable rate repo operations, to ensure flexibility, transparency and predictability in liquidity management operations.

In February 2015, a historic landmark agreement was signed by the Government of India and the Reserve Bank of India that committed to an institutional architecture that accords price stability as a major objective of monetary policy. Apart from these developments, the RBI also sought to widen the banking space by issuing license to new market participants as well as introduce payment banks to cater to specialized payment functions.

During the year, the markets remained concerned about the possible US Fed rate hike following the signs of strengthening of the US economy. But as the year progressed and there were signs of weakness, the rate normalization was deferred. Further, the massive quantity easing in Europe and Japan gave a boost to their economy. With the increased signs of China's economy slowing down gathered momentum, the Indian economy began to be considered to be among the better performing economies amidst dismal growth outlook.

Most of the private and public think-tanks from across the globe including International Monetary Fund (IMF) have projected higher growth for Indian economy in 2016. Moreover, the Moody's rating agency revised the rating outlook to positive from stable as they perceive higher probability of better growth outlook going forward. The revival of growth is helped by the government's continued commitment to lower its budget deficit while also investing more to upgrade infrastructure sector, railways and power lines. While the uncertainty pertaining to the US Fed rate normalization, geo-political risks affecting the stability in crude oil prices, probability of below normal monsoon, the strengthening of the green shoot of recovery to a broad based growth, and pace of reforms remain the key uncertainties going forward.

title: Performance of Indian Banking Sector in FY15 and Outlook for FY16
, content: The Banking sector was facing multifarious challenges with a subdued credit growth, heightening asset quality concerns amidst weakening corporate balance sheets and capital conservation given the tighter Basel -III capital norms.

During FY15, both the credit and deposit growth of the banking industry slipped to multiyear low on the back of overall economic slowdown, stalled projects, weak investment, stretched corporate balance sheets and supply constraints. The credit growth on an average basis was at around 10% during FY15. Apart from weak macroeconomic environment, the banks remained risk averse amidst surging asset quality concerns. Further, the alternative sources of credit such as commercial papers and external commercial borrowings remained buoyant source of funds. Moreover, during the year, the banks resorted to sale of assets to asset reconstruction companies.

During the year, the banks reduced deposit rates on various maturities driven by the sharp fall in inflation and the RBI cutting SLR and policy rate cuts during the year. The major concern of the banking sector was regarding the asset quality which resulted in higher provisions, thereby adversely affecting the profitability of the banks.

With the number of initiatives of the government to revive the economy and accommodative policy stance of the RBI, there are green shoots of economic recovery. However, a broad based revival in the economy, in particular infrastructure, would have a positive impact on the banks' asset quality and consequently on the overall performance of the banking industry.

Apart from these concerns, the banking industry has been facing the challenges of raising capital to meet the Basel -III capital requirements. With the liquidity coverage ratio and monitoring tools being implemented from January 2015, capital conservation has assumed greater importance.

Amidst these challenges, the banking industry played a pivotal role in achieving the goals of Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY) well ahead of its deadline. Further, the banks played an important role in the government's Direct Benefit Transfer, linked to Aadhar in the delivery of subsidies.

title: Risk Management

, content: To ensure sustainable and consistent growth, your Bank has developed a sound risk management framework so that the risks assumed by the Bank are properly assessed and monitored. The ultimate responsibility for setting up the risk management framework lies with the Board of the Bank. It includes setting up risk appetite, framing policies and effective monitoring. Your Bank's Board has put in place a robust Enterprise-wide Risk Management architecture so that the risks remain within the risk appetite defined by the Board.

Specific committees of the Board have been constituted to facilitate focused oversight on various risks. The Board has also constituted a Sub Committee of Board on ALM and Risk management which oversees the inter linkages between different type of risks. Policies approved from time to time by the Board of Directors or committees of the Board form the governing framework for each type of risk. The business activities are undertaken within these policy frameworks.

A brief outline of the mechanism for identifying, evaluating and managing various risks within your Bank is as follows.

title: Asset Liability Management (ALM)

, content: Your Bank's Asset Liability Management (ALM) is aimed at strategic planning, implementation, and control processes that affect the volume, mix, maturity, rate sensitivity, quality and liquidity of the Bank's assets and liabilities, thereby ensuring that the returns are commensurate with the level of risk taken.

The ALM is the function of Asset Liability Management Committee (ALCO), which comprises of General Managers and Executive Directors and is headed by the Managing Director & CEO. It operates under the guidance and supervision of the Board and/or Sub-Committee of Board on ALM and Risk Management. It meets at regular intervals to review the interest rate scenario, product pricing, maturity profile of assets and liabilities, demand for funds, cash flows of the Bank, profit planning and overall Balance Sheet Management. The ALCO is also entrusted with the job of fixing and reviewing Base Rate of the Bank.

In your Bank, the liquidity risk is measured and monitored through two approaches-Flow approach and Stock approach. Flow approach is done through preparation of Structural liquidity statement on a daily basis against prudential caps fixed for liquidity gap positions. The quality of liquidity is further tested by working out various ratios under Stock Approach, wherein a series of prudential caps are tested on a daily basis. The compliance to Stock Approach caps ensures that the Bank has managed its liquidity through appropriate diversification and kept it within the sustainable limit. Moreover, liquidity position is projected every fortnight, for the subsequent three months on a dynamic basis through Dynamic Gap Reports.

For measurement and monitoring of Interest rate risk, currency wise, both Traditional Gap and Duration Gap approaches are followed. The short-term impact of interest rate movements on NIM is worked out through "Earnings at Risk" approach taking into consideration Yield curve risk, Basis risk and Embedded Options Risk. The long-term impact of interest rate movements on Market Value of Equity is also worked out through Duration Gap approach.

Advanced techniques such as stress testing of liquidity risk and interest rate risk, simulation, sensitivity analysis etc., are used at regular intervals to draw the contingency funding plan under different liquidity and interest rate scenarios. Your Bank has also put in place contingency plans to meet its liquidity obligations under various stressed scenarios.

Your Bank has implemented Oracle Financial Services Analytical Applications (OFSA) platform, which is a multicurrency ALM, Fund Transfer Pricing (FTP) and profitability solution, offering extensive data management capabilities for accurate information gathering and analysis. With a powerful suite of analytical and reporting tools, an efficient liquidity and interest rate risk management has been facilitated, enabling strategic decision-making and generating alerts against potential deviations.

Your Bank has implemented Basel III Framework on Liquidity Standards - Liquidity Coverage Ratio (LCR), Liquidity Risk Monitoring Tools and LCR Disclosure Standards. The LCR standard aims to ensure that banks maintain an adequate level of unencumbered High Quality Liquid Assets that can be converted into cash to meet liquidity needs for a 30 calendar day time horizon under a significantly severe liquidity stress scenario specified by the RBI. The LCR and monitoring tools is applicable since January 2015 for Indian banks at whole bank level only i.e. on a stand-alone basis including overseas operations through branches and from March 2016, this shall be implemented on Consolidated basis.

Credit Risk

Credit risk implies the possibility of losses associated with default in repayment or diminution in the credit quality of borrowers or diminution in the value of primary and/ or collateral assets. Credit risk is managed in your Bank though a well established Board approved framework that sets out policies, procedures and reporting which are in line with international best practices. Adequate attention is given to segregate the activities of policy framers and risk takers. Your Bank has a well structured credit approval process with a well defined Board approved credit policy to monitor and mitigate risks associated in Bank's lending.

Credit Risk Rating in your Bank involves a method of systematically classifying credit proposals according to their quality and inherent risk characteristics. Rating is an important single point indicator of credit quality to the Bank as also to other stakeholders (viz. regulators, analysts, auditors etc.). Your Bank has adopted a robust web based two dimensional credit rating system which consists of borrower rating as well as facility rating.

Over the years, your Bank has gained good experience in internal rating and has thus built up data on credit rating migration. This robust platform has enabled your Bank to get an approval of regulator for a parallel run under Foundation Internal Rating Based (FIRB) approach of Credit Risk under Basel II rules from 31st March, 2013. Under the IRB approach, the banks are allowed to develop their own empirical model to quantify required capital for credit risk. IRB implementation will make your Bank more risk sensitive and would benefit the Bank with improved risk management systems and strong risk assessment processes, and possibly reduced credit risk capital requirements.

Your Bank's corporate research cell prepares industry report to assess the risks prevalent in industries where the Bank has sizable exposure and also identifies the sunrise industries. To manage imprudent concentration, your Bank has also put in place prudential caps across industries, sectors and borrowers. Also, the corporate research cell carries out detailed studies on sectoral exposure, credit concentration, ratings distribution and migration.

title: Market Risk

, content: Market Risk implies the "risk" of loss of earnings or economic value due to adverse changes in market rates or prices. The change in economic value of different market products is largely a function of change in interest rates, exchange rates, economic growth, business confidence etc.

Your Bank has clearly articulated policies to control and monitor its treasury functions. These policies comprise management practices, procedures, prudential risk limits, review mechanisms and reporting systems. These policies are reviewed regularly in line with changes in financial and market conditions.

The Interest rate risk in your Bank is measured through Interest Rate Sensitivity Gap Reports and Earning at Risk. Furthermore, your Bank calculates duration, modified duration, PV01, Value at Risk for its investment portfolio consisting of fixed income securities on daily basis. It monitors the short-term Interest rate risk from the NII (Net Interest Income) perspective and long-term interest rate risk from the EVE (Economic Value of Equity) perspective. Moreover, the stress testing of fixed interest investment portfolio through sensitivity analysis and equities through scenario analysis is regularly conducted in your Bank. The foreign exchange risk and equity price risk is monitored too and measured through daily marking to market , stop loss limits , VaR limits , portfolio size limits , IGL , AGL etc.

The Value at Risk for the treasury positions is calculated through historical simulation method for a ten days holding period, at 99.0% confidence level.

title: Operational Risk, content: Operational Risk implies the risk of loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems or from external events. This includes legal risk, but excludes strategic and reputational risks. Your Bank is implementing a comprehensive Operational Risk Management Framework (ORMF) to meet the qualitative and quantitative requirements of the Standardized Approach (TSA) and Advanced Measurement Approach (AMA) of Basel II requirements. Operational Risk Management Committee (ORMC) of your Bank shoulders the responsibility of monitoring and controlling the operational risk by way of prescribing/ amending processes, imposing controls and defining roles and responsibilities. Your Bank has sound operational risk governance practice with three lines of defence mechanism such as Business line management, independent corporate operational risk management function and an independent inspection and audit function to ensure that its internal guidelines, policies and procedures are complied with.

Your Bank has implemented a globally accredited sophisticated web-based Operational Risk Management System to capture, measure, monitor and manage its operational risk exposure.

Your bank is one of the promoters and initial equity capital subscribers to Cordex India Private Limited, which will be a consortium of Operational Risk loss data in India for the banking industry.

title: Basel III Implementation

, content: The Basel III capital regulations have been implemented by Indian banks with effect from April 1, 2013. To ensure smooth transition to Basel III, appropriate transitional arrangements have been made with capital requirement and disclosures at consolidated level which are to be disclosed with the publication of financial results have been provided for meeting the minimum Basel III capital ratios, full regulatory adjustments to the components of capital. This implementation requires enhanced quality and quantity of capital on one side and more elaborate disclosure on the other. The bank is fully equipped to comply with the regulatory norms with reasonable cushion over the minimum regulatory capital requirements.

title: Risk Based supervision (RBS)

, content: The Department of Banking Supervision (DBS) at Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has adopted a Risk Based Supervisory (RBS) approach, based on the recommendations of the High Level Steering Committee (HLSC) for Review of Supervisory Processes of Commercial Banks. The RBI's revised supervisory approach is called Supervisory Program for Assessment of Risk and Capital (SPARC), which was rolled out to your Bank in the 2012-13 supervisory cycle.

RBS is driven by Offsite as well as Onsite supervision which requires a bank to put in place robust systems for data collection and compilation process and reporting.

SPARC is risk focused and intended to increase the effectiveness and efficiency of the supervisory process. The two major areas of assessment under SPARC are Risk and Capital Assessment. This assessment is done from quantitative and qualitative aspects. Based on the evaluation of these two aspects, the probability of failure of a bank and the likely impact of this failure on Banking System is calculated.

The banks under SPARC are mandated to submit the following data and information, in addition to the existing DSB returns, in forms under three Tranches as under:

Risk and selected financial parameters: Tranche I and IA
Control and Governance Oversight Information: Tranche II
Compliance Information: Tranche III Expectations from banks

The following expectations with respect to the reporting of data and information should be met by the banks:

Timely submission of data and information
Accuracy of data and information submitted Consistency of data Availability of evidence to substantiate/validate the data/ information submitted

Ability to provide a further drill down/break-up of the data as and when requested by the RBI.

It may be noted that your Bank has successfully completed the second cycle under SPARC for the FY15 and is now well positioned to embark on the third supervisory cycle of 2015-16.

title: Credit Monitoring

, content: Credit monitoring is one of the most important tools for ensuring asset quality. Your Bank has the system of monitoring of advance accounts at various levels (Branch/ Region/Zone and Corporate) to prevent slippages and to take timely corrective actions to improve asset quality. A separate department for Credit Monitoring functions at the Corporate level, headed by a General Manager, and one at the Regional and Zonal level, started functioning since September 2008. The Slippage Prevention Task Force (SPTF) formed at all Zonal and Regional Offices in terms of the Bank's Domestic Loan Policy was activated for the purpose of arresting slippages and also for initiating necessary corrective action plan at an early stage in a time bound manner.

The primary objectives and functions of the Credit Monitoring Department at the Corporate level are as under:

Identification of weakness/Potential default/incipient sickness in the advance account at an early stage and initiation of suitable and timely corrective actions for preventing further impairment in advance accounts / deterioration in credit quality of the borrowal accounts;

Based on the RBI guidelines for Revitalizing Distressed Assets in the Economy, accounts with incipient stress are identified under Special Mention Accounts (SMA) categories. SMA accounts are followed up for the formation of the Joint Lenders Forum and options to resolve the stress under Corrective Action Plan are explored namely Rectification, Restructuring and Recovery;

Prevention of slippage in the Asset Classification and relegation in Credit Ratings through vigorous follow up;

Identification of suitable cases for restructuring/ rescheduling/ rephasing as well as further financing in deserving and genuine cases with matching contribution from the borrower; Liaisoning with CDR Cell, Zonal Offices & Regional Offices;

Taking necessary steps / regular follow up, for review of accounts and compliance of terms and conditions, thereby improving the quality of Bank's credit portfolio;

Monitoring progress of accounts under Board for Industrial and Financial Reconstruction (BIFR).

title: Monthly Monitoring of Advances accounts

, content: On-line web-based software developed by the IT Department for Monthly Monitoring Reports (MMR) in respect of advance accounts with Fund Based and Non-Fund Based (FB+NFB) exposure of Rs 10 crore and above was launched in January 2013 and is being upgraded time to time.

Based on the MMRs, the follow up actions are taken for ensuring expeditious review of accounts, rectification of irregularities, compliance of terms and conditions in high value advance accounts for improving the asset quality of your Bank's credit portfolio.

title: Restructuring of Advances Accounts

, content: As a part of an on-going business strategy to improve upon the quality of advance assets, your Bank reaffirmed the need to look into the stressed advance portfolio on a continuous basis, industry-wise as well as borrower-wise, and to initiate suitable action by way of restructuring based on the viability of the project/activity.

title: Economic Intelligence Unit

, content: A specialised Economic Intelligence Unit (EIU) located at the Corporate Office of your Bank supports your Bank's Top Management in several critical areas like Macroeconomic Forecasting, Investor Relations, Business Strategy Formulation, Asset-Liability Management, and in discussions/deliberations with Regulators – domestic and international and Rating Agencies. The EIU regularly provides the Top Management of your Bank as well as its operational units a periodic outlook on key macroeconomic and financial variables like industrial and infrastructure growth, inflation, interest rates, stock and debt market movement, sectoral credit deployment and resource mobilisation of the banking industry, liquidity conditions, exchange rates, etc.

By providing deep understanding of macroeconomic aspects, corporate sector health and banking sector policies, the EIU of your Bank supports the Bank's efforts in tapping right kind of business opportunities and swiftly responding to market dynamics.

The EIU publishes a weekly newsletter (e-publication) covering weekly macroeconomic developments and policy highlights to share its perspectives on global and domestic economic and policy scenarios with investors, bankers, regulators, rating agencies and other market participants.

This division works as an intellectual arm of your Bank in comprehending developments that eventually aid the formulation of rightly aligned strategies.

title: Internal Control Systems

, content: Your Bank has a well established Central Internal Audit Division (CIAD) that examines and ensures the adherence to systems, policies and procedures of the Bank. The guidelines received on various issues of internal control from Reserve Bank of India, Government of India, Bank's Board and the Audit Committee of the Board (ACB) have become part of the Internal Control System for better risk management.

With the size of business increasing year after year, Central Internal Audit Division is constantly aiming for curbing the inherent risks through effective control mechanism so as to safeguard the Bank's interest.

The CIAD operates through thirteen Zonal Internal Audit Divisions to carry out audit of Branches/Offices as per the periodicity decided by the Audit Committee of the Board and examines adherence to such systems of internal control and risk management.

Audit Committee of the Board oversees the overall Internal Audit function of the Bank. The committee guides in developing effective internal audit, concurrent audit, IS Audit and all other inspection & audit functions for protecting the assets of the Bank. The committee monitors the functioning of the Audit Committee of Executives and inspection / audit department in the Bank. Audit Committee of Executives is one layer above CIAD and it monitors the entire Internal Audit System in your Bank.

All the branches of your Bank are covered under Risk Based Internal Audit (RBIA). A total of 4,291 branches were inspected during FY15. Out of these, 3,453 branches (80.43%) were in Low Risk, 756 branches (17.61%) were in Medium Risk and 82 branches (1.91%) were in High Risk categories.

The I.S. Audit Cell working under Audit Division, is based at Mumbai and performing the function of Offsite Surveillance.

The coverage of Concurrent Audit has been increased to 1,036 branches in 2015-16 from 982 branches in 2014-15 and will cover 70.72% of the Bank's total deposits, 78.82% of its total advances and 74.10% of its total business as on 31.12.2014.

To sum up, the Central Internal Audit Division's principal function is to monitor compliance of systems & procedures laid down by the Bank, the Regulator and the Government of India.

title: Operations and Services

, content: As always, efficient customer service and customer satisfaction are the primary objectives of your Bank in its day to day operations. Your Bank is highly responsive to the needs and satisfaction of its customers, and is committed to the belief that all technology, processes, products and skills of its people must be leveraged for delivering superior banking experience to its customers.

Recently, your Bank has taken several measures to improve the customer service at its branches and at the same time, strengthened the customer complaint redressal machinery for fast disposal of customer complaints.

Some of the measures taken by your Bank for fraud prevention and enhancing customer service during FY15 are as under.

Fraud prevention measures

Guidelines to be followed while passing Inter-SOL Clearing / transfer transactions, Screening of cheques through Ultra Violet Machine, precautions to be taken in Government Accounts and other precautionary measures to prevent frauds were reiterated to branches.

All Non MICR / CTS branches / CBOs were advised to contact base branch over phone/fax/email and seek confirmation for ascertaining the genuineness of all transactions and to keep on record such confirmation for cheques of Rs.2 lakh and above.

Master Circular on Fraud Prevention measures was issued.

New Procedure was developed in respect of handling transactions by employees in their own account at single / one man branches.

Confirmation of Inter-SOL Clearing transactions at Base Branches - Report for Base Branches to check Inter- SOL Clearing transactions (Off-SOL clearing transaction report) which contains list of cheques of Rs.2 lakh and above drawn on their branch presented in Inter-SOL clearing at other centres with phone number of branch where the cheque has been presented with name and phone number of customer to enable the base branches to confirm with their customer for genuineness of transactions.

Soft copy of Telephone Directory is provided to all branches to enable them to contact branches while passing Inter-sol transactions. The same is updated from time to time.

Email Alerts to Corporate and Government Customers for debit transactions of Rs. 1.00 lakh and above

The precautionary measures to be taken while receiving cheques issued in favour of "Yourself / Bank of Baroda" were reiterated to the branches to avoid fraudulent transactions in the accounts.

In order to prevent fraudulent fund transfer through e-mails, branches have been advised that e-mails is not a valid mandate for banking transactions and the guidelines to take precautions are circulated.

Customer Service

SMS alerts in respect of acknowledgement of Form No. 15 G/H and noting thereof in the system.

The bilingual Comprehensive Notice Board displayed in branches for convenience of customers were redrafted & redesigned and sent to all Zones for its implementation.

"Miss Call" facility to customers was started wherein the customer will give "Miss Call" to Bank through the mobile number registered in the Bank and the customer will receive the balances of their accounts through sms.

Charges for Non Maintenance of minimum balance in inoperative accounts have been removed in terms of the RBI's mandate.

To bring uniformity of Inter-Sol charges, all charges have been made similar at base and non-base branches except cash handling charges by removal of cash withdrawal charges at non-base branches.

To satisfy the inquiry of cheques presented in inward clearing, the branches can provide comprehensive information to customers about the cheques drawn by them.

Other initiatives

Entry of KYC document (Photo Identity Card) details in Finacle system in respect of NEFT transactions for walk-in customers for Rs.20,000/- and above and less than Rs.50,000/-.

Implemented Depositor Education and Awareness Fund Scheme-2014 (DEAF) of the RBI.

Process of refund of balances of unclaimed deposit accounts (Current and Savings Bank) transferred to the RBI under Depositor Education and Awareness Fund Scheme - 2014 (DEAF) of the RBI has been advised to branches.

Implementation of "Foreign Accounts Tax Compliance Act (FATCA)" for resident accounts (Obtaining declaration). FATCA declaration is the new US law enacted by the US Government.

Online Customer Satisfaction Survey was conducted during 11.03.2014 to 20.05.2014 to know about the customer's views / problems faced by customers and to take remedial measures. Emails were sent to customers inviting them to participate in the survey. The findings of the survey and suggested action points to remove the deficiencies were advised to all the Zones to monitor and ensure the compliance thereof. Further, Staff College was advised to discuss findings of the Survey during all training programmes to improve Customer Service.

Your Bank's branches have been advised to register Mobile number and email id in accounts to facilitate the Bank to notify the customer by SMS / email etc. All Zones and Regions are requested to advise branches to take prompt action for registration of mobile number in order to comply with the RBI instructions.

Efforts to improve Customer Service at Branches

In your Bank, the feedback on quality of customer service at branches is obtained through the Branch Level Customer Service Committee meetings that are held every month in which customers from various cross sections of the society are invited including senior citizens and pensioners. The suggestions/views generated during the meetings are collated and an appropriate follow-up action is taken to examine the feasibility to implement the suggestions for improving the service quality.

Your Bank is focused towards providing excellent customer service through all delivery channels and has been making continuous efforts for enhancing the level of customer satisfaction by leveraging technology to provide e-products and alternative delivery channels e.g. ATM/Debit cards, POS, Internet Banking, Mobile Banking, etc., best suited to the diverse needs of different customers. The varied interests and expectations of customers are taken care of by improving upon various processes and procedures.

Compliance

Your Bank is a member of the Banking Codes and Standards Board of India (BCSBI) and has adopted the "Code of Commitment to the Customers" prescribed by the BCSBI. It has also adopted the "Code of Bank's Commitment to MICRO and Small Enterprises". These have been placed on your Bank's website and also made available to customers at the branches.

The following measures were initiated to create and enhance awareness about BCSBI codes amongst customers:

As per the directions of the Committee of Executive Directors, during the review of verticals of Corporate Office, Branch Managers' meeting / workshop is being organized by the Executives of Head Office, Baroda, at Head quarters of Regions keeping in view the increasing number of frauds and non/poor compliance of guidelines on prevention of frauds, KYC AML and BCSBI Code. The emphasis of workshop was to interact with Branch Heads on various issues pertaining to measures on prevention of frauds, compliance of KYC guidelines, E-KYC, compliance of BCSBI Code and other Compliances.

To enhance level of awareness about BCSBI Codes amongst customers, E mails are sent to customers whose e-mail ID are registered with your Bank advising in Hindi & English to them that "We are BCSBI Code Compliant and committed to treat Customers fairly as per BCSBI Codes of Bank's Commitment to Customers and Micro and Small Enterprises. To download the Codes please click to 'http://www.bankofbaroda.com/bcsbicode.asp'. More than 17,57,000 email have been sent during FY15.

The message "For BCSBI Codes of Bank's Commitment to Customers visit www.bankofbaroda.com/www.bcsbi.org.in" is being printed / displayed in bilingual on Statements of accounts

ATM screen and backside of the ATM transaction slips

Inside cover of Passbook (regular passbooks and passbooks used for Self Service Passbook printers)

Banner on your Bank's website

Upon registering complaint in Standardised Public Grievance Redress System (SPGRS) Module, an Online Complaint Registering system, the following message is incorporated in Auto Reply: "We are BCSBI Code Compliant and committed to treat customers fairly as per BCSBI Codes of Bank's Commitment to Customers and Micro and Small Enterprises. For details, Please visit our website www.bankofbaroda.co.in or www.bcsbi.org.in

Zones have been advised to adhere to the following :

To use services of FLCC for creating awareness amongst trainees.

To send a copy of Code to all new accounts along with letter. (copy of codes were sent to about 14,64,000 plus customers up to March 2015)

Your Bank's Marketing Department, Mumbai have:

Arranged to publish advertisement as per following details in seven National Daily News papers in Hindi, English, Gujarati and Marathi languages on 07.08.2014 and 11.08.2014. हम बीसीएसबीआई संहिता अनुपालक हैं और ग्राहकों और सूक्ष्म लघु उद्यमियों के प्रति बैंक की प्रतिभामूर्ति की बीसीएसबीआई संहिता के अनुसार ग्राहकों से उचित व्यवहार करने के लिए प्रतिभामूर्ति हैं। अधिक जानकारी के लिए कृपया हमारी वेबसाइट देखें www.bankofbaroda.com or bcsbi.org.in किसी भी प्रकार के लिए मार्गदर्शन हेतु प्रति की कोड/स्पाष्टीकरण/, नजदीकी शाखा का संपर्क करें।

Your Bank has also arranged for incorporating a note in advertisement brochures of the Bank with either of the following captions: - "For BCSBI Codes of Bank's Commitment to Customers and Micro and Small Enterprises visit www.bankofbaroda.com / www.bcsbi.org.in"

"Bank of Baroda is complying with BCSBI Codes - for BCSBI Codes of Bank's Commitment to Customers and Micro and Small Enterprises visit www.bankofbaroda.com / www.bcsbi.org.in"

Your Bank's MSME Department, have advised all the branches to ensure that copy of BCSBI code of MSE should be furnished to all the new borrowers while advising sanctions and in respect of existing borrowers, the same should be sent by email.

The following measures initiated by the Staff College to create and enhance awareness about BCSBI codes amongst staff members:

Introduced one session of BCSBI Codes in all training programs of Staff College and all Training Centres to enhance awareness among the Staff / participants. So far, 810 such programs have been conducted which were attended by 21,124 trainees from 01-04-2014 to 31-03-2015.

A quiz is being conducted about the contents delivered during the program that checks the level of awareness of the participants and also revises the bullet points of the subject.

E-learning Module on BCSBI Codes provisions is uploaded on the KM portal of your Bank.

Incentive scheme to staff is under process of approval to motivate them to take up the E-learning Module of BCSBI Codes.

title: Customer Service Committee of the Board

, content: Your Bank has a Sub-Committee of Board for Customer Service which is headed by your Banks' Managing Director & CEO with the following members as on 31st March 2015 :

Shri Ranjan Dhawan - Managing Director & CEO

Shri B B Joshi - Executive Director

Shri K. V. Rama Moorthy - Executive Director

Shri Prem Kumar Makkar - Director

Shri Bharatkumar D. Dangar - Director

This Sub-Committee addresses the issues relating to the formulation of policies and assessment of their compliance which brings about consistent improvement in the quality of customer service. It also monitors the status of the number of deceased claims pending for settlement beyond 15 days pertaining to depositors/locker hirers/depositors of safe custody articles, and reviews the status of implementation of awards passed by the Banking Ombudsman

title: Acknowledgement

, content: The Directors express their sincere thanks to the Government of India, Reserve Bank of India, Securities and Exchange Board of India, other regulatory authorities, various financial institutions, banks and correspondents in India and abroad for their valuable guidance and support.

The Directors acknowledge with appreciation the assistance and cooperation extended by all stakeholders of your Bank like customers, shareholders and well wishers in India and abroad.

The Directors place on record deep appreciation for the hard work and dedication of the members of your Bank's staff at different levels, which enabled your Bank to record high quality, consistent growth year after year despite economic challenges and consolidate its position as one of the premier banks in the country.

For and on behalf of the Board of Directors,
Ranjan Dhawan
Managing Director & CEO

title: Directors' Responsibility Statement

, content: The Directors confirm that in the preparation of the annual accounts for the year ended March 31, 2015:

The applicable accounting standards have been followed along with proper explanation relating to material departures, if any;
The accounting policies framed in accordance with the guidelines of the Reserve Bank of India, were consistently applied;
Reasonable and prudent judgment and estimates were made so as to give true and fair view of the state of affairs of your Bank at the end of financial year and of the profit of your Bank for the year ended on March 31, 2015;
Proper and sufficient care was taken for the maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the applicable laws governing banks in India; and
The accounts have been prepared on a going concern basis.

title: Board of Directors: (Appointment / Cessation of Directors during the year)

, content: Appointments

Smt. Surekha Marandi has been nominated as RBI Nominee Director w.e.f.

10.06.2014 by the Central Government u/s 9 (3) (c) of The Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1970 in place of Shri Sudarshan Sen until further orders.

Shri Prem Kumar Makkar has been Appointed as Officer Employee Director w.e.f.

19.09.2014 by the Central Government u/s 9 (3) (f) of the Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1970 for a period of three years or till he ceases to be an Officer of the Bank or until further orders, whichever is earlier.

Shri Mohammad Mustafa has been nominated as Government Nominee Director w.e.f. 25.11.2014 by the Central Government u/s 9 (3) (c) of The Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1970 in place of Dr. K.P. Krishnan until further orders.

Dr. R. Narayanaswamy, after scrutiny of nominations and determination of 'Fit and Proper' status, declared elected as Shareholder Director on the Board of the Bank w.e.f. 24.12.2014.

Shri Bharatkumar Dhirubhai Dangar, after scrutiny of nominations and determination of 'Fit and Proper' status, declared elected as Shareholder Director on the Board of the Bank w.e.f. 24.12.2014.

Shri K. V. Rama Moorthy has been appointed as Executive Director w.e.f. 10.03.2015 by the Central Government u/s 9 (3) (a) of The Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1970 for a period upto 31.01.2019 i.e. the date of his attaining the age of superannuation, or until further orders, whichever is earlier.

Cessations

Shri Sudarshan Sen, RBI nominee Director, ceased to be a Director w.e.f. 09.06.2014, on the nomination of Smt. Surekha Marandi, in his place.

Shri Vinil Kumar Saxena, Workmen Employee Director, ceased to be a Director w.e.f. 24.07.2014, on completion of his term.

Shri S.S. Mundra, Chairman and Managing Director, ceased to be a Director w.e.f. 30.07.2014, on his appointment as Deputy Governor, RBI.

Dr. K.P. Krishnan, IAS, Govt. nominee Director, ceased to be a Director w.e.f.

24.11.2014 on the nomination of Shri Mohammad Mustafa, IAS, in his place.

Shri Maulin Vaishnav, Shareholder Director, ceased to be a Director w.e.f. 24.12.2014, on completion of his term.

Shri Surendra Singh Bhandari, Shareholder Director, ceased to be a Director w.e.f. 24.12.2014, on completion of his term.

Shri Rajib Sekhar Sahoo, Shareholder Director, ceased to be a Director w.e.f. 24.12.2014, on completion of his term.

Shri P. Srinivas, Executive Director, ceased to be a Director w.e.f. 31.12.2014, on his appointment as Managing Director & Chief Executive Officer of United Bank of India.

title: Implementation of Official Language (OL) Policy

, content: During the period under review, your Bank made remarkable progress in implementing the Official Language Policy of Government of India. Besides compliance of various statutory requirements under Official Language Policy of the Union Government, your Bank took the initiative of promoting and utilizing Hindi as a tool for business development, establishing better connect with customers.

Your Bank prepared a well-structured annual official language action plan for achievement of various targets set by the Government of India under its Annual Implementation Programme 2014-15 and the assurances given to the Committee of Parliament on Official Language during its visits to various offices/branches of the Bank. Through continuous monitoring and regular efforts at various levels, your Bank could achieve all the major targets of the Programme and fulfilled all the assurances given to the Committee of Parliament on Official Language.

The Meetings of Central Official Language Implementation Committee, presided over by Chairman and Managing Director/ Executive Directors of the Bank, were organized regularly on quarterly basis. Under the guidance received from the Committee, several new initiatives were taken during the year FY15. Your Bank took an important initiative of providing Internet Banking services, Mobile Pass book services to its customers in Hindi. All the alternate delivery channels viz. Self passbook printing machines, cheque deposit machines, cash deposit machines, Multi function Kiosks etc. were equipped with Hindi user interface for the convenience of customers. All the ATMs of the Bank were enabled for printing of transaction slips and mini statements in Hindi for the convenience of customers selecting Hindi as the language of their choice for interaction with the machine. A Pan India drive was also undertaken to confirm availability of this facility in all the ATMs of your Bank.

Your Bank made remarkable progress with respect to automation of Quarterly Hindi Progress report submission system in the Bank. Your bank undertook a major drive during the month of January, 2015 viz. "Online Pragati Abhiyaan" for online submission of QPR by all the branches/ offices of the Bank through Pragati Online Package which was implemented during the last fiscal year. Around 70% of your Bank's branches/offices submitted their quarterly progress reports online during the campaign. Your Bank has already launched Mission 100% campaign to ensure cent percent submission of such report through online mode. Your Bank started sending systems-generated letters through finacle to customers pertaining to KYC, potential dormant Accounts, dormant accounts in bilingual (Hindi- English) format during the year. This is in addition to the system established in your Bank's Regional Back Offices where lakhs of letter are being generated every month in bi-lingual form pertaining to newly opened accounts. These system generated letters have helped to a great extent in meeting its targets set under the Official Language programme. Your Bank brought more branches in the ambit of IT programme used to generate and print pass-books and account statements in Hindi at the branches situated in linguistic regions A and B.

As an initiative to start discourse in Hindi on important Banking topics your Bank Organized Inter Bank Seminar on "Social Media Mein Hindi Ki Dastak" and "Retail Banking", respectively in Mumbai and Jaipur during the year under review wherein representatives/speakers/participants from different banks took part. This initiative earned accolades from the RBI and Government of India and Parliamentary Committee on Official language. Your Bank celebrated World Hindi Day on 10.01.2015 in its all overseas territories. Brief programs were organised to commemorate the occasion in which eminent personalities related to Hindi Literature and Hindi promotion activities were invited. These programmes were attended by staff of your Bank, valued customers and officials of Indian Embassy.

To contribute to the financial inclusion drive and the Pradhanmantri Jan Dhan Yojana started by Government of India, your Bank prepared a reference booklet in Hindi christened as " Samaveshan Sandarbh" for the use of Business Correspondents working at the field level. The Gujarati version of the publication was also released during the year. The booklet was distributed to all the BCs and link branches of your Bank. Further, for increasing financial literacy amongst masses, your Bank continued to prepare and propagate through cartoon booklets, animation films in Hindi and also in regional languages. These booklets and animation films were prepared for inculcating the habit of saving, escalating the features of Kisan Credit Card and emphasizing on the benefits of timely repayment of loans. These cartoon booklets and animation films were christened as "Chhoti Bachat badi Khushhali", " Aam ke aam guthliyon ke daam" and " Samay Par Karj Ka Bhugtan, Jindagi Bane Aasaan", Retail Loan se Khushali" in their Hindi edition. These Booklets/animation films were sent to Regional Offices/ Zonal Offices of the Bank for their effective utilization. Further, your Bank also used the platform of Rajbhasha Karyakrams/workshops for disseminating the features of Pradhanmantri Jandhan Yojana.

Your Bank has been pioneer in spreading and promoting the use of Hindi through the forum of Nagar Rajbhasha Samitis. During the year under review, your Bank, under instructions from of Home Ministry, Government of India constituted four new Nagar Rajbhasha Samitis. These committees are functioning at Sihor, Sitamarhi (Bihar), Anand (Gujarat), Faizabad (Uttarpradesh) under the convenorship of your Bank. Hence, the total number of Nagar Rajbhasha Samitis working under the convenor ship of your Bank stands at 12.

The Third Sub-Committee of parliament on official language visited your Bank's branches/offices at Nagarkoil, Tamilnadu. The Committee appreciated the efforts put in by your Bank for promotion of the use of Hindi language.

Your Bank's efforts earned accolades from Government of India and Reserve Bank of India also. The Government of India awarded your Bank with the 1st Prize in the Indira Gandhi Rajbhasha Shield Competition in Region 'B'. The award was received by Bank's Executive Director Shri P Srinivas from Honorable President of India at a function held at Rastrapati Bhawan, New Delhi on Hindi Diwas 2014. Further, your Bank was awarded first prize for ' B' Region and second prizes for Region 'A' and 'B' by Reserve Bank of India (RBI) under the RBI Rajbhasha Shield Competition. Your Bank's Executive Director Shri P Srinivas received these awards from the Governor of RBI.

Your Bank continued with its flagship scheme "Medhavi Vidyarthi Samman Yojana" for popularising Hindi amongst the students' community. Under this scheme, cash prizes and commendation certificates signed by your Bank's CMD/ED are given to students scoring highest marks in M.A.(Hindi). This scheme, at present, is applicable in 64 universities of the country.

Your Bank published three books in Hindi during the year viz."Aasti Prabandhan", "Madhyabharat Lekhmala" and " Banking ke Vibhinna Aayam ", " Retail Loan Margdarshka" for providing qualitative/informative reading material in the Hindi language.

title: Execution of strategic initiatives under Project Navoday, our comprehensive Business Transformation Journey:

, content: During the year, our Bank has embarked on a transformation journey 'Project Navoday' and has made several strides in this journey, the core of which has been around growth through processes, products, platforms and people capability building. The thrust of Project Navoday is building the next generation capabilities and unleashing the organizational talent to make our Bank future ready with the ability to deliver a differentiated world-class customer experience.

We are also preparing for the full fledged launch of our Shared Services Center in GIFT City, Gandhinagar which, through digitization and centralization with seamless scaling-up and standardization of processes, compliance and controls would improve efficiencies and help our staff to address the needs of our customers and deepen our relationship with them. Our Bank-wide Market Research Study on Customer Satisfaction and Brand Health completed in March 2017 has provided us with valuable feedback on customer perceptions and expectations from the Bank. Our Employee Engagement Survey 2016 also provided us with valuable insights on our employee needs and expectations from the Bank, which has formed the basis of the rollout of several employee-centric initiatives. In summary, the two extensive, independent primary research studies undertaken by our Bank in 2016 have been instrumental in helping us define the details of our two-pronged focus on our customers and our employees.

Some of the new business initiatives aligned with the transformation that were undertaken in 2016-17 are as below:

Building strong product propositions across Retail and Corporate Banking
Strengthening the Business Origination and Credit Processes for Corporate and Retail Banking

Alliance-led strategy of ecosystem financing to support innovation and entrepreneurship in Agriculture and Rural Banking and thereby help farmers augment their income

Integrated Enterprise Risk Management with focus on strengthening risk and compliance self-assessment, internal audit and risk management processes, policies and procedures across the Bank

Optimisation in the use of capital, risk based pricing and extensive use of bureau data

Technology enablement as the backbone for all businesses we undertake. The Bank is working on adoption of technology innovations such as Robotics Process Automation, Block Chain Technology and Artificial Intelligence to bring more efficiency and transparency in the business process. Digital transformation, aimed at promoting a cashless economy through efforts such as promotion of digital villages and digital-only branches, early participation in Aadhar enabled banking, UPI, Bharat Bill Payment and comprehensive mobile banking

People transformation, aimed at increasing employee motivation and engagement
Societal transformation through Financial Inclusion: Our Bank views financial inclusion as an opportunity to bring about societal transformation while pursuing a beneficial business proposition. We have taken a number of initiatives to ensure that the banking services are extended across the geographic breadth of the country in a sustainable manner by leveraging technology. Some efforts in this direction include Aadhar seeding through alternate delivery channels and organizing camps, creation of dashboards to monitor the performance of BCs, hosting financial literacy camps, organising in-house training and certification programme for Banking correspondents and other innovative propositions

Strengthening our Brand: To attract the youth and instill in them the values of commitment, dedication and hard work to the profession, ace badminton players P V Sindhu and K Srikanth endorse our Brand and their youth and zeal inspire our customers to associate with the core strength of these players. In order to increase the Brand recall, our Bank has acquired the naming rights of Sikandarpur and Andheri Metro Stations in the financial year 2016-17. Also, our Bank is a national supporter for FIFA U-17 World Cup scheduled in October 2017 which will help the Bank to reach millions of students through school programs, workshops, football festivals and so on. Further, our Bank has also taken efforts to improve the brand recall by improving the brand visibility at strategic locations as well as in cinemas.

The interplay of the macroeconomic scenario, emerging challenges and the various initiatives underway has made us stronger as revealed from the financial performance this year. Our Bank reported profit in FY 2017 on a net basis as against posting a loss in FY 2016. Our Bank's gross global business crossed the Rs. 10 trillion milestone. Let me share with you the key highlights of the Bank's performance in FY 2017.

title: Financial Performance

, content: During FY 2017, the deposits in the Banking system increased significantly due to demonetization initiative of Government. This is reflected in the robust growth in the domestic CASA deposits of our Bank that increased from Rs. 1,32,539 crore in FY 2016 to Rs. 1,73,594 crore in FY 2017. Post the demonetization period, our Bank took a number of initiatives to retain the low cost deposits garnered during November 9 to December 31, 2016. As such, the share of CASA in domestic deposits on a terminal basis which had increased from 33.57% as of March 2016 to 40.46% in December 2016 could be retained at 39.44% as of March, 2017. It is noteworthy that on average basis the share of CASA in domestic deposits increased from 30.62% as of March 2016 to 37.08% as of December 2016 and then further to 38.79% as of March 2017. Despite the growth in CASA segment, overall deposits of our Bank grew by 4.81% on a year-on-year (y-o-y) basis to Rs. 6,01,675 crore. This was due to a conscious effort on our part to shed bulk and high cost deposits in favour of retail term deposits thereby lowering the cost of deposits. Our Bank's domestic deposits grew from Rs. 3,94,844 crore as of March 31, 2016 to Rs. 4,40,092 crore as of March 31, 2017 while its international deposits contracted from Rs. 1,79,194 crore to Rs. 1,61,583 crore over the same period.

Advances

Our Bank sought to consolidate and re-balance its portfolio in favour of high yielding assets while shedding the low yielding portfolios. The Global Advances of our Bank were at Rs. 3,83,259 crore as of March 31, 2017 as against Rs. 3,83,770 crore as of March 31, 2016. While the international loan book contracted from Rs. 1,20,502 crore to Rs. 1,05,735 crore, the outstanding domestic advances increased from Rs. 2,63,268 crore to Rs. 2,77,524 crore, over the same period. Our Bank diversified its portfolio in favour of retail loan portfolio which increased from Rs. 50,850 crore as of March 2016 to Rs. 57,994 crore as of March 2017. Within this, the home loan portfolio registered an increase of 20.80% on y-o-y basis. Our Bank is committed to play a meaningful role in supporting the Government's objective to improve the income of farmers and transform the rural ecosystem. Our Agriculture loan portfolio increased to Rs. 47,297 crore as of March 2017, registering a growth of 28.45% on y-o-y basis.

Stressed Assets

During the year, the banking sector continued to grapple with the problem of stressed assets that saw slow progress in resolution despite several policy initiatives. The limited progress in resolving stressed assets was an industry wide phenomenon as there were challenges associated with consortium lending, excess capacity in many industries, over leveraged borrowers and limited ability of Corporates to access the equity markets. Our Bank was also impacted by these challenges, but it sought to limit the growth of fresh slippages by ensuring that its loan origination process is made more efficient and there is a focused approach to recovery. Accordingly, our Bank's Gross Non-Performing Assets (GNPA) slightly increased from Rs. 40,521 crore as of March 2016 to Rs. 42,719 crore as of March 2017. As of March 31, 2017, the Gross NPA and Net NPA ratios were at 10.46% and 4.72% as against 9.99% and 5.06% respectively on the corresponding date of the last financial year. Our Bank preferred prudence over profit and has worked continuously to enhance its intrinsic strength by increasing its Provision Coverage Ratio (PCR). The PCR including technical write offs (TWO) as of March 2017 was 66.83% as against 60.09% as of March 2016. Even excluding TWO, our Bank's PCR stood at 57.68% as of March 2017 as against 52.11% as of March 2016. It is also worth noting that the Standard Restructured Advances of the Bank fell from a level of Rs. 25,905 crore in March 2015 to Rs. 13,735 crore as of March 2016 and further to Rs. 10,785 crore in March 2017.

Profit

Our Bank's Operating Profit registered a growth of 24.49% to touch a level of Rs. 10,975 crore in FY 2017 as against Rs. 8,816 crore in FY 2016 due to an improvement in its core earnings and supported by a 35.19% growth in its other income. The Net Interest Income showed a positive traction by recording a growth of 6.07% on y-o-y basis to touch a level of Rs. 13,513 crore. The Other Income reached a level of Rs. 6,758 crore supported by good growth in trading gains and forex profits during the year. The Total Revenue increased to Rs. 20,271 crore in FY 2017 as against Rs. 17,739 crore in FY 2016.

Total expenses declined by 5.62% driven by the fall in interest expenses and marginal increase in operating expenses. While Interest expenses declined by 8.41%, operating expenses increased by 4.18% on a y-o-y basis in FY 2017. The slow pace of growth in operating expenses helped the Bank to improve upon its cost to income ratio which declined from 50.30% in March 2016 to 45.86% in March 2017, suggesting higher operating efficiency.

During the year, our Bank provided Rs. 7,680 crore as against Rs. 13,766 crore in FY 2016 towards NPAs due to decline in fresh slippages. As a result, our Bank returned to generating profits on a net basis in FY 2017 after having posted net loss in FY 2016. The Net Profit of our Bank for FY 2017 stood at Rs.1,383 crore.

Capital

Our Bank continues to be well capitalized to meet Its growth aspirations on the back of strong franchise it enjoys with our customers and other stakeholders. Capital Adequacy Ratio of our Bank as per Basel III at 12.24% as of March, 2017 continues to be above the regulatory requirement. As of March 31, 2017 the Tier 1 capital ratio of our Bank is 9.93% and Common Equity Tier 1 (CET-1) is 8.98%. The Consolidated group Capital Adequacy Ratio is 12.80% as of March 31, 2017.

In a nutshell, our Bank sought to consolidate its operations and explored profitable business opportunities to return to a high growth trajectory while continuing to build on its internal strengths.

Going forward as these transformation measures get institutionalized, we are confident of providing world class services to our customers as well as generating higher value for all our stakeholders. A strong foundation for a sustainable and better quality of earnings has been put in place.

We are confident that our strategic focus on customers, people, processes, solution offerings enabled by the best in class technology will help us retain the leadership position in the emerging business environment. We believe that the multi-pronged initiatives will provide a strong foundation for the Bank to play a major role in the future growth of our country.

Our Way Forward

Our focus areas as discussed and agreed internally for the financial year 2017-18 include:

Driving inclusive, high-quality and profitable growth and thereby build our market share

Continuing to accelerate recovery and collection efforts to minimize the impact of stressed assets

Enhancing customer and employee satisfaction with increased customer centricity and addressing financial needs through a multi-pronged digital transformation strategy

Ensuring compliance with all systems, processes and procedures

Strengthening our Subsidiaries and Associates through technology upgradation, complementary new products, talent and capability upgradation so as to provide alongside with the Bank, a full range of products and services

Progressing steadily with the execution of our comprehensive transformation Project Navodaya

I would like to acknowledge and thank the Chairman of the Board Mr Ravi Venkatesan and all the Board members for their valuable support and inputs to the Management in all our endeavours.

The Management team is confident that our collective effort and teamwork will help us as we channelize our energies to surpass the expectations of all stakeholders - our customers, our people and our shareholders. We look forward to your continued support and goodwill in this journey.

P S Jayakumar

Managing Director and CEO

title: NSFR Disclosure at 31st December 2021

, content: The RBI guidelines stipulated the implementation of NSFR effective from 1st October 2021 at a consolidated level with disclosure from quarter ended December 2021. Accordingly, the bank is computing the Consolidated NSFR. The NSFR is defined as the amount of Available Stable Funding relative to the amount of Required Stable Funding

$$\text{NSFR} = (\text{Available Stable Funding (ASF)}) / (\text{Required Stable Funding (RSF)})$$

Available stable funding (ASF) is measured based on the broad characteristics of relative stability of funding sources, including contractual maturity of its liabilities and the differences in the tendency of different types of funding providers to withdraw their funding. Required Stable Funding (RSF) is a function of the liquidity characteristics and residual maturities of the various assets held by the bank including Off-Balance Sheet (OBS) exposures.

The table attached herewith sets out the un-weighted and weighted value of the NSFR components as on 31st December 2021 based on audited financials.

title: NOTES TO STANDALONE FINANCIAL RESULTS:

, content: The above standalone financial results have been recommended by the Audit Committee of Board and approved at the meeting of the Board of Directors held on February 5, 2022. The same has been subjected to limited review by Statutory Central Auditors of the Bank in line with the guidelines issued by the Reserve Bank of India and as per SEBI (Listing Obligations & Disclosure Requirements) Regulation 2015, as amended thereafter.

The above standalone financial results for the quarter/Nine Months ended

December 31, 2021 have been prepared in accordance with recognition and measurement principles laid down in Accounting Standard (AS-25) on 'Interim Financial Reporting' issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. The Bank has continued to follow the same accounting policies and practices in preparation of financial results for the quarter/ Nine Months ended December 31, 2021 as followed in the previous financial year ended March 31, 2021.

The above financial results have been arrived at after considering necessary provision for NPAs, Standard Assets, Restructured Assets and Investment Depreciation/Provision, Provisions for contingencies, Employee Benefits, Direct taxes (after adjustment for deferred tax) and for other items/assets are made on estimated basis and subject to adjustments, if any, at the year end.

In terms of Reserve Bank of India (RBI) guidelines, Pillar 3 disclosures including leverage ratio, liquidity coverage ratio and Net stable funding ratio (NSFR) under the Basel- III framework are being made available on our website <https://www.bankofbaroda.in/shareholders-corner/disclosures-under-basel-iii>. These disclosures have not been subjected to review/ audit by Statutory Central Auditors of the Bank.

During the quarter ended 31.12.2021, the Bank has exercised the call option and redeemed Basel III AT1 bonds - SERIES VI amounting to ₹ 100000 lakhs. The Bank has also issued Basel III AT1 bonds Series XVII of ₹ 199700 lakhs.

As per RBI Circular no. DBR.No.BP.15199/21.04.048/2016-17 and DBR.No.BP.1906/21.04.048/2017-18 dated June 23, 2017 and August 28, 2017 respectively, for the accounts covered under the provisions of Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC), the Bank is holding total provision of ₹ 768180 lakhs being 100% of total outstanding as on December 31, 2021.

Based on the available financial statements and the declarations from borrowers, the Bank has estimated the liability for Unhedged Foreign Currency in terms of RBI circular DBOD.No.BP.BC.85/21.06.200/2013-14 dated January 15, 2014 and is holding a provision of ₹19057 lakhs as on December 31, 2021.

The spread of COVID-19 has led to a regional lockdown and in turn led to significant volatility in Global and Indian financial markets and the resultant decrease in global and local economic activities during the first and second wave of COVID-19 pandemic. Further, the extent to which the COVID pandemic and its future waves if any may impact the Bank's operation and asset quality are uncertain.

The bank is however keeping a close watch on developments on an ongoing basis and taking proactive measures continuously to maintain and improve asset quality. The bank, therefore, believes that there may not be any significant impact on Bank's future financial results.

The Honourable Supreme Court of India vide an interim order dated 03.09.2020 had directed that accounts which were not declared NPA till 31.08.2020 shall not be declared as NPA till further orders, which was complied with by the Bank. The said interim order was vacated on 23.03.2021 and the Bank adhered to the asset classification of borrower accounts as per the extant regulatory IRAC norms. In view of this, the results for the nine months ended December 2021 may not be comparable with the corresponding nine months of FY 2020-21.

The Bank is holding additional provision of Rs.55893 lakhs over and above the provision as per IRAC norms in certain stressed standard advances on prudent basis.

Bank has estimated the additional liability on account of revision in family pension for employees as per IBA Joint Note dated November 11, 2020, amounting to ₹ 145441 lakhs. However, RBI vide their Circular RBI/2021-22/105

DOR.ACC.REC.57/21.04.018/2021-22 dated 4th October 2021, has permitted Banks to amortize the said additional liability over a period of not exceeding 5 (five) years, beginning with financial year ending 31st March 2022, subject to a minimum of 1/5th of the total amount being expensed every year. Bank has opted the said provision of RBI, charged an amount of ₹ 7272 lakhs & 21816 lakhs to the Profit & Loss account for the quarter and Nine months ended 31st December 2021 respectively and the balance unamortized expense of ₹123625 lakhs has been carried forward. Had the Bank charged the entire additional liability to the Profit and Loss Account, the net profit for the quarter and Nine months ended December 31, 2021 would have been lower by ₹ 92509 lakhs.

As per Directions of RBI vide letter no 10655/21.04.048/2018-19 dated 21.06.2019 disclosure with respect to accounts kept as standard due to the Court order, there is one account which is classified as standard as per court orders, with outstanding of ₹ 4658.47 lakhs as of December 31, 2021 against which the Bank is holding provision of ₹ 1122 lakhs as of December 31, 2021 as per IRAC norms, including provision for unrealized interest.

title: Execution of strategic initiatives under Project Navoday, our comprehensive Business Transformation Journey:

, content: During the year, our Bank has embarked on a transformation journey 'Project Navoday' and has made several strides in this journey, the core of which has been around growth through processes, products, platforms and people capability building. The thrust of Project Navoday is building the next generation capabilities and unleashing the organizational talent to make our Bank future ready with the ability to deliver a differentiated world-class customer experience.

We are also preparing for the full fledged launch of our Shared Services Center in GIFT City, Gandhinagar which, through digitization and centralization with seamless scaling-up and standardization of processes, compliance and controls would improve efficiencies and help our staff to address the needs of our customers and deepen our relationship with them. Our Bank-wide Market Research Study on Customer Satisfaction and Brand Health completed in March 2017 has provided us with valuable feedback on customer perceptions and expectations from the Bank. Our Employee Engagement Survey 2016 also provided us with valuable insights on our employee needs and expectations from the Bank, which has formed the basis of the rollout of several employee-centric initiatives. In summary, the two extensive, independent primary research studies undertaken by our Bank in 2016 have been instrumental in helping us define the details of our two-pronged focus on our customers and our employees.

Some of the new business initiatives aligned with the transformation that were undertaken in 2016-17 are as below:

Building strong product propositions across Retail and Corporate Banking
Strengthening the Business Origination and Credit Processes for Corporate and Retail Banking

Alliance-led strategy of ecosystem financing to support innovation and entrepreneurship in Agriculture and Rural Banking and thereby help farmers augment their income

Integrated Enterprise Risk Management with focus on strengthening risk and compliance self-assessment, internal audit and risk management processes, policies and procedures across the Bank

Optimisation in the use of capital, risk based pricing and extensive use of bureau data

Technology enablement as the backbone for all businesses we undertake. The Bank is working on adoption of technology innovations such as Robotics Process Automation, Block Chain Technology and Artificial Intelligence to bring more efficiency and transparency in the business process. Digital transformation, aimed at promoting a cashless economy through efforts such as promotion of digital villages and digital-only branches, early participation in Aadhar enabled banking, UPI, Bharat Bill Payment and comprehensive mobile banking
People transformation, aimed at increasing employee motivation and engagement
Societal transformation through Financial Inclusion: Our Bank views financial inclusion as an opportunity to bring about societal transformation while pursuing a beneficial business proposition. We have taken a number of initiatives to ensure that the banking services are extended across the geographic breadth of the country in a sustainable manner by leveraging technology. Some efforts in this direction include Aadhar seeding through alternate delivery channels and organizing camps, creation of dashboards to monitor the performance of BCs, hosting financial literacy camps, organising in-house training and certification programme for Banking correspondents and other innovative propositions

Strengthening our Brand: To attract the youth and instill in them the values of commitment, dedication and hard work to the profession, ace badminton players P V Sindhu and K Srikant endorse our Brand and their youth and zeal inspire our customers to associate with the core strength of these players. In order to increase the Brand recall, our Bank has acquired the naming rights of Sikandarpur and Andheri Metro Stations in the financial year 2016-17. Also, our Bank is a national supporter for FIFA U-17 World scheduled in October 2017 which will help the Bank to reach millions of students through school programs, workshops, football festivals and so on. Further, our Bank has also taken efforts to improve the brand recall by improving the brand visibility at strategic locations as well as in cinemas.

The interplay of the macroeconomic scenario, emerging challenges and the various initiatives underway has made us stronger as revealed from the financial performance this year. Our Bank reported profit in FY 2017 on a net basis as against posting a loss in FY 2016. Our Bank's gross global business crossed the Rs. 10 trillion milestone. Let me share with you the key highlights of the Bank's performance in FY 2017.

title: Financial Performance

, content: During FY 2017, the deposits in the Banking system increased significantly due to demonetization initiative of Government. This is reflected in the robust growth in the domestic CASA deposits of our Bank that increased from Rs. 1,32,539 crore in FY 2016 to Rs. 1,73,594 crore in FY 2017. Post the demonetization period, our Bank took a number of initiatives to retain the low cost deposits garnered during November 9 to December 31, 2016. As such, the share of CASA in domestic deposits on a terminal basis which had increased from 33.57% as of March 2016 to 40.46% in December 2016 could be retained at 39.44% as of March, 2017. It is noteworthy that on average basis the share of CASA in domestic deposits increased from 30.62% as of March 2016 to 37.08% as of December 2016 and then further to 38.79% as of March 2017. Despite the growth in CASA segment, overall deposits of our Bank grew by 4.81% on a year-on-year (y-o-y) basis to Rs. 6,01,675 crore. This was due to a conscious effort on our part to shed bulk and high cost deposits in favour of retail term deposits thereby lowering the cost of deposits. Our Bank's domestic deposits grew from Rs. 3,94,844 crore as of March 31, 2016 to Rs. 4,40,092 crore as of March 31, 2017 while its international deposits contracted from Rs. 1,79,194 crore to Rs. 1,61,583 crore over the same period.

Advances

Our Bank sought to consolidate and re-balance its portfolio in favour of high yielding assets while shedding the low yielding portfolios. The Global Advances of our Bank were at Rs. 3,83,259 crore as of March 31, 2017 as against Rs. 3,83,770 crore as of March 31, 2016. While the international loan book contracted from Rs. 1,20,502 crore to Rs. 1,05,735 crore, the outstanding domestic advances increased from Rs. 2,63,268 crore to Rs. 2,77,524 crore, over the same period. Our Bank diversified its portfolio in favour of retail loan portfolio which increased from Rs. 50,850 crore as of March 2016 to Rs. 57,994 crore as of March 2017. Within this, the home loan portfolio registered an increase of 20.80% on y-o-y basis. Our Bank is committed to play a meaningful role in supporting the Government's objective to improve the income of farmers and transform the rural ecosystem. Our Agriculture loan portfolio increased to Rs. 47,297 crore as of March 2017, registering a growth of 28.45% on y-o-y basis.

Stressed Assets

During the year, the banking sector continued to grapple with the problem of stressed assets that saw slow progress in resolution despite several policy initiatives. The limited progress in resolving stressed assets was an industry wide phenomenon as there were challenges associated with consortium lending, excess capacity in many industries, over leveraged borrowers and limited ability of Corporates to access the equity markets. Our Bank was also impacted by these challenges, but it sought to limit the growth of fresh slippages by ensuring that its loan origination process is made more efficient and there is a focused approach to recovery. Accordingly, our Bank's Gross Non-Performing Assets (GNPA) slightly increased from Rs. 40,521 crore as of March 2016 to Rs. 42,719 crore as of March 2017. As of March 31, 2017, the Gross NPA and Net NPA ratios were at 10.46% and 4.72% as against 9.99% and 5.06% respectively on the corresponding date of the last financial year. Our Bank preferred prudence over profit and has worked continuously to enhance its intrinsic strength by increasing its Provision Coverage Ratio (PCR). The PCR including technical write offs (TWO) as of March 2017 was 66.83% as against 60.09% as of March 2016. Even excluding TWO, our Bank's PCR stood at 57.68% as of March 2017 as against 52.11% as of March 2016. It is also worth noting that the Standard Restructured Advances of the Bank fell from a level of Rs. 25,905 crore in March 2015 to Rs. 13,735 crore as of March 2016 and further to Rs. 10,785 crore in March 2017.

Profit

Our Bank's Operating Profit registered a growth of 24.49% to touch a level of Rs. 10,975 crore in FY 2017 as against Rs. 8,816 crore in FY 2016 due to an improvement in its core earnings and supported by a 35.19% growth in its other income. The Net Interest Income showed a positive traction by recording a growth of 6.07% on y-o-y basis to touch a level of Rs. 13,513 crore. The Other Income reached a level of Rs. 6,758 crore supported by good growth in trading gains and forex profits during the year. The Total Revenue increased to Rs. 20,271 crore in FY 2017 as against Rs. 17,739 crore in FY 2016.

Total expenses declined by 5.62% driven by the fall in interest expenses and marginal increase in operating expenses. While Interest expenses declined by 8.41%, operating expenses increased by 4.18% on a y-o-y basis in FY 2017. The slow pace of growth in operating expenses helped the Bank to improve upon its cost to income ratio which declined from 50.30% in March 2016 to 45.86% in March 2017, suggesting higher operating efficiency.

During the year, our Bank provided Rs. 7,680 crore as against Rs. 13,766 crore in FY 2016 towards NPAs due to decline in fresh slippages. As a result, our Bank returned to generating profits on a net basis in FY 2017 after having posted net loss in FY 2016. The Net Profit of our Bank for FY 2017 stood at Rs.1,383 crore.

Capital

Our Bank continues to be well capitalized to meet Its growth aspirations on the back of strong franchise it enjoys with our customers and other stakeholders. Capital Adequacy Ratio of our Bank as per Basel III at 12.24% as of March, 2017 continues to be above the regulatory requirement. As of March 31, 2017 the Tier 1 capital ratio of our Bank is 9.93% and Common Equity Tier 1 (CET-1) is 8.98%. The Consolidated group Capital Adequacy Ratio is 12.80% as of March 31, 2017.

In a nutshell, our Bank sought to consolidate its operations and explored profitable business opportunities to return to a high growth trajectory while continuing to build on its internal strengths.

Going forward as these transformation measures get institutionalized, we are confident of providing world class services to our customers as well as generating higher value for all our stakeholders. A strong foundation for a sustainable and better quality of earnings has been put in place.

We are confident that our strategic focus on customers, people, processes, solution offerings enabled by the best in class technology will help us retain the leadership position in the emerging business environment. We believe that the multi-pronged initiatives will provide a strong foundation for the Bank to play a major role in the future growth of our country.

Our Way Forward

Our focus areas as discussed and agreed internally for the financial year 2017-18 include:

Driving inclusive, high-quality and profitable growth and thereby build our market share

Continuing to accelerate recovery and collection efforts to minimize the impact of stressed assets

Enhancing customer and employee satisfaction with increased customer centricity and addressing financial needs through a multi-pronged digital transformation

strategy

Ensuring compliance with all systems, processes and procedures
Strengthening our Subsidiaries and Associates through technology upgradation, complementary new products, talent and capability upgradation so as to provide alongside with the Bank, a full range of products and services
Progressing steadily with the execution of our comprehensive transformation Project Navodaya

I would like to acknowledge and thank the Chairman of the Board Mr Ravi Venkatesan and all the Board members for their valuable support and inputs to the Management in all our endeavours.

The Management team is confident that our collective effort and teamwork will help us as we channelize our energies to surpass the expectations of all stakeholders - our customers, our people and our shareholders. We look forward to your continued support and goodwill in this journey.

P S Jayakumar
Managing Director and CEO

title: Macroeconomic Environment in FY15

, content: The financial year 2014-15 (FY15) saw gradual improvement in the growth outlook. A number of factors supported this that includes political stability, improved policy environment, increasing pace of reforms, and firm commitment towards fiscal consolidation. Further, the sharp fall in international crude oil prices has had a positive effect on growth, easing of inflationary pressures, reducing imports and lowering current account deficit. Even so, the macroeconomic environment remained weak during FY15 primarily due to subdued agriculture and industrial growth.

In FY15, the India's GDP is estimated to have grown by 7.3% in FY15, a shade lower than the government's earlier projection but above 6.9% clocked in FY14. Due to deficient and unseasonal rains during kharif and rabi seasons respectively, the agriculture sector grew at only 0.2% in FY15 as against 3.7% in FY14. The manufacturing sector grew by 7.1% in FY15, yet, the Index of Industrial Production (IIP) grew by just 2.8%. Although production of capital goods and non-oil non-gold imports gathered some momentum, the vicious cycle of supply constraints, stranded investments, stressed bank balance sheets, risk aversion and weak demand continued during the year. The exports growth was subdued and the imports were also weak, resulting in narrowing of trade deficit. The services sector, however, continued to perform better than agriculture and industrial sector. Within the services sector, the financial, real estate and professional services grew by 11.5% and the trade, hotel & communication sector grew by 10.7% in FY15.

The declining input costs, particularly due to sharp fall in international crude oil prices, manifested in the sharp fall of the CPI (combined) from 8.59% in April 2014 to 5.17% in March 2015 much below the target set by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI)'s glide path. The WPI slipped from 5.5% in April 2014 to (-) 0.17% in November 2014 and thereafter remained in negative zone till March 2015 at (-) 2.33%. During the year, the RBI reduced the SLR by 150 bps and benchmark repo rate by 50 bps due to easing of inflation and weak growth outlook.

Further, the Union Budget focused on investment driven growth by increasing public expenditure on infrastructure especially roads and railways. Though, the Government achieved fiscal deficit of 4.0% for 2014-15, it adopted a moderate path for further fiscal consolidation by postponing the glide path to 3% from 2 years to 3 years. Moreover, the central government passed a number of key legislations relating to defence and insurance during FY15.

During the year, the markets remained concerned about the possible US Fed rate hike following the signs of strengthening of the US economy. But as the year progressed and there were signs of weakness, the rate normalization was deferred. With the increased signs of China's economy slowing down gathered momentum, the Indian economy began to be considered to be among the better performing economies amidst dismal global growth outlook.

title: Banking Scenario in FY15

, content: The Banking sector faced multifarious challenges in FY15 with a subdued credit growth, heightening asset quality concerns amidst weakening corporate balance sheets and maintaining capital.

During FY15, the credit growth of the banking industry slipped to multiyear low on the back of overall economic slowdown, stalled projects, weak investment, stretched corporate balance sheets and supply constraints. Further, capital conservation and efficient utilization of capital becomes an important challenge in view of stringent Basel -III capital norms, asset quality challenges and higher provisions. As a result, the profitability of the banks was affected adversely with weakening of return ratios.

Apart from this, the banking sector participated actively in the Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana, the biggest financial inclusion initiative of the Central Government. As of March 31, 2015, the banks opened a record 14.7 crore accounts with a balance of Rs 15,670 crore in such accounts. Besides this, the banking space is set to widen with the introduction of newer market participants such as small banks and payment banks in near future.

title: Key Highlights of Bank of Baroda's Performance during FY15

, content: During FY15, despite the macro headwinds, your Bank's global business crossed the 10 trillion mark and touched Rs 10,45,625 crore by registering a growth of 8.3%. The domestic business grew at a higher rate of 8.4% in FY15 and reached Rs 7,06,148 crore.

During the year, your Bank pursued the strategy of continuing to diversify its loan book in favour of retail, MSME and agriculture credit, as opportunities in large-sized corporate segment had dried up.

Your Bank's international business grew at a pace of 7.9% (y-o-y) during FY15. Healthy mobilization of domestic CASA deposits at the rate of 13.6% (y-o-y) and shedding of high-cost preferential deposits helped your Bank defend its NIM in domestic operations at 2.91% in FY15.

The Bank's Provision Coverage Ratio (PCR) remained at 64.99% in FY15 as against 65.45% in FY14 which is one of the best among the PSU banking space.

Your Bank's Capital Adequacy Ratio continued to reflect its capital strength. The CRAR was 13.33% in terms of Basel II and 12.60% in terms of Basel III at end-March, 2015.

I would now like to discuss the detailed aspects of your Bank's performance during the year under review.

title: Global Business

, content: As mentioned before, the Global Business of your Bank reached the level of Rs 10,45,625 crore in FY15 with an annual growth of 8.3%, of which, Domestic Business grew by 8.4% to reach Rs 7,06,148 crore and Overseas Business by 7.9% to Rs 3,39,477 crore. While Global Deposits registered a growth of 8.5% (y-o-y), Global (Net) Advances expanded by 7.8%. In domestic operations, your Bank's Deposits grew by 9.3% (y-o-y), whereas Advances (net) expanded by 7.2%. A sustained performance year after year, enabled your Bank to retain its market share in Deposits at 4.43% and in Advances at 3.99% as on March 20, 2015.

Your Bank's Global CASA (Low-cost) Deposits grew healthily by 11.3% (y-o-y) to Rs 1,62,969 crore in FY15 with the Share of Domestic CASA improving to 33.01%.

As in the past, your Bank's international operations provided firm support to its overall business growth during FY15. As on 31st March, 2015, your Bank was present in 24 countries with 104 offices. During the year under review, the Total Business of your Bank's international branches registered a growth of 7.9%.

During FY15, your Bank's "Overseas Business" contributed 32.47% to its Total (Global) Business, 22.98% to Gross Profit and 28.60% to Core Fee-based income (i.e., Commission, Exchanges, brokerage, etc.)

title: Segment-wise Business

, content: The year FY15 was marked by low credit appetite by the corporate sector on account of weak investment sentiment. However, your Bank innovatively gave a retail leaning to its overall business and placed a special focus on retail, MSME and agriculture sectors. With this, your Bank managed to grow its credit book by 7.8% on year on year basis. Your Bank posted a growth of 9.5% in its SME segment, 14.1% in Retail Credit (with 15.3% in Home Loans); and 9.3 % in Credit to Weaker Sections. Your Bank's Farm Credit grew by 31.6% to Rs 37,403 crore. The Bank's Credit to Priority Sectors too expanded from Rs 93,728 crore as on March 2014 to Rs 1,03,343 crore and formed 36.40% of its Adjusted Net Bank Credit (ANBC).

title: Net Interest Income & Margins

, content: Notwithstanding the sluggish economic environment, your Bank's Net Interest Income grew robustly by 10.21% (y-o-y) during FY15. The Net Interest Margin of your Bank too was protected at 2.91% in Domestic Operations and 2.31% in Global Operations as a result of prudent pricing of loans and deposits and systematically reduced dependence on high cost funds.

title: Profits

, content: The Operating Profit grew by 6.01% (y-o-y) to Rs 9,915 crore and Net Profit fell by (-) 25.16% to Rs 3,398 crore in FY15.

title: Asset Quality

, content: The primary concern for banks was to maintain asset quality amidst macroeconomic weakness. However, your Bank's focused efforts towards recovery and asset up-gradation enabled it to protect and improve sequentially its asset quality position throughout the year under review. Your Bank's Gross NPA ratio stood at 3.72% in Q4, FY15 versus 3.85% in Q3, FY15 and its Net NPA ratio stood at 1.89% in Q4, FY15 versus 2.11% in Q3, FY15. For the full year, the Gross NPA and Net NPA were at 3.72% and 1.89% in FY15 as against 2.94% and 1.52% in FY14, respectively. Your Bank's rigorous follow up of all NPA accounts and timely response to early warning signals resulted in Cash Recovery of Rs 1,492.81 crore. Your Bank could upgrade accounts to the tune of Rs 1058.43 crore to standard category. Moreover, your Bank recovered Rs 210.25 crore from the written off accounts.

title: Provision Coverage Ratio

, content: The Bank's Provision Coverage Ratio (PCR) stands at an impressive level of 64.99% at end-March, 2015, which is one of the highest in the peer group.

title: Capital Adequacy

, content: Your Bank's capital strength too was protected well with the support of healthy retained earnings and prudent capital planning. Your Bank's CRAR (Basel II) was at 13.33% and Tier I capital at 10.14% as on 31st March 2015. Similarly, its CRAR (Basel III) was at 12.60%, Tier 1 Capital at 9.87% and Core Tier 1 Capital at 9.35% as on 31st March 2015. These are one of the highest levels in the PSU banking segment.

title: Book Value per Share

, content: Your Bank's Book Value per Share increased to Rs 166.83 in FY15 by registering a year-on-year growth of 2.5%. The face value of the share was split on January 22, 2015 from Rs 10 to Rs 2 per share. Subsequently, the Book Value was also adjusted accordingly.

title: Human Resources (HR)

, content: Your Bank has been pursuing a balanced and comprehensive Human Resources Policy in view of various challenges faced by the PSU banks in the form of large retirements, massive induction of talent, huge training requirements and challenges of successions.

During FY15, your Bank undertook automation and centralization of various routine HR activities such as claims and reimbursements, thereby achieving faster turn around time in settling of claims. Further, your Bank has put in place a manpower planning tool which determines manpower requirements for different Branches / units on a scientific basis. The output from the manpower planning tool facilitates various manpower planning related decisions, that is, recruitment, new hire allocation, transfers and promotions. Even the performance management for your Bank's officer has been completely automated making the system more robust, objective and quicker.

To enhance the "Employee Engagement", your Bank undertook various initiatives like conduct of satisfaction surveys and workshops for interaction between juniors and seniors so as to improve employee connect. Furthermore, to reward the top performers, your Bank has performance linked incentive scheme for its employees.

With a view to identify and groom young potential leaders, your Bank has implemented a well orchestrated Talent Management System that proactively identifies future potential leaders based on various criteria and also grooms them through a systematic developmental plan for each of the identified future leader.

During FY15, your Bank rolled out state of the art Learning Management System for e-learning courses which are available on the intranet providing the convenience of time and place. Your Bank is the first Bank to launch 'Mobile Snippets' a Mobile App for the benefit of employees. This enables the employees to access daily banking news, gist of important BOB / RBI circulars, in-house publications, announcements for upcoming events and video messages.

Moreover, Baroda Apex Academy has a Facebook page for informal learning. Further, to broad base learning, your Bank organized events such as motivational speeches, video shows and group activities etc under the name Mind Gym Series. Apart from this, your Bank also sought to engage in external trainings so as to widen the knowledge base of its employees.

In recognition of the efforts towards learning practices, your Bank received a number of awards from prestigious organization such as Golden Peacock, IBA and others.

title: Business Process Reengineering (BPR)

, content: Your Bank's BPR Project known as Navnirmaan, which was launched to cover both Business Process Re-engineering and Organization Re-structuring, aimed at transforming the Bank's branches into sales and service centres through sustained centralization. This project has been highly successful in establishing your Bank as India's International Bank.

This project touched all aspects of your Bank's processes, structures and systems with an objective to simplify processes, improve branch productivity and provide best-in-class service to its customers.

title: Information Technology (IT)

, content: Your Bank has been using Information and Communication Technology (ICT) not only to improve its own internal processes but also to increase facilities and services for its customers. Further, your Bank has undertaken a total end-to-end business and IT strategy project covering your Bank's domestic, overseas and subsidiary operations. By enabling a host of alternate banking channels, your Bank has endeavored to improve customer interaction, reduce operational cost and develop new business opportunities.

With the purpose to enhance the customer experience in alternate delivery channels, your Bank introduced new facilities in its internet Banking viz., Baroda Connect channel. The new enhanced features include online e-banking registration, view and deposit to PPF accounts, Salary upload facility, Mobile OTP generation through smartphone, Tax payments of various States, and IMPS (Immediate Payment services), etc. Moreover, Internet Banking facility is made available on all Smart-phones/tablets offering comfort of anywhere banking to its customers. Internet Banking has been implemented in total 16 overseas territories viz. Tanzania, Uganda, Kenya, Mauritius, Seychelles, Botswana, New Zealand, UAE, Fiji, UK, Oman, Ghana, Australia, Trinidad & Tobago, Guyana and USA. Internet banking is also provided in all the RRBs sponsored by the Bank.

Mobile Banking - one more alternate delivery channel that offers various facilities to your Bank's customers was completely revamped by enhancing its look and feel, user-friendliness and user experience for technology savvy customers. The Mobile Banking platform offers many features and facilities to customers, viz., icon based user interface, balance enquiry, mini statement, fund transfer, stop payment, cheque status, and other services. Mobile banking application is made available in all i-Phones, Blackberry, Android, Windows devices. Through mobile banking it is facilitated to make payments for Mobile top-up / DTH top-up, Insurance premium payment, Online shopping, Over-the-counter payments, fees payments to schools/colleges/ universities, Utility Bill payments, Travel & Ticketing, Temple Donations, and Non internet based railway ticket booking through mobile phones using IMPS - IRCTC.

During the year FY15, your Bank launched the first Cash Recyclers in the country on July 20, 2014. The unique aspect of Cash Recycler is that, it is enabled to accept cash as well as dispense cash apart from balance enquiry, mini statement and PIN change facilities. These have found good response from retail as well as business customers with ease of operation and 24x7 availability.

Your Bank also provided self service passbook printers to all Metro and Urban branches apart from select high footfall semi-urban and rural branches.

In short, IT has made a visible difference in the functioning of your Bank and conduct of its banking operations.

title: Retail Business

, content: Given the uncertain macroeconomic environment, your Bank sought to give retail orientation to its business profile by undertaking a number of initiatives.

With the business vertical "Deposit Resources" focusing on creating a strong liability franchise and generating synergy in business models, your Bank ensured that there is consistent and significant growth in Low-cost Deposits (CASA) and Retail Term Deposits.

A number of initiatives were undertaken during the year FY15 for strengthening and reviving the relationship with existing customers for improving CASA deposits and promoting debit cards. Furthermore, some special drives were launched for activation of dormant accounts and funding of zero balance accounts to widen the active customer base.

From the assets side also, your Bank placed added thrust on retail business so as to make its loan-book more balanced. To achieve this, your Bank introduced special measures to increase the attractiveness of its products. Under Home Loans, new schemes were introduced such as linking of Home Loan Advantage scheme with SB accounts, for funding premium for home loan borrowers a personal loan scheme, and a pre-approval home loan scheme. Also, modifications and improvement to education loan schemes were effected keeping in view the needs for higher education. Also, various campaigns were carried out to place targeted focus on retail business.

title: Acknowledgement

, content: I feel privileged to thank every stakeholder of the Bank who plays a vital role in our success. Without their support and tireless efforts we could not be where we are today.

First, I would like to thank the Members of the Board for their valuable guidance, support and prudent counsel. I and my colleagues on the Board place on record our appreciation for wise counsel and guidance received from the Government of India, RBI, SEBI, other regulatory authorities, various financial institutions, banks and correspondents in India and abroad.

We also place on record our appreciation for the unstinted trust and support of our customers, shareholders, investors and vendors.

As in the past, our performance during FY15 was driven by the dedication and commitment of our employees. On your behalf as well as on behalf of the Board of Directors, I salute the employees of Bank of Baroda on another impressive performance during the year FY15.

Before I conclude, I would like to thank all of you for your presence and interest in the Bank.

Thank you.

Ranjan Dhawan

Managing Director and CEO

title: Risk Management

, content: Risk is inevitable in the banking business and hence, a sound risk management framework is the touchstone of an efficient bank. Your Bank has robust architecture to address various risks inherent in its business viz - Credit Risk, Market Risk, Operational Risk, Liquidity Risk, Interest Rate Risk etc. The architecture includes mechanism of defining risk appetite, its monitoring, reporting and review. The objective of the architecture is to ensure that the asset quality is sustained against economic shocks and sufficient capital buffers are available to withstand them.

Few of the testimonies of enhanced risk management practices are that the Reserve Bank of India has permitted your Bank for a parallel run under Foundation Internal Rating-based (FIRB) Approach in respect of Credit Risk. For Market Risk, your Bank has set up Global Mid Office in Mumbai, which facilitate cost-efficient and more effective way of measuring, monitoring and reporting the Market Risk positions in its global operations. The systems to operationalise the Global Mid Office, compliant with Internal Model Approach of Basel II norms are in advance stage of implementation. In respect of Operational Risk, your bank has implemented a web based sophisticated Operational Risk Management solution, which is one of the best available solution in the industry. Similarly for Asset Liability Management, Fund Transfer Pricing and Profitability Analysis, Oracle Financial Services Analytical Application Infrastructure has been deployed.

Your Bank has successfully implemented Basel III norms pertaining to capital quantity and quality, Leverage Ratio and Liquidity Coverage Ratio with the transition rules specified by the Reserve bank of India.

title: MSME Business

, content: The Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME) segment is a key source of economic growth and employment in India. Even during these challenging times, this sector's contribution to the GDP has been quite significant.

With the purpose to effectively finance the micro enterprises, your Bank established Baroda Micro Enterprise Cell to facilitate focused attention on financing of Micro Enterprise. As at end March, 2015, your Bank operationalised 80 such cells. Your Bank introduced new schemes such as Integrated Development of Leather Sector (IDLS) scheme, promoted by Footwear Design & Development Institute, Baroda, self employment programme for individuals and group enterprises/SHGs (Restructured SJSRY scheme) and new schemes were designed for chemical and pharmaceuticals sector in Bharuch Region.

Your Bank organized campaigns and celebrated MSME festivals to increase the awareness among borrowers. Moreover, to reduce the turnaround time, your Bank rolled out Lending Automation Processing System (LAPS) in all SME Loan Factories.

title: Financial Inclusion

, content: With the launching of Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY) during FY15, the financial inclusion received a massive impetus wherein its coverage and ambit was enlarged as compared to the earlier initiatives and it is operating under defined timelines in a mission mode. As always, your Bank has been a frontrunner even in this initiative as it looks at it not just as a social commitment but as an effective and profitable business proposition. Your Bank has achieved all the targets set under PMJDY well ahead of its timelines. As on 31.03.2015, your Bank mobilized deposits of Rs 1,101 crore in PMJDY accounts with average balance per account above Rs 2500. Moreover, the share of Bank of Baroda in opening PMJDY account is at 5.7% of the total accounts opened by all banks and share in deposits mobilized is at 7.86%.

Apart from this, your Bank continued its pursuit of achieving the targets set under disaggregated Financial Inclusion Plan (FIP) 2016. Your Bank surpassed the target of covering 22,030 villages as against the target of 16,324. Similarly, your Bank surpassed its targets for opening of "Basic Savings Bank Deposit Account" and opening of urban kiosk, and opening of accounts through BC mode.

Given the importance of financial literacy in achieving meaningful financial inclusion, your Bank undertook Financial Literacy campaigns to educate villagers on various banking facilities and particularly, the benefits of savings, Aadhaar seeding, maintaining minimum balance, eligibility for availing Overdraft, use and safekeeping of RuPay cards, USSD facility, eligibility of availing accidental & life insurance, lodgment of claim under insurance, micro insurance products, pensions, benefits of KCC, GCC, prompt repayment, and availability of other retail and SME loans to them.

title: Should you opt for a Home Loan Balance Transfer?

, content: Your home loan is probably one of your biggest financial responsibilities. Now, you may have heard of the concept of a balance transfer to ease out your payments. In this article, we will look at what a home loan balance transfer is and examine whether it makes sense to opt in for it.

title: What is home loan balance transfer?

, content: A home loan balance transfer is a method of loan refinancing in which you can opt to transfer your home loan from the existing lender to a new lender. This transfer is usually done so that you benefit from lower interest rates or favourable repayment terms.

A home loan balance transfer is like taking a new home loan. The key difference is that only the outstanding amount of your home loan is transferred to the new lender. For instance, let's say that you have taken a home loan of a total of Rs 80 lakhs. Out of this amount, you have already repaid 20%. Your home loan balance transfer will only be for the remaining amount that is due to be paid and will not include the 20% that you paid off.

The new lender will pay off the outstanding loan amount to the previous lender and close that account for once and all. A new home loan account will be then opened for you with your new lender.

title: What are the benefits of opting for a loan transfer to another bank?

, content: Lower interest rate

The biggest reason why most people opt for a home loan balance transfer is a lower interest rate. If, by chance, the interest rate falls and there is a lender who is potentially willing to offer a reduced home loan interest rate, then you should consider switching your lender. A lower interest rate translates to a lower EMI and brings the total cost of your home loan down.

Allows you to change your tenure

The tenure of repayment is set before you sign the loan agreement with the lender. It cannot be then modified post that. In case you wish to reduce or extend the tenure of repayment, opting to transfer home loan to another bank can be helpful. When you do the balance transfer, you get a chance to change your tenure period and also negotiate better terms of repayment.

This can be really beneficial for long term loans like home loans. If, however, you feel that you have the financial resources to repay your loan amount in a shorter span of time, you can opt for a home loan transfer to a lender who is offering a shorter tenure.

Option of top-up loans

Top-up loans are those loans that the bank provides over and above your existing home loan. Whether it is meeting unplanned expenses at a wedding or funding your foreign education, a top-up loan comes in handy in all situations. Top-up loans can be availed easily with a home loan balance transfer.

title: When should you opt for a home loan balance transfer?

, content: Here are some ideal scenarios in which you might want to consider doing a home loan transfer to other bank or lenders:

The initial the period of your tenure

Doing a home loan balance transfer will prove most useful when you have a considerable span of your tenure left ahead of you. This way, you get a longer period to benefit from a lower interest rate with the new lender. Opting for a home loan transfer in the last few years of repayment may not be advisable. Now, you may wonder after how many months home loan can be transferred.

To switch from fixed to floating interest rate

There are two types of interest rates at which home loans can be availed. They are fixed and floating interest rates. A fixed interest rate, like the name suggests is fixed throughout the course of the loan. This rate does not fluctuate with changes in the market. In contrast, a floating interest rate is a rate that depends entirely on the market situation. If you are presently on a fixed interest rate and feel that the floating interest is substantially lower and more favourable, you choose to switch it with a home loan balance transfer.

The practice can work the other way round as well. If you feel that you do not want to take a chance with the changing floating interest rate, you can opt for a fixed interest rate instead.

title: What are the things to keep in mind when I switch my loan?

, content: Cost of balance transfer

Home balance transfers are not free of cost. You must pay the penalty to the existing lender and take care of the charges by the new lender as well. Moreover, some additional expenses may arise during processing. Make sure that you have enough funds in place to meet these expenses before you opt for a balance transfer. Also, make sure that the money you will end up saving through the balance transfer is more than the value of all these costs.

Processing time

Along with the cost of processing, you must also consider the time that will take it to transfer your home loan to another bank.

Property authorisation

Banks do not offer home loan balance transfers for properties that are under dispute. Therefore, you must ensure that all your property and financial documents are clear and free from any kind of legal dispute which may come in the way of your home loan balance transfer.

Bank of Baroda offers a Home Loan Takeover Scheme for resident and non-resident Indians. Our loans come with low processing charges, affordable interest rates, and many other attractive features. Get in touch today to know more.

title: What is a SIP Calculator?

, content: A Systematic Investment Plan (SIP) Calculator is an online tool through which you can estimate the returns on your Mutual Funds Investment, usually before you invest in them through Systematic Investment Plans (SIPs). The SIP Calculator works by taking into consideration your monthly investment amount along with the tenure of investment to provide you with an approximate value of the wealth accumulation, based on an estimated rate of return. However, it is important to understand that the estimate provided by the calculator is approximate, and the actual returns may vary. An SIP Calculator simply acts as a guiding tool to help investors smoothly integrate SIPs into their portfolio, while helping the investor stay prepared and informed on what they can expect.

title: How can a SIP Calculator help you?

, content: A SIP Calculator gives you an insight into the growth of your investments over a period of time based on the value of the amount you invest. You can get an idea on how much money you must invest in the Mutual Funds SIP in order to gain the desired returns. A SIP calculator can help you set your short-term and long-term goals accordingly.

The SIP calculator can easily be used online, and for free. All you have to do is enter a few values, such as the investment amount, the investment period, and the expected rate of return. Once you fill in these inputs, the calculator gives you the value of your SIP investments. This tool helps you save time from doing complex calculations.

As mentioned earlier, an SIP Calculator is an online tool that investors use to get an estimate of their SIP Mutual Fund returns. This valuable tool empowers investors to make informed financial decisions. The formula SIP calculations is as follows:

$$M = P \times \left( \frac{[1 + i]^n - 1}{i} \right) \times (1 + i)$$

M represents the amount received on maturity

P represents the amount invested n represents the number of payments made

i represents the rate of interest

Please note that the rate of interest on an SIP may differ based on market conditions, thus affecting the estimated returns.

title: How to Use a Systematic Investment Plan Calculator?
, content: Step 1: Decide upon your target or investment amount.

Step 2: Enter the number of payments or SIP installments you would like to make.

Step 3: Select the frequency of your SIP payments.

Step 4: Enter your expected rate of return on investments. However, it is important to note the rate of return may vary.

Step 5: After you have entered all these values, click on "Calculate". The calculator will then show your estimated wealth accumulation at the end of your installments.

title: Advantages of SIP Calculator

, content: Systematic Investment Plan Calculator helps you calculate the returns on your Mutual Funds investments via SIP, thus aiding your financial planning. Let us take a look at the several benefits of SIP Calculator:

Easy to Use:

SIP return calculator is designed to be user-friendly. It provides an approximate value of your investments instantly, and allows you to make an informed decision by enabling you to consider different scenarios.

Reduces Complications:

SIP calculator saves time by performing complex calculations with ease.

Free of Cost:

The SIP Calculator online can be used free of cost to determine the amount you must invest in order to gain the desired outcome.

title: Budgeting, content: budgeting tips are as follows : "1. Choose an account with high interest rate" The best way to maximise the returns from your savings account is to open a savings account with a bank that offers more attractive interest rates. After all, a higher rate of interest automatically gets you more returns. Compare savings rates online before choosing the right bank to go with. Even a slight increase in the savings account interest rate can see you earn more interest on the money you have saved up over a period of time.

"2. Budget your monthly expenses and make use of the auto-sweep facility" You may wonder how budgeting is related to earning returns. The answer is quite simple - every rupee saved is a rupee earned. This is one of the oldest yet effective money management techniques for earning best return on savings account. Creating a budget will not only help you understand your monthly expenses, but it will also help you in finding different avenues to save money. Once you know your monthly expenditure you can use the auto-sweep facility to its maximum. The auto-sweep facility allows you to automatically transfer excess money in your savings account to a fixed deposit (FD). This can help you earn a higher rate of return as the average bank return rate on funds stored in a standard savings account is anywhere between 2.75 % to 3.30 %; while the interest rate offered on FDs is usually anywhere between 2.80% to 5.25%. Plus, when your money is secured in an FD, you are less likely to withdraw and spend it.

"3. Open a recurring deposit" FDs are usually used to earn interest on a lumpsum amount of money. However, not all of us have large amounts of excess funds available for locking into FDs. In this case, you can open a recurring deposit (RD) with your lender. An RD is one of the best saving tools you will come across. Through an RD, you will be able to invest a fixed sum of money every month in a scheme that earns you interest on your savings. Bank RDs generally offer a rate of return that is anywhere between 3.7 % to 5.25 %. The returns earned depends largely on the tenure of the RD. For example, an RD that has a tenure of 1 year can possibly offer a return percentage of 5 %, while an RD with a tenure of more than 5 years may offer a return percentage of 5.25%. The advantage that RDs have is that the minimum amount you need to put aside is smaller and quite manageable. For instance, you can start an RD with an amount of just Rs 1000 per month.

"4. Take advantage of the rewards offered on debit cards" If you have a savings account, it is quite likely that you have a debit card linked to it as well. Prominent banks offer a plethora of discounts, benefits, and other rewards to debit cardholders. For example, you may get to avail of discounts when you shop online or buy products from co-brands. Some debit cards even give you free insurance coverage. All of these rewards and benefits can help you save a significant amount of money in the long run. Thus, one of the best ways to utilise your savings account to the maximum is to avail of such debit card offers when making your daily purchases.

"5. Set saving goals" Lack of discipline is one of the major reasons why most people struggle to achieve their financial goals of saving money. Now, how does one build the discipline to save money? It's simple! Set a goal to save a certain amount of money within a certain period of time. Do remember to set realistic short-term saving goals and ensure that these are neither too easy nor too hard to achieve. The same logic applies to long-term saving goals. This is because an easy goal can compel you to slack off, while a highly difficult goal might discourage you from carrying on. Hence, by setting an achievable goal, you will build the habit of saving money consistently.

"6. Try and open two or more savings accounts" Opening two or more savings accounts will help you reap extra benefits and allow you to manage your funds quite easily. This is because having just one savings account might make it hard for you to keep funds from getting spent. Most of us have our primary savings account linked to online wallets and AutoPay / BillPay for various bills. Therefore, it helps to keep a second savings account into which you deposit funds each month that do not get spent. To make your savings even more achievable, avoid linking this second account to any payment system like UPI and preferably don't take a debit card on it as well. This is one of the most workable savings account tips and a great way to truly put aside funds for a rainy day.

title: Popular Articles, content: The contents of this article/infographic/picture/video are meant solely for information purposes and do not necessarily reflect the views of Bank of Baroda. The contents are generic in nature and for informational purposes only. It is not a substitute for specific advice in your own circumstances. Bank of Baroda and/ or its Affiliates and its subsidiaries make no representation as to the accuracy; completeness or reliability of any information contained herein or otherwise provided and hereby disclaim any liability with regard to the same. The information is subject to updation, completion, revision, verification and amendment and the same may change materially. The information is not intended for distribution or use by any person in any jurisdiction where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject Bank of Baroda or its affiliates to any licensing or registration requirements. Bank of Baroda shall not be responsible for any direct/indirect loss or liability incurred by the reader for taking any financial decisions based on the contents and information mentioned. Please consult your financial advisor before making any financial decision.

title: Leave a Comment, content: Thanks for submitting your details.

title: Baroda Salary Classic Account - Everything You Need To Know, content: There are many different types of bank accounts that you can open today. Salaried people can open a special salary account that can help them save while also empowering them with several benefits. One such account is offered by Bank of Baroda. Let's understand what a salary account is and look at the Bank of Baroda Salary Classic Account benefits.

title: What is a Term Deposits - A Complete Guide, content: A bank account is the most crucial instrument that allows you to save money. You can easily deposit and withdraw funds at your convenience and grow your savings steadily. While banks offer interest on your savings account deposits, they also offer a host of investment facilities that allow you to earn better interest rates and grow your corpus significantly. One such facility is known as a term deposit.

Let us understand what term deposits are and how to assess their salient features, exceptional benefits, and various types. Read on.

title: Sensors & Actuators, Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Internet of Things (IoT), Robotics and Drones, content: According to a survey, 80% of farmers in US and 24% farmers in UK have already started using Smart Farming Tool (SFT). These numbers are cognizant of the fact that SFTs are adding value to the farming ecosystem. As far as the scale of operations is considered, Smart farming tools and techniques can be applied to large scale and on the other hand distributed conventional farming can be applied to focused small farming set of organic farms.

title: Robotics Plus, content: Precision farming system has a lot of dependency on the software management systems. Control systems manage sensory input, delivering remote data for supply and decision support, as well as automation of machines. Basically, it is a standardized business approach balancing the demand and supply side with respect to resource management.

title: Road Network Management with AI, content: Dear Reader, &nbsp;The lack of road safety in India is increasingly becoming a matter of major concern. According to National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) data, India recorded around 4.3 lakh road accidents in 2019, which took the lives of 1.5 lakh people. Poor road infrastructure, encroachment, and increasing number of vehicles have contributed to the high number of road hazards in the country. The solution seems clear: real-time road monitoring and information collation about road infrastructure.&nbsp;New Delhi-based deep tech startup Nayan India Science and Technologies has developed a road safety and traffic monitoring solution that uses a camera, computer vision and artificial intelligence. The application constantly monitors roads, infrastructure, and traffic violation. The AI Powered algorithms analyse the video feeds and alert in case of violations, defects or dangers on the road.&nbsp;The B2B SaaS startup works with road transport authorities, insurance companies, private aggregators, public transportation fleets etc. to provide real world, last-mile analytics to better revenue channels.&nbsp;RoadMetrics is an AI-based solution that uses image and sensor data obtained from a simple smartphone to classify road defects, signs, traffic signals, street lights, etc. This road and street-level data helps enterprise mapping firms and smart city bodies with analytics on road networks and a better mapping experience. The data is sold through the API model as well as on a per km basis, depending on the geography for Smart Cities.&nbsp;Swedish start-up, Mapillary, acquired by Facebook, is the street-level imagery platform that scales and automates mapping using collaboration, cameras and computer vision. Mapillary's tools enable anyone to collect, share, and use street-level images which are combined for improving the city maps.&nbsp;US based RoadBotics automated inspections and generated actionable data about road networks, including identification of individual distresses like potholes and alligator cracks. Their detailed maps, unbiased ratings, and practical tools save time and taxpayer dollars for hundreds of communities across the country and around the world.&nbsp;As per IBEF ORG, India has the second-largest road network in the world, spanning a total of 5.89 million kilometres (kms). This road network transports 64.5% of all goods in the country and 90% of India's total passenger traffic uses road network to commute. Road transportation has gradually increased over the years with improvement in connectivity between cities, towns and villages in the country. In India, sale of automobiles and movement of freight by roads is growing at a rapid rate. The startups are focused in solving road network issues by using India's main asset - its huge population.&nbsp;Credits : Akhil Handa Manisha Gawle title: Smart-Robotics for Education, content: With the huge potential of robotics getting unlocked every day, even educators are leveraging robotics to improve the quality of education in novel ways, providing hands-on way of teaching important concepts like mathematics and science. Teachers can showcase how simple mathematical concepts like addition, subtraction, proportion etc. are applied in the field of robotics. These bots use the same general characteristics as industrial robots, but are much safer and less expensive to use. As per 'Global Robotics Education Industry Market Research Report', the global education robot market is estimated to reach size of around $25 billion by 2026 with a CAGR of around 23%. One of the first robots in the educational field was released in the 1980s, called the Heathkit Educational Robot (HERO). Though it was not programmed to perform practical tasks, it was a self-contained mobile robot that was controlled by an on-board computer using a Motorola CPU and 4 KB of RAM. The educational bot featured light, sound, motion detectors and a sonar ranging sensor. Recently, UBTECH Education and Follett have formed a partnership to create interactive JIMU robotic building block systems which enables students to develop critical STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) skills in a hands-on environment. JIMU robots are designed to complement the incremental steps of STEM success in experimentation and progressive learning by providing countless hours of creative and inspiring fun. Similarly, NuMinds Enrichment has developed AI-powered NAO robot, which enables students to interact with the humanoid as it teaches coding, literature and simulates training environments. NuMinds programs are also enhanced with cutting-edge virtual reality (VR) goggles that integrate virtual environments and augment learning, to captivate students and enhance their experience. Back home in India, Agilo Research, an EdTech hardware start-up, has developed STEMpedia Robotics learning platform to foster creativity and innovation among the young students. This platform was part of 'India Innovation Growth Program' launched by Lockheed Martin, Tata Trusts and FICCI. Based on the innovative solutions being launched, AI and robotics can effectively improve the quality of elementary and even higher education. Besides cutting down the overall cost in generating insights in different scientific sectors, the technologies can help teachers tailor the education system to suit students with diverse learning needs. Credits : Akhil Handa, Manish Kulkarni title: Smart Investment Options For Retirees, content: Senior citizens need savings and investment options to ensure financial security and independence during retirement years, covering living expenses, healthcare, and unexpected costs, while reducing reliance on family and friends. Fortunately, they have a variety of options based on their risk profile and objectives. title: Heathkit Educational Robot (HERO)., content: Recently, UBTECH Education and Follett have formed a partnership to create interactive JIMU robotic building block systems which enables students to develop critical STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) skills in a hands-on environment. JIMU robots are designed to complement the incremental steps of STEM success in experimentation and progressive learning by providing countless hours of creative and inspiring fun.

title: UBTECH Education, content: Similarly, NuMinds Enrichment has developed AI-powered NAO robot, which enables students to interact with the humanoid as it teaches coding, literature and simulates training environments. NuMinds programs are also enhanced with cutting-edge virtual reality (VR) goggles that integrate virtual environments and augment learning, to captivate students and enhance their experience.

title: NuMinds Enrichment, content: Back home in India, Agilo Research, an EdTech hardware start-up, has developed STEMpedia Robotics learning platform to foster creativity and innovation among the young students. This platform was part of 'India Innovation Growth Program' launched by Lockheed Martin, Tata Trusts and FICCI.

title: Agilo Research, content: Based on the innovative solutions being launched, AI and robotics can effectively improve the quality of elementary and even higher education. Besides cutting down the overall cost in generating insights in different scientific sectors, the technologies can help teachers tailor the education system to suit students with diverse learning needs.

title: Smart Farming, content: Dear Reader, Smart farming can be referred to as the 4.0 green revolution in the field of agriculture combining agriculture methodologies with technology — Sensors & Actuators, Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Internet of Things (IoT), Robotics and Drones to achieve desired efficiencies of production which are sustainable. According to a survey, 80% of farmers in US and 24% farmers in UK have already started using Smart Farming Tool (SFT). These numbers are cognizant of the fact that SFTs are adding value to the farming ecosystem. As far as the scale of operations is considered, Smart farming tools and techniques can be applied to large scale and on the other hand distributed conventional farming can be applied to focused small farming set of organic farms. Through remote sensing, smart farming system reduces waste, improves productivity and enables optimum resource management. For the benefit of micro farming, multiple crops are grown simultaneously on remote lands which require different care, manure, soil and water. By linking local sensors to smart irrigation and control, things like sensing pH balance of the soil, gauging local temperature is now possible through remote monitoring and sensing rather than walking the field all the time. This leads to increase in the yield as farmers can save on time and focus on the real issues of farming – pest control, irrigation and amending soil conditions; all using sensing and automation. Companies like Robotics Plus, a startup with USD 10 million funding from Yamaha is planning to deploy its fruit plucking robots into production, while Ecorobotix with their Weed Zapping Robots have gained considerable momentum owing to the growth in Smart farming techniques. Precision farming system has a lot of dependency on the software management systems. Control systems manage sensory input, delivering remote data for supply and decision support, as well as automation of machines. Basically, it is a standardized business approach balancing the demand and supply side with respect to resource management. During production, it is mostly resource management from a growth and yield perspective. For instance, precision seeding uses automated tractors to reduce seed loss and seeding with proper space management between different plants. Another example is of precision water delivery. On the demand side, it is about demand forecasting and delivering goods just in time to reduce waste. India has always been an agrarian state, and traditional farming methods are manual and too labour intensive. Smart Farming can also provide great benefits in terms of environmental issues, for example, through more efficient use of water and optimisation of treatments and inputs.

Credits : Akhil Handa Clint James
title: Social Equality in Tech, content: Dear Reader, Why do we prize technology over everything else? Because it helps us solve problems as efficiently as possible. No one can predict from which gender, ethnicity or nationality the next great idea might come from. And the tech startup sector is a living embodiment of that. Moving to another part of the world for employment does pose a challenge. And since most tech jobs are located at specific hotspots, many talented workers always find themselves unemployed. Software as a Service products and services are enabling employers to find and employ talent from all over the world. Remote working, work from anywhere and digital nomadism are slowly becoming the new normal. Digital marketing firm Loganix understands the potential of having a diverse team. The company runs almost all its operations globally – with teams of people from the US, Asia, Australia and Europe – employees are dynamically moved between different teams, depending on requirements, allowing quick resolution of issues. Poor or different communication skills can fuel many workplace misunderstandings. And it costs quite a bit of time and money to learn a new language. The US Foreign Services Institute estimates that it takes on an average 480 hours to gain basic competence in languages. This was a problem that cloud-based tuition service Preply aimed to fix. The platform offers a place for both language tutors and students to collaborate easily and affordably. Tutors can create their profiles with rates, experience and number of languages spoken; and students can review their tutors, making it easy for other students to decide who to hire. Workers planning to move to another country can use such services to learn a new language far cheaper than attending a language school. HR teams can also hire tutors to educate employees who need to go abroad or new recruits from other countries. Social inequality isn't always about creed, gender or nationality. Entrepreneurs are usually handicapped due to high entry barriers in business. Indeed, the cost of acquiring customers is every bit the startup killer it is known to be. Oleg Campbell, a Ukrainian developer who bootstrapped his startup, Reply, to a $2 million a year company, certainly identifies with the struggle. Campbell's lack of sales experience stalled the growth of his first enterprise. Consequently, he focused his efforts on helping tech entrepreneurs overcome their lack of salesmanship with smarter tools. Reply's LinkedIn email finder is specifically for new companies looking for affordable, effective lead generation. Such a tool can help a user find email addresses of prospects on LinkedIn. Paired with LinkedIn's Sales Navigator, users can create highly personalized outreach messages for each prospect. The tech sector can, and should, be the leader at showcasing the advantages of diversity. By championing the cause of gender diversity through socially agnostic platforms, they are leading the cause of social equality in tech.&nbsp;Credits : Akhil Handa Prithwijiit Ghosh title: What is an EMI?

, content: EMI is the monthly installment paid by the borrower towards the loan at a specified interest rate over a specified loan tenure.

title: Calculating The EMI On Personal Loans

, content: The EMI calculations mainly rely on three variables-

The Loan Term or The Tenure of The Loan

The Loan Value

Rate of Interest

*The rate of interest is one of the aspects that comes determined by the bank.

title: Calculating EMI Using The PMT Formula

, content: This is a longer, tedious and round about approach to calculating the EMI on your personal loan. Here, you can run the PMT formula on Microsoft Excel to calculate EMI on personal loan, where

PMT is your EMI

NPER or number of periods is the total number of payments for the loan

PV is the loan value or the principal

Rate is the rate of interest/12

The formula is

PMT (Rate, NPER, pv)

You can keep trying the formula for various combinations and then choose the one with the lowest EMI, though this is a roundabout approach that could be prone to human error.

title: Online Personal Loan EMI Calculator

, content: Or a far easier option to calculate the affordable EMI, is using, for example, Bank of Baroda's online personal loan EMI calculator.

Here, you will find a slider on the range of each of the three basic variables on your screen- the loan amount you are likely to need, the tenure or the repayment period of the loan that suits your finances and the rate of interest.

Now, the rate of interest is what you get from the bank, while the other two aspects, i.e., the loan amount and the tenure of the personal loan are the ones you can play around with here.

When you place the cursor on a particular value of the loan term, rate of interest and loan amount, the calculator throws up a monthly payment value, which is your EMI. You can move the cursor horizontally along the range provided to pick the various values.

title: How To Calculate Emi For Personal Loan With Example

, content: The formula used to calculate EMI for personal loans is:

$$EMI = [P \times R \times (1+R)^n] / [(1+R)^n - 1]$$

Where P= Principal loan amount

R= Rate of interest &

n= Number of monthly installments.

For example:

Let us assume, P= Rs. 3 lakh, R= 15 percent per annum= 15/12= 1.250 per month, N= 60 months then,

$$\text{EMI} = [3000000 * 1.250 / 100 * (1 + 1.250 / 100)^{60}] / [(1 + 1.250 / 100)^{60} - 1] = \text{Rs. } 7,137$$

title: Here's How a Bank of Baroda Personal Loan EMI Calculator can Help You-

, content: If EMI is too high

You can pick a longer loan term or

You can make the loan amount smaller.

If you find the EMI is affordable or even lower than ideal, then you can plan to repay faster by either

Taking a larger loan value or

A shorter loan term.

title: Smart-Robotics for Education, content: With the huge potential of robotics getting unlocked every day, even educators are leveraging robotics to improve the quality of education in novel ways, providing hands-on way of teaching important concepts like mathematics and science. Teachers can showcase how simple mathematical concepts like addition, subtraction, proportion etc. are applied in the field of robotics. These bots use the same general characteristics as industrial robots, but are much safer and less expensive to use. As per 'Global Robotics Education Industry Market Research Report', the global education robot market is estimated to reach size of around $25 billion by 2026 with a CAGR of around 23%. One of the first robots in the educational field was released in the 1980s, called the Heathkit Educational Robot (HERO). Though it was not programmed to perform practical tasks, it was a self-contained mobile robot that was controlled by an on-board computer using a Motorola CPU and 4 KB of RAM. The educational bot featured light, sound, motion detectors and a sonar ranging sensor. Recently, UBTECH Education and Follett have formed a partnership to create interactive JIMU robotic building block systems which enables students to develop critical STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) skills in a hands-on environment. JIMU robots are designed to complement the incremental steps of STEM success in experimentation and progressive learning by providing countless hours of creative and inspiring fun. Similarly, NuMinds Enrichment has developed AI-powered NAO robot, which enables students to interact with the humanoid as it teaches coding, literature and simulates training environments. NuMinds programs are also enhanced with cutting-edge virtual reality (VR) goggles that integrate virtual environments and augment learning, to captivate students and enhance their experience. Back home in India, Agilo Research, an EdTech hardware start-up, has developed STEmpedia Robotics learning platform to foster creativity and innovation among the young students. This platform was part of 'India Innovation Growth Program', launched by Lockheed Martin, Tata Trusts and FICCI. Based on the innovative solutions being launched, AI and robotics can effectively improve the quality of elementary and even higher education. Besides cutting down the overall cost in generating insights in different scientific sectors, the technologies can help teachers tailor the education system to suit students with diverse learning needs. Credits : Akhil Handa, Manish Kulkarni title: Sweat Powered Watches, content: Dear Reader, You have probably heard of solar powered smart watches but what about a sweat powered watch? When people talk about renewable power, sweat isn't exactly something that springs to mind, but it sounds like that this natural process is actually capable of powering fitness trackers and maybe even smart watches too. It sounds pretty crazy but scientists have figured out a way sweat could be used to replace traditional batteries. The research was done at the University of Glasgow where scientists created a battery cell that has a new type of flexible super capacitor that can be used to replace electrolytes typically found in batteries. The tech works by collecting the sweat a person naturally produces. This is done by 'coating polyester cellulose cloth in a thin layer of a special polymer'. The absorbency of the material attracts perspiration. The ions in the sweat react with the polymer which results in a reaction that generates electricity. Researchers say the battery can be charged with only 20 micro litres of sweat. It's also very sturdy and can survive several thousand flexes and bends it might encounter - ideal for a wearable strapped to your wrist. So not only would sweat be a non-invasive way to check on your body's health, it would likely be a highly accurate way too, in the realm of blood in some areas &ndash; which is far more appealing than something like heart rate, which has a comparatively limited scope. The University of Pennsylvania has combined those ideas with graphene, a material considered to be "the best sensor material in existence", to create the SweatSmart by GraphWear. Graphene would essentially allow the sweat sensor to be four times more accurate than current sensors. Then there are companies like LVL and Halo Wearables, who are aiming a little lower with their sweat-based trackers. The company has spent the past six years working on the Halo Edge, a device that analyses your sweat to indicate hydration levels. In the same neighbourhood is Kenzen, a company which produces the Kenzen patch, which continually tracks biosensors in your sweat and sends you real-time alerts about your health. The tech seems promising although it is still in the research phase. But the team is planning to take forward the research on integrating sweat power into wearable devices. After all, they are the perfect option for such technology as you typically wear them while exercising. However, the best hope perhaps lies with LVL and Halo Wearables. There's a chance that bigger companies like Samsung, Apple and Fitbit will explore sweat-based wearables, but that doesn't seem to be on the horizon just yet. So it might be down to the start-ups to make the first breakthrough and hope the major wearable tech heavyweights follow. Credits : Akhil title: Bank of Baroda, A.G. Chowk Branch, Rajkot , content: 1st Floor, Emporia Building, Kalawad Road, Rajkot-360005. Mr. Vivek Kumar 9687614657

Handa, Clint James

startup.rajkot@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, Parliament Street Branch, New Delhi , content: Ground Floor, Bank of Baroda Building, Sansad Marg, New Delhi, 110001 Ms. Kirtika 9643674543 startup.delhi@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, Noida Main Branch, Noida , content: Shop No. 334-338, 1st Floor, Ganga Shopping Complex, Sector 29, Noida, 201301 Mr. Anjani Kumar 6201067245 startup.noida@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, CFS Branch, Gurugram , content: Unit No. 107 to 109, ABW Tower, Ifco Chowk, MG Road, Gurugram, 122001 Mr. Amit Tiwari 7905832835
startup.gurugram@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, Hi-Tech City Branch, Hyderabad , content: 291/14/G/1, Ground Floor, Bhaskar Empire, Hitech City Road, Madhapur, Hyderabad, 500084 Ms. Durga Sakuntala 9620873776 startup.hyderabad@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, John Nagar Branch, Bengaluru , content: St John Medical College Campus, John Nagar, Koramangala, Bengaluru, 560034 Mr. Shiv Shankar 7019862443 startup.bengaluru@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, Gennext Branch, Pune , content: Adams Court, 1st Floor, Opp Mahalabeshwar Hotel, Baner Road, Baner, Pune, 411045 Ms. Swapnil Patil 9511684450 startup.pune@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, Jagatpura Branch, Jaipur , content: Shyam Vihar Colony, Vishnupuri, Model Town, Jagatpura, Jaipur, 302017 Mr. Ramkishor Meena 9426329691
startup.jaipur@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, Satellite Road Branch, Ahmedabad , content: 1, Jyoti Complex, Near Parekh's Hospital, Shyamlal Cross Roads, Satellite, Ahmedabad, 380015 Mr. Mukesh Kumar 9687636693 startup.ahmedabad@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, Velacherry Branch, Chennai , content: Kushi No. 141, Old No. 48, Velacherry Road, Chennai, 600042 Ms Dakshayani D 8247217505 startup.chennai@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, Powai Branch, Mumbai , content: Alfa, Ground Floor, Hiranandani Park, Powai, Mumbai, 400076 Mr. Vishal Shinde 8806506644 startup.mumbai@bankofbaroda.com title: Bank of Baroda, Sector 22 Branch, Chandigarh , content: SCO 1120, 1121, Sector 22B, Chandigarh- 160022 Mr. Rahul Negi 9805510555

startup.chandigarh@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, Vibhuti Khand Branch, Lucknow , content: Ground Floor, 23, Near Gomti Nagar Post Office, Vibhuti Khand, Gomti Nagar, Lucknow, 226010 Mr. Ashok Kumar Verma 9974748106 startup.lucknow@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, Gen Next Branch, Kolkata , content: Salt Lake, College More, Vishnu Apartment, DN-14, DN Block, Sector V, Bidhannagar, Kolkata, 700091 Mr. Atri Biswas 9830869310 startup.kolkata@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, Siyaganj Branch, Indore , content: 11/2, South Tukoganj, Winway Centre, Chhoti Gwaltoli Main Rd, Siyaganj, Indore, 452007 Mr. Rahul Choudhary 7850829548 startup.indore@bankofbaroda.com

title: Bank of Baroda, Vazkalla Branch, Kochi , content: Ground Floor, Vijaya Complex,Chembumukku Civil Lane Road,Ernakulam, 682030 Mr. V Sudeesh K 9526243247 startup.kochi@bankofbaroda.com

title: Home Loan EMI Calculation, content: Before availing of a home loan your planning should include your loan-paying capacity while balancing your finances. When you calculate in advance the monthly outgo you can plan the rest of your spending better. Do this before you approach a bank as they will only give you a loan looking at your repaying capacity and you can verify the calculation that the bank puts up. The checks for repayment are planned which helps to secure the tenure of repaying the home loan in its course.

title: So how to calculate EMI for a housing loan?, content: There is a three-way process of home loan EMI calculation formula, that informs individuals on how to calculate home loan EMI.

title: Home loan EMI calculation formula, content: Let us begin with the first, mathematical formula that calculates your EMIs for you.

title: How to calculate home loan EMI on an Excel sheet?, content: The home loan EMI calculation formula on the Excel sheet helps you to calculate the present value of payments (PMT) which is a simpler way of calculating the EMI.

title: The Stepwise Process:, content: The first key in loan amount is the interest rate and the tenure in years.

Don't forget to mention the currency and while logging the interest rate, add the percentage sign. You can also mention the term in years here.

title: How to calculate EMI for housing loans using the online EMI calculator?, content: Online EMI calculators are readily available by banks and financial institutes. Enabling easy user-friendly calculations, you just key in the loan amount, interest rate and loan tenure. The tool helps you get a precise breakup of the loan.

title: Benefits of calculating home loan EMI, content: Once you get a complete calculation of the home loan EMI, it helps you to get a view of what you are embarking on. The figures help in calculating making additions or subtractions to the principal sum based on your capacity for repayment. So, what are the Benefits of calculating home loan EMI in short?

title: Conclusion : home loan emi, content: Whatever may be your EMIs, this is one task that all home loan seekers should follow. Once you know the monthly expenses you are looking at, your EMIs will not press on your regular financial plans. So even before you apply for a home loan with a bank or any financial institution, you have a clear and calculated sheet that gives you an insight into what your loan repayment entails. Once you learn how to calculate EMI for a housing loan, you can compare the best deal and start paying it off at your convenience.

title: A Complete Guide to Home Loan, content: For those looking to own a home, banks and other financial institutions offer loans for that purpose at competitive interest rates. So if you already have that dream house in sight, the next step isn't too hard.

title: CIBIL Score for Home Loan - Impact of Credit Score on Home Loan, content: Are you looking for information on CIBIL score for home loans? Have you been wondering what is the minimum CIBIL score for home loans and how you can bring your credit score within that range? If so, then you've landed on the right page! Continue reading the article to know all there is about CIBIL score for housing loan application. Established in 2000, the Credit Information Bureau Limited (CIBIL) is a credit information company that maintains records of individuals and organisations. A lending agency/company/bank gives out loans on the basis of the CIBIL score generated. What is the relevance of CIBIL Score for home loan? The CIBIL score is basically a three-digit number that ranges between 300 and 900. The higher the score, the greater are your chances of getting a home loan easily. Lenders mandatorily check your credit score to know your creditworthiness when you apply for a home loan. Here is a quick look at how the CIBIL score impacts your home loan application:• The CIBIL score is essentially the first impression that your lender gets of you as a borrower •

Borrowers applying for home loans with low CIBIL scores might face a harder time in getting their applications approved • Having a good or high CIBIL score allows you to get the better interest rateCan a good CIBIL score help you get a home loan at a lower EMI?Having a good CIBIL score when you apply for a home loan not only makes you eligible to get one but also helps you get funding at a lower interest rate. Lower EMIs will help bring down the overall cost of your housing loan. As we all know, a home loan is long term debt that runs into decades. So, even a small reduction in interest can see you potentially save lakhs of rupees. Thus, having a higher CIBIL score can prove to be immensely helpful for a housing loan. What is considered to be a good CIBIL score for home loan applicants?Generally higher CIBIL score is considered good. It increases chances of getting easy approvals and better rates of interest. Bank of Baroda requires a minimum credit score of 701 for a customer to be eligible for a home loan.Want to know how to increase your home loan eligibility?Here are a few tips that can enhance your chances of getting a home loan:• Paying off existing loans: This is the major tip which will help you increase your chances of getting your home loan sanctioned. Ensure that you are paying your existing EMIs on time regularly and there is no default. If you have a habit of using your credit card, make sure you pay off your entire card debt on a regular basis so that you don't have to pay any interest on those expenses. In short, pay the whole balance and not just the minimum due. • Record your variable pay: Another way to increase your eligibility is by giving the bank proof of your variable pay apart from submitting your income documents. • Opt for a joint home loan: You can add your close relatives as co-applicant, while reviewing an application for a joint home loan, the lender considers the income of both the parties. Hence, a combined monthly income will appear higher and increase your chances of getting the loan value you need. Quick tip: You can use an online tool called the Home Loan EMI Calculator to understand what your monthly payments will look like for a certain loan amount. Knowing what kind of EMIs you can expect will help you plan your finances better. This will save you from defaulting on your payments and help you keep your credit score in good standing throughout the tenure of your home loan. Steps to check your CIBIL score onlineThese days, we have become accustomed to the new normal of doing as many things as possible online, from transferring money to someone to applying for cards and opening bank accounts too. In the same way you also check your CIBIL score digitally! Simply follow these quick steps to easily check your credit score online:Step 1 - Go to the official CIBIL website, log in and select "Know Your Score"Step 2 - Fill up the digital form that appears and enter relevant details such as your name, date of birth, past loan history, ID proof etc.Step 3 - After the form has been properly filled, a payment page will appear. You can choose your preferred form of payment method like debit/credit cards or net banking.Step 4 - After successful payment you will have to answer five questions CIBIL asks about your credit history, out of which three need to be correct, in order to get your identity authenticated from CIBIL.On approval, you will get your credit report mailed to you in the next 24 hours, and you can check your CIBIL score, also existing BOB customer can check their CIBIL score through bob World mobile banking app.ConclusionNow you can be the proud owner of your very own dream home with the easy home loan options given by Bank of Baroda. Our home loans have low interest rates, affordable processing fees, and longer tenures too. At Bank of Baroda, you can also enjoy many other benefits such as a free credit card when you apply for a home loan. Choose from our wide range of home loans including pre-approved home loan, home improvement loan, and loan takeover scheme, among others. You can check your home loan eligibility online on our website and even apply for your home loan online too. It's that convenient!Get in touch with us today to know more.

title: Branches & ATM's, content: Copyright © 2021 Bank of Baroda. All rights reserved title: Why is it Important to Open a PPF Account?, content: Here are some of the key advantages of opening a PPF account :

title: Step-by-Step Procedure to Open a PPF Account, content: Opening a PPF account online is a convenient and hassle-free process. To open a PPF account online, follow these steps:

title: How to Open a PPF Account Offline?, content: Deposit the initial amount and collect the PPF passbook.

title: Eligibility Criteria for Investing in PPF, content: Also Read - How to Transfer Your Existing PPF Account to Bank of Baroda?

title: Frequently Asked Questions on How to Open PPF Account, content: Q. How to check the public provident fund account balance online?

title: PPF Withdrawal Rules & Premature Closure, content: This article provides detailed information on PPF withdrawal rules. It covers the process of PPF withdrawal online, reasons for withdrawal, how to withdraw the PPF amount, PPF extension on maturity, partial withdrawal rules, and FAQs related to PPF withdrawal. How to Withdraw PPF Amount Online?

title: How to Transfer Your Existing PPF Account to Bank of Baroda?, content: Public Provident Fund (PPF) is one of the most popular investment avenues, not only among investors but also among taxpayers. One can invest in PPF through a bank or post office.

title: Enter Step-Up SIPs, content: A step-up SIP (or SIP top up) entails automatically increase your monthly SIP amount periodically, usually on an annual basis. There are 2 ways to opt for the step-up SIP.

title: Advantages of Step-Up SIP, content: Some key benefits of step-up SIPs include:

title: Illustration, content: *Assuming Annual Step-Up of 10% p.a.

title: All about Balanced Advantage/Dynamic Asset Allocation Funds, content: Dynamic Asset Allocation Funds, also known as Balanced Advantage Funds, allocate money across equity & debt based on a pre-determined asset allocation model which aims to participate in a market rally with higher equity allocation and preserve money over a downside with higher debt allocation.

title: Important Education Loan: Student Loan Terms You Should Know, content: Pursuing higher education is a dream for many individuals, but the rising education costs can often be a major hurdle. In such situations, education or student loans come to the rescue by providing the necessary financial support.

A student loan is a mid to short-term loan for students that provide the necessary financing to cover the fees of the university or organisation where the student is willing to study. Further, education loan for studies abroad has helped numerous students fulfil their dream of studying abroad.

However, it is crucial to have a good understanding of the various education loan terms in India. Here, we aim to shed light on some important student loan terms you should know to make informed decisions regarding your loan.

title: Important Student Education Loan Terms

, content: Here are some of the most common student loan terms you will come across while applying for a student loan in India or even an education loan for study abroad:

1. Moratorium Period

The moratorium period, also known as the repayment holiday, is a specific duration during which the borrower is not required to repay loan. The moratorium period extends for the duration of the course plus an additional year.

While no repayments are necessary during this period, interest may accrue. The repayment schedule begins once the moratorium period ends.

2. Collateral

Collateral refers to an asset or property the borrower pledges to the lender as security against the loan amount. In case of default or failure to repay the loan, the lender has the right to take possession of the collateral.

Collateral can be in the form of property, fixed deposits, or other valuable assets. Not all education loans require collateral, but having collateral may result in lower interest rates.

3. Cosigner/Co-borrower

A cosigner or co-borrower, or co-applicant is an individual who jointly applies for an education loan with the primary borrower, usually a parent or guardian. The cosigner is equally responsible for loan repayment and shares the financial liability.

A cosigner with a stable income and good credit history can strengthen the loan application and increase the chances of approval.

4. Sanction Letter

A sanction letter is an official document issued by the lender that confirms the approval of the education loan. It contains important details such as the loan amount, interest rate, repayment period, and other terms and conditions. The sanction letter is a legal agreement between the borrower and the lender.

Also Read: Benefits of Education Loan to Raise Funds

5. Variable Interest Rate

A variable interest rate, also known as a floating interest rate, is a type of interest rate that can change throughout the loan repayment period. The interest rate is usually linked to a benchmark rate, such as the MCLR (Marginal Cost of Funds-based Lending Rate) or the Repo Rate.

Changes in the benchmark rate can cause fluctuations in the interest rate, affecting the EMI amount/ Period of Loan

6. Grace Period

The grace period is a short duration i.e upto 12 months after the completion of the course, during which the borrower is not required to make any loan repayments. This period allows the borrower to secure employment or make other necessary arrangements before starting the repayment.

Interest may or may not accrue during the grace period, depending on the loan terms.

7. Annual Percentage Rate (APR)

The Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is the total cost of borrowing, including the interest rate and any other associated charges or fees, expressed as an annualised percentage. The APR provides a comprehensive understanding of the overall cost of the loan for students and helps in comparing loan offers from different lenders.

8. Margin Money

Margin money, also known as a down payment or contribution, is the portion of the total education expenses the borrower must bear. The lender covers the remaining amount through the education loan. The margin money requirement varies across lenders and loan products and is usually a percentage of the total expenses.

9. Loan Tenure

The loan tenure refers to the duration the borrower must repay the education loan. It is typically a few years after the moratorium period ends. The loan tenure can vary depending on factors such as the loan amount, interest rate, and request of the borrower.

Longer loan tenures result in lower monthly instalments but higher overall interest payments.

title: In a Nutshell

, content: Obtaining an education loan for students can be a crucial step in fulfilling your educational aspirations. This is especially in the case of overseas education loans.

However, it is essential to clearly understand the important terms associated with education loans in India. It also allows you to select the right lender and avail of loans at better terms and conditions.

Bank of Baroda has been pioneering in providing much-needed finance to students for a brighter future. Student loans by the Bank of Baroda come with affordable interest rates, simple terms and conditions, quick processing, and disbursement. Apply now!

title: Banking Mantra, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life title: What is Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY)?, content: Let us talk about Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY) in detail. It is a nationwide scheme launched in 2014. The programme makes financial services accessible to all eligible individuals in the country.

title: When did Jan Dhan Yojana start?, content: Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana was started on the 14th of August 2014 by the Government of India.

title: How has Jan Dhan Yojana changed the lives of the underprivileged?, content: In a country that has a sizable poor population, the 7 years of PMJDY opens the gates for revolutionary success. If the country can be wrapped in an organised agenda of financial wholeness, people can enjoy a life driven by economic planning and management in turn transforming the country towards faster and better wealth management. The Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana is amped with all the facilities towards building a nation that heads towards economic ambitions of building sound financial resources. Spreading awareness and motivating the scheme already has coverage of 46.25 crores in August 2022. The low-income group has shown an impressive financial appetite steering an eight-fold jump in deposits made from 2015 with a current figure of Rs. 1.73 lakh crores to the present date. The PMJDY account holders are mostly low-paid daily wagers and those from the informal sector. Achieving 100 per cent coverage in most states, the government holds an agenda of a bank account for every adult. The Jan Dhan scheme's deep penetration in the grassroots allows the country to think boldly of adapting digital payment modes making the nation wholesome digitally.

title: 5 Common Mistakes to Avoid While Investing in Fixed Deposits, content: When investing, a fixed deposit investment features essentially in almost everyone's investment portfolio. This low-risk, stable saving lets you enjoy steady capital gains at the end of maturity. However, even fixed deposit investment demands careful planning. We will enumerate 5 common mistakes that people tend to make while opting for fixed deposit accounts.

title: Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana - Everything You Need to Know, content: The Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana account is a financial umbrella provided by the Government of India to make economically backwards Indian citizens fall within a structured financial institution. The program endeavours to reach out to every adult to open accounts with affordable banking for all. Low-income unorganised sectors, with daily wagers, cannot opt for private banking facilities owing to eligibility criteria that impede them from maintaining those accounts. But the PMJDY allows all banking privileges to Indian citizens in zero balance accounts allowing them to save as they earn without depending on private and insecure saving cooperatives.

title: What is the Sukanya Samriddhi Yojana?

, content: The Sukanaya Samriddhi Yojana is a savings-cum-investment scheme designed to encourage parents to invest money for their daughters. It aims to better the stature of the girl child in Indian society. The Government Launched the Sukanaya Samriddhi Yojana scheme in 2015 under the 'Beti Bachao Beti Padhao' campaign to improve the prospects available to the girl child and inspire parents to save money for their daughter's education and, later, marriage.

title: Sukanya Samriddhi Yojana Benefits for the Girl Child

, content: The Sukanya Samriddhi Yojana goes a long way in ensuring your girl child gets equal access to education and other life opportunities. It is geared toward ensuring her financial security and giving her control and independence over her finances. The idea behind the scheme is to provide the girl with financial autonomy so that she does not have to rely on her spouse or other male members in her family for money.

The 21-year maturity period from the date of the account opening of the scheme allows parents to gradually build a corpus for their daughters' future from the time of their birth. The girl can use the funds accumulated in the account to pay for her higher education, marriage, and other expenses as required from time to time.

title: Is Investing in Sukanya Yojana Enough for Education Expenses?

, content: As a daughter's parent, you can deposit anywhere from Rs 250 to Rs 150,000 and earn a comparatively higher interest rate on the deposits. Assuming you deposit Rs 100,000 for 15 years, you can create a lump sum of 15 Lakhs from principal investment alone. Additionally, the scheme comes with compounding benefits which means you can earn returns on returns. It thus allows you to create a generous lumpsum that accrues inflation-adjusted returns and sufficient funds to pay for your daughter's education and marriage.

Moreover, the scheme falls under Section 80C of the Income Tax Act, 1969 and qualifies for the Exempt Exempt Exempt or EEE status. The funds deposited, interest earned, and the maturity amount are entirely tax-free. These Sukanya Samriddhi Yojana scheme details demonstrate that investing in the scheme may be sufficient to pay for your daughter's education expenses, so long as you continue investing in it diligently.

title: Reasons to Invest in the Sukanya Samriddhi Yojana

, content: There are various Sukanya Samriddhi Yojana benefits that make it a worthwhile investment. They are as under:

You can begin the investment with a small sum of only Rs. 250.

SSY is one of the highest interest-earning schemes in India, and the Government revises the interest rate every quarter.

The scheme reduces the burden of coming up with a significant sum of money to pay for your daughter's education as it allows gradual investments.

The investment duration of the scheme is only 15 years, while interest is paid on deposits for up to 21 years from the date of account opening when the account matures.

You can open separate, individual accounts for up to two girls from the same family, with the exception of twins/triplets born from subsequent pregnancies. As the investor, you can enjoy tax deduction benefits of up to Rs 150,000 per annum, and you don't need to pay taxes on the interest income or the maturity amount.

As a long-term investment scheme, the Sukanya Samriddhi Yojana scheme provides compounding benefits and opportunities for lumpsum corpus creation.

The girl serves as the primary account holder, and the parent/guardian may only operate the account on her behalf till she turns 18.

Partial withdrawals of up to 50% are permitted after the girl turns 18 years old, or completes her 10th standard education, whichever is earlier.

title: How to Invest in Sukanya Samriddhi Yojana?

, content: You need to open a dedicated Sukanya Samriddhi account to invest in the scheme. You can open the account by visiting nearest Bank of Baroda Branch. You must fill the form and submit it with the necessary documents – the child's birth certificate, photographs of the child and the parent/guardian, and the ID and address proof documents of the parent/guardian. You must deposit a minimum of Rs 250 at the time of account opening, after which you can make deposits via cheque, cash, demand drafts, and online transfers.

title: SweatSmart by GraphWear., content: Then there are companies like LVL and Halo Wearables, who are aiming a little lower with their sweat-based trackers. The company has spent the past six years working on the Halo Edge, a device that analyses your sweat to indicate hydration levels.

title: LVL, content: In the same neighbourhood is Kenzen, a company which produces the Kenzen patch, which continually tracks biosensors in your sweat and sends you real-time alerts about your health.

title: Kenzen, content: The tech seems promising although it is still in the research phase. But the team is planning to take forward the research on integrating sweat power into wearable devices. After all, they are the perfect option for such technology as you typically wear them while exercising. However, the best hope perhaps lies with LVL and Halo Wearables. There's a chance that bigger companies like Samsung, Apple and Fitbit will explore sweat-based wearables, but that doesn't seem to be on the horizon just yet. So it might be down to the start-ups to make the first breakthrough and hope the major wearable tech heavyweights follow.

title: Social Equality in Tech, content: Dear Reader, &nbsp;Why do we prize technology over everything else? Because it helps us solve problems as efficiently as possible. No one can predict from which gender, ethnicity or nationality the next great idea might come from. And the tech startup sector is a living embodiment of that.&nbsp;Moving to another part of the world for employment does pose a challenge. And since most tech jobs are located at specific hotspots, many talented workers always find themselves unemployed. Software as a Service products and services are enabling employers to find and employ talent from all over the world. Remote working, work from anywhere and digital nomadism are slowly becoming the new normal. Digital marketing firm Loganix understands the potential of having a diverse team. The company runs almost all its operations globally &mdash; with teams of people from the US, Asia, Australia and Europe &mdash;employees are dynamically moved between different teams, depending on requirements, allowing quick resolution of issues.&nbsp;Poor or different communication skills can fuel many workplace misunderstandings. And it costs quite a bit of time and money to learn a new language. The US Foreign Services Institute estimates that it takes on an average 480 hours to gain basic competence in languages. This was a problem that cloud-based tuition service Preply aimed to fix. The platform offers a place for both language tutors and students to collaborate easily and affordably.&nbsp;Tutors can create their profiles with rates, experience and number of languages spoken; and students can review their tutors, making it easy for other students to decide who to hire. Workers planning to move to another country can use such services to learn a new language far cheaper than attending a language school. HR teams can also hire tutors to educate employees who need to go abroad or new recruits from other countries.&nbsp;Social inequality isn't always about creed, gender or nationality. Entrepreneurs are usually handicapped due to high entry barriers in business. Indeed, the cost of acquiring customers is every bit the startup killer it is known to be. Oleg Campbell, a Ukrainian developer who bootstrapped his startup, Reply, to a $2 million a year company, certainly identifies with the struggle. Campbell's lack of sales experience stalled the growth of his first enterprise. Consequently, he focused his efforts on helping tech entrepreneurs overcome their lack of salesmanship with smarter tools. Reply's LinkedIn email finder is specifically for new companies looking for affordable, effective lead generation. Such a tool can help a user find email addresses of prospects on LinkedIn. Paired with LinkedIn's Sales Navigator, users can create highly personalized outreach messages for each prospect.&nbsp;The tech sector can, and should, be the leader at showcasing the advantages of diversity. By championing the cause of gender diversity through socially agnostic platforms, they are leading the cause of social equality in tech.&nbsp;Credits : Akhil Handa Prithwijit Ghosh title: Tech-enabled Hostels, content: In the current era of technological advancements where there is an app for almost everything, hostel management appears to lag behind in adopting a new innovation. From redundant paperwork to time-consuming manual processes, most of the hostels are still following archaic methods to manage their day to day activities. These old school methods of functioning results in ineffective communication between hostels, its students and parents.&nbsp;Some of the hostels or student housing companies are investing in new-age technologies to differentiate themselves by being markedly different from traditional university-led hostel systems. Such technologies include facial recognition security systems, RFID enabled libraries and canteens, attendance systems that both students and parents can access on their smartphones.&nbsp;Even though student housing as a market is currently dominated by university-led facilities, it will potentially see a substantial growth with private companies entering the space to plug demand gaps. Real estate consultancy firm JLL estimates the space is expected to see a 38% CAGR amounting to Rs 2,400 crore by 2020. Most companies in the space, like OxfordCaps, Stanza Living and Placio have standardised their attendance systems with a professional escalation matrix. They also offer biometric security systems where entry and exit times are recorded. Hostels can set a threshold time, based on which if the student is not in within a certain time, parents get a notification. OxfordCaps is leveraging IoT-connected devices to monitor energy and space consumption, specifically in gyms, reading lounges and TV rooms, where usage usually remains untracked. Considering industry average of around 40% for food wastage in hostels in urban centres, various organisations like Stanza Living are using advance analytics to reduce operational costs. With the ability to predict and analyse consumption data, food wastage at Stanza properties have been reduced to less than 10%. On the other hand, Placio brings social incentive that is used by ride hailing firms such as Uber and Ola to hostels. It digitally tracks various parameters like student behaviour, general cleanliness, punctuality etc. to reward the better ranked students with online gift vouchers. With majority of the students staying at hostels to complete their education, such tech-based offerings not only improve the quality of life but also help them get exposed to advanced technologies like facial recognition, digital gift vouchers etc.

title: IFSC Banking Unit – Syndication Desk:
, content: At IFSC Banking Unit, syndicated loans are being arranged on an underwritten or best-efforts basis, or by way of a club deal.

title: Underwritten Deal: IFSC Banking unit as underwriter / a book runner , content: IFSCBU will act as an arranger and underwrite the entire commitment, and then syndicate the loan.
If the loan is not fully subscribed, the underwriters will be obliged to lend the underwritten sum of money to the borrower themselves.
The underwriters may later try to sell their commitment (or part of their commitment) to investors in the secondary market.
Loans are syndicated on a best-efforts basis.

title: Best-Efforts Deal: IFSC Banking unit as arranger / co-arrangers
, content: Best-efforts deal is one which is not underwritten by us.
IFSCBU will commit to a certain amount of the loan, and undertake to do their best to find other lenders to provide commitments for the remainder.
IFSCBU does not guarantee the tie up / financial closures as it is working on the basis of best effort.

title: Club Deal – IFSC Banking Unit as a Coordinator
, content: A club deal will usually involve a loan that is pre-marketed to a group of Bankers with whom IFSCBU is having banking relationship or partnered in syndication deals in the past.
The borrower may arrange the club loan itself, or alternatively, an IFSC Banking unit may be involved.

title: Credit facilities offered:
, content: Term Loan Facility: ECB and Foreign Currency term loans

The lender commits to lend to the borrower a specified amount of money over a set period of time.
The period of a corporate term loan is generally between one and five years.
Commitment fees in respect of committed undrawn amounts during the availability period
Interest on accrues at a floating rate
The loan may be repaid in instalments (amortising) or bullet payment.
Revolving Loan Facility

Each loan is borrowed for a set period of time, usually one, three or six months, after which time it is repayable but may be redrawn.
Repayment of a revolving loan is achieved either by schedule reductions in the total amount of the facility over time, or by all outstanding loans being repaid on the final maturity date of the facility.

title: Other services:
, content: Role of Facility agent

IFSCBU can act as facility agent even in the deals where it is not participating.

Account Bank - Opening and Maintaining Current / Escrow account.

IFSCBU can open and maintain current / escrow account on behalf of the lenders and operate as per the waterfall mechanism of the agreement.

title: Banking Mantra, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life title: What are rolling returns?, content: Rolling returns are annualized returns of the index on varied dates for a specified investment tenure. Rolling returns are calculated for rolling period beginning with a certain date and investment tenure, and then returns for all consecutive dates (tenure remains constant) are also calculated.

title: Key Take aways for investor from the above table:, content: Investing in a volatile market can help you accumulate units at a lower cost over a market cycle, which works in your favour as you go about accumulating wealth over the upturn " • Benefit from rupee cost averaging:" Investing a fixed amount of money at regular intervals gets you more units when the NAV of the fund reduces over a market cycle.

"• Avoid emotional biases:" While a lot of emotional biases can cloud your investment decisions especially due to market volatility, starting an SIP enables you to invest at regular intervals without letting any human biases in your way title: NPS tax benefit for individuals:, content: Any person subscribing to the NPS is eligible for a tax deduction of 10 % of his/ her gross income up to Rs1.5lakh under the section 80 CCD (1) of the Income Tax Act. In an exclusive tax saving benefit, you are also eligible for an additional deduction for investment up to Rs50,000 in NPS (Tier I account) under subsection 80CCD (1B). This exclusive benefit is over and above the deduction of up to Rs 1.5 lakh under section 80C. NPS tax benefits for individuals under corporate sector title: NPS tax benefits for corporates, content: Corporates making contribution towards employee's NPS is deducted as business expense from their profit and loss account. So the employer's contribution towards NPS up to 10% of salary (Basic + DA) can be deducted as NPS tax exemption.

title: NPS tax benefits on partial withdrawal, content: National pension scheme tax benefits is that you can partially withdraw funds from your NPS tier-I account .This benefit is available for specified purposes only. The amount withdrawn up to 25% of your contribution is exempt from tax.

title: NPS tax benefit on annuity purchase, content: If you invest funds in annuity, it is completely exempt from tax. Only the income from annuity received in the subsequent years is taxable.

title: NPS tax benefit on lump sum withdrawal, content: When you are 60 years old, if you withdraw the funds in lumpsum, maximum 60% of the corpus can be withdrawn from which 40% of the corpus is exempted from tax.

title: What is TDS on Fixed Deposit?

, content: When one receives a payment, the person making the payment must deduct tax before paying. The tax thus deducted is called tax deducted at source (TDS), which the payee has to pay to the central government.

Similarly, banks deduct a TDS when crediting interest on a fixed deposit to one's account. However, 10% TDS is deducted only when the amount of interest is above Rs. 40,000 for individuals other than senior citizens. For senior citizens, 10% TDS is deducted only when the interest exceeds Rs. 50,000.

The above points are subject to change as per extant guidelines.

title: Who Deducts TDS on Fixed Deposit?

, content: Wherever the customer deposits fixed deposit i.e Bank, Post office or NBFC, they will deduct TDS as per income tax guidelines.

title: What is the Exemption Limit for TDS Deduction on FD?

, content: The exemption limit for TDS deduction on FD is as per income tax guidelines. However as per the current guidelines, the exemption limit for TDS deduction on FD for individuals except senior citizens is Rs. 40,000, and for senior citizens, the exemption limit is Rs. 50,000. Also, individuals with a total taxable income of less than Rs. 2.5 lakh are eligible for exemption from paying TDS on their FDs.

title: How is TDS Computed on Fixed Deposit (FD)?

, content: TDS is computed on the interest paid / accrued on the Term deposit during a financial year as per guidelines laid by income tax department.

title: How to Avail TDS Waiver on Fixed Deposit (FD)?

, content: To avail TDS waiver on FD, one has to submit Form 15G and Form 15H to the concerned bank. These are self-declaration forms that one must submit to the bank where they hold an FD account, requesting not to deduct TDS on FD interest income because their income is under the basic exemption limit.

title: What is Form 15G and 15H?

, content: Form 15 G

When a depositor's annual income is less than Rs.2.5 lakh (or Rs.3 lakh for senior citizens) and tax due is nil, then the depositor must file Form 15G or Form 15H with the bank requesting the bank to not deduct TDS on interest income from FDs exceeding Rs.40,000 or, in the case of senior citizens, Rs.50,000.

Form 15H

Form 15H is similar to Form 15G, except that Form 15H is exclusively for senior citizens who are 60 years and above in age.

Conditions For Form 15H

The depositor should be 60 or above of age

Annual income should be less than Rs.3 lakh in case of senior citizens and Rs. 5 lakh for super senior citizens.

Should be a resident Indian.

Some examples of Form 15G/H

Mrs. Dsouza is 35 years old. Her annual income is Rs.2,35,000. The interest receipts on her FDs are Rs.50,000. What should Mrs. Dsouza do?

Mrs. Dsouza needs to submit Form 15G because her annual income is lower than Rs.2.5 lakh which is the minimum taxable income threshold. Since, her interest income is Rs.50,000, which is Rs.10,000 higher than the TDS exemption limit, the bank will deduct TDS at 10% if she does not file proof of her zero tax dues through Form 15G. So to prevent her loss of interest income by TDS deduction, she must file the form 15G before her first interest income is received.

Mr. Raina is 66 years old. His annual income is Rs.2,20,000 and his interest income is Rs. 60,000. What should Mr. Raina Do?

The minimum taxable income limit for Mr. Raina's age group is Rs.3 lakh. Since his annual income is less than that, it means his taxable income is zero. So he should file Form 15H with his bank to prevent TDS deduction on his interest income which is higher than the exemption limit of Rs.50,000 for senior citizens.

In the above example, what if Mr. Raina's interest income is Rs. 30,000 from his FD?

Since, his interest income is less than Rs.50,000 exceeding which, the bank comes into the picture and deducts TDS at 10%, Mr. Raina does not have to do anything, given that his annual income is also below minimum taxable income limit.

title: Please Remember

, content: You must submit Form 15G or Form 15H along with a valid PAN, failing which the TDS would be deducted at 20%.

Form 15G/H must be submitted to all the bank branches where you are receiving interest income from.

If you have multiple FDs and interest income from even a single branch exceeds Rs.10,000 in a financial year, then you must file Form 15G/H to prevent TDS deduction.

title: Banking Mantra, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life title: JLL, content: Most companies in the space, like OxfordCaps, Stanza Living and Placio have standardised their attendance systems with a professional escalation matrix. They also offer biometric security systems where entry and exit times are recorded. Hostels can set a threshold time, based on which if the student is not in within a certain time, parents get a notification. OxfordCaps is leveraging IoT-connected devices to monitor energy and space consumption, specifically in gyms, reading lounges and TV rooms, where usage usually remains untracked.

title: OxfordCaps, Stanza Living, content: Considering industry average of around 40% for food wastage in hostels in urban centres, various organisations like Stanza Living are using advance analytics to reduce operational costs. With the ability to predict and analyse consumption data, food wastage at Stanza properties have been reduced to less than 10%.

title: Stanza Living, content: On the other hand, Placio brings social incentive that is used by ride hailing firms such as Uber and Ola to hostels. It digitally tracks various parameters like student behaviour, general cleanliness, punctuality etc. to reward the better ranked students with online gift vouchers.

title: Placio, content: With majority of the students staying at hostels to complete their education, such tech-based offerings not only improve the quality of life but also help them get exposed to advanced technologies like facial recognition, digital gift vouchers etc.

title: Popular Articles, content: The contents of this article/infographic/picture/video are meant solely for information purposes and do not necessarily reflect the views of Bank of Baroda. The contents are generic in nature and for informational purposes only. It is not a substitute for specific advice in your own circumstances. Bank of Baroda and/ or its Affiliates and its subsidiaries make no representation as to the accuracy; completeness or reliability of any information contained herein or otherwise provided and hereby disclaim any liability with regard to the same. The information is subject to updation, completion, revision, verification and amendment and the same may change materially. The information is not intended for distribution or use by any person in any jurisdiction where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject Bank of Baroda or its affiliates to any licensing or registration requirements. Bank of Baroda shall not be responsible for any direct/indirect loss or liability incurred by the reader for taking any financial decisions based on the contents and information mentioned. Please consult your financial advisor before making any financial decision.

title: Sweat Powered Watches, content: Dear Reader, You have probably heard of solar powered smart watches but what about a sweat powered watch? When people talk about renewable power, sweat isn't exactly something that springs to mind, but it sounds like that this natural process is actually capable of powering fitness trackers and maybe even smart watches too. It sounds pretty crazy but scientists have figured out a way sweat could be used to replace traditional batteries. The research was done at the University of Glasgow where scientists created a battery cell that has a new type of flexible super capacitor that can be used to replace electrolytes typically found in batteries. The tech works by collecting the sweat a person naturally produces.

This is done by "coating polyester cellulose cloth in a thin layer of a special polymer". The absorbency of the material attracts perspiration. The ions in the sweat react with the polymer which results in a reaction that generates electricity. Researchers say the battery can be charged with only 20 micro litres of sweat. It's also very sturdy and can survive several thousand flexes and bends it might encounter – ideal for a wearable strapped to your wrist. So not only would sweat be a non-invasive way to check on your body's health, it would likely be a highly accurate way too, in the realm of blood in some areas – which is far more appealing than something like heart rate, which has a comparatively limited scope. The University of Pennsylvania has combined those ideas with graphene, a material considered to be "the best sensor material in existence", to create the SweatSmart by GraphWear. Graphene would essentially allow the sweat sensor to be four times more accurate than current sensors. Then there are companies like LVL and Halo Wearables, who are aiming a little lower with their sweat-based trackers. The company has spent the past six years working on the Halo Edge, a device that analyses your sweat to indicate hydration levels. In the same neighbourhood is Kenzen, a company which produces the Kenzen patch, which continually tracks biosensors in your sweat and sends you real-time alerts about your health. The tech seems promising although it is still in the research phase. But the team is planning to take forward the research on integrating sweat power into wearable devices. After all, they are the perfect option for such technology as you typically wear them while exercising. However, the best hope perhaps lies with LVL and Halo Wearables. There's a chance that bigger companies like Samsung, Apple and Fitbit will explore sweat-based wearables, but that doesn't seem to be on the horizon just yet. So it might be down to the start-ups to make the first breakthrough and hope the major wearable tech heavyweights follow. Credits : Akhil Handa, Clint James title: Technology for a Greener tomorrow, content: Dear Reader, Climate change is real and it is happening. Observable effects are seen everywhere- glaciers have shrunk, ice on rivers and lakes is breaking up earlier, plant and animal ranges have shifted and trees are flowering sooner. A 2°C increase could mean more heat waves, a ten-fold increase in Arctic ice-free summers and a complete wipe-out of the world's coral reefs, home to millions of species. More frequent and intense drought, storms, heat waves, rising sea levels, melting glaciers and warming oceans can directly harm animals, destroy the places they live, and wreak havoc on communities and people's livelihoods. As per NASA, the planet's average surface temperature has risen by about 0.90°C since the late 19th century, a change driven largely by increased carbon dioxide and other human-made emissions into the atmosphere. Companies realize the gravity of the situation and know that the time to act is now. Aiding them in this quest is Artificial Intelligence (AI) and other modern technologies like Machine learning. Google's UK-based DeepMind laboratory applies its industry-leading knowledge of neural networks and machine learning to apply more efficient data interpretation to energy consumption and energy-grid distributions. These learnings were deployed for efficient energy distributions in wind farms. Prediction models developed there were used in scheduling energy deliveries resulting in a 20% improvement in operational efficiency. Climate change has led to teething problems for the global poor and poverty stricken populations leading to poor living environments and onset of diseases and other related ills. AP-Latam, a project run by Argentina-based Dymaxion Labs, uses AI to analyze high-resolution satellite imagery to detect areas of informal settlement growth in precarious areas that are logistically difficult to analyze on the ground. By understanding and predicting areas of potential slum growth and population movements, governments can make better decisions on how to help affected families mitigate the effects of climate change. Transportation accounts for 23% of global greenhouse-gas emissions, leaving plenty of room for positive contributions from AI. DHL and IBM have teamed up to use artificial intelligence to improve DHL's global logistics operations. By predicting demand, risk, supply-side variations and other variables, DHL is curbing emission by optimizing their process. Earth is the only planet we have to call home and global warming is causing irreversible damage. Global awareness is creating waves of innovation and optimizations to reduce the global warming footprint of corporations and

individuals.&nbsp;Credits : Akhil Handa,Prithwijit Ghosh

title: DeepMind, content: Climate change has led to teething problems for the global poor and poverty stricken populations leading to poor living environments and onset of diseases and other related ills. AP-Latam, a project run by Argentina-based Dymaxion Labs, uses AI to analyze high-resolution satellite imagery to detect areas of informal settlement growth in precarious areas that are logistically difficult to analyze on the ground. By understanding and predicting areas of potential slum growth and population movements, governments can make better decisions on how to help affected families mitigate the effects of climate change.

title: Dymaxion Labs, content: Transportation accounts for 23% of global greenhouse-gas emissions, leaving plenty of room for positive contributions from AI. DHL and IBM have teamed up to use artificial intelligence to improve DHL's global logistics operations. By predicting demand, risk, supply-side variations and other variables, DHL is curbing emission by optimizing their process.

title: DHL and IBM, content: Earth is the only planet we have to call home and global warming is causing irreversible damage. Global awareness is creating waves of innovation and optimizations to reduce the global warming footprint of corporations and individuals.

title: Tech-enabled Hostels, content: In the current era of technological advancements where there is an app for almost everything, hostel management appears to lag behind in adopting a new innovation. From redundant paperwork to time-consuming manual processes, most of the hostels are still following archaic methods to manage their day to day activities. These old school methods of functioning results in ineffective communication between hostels, its students and parents.&nbsp;Some of the hostels or student housing companies are investing in new-age technologies to differentiate themselves by being markedly different from traditional university-led hostel systems. Such technologies include facial recognition security systems, RFID enabled libraries and canteens, attendance systems that both students and parents can access on their smartphones.&nbsp;Even though student housing as a market is currently dominated by university-led facilities, it will potentially see a substantial growth with private companies entering the space to plug demand gaps. Real estate consultancy firm JLL estimates the space is expected to see a 38% CAGR amounting to Rs 2,400 crore by 2020.&nbsp;Most companies in the space, like OxfordCaps, Stanza Living and Placio have standardised their attendance systems with a professional escalation matrix. They also offer biometric security systems where entry and exit times are recorded. Hostels can set a threshold time, based on which if the student is not in within a certain time, parents get a notification. OxfordCaps is leveraging IoT-connected devices to monitor energy and space consumption, specifically in gyms, reading lounges and TV rooms, where usage usually remains untracked.&nbsp;Considering industry average of around 40% for food wastage in hostels in urban centres, various organisations like Stanza Living are using advance analytics to reduce operational costs. With the ability to predict and analyse consumption data, food wastage at Stanza properties have been reduced to less than 10%.&nbsp;On the other hand, Placio brings social incentive that is used by ride hailing firms such as Uber and Ola to hostels. It digitally tracks various parameters like student behaviour, general cleanliness, punctuality etc. to reward the better ranked students with online gift vouchers.&nbsp;With majority of the students staying&nbsp;at hostels to complete their education, such tech-based offerings not only improve the quality of life but also help them get exposed to advanced technologies like facial recognition, digital gift vouchers etc.&nbsp;

title: The pandemic & cybersecurity, content: There is no doubt that the COVID-19 pandemic has caused an outbreak of new and unanticipated business moments. As digital spreads its roots deeper, it also increases the risk and impact of cyberattacks. The World Economic Forum's COVID-19 Risks Outlook reported that 50% of enterprises were concerned about increased cyberattacks due to a shift in work patterns alone.A TCS report states that, cybercriminals are using the heightened digital footprint and traffic to track vulnerabilities, or to siphon off money. They are launching Covid-19-themed attacks in the form of phishing emails with malicious attachments that drop malware to disrupt systems or steal data and credentials.Attackers are creating temporary websites or taking over vulnerable ones to host malicious code. They lure people to these sites and then drop malicious code on their digital devices. Fake websites have also been soliciting donations for daily wage earners through email links. Some Covid-19 patient count-status apps and links are laden with viruses and identity theft malware. Remote working tools such as videoconferencing systems have been hacked for vulnerabilities; recent examples on Zoom are alarming. In such a scenario, the first step in the right direction for Organisations would be to advise their staff and customers to be more vigilant and cautious especially when opening links, emails or documents related to the subject COVID-19. Next, organizations should ensure their detection and ing capabilities are functional while keeping an eye on the impact of having many remote workers. There are some interesting solutions available in the market. For eg. KnowBe4 delivers on-demand internet security awareness training to small and mid-sized enterprises focussing on threats like social engineering, spear-phishing and ransomware. Cofense provides organizations with the ability to improve their employees' resilience towards spear phishing, malware and drive-by attacks and further facilitate employee-sourced detection of such attacks. In India, cybersecurity start-ups like Cloudsek offers real-time information to prevent and monitor cyber threats through its SaaS platform. Another start-up Cyware's cyber fusion solutions empowers organisations to foster information sharing with their employees mitigating cybersecurity risks. The pandemic presents an opportunity for full-blown innovation, a dramatic shift in perspective and the adoption of safe and resilient operating processes. The intensity and emphasis an organisation brings to its cybersecurity strategy will determine its long term growth. Credits : Akhil Handa title: Amendments to our Terms & Conditions

, content: We may amend / Revise the Terms and Conditions at any time without any prior notice. It is your responsibility to review the updated terms and conditions. If you continue to use the Website post amendment / Revision of the Terms and conditions it will mean that you agree to the changed / amended Terms and Condition. Therefore, Please check this page periodically to be aware of any changes.

title: Accuracy of Information

, content: While Bank strives to provide the updated information on this Website, Bank makes no warranties, either express or implied, about the accuracy, correctness, reliability etc. of such information. We assume no liability or responsibility for any omissions or errors in the content of the information provided on this Website.

title: Modification to the Website

, content: Bank reserves the right at all times to revise the information, change or end services mentioned on the Website at its sole discretion, without any liability to you or any other third party.

title: Use of Information & Materials on the Website

, content: All users are granted a personal, limited, non-sub licensable license to access and use our Website. We allow our users to electronically copy/download the contents for this Website (except where prohibited without a license) and print hard copy portions of our Website material, exclusively for informational, non-commercial, and personal use. While doing so, the copyright, trademark, or our other proprietary notices are unchanged and are visible at all times. By using our services, you do not get the ownership of the content or any intellectual property rights in our services. You further agree that you will not otherwise copy, modify, alter, display, distribute, sell, broadcast, or transmit any information or materials provided on the Website in any manner without the prior written permission of the Bank of Baroda.

title: No Unlawful or Prohibited Use

, content: As a condition of usage of the Website, you will not use the Website for any purpose that is unlawful and/or prohibited by these Terms of Use or any applicable laws and regulations. Unlawful use of the website including but not limited to unauthorized entry into Bank of Baroda's systems, impersonating a company or other entity, misuse of passwords, fraudulent activities, or misuse of any information posted on Website is strictly prohibited.

title: Limitation of Liability

, content: Bank of Baroda shall not be responsible or liable for any damages, loss, harm, expense, liability, and the like arising to the Customer, Website user, or any third party for any reasons whatsoever whether attributable to the Bank or not.

title: Copyright Notice

, content: Unless otherwise noted, the information and material contained in this Website are owned by the Bank of Baroda. Except for personal use, these items may not be copied, distributed, displayed, reproduced, or transmitted, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise without prior written permission from Bank of Baroda.

title: Trademarks

, content: This Website features logos, brand identities, and other trademarks and service marks, which are the property of or are licensed to Bank of Baroda. Nothing displayed on our Website should be interpreted as granting any license or right to use any trademarks displayed on our Website. Users are prohibited from using our trademarks in connection with any product or service without the prior written consent of the Bank of Baroda. We retain all proprietary rights on our Website.

title: Governing Law

, content: These terms shall be governed and construed in accordance with the laws of India. Bank of Baroda accepts no liability whatsoever, either direct or indirect, for non-compliance with the laws of any country other than that of India. If any provision of these terms is held to be invalid or unenforceable by court of Law, all the remaining provisions of these terms will continue to remain in effect.

title: Acknowledgement

, content: By accessing this Website and any of its pages, you acknowledge that you have read, reviewed and understood these terms and conditions prior to use, and agree to abide by them and all the applicable laws including FEMA, rules and regulations of the RBI or any other regulatory/statutory authority, as may be prescribed and as may be amended periodically.

title: Top companies keep on changing, content: Top 5 companies by Market-cap in the Nifty 50 index. The top companies of today are very different from the top companies, even a few years back.

title: What is Flexi-cap Mutual Fund?, content: Flexi-cap Funds invest in companies across market caps viz. Large Cap, Mid Cap and Small Cap. The fund managers have the ability to dynamically allocate the portfolio depending on the prevailing market conditions, valuations, future growth prospects, etc.

title: Benefits of Investing in Flexi-cap Fund, content: No market cap limits allow the Flexi cap fund at any given time to dynamically take positions across large/ mid or small cap stocks title: Diversification:, content: One equity fund that invests in different market segments. Large caps tend to reduce volatility whereas mid and small caps may come with higher growth potential title: Managing Risks:, content: A diversified portfolio helps in reducing risks solely associated with investing solely with large / mid and small caps and hence it is a good starting point for someone who is new to investing title: All Seasons Fund:, content: Given the dynamic nature of the fund, it may adapt and thrive in different market cycles title: Who Should Invest in Flexi-cap funds?, content: New investors looking for exposure across market caps through one fund title: Long Term Wealth Creation:, content: An all-seasons fund which seems to easily adapt to different market cycles, making it a good option for long term wealth creation title: Investors looking for diversification:, content: This fund takes exposure to large, mid and small caps thereby diversifying exposure and reducing individual risks title: Investors looking for core equity portfolio:, content: The diversified portfolio with flexibility to evolve according to business, market and economic views. May be used as a core equity portfolio for investments.

title: What is The Optimal Number of Funds You Should Hold in Your Portfolio?, content: nan title: The Benefits of Buying Your Dream Bike During the Festive Season , content: Given the increasing traffic on the roads, buying a bike can be quite beneficial as this vehicle can help you save a lot of time on your daily commutes. Two-wheelers are also economical as they require less fuel and are able to give a good mileage as well. If you have set your heart on buying a two-wheeler, the festive season is the best time do so.

The festival season is not only the season of joy and togetherness but also the season of shopping. It is especially considered to be auspicious for making big purchases. Thus, many people plan and buy vehicles, jewellery, and gadgets during festivals. The markets also light up with attractive discounts and offers during festivals in order to push sales. This is one of the best times to buy a bike as many lenders also offer bike financing at attractive interest rates during this period.

There are typically two types of bike shoppers. The first type has already decided on a bike model and wish to buy only that specific model. The other type prefers to explore the different available options before making a purchase. The festive seasons benefits both these types of bike shoppers.

Let's find out a bit more on why the festive season is the best time to buy bikes title: Launch of new bike models

, content: As the festival season encourages the making of big purchases, the sales of bike manufacturers also rise quite significantly. This makes the festive season the right time for automobile manufacturers to launch new models. Hence, if you are exploring different bike options and looking to buy a two-wheeler that has the best features and is also economical in value, the festive season would be the perfect time for you to go bike shopping. You will get to choose from the latest models in the market with some of the best features and accessories. There are many bike manufacturers that partner with various lenders during this season and provide some of the best bike loan offers to their customers on the purchase of a new bike model.

title: Amazing offers by the bike manufacturers

, content: You can often find bike manufacturers offering service packages, discounts on sale, and many other such benefits to their customers during the festive season. This significantly lowers the cost of buying a bike. Hence, if you need a bike loan, availing the same during the festive season can help you finance your bike at much lower costs. This is because a lower loan amount equals to a lower EMI payment. There are many bike manufacturers who provide additional benefits to buyers who have procured a loan from lenders who are in partnership with the bike manufacturing company. So, it's a win-win situation for all.

Do remember that most of these offers are valid only during the festive season; thus, if you are serious about buying a bike, you should not miss out on taking the advantage of these amazing opportunities.

title: Attractive bike loan offers

, content: Bike loans help you buy the bike of your choice with zero financial stress. Remember that apart from purchasing the vehicle, you may have many other costs to take care of during the festive season like decorating the house or giving gifts to your loved ones. With the help of a bike loan, you only need to pay the down payment at the time of application. This allows you to keep your finances free for covering other expenses that you incur during festivals. This helps you have a bigger budget for your festival celebrations. The bike loan essentially lets you spread out your bike purchase payments over a longer period. That kind of financial help can truly give peace of mind.

Many lenders also come up with attractive bike loan interest rates during this time of the year. They usually even approve and disburse the loan amount in a jiffy. The down payment required by the lender for the loan is also comparatively lower during the festive season. Furthermore, several loan providers give concessions on the loan processing fee and provide additional benefits if you apply for an online bike loan.

Additionally, two-wheeler loans are quite easy to pay-off. As lenders provide an affordable bike finance rate of interest during the festive season, you do not have to worry about the overall expense of the loan going out of your budget. Paying your loan EMI on time can help give a boost to your CIBIL score as well. A good CIBIL score can further be used to avail loans of higher amounts in the future at attractive rates of interest.

Whether you finance the purchase of your bike through a loan or by paying cash, remember that it is mandatory to get at least third-party insurance for your newly bought two-wheeler. Many loan providers take this into consideration and include the cost of your insurance policy in your EMIs. They also help you enjoy a discounted premium if you choose to buy the insurance policy from their partnered insurance company.

title: Secure exchange offers

, content: Many bike manufacturers also let you exchange your old bike for a new one during the festive season. This is done to push the sales of the newly launched bike models. If your used bike is in good condition, you can get a great exchange offer for it. The remaining amount that needs to be paid to the bike manufacturer can be covered through a bike loan. This way you can make significant savings when getting yourself a new ride.

The loan EMI can be easily calculated using an online bike loan EMI calculator . This will help you plan your finances better after your EMI payments have started and save you from defaulting. The online bike loan EMI calculator can be easily accessed through the lender's website. There are many bike manufacturers that allow you to exchange your old bike for a new one throughout the year. However, to get the best bike exchange and bike loan offers, you may want to carry out this exchange only during the festive season. You can always get in touch with your bank or two-wheeler company and ask them about offers that they plan to run during the festive season. This way, you can be prepared with the required documentation and down payment in advance.

title: Conclusion : benefits of buying your dream bike in the festive season, content: As we can see, there are plenty of benefits to buying your bike during the festive season. The ease of procuring a bike loan during this season further makes the entire process even more convenient and stress-free. The urge to buy a new bike is quite strong during the festive season as almost every other person you know is making a new purchase. However, do not fall into the trap of making an impulsive decision when taking a bike loan as this can result in heavy EMIs. That, in turn, increases your chance of defaulting and can impact your CIBIL score negatively. Always calculate your finances and formulate a strategy of repaying the loan before you start the application process.

And if you have all your plans in order, then Bank of Baroda has just the right loan to finance your dream bike. Get in touch with us today.

title: Different Types of Loans in India, content: Secured Loans Secured loans are those loans that are provided against security. The borrowers need to furnish security for availing of secured loans. In the case of secured loans, lenders face a lower risk of default by the borrower. In case the borrower is unable to repay the loan, then the lender can sell the asset to recover its dues. This is the main reason why secured loans carry a lower interest rate than unsecured loans.

Unsecured Loans These are the exact opposite of secured loans. Unsecured loans are provided against the income or the prospective income-earning capacity of the borrower. Regarding unsecured loans, the borrowers are not required to furnish any security. The lenders extend unsecured loans based on the documents provided by the borrower, their income potential, and their CIBIL history. Unsecured loans increase the risks of the lender because, in case of default by the borrower, there is no security available with the lender from which it can recover its dues. This is the reason why lending institutions charge a higher interest rate for unsecured loans.

Following are the different types of bank loans in India that are provided by the banks and financial institutions: Secured Loans Secured loans are those loans that are provided against security. The borrowers need to furnish security for availing of secured loans. In the case of secured loans, lenders face a lower risk of default by the borrower. In case the borrower is unable to repay the loan, then the lender can sell the asset to recover its dues. This is the main reason why secured loans carry a lower interest rate than unsecured loans.

Unsecured Loans These are the exact opposite of secured loans. Unsecured loans are provided against the income or the prospective income-earning capacity of the borrower. Regarding unsecured loans, the borrowers are not required to furnish any security. The lenders extend unsecured loans based on the documents provided by the borrower, their income potential, and their CIBIL history. Unsecured loans increase the risks of the lender because, in case of default by the borrower, there is no security available with the lender from which it can recover its dues. This is the reason why lending institutions charge a higher interest rate for unsecured loans.

title: RELATED: Difference Between Secured and Unsecured Loans, content:

Following are the different types of secured loans that borrowers can avail of from the lending institutions:

title: Home Loans, content: These are the most common types of secured loans availed of by borrowers. As the name suggests, home loans are taken for the purchase or construction of a home by the borrower. Here, the home itself acts as a security for the lender. However, while the home is the primary security, the lender may require the borrower to furnish collateral security as well depending upon the borrower's profile and the valuation of the home. This can either be a fixed deposit or any other asset. Home loans are long-term loans and the loan tenure can range from 10 years to as long as 25 years. They are usually high-ticket loans running into lakhs and also the most affordable ones. The home loan interest rates start anywhere between 7% per annum to 7.5% per annum. The loan needs to be repaid in Equated Monthly Installment (EMIs). The Loan-to-Value (LTV) ratio is usually 80%. It means, the borrower can avail of a loan up to 80% of the property value.

title: RELATED: A Guide to Home Loan, content: Gold loans are taken against the gold owned by the borrowers. Here, gold acts as a security for the lender whereby the borrower can pledge the gold with the lender and avail of money from them. The lender retains possession of the gold until the loan is repaid. The gold loan interest rate starts from 7.50% per annum. Here, most lenders require the borrowers to pay only the interest on the loan amount each month. The principal can be repaid by the borrowers anytime, and they can take back the possession of the gold. Till the principal is repaid, interest needs to be paid each month on the outstanding principal. Further, the LTV on gold loans can go up to 90%.

title: RELATED: A Complete Guide to Gold Loans in India, content: These are the loans taken for the purchase of the vehicle. Vehicles can include both passenger and commercial vehicles as well as two-wheelers, four-wheelers and heavy vehicles. Here, the vehicle acts as a primary security for the lender. In the event of non-repayment, the lender can seize the vehicle. The interest rate on vehicle loans can start anywhere between 7% per annum to 7.5% per annum. The LTV depends upon the type of vehicle. For certain vehicle loans, the lender can even offer a loan of up to 100% of the vehicle's value.

title: Loan Against Property, content: This is a kind of mortgage loan whereby the borrowers can avail of funds by mortgaging their property with the lender. Loan against property can be availed of against both residential and commercial property. The administration charges for loans against property are higher than for home loans. The funds can be used by the lender for either business or personal purposes. The LTV in case of a loan against property can be anywhere between 65% to 70%. Further, the interest rates on loans against property are also slightly higher as compared to those on home loans. The interest rate here starts from 8% per annum.

title: Loan Against Securities, content: Investors often invest in shares and securities. This can include shares, mutual funds, bonds and debentures. The investors are eligible to borrow money from banks and financial institutions against these securities. However, as the securities are volatile in nature, LTV for loans against securities is 50% of the security value. This is to protect the lender against any downside risk due to a fall in the value of the security. Further, the interest rate in the case of loans against securities also varies depending upon the type of security. It can start anywhere between 7.50% per annum.

title: Title Loans, content: In title loans, the lender provides loans to the borrowers against their vehicle. Here, the borrowers can borrow up to 25% to 50% of the value of their vehicle by handing over their vehicles as collateral security to the lenders. While the possession of the vehicle remains with the borrower, in case of default, the lender may seize the vehicle. These loans are usually ultra-short-term loans and can be taken for as short a period as 30 days. One of the major drawbacks of title loans is that the interest rate is very high. The interest rate is usually 25% per month. That means it's 300% per annum.

title: Non-recourse Loans, content: Non-recourse loans are the type of secured loans whereby the borrowers can provide collateral security to the lender for borrowing the funds. In case of default by the borrower, the lender has the right to seize the collateral security. However, one of the key features of a non-recourse loan is that the lender cannot proceed against the borrower if the collateral security does not provide full compensation to the lender. Thus, the lender shall forgo the remaining amount of the loan after recovery from the collateral security. The borrower does not have any personal liability to repay the non-recourse loan. The LTV in the case of a non-recourse loan can be anywhere between 60% to 80%.

title: Loan Against Fixed Deposits, content: Here, banks and financial institutions provide loans to borrowers against fixed deposits. The fixed deposits act as primary security for the lender. Further, as the fixed deposit is equivalent to money, banks do not face many risks in the case of loans against FD. Borrowers can avail of loans against FD for an amount up to 60% to 75% of the FD value. In terms of interest rates, while some banks charge a flat interest rate, other banks may charge interest that is 1%-2% rate higher than the FD rate. Currently, the FD rate is anywhere between 5% to 7.5% per annum, depending upon the amount and tenure. Thus, it can be said that loans against FD are one of the most affordable secured loans.

title: Loan Against Insurance, content: Loans against insurance are also one of the popular secured loans in India. Many people have life insurance policies but seldom do they know that policies can act as a security against which money can be borrowed. To avail of a loan against an insurance policy, the policy must have a surrender value. The LTV in case of loan against insurance is anywhere between 85% to 90% per annum. The interest rate in this case can start anywhere between 10% per annum to 12% per annum.

title: Working Capital Loans, content: Working capital loans are extended by banks and financial institutions to help businesses meet their working capital needs. Also known as Cash Credit, here the amount of loan that can be availed of depends upon the creditors, debtors and stock that the business holds which also constitutes the working capital for the business. Each lending institution has its own way of calculating the working capital limit. Further, the interest rate on working capital loans can start from 12% per annum. While the stock and debtors act as a security in the case of working capital loans, the lending institution may require the borrower to furnish collateral security as well.

title: Types of Unsecured Loans, content: Following are the different types of unsecured loans that borrowers can avail of from the lending institutions:

title: Personal Loans, content: These are one of the most sought-after bank loans in India. Personal loans are loans extended by banks or financial institutions without any collateral security. It is essentially a loan against the income of the borrower. The key features of personal loans are that it does not require any collateral security, and there is no restriction as to the end use of the borrowed funds. The borrower can utilise the amount borrowed for any purpose, be it medical emergencies, marriage, education of the children, purchasing any asset or travelling. The amount of personal loan that a borrower can avail of depends upon the income of the borrower and his/her CIBIL score. Further, the rates of interest on personal loans can range anywhere from 8% per annum to 10% per annum.

title: RELATED: A Complete Guide to Personal Loan, content: Uncertainties can strike the business anytime. In case a business is facing a financial crunch, then it can go for short-term business loans. These bank loans are structured to help businesses meet short-term uncertainties and financial crises. The eligibility criteria are simple, and the amount of loan that can be disbursed depends upon the profitability of the business and the profile of the borrower. The interest rates for short-term business loans can be anywhere between 1% and 1.5% per month, i.e., 12% to 18% per annum. The reason that business loans attract a higher interest rate than personal loans is that there is a chance of loss of borrowed funds in the business. In such cases, the risk falls on the shoulders of the lenders.

title: Education Loans, content: The cost of education is rising at a rapid pace. If one wants to pursue quality education, then he/she needs to shell out lakhs of rupees. In such cases, an education loan provides monetary assistance. The interest rate on education loans can start from 8.85% per annum, and the amount of the loan depends upon the cost of education. The repayment for education loans usually begins 12 months after completion of the education.

title: Credit Cards, content: Many banks offer credit cards. These are great tools as one gets to spend using the credit card without actual cash outflow. The grace period provides the time for repayment to the credit card holder. However, credit cards are unsecured in nature. Further, they come with an option to convert the outstanding balance to a loan if the credit card holder requires it. This becomes an unsecured loan for the borrower. One of the major drawbacks of credit card is that it attracts a very high interest rate. The credit card interest rate can be anywhere between 18% and 36% per annum. Further, like any other loan, credit cards also have a great impact on the CIBIL score.

title: Buy Now, Pay Later – The New Finance Buzzword
, content: Dear Reader,

Buy Now, Pay Later (BNPL) is a type of short-term financing that lets you pay in instalments by the end of the specified time period. There are quite a few online merchants and fintech companies in India offering BNPL as a convenient payment option and an excellent alternative to credit cards which includes ZestMoney, LazyPay, Simpl, Amazon Pay Later, Ola Money Postpaid, Paytm Postpaid, Flexmoney, EPayLater, Capital Float, etc. By offering no-cost EMIs and being accessible, and transparent, BNPL is all set to revolutionize the lending landscape, especially for young adults.

A new report released by financial technology company FIS says BNPL is India's fastest-growing online payment method. By 2025, BNPL is expected to contribute 8.6% of e-commerce market value, up from just 3% in 2021. BNPL loans may be dispensed on pre-paid instruments, wallets or bank accounts, powering commerce across a large number of merchants who would have been acquired and enabled by banks and networks. The cost of actual delivery of credit cards into rural towns will be around Rs. 250-300, and also credit activation rate is 20% now, but in the case of BNPL, the cost is negligible.

Taking BNPL beyond the online channel could play an important role in its growth trajectory and opportunities for credit access which are particularly low for young people and new-to-credit customers, who struggle due to a lack of credit histories and track records for lenders to assess and manage risk. The physical card form factor allows customers to use the digital credit line across touch points.

Regulation is also driving collaborations between fintechs, traditional banks and NBFCs. The report of the RBI working group on digital lending, released in November 2021, recommended that BNPL financing should be treated as balance sheet lending. "Since these products do not meet the requirements of traditional credit facilities, a suitable notification may be issued by the Government of India in this regard," the report said. As a result, new-age lenders are choosing to work with their tightly-regulated counterparts to grow the market.

Banks, NBFCs and card networks play a vital role in enabling fintechs to deliver BNPL solutions. A large number of fintechs have the ability to underwrite credit using AI/ML (artificial intelligence/machine learning) models. However, these loans may be based on capital from NBFC, banks or their own capital in some cases. With UPI credit, Buy Now Pay Later (BNPL), and branchless banking, the roadmap towards inclusion will be significantly accelerated.

Highlights of Issue 7 of FinTalk are:

Our Home grown StartUp Stories: Fuselage Innovations, Kochi
FinTech firm Rupeek offers instant credit via gold-powered card
How Fractal's entry to unicorn club impacts the AI landscape in India?
BNPL grew 637% in 2021, recurring payments by 225%, says survey
NGO turned startup Three Wheels United uses AI to put electric 3-wheelers on Indian roads

With Regards,

Akhil Handa
Chief Digital Officer
Bank of Baroda

title: To subscribe, content: <https://goo.gl/forms/tSbCBGSK05Nnh0433> title: To unsubscribe, content: <https://goo.gl/forms/9nE3g0fqNlgnGbVo2>
title: Banking Mantra, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life title: Credits :, content: The contents of this article/infographic/picture/video are meant solely for information purposes and do not necessarily reflect the views of Bank of Baroda. The contents are generic in nature and for informational purposes only. It is not a substitute for specific advice in your own circumstances. Bank of Baroda and/ or its Affiliates and its subsidiaries make no representation as to the accuracy; completeness or reliability of any information contained herein or otherwise provided and hereby disclaim any liability with regard to the same. The information is subject to updatation, completion, revision, verification and amendment and the same may change materially. The information is not intended for distribution or use by any person in any jurisdiction where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject Bank of Baroda or its affiliates to any licensing or registration requirements. Bank of Baroda shall not be responsible for any direct/indirect loss or liability incurred by the reader for taking any financial decisions based on the contents and information mentioned. Please consult your financial advisor before making any financial decision.

title: Leave a Comment, content: Thanks for submitting your details.

title: Technology for a Greener tomorrow, content: Dear Reader, Climate change is real and it is happening. Observable effects are seen everywhere- glaciers have shrunk, ice on rivers and lakes is breaking up earlier, plant and animal ranges have shifted and trees are flowering sooner. A 2°C increase could mean more heat waves, a ten-fold increase in Arctic ice-free summers and a complete wipe-out of the world's coral reefs, home to millions of species. More frequent and intense drought, storms, heat waves, rising sea levels, melting glaciers and warming oceans can directly harm animals, destroy the places they live, and wreak havoc on communities and people's livelihoods. As per NASA, the planet's average surface temperature has risen by about 0.9°C since the late 19th century, a change driven largely by increased carbon dioxide and other human-made emissions into the atmosphere. Companies realize the gravity of the situation and know that the time to act is now. Aiding them in this quest is Artificial Intelligence (AI) and other modern technologies like Machine learning. Google's UK-based DeepMind laboratory applies its industry-leading knowledge of neural networks and machine learning to apply more efficient data interpretation to energy consumption and energy-grid distributions. These learnings were deployed for efficient energy distributions in wind farms. Prediction models developed there were used in scheduling energy deliveries resulting in a 20% improvement in operational efficiency. Climate change has led to teething problems for the global poor and poverty stricken populations leading to poor living environments and onset of diseases and other related ills. AP-Latam, a project run by Argentina-based Dymaxion Labs, uses AI to analyze high-resolution satellite imagery to detect areas of informal settlement growth in precarious areas that are logistically difficult to analyze on the ground. By understanding and predicting areas of potential slum growth and population movements, governments can make better decisions on how to help affected families mitigate the effects of climate change. Transportation accounts for 23% of global greenhouse-gas emissions, leaving plenty of room for positive contributions from AI. DHL and IBM have teamed up to use artificial intelligence to improve DHL's global logistics operations. By predicting demand, risk, supply-side variations and other variables, DHL is curbing emission by optimizing their process. Earth is the only planet we have to call home and global warming is causing irreversible damage. Global awareness is creating waves of innovation and optimizations to reduce the global warming footprint of corporations and individuals. Credits : Akhil Handa, Prithwjit Ghosh title: The Ship Robots, content: The astounding progression of robotic technologies is playing a key role in the future of all industries. According to International Federation of Robotics (IFR), from 2020 to 2022 almost 2 million new units of industrial robots are expected to be installed in factories around the world. Like many different industries throughout the world, robots are impacting the maritime industry as well. Take for example, SeaRobotics which has developed a Hull cleaning robot that helps save fuel and improves the efficiency of a ship. Their Hull BUG is a small autonomous vehicle which attaches itself to the underside of ships, using a negative pressure device that creates a vortex between the BUG and the hull. Sensors provide obstacle avoidance, path cleaning and navigational capabilities. A fluorometer lets the robot detect biofilm and then it uses rotary brushes or water-jets to scrub the fouling film off. In another collaboration, the U.S. Maritime Administration (MARAD), has partnered with SEA-KIT to create robotic oil-cleanup vessels. Another solution by SeaDrone, can perform underwater inspections in lieu of Dry Docking (UWILD). The solution is designed in a way that provides an end-to-end hull inspection solution, inspecting a vessel in 1 hour and creating a certified report that can be quickly shared with the stakeholders. An alternative use case for robots in the maritime industry is strengthening of anti-piracy measures. ReconRobotics has developed a small, dumbbell-shaped robot that can infiltrate the main deck of a boat for stealth inspections. Magnetic wheels allow it to crawl up the side of a ship onto the deck and manoeuvre around. Cameras enable the operators to see what's happening in real-time, even during the night, with the help of infrared sensors. The company has recently been awarded a contract by U.S. Navy to develop the Recon Scout XT micro-robot for them. Promare, a U.K. ocean-research nonprofit, in partnership with IBM will unveil their new, fully autonomous ship - Mayflower on Sept. 16th, across the Atlantic Ocean. This autonomous ship will follow the same route on which the original Mayflower travelled 400 years ago. The Mayflower Autonomous Ship (MAS) is chiefly propelled by solar power, with a diesel generator on board as backup. IBM will power an onboard "AI Captain" with the ship leveraging edge computing for its AI and navigational smarts. All the data processing must be available on the ship because a vessel in the middle of the ocean can't rely on satellites or cloud connectivity. As COVID-19 shifts global structures and accelerates innovation, we can easily visualise how robotic technology could help ships continue operating through future pandemics. Credits : Akhil Handa

title: Leave a Comment, content: Thanks for submitting your details.

title: The pandemic & cybersecurity, content: There is no doubt that the COVID-19 pandemic has caused an outbreak of new and unanticipated business moments. As digital spreads its roots deeper, it also increases the risk and impact of cyberattacks. The World Economic Forum's COVID-19 Risks Outlook reported that 50% of enterprises were concerned about increased cyberattacks due to a shift in work patterns alone. A TCS report states that, cybercriminals are using the heightened digital footprint and traffic to track vulnerabilities, or to siphon off money. They are launching Covid-19-themed attacks in the form of phishing emails with malicious attachments that drop malware to disrupt systems or steal data and credentials. Attackers are creating temporary websites or taking over vulnerable ones to host malicious code. They lure people to these sites and then drop malicious code on their digital devices. Fake websites have also been soliciting donations for daily wage earners through email links. Some Covid-19 patient count-status apps and links are laden with viruses and identity theft malware. Remote working tools such as videoconferencing systems have been hacked for vulnerabilities; recent examples on Zoom are alarming. In such a scenario, the first step in the right direction for Organisations would be to advise their staff and customers to be more vigilant and cautious especially when opening links, emails or documents related to the subject COVID-19. Next, organizations should ensure their detection and ing capabilities are functional while keeping an eye on the impact of having many remote workers. There are some interesting solutions available in the market. For eg. KnowBe4 delivers on-demand internet security awareness training to small and mid-sized enterprises focussing on threats like social engineering, spear-phishing and ransomware. Cofense provides organizations with the ability to improve their employees' resilience towards spear phishing, malware and drive-by attacks and further facilitate employee-sourced detection of such attacks. In India, cybersecurity start-ups like Cloudsek offers real-time information to prevent and monitor cyber threats through its SaaS platform. Another start-up Cyware's cyber fusion solutions empowers organisations to foster information sharing with their employees mitigating cybersecurity risks. The pandemic presents an opportunity for full-blown innovation, a dramatic shift in perspective and the adoption of safe and resilient operating processes. The intensity and emphasis an organisation brings to its cybersecurity strategy will determine its long term growth. Credits : Akhil Handa title: Your Digital Stylist, content: Dear Reader, &nbsp;&nbsp;&nbsp;Fashion is one of the most challenging fields, highly impacted by global economic uncertainty as well as distinct trends and industrial changes. In response to the pressure for growth and cost efficiency, many brands have started a series of initiatives to improve their speed to market and to implement sustainable innovation. &nbsp;&nbsp;&nbsp;As evident during the pandemic, the need to adapt and overcome has been paramount for fashion brands to survive. &nbsp;&nbsp;&nbsp;Brick-and-mortar fashion companies are feeling the pain augmented by Covid-19. Mall-based retailers reportedly saw earnings plunge 256% in Q2's 20, according to Coresight Research and over 12,000 US stores closed in 2020, according to real estate company CoStar Group, up from 10,000 stores the year before. One exciting innovation in the fashion industry has been the introduction of AI-based digital stylists and chatbots, that can give feedback to customers on outfit choices or suggest alternatives if required. For example, Stylesnap is an AI-powered feature built into the Amazon app that help you find looks you love quickly and easily. Take a photograph or screenshot of an outfit, upload it onto the Amazon app, and you'll be presented with items that look just like the ones in the picture. Even Facebook is experimenting with an AI system of its own called Fashion++. The software uses AI to analyse a person's outfit and suggest subtle alterations that it thinks could improve the look, like rolling up the sleeves or removing an accessory. Israel-based Syte offers retailers and brands a camera button that can be added next to the search bar on a mobile website or app. Shoppers can upload images of their favorite styles through the button, and then see looks "inspired" by those images on the brand's site. Syte counts a number of high-profile brands among its clients, including Tommy Hilfiger, Myntra, and Kohl's. Even luxury brands are testing digital stylists in select markets: Prada, for example, has introduced a "personalized concierge" chatbot for its relaunched Chinese website. Fashion-tech company Style.me provides virtual styling solutions, and has recently launched a powerful plugin that can integrate a 3D virtual fitting room to any online retail website. Recently, Fashion Innovation Agency has introduced digital human stylists (DHS) that is powered by Microsoft AI, IoT and natural language processing. It can understand what's in your wardrobe, what's in your calendar, where you're going, allowing personal recommendations that are visually and verbally communicated back to the user within your own home. With the customers' lives becoming progressively entwined with the digital world, it is imperative that brands in Fashion Industry start embracing the latest technologies to push their limits of manufacturing, marketing and wearability. Credits : Akhil Handa Aparna Anand

title: Branches & ATM's, content: Copyright © 2021 Bank of Baroda. All rights reserved

title: Please Select Constitution, content: You are being redirected to the Pension Saarthi web portal

title: Do you want to proceed ?, content: This is to inform you that by clicking on continue, you will be leaving our website and entering the website/Microsite operated by Insurance tie up partner. This link is provided on our Bank's website for customer convenience and Bank of Baroda does not own or control of this website, and is not responsible for its contents. The Website/Microsite is fully owned & Maintained by Insurance tie up partner.

title: Insurance tie up partner, content: The use of any of the Insurance's tie up partners website is subject to the terms of use and other terms and guidelines, if any, contained within tie up partners website.

title: While applying for a credit card:

, content: Banks and other financial institutions in India offer several categories of credit cards. There are various types of Bank of Baroda Credit Cards, including Everyday Shopping Cards, Co-brand cards for specific needs like Travel, Shopping, etc., Card for Privileged Professionals, Specially designed cards for Defence personnel, Business cards and more. You can either apply for a BoB credit card online at www.bobfinancial.com or by visiting any BoB nearest branch. Here are the points to be kept in mind while applying for a credit card.

1. Purpose -

You must always settle your mind and decide on your purpose before applying for a credit card so you can use it wisely and also enjoy all of its benefits properly. For instance, you may choose BoB Easy & Select Credit Card for everyday shopping benefits, BoB Premier Card for travel benefits, and if you are looking to experience endless luxury, you may apply for BoB Eterna Credit Card!

2. Take advantage of an interest-free period -

Generally, banks and other credit card companies offer an interest-free period. With BoB Credit Cards, you get upto 50-days of interest-free credit period on all purchases. This means, no interest on card purchases for this period, however, just ensure you pay your bill on time to get a refill on your credit limit.

3. Eligibility -

Before applying for a credit card, make sure you fulfill the credit card eligibility such as your age & income fixed by the card issuance company. Discover the BoB Credit Card of your choice and know all the guidelines at BoB Financial site.

4. Track your spends for Reward points -

Depending on your card type, you earn reward points on every purchase. On all BoB Credit Cards, you get reward points on your purchases which are redeemable as cashback. You should apply for a credit card that comes with lucrative rewards and discounts, however, never overspend just to earn these reward points.

5. Monitor Associated Charges -

You may have to pay various associated charges such as Annual fees, late payment fees, balance transfers fees, charges for a cash advance, fees for increasing credit limit, etc. Make sure you have enquired about these charges in advance. Always check your monthly credit card statement to monitor the interest rate and charges levied on you.

6. Never withdraw cash through your credit card -

Cash withdrawals from your credit card will incur both one-time fees plus high-interest charges. Therefore, take out cash via credit card only when you are in dire need.

7. Lost/misplaced/stolen credit card -

If your credit card is stolen, misplaced, or lost, you must immediately report it to your bank and inform them. After verifying your credit card number and other details, they will instantly block your credit card, securing it against any misuse by fraudsters.

8. Card details privacy -

You must keep your credit card details like credit card number and PIN confidential and never share these details with anyone to ensure safe and secure purchases.

9. Always pay Total Due and not just Minimum Due -

If you can comfortably pay the total outstanding dues on your credit cards, always prefer to do it. If you pay only the minimum due, there will be extra charges to pay as well, including late payment fee, and interest on outstanding dues. You can pay your BoB credit card bills using multiple options, like InstaPay, Net banking, Auto debit, etc. Learn more on our website: www.bobfinancial.com title: What is KYC (Know Your Customer) in Banking?

, content: Know Your Customer norms apply to everyone who wishes to open a bank account.

KYC is certain basic information that the banks need to have about the applicant. This information is backed up by necessary documents submitted by the applicant to authenticate his/her identity.

This is basically to weed out potential frauds and monitor suspicious high value transactions that may be related to illegal trades, money laundering or other financial scams.

title: Documents Required for Opening a Savings Bank Account-

, content: The KYC documents you will need to submit while applying for a savings bank account are-

Proof of identity

For this, you can provide

Passport

Voter ID Card
PAN Card
Government/Defence ID Card
Driving License
Pension Payment Orders issued to the retired employees by Central/State Government Departments, Public Sector Undertakings
Photo ID Cards issued by Post Offices
Photo identity Cards issued to bonafide students by a University, approved by the University Grants Commission (UGC) and/or an Institute approved by All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE)
Proof of address
You can provide any of the following as proof of address

Passport
Driving license
Salary slip Income tax assessment order
Utilities like electricity bill, landline bills-not older than 2 months.
Bank statement
Letter from employer/public authority (should be validated by bank)
Ration card
Voter ID card
Retired government employees can produce pension payment orders
Registered leave and license agreement or sale deed or lease agreement.
Please note, every time there is a change of address or change in any other detail furnished to the bank, the applicant will need to immediately notify it to the bank along with updated document proofs.
PAN card
2 latest passport size photographs

title: Opening a Savings Bank Account Online: The Next Steps
, content: After having all the documents in place, applicants need to fill up the bank account opening form. Fill up all the mandatory fields. For questions or enquiries about the form, a customer representative is always available for help during the branch's working hours.
Now, the application form along with the above documents needs to be submitted at the bank branch. Applicants should keep the originals with them, which will be required for verification purposes.
Bank executives examine and verify the documents and that the details submitted in the form matches with that on the document proofs like name, date of birth, address, signature among others.
Applicant may be asked to make a token deposit for account opening. This does not apply to zero balance accounts.
The applicant will receive a debit card and other welcome literature on the address submitted by them in the application form.

title: A Four-Step Strategy for Bullish Markets, content: Opt for SIPs over lump sum investments. SIPs harness market volatility for potential gains and mitigate the risk of sudden downturns. With rising market confidence, consider gradually increasing your SIP contribution to capitalize on the upswing.
title: Diversify for Long-Term Stability:, content: Frothy markets call for a more careful approach to equity investing. This is where a diversified mutual funds, also known as hybrid funds, come in. These funds invest in a blend of equities, bonds, commodities, arbitrage opportunities and can better manage market corrections while mitigating risks.
title: Large caps as an option, content: Invest in blue-chip companies robust fundamentals for long-term gains. These are usually large caps and can overcome short-term challenges from market fluctuations. One way to target them is via large cap oriented funds.
title: Regular monitoring & Rebalancing, content: Regularly review your chosen funds' performance against their benchmark and fund house benchmarks. Periodically rebalance your portfolio to maintain your desired asset allocation and risk profile as market dynamics shift.

title: Popular Infographics, content: The contents of this article/infographic/picture/video are meant solely for information purposes and do not necessarily reflect the views of Bank of Baroda. The contents are generic in nature and for informational purposes only. It is not a substitute for specific advice in your own circumstances. Bank of Baroda and/ or its Affiliates and its subsidiaries make no representation as to the accuracy; completeness or reliability of any information contained herein or otherwise provided and hereby disclaim any liability with regard to the same. The information is subject to updation, completion, revision, verification and amendment and the same may change materially. The information is not intended for distribution or use by any person in any jurisdiction where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject Bank of Baroda or its affiliates to any licensing or registration requirements. Bank of Baroda shall not be responsible for any direct/indirect loss or liability incurred by the reader for taking any financial decisions based on the contents and information mentioned. Please consult your financial advisor before making any financial decision.

title: Table of Content, content: Introduction

title: Introduction NRI banking, content: Managing your finances as an NRI can be challenging due to the frequent travel and changing circumstances. Non-resident Indians often encounter rule changes distinct from those applicable to resident Indians, which can sometimes be complex to grasp.

title: Understanding NRI Taxation, content: India has a complex taxation system, and the NRI taxation is even more difficult. In some cases, NRIs may find themselves paying taxes in their country of origin and residence.

title: NRI Investment Options, content: There are multiple NRI Investment Options in India. However, repatriation of funds from NRI accounts is subject to specific rules, depending on the type of NRI account. Let's have a look at how tax provisions stand for different NRI accounts.

title: NRE accounts, content: NRE accounts allow full repatriation without any restrictions. NRIs can transfer both the principal and interest abroad without special permission.

title: NRO accounts, content: While the principal amount in NRO accounts is repatriable up to a certain limit, the interest earned is generally subject to restrictions. Subject to certain conditions, the RBI may permit the repatriation of interest of up to USD 1 million per financial year.

title: FCNR accounts, content: The principal amount and the interest earned in FCNR accounts are fully repatriable without any restrictions. The funds can be repatriated in the foreign currency in which the account is held.

title: Risks and Compliance, content: Non-compliance with tax regulations and NRI tax in India can result in unexpected tax liabilities. You may find yourself owing more taxes than you anticipated, which can strain your finances.

title: Tax planning tips for NRIs, content: As we discussed above, NRI Investment Options in India are many. However, there are also risks and compliances associated with the income from NRI investments. Given this, taking measures to save taxes is essential. Planning in advance can help you avoid common mistakes and heavy fines.

title: Learn to save money, content: It is easy to overspend, especially when you reside in another country. However, managing your expenses well is the key to sound finances. Learn to differentiate between a need and an impulse to buy something.

title: Invest in India, content: A majority of NRIs prefer to invest in the Indian market. India is witnessing a bullish rise in the curve and, therefore, may be an ideal market for investment.

title: Invest in SIPs, content: Mutual funds SIPs are one of the best investment plans for NRIs. It is best to assign a group of professionals to manage your portfolio. NRIs can invest in mutual funds and enjoy the benefits of market uprisings.

title: Optimize Equity Investments, content: According to the RBI, an NRI cannot trade in the Indian stock market in the same way as an Indian resident. This is because of the difference in NRI taxation in India and FEMA restrictions. Therefore, you need to plan NRI investments strategically. Consider giving a power of attorney or appointing a mandate to trade on your behalf. Or you can sign up for RBI's Portfolio Investment Scheme (PIS).

title: Conclusion : Nri banking, content: As an NRI, there are various factors you need to keep in mind for efficient NRI income tax regulation and financial management. Understand the Income tax rules for NRIs and stay updated with the latest developments and NRI investment options in the sector.

title: What are the Benefits of an NRI Account?, content: Non-Resident Indian (NRI) accounts offer several benefits to individuals who are living abroad and wish to manage their finances in India. These accounts are provided by Indian banks and come in different types, such as NRE (Non-Residential External), NRO (Non-Residential Ordinary), and FCNR – B (Foreign Currency Non-Resident- Bank) accounts. The specific benefits of having an NRI account can vary depending on the type of nri account and the bank you choose, but here are some common advantages:

title: Different Types of NRI Banking Services, content: Non-resident Indians (NRIs) play a vital role in India's economic landscape. While they may not be residents of India, there are multiple ways in which they contribute to the overall economy. This can be through business means, investments in India, or earnings from India while staying abroad. They cater to their unique financial needs, and thus, Indian banks offer a comprehensive suite of NRI banking services. Before diving into the different types of NRI accounts, let's understand what NRI banking services encompass.

title: What Is Loan Against Securities?, content: Investors these days are expanding their investment portfolio by investing in shares and securities with traditional saving and investing options. These not only strengthen their net worth but also create avenues for quick short-term loans against shares. The advantage of a loan against security allows you to borrow the amount that you require on short notice.

title: Tips that qualify you for a loan against securities, content: Before you apply for a loan against these collaterals, it is smart to go through the tips we are sharing to ensure you qualify for the loan."• State the purpose of the loan" Objectively state the purpose for which you require the loan so that the lender quickly understands and determines your intention for seeking the loan. This facility is available to meet contingencies needs only.

"• Look for a high-value lender" The lending market is filled with many retailers offering attractive prices. While you look for high-value lenders, make sure you select the one that offers the best value in terms of price and security.

"• Audit the shares and securities used as collateral" A list of pre-approved shares, securities and equity holdings are listed with banks. Check if your holding is eligible.

title: What is the loan against shares eligibility?, content: When applying for a loan against collaterals like shares and securities, ensure you fulfil the following criteria so that you can easily get your loan upon application.

title: Documents required, content: Once the application is submitted, the lender will thoroughly review your application and the documents to evaluate creditworthiness. Your profile and collateral's financial security determining its rightful value are all audited against the current market performance.

title: Wrap Up!, content: The sanction rate on shares and securities is much higher. These loans are benefitted from the flexibility of multiple drawdowns and repayment all along the loan tenure. This is the reason why lenders readily agree to disburse loans against these trusted collaterals.

title: Also Read: What Is Loan Against Securities – A Complete Guide, content: The contents of this article/infographic/picture/video are meant solely for information purposes and do not necessarily reflect the views of Bank of Baroda. The contents are generic in nature and for informational purposes only. It is not a substitute for specific advice in your own circumstances. Bank of Baroda and/ or its Affiliates and its subsidiaries make no representation as to the accuracy; completeness or reliability of any information contained herein or otherwise provided and hereby disclaim any liability with regard to the same. The information is subject to updation, completion, revision, verification and amendment and the same may change materially. The information is not intended for distribution or use by any person in any jurisdiction where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject Bank of Baroda or its affiliates to any licensing or registration requirements. Bank of Baroda shall not be responsible for any direct/indirect loss or liability incurred by the reader for taking any financial decisions based on the contents and information mentioned. Please consult your financial advisor before making any financial decision.

title: How To Get A Bike Loan?, content: Two-wheelers are necessary nowadays as they are convenient and practical on the road. But one might find it difficult to afford such a necessity out of budget constraints. However, that doesn't quite mean there is no way out. Two-wheeler loans are among the most reliable sources to avail of funds to afford such an efficient mode of transportation. Read on to understand the step-by-step two-wheeler loan process from the Bank of Baroda (BoB).

title: The Different Types of Loans Available in India, content: Loans are essentially capital borrowed from a bank or a financial institution. These institutions charge interest against lending money for a certain definite period. For some, bank loans are a way to meet emergencies while for others, loans act as a catalyst for growth. It all depends upon the purpose and the type of loans that the borrowers have availed. Various types of bank loans are available that a borrower can access. Here are the different types of loans that borrowers can avail of from lending institutions.

title: Trade Credit through Stand By Letter of Credit / Buyers Credit & Suppliers Credit

, content: Trade Credit through SBLC is one where the advance is made to the Importer against an SBLC (MT 760) issued by a bank for making payment of Import Bill & on due date the SBLC issuing bank will make the repay to the funding bank.

Under Supplier's credit, Letter of Credit (LC) is the underlying instrument which is issued by the Importers / Buyers Bank in which funding is being done directly to supplier of goods.

The Suppliers Credit facility is to extended after obtaining authenticated Acceptance advise from the LC Opening Bank through SWIFT, confirming the acceptance of the documents under the LC and advising the due date and undertaking to remit the bill amount on the due date.

The suppliers' Credit system works on the presumption that the tenor of the Letter of Credit is usance, whereas we shall pay to the beneficiary through their banker on sight basis.

title: Trade Credit under RA Financing

, content: The Reimbursement Authorization financing is a funding mechanism wherein the financing is made to the Suppliers' Bank against receipt of:

Reimbursement authorization from LC opening Bank / Importer's Bank, Reimbursement claim from Supplier's / Exporter's Bank

These type of transactions are self-liquidating in nature, i.e. the LC Opening Bank / Importers Bank will make the payment on the due date as per undertaking along with the reimbursement authorization. The payment on due date is not contingent on further performance of any contract by either the buyer or the seller.

The branch may extend Reimbursement financing to Banks/FIs on the strength of reimbursement authorization issued by the importer's bank containing inter alia that the principal along with interest at agreed rate shall be paid on maturity without any deductions whatsoever. At the time of opening of Letter of Credit the name of reimbursing bank needs to be incorporated in the Letter of Credit.

title: Two-Wheeler Loan EMI Calculator

, content: If you consider the convenience of going anywhere at any time, two-wheelers are the most practical vehicle that any person could own. Two-wheelers are the best riders amidst thick traffic and a careful driver could possess one by taking a bank loan for a two-wheeler.

title: Two-Wheeler Loan Amortization Schedule

, content: A two-wheeler loan amortization schedule visually aids loan repayment in a tabular format. The details of the table include the loan amount, the balance after each payment, the interest rate, the amortization period, and the total payment. The payment comprises interest and principal. A two-wheeler loan EMI calculator also helps you get an idea of amortization.

title: How is Two-Wheeler Loan EMI Calculated?

, content: Use a two-wheeler loan EMI calculator for calculating the equated monthly instalment (EMI) or use the EMI calculation formula for a two-wheeler loan .

EMI = principal amount + interest paid

Mathematically:

$$P \times R \times (1+R)^N / [(1+R)^N - 1]$$

P = Principal amount of the loan

R = Rate of interest

N = Number of monthly instalments.

The EMI remains the same through the loan term monthly.

This is how it works. If the two-wheeler costs Rs 1 lakh, the loan interest rate is 13.35% p.a. and the loan term is for 60 months, you can use the bike EMI calculator or calculate manually.

$$EMI = 100000 \times 0.011125 \times (1 + 0.011125)^{60} / ((1 + 0.011125)^{60} - 1) = \text{Rs } 2293$$

The rate of interest rate (R) on your loan is calculated monthly i.e. (R= % Annual rate of interest/12). For instance, if R = 13.35% per annum, then R= 13.35%/12 = 0.011125

title: Advantages of using the Bank of Baroda Two-Wheeler Loan EMI Calculator

, content: Applying for the Bank of Baroda bike loan is the smart choice.

Borrowers can get attractive interest rates

The processing charges are minimal

Borrowers can seek high loan amounts of up to Rs. 10 lakhs.

Loan approval is speedily disbursed

A credit score is not a criterion for acquiring this loan, however, individuals can improve their credit score (Minimum CIBIL is Must)

The repayment tenure is flexible

No pre-closure charges

Documentation is hassle-free

Staff or ex-staff of the Bank of Baroda are not charged processing fees title: How to use the Bank of Baroda Two-Wheeler Loan EMI Calculator Online?

, content: The BOB two-wheeler loan EMI calculator is the fastest way to calculate your EMI. Visit us online to quickly calculate your EMI accurately. Find the three scrolls. Decide on which two-wheeler you wish to get, once you are privy to the principal, adjust the three bars Amount, Rate of Interest, and the Loan Term on the Bank of Baroda bike loan calculator to work out the best repayment option that suits you. Paying a high down payment will keep your EMI light and complete repayment within a short tenure.

title: Banking Mantra, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life

title: Table of Content, content: Bike Loan Closing Procedure

title: Bike Loan Closing Procedure, content: Bike loan closure can happen either because the loan tenure is about to expire, and all the EMI dues have been paid or because the borrower is considering foreclosure. Either way, it is important for the borrowers to know the bike loan closing procedure and how to move forward with the documentation. Here's the complete bike loan closing procedure that borrowers should follow:

title: Collect All the Original Documents from the Lender, content: Once the loan closure is completed and all the dues are paid, the borrowers should collect all the original documents from the lender. This not only includes the vehicle documents but also the post-dated cheques that the borrower may have given to the lender.

title: Obtain a 'No Dues' Certificate from the Lender, content: Borrowers should obtain a 'no dues' certificate from the lender once the loan is foreclosed. Lenders issue the No Dues certificate only after all the dues have been paid in full and there is no obligation outstanding to be discharged by the borrowers. This not only includes any EMI outstanding but also any penal charges that might have been not paid by the borrower.

title: Get Lien on Property Removed, content: Whenever a borrower avail of a bike loan, a lien is created on the bike. This allows lenders to seize the borrower's bike in the event of continuous non-repayment of the loan. Once the loan is over, borrowers should remove the lien on the bike that the bank is having.

title: Check the Credit Records, content: Once the loan foreclosure gets completed, it is important that the borrower get the credit records updated. It does not happen immediately. Borrowers can check their credit records a few days or a month later to know whether the bank has correctly updated the credit records.

title: Bike Loan Foreclosure Process, content: Many a time, borrowers go for foreclosure of the loans. Foreclosure implies that the whole outstanding loan amount is repaid at once instead of repaying it in multiple installments. The whole of the loan is prepaid and the loan is closed by the bank or the financial institution. Following is the bike loan foreclosure process that borrowers should adhere to:

title: Ask the Lender for the Foreclosure, content: Borrowers need to ask the lender for two wheeler loan foreclosure. It is only after the lender approves that the borrowers can go for the foreclosure of their bike loan. He might need to file an application for closing loan account. If the lender allows the foreclosure of the bike loan, ask for the documents that will be required for the foreclosure of the loan. The borrower would normally be required to carry the KYC documents, bike loan documents and the cheque or demand draft for foreclosing the loan.

title: Clear All the Dues, content: Know all the dues that are pending to be paid while filing the application for closing loan account. This will include the entire principal outstanding, interest (if any), penal charges and most importantly the foreclosure charges. Banks levy a charge known as a foreclosure charge in the event borrower requests a foreclosure. This is because the funds of the lender get idle before the predetermined time (i.e., loan tenure). As the lender suffers interest loss in case of foreclosure, it collects foreclosure charges from the borrowers. It can be anywhere between 1% to as high as 4% of the amount repaid or the principal outstanding. For foreclosing the loan, borrowers need to repay the entire dues. Bank of Baroda is not levying any foreclosure charges.

title: Obtain The Final Loan Statement, content: Once the borrowers complete the loan closure, they should request the final loan statement from the lender post-foreclosure. The loan statement shows the actual repayment transactions that happened over the specified period of time. The final loan statement should indicate zero liability and repayment in full for the borrower.

title: Ask for the Original Documents, content: Whenever a borrower avails of a loan, the original documents of the asset remain in the custody of the lender. If the borrower applies for two wheeler loan foreclosure, then it is important that the borrower collects the original documents from the lender. Further, the borrower should also ensure to collect any post-dated cheques that may be held by the lender.

title: Get the No Dues Certificate, content: The borrower should ask for the no-dues certificate from the lender. Once all the dues are cleared, the borrower gets absolved from the loan liability. No dues certificate is important to ensure that there is no future dispute in relation to the loan.

title: Foreclosure vs Prepayment, content: Foreclosure and prepayment are often used interchangeably. However, they are different terminologies associated with loans. Let's understand the difference:

title: Prepayment, content: Prepayment is paying the principal outstanding in advance before the due date. Loan prepayment can be of two types i.e., partial prepayment or full prepayment.

title: Partial Prepayment:, content: Foreclosure is when the loan is closed before completing the tenure of the loan. It can happen due to the following two reasons:

title: Full Prepayment:, content: Foreclosure of two-wheeler loans, or in fact any loan, has its own set of advantages. Following are some of the benefits that make foreclosure a preferred action by the borrower:

title: Applying for Loan Against Agricultural Land: A Step-by-Step Guide, content: Obtaining a loan against agricultural land in India can be a valuable financial tool for farmers and landowners looking to meet their financial needs. This type of agricultural loan allows individuals to unlock the potential value of their agricultural land and utilize it for various purposes. In this blog post, we will delve into the process of obtaining a loan against agricultural land in India, outlining the essential steps and factors involved. We are sure that after reading this article, you will get the answer of all your queries like how to get loan against farm land, how much loan can I get on agriculture land, interest rate on loan against agriculture land, how to get loan against agriculture property.

title: CIBIL Score for Bike Loan, content: CIBIL score is one of the critical factors for determining eligibility for a loan. Even if it's a bike loan, borrowers need to have a minimum CIBIL score to avail of the bike loan. A CIBIL score depicts the borrower's credibility, credit performance and repayment history. It is the basis upon which the lender assesses whether the borrower will be able to repay the loan. But what's the minimum CIBIL score for a bike loan? Let's find out!

title: What are the types of accounts and deposits available?

, content: It's important to know where you can save your money. As the rule goes, high-risk on your capital can result in a higher return while investing money in low-risk instruments would result in lower interest.

Banks, including Bank of Baroda offer a host of instruments that are what can be termed as low on risk and medium to low on return.

We shall now look at the various instruments that are available to a customer to deposit their money with the bank and earn returns.

title: Types of Deposits

, content: A primary function for a bank is to mobilise public money. They do so in the form of deposits. There are two types of deposit accounts that you can open in a bank. They are time deposits and demand deposits.

title: Time Deposits

, content: A Time Deposit also known as a Term Deposit is a deposit which has a fixed tenure and earns interest for the customer. The tenure varies for each instrument and may even change from bank to bank.

The most widely used name for time deposits is Fixed Deposits. The common feature among all Time deposits is that they cannot be withdrawn prematurely. One should thus plan their deposits according to their requirement for money going forward.

The more the money resides in the bank of a term deposit the more interest it earns. Banks pay higher interest in longer-term deposits than on shorter ones.

Fixed Deposits earn higher interest than a Savings Account because the former gives Banks leg room to lend to people who need the money for roughly the same time limit. For example, a one year fixed deposit in a bank can allow the bank to lend money to a person who requires a personal loan for one year period.

Commercial banks have over the years made Fixed Deposits more attractive by offering various frills like overdraft facility, zero cost credit cards, nomination facility, safe deposit lockers, internet banking among others.

title: Recurring Deposits

, content: In this case, a fixed amount, as decided by the depositor, is deposited at regular intervals till the end of the tenure. The accumulated interest and the principal is given back to the depositor at the end of the tenure. The tenure of a recurring deposit can be anything from six months to 120 months.

title: Demand Deposits

, content: As the name suggested, you can withdraw this deposit on demand. Such funds are held in accounts where it is easier to withdraw money either by going to the bank or an ATM. Savings and Current accounts are the two types of commonly used Demand Deposits account,

In such type of deposits, the risk is low but so is the return. However, there is one more factor that this type of deposit has and that is liquidity since money can be withdrawn at a moment's notice.

The reason for the existence of such accounts is to provide the customer convenience of meeting his daily requirement of funds. It does not serve the purpose of 'investment' or 'wealth creation'.

title: TYPES OF ACCOUNTS

, content: Savings Account

These are interest-bearing accounts where the rate of interest depends on the bank where it is deposited. Further, there are restrictions in terms of the number of times money can be withdrawn from this account. These restrictions are also imposed by the bank and may vary between two banks. The depositor can withdraw his money by going to the bank and use the withdrawal slip or use his cheque book or go to an ATM and use his card. Money can also be transferred to someone else by using the cheque facility or using an electronic mode of transfer.

Current Account

This type of account is generally operated by companies and firms. These are the non-interest-bearing deposit and serve the purpose of providing liquidity. Since there are many transactions in these accounts, the cost of managing them is high. Hence banks ask the depositors to maintain a minimum deposit. Current accounts have overdraft facility which the banks provide the customers to meet their short-term liquidity mismatch.

title: Banking Mantra, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life

title: Table of Content, content: Introduction

title: Introduction, content: Agriculture is the backbone of India's economy, employing a significant portion of the population and contributing to the nation's overall growth. In order to support farmers and enhance agricultural practices, financial institutions in India offer a range of Agriculture Loans tailored to meet the diverse needs of farmers and agribusinesses. These loans play a crucial role in providing financial assistance, empowering farmers to invest in modern equipment, improve infrastructure, and increase productivity. In this article, we will delve into the different types of agriculture loans and explore their features and benefits.

title: Types of Agriculture Loans Available in India, content: 1.Crop loans, also known as Kisan Credit Card , are specifically designed to meet the short-term financial requirements of farmers during the cultivation season. These loans are primarily utilized for purchasing seeds, fertilizers, pesticides, and other inputs required for crop production. Crop loans are usually sanctioned for a duration of one agricultural season and are repaid after the harvest.2. Farm

Mechanization Loans Farm mechanization loan focuses on promoting modern agricultural practices by providing financial assistance for the purchase of farm machinery and equipment. These loans enable farmers to mechanize their operations, enhancing efficiency and productivity. Tractor Loan is the most popular farm mechanization loan. Farmers can utilize the funds to procure tractors, power tillers, harvesters, irrigation systems, and other machinery suitable for their specific needs.

3. Land Purchase Loans Land purchase loan aim to facilitate the acquisition of agricultural land by landless, share croppers, small and marginal farmers, helping them expand their cultivation areas. These loans enable farmers to invest in purchase of land for agriculture, horticulture, or other allied farming activities. The funds can be utilized for buying agricultural plots, orchards, or farmland. Based on eligibility, farmers can also avail other facilities like Forestry Loans, Horticulture Loans to establish or maintain the nurseries of orchards, ornamental plants, as well as quick-growing trees and shrubs.

4. Livestock Loans Livestock loans which are also known as loans for allied agriculture activities, are designed to meet the financial requirements of farmers involved in animal husbandry, poultry farming, or dairy farming. These loans enable farmers to purchase livestock, construct livestock sheds, invest in feed, and procure equipment necessary for maintaining the health and well-being of the animals.

5. Warehouse Receipt Loans Warehouse receipt loan provide farmers with access to credit based on the value of their stored agricultural commodities. Under this system, farmers deposit their produce in a recognized warehouse and receive a receipt that represents the value of the stored goods. These receipts can be used as collateral to secure loans from financial institutions.

6. Solar Pump Set Loan: Farmers can take advantage of solar financing to purchase a solar photovoltaic water pumping system. This agriculture loan usually is extended for a tenure of 10 years and the repayment is linked to the additional income generated due to irrigation provision.

title: Conclusion : agricultural loans, content: Agriculture loans in India play a vital role in supporting farmers and promoting agricultural development. The various types of loans available cater to the diverse needs of farmers, whether it be short-term crop-related expenses, mechanization, land purchase, livestock management, solar financing or leveraging stored commodities. It is essential for farmers to understand the specific terms and conditions associated with each loan type and assess their financial requirements accordingly. By utilizing these loans effectively, farmers can enhance their productivity, modernize their farming practices, and contribute to the growth of the agricultural sector, ensuring a prosperous future for Indian agriculture.

title: CIBIL Score for Bike Loan, content: CIBIL score is one of the critical factors for determining eligibility for a loan. Even if it's a bike loan, borrowers need to have a minimum CIBIL score to avail of the bike loan. A CIBIL score depicts the borrower's credibility, credit performance and repayment history. It is the basis upon which the lender assesses whether the borrower will be able to repay the loan. But what's the minimum CIBIL score for a bike loan? Let's find out!

title: Bike Loan Documents, content: Motorcycles, scooters, and mopeds are highly popular in India. In 2022, over 13 million two-wheelers were sold in the country. While it's relatively easy to buy a two-wheeler with a bike loan, there is a set of documents required for two wheeler loans. These documents prove your eligibility for the loan as per the lender's guidelines.

title: Types of Car Loans, content: Car Loans are for those looking to finance their car purchase at relatively attractive interest rates.

title: Types of Car Loans in India, content: While there are generally three types of Car Loans available in India, there may be lender-specific customised options on offer. Most banks and financial institutions in the country offer new car loans, old car loans or Electric Car. Let's understand in brief these different types of car loans."• New Car Loan" As the name suggests, such loans are offered by banks to fund the purchase of new cars. You can get a car right out of the showroom without worrying about where to arrange the funds from. Banks will come to your rescue and offer loan options to choose from. You can compare interest rates and other charges being levied, along with some benefits associated with the loan product, and accordingly select your lender and loan option.

"• Pre-owned Car Loan (Used Car Loan)" Some banks also help you buy second-hand cars or used vehicles, although the financing available for the same would generally be lower than that available in the case of new vehicles.

Loan against Car If purchasing a car on loan is on your wish list, then choosing the Bank of Baroda is a wise choice. The bank offers loans on new and pre-owned cars without collateral on loan against car. The bank finances 75%- 100% (depends on types of car). The interest rates are attractive with minimal documentation and no foreclosure or pre/ part payment charges. With nominal processing time, enjoy speedy loan disbursement. Looking for higher loan amounts? You have reached the right place.

New Car vs Used Car Loan Bank of Baroda gives loans on new or used cars at highly affordable rates. With the highest financings and competitive rates, repay new and old car loans in 7 years. Apply for loans if you are between 21 - 65 years. If the CIBIL score is 701 or above, the applicant's loan interest rate will be considered accordingly. Evaluate new car vs used car loans from BoB.

title: Choose from Different Types of Car Loan at Bank of Baroda, content: Bank of Baroda offers loans up to 75% -100% on new and used cars with a car loan tenure of 1-7 years. Ensure your CIBIL score is 701 for attractive interests. The bank hypothecates the car as collateral, till the loan is fully paid. Salaried employees, self-employed, NRIs, OCIs and PIOs can avail of the loan. Applicant should be above 21 years and repayment must complete before the borrower's 70th year. Choose from different types of car loans at the Bank of Baroda.

title: Consolidated, content: Bank of Baroda offers attractive interest rates on car loans. Take advantage of the car loan without collaterals with their loan against car policy. You can apply for loans against new cars and used cars. Carefully read the terms and conditions of new car vs used car loan. The bank makes it possible to apply for different vehicle loans. Choose from different types of car loan at Bank of Baroda.

title: Check Eligibility Criteria To Get A Car Loan, content: Owning a car is a dream of almost every individual in India. With the ease of securing loans, buying cars, either new or pre-owned, has become an achievable dream. Banks and other financial institutions are loaning sums to many for fulfilling aspirations. Is everyone eligible for car loans? Banks make it possible for everyone to apply for and receive a car loan as long as they fulfil some criteria. Private and popular financial FinTechs are easier on the eligibility criteria for car loans if borrowers are willing to pay high-interest rates. Banks are safe and dependable sources for borrowing funds. They have thus minimised their requirements but continue to hold some as essential for ascertaining the eligibility of the candidate along with reducing their risk percentage while loaning to individuals. Let us talk about eligibility for car loans in greater detail.

title: What Is The Ideal Tenure For Car Loan?, content: The desire for owning a car is gradually growing in India, according to TechSci Research (<https://bit.ly/30T1o5A>). The Indian car loan market is poised for a "compounded annual growth rate (CAGR) of over 8 per cent in value terms and will reach USD60 billion by FY2026." A shift from combustion engine vehicles to electric vehicles seems to be the trend.

title: Introduction : credit cards

, content: With so many choices available to consumers, it can be hard to make sense of the different credit card options available in the market. In this post, we'll break down the key features and benefits of each type of credit card, so you can make an informed decision about which card is right for your needs. We'll also provide helpful tips on choosing the best card for you and using it responsibly.

title: Different Types of Credit Cards

, content: Rewards Credit Cards

Reward credit cards offer multiple incentives frequently offered on each card transaction. On all of your retail, internet, etc., card purchases, as a credit card holder, you may accrue reward points. In addition, you can receive additional points for renewal, birthdays, and other occasions. When customers spend a particular amount in a set amount of time, they can also accrue points. These reward points may be used to purchase the goods and services listed in the rewards catalogue, which also includes cashback incentives, air miles, travel deals, etc. Some cards enable users to make installment payments for their purchases.

Cashback Credit Cards

Rewards are generally distributed differently depending on different card categories but cashback credit cards make it simple for you to receive cashback or statement credits on your spending. Customers who use cashback credit cards receive 5% to 20% cashback on their purchases, depending on the spending. Payment of bills, the purchase of movie tickets, retail purchases, eating expenses, supermarket purchases, etc., all qualify for cashback. Fuel surcharge waivers, annual fee refunds, dining and shopping privileges, international acceptance, rewards programmes, balance transfers, etc. are mainly offered by any cashback card.

On Snapdeal BoB Credit Card, you can enjoy 5% Unlimited Cashback on your spends on Snapdeal. Know More at www.bobfinancial.com

Travel Credit Cards

Due to their endless travel perks, travel credit cards are hot cakes. These cards provide rewards for travel both domestically and internationally. To provide travel credit cards, the majority of banks have partnered with airlines or travel agencies. You may accrue air miles by using this card to make travel-related purchases. Additionally, some travel cards give their clients access to airport lounges. If you are a travel credit card holder, you may convert your reward points into air miles, which can be used to purchase tickets and select better seats on flights. You can also avail discounts on hotels, vacations, golf, restaurants, travel insurance, etc.

Reviewed as one of the best by industry experts, BoB ETERNA Credit Card offers Unlimited airport lounge access with accelerated rewards on your travel, dining, online & international spends. Check it out at www.bobfinancial.com.

Business Credit Cards

When using business credit cards, you may keep your personal and professional expenses separate and still receive rewards. It's interesting to note that corporate credit cards can also be secured credit cards, cashback credit cards, credit cards with general benefits, and credit cards for travel. Corporate credit cards come with benefits like discounted hotel stays and travel, business savings plans, expense management, insurance, waivers of fuel surcharges, access to airport lounges, rewards programmes, cash advances, add-on cards, bill payment options, and the ability to break up large purchases into manageable monthly payments. It must be noted that to be eligible for a business credit card, you must have a business or other source of revenue.

EMPOWER is the right card for your business aspirations. Know More at <https://www.bobfinancial.com/>.

Student Credit Cards

Student credit cards are the best option for young individuals with weak credit histories. Student credit cards are most likely to be accepted because the application standards are less onerous. Most student credit cards don't have an annual fee, and many of them give incentives for every dollar spent in addition to extra benefits for high grades.

Secured Credit Cards

While applying for a secured credit card, you must make a cash deposit in order to obtain a modest line of credit, typically for a comparable amount. Although putting up collateral may not seem ideal, secured credit cards are the quickest to be accepted, making them useful whether you need to start from scratch with your credit or want to rehabilitate it after a financial setback.

Store Credit Cards

Retail stores provide store credit cards so that customers can charge their purchases and pay them back over time. This card can be used at specific stores or a specific family of stores. In general, interest rates on store-branded credit cards are greater than those on general-purpose cards, and deferred interest is frequently charged more frequently. In spite of this, you might be able to benefit from some fantastic advantages and rewards programmes if you can pay off your shop credit card in a timely manner.

Lifetime Free Credit Cards

A lifetime free credit card is free for life and has no initiation or yearly fees. First-time card users who have recently started their professional path or have never taken any type of credit in the past are best suited for these free credit cards. These cards offer outstanding value despite the fact that the majority of them offer just minimal features and often low reward rates.

Co-Branded Credit Cards

Banks issue co-branded credit cards in each major category through collaboration with a retail brand, a travel or Ecom aggregator, Fintech or any other strategic partnership as per the internal due diligence process of the Bank. By leveraging the technical capabilities & expertise of the partner, A co-branded credit card combines the benefits of both the issuer & cobrand partner allowing clients to receive the benefits & perks from a single card. Co-branded credit cards offer special rewards, discounts and offers through the cobranded partnership like rewards on booking train tickets, shopping online and on special merchant categories along with special cashbacks & waivers depending on the cobranded partnership.

Fuel Credit Cards

Every time a fuel cardholder purchases fuel, their fuel credit card offers him/her several perks. Through reward programmes and fuel charge exclusions, this card saves clients money on refilling. Additionally, when purchasing fuel at particular gas stations around India, several banks give accelerated rewards points. A few more extra benefits are activation incentives, entertainment offers, rewards on grocery, utilities & departmental store purchases.

With HPCL BoB ENERGIE Credit Card, you can enjoy upto 128 litres of free fuel all year round, Unlock savings at www.bobfinancial.com

Credit Cards for Women

Credit cards for women provide a strong emphasis on cashback and shopping benefits and rewards. Women credit cardholders can receive additional reward points, a waiver of fuel surcharges, insurance, etc.

Contactless Credit Cards

The special payment technology equipped contactless credit cards enable cardholders to make purchases by merely touching their cards at point-of-sale terminals. These incredibly secure contactless transactions don't require users to input a PIN number in order to make payments, amount upto 5,000/-. These cards come with a number of advantages, including savings, cashback, freebies, rewards points, access to lounges, concierge services, insurance policies, and more.

Entertainment Credit Cards

Entertainment credit cards are popular for their incredible benefits such as discounts, cashback, or buy-one-get-one free deals on events, performances, and movies. Additionally, users may accrue rewards points on these purchases and exchange them for gift cards, cinema tickets, or vacation reservations.

Premium Credit Cards

Premium credit cards come with unique benefits like flexible spending limits, premium airport lounge access, concierge services, free insurance, rewards programmes, global assistance services, chartered yacht and flight services, surcharge waivers, retail, travel, and hotel accommodation vouchers, etc.

Signature Credit Cards

A Signature credit card from the majority of banks is available and offers the finest lifestyle benefits. The incentives that may be redeemed with these cards have additional alternatives. Depending on how much the cardholders spend, some of these cards waive the yearly charge.

title: How to Choose the Right Type of Credit Card?

, content: Based on credit score:

Your credit score is an indicator of how likely you are to pay back any debts you may incur with a credit card in a timely manner. The higher your credit score, the more likely you will qualify for better offers such as low-interest rates or rewards programs. Knowing your current credit score will help you determine which type of card will be best for you.

Based on debt:

When evaluating different types of credit cards, look at how much debt you currently have and whether or not you have been able to pay off debts in full each month. If you have high levels of debt or have struggled to make payments in full, then a low-interest rate card might be better suited for you than one that offers rewards.

Based on other carrying charges:

It's essential to know the other carrying charges and fees associated with different types of credit cards. Some cards carry annual fees, late fees, application fees, over-the-limit fees, and any other charges along with the card's interest rate.

title: Various Credit Cards offered by Bank of Baroda

, content: Bank of Baroda offers a wide range of credit cards and enables you to select the one that best suits your needs. You can visit www.bobfinancial.com and explore the plethora of credit cards curated for their valuable customers. The credit card range offered by Bank of Baroda includes:

Eterna
Premier IRCTC BoB
HPCL BoB ENERGIE
Snapdeal
SELECT Easy
INDIAN NAVY VARUNAH VARUNAH
Indian Army Yoddha
ASSAM RIFLES The Sentinel
ICG RAKSHAMAH
ICAI EXCLUSIVE
ICSI DIAMOND
CMA ONE PRIME CORPORATE CARD
BOB NAINITAL BANK RENAISSANCE CARD Empower
BoB Vikram Card
BoB BGGB PRAGATI CARD
BoB BRKGB PRAGATI CARD
BoB BUPB PRAGATI CARD
FD BACKED – EASY SECURE SELECT SECURE PREMIER SECURE ETERNA SECURE

title: What is a 'secured' credit card?

, content: A secured credit card is a card that is issued against your fixed deposits.

title: Do all credit cards come with joining and annual fees?

, content: Yes - most of the credit card come with joining and annual fee but credit card issuers run special offers/drives with life time free pricing from time to time to encourage customers to apply for credit card. There are some lifetime free cards but these cards usually offer lower or no rewards/ special features compared to paid cards.

title: Can I own two Credit Cards?

, content: Having many cards might have a significant negative influence on your financial situation. You must determine the optimal number of cards to carry in your wallet before carrying around many credit cards.

title: Different Types of Demat Accounts in India

, content: Choosing the correct type of demat account is crucial for investors to manage their securities and effectively align with specific investment requirements. With various options available, such as the regular demat account, repatriable demat account, non-repatriable demat account, and Basic Service Demat Account (BSDA), investors must evaluate their needs and consider relevant factors before deciding.

Let us explore the various types of demat accounts that cater to investors' specific needs and preferences.

Regular Demat Account

The regular demat account is the most common demat account used by Indian residents. It allows investors to hold and trade equity shares and other securities electronically. A standard demat account must be linked with a trading account to engage in activities like Futures and Options. This account has an annual maintenance charge (AMC), which varies among service providers. In response to the needs of small investors, SEBI introduced the Basic Services Demat Account (BSDA). It minimizes or eliminates the AMC based on the investment size, making it more affordable for individuals with minimal holdings.

BSDA - Basic Service Demat Account

The Basic Service Demat Account (BSDA) is designed to make demat account services accessible and affordable for small investors. It comes with certain limitations and concessions to cater to the needs of individuals with fewer holdings. For example, if the value of the securities in a BSDA does not exceed ₹2 lakhs, the investor can enjoy reduced maintenance charges. This account is ideal for those with a smaller investment portfolio or new to the investing world. For instance, a college student interested in investing a small amount in stocks or mutual funds would find the BSDA would a cost-effective option.

Repatriable Demat Account

Designed exclusively for Non-Resident Indian (NRI) investors, the repatriable demat account allows them to invest in the Indian stock market and facilitates the transfer of funds outside India. NRI investors need to link their NRE (Non-Resident External) accounts to the demat accounts for repatriation purposes. This account enables NRI investors to repatriate up to one million US dollars annually. Additionally, it offers flexibility and convenience to those looking to invest in India while having the option to transfer funds abroad.

Non-repatriable Demat Account

Similar to the repatriable demat account, the non-repatriable demat account is designed for NRIs. However, it does not permit the transfer of funds outside India. Instead, the non-repatriable demat account is linked to an NRO (Non-Resident Ordinary) account, where the funds remain within India. It allows NRIs to invest in the Indian stock market and benefit from the country's economic growth while maintaining their investments within the Indian financial system.

title: How to Choose the Right Type of Demat Account?
, content: Here is a step-by-step guide to choosing the right type of demat account:

1. Assess Investment Needs

Investors should start by understanding their investment objectives. Then, they should consider the types of securities they plan to hold or trade such as stocks, bonds, ETFs, or mutual funds. A repatriable demat account would be suitable for NRIs or PIOs looking to invest and repatriate funds. For Indian residents with a diverse investment portfolio, a regular demat account provides a comprehensive solution. For small investors with limited holdings, the BSDA account offers cost-saving benefits.

2. Check the Repatriation Requirements

A repatriable demat account is essential for an NRI or PIO who intends to repatriate the investment funds back to their overseas accounts. This is because it allows for the seamless transfer of funds abroad while facilitating investments in the Indian securities market. On the other hand, if repatriation is not a priority, a non-repatriable demat account may be suitable.

3. Consider Cost-Effectiveness

Evaluate the maintenance charges associated with different types of demat accounts. Regular demat accounts typically have standard maintenance charges while BSDA accounts provide concessions for small investors with lower holdings. Investors should assess their investment portfolio size and choose funds with maintenance charges that align with their investment capacity.

4. Evaluate Ease of Use

Consider the features and services offered by different types of demat accounts. Regular demat accounts provide various functionalities, making them suitable for experienced investors. On the other hand, BSDA accounts are designed for simplicity, with reduced maintenance charges, making them ideal for small investors or beginners who do not require advanced features.

5. Research Service Providers

Investors should research and compare service providers offering demat accounts. They should consider factors like customer service, online trading platforms, ease of account opening, and reputation in the market. Besides, they should ensure the service provider they choose is registered with depository participants and complies with the regulations set by SEBI.

title: Conclusion

, content: Different types of demat accounts cater to the varying needs of investors in India. The BSDA account is suitable for small investors with lower holdings; regular demat accounts offer comprehensive features for Indian residents, repatriable and non-repatriable accounts cater to the investment preferences of NRIs, and a 3-in-1 demat account combines a demat account, trading account, and linked bank account for seamless trading experience. It is advisable to assess individual requirements and goals before choosing the most appropriate type of demat account.

title: What is a BSDA account?

, content: A BSDA account refers to the Basic Service Demat Account. It is a demat account introduced by SEBI (Securities and Exchange Board of India) to cater to small investors. The key feature of a BSDA account is the waiver or reduction of annual maintenance charges (AMC) based on the value of holdings. It aims to provide cost-effective services for individuals with limited investment portfolios.

title: Which type of demat account is best in India?, content: The best type of demat account in India depends on an individual's specific needs and investment goals. Regular demat accounts are suitable for Indian residents with diverse investment portfolios. Repatriable demat accounts are designed for NRIs who want to invest in Indian securities and repatriate funds abroad. Non-repatriable demat accounts are also for NRIs but do not allow fund repatriation. BSDA accounts are ideal for small investors with lower holdings, as they offer concessions or waivers on AMC charges.

title: Are repatriable and non-repatriable accounts similar?, content: Repatriable and non-repatriable demat accounts have some similarities but also significant differences. Both are designed for NRIs to invest in Indian securities. The key distinction lies in fund repatriation. Repatriable accounts allow NRIs to transfer funds outside India, up to a specified limit, using NRE (Non-Resident External) accounts. Non-repatriable accounts do not permit fund transfers outside India and are linked to NRO (Non-Resident Ordinary) accounts.

title: What is a 3-in-1 demat account?

, content: A 3-in-1 demat account is a comprehensive account that combines three essential components for seamless trading: a demat account, a linked bank account and a trading account. Banks and financial institutions usually offer it. The demat account holds the securities, the trading account facilitates buying and selling of stocks, and the linked bank account serves as the medium for funds transfer. A 3-in-1 demat account provides a convenient and integrated platform for investors to manage their investments effectively.

title: Types of Digital Banking Payments

, content: UPI (Unified Payment Interface)

Among the popular types of digital payments, the most popular is UPI. This allows money transfer from your bank account using a single window directly to the vendor from your mobile. The payee's virtual address with consent for mobile payment needs to be entered for this mode of digital payment. Several bank accounts can be linked with one app.

Internet Banking

Internet banking or net banking is among the oldest types of digital banking. You can manage your bank accounts virtually if you have an internet connection. Customers can visit the bank portal and enter login details (password and username) and register. The bank takes layers of security measures into account, ensuring caution during payment and transactions.

Mobile Banking

Another popular type of digital banking is mobile banking. Account holders download the bank application on their mobile. All bank services like balance enquiries, payments etc. can be accessed from smartphones.

Banking Cards

Banking cards are essential for all types of digital payments. Cards are based on their issuance, usage, and modes of digital payment. Four types of banking cards are Debit, Credit, Prepaid and Electronic cards.

Debit cards issued by the bank are linked to the bank account, and cash can be withdrawn from the ATM, this banking card allows virtual payment for products and services bought through eCommerce or offline stores.

Credit cards are issued by banks/ non-banks. These prepaid cards are used for buying products and services on credit.

Bank Prepaid Cards are not linked to bank accounts and aid overdraft facilities. These cards need preloaded value addition and only the amount added can be spent.

Virtual Debit Card are electronic cards that work like debit cards are used for online ecommerce transactions.

Mobile Wallets

Mobile wallets are the digital version of a wallet that enables the user to make different types of digital payments online. Digital wallet stores money added by the user linked to their bank account. Safe amongst all digital payment methods, this can be used for all transactions through an app installed on the smartphone and an internet connection.

Bharat Interface For Money

Bharat Interface for Money (BHIM) app enables simple payment transactions amongst other modes of digital payment. With the Unified Payments Interface (UPI) you can make direct and instant bank to bank payments and collect money using your mobile number and address. You can make direct bank payments to anyone on UPI using their UPI ID or scanning their QR with the BHIM app. You can also request money through the app from a UPI ID.

POINT of SALE (PoS)

This is an internet linked electronic swipe machine through which a Merchant Establishment (ME) performs a retail transaction by swiping customer debit and credit card. The merchant calculates the amount owed by the customer. After receiving the amount, the merchant may issue a printed receipt or send an electronic receipt to the customer.

title: Final Thoughts

, content: Different types of digital payments consolidate the dreams of digital India. Promoting more digital transactions through bank accounts, the government is paving the way for a 'Faceless, Paperless, Cashless' economy. Enabling ease of payment with a greater inclusion that touches even the small-time shop owner in a village, the digitally empowered economy will add to more financial independence.

title: What are the Different Types of Education Loan?

, content: There is no doubt that education is of prime importance not only in India but globally as well. It is one of the sole factors that help us become literate, well-mannered and responsible individuals personally, socially, and professionally. Though a basic education is generally accessible, people prefer quality education to elevate their educational qualifications to get high-paying jobs.

This desire for quality education is made possible with education loans.

title: What is an Education Loan?

, content: For aspiring students who want to acquire quality education from reputed educational institutions, an educational loan is the best way to achieve it. It is basically a credit facility provided by banks to help students get admission to renowned colleges or universities in India and abroad in order to pursue their desired education. With the help of an education loan, both students and parents can pay for the tuition fees and other related expenses to be borne in the admission process. An education loan is offered in form of funding, scholarships, financing, and rewards, and even sometimes granted in cash.

title: Expenses Covered under an Education Loan

, content: Generally, the tuition fees payable to the respective university or college inclusive of the laboratory fees and examination fees as well are covered under every education loan provided by the bank. In addition to this, an education loan can pay for the purchase of books, laptops, uniforms (if any), and other miscellaneous items along with the caution deposit and the student's travel expenses. However, all these expenses should not exceed 20% (twenty percent) of the entire loan amount. Depending on the loan provider bank, education loans may also include college or university projects, student tours charge, and other expenses related to thesis and research that needs to be completed before finishing the opted course.

title: Education Loans in India

, content: Education loans in India are quite feasible and are curated in a way to help and support the financial needs of students seeking admission to national or international educational institutions. Here are some basic features of educational loans in India:

Banks may offer an average education loan of up to Rs.1,25,00,000 (One crore twenty five lacs) and up to Rs.1,50,00,000 (one crore fifty lacs) for students applying for domestic and international colleges or universities respectively. Under certain circumstances and conditions, 100% (hundred percent) financing is also available and a margin of 0 % (zero percent) to 15% (fifteen percent) is applicable otherwise.

In the education loan process, relative, or friend can be a guarantor, if required.

Repayment of education loan will start after 12 months from the date of completion of course

The range of interest rate on education loans is approximately between 8 % to 11.50 % depending on scheme, Loan amount and institutions decided by the loan provider banks.

Students are given ample time with flexible terms and conditions to repay the loan once they complete their education.

title: Types of Education Loans in India

, content: There are several different types of education loans offered by national - international banks that can be classified based on different factors given below:

Education Loans Based on Location:

Domestic Education Loan - A domestic education loan is a type of education loan for students to pursue education in educational institutions based in India.

Study Abroad Education Loan - A study abroad education loan is a type of education loan for students planning to pursue education in recognized foreign colleges and universities abroad.

Education Loans Based on the Course of Education:

Undergraduate Education Loans - Undergraduate education loans are basically for the 3-5 years course that help students to pursue a Bachelor degree in their respective subject from a national or international college/university. To avail of this loan, the student must have passed his/her 12th (twelfth) grade.

Post Graduate Education Loans - Graduate education loans are basically for the 2 (two) year-long courses that help students pursue a postgraduate degree in their respective subject from a national or international college/university. To avail of this loan, the student must be a Bachelor degree holder.

Education Loans Based on the Security of Collaterals and/or Guarantee

Loan Against Deposits - An education loan against deposits can be availed against recurring deposits, fixed deposits or any other deposits acceptable to the Bank.

Loan Against Property - An education loan against property can be availed against immovable assets such as residential property - a house, flat, or land /agricultural land, etc.

Loan Against Securities - An education loan against security can be availed against debentures, bonds, equity shares, etc.

Third-Party Guarantee - An education loan against a third-party guarantee can be availed against a third party who can be relative, or friend title: Career Education Loan

, content: Career Education Loans are professional educational loans that help working professionals take admission to advanced professional courses at a national or international college/university to enhance their employment skills and opportunities. It can be said that it is for individuals who want to be admitted to an undergraduate career-oriented program at national or international trading and technical colleges.

title: Loans for Parents

, content: Banks provide unsecured loans to the parents to meet the expenses borne by them which are related to their child's education, such as tuition fees, living expenses, books, uniforms, transportation fares, etc. Not only parents but other adult relatives can also avail of the loans for parents to enroll their children in national or international colleges and universities.

title: Conclusion : Education Loan, content: An education loan can be a tremendous solution when it comes to pursuing higher education. The best suitable education loan not just gives an opportunity to study in the top national and international universities but also gives a start to your amazing educational journey.

title: What are The Different Types of Fixed Deposits?

, content: Fixed deposits (FD) are among the most popular types of savings and investments. They allow you to earn interest on the amount you deposit for a fixed period. If you do not like to take risks when it comes to investments, you can choose from different types of fixed deposits. FDs are perfect as you can redeem your original amount and interest as soon as they mature.

Opening a fixed deposit is quite easy, and you can do it online or offline. As different types of FD options are available, you may feel overwhelmed and need help choosing the best option.

However, once you are aware of all the types of fixed deposit choices and their key features, it can become easy to take a call.

Here are the different types of fixed deposits available on the market:

title: Types of Fixed Deposits

, content: While banks provide a wide array of options, FDs are mainly categorised into two heads: Cumulative Fixed Deposit and Non-cumulative Fixed Deposit.

The following are some of the most common types of fixed deposits:

- Cumulative Fixed Deposit

In terms of Reserve Bank of India directives, interest shall be calculated at quarterly compounding intervals on Term deposits and paid at the rate decided by the Bank depending upon the period of deposits. In this scheme, the depositor gets the benefit to earn interest on both principal and interest components. Our bank is having Cumulative fixed deposit in the name of Baroda Regular Income cum Recurring Deposit .

- Non-cumulative Fixed Deposit

In this scheme / product interest is not accumulated but paid to the depositor at regular intervals. This ensures a passive income for the depositor. Our bank is having Non-cumulative fixed deposit in the name of Baroda Regular Income PLAN - Monthly Income Plan , Baroda Regular Income Plan - Quarterly Income Plan .

Flexi Fixed Deposit

Selective schemes of Savings and Current accounts have facility of Auto Sweep where balances above a certain threshold are swept out to Flexi Deposits in multiples of a sweep out amount (Threshold amount ,Sweep out amount and deposit period are scheme specific ).Whenever the balance in savings /current account fall short below (stipulated balance requirement ) to clear any debits in the operative account ,the FFD can be broken in last in first Out (LIFO ) principle (in multiples of sweep amount specific to scheme )as per the guidelines of the Bank .

- Standard Fixed Deposit

This is one of the most popular types of fixed deposits. A standard fixed deposit is one of the most common FDs. You can go to your bank and open a fixed deposit. Banks have FD interest rates for different tenures and amounts, and you can choose to deposit your money for a predetermined period. From seven days to ten years, you can choose any tenure that you want.

- Regular Income Fixed Deposit

This type of fixed deposit offers a guaranteed return on the money you deposit. Users get a fixed sum of money as a monthly return. This return entirely depends on the amount you are keeping as a fixed deposit. As the type of fixed deposit is liquid, you can withdraw your investment anytime. Moreover, the withdrawal cost is nominal, and there are no charges for opening or managing the deposit. It is also among the most popular types of FDs.

- Tax Saving Fixed Deposit

According to the Indian Income Tax Act, customers can save up to Rs. 1.5 lakh in income tax benefits by investing an appropriate amount in tax saving fixed deposits. However, tax saving FD get locked in, and there is no option to liquidate them before the maturity date. Regarding interest rates, you can receive them on a quarterly or monthly basis as per your preference.

- Senior Citizen Fixed Deposit

The interest rates for senior citizens are the highest. Users can choose different options for payouts, like monthly, quarterly, or yearly. Most seniors opt for a monthly interest rate as they may not have any other mode of steady income.

title: Types of FDs for NRIs

, content: Indian banks offer fixed deposit options for NRIs. In particular, NRE fixed deposit and NRO fixed deposit are more popular.

- NRE Fixed Deposit

In the NRE Fixed Deposit , you can transfer foreign currency into your account. It gets converted to INR automatically. Moreover, the interest you earn on the NRE fixed deposit is tax-free. This is among the popular types of fixed deposits as it allows NRI investors to earn attractive interest rates. The tenures may range from one to ten years.

- NRO Fixed Deposit

NRO Fixed Deposits are the best for residents who have a stable source of income coming from India. For instance, this payment can be the rent you receive, fees, or any other business. Remember that this fixed deposit is fully taxable, and the interest rates differ in various banks.

title: How To Choose the Right Fixed Deposit

, content: As an investor, it is natural for you to seek higher interest rates. But your choice of interest rate depends on how long you can keep your money in an FD, as FDs with shorter tenure attract lower interest rates. Given this, based on your financial goals, you can choose the tenure for your FD.

However, it would help to diversify your investments in different FD tenures. This ensures you can access your funds in a shorter tenure sooner and as per your needs, while FDs in longer tenure earn a higher interest rate.

title: Conclusion : Fixed Deposits, content: While several investment options are available, fixed deposits remain the safest. They will be your best bet if you want guaranteed returns on your investments.

There are many different types of fixed deposit options. You should choose the one that suits you the most.

title: Different Types of Home Loans in India

, content: With property rates rising with each passing year, it is almost impossible to buy one from your savings. Thankfully, you do not need to worry about exhausting all your savings to become a property owner. You can get the necessary funds with the help of a Home Loan. You can also get a loan for construction or land purchase. Each type of loan is designed to help fulfil a specific objective. You can choose the type of Home Loan that best serves your needs. Let us take a look at the different kinds of Home Loans provided by banks in India.

- A Standard Home Loan

The Standard or Basic Home Loan is the most common type of House Loan. You can take this type of loan to purchase residential property, which could be brand new, under-construction, or even a pre-owned.

- A Home Construction Loan

If you do not want to buy an existing property but instead build a house on a piece of land you own, you can also opt for a Home Construction Loan. In this type of loan, the bank disburses the loan amount in instalments based on how the construction progresses. You have to provide an estimate of the amount of money you need at every stage of construction.

- Land or Plot Loan

Just as you can buy an already existing property with a Standard Home Loan, so can you buy a piece of land. This type of Home Loan is known as the Land or Plot Loan. To be eligible for this loan, you must ensure that the property documents like ownership, a title deed, etc., are clear as the bank is not responsible for checking the same. Further you are also required to construct residential house within 3 years. More on that below!

- Home Improvement and Extension Loan

If you want to remodel your existing property, you need to apply for a Home Improvement Loan. You can apply for this loan if you wish to paint your home, fix a leaky ceiling and hanging wires, or give your property a face-lift. A Home Extension Loan enables you to enlarge your home's size by adding rooms, extending floors, etc.

- Top-Up Home Loan

The Top-Up Home Loan is one where you can get more finance on your existing Home Loan for any purpose. For instance, you may want to construct a property while still repaying your Home Loan or remodel your house while still repaying your Standard Home Loan or you need fund for marriage of your daughter. To be eligible for a Top-Up Home loan, you should ensure that you've repaid all your EMIs on time.

- Pre-Approved Home Loan

Bank of Baroda offers a special type of Home Loan known as the pre-approved Home Loan, wherein you can apply for the loan first and then start looking for a property based on the loan amount you are eligible for. The bank determines your eligibility based on your income and repayment capacity. This type of loan allows you to choose a property that suits your eligibility.

- PMAY Loan

Banks in India (in partnership with the government) offer home loans at subsidised interest rates. Members of economically weaker sections, light, and medium-income groups are eligible for such a loan. This loan is known as the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana or PMAY loan, wherein qualified applicants can become owners of 'pucca' houses in urban and rural India. Family should not have any other residential house other than proposed to be purchased/constructed.

- Balance Transfer Home Loan

Do you have an existing Home Loan with a bank or NBFC? Are you paying a high-interest rate on that loan? Now you can transfer your Home Loan to Bank of Baroda under a special type of House Loan – The Balance Transfer Home Loan. Transferring the loan to a bank offering a lower interest rate can reduce your Home Loan's actual cost.

- NRI Home Loans

NRIs (Non-Resident Indians), residing out of the country can easily invest in homes through Bank of Baroda's NRI financing schemes. They come at competitive rates, with a no-fuss documentation process. Home loan is available depending on the repayment capacity of the borrower. The maximum moratorium period is 36 months.

title: How to Apply for Home Loan Online?

, content: You can apply for different types of home loans online. Bank of Baroda offers standard home loans, top-up, balance transfers, pre-approved or PMAY loans. You need to visit the website to begin the online application process. Fill an online form and provide your personal and income details and the loan amount you need. The bank assesses your eligibility and informs you of the maximum loan amount you can get, as well as the interest rate you will be charged. The online home loan process reduces the need to visit the bank frequently, with documents in tow.

So what are you waiting for? Visit Bank of Baroda to choose the type of Home Loan that suits your needs. Begin the process of becoming a homeowner today!

title: Types of Mortgage Loans: Which Is Best for You

, content: Emergencies are unpredictable, especially financial ones. Sometimes these expenses can be too high to seek financial aid from friends and family. In such times, you can make your idle assets work for you. If you own assets like properties, you can get a loan against them. You can mortgage them as collateral with your lender and avail loan. Read on to understand what a mortgage loan is and the various types of Mortgage Loans.

title: What is a Mortgage Loan?

, content: A Mortgage Loan is a type of secured loan, wherein you can mortgage immovable properties as collateral and receive a loan against them. The loan amount is usually around 60% of the current realizable value of the assets subject to fulfilment of income criteria of the lender. Failure in repaying the loan amount will result in the lender selling off the charged collateral to recover the dues. Nevertheless, Mortgage Loans are convenient as you can make idle assets generate funds for you.

title: Mortgage Loan Types

, content: Let us now look at the various Types of Mortgage Loans available in India

title: Loan Against Residential Property

, content: You can obtain a loan against property in India, i.e., your home or a piece of land you own. A prominent benefit of Loan Against Residential Property is high-value loan amounts. Depending on your eligibility, the lender may offer you loan after deducting margin as their norms on the value of property offered as security. Interest rates, too, are relatively lower as these are secured loans. The loan amount can be utilised to fund any personal or business ventures except for financial speculation of any nature. Until you repay the loan, charge of lender remains on the residential property, and the lender has the right to sell the property to recover its dues in case of default in repayment of loan.

title: Loan Against Commercial Property

, content: If you own a commercial property such as shops, warehouses, land for commercial uses, etc., you can mortgage them to avail funds as required. You could be a self-employed individual like a doctor, lawyer, trader, contractor, etc., owning a commercial space that you can mortgage to finance big budget expenses. This type of loan is also known as a real estate loan. Higher principal loan amounts and longer repayment tenures are some of the salient features of this type of Mortgage Loan in India.

title: Bank of Baroda Mortgage Loan Benefits

, content: With so many mortgage loan types and benefits, you can seamlessly and effortlessly obtain a loan whenever you need. At Bank of Baroda, we offer Mortgage Loans, thus enabling you to get quick access to cash. With our flexible repayment tenures and attractive interest rates, you can enjoy several Mortgage Loans benefits.

Higher loan amount limit: Bank of Baroda offers up to INR 10 Cr as mortgage loan amount in metro cities.

Demand loan or overdraft: Meet your short-term financial goals as Bank of Baroda enables you to opt for a demand loan or an overdraft facility.

Save interest by depositing surplus money: You can make prepayment in loan account and reduce the total interest on the mortgaged property.

Competitive interest rates: We offer attractive interest rates on Mortgage Loans – lower than or at par with our competitors.

Generate income on idle properties: Bank of Baroda's real estate loans can be an excellent source for raising the funds for any purpose except for financial speculation.

title: Bottom Line

, content: Investing in real estate comes with numerous perks, an important one being the ability to convert it into a source of fund raising at the time of need. With different types of mortgage loans available, you can mortgage your property as security and get funds to finance your personal or business needs.

Bank of Baroda's mortgage loans are flexible; they come with attractive interest rates and offer a higher loan amount limit depending on location. Need a mortgage loan? Call our toll-free number 1800 5700 or head to your nearest branch and let one of our executives assist you.

* Mortgage loan approval is subject to Bank's prevailing policy guidelines.

title: Types of Mutual Fund Schemes

, content: Over the past decade, the mutual fund industry in India has made significant progress. The key growth drivers were the entry of new players, changes in regulations that increased the popularity of Systematic Investment Plans (SIPs) and the overwhelming participation of retail investors. As a result, the mutual fund industry's Asset Under Management (AUM) grew about five-fold between May 2013 and May 2023. Furthermore, the total number of SIP accounts as of 31 May 2023 was at 6.53 core.

Today, the industry offers different types of mutual fund schemes to address the needs of various kinds of investors. At the end of May 2023, the total number of mutual fund schemes in India stood at 1,441. All these schemes can be classified in different ways based on their various characteristics.

title: Classification of Mutual Funds

, content: Different classifications of mutual funds are:

Based on the organisation structure

Based on asset classes

Based on investment objectives

Based on portfolio management
Based on speciality
Based on risk appetite
Let's understand all the classifications in detail.

title: Types of Mutual Fund Schemes based on Organisation Structure
, content: Based on their structure, mutual funds are classified as:

Close-ended schemes: Close-ended funds come with a fixed maturity period. Fund houses issue the units of these schemes only at the time of their New Fund Offer or NFO. After the NFO period, these schemes are listed on stock exchanges. Investors can trade their units on the stock exchanges if they want to leave these schemes before the maturity period ends.

On maturity, the schemes are dissolved and the money is returned to the investors at the Net Asset Value, or NAV, of the day. Less volatility in NAV is the most significant benefit of this mutual fund type. As cash in and outflows are restricted, their NAV shows lesser fluctuations.

Close-ended funds are ideal for those with a long-term investment perspective. It's also apt for those seeking an avenue to park a hefty sum for an extended period.

Open-ended schemes: As the name suggests, the units of these schemes are open for buying and selling even after the NFO. That is, investors can buy/sell the units of an open-ended fund according to their convenience. Moreover, there is no restriction on the number of units that can be issued.

A higher level of liquidity is the most striking feature of open-ended funds. Investors can sell the units on the NAV of the day. Additionally, investors can take advantage of systematic plans for entering and exiting these plans.

Open-ended funds are a good choice for those who want a highly liquid investment option and are willing to take on moderate to high risk.

Interval schemes: Interval schemes are the hybrid version of both open-ended and close-ended funds. The units of these schemes are available for buying and selling only during specified transaction periods called intervals. Similar to close-ended schemes, listing the units of interval schemes on stock exchanges is mandatory.

Interval funds are apt for investors who seek exposure to unconventional assets like forestry tracts or commercial property.

title: Types of Mutual Fund Schemes based on Asset Classes
, content: The different types of mutual funds based on their asset classes are as follows:

Equity funds: Equity funds mainly invest their assets in the shares of companies. As per the guidelines, an equity mutual fund scheme should invest at least 65% of its assets in equities or equity-related investments. The remaining funds are invested in other, more secure asset classes to offset the risk. The returns from these funds depend on the performance of the shares they invest. Equity funds can be again categorised in many ways, such as:

Based on the way they are managed - active and passive funds.

Based on the market capitalisation of the stocks they invest in - small-, mid-, multi-, and large-cap funds.

Based on their geography - domestic and foreign funds. They can also be classified as broad-market, regional or single-country funds.

Based on the sector they invest in - pharma, FMCG, real estate, etc.

Equity funds are suitable for those who have long investment horizons.

Furthermore, they have a track record of providing superior returns than other types of mutual funds, making them a solid option for building wealth.

Debt funds: Debt funds invest their assets in fixed-income instruments, such as corporate/government bonds, T-bills, or certificates of deposits. Compared to equity funds, debt funds are less risky and have lower expense ratios. Moreover, they give better returns than traditional investment options like fixed deposits. Hence, they can be a better choice for those seeking regular income.

Hybrid funds: Hybrid funds consist of both debt and equity components. This type of mutual fund is suitable for investors with a moderate risk appetite. Hybrid funds can be classified based on their asset allocation as follows:

Conservative hybrid funds - invest at least 75% of the asset in debt and the rest in equity.

Aggressive hybrid funds - invest 65% to 80% of the asset in equity or equity-related instruments and the remaining in money market and debt instruments.

Dynamic asset allocation funds - invest in both debt and equity, and their proportion varies with the market condition.

Multi-asset allocation funds - invest at least 10% of their money in at least 3 asset classes, and the proportion changes with market conditions.

Arbitrage funds - invest a minimum of 65% of their asset in equity and the rest in debt and money market instruments.

Equity savings funds - invest at least 65% of their asset in equity and equity-related instruments and a minimum of 10% in debt instruments.

Money market funds: Money market funds normally invest in low-risk, short-term securities such as T-bills, certificates of deposit, commercial paper, etc. They offer high liquidity; investors often invest in the funds as a short-term cash management tool.

title: Types of Mutual Fund Schemes based on Portfolio Management

, content: The classification of mutual funds based on portfolio management can be done as follows:

Active funds: In active funds, the fund managers actively manage the portfolio by deciding which securities to buy and sell. These funds are designed to outperform a specific benchmark index or achieve higher returns through active management strategies.

Passive funds: Passive funds are designed to replicate the performance of a particular market index. They aim to match the returns of the index they track instead of outperforming it. They are called 'passive' funds because they do not involve active stock selection or market timing strategies.

title: Types of Mutual Fund Schemes based on the Investment Objective

, content: Based on the investment objective, mutual funds are classified as follows:

Growth funds: Growth funds focus on investing in the stocks of companies that are expected to register above-average growth rates compared to the overall market or their industry peers. These mutual funds are designed to provide high returns to investors. Hence, they carry a higher level of risk.

Income funds: Investors can rely on income funds for a steady income stream. They provide regular income through interest payments or dividends. These funds typically invest in various assets that generate income, such as bonds, stocks that pay dividends, and other fixed-income securities. Income funds suit retirees or those seeking to supplement their current income.

Liquid funds: Liquid funds invest in short-term debt instruments with high liquidity and low risk. They generally invest in securities with maturities of not more than 91 days. Liquid funds are designed to provide investors with a safe and liquid investment option, allowing them to easily convert their mutual fund investments into cash without incurring significant losses. Returns from liquid funds depend upon the short-term interest rate prevalent in the market.

title: Types of Mutual Fund Schemes based on Risk Appetite

, content: Based on their risk appetite, mutual funds are categorised as follows:

Low-risk funds: Mutual funds that invest in relatively lower-risk avenues like debt instruments fall under this category of mutual funds. These funds are typically designed to provide stable returns rather than aggressive growth.

Medium-risk funds: Medium-risk mutual funds typically invest in a diversified portfolio of assets that have a moderate level of risk, such as a mix of stocks, bonds, and other financial instruments. They aim to strike a balance between potential returns and risk exposure.

High-risk funds: Funds that have high-risk assets, such as stocks, options, futures, commodities, or emerging markets, in their portfolio come under this classification of mutual funds. High-risk funds aim to generate high returns and are ideal for wealth creation. Equity funds are an example of high-risk funds.

title: Types of Mutual Fund Schemes based on Speciality

, content: Speciality funds are also known as sector-specific or thematic funds. They focus on specific industries, themes, or sectors of the economy. These funds aim to capitalise on the growth potential of a particular sector or theme by investing in companies operating within that domain. In India, there are several speciality funds available to investors. A few examples of thematic funds are as follows:

Sector funds: Mutual funds that invest in a particular industry are called sector funds. Returns from these funds entirely depend on the performance of these sectors. Technology funds and real estate funds are a few examples of sector funds.

Index funds: Index funds invest in a diversified portfolio of stocks that comprise the chosen index and in the same proportion as the index. Their investment strategy is passive, intending to replicate the performance of the index they are tracking.

Global funds: Global funds, also known as international funds, allow Indian investors to invest in foreign securities and markets. Exposure to international markets helps investors to diversify their portfolios.

Fund of funds: Fund of funds or multi-manager funds invest in a portfolio of other mutual funds instead of directly investing in individual securities or assets. By investing in multiple funds, these funds aim to spread the investment risk and potentially achieve higher returns.

Retirement funds: Retirement mutual funds are specifically designed to aid individuals in accumulating wealth for their retirement years. These funds invest the pooled money in stocks, bonds, and other securities.

Emerging market funds: Emerging market funds focus on investing in securities from emerging market economies. These economies are typically characterised by rapid economic growth, expanding populations, and increasing industrialisation. Investing in emerging market funds allows investors to participate in the growth potential of these economies.

title: Banking Mantra, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life

title: Table of Content, content: What is NRI Banking?

title: What is NRI Banking?, content: NRI banking, or Non-Resident Indian banking, refers to the specialized banking services and accounts offered by Indian banks to individuals who are Indian citizens but reside abroad. These services are tailored to the unique financial needs and circumstances of Non-Resident Indians (NRIs) and Persons of Indian Origin (PIOs). NRI banking allows these individuals to manage their finances, investments, and transactions in India while living abroad. NRI Banking services work as a financial bridge. Along with tailored solutions to manage their financial affairs effectively, there are many other benefits of NRI Account.

title: Types of NRI Banking Services, content: If you are an NRI, here are the different types of NRI account banking services that you can avail of in India: 1) NRI Savings Accounts NRI savings accounts are designed to park your funds securely in India. You can conduct your everyday transactions easily through these accounts. These accounts offer attractive interest rates, easy repatriation of funds. They serve as a gateway for you to manage your day-to-day expenses and save for future financial goals.

2) NRI Fixed Deposit Accounts NRI fixed deposit accounts provide a stable and low-risk investment option. The primary benefit of opening an NRI fixed deposit account is the higher interest rates as compared to regular savings accounts which come with various tenures. This allows you to lock in your excess funds for a predetermined period.

3) NRI Demat Accounts After the securities have been dematerialized, it is mandatory to open Demat accounts to trade and invest in Indian securities. NRI Demat accounts are essential if you are looking to invest in Indian stocks and securities. These accounts facilitate electronic trading and safekeeping of shares and other financial instruments. They also enable you to participate in the Indian stock market and diversify your investment portfolios.

4) NRI Loans and Mortgages Are you worried that your NRI status might pose a hurdle in securing NRI loans and mortgages in India? Well, it's not the case anymore. Banks like the Bank of Baroda offer NRI loans and mortgages for various purposes, such as buying property in India, financing education, or meeting medical expenses. These loans often come with competitive interest rates and flexible repayment terms thereby making them an attractive option for NRIs seeking financial assistance.

6) NRI Remittance Services NRI remittance services allow you to send money to India and transfer funds abroad easily. Banks providing these services usually offer competitive exchange rates and low remittance charges. This makes it convenient for you to support your families in India or manage international financial commitments.

7) NRI Wealth Management NRI wealth management services cater to high-net-worth individuals. These services include personalized investment strategies, tax planning, estate planning, and portfolio management. Wealth managers work closely with you to understand your financial goals, optimize your financial portfolios, and help you achieve your long-term financial objectives.

title: Importance of NRI Banking, content: NRI banking services are essential for several reasons including but not limited to the following:1) Financial Connectivity Financial connectivity between India and your country of residence is important for a seamless banking experience. NRI banking services allow you to maintain financial connections with your home country thereby facilitating the management of income, investments, and expenses.

2) Wealth Growth India has become an attractive destination for foreign investors to invest with a strong leadership and booming economy. Newer opportunities to build and multiply wealth are emerging with the implementation of business-friendly opportunities. Wealth services provided by your selected banking partner provide you the opportunities to grow your wealth by investing in India's vibrant financial market.

3) Financial Security Financial security is paramount for any individual. NRI banking services by the right banker offer you a secure platform to save and invest your hard-earned money, ensuring financial security for you and your family.

4) Convenience NRI banking services offer convenience through online banking, mobile apps, and dedicated customer support that makes it easy for you to manage your finances from anywhere in the world.

title: Choosing the Right NRI Banking Services, content: The importance of NRI banking services cannot be undermined in these rapidly evolving international transactions. Selecting the right NRI banking services depends on individual financial goals and needs. Being an NRI, you need to assess your financial and investment objectives, risk tolerance, and the services that align with your requirements.

title: Summing Up : Nri banking, content: NRI banking services in India provide a comprehensive range of financial solutions tailored to meet your unique needs. These services encompass savings and investment opportunities, lending options, remittance facilities, and wealth management. Choosing the right NRI banking services is crucial for you to achieve financial success and security while staying connected to your roots in India. With Bank of Baroda, you can explore these offerings to make the most of the financial opportunities in both India and your country of residence.

title: Managing Your NRI Account: Tips for Financial Success, content: Managing your finances as an NRI can be challenging due to the frequent travel and changing circumstances. Non-resident Indians often encounter rule changes distinct from those applicable to resident Indians, which can sometimes be complex to grasp.

title: Complete Guide on Banking Services for Women, content: From Gen X to Gen Z, a conscious mindset change is palpable amongst women earners who have not only earned but also invested. These women acted as financial agents, preparing society towards change with confidence and competence. However, in the words of *Linda Davis Taylor, CEO, and chairman of Clifford Swan Investment Counsellors,

"Wealth without knowledge is wealth wasted." Though many women have earned money, personal finance for women has been largely driven by their fathers or spouses who have taken care of their banking and investments both amongst the literate and illiterate earners.

title: Types of Personal Loans in India

, content: Personal loan are the most convenient financial backups offering the confidence you need in emergencies filling the immediate cash crunch with the flexibility of returning at your convenience. Banks, non-banking financial organizations and private money lenders are ready to finance various types of personal loans when you want extra money for a better life. But just as James Grant, the American financial wise owl remarked, "If loans are expanding too quickly, the lending officers have probably been saying 'yes' too frequently," so ensure that you choose a dependable source when taking loans. That way, your debts won't exceed repayment capacity. This article encapsulates different personal loan types and what to expect from each.

Pre-approved Personal Loan

When you need immediate cash, choose a dependable lender that fosters accountable borrowers. Your pre-approved personal loan is disbursed in a day and is preferred over credit cards. You can loan a higher amount with a low-interest rate. Choose from personal loan types if you have a good CIBIL score. These types of personal loans allow the borrower to get an unconditional loan without mortgaging or pledging any asset, making them expensive. Entrepreneurs treat this as a stopgap for raising funds to meet urgent financial needs. Personal loans auto debit equated monthly instalments (EMI) from your bank account. These are short-span loans with subjective repayment terms.

Medical loan

Among personal loan types, is the medical loan, a financial backup for any medical emergency like hospitalization, medicine, surgery and other expensive medical treatment. This loan like other types of personal loans do not require collateral and thus has high-interest rates and repayment through EMIs linked to bank account. This loan is a lifesaver in your most trying times.

Personal Loan for Home Renovation

In Bank of Baroda, there is a dedicated product namely " Baroda Home Improvement Loan " which fulfils the requirement of existing Home Loan borrowers for repairing / renovation of their dwelling unit. However, Bank also provides Personal Loan for shorter period ranges from 12 months to 84 months for any purpose other than speculation.

Personal Loan for Travel /Vacation

Holidays break the monotony of mundane life, but at times, failing funds stop this indulgence. Why not choose a travel loan? Travel loans falls under types of personal loans that help you to cover your vacation expenses like tickets, hotel, food and other expenses and even sightseeing. This loan is available as any personal loan type for both domestic and international travel. With a high-interest rate be mindful of the finer details that this personal loan type includes. This is an instant approval loan scoring higher than credit cards.

Personal Loan for Marriage

Weddings can be extravagantly expensive. You want to gift your children or yourself a memorable occasion. To ensure that you can meet the expenses you might need a marriage loan. A marriage loan is among the ideal personal loan types for planning dream weddings. From jewellery to a lavish event, a marriage loan will take care of every spend. The personal loan for marriage follows the same criteria as any other types of personal loans in India. The minimum age for taking this loan is from 21 -23 years and the maximum from 58 -65 years. The loan amount is subject to minimum net income. Personal loan for wedding serves the purpose of wedding anniversaries too.

Personal Loan for Debt Consolidation

Personal Loan for Debt Consolidation is an easy way to pay off loans you may have missed. Medical, travel, house building, credit card debts or other unpaid loans are grouped, and a consolidated sum is fixed for repayment. This personal loan type prevents paying multiple EMIs, failing one of which will affect your CIBIL score. Debt consolidation personal loans are similar to other types of personal loans.

title: The Bottom Line

, content: Personal loans have a tempting choice of options to spoil you. These attractive and easy personal loan types urge you to avail them. However, before you go ahead with a personal loan, ask yourself why you need one, can you handle the repayment amount timely and smoothly? Make sure you have all the documents required for personal loan. Check your credit score, weigh the pros and cons and above all choose a dependable source like The Bank of Baroda to ensure that your loan repayment is hassle-free and well managed. After all, how you manage your finances determines your lifestyle. So, get smart and manage your loans well.

title: What are the types of Recurring Deposit?, content: Recurring Deposit (RD) is an easy and convenient way to start regular savings. In this, a fixed amount is deposited every month and earns interest at a predetermined rate. RD can be opened with any Bank, Post Office or NBFC by any person, a senior citizen, a minor above 10 years with a guardian, partnership firms, clubs, associations and NRIs. The rate of interest varies across financial institutions and the tenure ranges from 6 months to 10 years.

title: Baroda Recurring Deposit Scheme, content: This is a Recurring deposit scheme offered by the Bank of Baroda. It is a basic monthly plan that accumulates small savings over a certain period. The interest gets accrued over the tenure and is paid at maturity.

title: Features of this RD account are as below -, content: This is a unique kind of RD offered by the Bank of Baroda. A basic monthly saving plan, which helps customers to regulate their savings for higher returns with liquidity.

title: Features of this RD are summarized below -, content: Non-resident Indians or NRIs can also start RD from their NRO or NRE accounts. A major advantage of opening an NRE Recurring deposit is that it is not taxable. All the interest earned on NRE FD is tax-free. However, NRO FD is taxed at 30% plus the applicable surcharge and cess subject to change as per extant guidelines. The maturity amount of NRE RD is fully repatriable but there is a limit of 1 USD Million for repatriation on NRO RD subject to change as per extant guidelines.

title: Conclusion : recurring deposit, content: Recurring Deposit is a great investment tool to meet short-term financial goals with ease. It is also very effective in creating a habit of saving. RD is a convenient way to accumulate a lump sum amount of money over a period of time. Anyone can start an RD easily including minors and senior citizens. If a Savings account already exists with a bank then no extra documentation is required. The process is fast and simple which makes RD a very attractive savings tool among all age groups and income classes.

title: Features and Benefits of Investing in Recurring Deposit, content: The best way to grow your corpus and begin investing is to put money into an investment regularly. Investments that call for regular installments not only help to build up savings, but they also enforce discipline among the investors. One of the most popular investments that meets the description above is a recurring deposit or RD. Read this handy guide to know what are the features and advantages of RD account.

title: Premature Withdrawal of Fixed Deposit: Penalty Charges & Alternative Options, content: Most savers like to earn some income passively over and above their regular income flow. Fixed deposits offer them a diversification route for investing their savings. When a saver invests in a fixed deposit, they earn a guaranteed income over a fixed term of the investment. Fixed deposits, also known as term deposits, are suitable for both; working professionals and retired senior citizens. Fixed deposits range in tenor from 7 days and go all the way up to 10 years. The interest rate offered by different banks and financial institutions varies according to the tenor as well as the credit rating of the bank. Each bank has its own terms and conditions for offering fixed deposits to the members of the public.

title: Introduction : atm services, content: Bank of Baroda is one of the most trusted and reputed banks in India, offering a wide range of digital products to make banking easier and more accessible for its customers. Among these digital products, ATM and Kiosk services play a crucial role in providing 24/7 banking services to customers. In this blog, we will discuss Bank of Baroda's ATM services, their benefits, and tips for using them safely.

title: Overview of ATM Services, content: ATMs have revolutionized the banking industry by enabling customers to withdraw cash, check their account balance, and perform other banking transactions without visiting a bank branch. Bank of Baroda has a vast network of ATMs , and their services include cash withdrawal, balance inquiry, mini statement, PIN generation, and fund transfer. These ATMs are available 24/7 and can be accessed using a debit card .

title: Benefits of ATM Services, content: There are several benefits of ATM (Automated Teller Machine) services, including:

title: Convenience, content: While using ATM services, it is crucial to keep some safety tips in mind, such as:

title: Keep your PIN secret, content: The contents of this article/infographic/picture/video are meant solely for information purposes and do not necessarily reflect the views of Bank of Baroda. The contents are generic in nature and for informational purposes only. It is not a substitute for specific advice in your own circumstances. Bank of Baroda and/ or its Affiliates and its subsidiaries make no representation as to the accuracy; completeness or reliability of any information contained herein or otherwise provided and hereby disclaim any liability with regard to the same. The information is subject to updation, completion, revision, verification and amendment and the same may change materially. The information is not intended for distribution or use by any person in any jurisdiction where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject Bank of Baroda or its affiliates to any licensing or registration requirements. Bank of Baroda shall not be responsible for any direct/indirect loss or liability incurred by the reader for taking any financial decisions based on the contents and information mentioned. Please consult your financial advisor before making any financial decision.

title: What is Tokenisation: Meaning, Working Process & Advantages, content: Once upon a time, there was a world where people carried sacks of gold coins and silver trinkets to buy goods and services. As time passed, technology advanced, and we moved into a world of digital transactions, where coins and trinkets became lines of code.

title: All about Net Banking: Meaning, Features, Advantages & Registration, content: Net Banking also known as Internet Banking, is a digital method to conduct banking transactions by the means of the internet, it is a time savvy facility offered by all standard banks. Individual can conduct banking activities from home through their smartphones, tablets, laptops and desktops. Net banking is a 24*7 facility which facilitates checking account balance, making fund transfer, managing debit and credit cards, opening fixed deposit and recurring deposit account, paying bills, doing online shopping, ordering chequebooks, buying general insurance, and much more.

title: What are the ways of Closing a Personal Loan?, content: When choosing a way to close a personal loan, it's essential to consider the charges, penalties, and benefits involved. Before making a decision, it's best to discuss the options with the lender and understand the terms and conditions of the loan agreement. Regular Closure: Pre-Closure: Pre-closure or pre-payment is when the borrower decides to repay the loan before the due date. Such repayment allows borrowers to save on the interest they would otherwise pay on a loan. Pre-closure is a good option for borrowers who have a surplus of funds and want to close their loan earlier. However, the pre-closure is not an option for all personal loans and may come with charges or penalties.

Pre-Closure: Part Prepayment: The part prepayment is a partial pre-closure of the loan. It means the borrower can repay a portion of the loan principal without completely closing the loan. Part payment can help reduce the loan's tenure and interest payable but may also attract prepayment charges.

Part Prepayment: The procedure for the regular closure of a personal loan is straightforward; the borrowers must repay the funds as per schedule to pay off the loan. Subsequently, the bank issues a closure letter confirming the loan repayment and that the borrower is no longer liable to make further payments.

title: Also Read - How to Pay Off Your Personal Loan Quickly?, content: The procedure for the pre-closure of a personal loan is a little more complex than regular closure. Borrowers need to inform the bank about their intention to pre-close the loan. After receiving the request, the bank will calculate the outstanding loan amount, interest, and pre-closure charges. The pre-closure charges are the charges that are levied by the bank for pre-closing the loan.

title: What are Pre-payment Charges?, content: Often debtors like to repay their loans to avoid the burden of EMIs and interest costs ahead of the due date.

While loan pre-payment or foreclosure may be favourable for borrowers, usually, pre-payment charges are involved. Suppose the borrower has availed of a personal loan at fixed interest rates. In that case, there may be charges of up to 5% on the unpaid principal amount, among other restrictions. In the case of a floating interest rate, however, the RBI has forbidden the creditors to levy a penalty.

title: What is Part Prepayment of the Loan?, content: Part prepayment of the loan refers to repaying a part of the loan amount before the due date. Part prepayment is different from pre-closure as in part prepayment, the borrower continues to pay the remaining loan amount as per the scheduled payments. However, part prepayment can help reduce the total interest payable on the loan and also reduce the loan tenure.

title: Why is it necessary to close a personal loan?, content: It is not necessary to close a personal loan. Still, it may be beneficial for the borrower if they want to become debt-free quickly or want to reduce the total interest payable on the loan.

title: Does closing a personal loan increase credit score?, content: Closing a personal loan can impact your credit score in different ways. An open personal loan negatively affects your credit utilization rate and your credit mix, which can lead to a decrease in your credit score. However, it helps if you consistently pay off your loan. Closing such an account will show that you have a track record of responsibly paying off debt, which can increase your credit score.

title: How long does it take for loan closure to reflect in CIBIL?, content: Credit Institutions submit data to CIBIL every 30-45 days. Wait for at least 45 days after repayment of your personal for the data to reflect on your CIBIL report.

title: Can a person close a personal loan through online banking?, content: Yes, many banks provide online banking services to close a personal loan. You can log in to your online banking account, access the personal loan account, and follow the steps to wind it up. Before you close your loan, check the pre-closure charges and any other charges that may apply. Also, get a receipt or confirmation of the closure from the bank.

title: How does an EMI on debit card work?, content: With the exponential growth and increase in online shopping and the number of products available, the modes of payment for these purchases have also evolved. It is no longer necessary to pay upfront in cash. One very popular option that people use is to convert purchases into installments on their credit card. This system has become one of the preferred ways to buy consumer durables. However, for those people who do not have credit cards or who do not have a high limit on credit cards, there is another option; EMI on a Debit Card.

title: A Complete Guide to Two Wheeler Loan, content: A two-wheeler is more than just a mode of transport. It is someone's dream and, often, a necessity. On busy Indian roads, two-wheelers are more practical and efficient as they come with excellent mileage. However, this doesn't make them easier for everyone to afford. In such cases, a bike/two-wheeler loan can be very useful. Here is a complete guide to a two-wheeler loan process, starting with what it is, its benefits, the documents required to apply for it, etc.

title: Can I avail a home loan from Bank of Baroda?, content: Yes, you can avail a home loan from Bank of Baroda, if you plan to construct or purchase a house/flat or extend your existing house/flat and, you are:

A minimum of 21 years

Employed or self-employed with a regular income.

title: What is the average tenure of a home loan?, content: We grant term up to a maximum of 30 years. The term for the loan will under no circumstances exceed the age of retirement or completion of 65 years of age, whichever is earlier.

title: Who can be co-applicant?, content: The proposed owners of the residential accommodation as per the agreement for sale, in respect of which financial assistance is sought, must be co-applicants. Usually, joint applications are from husband-wife, father-son or mother-son, etc.

title: How much does Bank of Baroda lend?, content: Loan amount is determined on the basis of the repaying capacity of the applicant/s. Repaying capacity takes into consideration factors such as age, income, dependents, assets, liabilities, stability of occupation and continuity of income, savings, etc.

The maximum loan would be Rs.10 crores per unit to any individual applicant based on the area where the property is proposed to be constructed/purchased. We will extend a loan of up to 90% (for newly constructed houses/flat) of the cost of property under our Housing Loan Scheme.

title: For how long a period can I get the loan?, content: We grant a term up to a maximum of 30 years. The term for the loan will under no circumstances exceed the age of retirement or completion of 65 years of age, whichever is earlier.

title: But can I prepay the loan ahead of schedule?, content: Yes, you have the option to prepay the loan ahead of schedule either in parts or in full from your own sources.

title: What is the mode of repayment?, content: Equated Monthly Instalment (EMI): It means a uniform lumpsum amount, which includes repayment of a part of the principal amount and payment of interest, calculated on daily product basis. or title: What is the security for the loan?, content: The security for the loan is an equitable mortgage of the property to be financed. The security for the loan is equitable mortgage of the property to be financed.

Fixing the monthly/quarterly instalments on the graduated basis is permitted of EMI as requested by customers.

title: What are the supporting documents required while applying for the loan?, content: Common requirements for all applicants.

Application form duly filled in (with a photograph of all the applicant).

Residence and age verification, which may be established from the PAN Card, Election ID, Passport, Drivers Licence and Ration Card, etc.

Copy of approved plan and sanction letter from local civic authority.

Copy of NA permission.

One/two guarantor/s form/s and salary certificates: If a guarantor is in business, copies of I.T. returns or assessment orders for the last three years are required.

Bank passbook of statements for the last two years.

Latest salary slip/statement showing all deductions in case of employed applicants.

Certified copies of Balance Sheets and Profit and Loss accounts, IT acknowledgments, advance tax challans (for both company/firm and personal account) for the last three years in case of self-employed applicants.

Memorandum/articles of association for companies, partnership deeds for firms and a brief profile of your company/firm in case of self-employed applicants.

Additional requirement.

In case of purchase from builder

Copy of agreement for sale.

Copy of registration receipt.

Copy of sanctioned plan & sanction letter of the competent authorities.

Copy of NA permission/ULC order.

Copies of receipts of payments already made.

NOC from builders in our format.

In case of direct allotment in a Co-operative Housing Society

Allotment letter.

Share certificate. Society registration certificate.

Copy of sale/lease deed in favour of the society.

NOC from society in our format.

Possession letter in original.

In case of resale:

Copy of all the previous vendors' agreements duly stamped and registered and the registration receipts. (original to be given before disbursement).

NOC from society/builder in our format.

Original share certificate.

title: Whether you have any housing loan products for NRIs?, content: Yes. We have housing loan products for NRIs/PIOs. For details, please visit our website at Housing Loans to NRIs /PIOs title: What Are the Consequences of Missing a Home Loan EMI, content: There are two major consequences of missing your monthly home loan EMI payment. Firstly, your CIBIL score would go down for each month of default. Secondly, the subsequent month's EMI payment will become quite expensive. Here is a look at the consequences in detail.

title: The Monetary Impact of Missing a Home Loan EMI Payment, content: For each missed EMI payment, you will be required to pay late fees, penalties, and penal interest. The penalties are usually 1% to 2% on the overdue amount. You might even have to pay penal interest. The penal interest is charged over and above the regular interest in your home loan. This increases the interest pay-out significantly. You will have to pay the missed EMI amount as well. As a result, your upcoming EMI will become quite expensive and harder to manage. You typically get a grace period to pay off your dues, after which your loan is classified as an NPA (Non-Performing Asset). Once your loan has been classified as an NPA, the lender has a legal right under the framework of the SARFAESI Act of 2002 to auction your property or collateral to recover their dues.

title: The Impact on Your CIBIL score, content: Your CIBIL score undergoes considerable damage when you miss your home loan EMI payments. CIBIL score Your goes down by 50 to 70 points for each EMI payment that you miss. If you have a CIBIL score of 750 and miss out on two of your home loan EMI payments, your score drops down to anywhere between 610 to 650 points. This takes away your status as a responsible debtor. A lower CIBIL score makes it harder to procure loans in the future and increases the interest rate that you get charged by lenders. A drop in your CIBIL score can also make you ineligible for credit in the future.

title: How do You Get Back on Track After Missing a Home Loan EMI Payment?, content: If your defaults have not crossed the grace period provided by the lender, you can get back on track with ease.

title: What do You do to Get Back on Track Before Your Dues Cross The 90-day Period?, content: If your dues have not crossed the grace period, you can follow the steps listed below to get your EMI payments back on track. Step 1 Contact your lender as soon as you realise that you will not be able to make the upcoming EMI payment.

Step 2 Make a budget and stick to it. Once you have contacted the lender about your issue with repayment, the next step is taking their response into account and drawing up a budget accordingly. Account for your monthly expenses and income. This practice will help you identify the areas where you are spending extra and assist you in meeting your EMI obligations.

Step 3 Cut down on your expenses. After creating a detailed account of your monthly cash inflow and outflow, you shall be able to judge which of your expenses can be reduced. It is better to stay away from buying luxuries and spending extra on your wants rather than your needs until your finances are back on track.

title: Points to Consider, content: Before taking on home loan debt, you need to understand your finances and formulate a strategy on how to pay home loan EMI. Missing a home loan EMI payment can lead to significant financial damage. Thus, it is better to do calculate your home loan EMI before you start the application process. You can use an online home loan EMI calculator to help you with this calculation. Knowing how much you will have to pay each month will help you avoid defaulting on your repayments. On the other hand, if you are unable to pay the EMI due to a sudden emergency like a job loss, it is recommended that you contact your lender as soon as possible and be completely transparent about the issue with them. They will discuss all possible alternatives to help you get your payments back on track.

title: How to Save & Invest for Your Child's Education Aboard, content: Quality education is one of the most important investments in your child's future. It equips them with the knowledge, skills, and opportunities necessary to thrive in today's globalised world.

title: What is Baroda Advantage Current Account?, content: The Baroda Advantage Current Account is Bank of Baroda's high-transaction Current Account, which comes with a wide range of benefits for our urban and rural customers. As a BOB current account holder, you can enjoy a low minimum quarterly average balance and free mobile and internet banking services. The account comes with the unique Baroda Cash Management System (BCMS) service software that streamlines bulk payments and collections.

title: Features of Baroda Advantage Current Account, content: Following are the prominent features of the Bank of Baroda Advantage Current Account.

title: Baroda Advantage Current Account Benefits, content: Below are the Bank of Baroda Current Account benefits that can prove helpful for your business.

title: Baroda Advantage Current Account Charges, content: Following are the Bank of Baroda Current Account charges you ought to know:

title: Documents Required For Baroda Advantage Current Account, content: Following is the list of documents for Resident Indians who wish to open a Baroda Advantage Current Account.

title: Baroda Advantage Current Account Eligibility, content: You can open a Baroda Advantage Account if you are above 14 years of age and you own any of the following:

title: Final Note, content: A Current Account differs from your regular savings account in numerous ways. It lets you make high-value transactions with minimal or zero charges on a daily basis, making it ideal for the financial operations of a business. You can deposit a higher amount of cash and enjoy bulk payment and cash collection facilities as well. Bank of Baroda Advantage Current Account gives you access to several banking services, including the overdraft facility.

title: What is a Term Deposits - A Complete Guide, content: A bank account is the most crucial instrument that allows you to save money. You can easily deposit and withdraw funds at your convenience and grow your savings steadily. While banks offer interest on your savings account deposits, they also offer a host of investment facilities that allow you to earn better interest rates and grow your corpus significantly. One such facility is known as a term deposit. Let us understand what term deposits are and how to assess their salient features, exceptional benefits, and various types. Read on.

title: Check Out These 7 Best Proven Money Saving Tips, content: We all have grown up listening to the importance of saving for a rainy day. However, things are easier said than done and saving a few hundred rupees by not eating at your favourite café will still probably not make a significant mark in the bank. So, what really is the best way to save money? Are there some tricks that can really make a difference and help you save enough cash for emergencies? If these are the questions running around in your mind right now, you have come to the right place. Let's take a look at 7 saving tips that will really make the difference for you in 2022.

title: Subscribe to our Newsletter, content: Copyright © 2021 Bank of Baroda. All rights reserved title: Add this website to home screen, content: This is to inform you that by clicking on continue, you will be leaving our website and entering the website/Microsite operated by Insurance tie up partner. This link is provided on our Bank's website for customer convenience and Bank of Baroda does not own or control of this website, and is not responsible for its contents. The Website/Microsite is fully owned & Maintained by Insurance tie up partner.

title: Gold Loan Eligibility Criteria, content: A gold loan can be a lifesaver in times of crisis. But to avail of a loan against gold, one must meet the standard eligibility criteria most lenders follow. The gold loan eligibility criteria are given below:

title: What Amount of Gold Loan Is Available, content: The maximum gold loan eligibility is based on the loan-to-value ratio of a gold loan. This means that gold loans are sanctioned up to a maximum of 75% of the value of the gold. You can apply for a maximum gold loan up to Rs 25 lakhs per borrower at the Bank of Baroda. The maximum tenure is 12 months and 36 months for an EMI option. Please visit the Bank of Baroda to know more about the gold loan interest rates and charges.

title: How to Check your Eligibility for the Gold Loan, content: You must meet the age and occupation criteria and the quality or purity of the gold you intend to pledge to the bank or the financial institution to meet the eligibility requirements. Bank of Baroda provides gold loans who are Indian citizens at a concessional interest rate. For more details, visit Bank of Baroda. You can fill up an online form (digital gold loan) or request a callback at tel at : 1800 5700 / Give a missed call to -8467001144

title: How to Calculate Gold Loan, content: The process of calculating the amount of gold loan is hassle-free and straightforward. All you need to ensure is that you have sufficient gold jewellery or other assets in gold, like coins, etc., to be pledged to secure the gold loan. You also need to know the weight of the gold, the purity calculated in the form of karats, the tenure of the loan etc.

title: What is the Maximum Age to Apply for a Gold Loan?, content: The maximum age to apply for a gold loan is 70 years. This maximum age limit may vary from institution to institution.

title: Key Takeaways : gold loan, content: Gold is a high-value, accessible asset to pledge and borrow gold loans against. Gold loans give us high loan-to-value payments. They also offer flexible repayment options; the gold can be reused for repeated pledging and used to obtain financial liquidity with minimum documentation when in financial distress. You must also remember that if you default on the gold loan payments, you risk losing your gold jewellery as it may be auctioned to enable the bank or financial institution to recover its loan

capital.

title: Repayment of Gold Loan: Everything You Need to Know, content: Gold loans have always been one of the popular ways to borrow funds due to ease in the process, less documentation, rapid availability of funding, and a variety of repayment options. Between personal loan and gold loan, a personal loan takes days or even weeks to avail, whereas a gold loan can be approved within hours as borrowers keep a sufficient quantity of gold as collateral against the loan amount. Moreover, gold loans' interest rate is lower than personal loans. Owning physical gold can act as an investment or a backup during an unexpected financial crisis. Banks and financial institutions offer different gold loan repayment methods. From regular EMIs to bullet repayments, borrowers can repay gold loans as per their suitability and financial situation. Below is detailed information regarding various aspects of gold loan repayment, including process, period, and best ways to repay.

title: Documents Required for Education Loan, content: Every national and international bank offers education loan to students at low-interest rates to help them to pay for their higher education costs. It is a kind of advance financial aid given to students to study in institutes in India and abroad. Banks offer educational loans with flexible terms and conditions to qualified applicants. Furthermore, the documentation process is maintained and the submission of documents required for education loan is one of the important steps involved in availing of an education loan.

title: Importance of Internet Banking, content: e-Banking provides 24x7 access to bank accounts from anywhere."• Time saving" It eliminates the need for customers to stand in long queues. This saves time.

"• Cost effectiveness" Customers do not have to pay for stamps or other fees associated with visiting bank branches.

"• Informed decision" It lets customers compare interest rates, fees and services provided by various banks.

"• Security" It uses advanced encryption technology to protect customer information and prevent fraud. Banks invest heavily in cybersecurity measures to ensure that customers' information is safe.

"• Innovation" Banks now offer features such as digital wallets, real-time payment systems, etc.

title: Types of Internet Banking Facilities in India -, content: This type of e-banking service is the basic level of internet banking. This provides access to all the general information of the bank through a website. This includes details about the bank's products and services like accounts, deposits and loans available to different customers. It provides details about the features of the products, benefits, eligibility criteria and how to apply for them. It also has information about the bank branches and ATM locations. If there is any other information required, then you can reach the bank via email. Communicative Online Banking The next kind of e-banking is intermediary, where the information exchange between the bank and customers takes place through a virtual chatbot. Unlike the basic level, where the customer has to await a response to the email, this information exchange is instant.

Transactional Internet Banking The last category of net banking type is advanced internet banking. Customers are more accustomed to this type of e-banking. This advanced level is where a customer with a valid login and password can use internet banking for transactions. All services like fund transfers, utility bill payments, creating deposits, credit card bill payments, EMI payments, and investing in marketable securities can be done through the bank's net banking portal.

title: Wrapping Up, content: Internet Banking is when customers of a bank can get information, answers to queries and transact virtually through the bank's website. It eliminates the need to visit the bank branch and saves time for the customer.

title: How to Get a Bank Statement Online at The Bank of Baroda?, content: The arrival of internet banking has transformed the way one manages their finances. It has revolutionized the banking sector. Customers can now access their bank accounts from the comfort of their homes or offices.

title: Common Internet Banking Frauds and Prevention Tips, content: Internet banking has made financial transactions more convenient and accessible for millions of people worldwide. However, this convenience of online banking comes with the risk of Internet banking fraud.

title: What is a Debit Card?

, content: With a debit card, you can buy goods and services, you can withdraw cash from an automated teller machine, or ATM, and make cashless payments on purchases. Debit cards when used for withdrawing cash from ATMs, are subject to fees if not affiliated to the card. The difference between a debit card and a credit card is, you spend the money from your available balance unlike a credit card which works on debt. Visa, Mastercard and RuPay are the most common types of debit cards used in India. When paying from your debit card, you enter a Personal Identification Number (PIN) which is your secret code, never to be divulged to anyone, not even your bank. Your transaction is authorized once you enter the pin which is the key to permit the transaction.

title: How a Debit Card Works?

, content: The debit card is a rectangular-shaped plastic or metallic card linked to the user's bank account. These are 16-digit cards with a three or four-digit CVV code unique to the account holder. The spending capacity is directly linked to the account holder's account size, that is, the number of funds that the savings account holds. Every debit card has a date of expiry listed against the phrase 'valid thru' including the month and the year (MM/YY), displaying the validity period of the card. The bank supplies a new debit card before the card expires. Debit card eligibility criteria are linked to fresh account opening. Issued by major card payment processors like Visa, RuPay, Mastercard, etc., the debit card draws funds from the affiliated account and is limited to the cash available in the account. Account holders are informed of debit-on-card transactions through an SMS on registered mobile numbers. Debit card limit on purchase is for 24 hours. Some cards with major processor logos work on contactless technology, i.e., without entering the PIN by either tapping or holding the card over the machine, the transaction takes place.

title: Eligibility to avail of a Debit Card

, content: Debit card eligibility is linked to the savings or current account. Whenever you open an account, you are automatically eligible to a debit card. Other eligibility factors include the individual needs to be a citizen of India, should be 15 years or above, and the bank requires a valid identity and address proof approved by the government. Individuals need to fulfil the minimum balance requirement depending on the bank. Debit cards have a minimum annual maintenance charge deducted from the account depending on the bank or the variant of the bank.

title: Documents Required for a Debit Card

, content: The documents required for opening a bank account will help in procuring a debit card. No additional document is required. When opening an account, the bank requires certain documents from individuals, RBI mandates a KYC for any account holder, and banks not adhering to this guideline are penalized by the RBI. The standard list of documents required for debit card include:

Identity proof: Passport, Driving license, Voter ID card

Address proof as per the passport, driving license, or Voter's ID Card.

Pan Card

Form 16 if the PAN card is not available

Two latest passport-size photos title: What Are the Fees Associated with Debit Cards?

, content: The following factors can incur debit card fees:

If the cardholder makes an overdraft

If the cardholder uses an ATM out of the bank's network

Every card has a yearly interest of Rs 100 to Rs 500 depending on the bank's policy. Some banks issue interest-free debit cards

If the card is replaced, lost or damaged

For duplicate PIN generation

Transaction from other ATMs, exceeding free transaction

Cross-currency markup, debit card balance checks, and cash withdrawals using the debit card in foreign countries

Exclusive feature on personalized photo etc.

Purchases from debit cards title: What should I Look for in a Debit Card?

, content: In our world, if we think of something as powerful as cash, we can safely say it is a debit card. While you are cautious about spending your hard-earned money, you should know a few things about handling your debit card.

Ensure that you always keep your PIN private

When making payments, do it from secure platforms

When making payments in POS, apply the cautions suggested

Get into the habit of checking account information and balance frequently

Examine all the money that comes and leaves your account. In the case of unauthorized transactions, be prompt to inform the bank

Handle the card with care, keep the card away from sharp and magnetic objects.

Make it a habit to change the ATM PIN regularly

Dispose old debit cards properly

Register your mobile for transaction alerts title: How to Prevent Debit Card Fraud?

, content: Even if the debit card acts like cash, it is better than cash. You don't need to panic if the card is stolen or misplaced. Just inform the bank by either calling customer care or block the card from the mobile app or online portal. If you have misplaced the debit card, the bank can freeze the card on request.

Stay away from unidentified and unknown portals when making online payments unless you are sure of their authenticity

Card reading instruments that seem damaged, mismatched or ill-fitted must be avoided

Avoid accessible outdoor kiosks for withdrawing cash as these kiosks can have hidden skimmers to leak debit card credentials

While making payments through your debit card, ensure it does not leave your sight. In merchant shops and restaurants, always keep an eye on your card title: How To Use Debit Cards Wisely?

, content: Debit cards must be used according to the technology, you can swipe or insert them into a machine.

When you are using a debit card in an ATM, remember to follow the screen instructions

Select the language of preference

Select your account type

Select your required service

Enter your 4-digit PIN Number

For doing a cash withdrawal, enter the desired amount and proceed with transaction

Collect the cash and debit card from the machine after the transaction

At the PoS (Point of Sale)

The card is either inserted or swiped in the card reading machine

The POS operator will enter the transaction details

You need to enter the PIN to authenticate the transaction

Press 'Enter' and wait for the transaction to complete and the slip to be generated

Sign in and keep the copy

Never throw it without tearing it

Debit Card Online

If accessing online payment

Enter the cardholder's name

16-digit card number

Expiry date and CVV (Card Verification Value) number

The user is directed to another page, after the entered information is validated

Enter your PIN or unique password set for authenticating the payment

OTP (Time Password) on registered mobiles is generated, on a few transactions

Tokenise your card for increase safety title: How to Change ATM Pin?

, content: ATM pins can be changed from the banks' ATM or through net banking or mobile banking.

ATMs (Automated Teller Machines) deploy Value Added Service (VAS) supported by NFS (National Financial Switch) of NPCI (National Payments Corporation of India) enabling, PIN changing

Once the account holder logs into an ATM, various options that include PIN changing are displayed on the screen

Click the option of Change/Reset PIN

Enter the new PIN

An OTP confirmation will appear on the registered mobile number

If you forget the pin, inserting the card and clicking on 'Forgot PIN' will send an OTP

Use the OTP to generate a new PIN number

Once done, you will receive a message stating the success of your PIN change

PIN change through Net Banking

Ensure you have an activated net banking service

Log in to the net banking account to 'Change/Reset PIN'

You will be required to enter the existing old PIN, and then enter the new PIN to confirm

An OTP will be sent to the registered mobile number

Once done, you will receive a confirmation notifying your success

Change PIN from the Banking App

Enter the old PIN

Enter the new pin

Confirm the PIN

You will receive an OTP for authentication

A message will appear on the success of your changed PIN title: Important Debit Card Terms

, content: Debit cards come with a set of terms and conditions that must be read before usage. While most banks offer wide set of terms and conditions, here are a few that every consumer should be aware of.

A debit card can be from MasterCard/Visa/RuPay Debit Card issued by banks

The cards are directly linked to one's account.

The debit card fees are deducted from the primary account holder

The cards are subject to various rules

The PIN issued to the cardholder is strictly confidential and non-transferable

Cardholders must maintain sufficient funds while transacting through their debit cards

The debit card is valid till the last day of the expiry date and will be automatically reissued by the bank

title: Bottom Line

, content: Debit cards play a huge role in digital banking and payment is simple and straightforward through this instrument. Aiding both cash handling and cashless transactions, the debit card offers the holder flexibility and freedom to handle their fund as they like. Unburdening the physical wallets, these plastic cards usher in the smart technology in today's age. Technology is growing rapidly, and fund management and payment has acquired greater dynamics. However, amidst all these transformations, the user must keep updated and aware of the fast changes, especially in banking technology, to make secure, and full use of them.

title: Digital Saving Account Introduction

, content: With technology filling gaps in the banking sector, digital savings accounts are answers to long winding queues and endless document verifications needed for savings accounts. In the words of Brett King CEO and co-founder of Moven, 'Banking has to work when and where you need it,' and that is the exact purpose that a digital savings account serves. Liberating you from tedious procedures, digital banking, first through internet banking and now through smart mobile banking apps, has redefined banking concepts. Saving accounts can be opened instantly with all banking features embedded in an app, your account is at your command, without the requirement of a physical presence at the branch. Supported by strong government and RBI initiatives, digital-first solutions have ushered in a new digital age in banking. It is banking with added features and more customer convenience features as compared to regular savings accounts.

title: What is a digital saving account?

, content: An account that replaces the features of savings accounts with a complete range of services on a digital platform. Modern banking can be accessed from apps through paperless transactions. All you need to do is a video KYC and fill your Aadhar information to set up the best digital savings account.

title: Digital Savings Account the new wave in banking services

, content: The next-generation savings account is deliberately simplified for customer ease. Taking stock of all customer requirements single point management cuts the need to physically visit the bank, making it feasible to open a savings account online.

title: Features of Bank of Baroda's Digital Savings Account (Silver, Gold, Platinum)

, content: Bank of Baroda's digital savings B3 Accounts comes with OTT benefits maintaining personal interaction with customers through its Silver, Gold, and Platinum accounts. Offering unmatched experiences, and valuing customer preferences, customers can take advantage of shopping, dining, and entertainment option through easy payment from 'Bob World Benefits', a virtual instant debit card online. The card is enabled with an auto-enrolled programme earning customer points that not just include fresh activation and login to their bob account but UPI activation and transaction. You can transfer funds within and outside the bank, pay bills, recharge, scan and pay for flight tickets, bus, hotels, FASTag, apply for locker and generate credit reports. Each point carries 0.25p and is valid for 36-months. You can accumulate rewards points and incentives and redeem them from a range of products and e-vouchers. You can also spend on charitable causes under the reward catalogue while accomplishing milestones through financial and non-financial transactions. B3 Digital-only Savings Account lets you receive coins through Bob World that can be used for an OTT subscription. With B3 Gold and B3 Platinum Account, you can avail these attractive digital banking advantages.

title: Additional advantages of Bank of Baroda's digital savings account , content: Bank of Baroda's digital savings account along with all its varied digital products makes the banking experience smooth and time worthy. The products embrace the latest technologies supporting wearable contactless payment solutions with automated recurring transactions through e-Mandate, File Tokenisation, Biometric phone banking, Doorstep Banking (DSB), secured merchant payment solutions, ATM kiosks offering round-the-clock banking and most importantly, secured banking platform.

Bank of Baroda's digital savings account requires a minimum balance of Rs. 2,000 in Semi-urban or Rural branches and Rs. 5,000 in Urban branches.

Both Recurring and Fixed Deposits can be opened by transferring funds from the savings account.

Refer to the BOB World Mobile Banking App for all digital savings account transactions. Check account statements, and transfer funds along with all other banking need through this advanced smartphone technology.

title: Bottom Line

, content: The digital savings account has outweighed regular savings accounts for their convenience. Bank of Baroda offers the best digital savings account with attractive savings interest rate.

title: What is a Fintech Loan and How Does it Work?

, content: Fintechs are playing a pivotal role in revolutionizing credit ecosystem by creating alternative lending channels that offer significant advantages to both Bank and borrowers. Fintechs creates seamless customer onboarding and credit disbursement processes with tech-enabled, mobile-friendly platforms that can replace physical interactions with remote loan applications.

BOB is pioneer in recognizing the need of collaboration with fintech companies. Our partnerships have helped new age fintech companies to calibrate their ideas/solutions. Platform approach creates synergy amongst all stakeholders and is co-created with the spirit of collaboration. Bank has integrated its systems with Fintechs using APIs to streamline business operations.

Bank has entered into partnerships with various Fintech companies operating in in the area of credit scoring model based on alternate data sources, algorithm based lending, invoice discounting/factoring, credit information aggregator, etc. These partnerships have opened windows for value additions in terms of acquisition of new to bank customers with better due diligence, better marketing opportunities and faster services delivery.

Bank has tied up with 18+ Fintech players with 100+ digital integrations, for the purpose of digital analysis of Bank statement, GST and ITR, Udyam, e-signing, EPFO, Vahan, Mobile metadata & SMS scrapping, etc.

title: What is a Conventional Loan?

, content: Conventional loans are offered to customers based on the traditional method of the lending process. Such loans can be obtained after visiting the Lender's branch and sanctioning the loan application requires human intervention. Before sanctioning a conventional loan, banks first look into the following things:

KYC verification

Credit score and credit history

Income

Monthly obligation

Legal and valuation search (if any)

Assessment of loan limit

The applicant needs to execute the loan documents by visiting the branch personally for disbursement of loan.

title: How does Fintech Lending differ from Conventional Lending?

, content: Fintech Lending indicates a shift from traditional balance sheet based underwriting mechanism leveraging a digitally verifiable cash flow-based lending criteria. Further, it involves system driven approvals as against Discretionary Lending Powers based approvals granted in traditional lending.

Fintech Lending leverages digitally verifiable cash flow oriented and non-traditional data sources for credit profiling of a potential borrower and reduces reliance on obtaining and analyzing traditional data sources such as audited/unaudited financial statements and full-fledged estimated/projected financial statements and derived financial ratios. Fintech lending also makes use of alternate data sources like utility bills payment history, EPFO, Vahan registration, Udyam Registration, etc.

title: Bank of Baroda Fintech Loans -Benefits

, content: Consumers puts a high value on time, personalized experiences, easier processes, and multiple engagement channels for choosing their Lender. Banks must respond with easier do-it-yourself application process, faster credit decisions, predictive lending, and innovative borrowing options. It is in these areas that Bank of Baroda is heavily investing in and bringing innovation to drive the next generation of fintech lending.

The customers benefit

Ease of application and enhanced experience

Faster & cheaper credit

Easy access to lending products

Realtime decisioning and customer gratification

Branch-less banking leading to credit from anywhere, anytime

The Bank benefits

Improved customer reach - Omni-channel readiness

Behavior driven UI/UX interfaces

Faster loan approval and eligibility

Paperless processing through automated rule engines and digital workflows

Great blend between usage of alternate data and minimum customer information

Lower cost of service

title: How does Fintech Lending Work?

, content: In-order to keep up with the ever-changing customer needs, Bank have automated and digitized the journeys, have modernized the existing applications, and streamlined the current initiatives to proactively respond to customer's needs.

The bank is empowering the borrower to complete the end-to-end loan process for their loan requirements from lead to disbursement in a few clicks with minimal, mandatory documentation. The platform enables the customers to get loan sanction and disbursement through a contactless and paperless process from their convenience, eliminating the need to physically visit the bank branch.

Bank has developed credit models based on turnover, cash flow, digital data points and alternate data as compared to the earlier practice of balance sheet based lending. The Bank has developed tailored lending products, processes to differentiated customer base (viz. existing to Bank customers, New to Bank Customers and New to Credit, etc.) and segment specific risk scorecards that enables fintech lending.

Fintech Lending Products has been designed with key principles as under:

STP First & Digital First Processes

Mobile First Operating Model

Data Triangulation through Digitally Verified data sources

Pre-population of requisite applicant details

Digital Product Prioritization basis business potential

Digital Catalysts for enabling digital and handling digital drop-offs including

Digital Cadre of DLCs, contact center & branches

title: Conclusion : lending, content: The lending ecosystem has been experiencing a shift in India, with the advent of the new age lenders focusing on an end-to-end digital model with a streamlined digital lending process has strengthened the shift of adopting a digital first approach to lending.

title: What is a Home Loan Balance Transfer & How does it work?

, content: Having a home of your own is a huge life milestone and achievement for most people. Since purchasing a home is an expensive affair that requires financial planning, you can rely on financial aid in the form of home loans. However, often when you opt for a home loan offered by a bank or financial institution, you might find yourself unhappy with the terms attached. Rather than stick it out with terms that are not favourable to your situation, you can later choose to opt for a home loan balance transfer. Let's look at the benefits of home loan balance transfer and show you how the process works.

title: What is home loan balance transfer?

, content: As mentioned above, you can opt for a home loan balance transfer when the terms offered by your existing home loan are not suitable for you. Basically, you start by looking at other lenders providing home loans and peruse the terms offered. If you find a home loan offer that is more appropriate for your financial situation than your current loan, you can get your existing loan transferred to the chosen new lender. This entire process of switching lenders and home loans for better terms is called a home loan balance transfer. Nowadays, almost all lenders offer this facility, so you don't need to worry about whether it will be available when you want to make the switch.

title: When should you opt for a housing loan balance transfer?

, content: While the primary reason for which you might opt for a home loan balance transfer is for better terms, specifically interest rate, timing such a move is equally important. The following situations perfectly exhibit an ideal time to opt for this type of a transfer:

- When you have a considerable tenure left on your home loan

Opting for a balance transfer during the earlier stages of your home loan is more profitable. If you are nearing the end of your home loan tenure, going for a balance transfer might see you incur additional expenses during the transfer. The savings you would make from the transfer might not be enough to justify these expenses.

- When you have substantial unpaid loan amount

If you have a substantial portion of the borrowed amount unpaid, and lowered interest rates would be of immense help, then it would be wise for you to opt for a balance transfer. However, if you have to pay only 5%-10% of the loan amount, then going for a balance transfer would not make much of a difference and be an unnecessary hassle due to the extra paperwork and processes involved.

- If you can note a remarkable reduction in cost

While opting for a balance transfer, most borrowers only consider the home loan balance transfer interest rates. However, it is important that you take the overall cost of opting for a balance transfer into account, as well. For instance, remember that you would need to pay fees for processing this transfer. Take a look at the benefits offered in return, and only if they outweigh the costs should you go ahead with a balance transfer.

title: What are the costs of a home loan balance transfer?

, content: Now that you know that undertaking a cost-benefit analysis is the right way to decide if a home loan balance transfer is the correct move for you, it is crucial to understand the costs involved. One type of cost you might have to bear is extended from the lender who has provided your existing home loan. This is a prepayment penalty that gets charged if you are closing the loan before its original tenure. The other kind of cost that you might have to pay is levied by the new lender in the form of the processing fee charged. Make sure to check both of these expenses before signing up for a balance transfer. Apart from monetary expenses, you also have to consider other intangible costs. For instance, the amount of time, energy, and effort you expend in gathering the documents and conducting the balance transfer process. Plus, don't forget the effort involved in finding the best home loan balance transfer offers.

title: What are the benefits of opting for a home loan balance transfer?

, content: Many borrowers opt for home loan balance transfers. This is because there are many advantages associated with this facility. Let's take a look at some of the benefits of home loan balance transfer.

- Lower interest rates

Generally, one only opts for a balance transfer if another lender is offering a lower interest rate when compared to the existing lender. With low interest rates, you have to pay reduced EMIs, and the total cost of the loan also decreases considerably. As we know, houses cost several lakhs – if not crores – of rupees. So, even a slight decrease in the interest rate can see you save a substantial amount of money.

- Better tenure

A couple of years down the line, you may want to revise your home loan tenure as your financial obligations increase or evolve. A balance transfer gives you room to revise your existing tenure. Now, you are no longer bound to make those heavy payments as you can opt to increase the tenure for financial comfort.

- Top up facilities

You may find yourself in need of additional funds for home renovation or repairs. You can avail of a top up loan during a balance transfer so that you can get the funding you need to make changes to your living space.

Finally, doing a balance transfer can also help you transfer your existing home loan to a new lender who, perhaps, can offer you better customer service and other banking benefits as a customer.

title: How to balance transfer home loan?

, content: Now that we have understood what a home loan balance transfer is, let's discuss how the process is done. To that effect, here is how to balance transfer home loan.

Step 1: Speak to your current lender

Before you apply for a home loan balance transfer with a new lender, you need to speak with your current lender to let them know of your plans of transferring the loan. This is because your existing lender will need to discuss prepayment penalties and loan closing formalities. They may also try to retain you as a customer.

Step 2: Find a new lender

Even if your existing lender is trying to retain you, it helps to know what home loan balance transfer offers are available in the market. Make a list of the best home loan balance transfer options and narrow down the list based on the best interest rates, features and benefits, and customer reviews.

Step 3: Application and documentation

Once you have selected a new lender, ask them for a list of the documents they would need. Most lenders will need you to submit your current home loan statement, among other documents. Fill up the application form and submit all the paperwork as required.

Step 4: Wait for sanction

Your new lender will review all the documents and sanction the loan if everything is in order. Remember to ask your lender for the time they take to review your application and disburse funds. Procedures may vary slightly from one bank or financial institution to the other.

title: What is The Processing Fee for Home Loan?, content: Banks and lending institutions levy a onetime charge on the different types of Home Loan products. This charge, known as the Home Loan processing fee. It is generally not deductible from the loan amount, and the borrower pays it separately. This is a fee to cover the loan processing cost incurred by the lender or the bank. Some banks may waive such processing charges for a Home Loan as part of special offers.

title: Bank of Baroda Home Loan Processing Fee, content: Document Verification/ vetting charges

Pre sanction Inspection (Contact Point Verification CPV) charges

Onetime post inspection charges

Advocate charges for a legal opinion

Valuer charges for valuation

Bureau report charges

CERSAI charges

ITR Verification charges

title: Charges other than Home Loan Processing Fees, content: Banks also levy other charges like Home Loan prepayment or loan conversion charges. However, in case of a Bank of Baroda Home Loan, there are no charges applicable if the borrower chooses to prepay the loan amount before the tenure is over.

title: Impact of Home Loan Interest Rates, content: There is no correlation between the processing fee and the interest rate. However, your loan amount does factor in calculating the processing fee. A Baroda Home Loan is charged at the prevailing floating rate which is linked to external benchmark of REPO (RBI) or MCLR. The interest rate is linked to the Baroda Repo Linked Lending Rate (BRLLR) and is reset annually based on your bureau score (cibil).

title: Why Should You opt for Bank of Baroda for Home Loans

, content: With a Bank of Baroda Home Loan, you can enjoy a free credit card and concession of 0.25% for car loans . You can also opt for a group credit life insurance cover when you apply. This cover protects the family against the borrower's death, and the family is not required to repay the Home Loan to the extent of the claim amount. You can pay the premium for the cover along with the EMIs.

title: What is Home Loan Top-Up?

, content: Buying a home of one's own continues to be one of the biggest aspirations. However, with skyrocketing prices of real estate, property purchase remains out of the reach of many individuals. For this very reason, homebuyers are now increasingly opting for Home Loans to fund their dream house purchase. Banks and several lenders these days offer housing finance at competitive rates of interest, subject to several terms and conditions.

Add to that a top-up on your existing Home Loan product. Many banks, like Bank of Baroda, have Top-Up Loan in their range of loan products. As the name suggests, existing Home Loan customers who may need extra funds can opt for a top-up on their running Home Loans. Their eligibility for the same is ascertained by the lender based on your relationship with the bank, their repayment history and credit score, among other things. The money from such a loan can be used for various purposes, be it for a wedding, fund your child's education, or renovate/repair your home.

title: Top up Loan at Bank of Baroda

, content: At Bank of Baroda, if you switch your existing Home Loan from another bank via a balance transfer, you can get a Home Loan Top-Up. The minimum is Rs. 1 lakh and a maximum of Rs 2 crore. A processing charge of 0.25% of the loan amount is applicable on a Home Loan Top-Up from Bank of Baroda (minimum Rs 5,000 upfront and maximum Rs 12,500 plus GST).

Are you wondering why you should you take a top-up loan? We try answering that question here. Keep reading to find out more.

title: Home Loan Top up Eligibility Criteria

, content: An existing Bank of Baroda Home Loan customer (including NRIs, PIOs, staff and ex-staff members), who may have availed of a Home Loan under public scheme or staff housing loans, is eligible for a Top-Up Loan on a Home Loan. The applicant must be at least 21 years of age (and a co-applicant should be at least 18 years old, wherever applicable). For a resident Indian applicant, the borrower's age plus the Top-Up Loan tenure should not exceed 70 years, as per laid down norms mentioned under the Bank of Baroda Home Loan Product (the same should not exceed 65 years for in case of NRIs, PIOs or OCIs).

New customers who opt for a Balance Transfer Loan (called a Home Loan Takeover scheme at Bank of Baroda) are also eligible for a Top-Up Home Loan.

title: Benefits of Top-up Home Loan

, content: • Minimal documentation, swifter loan approval and disbursal
If you're an existing Home Loan customer, getting a Top-Up on your Home Loan is easier. There is minimal documentation involved since the lender already has most of the required paperwork with you. Plus, knowing your repayment history and credit score patterns make it more convenient for the banks to go through your Top-Up Home Loan application. This makes a speedy and hassle-free loan disbursal possible. Approach your branch for a quick top up loan.

- Attractive interest rates

If you opt for a Top-Up Home Loan, you can get funds at lower interest rates than those available in case of any other personal loan option.

- Available for longer tenures

Depending on the period left in your existing Home Loan, you can opt for a Top-Up Loan for a relatively long tenure compared to other loan options.

- Can put funds to use for a wide range of purposes

You can use the funds from a Top-Up Loan in any manner you deem fit. The money can be used to finance another home purchase, renovation, and extension of an existing house, and even fund medical emergencies, a wedding, or your children's education. No restrictions are placed on how you wish to utilise this option unless you plan to use for speculation or illegal use.

- Lower processing fee as compared to personal loans

The processing fee levied by banks in case of Top-Up Home Loans is generally lower than that applicable in case of personal loans .

title: Conclusion : home loan, content: While one can argue the pros and cons of a Top-Up Home Loan, it does serve as a good source of emergency funds. Moreover, the fact that you can avail of the option on your existing Home Loan makes the process less cumbersome. So, if you're moving into that new house right away and need some more funds to settle into your place, this may be an option you'd want to look at.

title: What is a term deposit account?, content: A term deposit account, also known as a fixed deposit account, is a type of fixed-term investment avenue. You can use this account to deposit money into a financial institution like a bank and earn interest on your deposits. Such an investment typically comes with a fixed maturity date which ranges from one week to several years, and the interest rate you earn depends on your chosen investment term or tenure. Based on the type of term deposit you invest in; you may choose to receive the interest payment periodically or at the end of the investment term.

title: How term deposits work, content: Unlike a savings account, you cannot access funds in your term deposit account as and when you please. Instead, you must be willing to lock away your funds for the term and can withdraw them only when the deposit matures. That said, you may prematurely withdraw your term deposit, but the bank may levy a premature withdrawal penalty, which could be a specific percentage of the sums deposited.

title: Term deposit – The crucial facts you need to know, content: Term deposits have always remained a popular investment avenue for investors due to their various attributes. If you choose to invest in a term deposit, here are some facts you should be aware of to prepare yourself for the investment.

title: Term deposit account features & benefits, content: Having explained term deposit meaning and facts, let us now analyse unique features and benefits of term deposit.

title: Types of term deposits, content: Besides knowing what are term deposits and their salient features, you should be aware of the various types of deposits. They include the following: • Cumulative deposits "A cumulative deposit is a type of term deposit that is ideal for investors who wish to achieve the goal of corpus creation. If you opt for the cumulative deposit option, the bank repays your principal amount and the accumulated interest as a lump sum when your term deposit matures. Also, cumulative deposits lead to higher interest and return rates since the returns accrued are reinvested."

• Non-cumulative deposits "Investors who wish to generate extra income over their existing income sources can opt for the non-cumulative term deposit that pays interest periodically. If you select this option, the bank deposits the interest income into your account on a monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis, depending on your chosen payment tenure."

• Tax-saver term deposits "Tax-saver term deposits are ideal for investors who wish to make the most of tax deduction benefits offered under Section 80C of the Income Tax Act of India, 1961. Under this facility, you can avail of tax deductions of up to INR 150,000 on your term deposit accounts. Note that your tax-saver term deposits come with a fixed lock-in period of 5 years, and you get tax exemptions on interest income up to INR 40,000 per annum."

The Baroda Tax Savings Term Deposit Account "Banks provide a facility that enables their account holders to set an upper limit on their savings bank accounts. If you deposit more funds than the upper limit you've set, the bank automatically converts the extra funds into a term deposit and provides interest on it. This is known as a sweep-in facility term deposit. If your savings account faces any deficit, you can withdraw funds from the term deposit. In such a case, you would only lose interest on the funds you sweep in."

• Senior Citizens Term Deposit If you are above the age of 60 years, you can opt for the senior citizen term deposit. This facility allows you to earn a slightly higher interest rate (usually 0.50% more) than that offered to other term deposit account holders.

• Recurring Deposits "A recurring deposit is also a type of term deposit under which you must deposit a fixed sum in a recurring account at fixed intervals. Like with most other term deposit accounts, you can choose your preferred investment duration, with one year being the minimum term for such deposits. The bank pays you interest when your deposit matures."

title: Bank of Baroda term deposits, content: Bank of Baroda offers an extensive range of term deposit accounts to its wide customer base. As a Bank of Baroda customer, you can opt for short and long term deposits, lasting up to a year and over ten years, respectively. Here is a look at three of the most popular Bank of Baroda term deposit accounts.

title: The Baroda SUVIDHA Flexible Fixed Deposit Scheme, content: Now you can open Bank of Baroda term deposit accounts from the comfort of your home. Simply sign up for our net banking services or download the Bank of Baroda mobile app to get started. Get competitive Bank of Baroda term deposit rates and reach out to our representatives for assistance on the best type of term deposit suited to your needs. You may also contact us on our toll-free number 1800 5700 or walk into your nearest Bank of Baroda branch for more details.

title: Popular Articles, content: The contents of this article/infographic/picture/video are meant solely for information purposes and do not necessarily reflect the views of Bank of Baroda. The contents are generic in nature and for informational purposes only. It is not a substitute for specific advice in your own circumstances. Bank of Baroda and/ or its Affiliates and its subsidiaries make no representation as to the accuracy; completeness or reliability of any information contained herein or otherwise provided and hereby disclaim any liability with regard to the same. The information is subject to updation, completion, revision, verification and amendment and the same may change materially. The information is not intended for distribution or use by any person in any jurisdiction where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject Bank of Baroda or its affiliates to any licensing or registration requirements. Bank of Baroda shall not be responsible for any direct/indirect loss or liability incurred by the reader for taking any financial decisions based on the contents and information mentioned. Please consult your financial advisor before making any financial decision.

title: 6 Best Ways To Earn Returns Through Your Savings Account, content: The very first bank account opened by most people is a Savings Account. Now, do you know that your savings account can help you earn interest on the money that you deposit in it? The rate of interest that you earn on your savings differs from one bank to the other. There are also several other ways to earn savings account returns. However, not many people are able to utilize the maximum potential of a savings account as they do not possess the right information. To help you make the most out of your savings account, here are 6 Savings Account tips:

title: What are the Features & Benefits of the Baroda Advantage Current Account?, content: Are you looking for a way to manage your daily high-value business transactions? Do you want access to extra cash to fund unforeseen financial crises? If yes, then you can opt for a Current Account. Unlike a Savings Account, these accounts come with high-value, unlimited transactions, and you can access them as often as you like, to manage your business needs. Plus, you can enjoy the overdraft facility that lets you borrow higher amounts than your balance. One of the best current accounts you can open in India is the Bank of Baroda Advantage Current Account. In this article, we assess the Bank of Baroda current account benefits and features.

title: EMI - Definition, Understanding & Why EMI is Important?

, content: A loan is always taken for a specific purpose, be it a housing loan, an automobile loan, an education loan or a personal loan. Whenever a loan is taken it has to be returned to the lender. These repayments are done in a specific format where the amount is deducted from the borrower's account on a particular day of every month. The amount so deducted is also pre-decided and depends on various factors. This standardised deduction in financial terms is called as Equated Monthly Instalment or EMI.

The value of the EMI depends on four main factors. These are the amount borrowed, the rate of interest to be charged on the amount borrowed and tenure for which the loan is borrowed and the type of loan fixed or floating. If the loan is a floating one then there is one more component that affects the EMI which is called 'Rest'.

All other parameters being equal higher the principal amount borrowed higher will be the EMI. Similarly, a higher interest rate would mean higher EMI, all other things being constant. If the amount borrowed and the interest rate is constant then a higher tenure would mean lower EMI and a lower tenure would mean higher EMI.

In the case of both the fixed and floating interest rate loan, in the first EMI outgo, the interest rate component is the highest and the principal is the smallest. By the time the borrower reaches the last EMI, the interest component is the smallest and the principal is the maximum.

In case of a fixed interest loan, the EMI remains the same throughout the period of the loan. While in the case of a floating interest rate loan, the borrower has the option of reducing the EMI amount periodically as per change in the interest rate or allowing the EMI to be constant and the period to reduce.

The borrower has the option of part prepaying his loan. Whenever this happens the option available to him is to either ask the lender to reduce his EMI amount from the date of repayment or to let the EMI amount remain the same but reduce the period of the loan.

In the case of a housing loan, the interest and principal that is being paid through EMI, is summed up at the end of the financial year to calculate its impact on tax benefits that the borrower can avail of.

In case a borrower defaults on any EMI the lender will impose a penalty on the non-payment or late payment that was missed/delayed..

In the case of regular - non-payment of EMIs, lenders will be taking more severe action to recover their money and the CIBIL score of the borrower is adversely effected, resulting in adverse effect on credibility of borrower for future loans.

The good part about EMI is that the borrower knows exactly the amount that will be going out from his bank account and on which date it will be deducted. The lender also benefits knowing the cash flow that will be coming into his account every month.

title: Definition of ATM

, content: ATM stands for an "Automated Teller Machine". An ATM is a computerized device that enables individuals to conduct various banking transactions without the need for a human teller. It provides a convenient way to access and manage our bank accounts, even outside the banking hours.

title: Full Form of ATM

, content: As mentioned earlier, ATM stands for "Automated Teller Machine". The term "automated" refers to the machine's ability to perform tasks automatically, without human intervention. "Teller" refers to a bank employee who typically handles cash transactions. By combining these two concepts, the term ATM aptly describes a machine that carries out the tasks traditionally performed by a human teller.

title: History of ATMs

, content: 1. The Birth of ATMs

The concept of ATMs can be traced back to the 1960s. The first ATM was introduced in 1967 by Barclays Bank in London, England. It was a simple machine that allowed customers to withdraw a fixed amount of cash using a specially designed paper voucher and a personal identification number (PIN). This breakthrough innovation aimed to provide customers with greater convenience and reduce the need for human tellers.

2. The Magnetic Stripe Revolution

In the early 1970s, the advent of magnetic stripe technology revolutionized ATMs. With the introduction of magnetic stripe cards, customers could now insert their cards into the machine and access their bank accounts. This innovation eliminated the need for paper vouchers and significantly improved the user experience. The magnetic stripe technology also paved the way for more advanced features in the future.

3. Networked ATMs and Shared Banking

During the late 1970s and early 1980s, the concept of networked ATMs emerged. This meant that ATMs from different banks could be connected to a central network, enabling customers to access their accounts at any participating bank's ATM. This development opened up a world of convenience, as customers were no longer limited to their own bank's branches for cash withdrawals. This marked a significant milestone in the evolution of ATMs.

4. Enhanced Functionality and User Interface

As the 1990s rolled in, ATMs underwent major transformations. Banks began introducing ATMs with enhanced functionality, such as the ability to deposit cash and checks, transfer funds between accounts, and even pay bills. These additional features expanded the range of services customers could access at the ATM, making them even more indispensable in everyday life. User interfaces also underwent significant improvements. Earlier ATMs had monochromatic screens and a limited number of buttons. However, the advancement in technology led to the introduction of full-color screens, touchscreens, and intuitive graphical user interfaces (GUIs). These enhancements made using ATMs more intuitive and user-friendly.

title: How Does an ATM Work?

, content: Now that we know what an ATM is, let's delve into how it actually works. At its core, an ATM is a combination of hardware and software components. When you approach an ATM, you insert your plastic card, usually a debit card or credit card, into the card slot. The card contains a magnetic stripe or a chip that stores your account information. Once the card is inserted, you are prompted to enter a Personal Identification Number (PIN) to authenticate yourself as the account holder. Upon successful authentication, the ATM establishes a connection with your bank's network to retrieve your account details. This allows you to perform various transactions such as cash withdrawals, balance inquiries, fund transfers, and even bill payments.

title: Advantages and Disadvantages of ATMs

, content: ATMs offer several advantages that make our lives easier. Firstly, they provide convenient 24/7 access to our bank accounts, allowing us to withdraw cash or perform transactions at any time. This eliminates the need to visit a physical bank branch during its working hours. Additionally, ATMs are often located in various locations, making them easy to access in emergencies or when we are traveling. Furthermore, ATMs have simplified banking procedures, reducing the dependence on human tellers. They allow us to perform routine transactions quickly and efficiently, saving us time and effort. Moreover, ATMs have contributed to the growth of online banking, enabling us to check our account balances and make transfers without visiting a bank's website www.bankofbaroda.in. Despite their advantages, ATMs also have a few downsides. One of the main concerns is the risk of theft or fraud. Criminals may use various techniques to steal card information or observe PINs, which can lead to unauthorized access to accounts. It is crucial to be vigilant and follow recommended security practices while using ATMs.

title: Conclusion

, content: In conclusion, ATMs, or Automated Teller Machines, have revolutionized the way we interact with our banks. They provide a convenient and accessible means to manage our bank accounts, offering services such as cash withdrawals, balance inquiries, and fund transfers. With their round-the-clock availability and user-friendly interfaces, ATMs have become an indispensable part of our modern banking experience. So the next time you walk up to an ATM, remember its full form, Automated Teller Machine, and appreciate the technology that allows you to handle your banking needs with just a few simple steps. Just be cautious and aware of potential security risks while enjoying the convenience that ATMs bring to our lives.

title: What is Cheque?

, content: A widely used mode of cashless payment is the cheque. Even in the age of digital banking, it continues to be significant in the banking industry. It is used in both small and large transactions. It can be used in various transaction types, from paying an employee to clearing utility bills. This mode of payment is preferred by many as it involves the convenient and secure transfer of funds. One can read further to know more about cheques, starting from a cheque definition to the different types of cheques.

title: Meaning of Cheque

, content: A written instruction to a bank or financial institution to pay a given amount from the cheque holder's account to the bearer is known as a cheque. The individual who instructs their bank to transfer funds and writes the cheque is referred to as the drawer. The recipient of the amount is called the payee. The drawer's bank will pay/transfer the specified amount of the cheque when it is cashed or deposited by the payee.

It is the IFSC (Indian Financial System Code) code, MICR (Magnetic Ink Character Recognition), and the cheque number that makes each cheque unique. The 9 digits MICR number on the cheque's bottom facilitates the cheque clearance process. The 11 alpha-numeric IFSC code identifies the bank branch registered under the RBI (Reserve Bank of India) and is involved in transferring the funds.

title: How Does One Fill a Cheque?

, content: A cheque is an order that instructs a bank to pay/transfer a given sum of money to the beneficiary/bearer. The cheque meaning holds only when it is dated, signed, and filled with proper details. Hence, it contains:

Writing of the Cheque - This includes filling up the amount, the cheque issuing the individual's signature and the payee's name.

A cheque can be bounced or rejected if the details mentioned are incorrect. To know how to fill cheque, follow the below-mentioned steps:

One must fill in the date in the 'DD/MM/YYYY' format.

Fill in the payee's name correctly without leaving any space in the column or making mistakes.

In the space provided beside "Rupees", fill the amount in words. Include "ONLY /-" at the end of the amount to prevent tampering.

On the right side, mention the same amount in numerical within the box. Start writing just after Rupee symbol and leave no space for any alteration.

Use the similar signature used in other formalities of the bank to avoid any invalidation or cancellation of the cheque.

title: Number of Parties Involved with a Cheque

, content: The different parties to cheque are as follows:

Drawer - The individual signing and ordering the bank to transfer funds.

Payee - The beneficiary to whom the cheque is addressed and the amount mentioned needs to be paid.

Drawee - The bank or financial institution against which the cheque is drawn.

Endorser - When the original payee transfers their right to payment to another individual, the original payee is called the endorser.

Endorsee - The individual to whom the right has been transferred is then referred to as the endorsee.

title: Features of Cheque

, content: The following are the key features of a cheque:

A cheque is not a request sent to the bank but an unconditional order. This means the bill's face value must be fulfilled without any condition. Any oral order for the promise of fund payment is not the same as cheque recognition.

Any account holder holding a Savings/Current/Cash Credit/Overdraft account can issue a cheque.

A cheque can't be changed once the payee's name is written.

A cheque can't be changed once the amount has been written.

The payable amount mentioned in the cheque must be within the sum of money in the drawer's account.

The transaction is either an account transfer or in cash.

The amount mentioned in a cheque is payable to the payee, the bearer, or the order.

A cheque is receivable on demand.

Any unsigned cheque will be considered invalid.

A cheque needs to be signed and dated to hold its validity.

title: Types of Cheques

, content: Order Cheques

Only the payee mentioned can deposit or cash the cheque in order cheques.

Unlike other cheques with a "bearer" penned on them that allow anyone to cash/deposit the cheque, order cheques do not have it.

Identity proof is required for the payee to encash the cheque so that the financial institution can authenticate that they are the cheque's original bearer.

This not only acts as an extra layer of security that prevents fraud.

Bearer Cheques

The cheques that can be deposited or cashed by anyone presenting them to the bank are known as bearer cheques.

In this type of cheque, the person encashing the cheque need not undergo identity verification.

They are negotiable and can be transferred by sending them by mail or handing them over to another person.

Since they are negotiable, bearer cheques are considered to be insecure and a relatively risky payment form.

Owing to this, they are not common and have been replaced largely with other modes of payment like personal cheques or electronic transfers.

Blank Cheques

If a cheque has been signed with no written amount or payee's name, it is called a blank cheque.

The payee can fill in their name and payable amount in the blank space.

A blank cheque is used only when the drawer trusts the payee to fill it out appropriately.

Blank cheques can be risky as they can be easily manipulated or misused by others.

As a result, they are not accepted by all financial institutions or banks.

Open Cheques

The cheques that can be cashed/deposited at any bank and are payable to the cheque bearer are known as open cheques. They are also referred to as uncrossed cheques.

This cheque can be transferred to a different payee by the original payee.

The term "Open" on the cheque must not be crossed off to be considered as an open cheque.

The drawer must sign the back and the front of the cheque.

Upon receiving the amount, the payee needs to sign the cheque back as receipt proof.

Crossed Cheques

Crossed cheques must have parallel lines drawn across the top left corner of the cheque with "account payee" inscribed between the lines. Although crossing a cheque is not mandatory, it is for the payee's protection.

The parallel lines ensure that the deposit is made only to the payee mentioned in the cheque.

Hence, crossed cheques are the safest form of payment.

To deposit this type of cheque, the payee must directly deposit it into their bank account by visiting their bank. Only a few banks allow a crossed cheque deposit via mobile banking applications or an ATM. They are also called payee cheques.

Stale Cheques

The cheque's validity starts from the day it has been dated. The validity period varies according to different jurisdictions.

Generally, after three months, a cheque that has been dated is referred to as a stale cheque.

Once the validity period is crossed and becomes a stale cheque, it can no longer be encashed.

In certain cases, the drawer can update the date of the stale cheque to renew it for payment.

However, it is not always applicable, and the payee might need to write a new cheque.

Post-dated Cheques

Cheques bearing a future date are known as post-dated cheques.

Until the specified date has been reached, the payee will not be able to transfer the cheque amount. If the payee tries encashing the cheque before the mentioned date, it might be declined by the bank and considered a stale cheque. The cheque is valid only for three months starting from the date mentioned by the drawer.

These types of cheques are used by the drawer so that they can minimize the cheque bouncing risk because of insufficient funds.

However, the drawer must first confirm with their bank whether funds can be encashed on the chosen date before mentioning it in the cheque.

Banker's Cheques

When a bank issues a cheque on its customer's behalf, they are called a banker's cheque.

The bank can be instructed to pay a given sum to a payee inside the city. The bank may incur certain charges for issuing it.

To acquire a banker's cheque, the customer needs to pay the required funds upfront and have an account with the bank.

These cheques are pre-printed and non-negotiable. Hence, it can't be passed on to another payee.

Although valid for three months since the mentioned date, a banker's cheque can be validated again only under specific legal conditions.

Self Cheques

When a cheque is not issued by an organisation or business but by an individual, it is referred to as self cheque.

Typically, they are issued by individuals who want to withdraw funds from their accounts. They must be handled with care so they are not stolen or lost.

If they are misplaced, anyone else can attempt unsanctioned fund withdrawals mentioned in the cheque.

Hence, self-cheques need close monitoring to prevent any fraudulent activity.

Traveller's Cheques

The bank issues these types of cheques. They can be used while travelling to withdraw funds or make purchases.

They come with pre-printed amounts that can be used to buy services and goods around the globe.

They are secure funds to carry around, especially while travelling. This is because they can be replaced if stolen or lost.

The purchaser must sign the traveller's cheque when issued and used for payment. However, they are not accepted at all places and may incur minor fees.

title: How to Cancel a Cheque?

, content: One can strike two parallel lines across a cheque and write the term "CANCELLED" to know how to cancel a cheque. There is no need to sign a cancelled cheque. Since all your primary bank account details are present in a cheque (such as MICR code, branch address and name, name of the account holder, and account number), it aids the auditor to verify these details. To know what is cancelled cheque is, all one needs to do is verify whether the cheque has "CANCELLED" written across it along with two parallel lines.

title: What is a Cheque Leaf?

, content: A cheque leaf is an instrument utilized to transfer funds from one account to another. It is also known as a cheque. When a bank issues a chequebook, one receives it with a wad of cheque leaves.

One can conduct secure and safe financial transactions using a cheque as a payment mode. A cheque eliminates the risk of a physical transfer by enabling one to send a large sum of funds from one bank account to another. One must use either blue or black ink to enforce a cancelled cheque leaf.

title: How to Apply for a New Cheque Book?

, content: To request a new chequebook, one can use one of the few ways mentioned below:

Mobile Application - One can request a new chequebook by logging in to the bank's mobile application.

Branch Visit - One can visit their nearest bank branch and request a new chequebook.

Internet Banking - By logging in to the online banking account of the bank, one can request a new chequebook. This would require mentioning information like mailing address and account number. Then, the new chequebook will be sent to the residential address linked with the bank account.

Through Contact Centre- One can request cheque book using Bank's Contact Centre services at number 1800 5700.

Cheque Book Request Letter - One can also write a chequebook request letter to their bank using the following format:

Address of the individual requesting the new chequebook

Date

Address of the bank

Salutation

Subject

Body

Signature

ATM - Finally, one can request a new chequebook via an ATM using the following steps:

First, they would need to visit the bank's ATM.

Insert their debit card.

Enter their PIN and select the option 'Issue New Chequebook'.

Press 'Submit'.

Once the request has been successfully submitted, a new chequebook will be sent to their residential address.

title: Things to Keep in Mind While Writing a Bank Cheque

, content: Since every bank has different guidelines for filling a cheque, one must follow up. Before writing a bank cheque, these are some of the basic aspects that one must keep in their mind:

One mustn't overwrite the cheque leaves.

Unnecessary spaces between words and numbers must be avoided while filling the cheque leaf.

None of the columns must be left blank.

One must ensure that a cheque is not stapled or folded.

There must be consistency and clarity in the drawer's signature.

To avoid tampering, one must write "ONLY /-" beside the payable amount.

If the cheque is being used to pay any utility bill, one must mention their details (such as connection number, mobile number, credit card number, etc.) on the back of the cheque.

title: What is the Difference between Depositing and Cashing a Cheque?

, content: Cash Cheque Depositing Cheque

One will be given the amount mentioned in cash by encashing the cheque. The full amount can be encashed and spent as one likes it with zero restrictions. A cheque deposit adds the mentioned amount to their credit union or bank account.

In this process, one needs to wait at least two days before the complete amount is ready for withdrawal/spending.

title: What is a cheque number?, content: The unique 6-digit number printed on every cheque leaf is known as the cheque number.

title: Is it possible to use a cancelled cheque several times?

, content: Yes, it is possible to use a cancelled cheque several times.

title: When will banks refuse to make the cheque payment?

, content: Under the below-given circumstances, a bank can deny cheque payments:

A cheque without a date mentioned.

If more than three months have passed since the cheque has been dated.

When a post-dated cheque is submitted before the mentioned date.

When the account of the drawer is closed.

Drawer's insanity or death.

When there is suspicion of fraudulent activity.

Reaching the overdraft limit.

The drawer has insufficient funds in their account.

title: How long does it take for a cheque to clear?

, content: Local Cheques:

All CTS compliant cheques and other Negotiable Instruments payable under the grid system would be presented through the clearing system prevailing at the centre.

Non-CTS Cheques will be presented in the clearing house at the prescribed intervals which is presently once a week on each Monday or as decided by RBI from time to time.

Outstation cheques:

Cheques payable at CTS Centre: Maximum period of 7 days,

Non CTS Centres: Maximum period of 10 days.

title: How long are cheques valid for?

, content: Generally, a cheque's validity is up to three months starting from the date mentioned. After that, the cheque can neither be deposited nor cashed.

title: What is a positive pay system?

, content: The positive payment system was launched to minimize tampering fraud and improve customer safety while making payments via cheques. In this process, any cheque exceeding Rs. 50,000 involves reconfirming the details. Only if there is consistency in the details the cheque is honoured. If not, the difference in a mismatch is immediately flagged.

title: How to fill cheque deposit slip?, content: To know how to deposit cheque in bank, one would need to fill up a cheque deposit slip. Follow the below-mentioned steps to know how to fill cheque deposit slip:

Visit the concerned bank's branch

Collect the Pay in Slip

Fill it up with the right information, such as the account number and drawer's name.

Attach the Pay in Slip with the cheque without deforming or stapling the cheque leaf.

Ensure all the details mentioned in the cheque are in proper order
One will find a Drop Box attached either on the walls/stands where they can deposit the filled Pay in Slip and cheque leaf title: What is Current Account?

, content: So what is current account? Current account is for those who have a very high volume of transactions – whether debit or credit. Hence it is meant for conducting a business, and generally opened for businessmen, traders and service providers. Sometimes current accounts are also called demand deposit accounts. No interest is paid on these accounts, sometimes even a fee is charged for banking services.

title: Features of Current Account

, content: High liquidity

Current accounts are meant to ensure a high level of liquidity. Money flows constantly in and out of an account. Customers use it not as an investment, but as a tool to facilitate daily business transactions. They issue cheques to those with whom they have business dealing, and, in turn, receive cheques from them.

Interest rates

One feature of a current account is that deposits made in it does not earn interest. This is because, as we have pointed out earlier, the current account definition is that it's a tool for conducting business, not an investment avenue. On the other hand, a savings account earns some interest for customers – albeit small. However, there are some banks that offer a sweep-in facility. That is, if the balance reaches a certain level, it is automatically transferred to a savings account or a fixed deposit, where it can earn some interest.

Overdraft

When you are finding out what is current account in bank, you need to understand the concept of an overdraft. Business transactions are quite fluid and rapid, and sometimes there could be a gap in the inflows and outflows. Banks in that case provide an overdraft facility so that any cheques issued are not dishonoured.

title: Advantages of Current Account

, content: Enables businesspersons to keep the flow of money smooth and get and make payments on time.

Overdraft facilities are available to tide over any temporary cash flow issues. Internet and mobile banking enable smooth and error-free transactions. Very handy for large volume of transactions.

All Indian banks offer current account facilities. You can open one in any bank by completing formalities like submitting PAN card, Certificate of Incorporation, address proof of the company, ID and address proof of partners and directors etc.

title: Difference Between Savings Account and Current Account, content: Now that we explained what is meant by current account, let's compare it with a savings account. How different are the two accounts?

Interest rates: Savings banks offer interest to encourage customers to save. Current account is focused on money flows, so no interest is offered. In fact, charges may be levied.

Target customers: The target customers of a current account are businessmen, traders and service providers. Savings accounts are meant for individuals, especially for salaried persons with a monthly income.

Minimum balance: Both savings accounts and current accounts require a minimum balance to be maintained. However, this is higher in the case of current accounts.

Overdraft: While a current account offers overdraft facility, no such facility is available in a savings account.

Number of transactions: The number of transactions allowed in a current account is quite large. It's much smaller in the case of .

title: CVV Full Form

, content: CVV Card Verification Value is a 3-digit code printed on the back of the credit or debit cards provided by the companies that make the bank cards. This is also the card security code or the card verification code. A protective and security layer that guards online data when the card is swiped at the POS machine or during online transactions, CVV details cannot be stored by vendors.

title: What is CVV Number: CVV Meaning & Definition

, content: When completing an online transaction, you must have noticed that after the card number is filled, there is a field that asks for the CVV. What is CVV? Card Verification Value, CVV is a 3-digit code printed on the back of the credit card or debit card. The CVV is an additional security layer of protection for online transactions and when the card is swiped in POS machines. The CVV verifies that the card is physically available when the individual is using it online. The CVV code must be protected and should not be shared with anyone. Merchandise portals are not allowed to save the CVV number as it is against Per Payment Card Industry Data Security Standards (PCIDSS). Though merchants may have card details, they do not have the CVV information making the misuse of the card impossible. If the CVV is copied by anyone who has the other card details, then the card can be misused.

CVV is an external verification feature that assures banks that the rightful cardholder in possession of the card is using it. The CVV debit card codes are generated by issuers, the bank from where you are receiving your credit or debit card.

title: What does the CVV code reveal?

, content: The bank numbers

Service code

Expiration date

Unique code. This code is known only to the bank that issues the card. The conversion to a decimal code of three-four digits verifies and authenticates the card.

Amongst the many layers of authentication that banks use, CVV is one such that acts as a protection from hackers who may have procured the card number, but without CVV, the transaction is not authenticated thus protecting the card owner's interest.

title: How to Find CVV in Debit Card & Credit Card

, content: As discussed, the card verification value refers to the three-digit code at the back of the card or the magnetic strip. This is found both in credit and debit cards. The decimal representation code is assigned uniquely to the individual to whom the card is issued. The credit card CVV number is called Card Security Code (CSC) or the Card Verification Code (CVC). It is a three-digit number offered by VISA, MasterCard, RuPay and Discover. American Express cards have four-digit numbers.

If you want to know how to find the CVV number on the credit/debit card, it's easy. Finding the CVV on the credit or debit card depends on the card you own. Those owning Visa, Mastercard, RuPay and Discover cards will find the three-digit code on the back either inside or just near the signature strip. American Express card users will find the four-digit CVV on the front, above the Amex logo.

title: Different Components in a CVV

, content: The Card Verification Value (CVV), Card Security Code (CSC), Card Identification Number (CIN), or CVV2 are different names meaning the CVV. This number is crucial for completing online transactions and must not be shared with anyone. This number is issued by the bank or a financial institute that delivers the card.

The two types of CVVs that the customer must know

CVV1: The magnetic strip on the card has an encrypted code that is not visible and is automatically read by the POS (Point of Sale) terminal when you swipe the card to make payment. You must have noticed how some merchants do not ask for your PIN and receive payment.

CVV2: This is a three-digit code printed behind the card and required, when you make an online purchase. The payment gateway can store all your other card details but not the CVV number. Each time you purchase, this number needs to be filled in no matter how frequently you use the service of the same merchant.

The card is based on the following components

The credit/ debit card number

Service code

Card expiry Date

Issuer's unique code

It is easy to locate the CVV number while making an online transaction as it is a three-digit code mostly located at the back, just below the magnetic bar. It can either be within the signature area of the card or outside in another smaller box.

title: How Does CVV Number Work & Its Purpose?

, content: When moving into the payment gateway of an online merchant site, after filling in the card detail and the card expiry date, the CVV is an important field that needs to be filled, without which a payment is not processed. By doing so, the user shows that the card is in his/her possession. This is a simple layer of security that banks maintain to reduce fraud. A person may acquire your card details, as hackers can find details of cards that may be recorded by merchants during an online transaction. However, CVV numbers are prohibited from storage by Industry Data Security Standards. Therefore, this number is difficult to guess unless one has access to the card. The number cannot be copied when the card is swiped or during offline payment. If the data in the magnetic chip has changed, the card will be declined by the POS machines. The multiple ways of guarding the CVV are protection provided by banks against fraudulent activities in the bank account.

Though CVV in cards provides excellent security, credit cards are not immune to phishing and other forms of cybercrime as many merchants do not ask for CVV codes to complete transactions. The vulnerability of credit cards increases as hackers can carry out unauthorized transactions with just the card details.

While using credit cards, do not move ahead with transactions that do not have multiple verification layers safeguarding the owner's interest. Also, when applying for credit cards, choose reliable lenders over popular ones.

CVV is generated by banks based on the following information:

Primary account number

Four-digit expiration date

Pair of DES (Data Encryption Standard) keys and a three-digit service code

The proper algorithms are not disclosed by banks for obvious reasons.

title: How Does CVV Protect You from Frauds?

, content: Both debit and credit cards are used for online transactions for payment on online virtual gateways. If you are a regular customer of a particular merchant, you enjoy the personalization that the merchant offers whenever you are taken to the payment gateway. Your card number is stored, and all that is required is to fill out the CVV. You may have wondered why the merchant site forgot to store the CVV. The CVV is the protection code that saves your account from hackers. Portals from where you transact are prohibited from saving the CVV number of cardholders as part of Per Payment Card Industry Data Security Standards. This security standard is a layer of protection that guards the account holder against misuse of the card information. Hackers may duplicate the credit card with the magnetic strip and can access the CVV debit card code for misusing the card.

However, chip-enabled card technology has effectively stopped physical card fraud. Cards are provided with two protective layers of CVV, the encoded magnetic strip for in-person transactions. This is a non-visible CVV encrypted by magnetic decimal codes. The other is the visible code on the card. This is a CVV that needs to be given when making online transactions. While online hackers can get hold of credit card numbers and expiration dates, it is impossible to track CVVs. So, each time you are paying for an online transaction that requires you to fill your CVV, remember you are adding a layer of security to your transaction with this facility.

CVVs are static digits that do not change. When the card is not present with the hacker, the CVV is a useful filter. However, if you lose the card in public and do not realize it, someone with nefarious intentions can start misusing your card before you block it. With the new technology of dynamic CVV, temporary numbers will expire as they are sent to the cardholder via text messages or email. Without verification, even if the card is stolen, the person cannot go ahead with transactions. These are all risk-reducing practices to safeguard the interest of the cardholder. In the end, every individual should be aware and keep their security active. Being watchful and vigilant will protect the cardholder from falling into the hands of fraudsters.

title: How Can You Protect Your CVV?

, content: If you are transacting from your computer, ensure to have an antivirus installed

Ensure that you do banking or payment transactions from a protected Wi-Fi network

Use trusted websites for entering credit card information

When you are browsing away from home using a VPN

Do not share photos of your credit card on social media or with friends

If you receive unsolicited requests, asking for personal information, ignore them

Keep a vigilant eye on account activities title: Dos & Don'ts while using CVV Number

, content: Sign in the backside of the card, on receipt from the bank Do not share your Credit / Debit Card numbers, or CVV number with anyone, not even with the bank officials

Erase and memorize the 3-digit CVV number on the backside of the card Do not share your OTP (One Time Password) with anyone over the phone or by mail

Memorize the card PIN and do not write it down anywhere. Do not carry out financial transactions while using public networks, i.e., Internet café, free Wi-Fi, etc.,

When swiping cards Ensure that merchants swipe your card Point of Sale (POS) terminals, insist it is done in your presence. Shield the POS PIN pad while entering your PIN. Avoid ATMs located in isolated or dimly lit places without security.

Do change your PINs as often as convenient. Do not crumple and throw away the ATM transaction slips. The information printed on the slip can be misused.

Ensure you destroy the transaction slips into small pieces and dispose of them.

Register for SMS and Email alerts, whenever your account is accessed or debited.

Do not use ATMs that look tampered with, i.e., broken, scratched, damaged, sticky with glue, has extra wiring or loose parts around the slot, difficulty in inserting the card, etc., Look for any camera/blinking light in the close vicinity.

Verify the transactions in your bank statement regularly to identify suspicious transactions. Do not delay reporting a lost Debit / Credit Card to avoid the worst consequences.

Beware of unsolicited calls, texts, or emails asking for sensitive financial information like Debit card/Credit card/ ATM pin/CVV/Expiry date or Password.

title: Why do online stores ask for your CVV instead of your PIN when checking out?

, content: PINs are different from CVVs. PINs are user-created four or more numbers used for personal identification. In credit cards, PINs are used for cash advances, withdrawing cash, or initiating a POS purchase. CVV is generated by the card issuer and is printed on the card. Banks also provide PINs for credit and debit cards, which are temporary and encourage individuals to change them as soon as possible. A CVV has nothing to do with the card expiry date. CVV is a security code that adds extra protection when you are purchasing items from the internet. When the CVV is entered into the payment gateway, the bank authenticates the payment, as each debit card and the credit card have a unique code peculiar to the card. A PIN is just a password to help the card owner complete their transaction.

title: Bottom Line

, content: A reliable bank provides debit cards and credit cards when you have an account with them. Ensure that you maintain all the cautions suggested for protecting your CVV debit card code. Apply for credit cards from banks you can trust and those that are augmented with a variety of options and features. Bank of Baroda credit and debit cards are an asset for any customer. With a Bank of Baroda Debit card, you can explore dining, entertainment shopping, and travel benefits. Debit cards can be chosen from a variety of offerings depending on the spending pattern and repayment capacity of the individual. Customers can choose from eight different debit card types from BoB, Baroda BPCL Debit Card, MasterCard Platinum DI Debit Card, RuPay Classic Debit Card, RuPay Platinum DI Debit Card, RuPay Select DI Debit Card, Visa Classic DI Debit Card, Visa Platinum DI Debit Card.

BoB credit cards offer a variety of options that can be used anywhere in the world and is compatible to more than a million ATMs around the world. The list includes, BOB Prime Credit Card, BOB ICAI Exclusive Credit Card, BOB ICSI Diamond Credit Card, BOB CMA One Credit Card, BOB Assure Credit Card, BOB Titanium Master Credit Card, BOBCARD Easy Credit Card, Co-Branded Card (BOBCARD Bombay Bullion), BOB Elite Platinum Visa Credit Card, BOB Signature Visa Credit Card, BOB SELECT Credit Card, BOB Premier Credit Card, BOB Paytm Credit Card, and BOB ETERNA Credit Card. A 24/7 customer service supports the cardholders. Cardholders can win loyalty points; cards are facilitated with free add-ons and a lot more perks. Most distinguishingly, BoB provides the most secure banking services and customers can enjoy safe and fearless transactions with Bank of Baroda credit and debit cards.

title: What is full form of CVV?

, content: The CVV full form is Card Verification Value.

title: Can I share my CVV number?

, content: Never, only in verified merchant gateways while initiating payment.

title: Is CVV 3 or 4 digits?

, content: Most CVVs have 3-digits.

VISA, RuPay and Mastercard credit cards and debit cards have 3-digit security codes

American Express, issues 4-digit CVV credit cards title: How to find the CVV number on a debit card?

, content: CVV codes in debit cards are typically printed on the back of the card to the right of the white signature strip.

title: Can someone use my credit card without CVV?

, content: Some merchants allow the use of credit cards without asking for the CVV code. This is highly risky. Ensure using sites that work with CVV codes.

This layer of risk management is only for maintaining secure transactions and benefits customers. Banks try to protect customers from fraudulent activities. While banks take full measures, it is also the responsibility of the customer to protect their interest.

title: How can I find my CVV number online?

, content: CVV numbers are not available online. They are found only on the backside of the customer's credit/debit card. No online gateway has permission to store an individual's CVV.

title: Can I pay online without CVV?

, content: No financial transaction online is permitted without CVV. Those performing transactions without CVV are unsecured and unauthorized transactions that must be avoided. Always transact from reliable merchant sites that ask for CVVs.

title: What is Demat Account?

, content: Demat accounts help investors hold shares and securities in an electronic format.

In 1996, the National Securities Depository Limited (NSDL) introduced Demat accounts, ushering in a new era of electronic storage for shares and securities.

Besides ensuring secure storage of shares, Demat accounts enable easy access to holdings, thus facilitating smooth transactions. Understanding what a Demat account is will help individuals optimize investments and manage assets in the electronic realm. For stocks and other securities owned in electronic form, a Demat account can serve as a type of virtual bank account. A Demat account eliminates the need for investors to physically handle and store physical shares and accompanying paperwork for investments such as stocks, bonds, government securities, mutual funds, insurance, and Exchange-Traded Funds (ETFs).

Consider the following illustration of a Demat account. Suppose Mr X has decided to invest in Company Y and wants to buy some of its shares. It will be necessary for Mr X to have the shares transferred to his name once they have been purchased.

Shares used to be issued in the form of tangible certificates bearing the owner's name and address until recently. This process required a mountain of documentation. Moreover, it was necessary to generate a new certificate whenever shares were purchased or sold. The Demat account system, implemented in India for National Stock Exchange transactions since 1996, was designed to eliminate the need for such documentation.

Those who wish to trade or invest in securities on a stock market or other markets in a day can do so using their Demat account. For trades and transactions to be settled electronically, a Demat account number is typically required.

title: How Does a Demat Account Work?

, content: In most aspects, trading using a Demat account is identical to trading in person. To begin trading, one must first place an order in their trading account. Therefore, it is necessary to link trading and Demat accounts. When a trader submits an order, the market executes the trade.

Demat account details, current share prices, and stock availability are all verified before an order is fully processed. Once the operation is complete, the stock will be shown in the trader's account balances.

A shareholder must provide a delivery instruction letter specifying the shares they wish to sell before they may do so. The cost of the shares is deducted from the trading account and the cash value is credited.

Here's a quick walkthrough of how a demat account works:

When one intends to buy or sell a specific share, they must log in to their Demat and Trading account, which is interconnected with their bank account. Once a 'buy' or 'sell' request is placed in the trading account, the Depository Participant promptly forwards it to the stock exchange.

If the order is a 'buy', the stock exchange searches for a seller willing to sell shares at a matching price. Once a match is found, the clearance houses debit the corresponding shares from the seller's Demat Account and credit them to the buyer's Demat Account.

title: Importance of Demat Account

, content: Now that one has a fair idea of what is a demat account, it's time to look at some key points highlighting the importance of Demat accounts:

Quick Access: A Demat account provides convenient access to all the investments and statements through net banking, ensuring easy tracking and management.

Hassle-free Dematerialization: With the assistance of a depository participant (DP), physical share certificates can be converted into electronic form and vice versa, making the process of dematerialization seamless.

Effortless Share Transfers: Transfer of shares has become significantly easier and time-saving with the utilization of Demat accounts, eliminating the need for physical paperwork and delays.

Enhanced Liquidity: Demat accounts have simplified the process of selling shares, making it faster and more convenient to convert shares into cash, thereby improving liquidity.

title: What is Dematerialisation?, content: Now, let's dive deep into the question of what is dematerialisation and understand its significance in the financial world.

Dematerialisation is the process of converting physical share certificates and debentures into an electronic format. Through Dematerialisation, shares undergo direct conversion into a digital format, securely stored within Demat accounts. The primary objective of Dematerialisation is to eliminate the need for physical share certificates.

To initiate the Dematerialisation of securities, individuals are required to approach a Depository Participant (DP) to open a Demat account. DPs utilise the services of two major depositories. These include the National Securities Depository Limited (NSDL) and Central Depository Services Limited (CDSL).

What is DP ID?

Let's delve into the meaning of what is a DP ID and understand its functionality.

DP ID, short for Depository Participant ID, consists of the first eight digits and is assigned by the chosen broking firm or financial institution. The DP ID is used by depositories and participants during the conversion of physical shares to Demat, transferring shares between Demat accounts, or transferring funds from the Demat account to a bank account.

title: What is the Use of a Demat Account?

, content: For those still wondering, what is the use of a Demat account, here are some quick answers:

Demat accounts are run completely online. Hence, one can access them from any corner of the world.

Demat accounts allow investors to hold various investments like bonds, equity shares or exchange-traded funds under one account.

Demat accounts can be monitored easily from the comfort of one's home.

Unlike physical trading, there are no additional costs like stamp duty, handling charges etc. involved.

Benefits of Demat Account

No paper certificates

Demat Accounts eliminate the need for physical share certificates, reducing the risk of loss or damage.

Easy storage

With a Demat Account, one can store and trade shares in any quantity, simplifying record-keeping.

Convenient access

One can manage investments anytime, anywhere through a smartphone or laptop, making investing more accessible.

Nomination facility

Demat Accounts offer a nomination feature, ensuring a smooth transfer of holdings and avoiding legal disputes in case of one's demise.

title: Types of Demat Account

, content: Now that the blog has explored how Demat Account works, let's look at the types of Demat Accounts:

Regular Demat Account - Designed for resident Indians.

Repatriable Demat Account - Intended for non-resident Indians (NRIs) and allows the transfer of funds abroad. However, it must be linked to a Non-Residential External (NRE) bank account.

Non-Repatriable Demat Account - While also meant for NRIs, in this case, funds cannot be transferred abroad. It must be linked to a Non-resident Ordinary (NRO) bank account.

title: What Is BSDA Account?

, content: A Basic Service Demat Account (BSDA) is specifically designed for small investors who may not engage in regular or extensive trading of stocks, bonds, ETFs, mutual funds, and other securities.

The following conditions automatically qualify a Demat account as a Basic Service Demat Account (BSDA):

Only one demat account is registered under a particular PAN across various brokers.

The total value of holdings in the demat account is below ₹2,00,000/-.

title: How to Open a Demat Account?

, content: Curious about how to open a demat account ? Let's explore the step-by-step process of opening one.

Access the account opening form.

Provide personal details, including name, email address, phone number, residential address, and PAN number.

Add bank account details.

Upload the necessary KYC documents for identity and address verification. One can also conduct an in-person verification by recording a brief video clip of themselves.

Electronically sign the form using their Aadhar-linked mobile number.

After the application is submitted, individuals will receive confirmation of the account opening, including login credentials.

title: Demat Account Opening Charges

, content: While there is no Demat account opening charges, the following charges are levied once an account is opened and starts getting operated:
Annual Maintenance Charges: Most firms require an annual maintenance charge for Demat accounts.

Demat and Remat Charges: These charges are a percentage of the total value of shares bought or sold, covering digitisation or physical printing costs of securities.

Custodian Fees: Depository partners impose custodian fees, either on a one-time or annual basis.

title: Difference Between Demat and Trading Account
, content: Objective

A Demat account is used to hold shares in electronic format, providing a secure storage method for converted physical shares. On the other hand, a trading account is specifically used for buying and selling shares in stock markets. It acts as a link between the bank account and the Demat account, facilitating trading activities.

Use

A Demat account primarily focuses on the storage and safekeeping of shares, and a trading account allows one to actively participate in stock market transactions.

How to Transfer Shares From One Demat Account to Another
CDSL offers Electronic Access to Securities Information and Execution of Secured Transaction (EASIEST), an online transfer method for shares between Demat Accounts.

Log in to the CDSL website.
Choose 'Register Online' and select EASIEST.
Fill in the required details.
Send a copy to your Depository Participant.
The Central Depository will verify the information.
Within 1-2 days, you'll receive login credentials.
Log in, access the broker list, and transfer shares.

title: Why Choose Bank of Baroda Demat Account?

, content: Bank of Baroda is an ideal choice for a Demat account due to its affordability with Zero opening charges, online trading convenience, and enhanced security. By eliminating physical document handling, the risk of loss or falsification is eradicated. Stock trading becomes safer and easier, with faster transaction processing. This efficient service ensures swift and immediate stock trading without waiting in queues. Choose Bank of Baroda for a cost-effective, secure, and hassle-free Demat account experience.

title: Conclusion : demat account, content: In conclusion, understanding what is a demat account and how a Demat account works and its significance in the world of investments is crucial for navigating the modern financial landscape. It provides a secure and convenient platform for holding shares and securities electronically. Additionally, understanding what is DP ID essential for seamless transactions and account management. Open a Demat account with the Bank of Baroda today for a trusted and reliable banking experience.

title: Who is eligible to open a demat account?, content: Regardless of age, individuals can open a stock account by submitting their PAN card, ID and address proofs, and completing a KYC form.

title: Is a Demat account safe?, content: Demat accounts prioritise security. Each demat account is overseen by either the National Securities Depository Limited (NSDL) or the Central Depository Services Limited (CDSL). These depositories ensure the safety of one's holdings by sending alert messages, emails, and notifications for all transactions conducted.

title: Is the Demat account free?, content: BOB does not charge any fees for opening an account, but there is an annual maintenance fee one needs to pay.

title: Is it possible to open a joined demat account?

, content: Yes, a joint Demat account can be opened. However, all account holders must collectively authorise all transactions.

title: What is a demat account identification number?

, content: The Demat account number is a unique 16-digit numerical code assigned to investors upon opening their Demat account. This serves as their financial identity for trading and investment activities in the stock market.

title: What is Digital Rupee?

, content: Digital currency refers to any currency that is available in electronic form. The Digital Rupee is virtual money, serving the same purpose as physical money. It is a form of digital currency issued by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), the country's central bank. The Digital Rupee is a centralized digital currency directly regulated by the RBI, maintaining the stability and trust associated with traditional currencies.

title: Why is Digital Rupee Introduced?

, content: The Digital Rupee is introduced in India to enhance financial inclusion, providing greater access to formal financial services. It aims to promote efficiency in transactions through faster and more secure digital payment methods, align with the country's technological advancements, foster a digital-first economy, reduce dependence on physical currency, and enable better regulatory control over monetary transactions while countering potential illicit activities.

title: How Does Digital Rupee Work?

, content: Digital Rupee, also known as eRupee, is electronic money. It operates as a form of digital currency issued and controlled by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), using blockchain or distributed ledger technology for secure and transparent transactions.

title: Types of CBDCs, content: CBDCs can be broadly categorized into two main types:

Retail CBDCs: Designed for use by the general public for everyday transactions, similar to how cash is used today.

Wholesale CBDCs: Intended for use by financial institutions for interbank settlements and other wholesale transactions.

title: Issuing Digital Rupee

, content: The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) issues electronic tokens that can be exchanged on a one-to-one basis, with denominations similar to physical currency. The RBI controls the distribution of the Digital Rupee, distributing it to commercial banks or authorized financial institutions for circulation.

Transactions made with Digital Rupee are recorded and verified on a secure ledger system for transparency and security.

title: Acquiring Digital Rupee, content: Users can acquire Digital Rupee through digital wallets provided by authorized financial institutions or other approved platforms. These wallets function as secure digital storage for the currency. Digital tokens can also be withdrawn, similar to withdrawing cash, and cash can be converted to eRupee using a UPI gateway.

title: How to Load e-Rupee?

, content: Users can load the required token amount or select different denominations of Digital Rupee through their linked Banked Account (Bank of Baroda Account) or Other UPI Account. If users have chosen "Other UPI Account," a list of all UPI apps available on their phone will appear. Users can select their preferred UPI app, enter their UPI PIN, and complete the transaction. The amount is debited from the Bank Account directly, and Digital Rupee is loaded in the wallet successfully.

title: How to Redeem e-Rupee?

, content: Users can redeem/unload wallet tokens to their linked bank account. Digital Rupee Tokens will be unloaded from their wallet, and the equivalent amount will be credited to their linked bank account.

title: Using Digital Rupee

, content: Person-to-Person: Transfer money to another person's wallet with a QR code or their mobile number.

Person-to-Merchant: Scan the QR code displayed at a merchant's establishments (shops) to make a payment.

title: Features of Digital Rupee, content: The Digital Rupee is issued by the Reserve Bank of India and is legally recognized as a secure form of payment accepted by individuals, businesses, and governmental bodies.

Issuance follows the central bank's financial policies.

Holders have the freedom to convert Digital Rupee into physical cash through commercial banks.

Legal Tender: CBDCs are considered legal tender, usable for all types of transactions.

Central Bank Control: CBDCs are controlled and regulated by the central bank, ensuring stability and trustworthiness.

Programmable Money: CBDCs can have programmable features, such as smart contracts, enabling automated, self-executing financial agreements.

title: Advantages of Digital Rupee

, content: Financial Inclusion: Provides opportunities for those without access to traditional banking services, allowing participation in the formal economy.

Reduced Transaction Costs: Eliminates intermediaries, leading to lower transaction costs compared to traditional banking systems.

Efficiency and Speed: Transactions are processed faster, often within seconds, regardless of geographical locations.

Transparency and Security: Blockchain ledger ensures transaction transparency while maintaining security through cryptographic protocols.

Government Control and Regulation: Being centrally regulated, the RBI can control the supply, circulation, and monetary policies associated with Digital Rupee.

title: Challenges and Concerns of CBDC

, content: Privacy Concerns: The use of CBDCs raises questions about privacy, as transactions can be easily monitored and traced, potentially compromising individual financial privacy.

Cybersecurity Risks: CBDCs are susceptible to cyber-attacks, requiring robust security measures to protect the digital currency's integrity.

Disruption of Traditional Banking: Widespread adoption of CBDCs could disrupt traditional banking systems, potentially leading to bank runs and other systemic challenges.

International Implications: Global adoption of CBDCs may influence the international monetary system, raising concerns about the role of the U.S. dollar as the world's primary reserve currency.

title: CBDC in Bank of Baroda Milestones

, content: Bank of Baroda Launched CBDC application called "Bank of Baroda Digital Rupee" on 17th January 2023.

Bank of Baroda enabled CBDC UPI QR Interoperability functionality for pilot users on the Bank of Baroda Digital Rupee app on September 2, 2023.

title: Conclusion :digital rupee, content: The Digital Rupee holds the potential to revolutionize India's financial landscape, promoting financial inclusion, reducing transaction costs, and streamlining financial operations. As the digital currency ecosystem evolves, the Digital Rupee is positioned to play a pivotal role in shaping the future of transactions and financial services in India.

The Digital Rupee is a landmark development in India's financial history, leveraging technology to create a more inclusive and efficient financial system. As it continues to evolve, it stands to make a significant impact, not just within the country, but also potentially on a global scale, setting a precedent for other nations to explore and adopt their own digital currencies.

title: How ₹ is different from UPI or other fund transfer mode (NEFT/RTGS/IMPS)?

, content: ₹ is a form of money, a digital representation of physical currency, whereas UPI or other fund transfer modes are forms of payment. Therefore, usage of ₹ is not limited to payments. ₹ also serves the purpose of 'unit of account' and importantly, 'store of value' as it represents a claim on the Reserve Bank's balance sheet.

title: Is ₹ same as cryptocurrency such as bitcoin?

, content: No. ₹ is a digital form of currency notes unlike other cryptocurrencies such as bitcoin. ₹ has intrinsic value and is regulated by the RBI.

title: What is Forex Card?

, content: Planning to go on a trip abroad? Don't forget to carry a forex card for a hassle-free trip. So, what is forex card?

A forex card is the safest way of carrying foreign currency for paying for expenses when you are travelling abroad. It is a prepaid card which you can load with a specified amount in a foreign currency. So, when you are travelling overseas, you can swipe this forex card to pay for your expenses, instead of carrying cash around. It works as a debit card. You can also withdraw cash with your forex card from an ATM.

What is forex card and its types?

A forex card is a type of prepaid card in which you can load money in foreign currency. It is globally accepted, and you can either pay for your expenses using your forex card or withdraw cash in foreign currency at an ATM.

Forex cards are largely divided into two types - single currency cards and multicurrency cards.

Single currency forex card: A single currency forex card can be loaded with a particular foreign currency. You can use load this card with a currency when travelling to a particular country.

Multi-currency forex card: As the name suggests, you can preload this card with multiple currencies. Check with your bank about the currencies that you can load onto your multi-currency forex card.

title: What is the use of forex card?

, content: A forex card is your best friend when you are travelling in a foreign country. There are several benefits of carrying a forex card over travelling with wads of cash or looking for places to convert currencies.

With a forex card, you are likely to get a better conversion rate. Buying a forex card from a bank is a cheaper solution to currency converted.

Most banks offer a range of forex cards that can suit your needs. You need not necessarily have an existing account with the bank to be able to purchase a forex card.

You can avail of many deals, offers and discounts that most banks offer when you purchase a forex card.

A forex card is much safer than carrying cash around. It comes with the chip and pin technology, which adds another layer of safety. Further, if you lose your forex card, you can get your card hot listed immediately to avoid any misuse of the card.

If your card has a remaining balance when you are back home from travel, you can encash the amount at the existing exchange rates. To avoid maintenance charges, you can get your card blocked until your next visit overseas.

title: How forex cards work?

, content: What is forex card if not a debit/ credit card for your overseas travels. They are globally accepted and are a safer alternative to cash. But how does a forex card work?

It works exactly like a credit or debit card. You apply for a card. Once your application is approved, you receive the card with a pin. Change the pin. Use internet banking to load the card with your desired amount and currency. Now you are good to go.

When abroad, just swipe your forex card at the point of sale machine whenever you pay for something. Just like a debit/ credit card transaction, you will receive SMS and email notification of your transaction and the balance.

Gone are the days of travelling with cash in hand. The world has gone digital and it's time you did, too. With a forex card in hand, you can get the best deals. Be a global citizen and shop without any limits with a forex card. Avoid queues for exchanging your currencies. Forget about the hassles of travelling with wads of cash in your pocket. Just swipe your forex card and enjoy your trip to the fullest.

title: Health Insurance Meaning and Definition, content: Many hesitate to invest in health insurance, pushing it behind as an unnecessary expense, but in the case of a medical emergency, this preparedness can go a long way. So, what is health insurance? Health insurance is a policy assurance providing immediate financial help when confronted with a medical emergency of various natures like illness, injury, or accident.

title: Benefits of Health Insurance, content: Why does one need a healthcare plan? Let us take you through the detailed benefits of health insurance .Cost of Hospitalization Covering hospitalization in case of an emergency or normal illness, is the most pertinent benefit of health insurance. The expenses covered range from room charges, intensive care unit (ICU) charges, cost of medical investigation, surgery charges, and daycare expenses; some also cover alternative treatments. The plans cover both pre and post-hospitalization expenses like doctor's fees. Diagnostic charges are also covered. Preventive health check-ups are also planned annually, enabling better health monitoring by individuals.

Helps tackle medical inflation . Individuals purchasing medical insurance policies are more competent in managing their annual expenses. Soaring medical costs can make you lose a few thousand or even lakhs of rupees easily in case of a medical emergency. By maintaining medical insurance from the early part of one's working career, individuals can better cope with the rising cost of medical expenses.

No claim bonus Individuals who did not need to make any claim during the policy period are rewarded with an increased insured cover without additional charges. Income tax relief Health insurance premiums assure income tax rebate. Health insurance for self and family, elderly parents come at different deduction limits thereby reducing the cost of the health insurance policy from reduced annual income tax benefiting individuals by easing financial strain and saving on tax.

Health Insurance Without Age Bar The benefits of a health insurance policy are maximum if done early. Low hospitalizations cover the tax benefits for a longer duration.

Features of Health Insurance Before purchasing, what features of health insurance policy must you be aware of to make the most prudent purchase? Here are some considerations that will help you decide better.

Hospital network and Cashless settlement IRDAI has now mandated Health Insurance companies to offer Cashless Hospitalization in every hospital regardless of whether the hospital is empanelled as a network hospital. Opting for Cashless Claims is a better experience than going for Reimbursement process.

Limit of room rent . Ensure that the health insurance you purchase has no room rent limit and no room type limit. If the room rent range in your policy is up to ₹7000 but the rooms available in the hospital are over ₹10,000, the policy should be such that the bill will be settled proportionately. You should not have to pay the differential sum leaving a huge hole in your pocket. Though health insurance with no room rent and no room type limit is expensive, in the long run this is a beneficial feature of the policy.

Pre and post-hospitalization cover Your health insurance policy must cover the pre and post-hospitalization expenses. These expenses can include diagnostic tests, investigations, medications, etc. Post-hospitalization expenses are incurred when a person needs to go through follow-up treatments after hospitalization. Average policies offer 30-60 days coverage, but even if it costs more, 60-180 days is a better choice.

Lookout for sub-limits Health insurance with additional sub-limits coverage are predefined expenses. The claims are capped with fixed values for illnesses and treatments. A percentage is assigned to the sum insured. Even if it costs more, avoid sub-limited policies.

Waiting period When you are purchasing a policy, all diseases and procedures are not covered. A waiting period is assigned on illnesses you already have of mostly 2-4 years on pre-existing illnesses. Before opting for a policy, understand the waiting period and exclusion and go for a low waiting period policy. Conditions like diabetes and hypertension may be covered at higher premiums in the policy.

A policy with extensive treatments Some treatments require hospitalization for 24 hours or more while others are done in less than a day, called daycare procedures. These include cataract operations, dialysis, radiotherapy, chemotherapy, etc. Ensure that the policy covers an extensive list of treatments including hospitalization needs for less than 24 hours as well..

Co-payment This feature in health insurance means that a percentage of the total bill is paid by the individual. Reducing the upfront payment can tax the person additionally during hospitalization. Choosing a zero-copayment policy is a smarter choice.

title: Types of Health Insurance, content: Different types of health insurance meet different individual needs. They are: Individual health insurance This health insurance covers an individual taking care of the medical cost. The premium depends on a person's age and medical history.

Family floater Covering the family, the policy is like the individual insurance plan. The premium of this policy is higher and shared between family members. It is a cost-effective policy without having to manage different health insurance plans.

Insurance for senior citizens These insurance policies are specially designed for senior citizens over the age of 60. The premium for this claim is quite high as the aged are likely to fall ill often. Insurance does not insist on pre-medical screening or pre-existing diseases as health issues are likely to exist with old age.

Critical illness insurance This policy is designed to meet treatment for fatal diseases like heart attack, kidney-related ailments, paralysis, cancer, etc. A lump sum is handed upon diagnosis of the disease to the insurer without hospitalization. People with a history of illness can avail of this policy.

Personal accident insurance This health insurance enables claims after an accident. This policy covers three events namely, partial disability, total disability, or death due to an accident.

Maternity insurance Covering prenatal and postnatal expenses, delivery and ambulance costs; some also cover costs incurred after the baby is born up to a certain duration. This policy should be taken up after marriage or can be added to a basic policy.

title: Why do you need Health Insurance now?, content: Having health insurance today involves several reasons:Financial insulation: Health care costs are mounting as medical treatments are becoming more advanced and therefore expensive. Hospitals are offering more patient-friendly facilities and additional expenses are ballooning to unexpected costs. Without the protection of health insurance, medical expenses can dent your lifetime savings.

Access to Quality healthcare : When someone is ill, living in a good facility helps improve their psychological condition in turn impacting their physical state. Without insurance, these facilities can be difficult to avail owing to high expenses.

No-Cost Preventive Care : Health insurance covers vaccinations and other preventive care services at no cost which would otherwise need to be bought at a price leading to long-term health outcomes.

Emergency Situations : Health emergencies happen unexpectedly, with a health insurance sudden financial burden arising from emergency room visits, surgeries, and other urgent medical interventions can be avoided.

Management of Chronic Diseases : Those suffering from chronic diseases incur recurring financial burdens. Health insurance manages the cost of chronic disease, and, at the same time looks after their health needs.

title: How to choose a good health insurance plan?, content: When choosing a health insurance plan, the following factors should be considered:

title: Also Read: What is Travel Insurance? Exploring Coverage, Types, and Importance, content: You cannot predict illness; it can strike at any time. The cost of medical treatment is increasing by the day. A simple medical procedure can easily run into lakhs. Health insurance is your only savior in such a condition. Choose a health insurance policy that fits your budget. Having health insurance is no longer an option but a necessity.

title: What is Travel Insurance? Exploring Coverage, Types, and Importance, content: Traveling is an exhilarating experience that unveils new cultures, breathtaking landscapes, and thrilling adventures. From exploring ancient ruins and monuments to basking on pristine beaches, the excitement of travel is undeniable. However, amidst the excitement, it's crucial to prioritize responsibility and safety, and one essential aspect that is often overlooked is getting travel insurance. This blog post delves into the concept of travel insurance, highlighting its importance and demonstrating how it can transform unexpected mishaps into manageable situations.

title: What is Intraday Trading? A Beginner's Guide to Day Trading Stocks, content: The term Intraday means "within the day". As the name itself suggests, Intraday Trading refers to the purchasing and selling of stocks within the same day. Also known as day trading, intraday trading aims to capitalize on short-term price movements, leveraging market volatility to generate profits. Intraday trading revolves around the swift execution of trades with the objective of profiting from small price fluctuations. Traders participating in intraday activities typically do not hold positions overnight, minimizing exposure to overnight market risks. Instead, they rely on technical analysis, charts, and real-time market data to make informed decisions throughout the trading day. Intraday traders will look to settle all their positions when the market closes.

title: What is Intraday Trading?, content: The term Intraday means "within the day". As the name itself suggests, Intraday Trading refers to the purchasing and selling of stocks within the same day. Also known as day trading, intraday trading aims to capitalize on short-term price movements, leveraging market volatility to generate profits. Intraday trading revolves around the swift execution of trades with the objective of profiting from small price fluctuations. Traders participating in intraday activities typically do not hold positions overnight, minimizing exposure to overnight market risks. Instead, they rely on technical analysis, charts, and real-time market data to make informed decisions throughout the trading day. Intraday traders will look to settle all their positions when the market closes.

title: How is Intraday Trading different from Regular Trading?

, content: The primary difference between regular trading and intraday trading lies in the handling of stock delivery. In intraday trading, positions are squared off on the same day, while regular trading transactions take a longer duration to settle. In intraday trading, where shares are bought and sold within the same day, the crucial difference lies in the absence of a transfer of ownership of shares.

During regular or delivery trading, you can keep the stocks bought for an extended duration. The shares bought by you are credited to your Demat Account and you can sell after days, weeks, months or even years. As mentioned above, where there is a lack of ownership of shares in intraday trading, delivery trading enables you to have ownership of your shares until you sell them.

While regular/delivery trading makes for a good long-term investment option, intraday trading fetches short-term results.

title: Features of Intraday Trading, content: Ownership of Stocks :

In intraday trading, you must take position of the stock and close it within the business hours of the same day. If this does not happen, the position gets squared off at market price automatically. In this form of trading, you do not get the ownership of stocks that you buy and sell.

Same Day Trading :

The goal of intraday trading is not the ownership of stocks. It enables profits by taking advantage of the price movements during the day. In this form of trade, the transactions need to be settled on the same day within the market hours.

Leveraging :

Leveraging refers to the act of borrowing money from your broker to enhance your buying power and boost returns. However, it comes with certain terms and conditions that one must get familiar with in order to reap its benefits.

Research :

Successful participation in intraday trading demands thorough research on the stocks targeted, close scrutiny of charts using indicators, formulation of a personalized strategy, and incorporating a stop-loss to mitigate the risk of substantial losses.

title: Indicators of Intraday Trading, content: The following indicators are helpful in executing successful intraday trading transactions:

Moving Average :

This indicator connects the average closing rates over a specific period, aiding in the assessment of the underlying price movement of a stock.

Bollinger Bands :

Slightly more intricate than moving averages, Bollinger Bands exhibit three lines – the moving average, an upper limit, and a lower limit. These lines collectively provide a more comprehensive indication of a stock's underlying price dynamics compared to a simple moving average.

Momentum Oscillators :

This indicator assists in measuring how a security's price has evolved over a given period.

Relative Strength Index (RSI) :

Serving as a momentum calculator, the RSI indicates the magnitude of a recent price change for a stock.

title: Benefits of Intraday Trading, content: With intraday trading becoming highly popular among traders, let us take a look at the various benefits this form of trading has to offer:

Higher Returns :

Intraday has the potential to provide higher returns in a shorter span of time, as compared to other investment options.

Market Knowledge :

It helps increase the market knowledge of those who are new to trading and investing.

Lower Charges :

The brokerage charges for intraday trading are lower compared to delivery trading.

Avoid Overnight Impact :

The most significant advantage is that the positions are not affected by negative overnight changes in the market which impact the price of the securities.

Intraday trading requires thorough research and knowledge for success, but with the right strategies and discipline, it can be a rewarding endeavor. Traders must continuously educate themselves, stay informed about market conditions, and adapt their strategies to evolving trends. Whether you're a seasoned investor or a novice, mastering the art of intraday trading requires commitment, practice, and a willingness to learn from both successes and setbacks. As you navigate the dynamic world of intraday trading, remember that patience and resilience are key to long-term success in the fast-paced realm of day trading.

title: What is Life Insurance ?

, content: Life can be pretty uncertain. The death of a loved one is always painful, but it can have pretty serious financial consequences if it happens to be an earning member. Life insurance was devised to protect a family in the event of the death of an earning member. So let's look at what is life insurance in some detail.

Life insurance definition is that it's a contract between an individual and an insurer. The individual takes out an insurance policy and pays monthly or annual premiums. If the insured person meets with an untimely death, a lump sum is paid to his family, whether it's parents, spouse or children.

Now that we have understood life insurance meaning, let's look at the various types of products available to you.

title: Term Insurance

, content: When you are finding out what is life insurance policy, you should also understand all the different options. Among them is term insurance. This plan is for a certain fixed period of time. For instance, many people choose to have a life insurance policy till the time they are earning, so that their families do not have to suffer loss of income. The lump sum or death benefit paid will ensure that the families will be able to continue the lifestyle they are accustomed to. Some policies cover permanent disability as well. You can take out a term insurance that lasts for as long as you wish - till you are 60 years old or even a hundred! Of course, you will have to pay higher premiums if you take longer policies.

title: Whole life insurance

, content: Here's another term you need to learn while learning what is life insurance policy, and that is whole life insurance. This will provide you with lifetime coverage. Of course, you will have to pay premiums for your entire life for this kind of policy.

title: Endowment policy

, content: An endowment policy is one that combines insurance with investment. The policy is for a fixed period and the policy holder gets a certain amount at the end of it, if he or she survives that period. If the policyholder does not survive, the nominee will get the sum insured.

title: Unit Linked Insurance Plan

, content: The Unit Linked Insurance Plan or ULIP is a type of endowment policy which combines life insurance with investment. A portion of the premium goes to cover life insurance, while the remainder is invested in either equity or fixed income instruments. The policyholder has the option of selecting the mix of instruments depending on his or her risk appetite and investment goals.

title: Benefits of life insurance

, content: Now that we have seen what the meaning of life insurance is, let's look at the benefits.

Protection for family

Obviously, the biggest advantage of life insurance is that it provides financial protection for your family in the event of an untimely death. Ideally, you should take a life cover that is 10 times your annual income to protect your family's interests.

Tax benefits

There's another reason to invest in life insurance, and that is tax benefits. Premiums paid are eligible for a reduction in taxable income under Section 80C of the Income Tax Act. However, the amount is limited to 10 percent of the sum assured.

Varied choices

There are many choices available, from plain term insurance to ULIPs that combine insurance and investment.

Savings

Policies like endowment or ULIPS will help you save for long periods.

title: What Is Loan Against Securities – A Complete Guide

, content: When you need cash, especially a lump sum amount urgently, a loan is one of the best facilities at your disposal. The loan allows you to attend to your expenses, while you can return the funds borrowed from the bank in pocket-friendly instalments over a stipulated tenure. Today, you can mortgage more than your home or any property you may have to procure a loan; you can take out a loan against securities. Let us attempt to understand the meaning, features, benefits and application process for a LAS loan.

title: What is loan against security?

, content: A loan against securities is a type of loan that empowers you to avail of a loan from a bank or a non-banking financial institution by merely pledging your investment securities to the lender. It is the simple alternative that prevents you from selling your investment instruments such as shares, mutual funds, bonds, etc., in a haste, especially during an emergency when you need funds urgently. Instead, you can pledge these instruments as collateral with the lender and get the funds you need. The lender considers the total value of the securities pledged and determines the principal amount you can acquire. The principal amount loaned is typically a specific percentile of the securities pledged, applying the same rules as applicable with a loan against property. Also, the loan against securities' interest rate depends on your chosen loan repayment tenure.

title: How does a loan against securities work?

, content: Having explained what is loan against securities let us understand how it works.

Typically, the lender opens an OD account in your name and calculates the rate of interest based on the amount you withdraw from it during the period of utilisation. You do not have to pay interest on the entire amount. The lender gives you steady cash when you most require it, and you only need to pledge that particular security against which you want the loan. This way, you can continue accruing the benefits from your investment, such as the bonus shares and dividend payments, if any.

title: What securities can you pledge to acquire a LAS loan?

, content: Most lenders typically accept the following when you apply for a loan against securities.

Mutual fund units

DEMAT shares

UTI bonds

NABARD bonds

Non-convertible debentures

Most lenders accept one or more of the securities mentioned above when you apply for a LAS loan.

title: Features and benefits

, content: The following are the primary features and benefits of loan against shares and securities:

- Higher loan amounts

The minimum amount for a LAS loan is INR 100,000, whereas the maximum limit differs per individual and the securities pledged. Here's a table explaining the same:

Overdraft and interest

The loan against securities is akin to an overdraft loan, and you only have to pay interest on the funds you utilise from your current account, not the actual funds borrowed.

Doubles as a personal loan

One of the most significant attributes of the LAS loan is that you can use the loan amount to fund any personal expenses you may have. However, the interest rate on this loan is significantly lower than that applicable on a personal loan. Also, while there is no specific end-use restriction on utilising the loan amount as you deem necessary, you may not use the sums borrowed to fund any speculative activities linked to capital market investments.

Transparent transaction process

You can rest assured about the transactions associated with the loan. As mentioned earlier, the borrower provides a separate overdraft account for you to track all your transactions. Any payments you make will be reflected in the account. Lenders also mention all the charges associated with the loan, including loan against securities' interest rates, processing fees, etc., upfront.

24x7 account access

You can access your loan account at any given time, from any corner of the world. You can also reach out to your lender's customer care network if you need any assistance or information pertaining to the loan.

Basic eligibility criteria

Individuals who have a DEMAT account with any recognised depository participant can apply for a loan against shares and securities. For loan against Mutual Funds Demat account is not required, if units are in non-Demat form. The applicant can be a Resident or Non-Resident Indian and apply for the loan jointly with another applicant. They should, however, be gainfully employed and provide proof of a regular income source.

Documents required for loan against securities

The list of documents required for loan against securities is as under Identity proof documents

All applicants (individual or joint) must submit a copy of their identity proof documents. Lenders typically accept PAN, Aadhaar, driver's license, passport, voter's ID, Employer ID card, and ID cards issued by government entities as valid ID proof documents.

Address proof documents

All applicants must submit a copy of their current and permanent address proof documents. Lenders generally accept Aadhaar, driver's license, passport, voter's ID, latest utility bills (electricity/landline/gas/water), leave and license agreements, etc., as valid address proof documents.

Income proof documents

Whether you apply for the loan individually or jointly, you must provide copies of your income proof documents such as

Your salary slips for the last 3-6 months (as applicable)

Your bank statements of the previous 3-6 months (as applicable)

Your duly filed Income Tax Returns of the last 2 years

You may also provide proof of your other income sources like variable pay from employers, proof of passive income from other sources, and so on.

Security details

Applicants must provide a detailed list of the securities they wish to provide as collateral to avail the loan against shares and securities. You must name every security along with the number of units owned (as applicable) while applying for the LAS loan.

Remember to consult your lender about the interest rates and tenures associated with the loan. Loan against Securities is initially given for the period of 12 months subject to renewal.

title: Opt for a Bank of Baroda loan against securities

, content: With Bank of Baroda's loan against securities, you can rest assured that you can obtain one of the lowest interest rates and a high loan amount to finance your various needs. The interest rate is directly proportional to your CIBIL or credit scores – the higher the CIBIL score, the lower the loan against securities interest rate. You can effortlessly mortgage securities like shares, mutual funds, bonds, etc., in DEMAT form and get LAS loans. Limit of 5Cr is only for Debt Mutual Funds. Our simple application and documentation process ensures you get the required sums in your account within the shortest timeframe. We levy a nominal 0.35% loan processing fee for new accounts, whereas the maximum fee for Baroda e-trade account holders is as low as INR 1000. You can also renew and enhance your account at any time by paying a minuscule loan processing fee as an existing or new Bank of Baroda e-trade account holder. If you need any further assistance with the LAS loan application process, you can reach out to us on our toll-free numbers - 1800 5700 or visit your nearest Bank of Baroda branch.

title: What is MUDRA Loan?

, content: Micro-Units Development and Refinance Agency (MUDRA) is a scheme offered under the Pradhan Mantri MUDRA Yojana (PMMY). Launched in 2015, the scheme allows you to avail of business loans of up to INR 10,00,000 based on the different categories of MUDRA Loan schemes. All public sector banks, regional rural banks, co-operative banks, private sector banks, micro finance institutions, non-banking finance companies (NBFC), and foreign banks can lend up to INR 10 Lakhs to small borrowers for non-farming businesses.

title: Types of MUDRA Loans

, content: The government has categorised the Mudra loans into three types based on the funding needs of the micro-unit or the entrepreneur. The loans are categorised as under:

MUDRA Shishu Loan

Under the MUDRA Shishu Loan, you can avail up to INR 50,000 for non-farming ventures. Shishu Loan serves well for newer enterprises for purchasing small-scale machinery or financing other operational costs. Existing businesses, too, can avail of the loan for smaller expenses such as renovation or expansion of the establishment. Micro-industries, self-proprietors, commercial vehicle owners, fruit and vegetable vendors, etc., are eligible applicants for the MUDRA Shishu Loan. Salient features include repayment tenure of up to 7 years, no minimum loan amount, no collateral and zero processing charges.

MUDRA Kishor Loan

The loan amount offered by the MUDRA scheme under the Kishor Loan category ranges from INR 50,000 to INR 5,00,000. Businesses can take advantage of the higher loan amount to finance their daily operations, buy heavy machinery and commercial transport vehicles, etc. Personal service providers like local grocers, salons, courier agents, pharmacists, and tailoring shops, too, are eligible to apply for Kishor Loans.

MUDRA Tarun Loan

The Tarun Loan category of MUDRA Loan offers loan amounts starting from INR 5 Lakhs to INR 10 Lakhs, with a 3 to 5 year repayment period. The loan can be availed by aspiring as well as by established businesses. Newer businesses like start-ups may require a high amount of working capital. Older companies can use the loan to revamp or fund office expansion, make the necessary operational purchases, etc.

title: List of Business Activities Covered Under MUDRA Loans

, content: Transport Vehicles

You can buy vehicles for transporting goods, and passengers, purchase tractors, two-wheelers, trolleys and tillers for commercial use.

Community, Social and Personal Services

You can avail of loans for community businesses such as tailor shops, dry cleaning, cycle and motorcycle repair shops, pharmacies, photocopying facilities, gymnasiums, salons, courier services, etc.

Food Producing Sectors

Small-scale food productions such as pickle or papad making, home baking, agricultural produce preservation at the rural level, small food stalls, sweet shops, catering, canteen services, cold storage, ice producing micro-units, ice-cream making units, bakery producing units etc., are eligible for MUDRA Loans.

Textile Production

You can avail of MUDRA Loans for handloom, power loom, chikan work, khadi activity, zari and zardozi work, embroidery and handwork, computerised embroidery, dyeing and printing, clothes designing, cotton ginning, knitting, vehicle and furnishing accessories, and so on.

Traders and Shopkeepers

MUDRA Loans provide financial support with a loan size of up to INR 10 Lakhs to shop owners, traders, small enterprise owners and individuals who run non-farm income-generating businesses.

Equipment Finance Scheme for Micro Units

You can avail of MUDRA Loans of up to INR 10 Lakhs for purchasing necessary machinery for setting up micro-enterprises.

Agriculture-allied Activities

Pisciculture (fish farming), apiculture (beekeeping), poultry, livestock, dairy, etc., are activities that are allied to agriculture and are eligible for MUDRA Loans. Producing crops, irrigation, wells etc., do not qualify for such loans.

title: Benefits of MUDRA Loan

, content: Following are the benefits of MUDRA Loan:

- Accessibility:

Whether you reside in rural or urban areas, you can utilise the banking and financial services under the PMMY scheme. Individuals from the remotest areas, where basic banking facilities are unavailable, can receive financial aid.

- No lower limit on the business size:

Small and micro businesses, along with startups, can achieve financial support.

- Higher Loan Amounts:

MUDRA Loans range up to INR 10,00,000; that way, you can also avail of smaller loan amounts for smaller businesses while having the freedom to access higher loan amounts if required.

- No Collateral Needed:

Unlike private business loans, you need not pledge collateral for availing MUDRA Loans.

- Credit Guarantee:

The Government has created the 'Credit Guarantee Fund for Micro Units' or CGFMU Funds to combat the issues associated with non-collateral requirement, thus providing a sense of comfort to lending institutions.

- Initial funding to start a new business:

Individuals who wish to create a second income with low-cost businesses can benefit from the scheme. Micro-credit scheme offers credits of up to INR 1 Lakh enabling you to start a new business on the side.

- Affordable Interest Rates:

The MUDRA schemes come with affordable interest rates to enable flexible and pocket friendly repayment of loans.

- Extended Repayment Tenure:

Borrowers can repay the loan comfortably in substantially longer repayment tenures lasting up to 7 years.

- Promote local Indian businesses:

The MUDRA Loan scheme allows the 'Make In India' campaign to offer investments opportunities for upcoming start-ups, thereby boosting India's infrastructure.

- MUDRA Card:

MUDRA Loan applicants are provided with a Mudra Card – a type of debit card that applicants can utilise to fund the working capital requirements. Applicants can make online transactions as well as ATM and Point-of-Sale (PoS) transactions.

title: Eligibility Criteria & Documents Required

, content: You can apply for a MUDRA Loan if you are:

An Indian citizen

In the age group of 18 and maximum 65 years(at the time of final EMI repayment)

Planning to start a business in non-agricultural activities requiring a loan amount less than INR 10 Lakhs.

Following is the list of documents you need to present when applying for a MUDRA Loan:

Duly filled Mudra Loan application form.

Identity proof documents like Aadhaar/PAN/Driving License/Passport/Voter ID/ Government-issued photo ID of all applicants (in case of joint loans).

Residence proof documents like latest utility bill/ Aadhaar/Voter ID/Passports/bank account statement of all applicants (in case of joint loans).

Business ID and Address proof documents (Licenses/Registration Certificates/Deed Copy, etc.).

Latest photographs of the applicant/s.

Proof of minority, if any.

Proof of loan requirement, i.e., equipment quotations, vendor details, etc.

title: How to Apply for a Mudra Loan?

, content: You can apply for a Mudra Loan both online and offline at nationalised and Private sector banks. You simply need to fill a form (available on the bank's website or their nearest branch) and provide details about the applicable Mudra Loan category under which you need the loan, information about your business enterprise and the funds required under the loan. The bank verifies your loan application. Once it is verified, the bank credits the funds into your brand new Mudra Loan account, with which it also provides a Mudra Debit Card.

title: Why Opt for Mudra Loan from Bank of Baroda?

, content: Bank of Baroda is a public sector undertaking (PSU) bank serving Indians for over a century and offers loans to borrowers under the MUDRA scheme. Here is why you should opt for Mudra Loan from Bank of Baroda:

No processing charges or collateral: Bank of Baroda charges zero processing fees for the MUDRA Loan scheme. Moreover, you are not required to pledge any collateral.

No minimum loan amount: There is no lower limit on the amount you can borrow under the scheme.

Longer repayment tenure: Bank of Baroda offers repayment tenures of up to 7 years with moratorium provisions subject to eligibility. Working capital loan borrowers can avail a 1-year repayment period.

No pre-closure charges: You can repay the loan before the end of your repayment tenure without paying any pre-closure charges.

To know more about the MUDRA Loan scheme offered by Bank of Baroda get in touch with us today. You can visit the nearest Bank of Baroda branch or call us up on 1800 5700.

title: Net Banking Meaning, content: Net Banking also known as Internet Banking, is a digital method to conduct banking transactions by the means of the internet, it is a time savvy facility offered by all standard banks. Individual can conduct banking activities from home through their smartphones, tablets, laptops and desktops. Net banking is a 24*7 facility which facilitates checking account balance, making fund transfer, managing debit and credit cards, opening fixed deposit and recurring deposit account, paying bills, doing online shopping, ordering chequebooks, buying general insurance, and much more.

title: What is Net Banking?, content: Net banking, e-banking, internet banking, mean the same it is one of the modern digital banking method. It is an evolved banking facility and can be called one of the major boons of this century. The banking facility allows customers, who have an account with a bank, the ease of banking without having to visit the branch for majority of services. However, for availing of the internet banking service customers must have an e-mail account and must register to the internet banking service at the time of opening their account or have this facility incorporated into the account later. For accessing this, customers need to enter the registered UserID provided by the bank and create password online using OTP sent on registered email ID and mobile number. This digital banking method can be accessed through electronic systems such as smartphones, laptops, desktops, or tablets. The entire banking activity is performed online and is electronically exchanged without human intervention and therefore the misuse of information is completely ruled out. This facility also offers financial empowerment. Customers can explore various facilities offered by the bank and read them in detail to take advantage of the one that fits them. Net banking offers stepwise information enabling informed decision-making for investments and savings alike.

title: How to Use Net Banking?, content: With net banking, you can transfer funds between bank accounts without having to visit the bank. The transaction can be made through the NEFT, RTGS and IMPS facilities between banks. Net banking offers a 'Transfer Funds' option, while doing so you need to choose either of the three options mentioned below. "1. National Electronic Funds Transfer (NEFT)" National Electronic Funds Transfer (NEFT) is a nationwide centralised payment system owned and operated by Reserve Bank of India. Individuals, firms and corporates maintaining accounts with any member bank, participating in the NEFT system, can electronically transfer funds to any individual, firm or corporate having an account with any other bank in the country participating in the NEFT system. The NEFT system is available round the clock throughout the year on all days i.e., 24*7*365 basis. NEFT gives transfer rights to beneficiaries of other banks in India within the country. NEFT charges less for fund transfers than conventional modes like DD/MT. The NEFT facility on Internet Banking is enabled for all account holders with transaction rights. "2. Real-Time Gross Settlement (RTGS)" The acronym 'RTGS' stands for Real Time Gross Settlement, which can be explained as a transfer mode where money is transferred in real-time. RTGS is a safe and secure system for funds transfer. RTGS transactions do not have any upper amount limit/cap set by RBI. The RTGS is primarily meant for large value transaction. The minimum amount to be remitted through RTGS is Rs 2,00,000/- . The RTGS system is available 24x7x365 basis. The RTGS transaction can be performed by visiting branch or through Internet Banking. RTGS is a credit-push system i.e, transactions can be originated by the payer/remitter/ sender only to pay/ transfer/ remit funds to a beneficiary. The remitting customer needs to provide following information to perform an RTGS transaction:

"3. Immediate Mobile Payment Services (IMPS)" Immediate Mobile Payment Services is an instant transfer facility managed by National Payments Corporation of India. IMPS provides robust and real time fund transfer which offers an instant, 24x7, interbank electronic fund transfer service that could be accessed on multiple channels like Mobile, Internet, ATM, SMS.

title: IFSC code and account details:, content: The per transaction limit for IMPS is Rs. 5 Lakhs.

title: What are the Features of Net Banking?, content: Net banking offers myriad features for the benefit of customers. Whether you are accessing the banking facilities from the bank website or through the net banking app, you will be able to access many features of net banking seamlessly, some of which include:

title: Advantages of Internet Banking, content: It is hard to enumerate the benefits of internet banking as they are so many. Customers can keep tab of their spending and manage their finances much better than they did in the past.

From quick decisions on investments to curtailing spending, the customer calls the shots at each stage for greater financial freedom. Let us find out how?
Accessibility: There are multiple channels through which a user can register himself for bob World Internet title: Note:, content: Only corporate accounts with proprietorship mode of operation can be registered for bob World Internet through Tab Banking and bob World (Mobile App).

title: Internet Banking Facility of Bank of Baroda, content: Internet banking at BoB offers all banking facilities for users to be accessed from anywhere. Users can easily register to the net banking facility in a few easy steps to operate their bank account. From basic banking activities like checking balances to online fund transfers, users once logged into their accounts will be able to liquidate FDs created online along with easy bill payments. Banking activities are hassle-free.

title: retail customers, content: Transaction limit for corporate customers Rs 50000 per day maximum 2 number of transactions per day.

title: corporate customers, content: If you are looking for secure, user-friendly and highly dependable banking facilities, reach out to bob World Internet. Supporting users both online and offline, customers will be rewarded with unmatched personal and corporate banking experiences. For more information visit us online at bob World Internet Banking.

title: Popular Articles, content: The contents of this article/infographic/picture/video are meant solely for information purposes and do not necessarily reflect the views of Bank of Baroda. The contents are generic in nature and for informational purposes only. It is not a substitute for specific advice in your own circumstances. Bank of Baroda and/ or its Affiliates and its subsidiaries make no representation as to the accuracy; completeness or reliability of any information contained herein or otherwise provided and hereby disclaim any liability with regard to the same. The information is subject to updation, completion, revision, verification and amendment and the same may change materially. The information is not intended for distribution or use by any person in any jurisdiction where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject Bank of Baroda or its affiliates to any licensing or registration requirements. Bank of Baroda shall not be responsible for any direct/indirect loss or liability incurred by the reader for taking any financial decisions based on the contents and information mentioned. Please consult your financial advisor before making any financial decision.

title: Understanding Bank of Baroda's ATM Services, content: Bank of Baroda is one of the most trusted and reputed banks in India, offering a wide range of digital products to make banking easier and more accessible for its customers. Among these digital products, ATM and Kiosk services play a crucial role in providing 24/7 banking services to customers. In this blog, we will discuss Bank of Baroda's ATM services, their benefits, and tips for using them safely.

title: What is Prepaid Card: Meaning, Types & Benefits, content: In today's digital age, convenience and security are the two primary concerns for customers when it comes to making payments. With prepaid cards, you can have the best of both worlds. Prepaid cards are increasingly becoming popular, and it's essential to understand what they are, how they work, and the benefits they offer.

title: What is overdraft facility in bank?, content: Overdraft facility is a financial facility or instrument that enables you to withdraw money from your bank account (savings or current), even if you do not have any account balance.. Like any other credit facility, the bank levies an interest rate when you avail the overdraft facility. You typically have to pay a fixed interest rate to avail an overdraft limit.

title: What are the features of the overdraft facility?, content: Having explained what is overdraft limit, let's find out its features. These are as under:

title: Different types of collateral accepted by banks against overdraft loans, content: Final word: As is evident, the overdraft facility is one that can truly help you when you need money. Banks also fix decent repayment tenures, so that you can repay the overdraft loan flexibly. However, before availing this facility from your bank, you must ensure that you find out the overdraft facility advantages and disadvantages and then proceed with the limit.

title: EMI - Definition, Understanding & Why EMI is Important?, content: A loan is always taken for a specific purpose, be it a housing loan, an automobile loan, an education loan or a personal loan. Whenever a loan is taken it has to be returned to the lender. These repayments are done in a specific format where the amount is deducted from the borrower's account on a particular day of every month. The amount so deducted is also pre-decided and depends on various factors. This standardised deduction in financial terms is called as Equated Monthly Instalment or EMI. The value of the EMI depends on four main factors. These are the amount borrowed, the rate of interest to be charged on the amount borrowed and tenure for which the loan is borrowed and the type of loan fixed or floating. If the loan is a floating one then there is one more component that affects the EMI which is called 'Rest'. All other parameters being equal higher the principal amount borrowed higher will be the EMI. Similarly, a higher interest rate would mean higher EMI, all other things being constant. If the amount borrowed and the interest rate is constant then a higher tenure would mean lower EMI and a lower tenure would mean higher EMI. In the case of both the fixed and floating interest rate loan, in the first EMI outgo, the interest rate component is the highest and the principal is the smallest. By the time the borrower reaches the last EMI, the interest component is the smallest and the principal is the maximum. In case of a fixed interest loan, the EMI remains the same throughout the period of the loan. While in the case of a floating interest rate loan, the borrower has the option of reducing the EMI amount periodically as per change in the interest rate or allowing the EMI to be constant and the period to reduce. The borrower has the option of part prepaying his loan. Whenever this happens the option available to him is to either ask the lender to reduce his EMI amount from the date of repayment or to let the EMI amount remain the same but reduce the period of the loan. In the case of a housing loan, the interest and principal that is being paid through EMI, is summed up at the end of the financial year to calculate its impact on tax benefits that the borrower can avail of. In case a borrower defaults on any EMI the lender will impose a penalty on the non-payment or late payment that was missed/delayed. In the case of regular - non-payment of EMIs, lenders will be taking more severe action to recover their money and the CIBIL score of the borrower is adversely effected, resulting in adverse effect on credibility of borrower for future loans. The good part about EMI is that the borrower knows exactly the amount that will be going out from his bank account and on which date it will be deducted. The lender also benefits knowing the cash flow that will be coming into his account every month.

title: Why is a CIBIL Score Important?, content: Started in 2000, CIBIL or the Credit Bureau is an authorized credit information company that tracks debt repayment history and provides a credit score accepted by a vast network of financial institutions as a valid benchmark to examine a potential borrower's credit quality. Here's why a CIBIL score is important: Lender considers the CIBIL score before approving a loan. The information collected and maintained by the bureau is gleaned from data collected from banks and other lending institutions on a monthly basis. On the basis of this data, CIBIL issues a score. This score is shared with the lenders on request, when an applicant applies for a loan. What is an ideal credit score? The range is from 300 to 900. Any score higher than 750 is a decent credit score. If an applicant has a credit score higher than 750, he/she is likely to get the loan approved and may get an attractive rate of interest. A loan application may be rejected if the credit score comes out to be too low. How to source your CIBIL report? Apart from a CIBIL score, you can also get your CIBIL credit information report. The report details the credit quality of your auto loan, home loan, credit card, overdraft facility and personal loans. It carries your personal details, employment details and account information. The procedure to source your CIBIL report is exactly the same as getting your CIBIL Score. Components of the CIBIL report: CIBIL Score. The first part of your CIBIL report has your CIBIL score, which is a value between 300 and 900. A score closer to green that is above 750 is preferable. Personal information. Another section contains your personal information like name, date of birth, PAN number, Passport details and gender. Contact information. The contact information segment will capture all your address and contact details. Employment information. The employment section will provide details about customer's income and occupation at the time of a previous loan sanction. Account information. An important section of the report is the account information which details the material about the borrower's credit cards, loans, name of the lender, type of loan (whether secured or unsecured) and all the accounts held by the borrower. Consumer Dispute Remark The borrower can also put in their remarks about a particular loan transaction in the Consumer Dispute Remarks for evaluators to see every time the credit report is opened for assessment. The comments are presented for a year.

title: Table of Content, content: What is a Prepaid Card?

title: What is a Prepaid Card?, content: A Prepaid Card is a type of payment card that is preloaded with a certain amount of money, allowing you to make purchases, withdraw cash, and pay bills, among other things. Prepaid cards work in the same way as debit and credit cards, but instead of accessing a line of credit or linked bank account, you use the balance loaded onto the card.

title: Types of Prepaid Cards, content: There are different types of prepaid cards available in India, each serving a specific purpose. Here are some of the most popular types of prepaid cards that the Bank of Baroda offers:

title: Baroda Reloadable Card Physical Variant, content: The Baroda Reloadable Card Physical Variant is a prepaid card offered by the Bank of Baroda. It can be used for online purchases, cash withdrawals, and payments at merchants who accept RuPay. This card can be loaded with a maximum of Rs. 1 lakh and has a validity of 3 years. The card can be recharged several times, and cash withdrawals from ATMs are also permitted.

title: Baroda Reloadable Card Virtual Variant, content: Bank of Baroda also offers a virtual edition of the Baroda Reloadable Card, which is similar to the physical variant. This digital prepaid card is exclusively valid for e-commerce/online and online platforms and is suitable for individuals who like to pay using their smart devices. ATM withdrawals are not permitted as it is non-tangible.

title: Gift Card (Physical Variant), content: The Bank of Baroda Gift Card, powered by RUPAY, is a convenient and accessible way to access your funds across India. This gift card allows you to make purchases at over 2.6 million merchant outlets that accept RUPAY Cards. It is a perfect alternative to carrying cash, as it provides a secure one-time password for online transactions. While it cannot be used for ATM cash withdrawals, it provides instant activation and intimation to both the purchaser and beneficiary, making it a flexible and reliable choice for all your gifting needs.

title: Gift Card Virtual Variant, content: Similar to the physical variant, the Gift Card Virtual Variant can be used for online transactions and is an excellent option for gifting. A great alternative to cash, it can only be used on online/e-commerce platforms with a secure one-time password.

title: Travel Card- Multi Currency Forex Card, content: It is a prepaid international currency card that is intended to make your overseas travel a pleasant one. When compared to currency and traveller's cheques, the card is safer, more secure, and easier to carry. Instead of wasting time at money changers or encashing your traveller's cheque, the Baroda Travel Easy Multi Currency Forex Card guarantees that your time is best spent on your leisure or business trip.

title: Features and Benefits of Prepaid Cards, content: Prepaid cards offer a range of features and benefits, making them an attractive option for many individuals. Some of the key benefits include:

title: Convenience:, content: Prepaid cards are easy to use and can be used for everyday transactions like shopping, paying bills, and withdrawing cash.

title: Security:, content: Prepaid cards offer a high level of security as they are not linked to a bank account. In case of loss or theft, the card can be easily blocked, and the remaining balance can be transferred to a new card.

title: Flexibility:, content: Prepaid cards come in different variants and can be used for different purposes like travel, gifting, and everyday transactions.

title: No Credit Check:, content: Prepaid cards do not require a credit check, making them accessible to individuals with no or poor credit history.

title: How to Get a Prepaid Card, content: Getting a prepaid card is a straightforward process. Most banks and financial institutions offer prepaid cards, and they can be applied by visiting a branch. The application process typically involves providing some basic personal and contact information, and in some cases, submitting KYC documents.

title: Conclusion : prepaid card, content: Prepaid cards are an excellent tool for individuals who want to enjoy the convenience, flexibility, and security of a payment card without the risks associated with credit cards or debit cards . With different types of prepaid cards available, there is an option for everyone, whether it is for gifting, travel, or everyday transactions. Additionally, prepaid cards offer a range of benefits, including no credit checks, high security, and worldwide acceptance. With the right prepaid card, you can enjoy the convenience and flexibility of a payment card while keeping your finances secure.

title: All about Net Banking: Meaning, Features, Advantages & Registration, content: Net Banking also known as Internet Banking, is a digital method to conduct banking transactions by the means of the internet, it is a time savvy facility offered by all standard banks. Individual can conduct banking activities from home through their smartphones, tablets, laptops and desktops. Net banking is a 24*7 facility which facilitates checking account balance, making fund transfer, managing debit and credit cards, opening fixed deposit and recurring deposit account, paying bills, doing online shopping, ordering chequebooks, buying general insurance, and much more.

title: Bank of Baroda Debit Card Offers, content: Debit cards have become powerful banking instruments that have gone much beyond simple cash from teller counters. Amped with a plethora of services, debit cards are loaded with rewards. You should check out the wide option of debit cards offered by the Bank of Baroda. Meeting the standards of your lifestyle, and reaching out to the exact customer demands, the debit card permeates its reach to clothes, food, lifestyle, health, travel, etc. Making life easy, the Bank of Baroda debit card offers owners pride with the wide array of facilities attached to them.

title: What is Repo Rate?, content: Repo rate, also known as repurchase agreement or repurchasing option, refers to the interest rate at which commercial banks borrow money from the central bank, pledging government securities as collateral. The term "repo" is derived from "repurchase agreement," reflecting the contractual nature of the transaction. The process involves a short-term loan where the borrower (usually a commercial bank) sells securities to the lender (the central bank) with an agreement to repurchase them at a specified future date, often the next day, at a slightly higher price. In this case, "repo rate" is the interest rate at which the Reserve Bank of India loans money to the commercial banks in India.

title: How does Repo Rate work?, content: Just like you pay interest when you borrow money from a bank, banks themselves also incur interest charges when they borrow funds from the central bank, like the Reserve Bank of India (RBI). This interest rate levied by the central bank on loans to commercial banks is known as the repo rate. This helps restrict the flow of money in the market. When the market is hit with inflation, the repo rate is increased by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

title: Importance of Repo rate:, content: The repo rate is a critical tool used by central banks to manage the economy and maintain financial stability. It's the interest rate at which banks borrow funds from the central bank, acting as a benchmark for other interest rates throughout the economy. Now that we have understood the meaning of repo rate and how it works, let us take a look at its importance:Controlling Inflation : By adjusting the repo rate, central banks can influence the cost of credit and aggregate demand. Higher repo rates discourage borrowing and spending, which helps to control inflation. Conversely, lower repo rates stimulate borrowing and spending, potentially leading to higher inflation. Promoting Economic Growth : When the economy slows down, central banks can lower the repo rate to make borrowing cheaper and encourage investment and spending. This can help to stimulate economic growth. Maintaining Financial Stability : A high repo rate can discourage excessive risk-taking by banks and other financial institutions, contributing to financial stability.

title: What is the Current Repo Rate?, content: In a significant move, the Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) announced a 0.25% increase in the repo rate on February 8, 2023. This brings the new repo rate to 6.50%. This decision was made in light of the prevailing economic conditions, with a focus on managing inflation and ensuring financial stability.

title: The Effect of Repo Rate on Home Loans, content: Here's how the repo rate directly affects home loans :Interest Rate : The repo rate acts as a benchmark for lending rates across the financial system. When the repo rate rises, banks raise their interest rates, including those for home loans. This translates to higher monthly installments (EMIs) for borrowers, making home loans more expensive.

EMI Amount : As interest rates rise, the EMI amount on your home loan increases. This means you'll need to allocate a larger portion of your income towards repaying your loan, potentially impacting your disposable income.

Loan Eligibility : A higher repo rate can affect your loan eligibility as banks become more cautious about lending due to increased risk. This may lead to stricter eligibility criteria and lower loan amounts being offered.

title: Also Read: Home Loan Eligibility - Guide for Beginners, content: The repo rate is announced by RBI based on the current economic climate, particularly in response to inflation or recession. In simpler terms, the central bank uses the repo rate as a tool to manage the cost of borrowing in the economy, aiming to either curb inflation by raising rates or stimulate growth by lowering them.

title: What is Reverse Repo Rate?, content: Reverse repo rate is the rate at which the central bank, the RBI in our case, borrows money from the commercial banks when there is excess liquidity in the market. This aims to absorb the liquidity in the market, which helps restrict the borrowing power of the investors. When faced with high levels of inflation, the RBI increases the reverse repo rate, thus encouraging banks to park more funds with the RBI.

title: What is Intraday Trading? A Beginner's Guide to Day Trading Stocks, content: The term Intraday means "within the day". As the name itself suggests, Intraday Trading refers to the purchasing and selling of stocks within the same day. Also known as day trading, intraday trading aims to capitalize on short-term price movements, leveraging market volatility to generate profits. Intraday trading revolves around the swift execution of trades with the objective of profiting from small price fluctuations. Traders participating in intraday activities typically do not hold positions overnight, minimizing exposure to overnight market risks. Instead, they rely on technical analysis, charts, and real-time market data to make informed decisions throughout the trading day. Intraday traders will look to settle all their positions when the market closes.

title: Understanding Trading Accounts: Types, Features, and Benefits, content: Looking to delve into the world of investments? In the dynamic world of finance, investing in the stock market or other financial instruments is a popular means of building wealth. This is where opening a trading account is of help. To partake in these markets, individuals typically utilize a trading account. A trading account serves as the gateway to the realm of buying and selling securities, offering a platform for investors to participate in the financial markets. Now, let us understand in detail what a trading account is, including its features, types, and benefits.

title: How SWP works, content: Assume an investor has accumulated a corpus of Rs 25, 00,000 over the years in a Mutual Fund. He can then start an SWP from the accumulated corpus to get regular cashflows as shown below:

title: With SWP, investors get, content: to fund retirement expenses, a secondary income to meet household expenses or emergencies title: Rupee cost averaging, content: which allows you to benefit from market volatility, particularly a market uptrend which boosts withdrawal title: Tax efficient returns, content: as there is no TDS on capital gains with equity-oriented mutual funds deemed to be among the more tax-friendly investments title: What Is Tax Saving Fixed Deposit (FD)?, content: Fixed deposit that offer tax exemption under Income Tax Act, Section 80C is the most preferred FD. The lock-in period is 5 years. Investing in this FD Scheme will offer an annual tax relief of 1.5 lakhs.

title: How Does a Tax Saving FD Work?, content: A tax-saving FD has a fixed tenure of five years. Although the interest accrued on the FD amount is taxable, one can claim a tax deduction of up to Rs. 1.5 lakh under Section 80 C of the Income Tax Act, 1961. This makes it different from other types of fixed deposits , which do not offer this tax-saving facility.

title: Key Features of a Tax Saving FD, content: Eligibility: Only individuals and Hindu Undivided Families are allowed to open this tax saving fixed deposit. Deposits can be made in a single or joint name. As per Government of India guidelines, the Income Tax benefit is allowed to the first holder of this fixed deposit.

Amount of deposit: The minimum amount of deposit allowed is Rs. 100 and in multiples of Rs. 100. The maximum amount in a financial year is Rs. 1,50,000.

Tenure of deposit: The minimum lock in period for tax saving deposits is 60 months. The maximum tenure is 120 months.

Payment of interest: Interest is compounded quarterly in a tax saving FD. Interest is credited to the accounts at the end of the quarter. This is one of the best tax saving deposits features.

Premature closure: Premature closure of such deposits is not allowed until the maturity of the tax saving FD. This is allowed on customer's request only after completion of 5 years at Bank's discretion. The bank will pay interest at 1% below the tax saving FD interest rate in such cases. In case of death of depositor, premature withdrawal is allowed.

Auto renewal: Auto renewal of such deposits is allowed, but not under tax saving deposits scheme. The deposit will be renewed as a regular term deposit for a period of 1 year.

title: Tax Saving FD Benefits, content: Tax savings: The principal amount invested as a tax saving FD is allowed as a deduction to the first holder of the FD under Section 80C of the Income Tax Act. The maximum deduction allowed in a financial year is Rs. 1,50,000.

No TDS if Form 15H/15G submitted: This FD is subject to TDS rules and regulations. The interest earned on this deposit is taxable. However, if your income is not liable to tax, you can submit a Form 15H/15G and the bank won't deduct TDS on your interest.

Beneficial rate to senior citizen: Senior citizens can get a better rate of interest on such deposits. Bank of Baroda pays 0.5% over and above the tax saving FD rates to senior citizens. This is available for deposits below Rs. 1 crore.

Nomination facility available: It is possible to set up nomination for the tax saving FD.

Branch transfer: The tax saving FD can be transferred from one branch to another branch at the request of the customer. This can be done by submitting a written request to the branch where the customer has the tax saving FD.

Minor accounts for individuals: It is possible to open a tax saving fixed deposit for minors as well. These tax saving deposits can serve as important means of financial planning for them.

title: Facts to Remember while Investing in a Tax-Saving FD, content: Following are some of the facts one must remember while investing in a tax-saving FD:

The tenure of a tax-saving FD is five years

Loans against tax-saving FDs and premature withdrawals are not allowed in the case of tax-saving FDs.

It can be opened only in a bank

The minimum deposit amount of a tax-saving FD differs from bank to bank

One can invest up to 1.5 lakhs in a tax-saving FD in a financial year

Bank of Baroda offers tax saving fixed deposits online and offline through their branches. Opening these is convenient and easy and can be done even in a matter of minutes.

title: Tenure meaning in loan terminology, content: The tenure in your loan is the time period between the disbursement of your loan and the last EMI payment that you make. For example, if your personal loan was disbursed on 1st January 2022 and you repaid the debt in its entirety (made the last EMI payment) on the 1st of January 2025, your loan tenure is said to be of 3 years. The personal loan minimum tenure is around 2 years, while the personal loan maximum tenure is around 5 years. However, do keep in mind that the minimum and maximum tenure of the personal loan can vary from one lender to the other.

title: How to choose the right personal loan tenure period?, content: Choosing the right tenure for your personal is quite important. To help you make the right choice, here are 4 tips on how to choose the personal loan tenure smartly. • Consider your current financial obligations "The very first step in choosing the right personal loan tenure is to understand your monthly expenses and your monthly income. Subtract the summation of your monthly monetary commitments from your monthly income and understand the amount of money you can allocate for paying your personal loan EMI. While calculating your monthly expenses, do not forget to include the repayment amount of your existing debts such as credit card debts and other ongoing loans. It is also better to check your DTI or debt to income ratio. This is the ratio of your monthly debt repayments and your monthly expenses. If you do not have an urgent requirement of funds, it is advisable to only apply for a personal loan if your DTI is below 50%. For easier and error-free calculations, you can write down your monthly expenses, debts, and income on a piece of paper or make use of Google Sheets or Excel."

- Calculate the personal loan amount you require "Before you apply for a personal loan, finalise the loan amount you require. Your loan amount is directly proportional to your loan tenure. If you procure a loan of a higher amount, you may need more time to repay the capital along with the interest. Hence, as a rule of thumb, do not procure a personal loan for an amount that is more than what you require. To accurately estimate the loan amount required, you must first understand why you need the loan and how much money you would require for fulfilling your objective."

- Calculate your interest cost "To calculate the interest cost of your personal loan, you must first find out the interest rate charged by the lender. Once you know the interest rate charged by the lender, the next step is to calculate your total interest payout using different tenure options. For example, if you procure a personal loan of Rs 10 lakh at an interest rate of 12.5% for a period of 4 years (48 months), your interest payout would be Rs 2,75,840. However, if you take the same loan for 3 years (36 months), your interest cost would be Rs 2,04,331. Likewise, you can calculate your interest payout for different tenures and understand how much it would cost you to procure the debt. By doing this, you can select the right tenure for your loan."

- Make use of the personal EMI calculator "Manual calculations can be quite time-consuming and challenging. Instead, you can use the personal loan EMI calculator present on your lender's website and understand the monthly EMIs that you would need to pay. This will help you further understand the right loan tenure according to your repayment capacity. Bank of Baroda offers a personal loan EMI calculator that is quite easy to use. All you have to do is enter your required loan amount, the applicable interest rate, and the tenure for which you wish to procure the loan and click on 'Calculate'. The online calculator will then display the monthly EMI that you need to pay for the specified loan conditions.

If you think the EMI for your chosen loan tenure will be difficult to afford, increase the tenure of your loan. However, do remember that this will increase the amount you pay in interest as well."

title: Pre-paying your personal loan before the tenure is complete, content: You can opt to pay off your personal loan completely before the tenure is complete. However, do note that to do so, you may have to pay a pre-payment penalty to the lender. You can weigh your options and choose to pre-pay the loan if it suits your circumstances and finances.

title: Key Takeaways: tenure, content: The contents of this article/infographic/picture/video are meant solely for information purposes and do not necessarily reflect the views of Bank of Baroda. The contents are generic in nature and for informational purposes only. It is not a substitute for specific advice in your own circumstances. Bank of Baroda and/ or its Affiliates and its subsidiaries make no representation as to the accuracy; completeness or reliability of any information contained herein or otherwise provided and hereby disclaim any liability with regard to the same. The information is subject to updation, completion, revision, verification and amendment and the same may change materially. The information is not intended for distribution or use by any person in any jurisdiction where such distribution or use would be contrary to law or regulation or would subject Bank of Baroda or its affiliates to any licensing or registration requirements. Bank of Baroda shall not be responsible for any direct/indirect loss or liability incurred by the reader for taking any financial decisions based on the contents and information mentioned. Please consult your financial advisor before making any financial decision.

title: Features and Benefits of Digital e-Mudra Loan, content: Setting up a business requires a lot of capital both for the initial investment and for operational costs. While a few people save their way to starting a business, many others take a business loan to meet these capital requirements. To boost entrepreneurship and help small businesses pursue their goals, Bank of Baroda offers a digital e-Mudra loan. This is a credit facility made available by Bank of Baroda for MSMEs that operate in the manufacturing, trading, and services sectors of the economy. One of the best features of the Bank of Baroda digital Mudra loan is that it is an unsecured form of debt. This means that you do not need to provide any collateral to procure funding. This is one of the best ways to finance the operations of your business. Read on to know more about this loan.

title: What is The Best Age to go For a Home Loan?
, content: Buying a home is a dream for every individual across the globe. The only problem is affordability. Buying a house needs to fit the budget. One's dreams need to be realistic to achieve it.

From a lender's point of view a person becomes eligible for loan if he is earning a sufficient income from a legitimate source. He must have a steady source of income and enough saving after taking care of the regular expenses and other loans as he has, to repay the equated monthly instalments (EMI) of the home loan. These factors are known as creditworthiness of the borrower and credit behaviour of a borrower is assessed in India by what is known as CIBIL score.

The CIBIL score considers the credit history of the person, whether he had defaulted on his loans earlier and similar other points.

title: How Age Impacts Home Loan Tenure and Approval
, content: Another point that comes up is age which decides the tenure of home loan that is relevant for purchasing a property.

Age in isolation is not a factor, what the lender would also like to look at is the earning and repayment capacity of the person, quality of the property he is planning to buy and the loan amount he is seeking.

Let's take the case of a house property which is worth say Rs 75 lakh which includes all taxes and statutory charges. Assume that the lender is willing to fund 80 percent of the amount, which in our case is Rs 60 lakh.

Now, let's consider three persons aged 25, 35 and 45 who approach the lender for the loan on this property.

These days the younger generation gets a good starting salary especially if he has a good education or is a professional. In our case let's consider an average individual.

Clearly, a 25-year-old person can take the loan for the longest period possible, which in India can be around 30 years. The middle-aged person can be eligible for the loan for 20-25 years. The eldest individual will get a loan with a tenure of 10-15 years maximum. The lender would consider the useful working life of the borrower before fixing a tenure.

title: Tips for Increasing Your Chances of Getting a Home Loan at Any Age
, content: Lenders generally hesitate to lend a housing loan to an elder person. Part of the reason is the limited working life he has in front of him and secondly because his obligations increase with age. Children's higher education needs to be funded, their marriage and medical cost associated with him and his spouse which can lead to cash flow mismatch going forward.

However, if the older person has a strong income stream and needs money for a shorter tenure, lenders would be interested in it. They may or may not ask for more collateral against the property since in a small tenure window price fluctuations can act as an added risk.

Or they may consider taking a higher down payment which would mean a lesser exposure and time risk for the lender.

title: Another way the older person can improve the chances of getting a loan is by applying for it with a co-borrower. This way the risk of the lender is reduced and there is more than one income stream to take care of the EMI payment.

Key Takeaway

, content: There is no fixed and ideal age for taking a home loan. Finally what matters is the affordability. As a rule of thumb, the EMI outgo should not exceed 30 percent of the income. Anything higher would put stress on the financials of the individual.

Financial markets in India have now matured offering an individual multiple avenues of raising money. Having said that, assets like a home is best bought as early as possible in one's life since after this he can concentrate on wealth creation.

title: Car Loan Tenure – Introduction, content: The desire for owning a car is gradually growing in India, according to TechSci Research (<https://bit.ly/30T1o5A>). The Indian car loan market is poised for a "compounded annual growth rate (CAGR) of over 8 per cent in value terms and will reach USD60 billion by FY2026." A shift from combustion engine vehicles to electric vehicles seems to be the trend.

title: Why Should You Decide On Car Loan Tenure Wisely?, content: The car loan tenure influences the EMI (Equated Monthly Instalment) title: For example: Let us understand this better., content: Using the Bank of Baroda Car Loan EMI Calculator as an example will help.

title: Maximum Tenure for Car Loan, content: Car loans offer an option to repay over several timelines. You could choose a minimum timeline or a maximum tenure to pay off. Longer car loan repayment terms come with a set of pros and cons.

title: Let us regard the pros of longer repayment terms:, content: a) Lower monthly expense" Your monthly payment of EMI is low adding less stress on the monthly expenses. The EMI tenure is dependent on the monthly income of an individual. A person seeking a car loan can have several monthly payment obligations like household expenses. Paying higher EMIs can be an added stress.c) Less monthly burden" If EMIs are low, the monthly expenses can be adjusted accordingly. The extra cash that you set aside from your income can be invested in mutual funds or alternative investments .

"b) Banks offer repayment flexibility" If a borrower selects longer repayment terms, it does not mean that they cannot pre-pay the loan or foreclose minimising the loan tenure. However, this is not as easy as it sounds. The individual must have enough extra funds for car loan pre-payment or enough funds for foreclosure. Both pre-payment and foreclosures are charged by most banks. Losing on the interest rate, banks try to compensate for lost interest with a penalty.

title: Let us go through the cons of opting for maximum loan payment tenure:, content: "a. Added interest charges over time" By stretching the loan tenure to 5 years instead of 3, the loan interest compounds. Using the earlier example, where the loan principal amount is ₹10 lakhs at 8% If you pay it off over three years, you will pay a total interest of ₹1,28,109. But if you pay it off over five years, your total interest cost will increase to ₹2,16,583. Your longer repayment term makes your loan almost ₹88,474 more expensive.

"b. Longer periods of debt" Maximum loan tenure stretches the loan period which means that it takes more time for you to be debt free and apply for a fresh loan. Longer term increase CIBIL score for car loan, making it possible for you to get another loan unless your loan repayment has defaulted.

title: Minimum Tenure for Car Loan, content: Minimum tenure for car loan could be anything between 1-3 years. Short-term repayment depends on the financial capacity of the borrower. Being able to pay high EMIs demands high income and if it is difficult, the borrower must never regard this option. If they can, it would mean high monthly EMIs till the loan tenure with high-interest rates. Let us go through the pros and cons of short-term loan tenure.

title: Pros of minimum tenure for car loan, content: Short-term repayment entails a huge degree of pressure on the borrower. Repayment without a single default is not easy. In case the borrower is not able to meet the payment timely they incur a penalty that further burdens the EMI, upsetting the monthly budgeting.

title: Pay high-interest rates, content: In the short term, lenders add maximum interest on the car loan. For example, on a loan amount of ₹10,00,000, with repayment tenure set for 24 months at 8% interest, the monthly EMI is ₹45,227 and the total interest will be ₹85,454.

title: Debt-free faster, content: Though the EMI figure is frightening for those not earning enough, for those who can, it allows them to go debt free faster, giving them greater freedom. After the car loan is repaid, they can apply for another loan or go for an investment.

title: Early repayment discounts, content: Some lenders attach discounts on early repayment for those paying back faster and can make car loans available at reduced interest rates. However, this solely depends on the lender and those offering the same may have more clauses in the fine print. Carefully read the terms and conditions.

title: If unsure of repayment, never opt for short-term car loans, content: The financial risk in short-term car loans is huge. Unless you are completely sure of the repayment capacity avoid this option. It is better to go for long-term loan repayment and make pre-payments from time to time. If the opportunity of disposable surplus cash arises you can also make a foreclosure. However, if you are unable to repay the short-term loan in the scheduled period, your debts keep adding to every missed payment.

title: Short-term car loans strengthen CIBIL score, content: If you can meet the short-term loan period, your CIBIL score will increase and the bank's trust in you will grow to enable easy acceptance for future loans.

title: Long-Term Vs Short Term Tenure: Which One Is Better, content: After regarding both options of maximum and minimum tenure for car loan pros and cons, it becomes easier to differentiate between the two. Car loans are for a maximum period of 84 months or 7 years. Therefore, repayment must happen within this short span. Some like the shorter term. Individuals with high-income capacity can opt for short repayment terms on loan values of as high as ₹5 crores. Loans ranging from this amount to as low as ₹10,000 are offered by vendors on new or preowned types of cars. The EMI is compounded by the interest rate applied by the lender throughout the loan. If the loan is short term, the EMI increases, if longer the EMI will be less within the term. Therefore, choosing the tenure depends on the borrower's affordability and loan management mechanisms. It is difficult to state which is better as what applies to one may not apply to the other. However, if there is any doubt about high built-up repayment, choosing long-term repayment of 7 years could be a better option. Even better if you can add a few pre-payments, reducing the loan burden.

title: Factors, content: The car loan tenure is mostly based on an individual's loan tolerance capacity. Car loans are in a way short-term loans, therefore as suggested earlier, a Bank of Baroda car loan EMI calculator will help you plan repayment better. Managing repayment is up to the individual. When you are planning on purchasing a car you are not doing it without a financial backup. If you have a part of the cash that can be used as a pre-payment amount, going for short-term car loans makes sense. If you can draw a foreclosure with plans of closing the loan within a couple of years, that too is a planned way of dealing with minimum tenure for car loan. However, one must be mindful of the penalty accrued by some lenders. Choose a lender that does not add a penalty on prepayment or foreclosure.

title: Factors to Consider Before Choosing a Car Loan Tenure, content: If a car is on your wish list, it will be smart to consider these factors before applying for a loan:

title: The interest rate, content: Car loan interest rate differs between lenders. While many lenders will offer unimaginably low-interest rates and you may be tempted to choose them, don't do so without complete research. Car loan interest rates keep changing and doing a thorough research will help you decide on a vendor you can trust with the most comfortable rate.

title: Credit Score, content: A high credit score will earn you attractive interest rates. Check your credit score so that you can negotiate with the lender. If the credit score is low, take corrective actions to improve it. With an improved credit score, you can build a better CIBIL score for future loans.

title: Loan Tenure, content: The loan repayment tenure is proportional to your repayment capacity. Remember, short-term loan repayment demands a high EMI. Long-term repayment is also limited to 7 years. Whichever suits the borrower must be chosen. Those requiring both tenures must fit the bank's eligibility norms.

title: Loan charges, content: Lenders that may charge low-interest rates could charge a higher processing fee along with associated charges with the loan. Thus, before choosing the vendor ensure you check all terms and conditions so that you do not end up paying more than you expect.

title: Flexibility in repayment, content: If you are looking for a prepayment or pre-closure option, remember some lenders levy penalties on these. Choosing a lender that allows pre-payment and foreclosure without added charges makes greater sense.

title: Processing time, content: Most lenders follow minimum documentation on car loans. Ensure that the lender offers loan details online so that you do not have to visit the bank for information. Also, loan processing varies from lender to lender. Some do it in a matter of days while others take days on service and processing. Choose lenders who optimise the procedure.

title: Eligibility and down payment, content: Loan eligibility differs between lenders. Check the car loan eligibility norms and down payment required. Also, know how much a loan can be sanctioned for new or preowned cars. Some offer up to 90%-75% respectively on car loans.

title: Read the agreement carefully, content: Loan agreements should be read carefully as there may be more written than told by your lender. It is better to discover, the untold at the beginning than to learn about it once the car loan repayment takes off. Carefully look at the interest rates, processing charges, pre-payment, and foreclosure charges.

title: Other ways of getting a car loan, content: Sometimes applicants fail to meet the loan eligibility criteria set by the bank. However, banks offer alternatives with other collaterals like FDs, gold, house etc. Borrowers can work out an understanding with the bank.

title: Does the lender have a tie-up with the car company?, content: Before you finalise a car loan, check if the lender has a tie-up with a car company. These come with attractive interest and other perks making your car loan journey smoother.

title: Best Car Loan Tenure at BOB, content: When it comes to applying for a car loan, there is a good reason for choosing the Bank of Baroda as your preferred lender.

title: Types of Car Loans, content: At Bank of Baroda, you can get financing of up to 90% of the on-road price of a brand new car of your choice if you opt for Car Loan . Anyone can avail of a Bank of Baroda Car Loan, subject to their eligibility. These are available for a maximum loan tenure of 7 years, and the loan amount can be as much as Rs 1 crore. The bank gives a 0.25% concession on the interest rate to its existing home loan customers with a clean credit history. What's more, Concession of 0.50% in rate of interest on Car Loans to those applicant/s who offer minimum 50% of Loan limit as liquid collateral security e.g. Fixed Deposit of our Bank, NSC, KVP or LIC Policy.

title: Features and Benefits of Car Loan, content: The greatest advantage of a car loan is the ease with which you can possess a car with a bit of planning. A loan allows you to improve your lifestyle if you create an advanced strategy to tackle expenses while meeting other investments that you are already committed to. Owning a car not just improves your social status, but also acts as a huge advantage offering freedom to travel where and when you want at your ease. Apart from these advantages, a loan comes with many other features and benefits. We will help you understand all the features and benefits of a car loan.

title: Too many MF schemes in your Portfolio may not be a good Idea – Here's why, content: Having multiple funds under same category of funds does not help in diversification. Each Mutual fund contains 40-60 underlying securities on average which is already quite diversified.

title: 2. Difficult to Track, content: It is a difficult task to track each of these funds and conduct review of each & every fund in your portfolio title: 3. Higher Expense Ratio, content: Your average expense ratio might be higher due to having multiple funds as compared to picking limited number of funds with low expense ratio.

title: Here is a list of measure in case you have a cluttered portfolio., content: 1.Periodically assess financial goals and risk appetite to determine your asset allocation strategy & remove funds which are not in-line with the strategy."2. Figure out underperforming funds" Capital Markets are cyclical with different investment strategies faring well in different market cycles. Funds which are consistently lagging in terms of performance should be weeded out. "3. Periodically evaluate your MF Portfolio" Once you have decluttered your portfolio, make sure you review it at least once a year so as to check for any deviations from the strategy

title: How to Use a Demat Account

, content: A Demat account is a powerful tool for investors, providing numerous benefits and simplifying the process of holding and trading securities. By eliminating the need for physical share certificates, a Demat account streamlines the management of investments, making it more convenient and secure.

Ready to unravel the world of finance? So, what's the deal with Demat accounts, you ask? Well, they're like the superheroes of the investment world, here to save you from the hassles of handling physical securities.

Picture this: no more worrying about lost or damaged share certificates, bidding farewell to cumbersome paperwork, and embracing the convenience of digital transactions. Sounds like a dream, right? That's precisely what a Demat account offers—a secure and efficient way to hold and trade your stocks, bonds, mutual funds, and more, all in electronic form.

But how to use a Demat account? Think of it as having a virtual vault where your securities reside. You can buy or sell them with just a few clicks, monitor your portfolio's performance, and keep track of your investment journey from the comfort of your favorite device.

By the end, you'll be well-equipped to navigate the dynamic landscape of securities trading and maximize your financial potential.

title: What is the Use of a Demat Account?

, content: Think of it as your gateway to the digital realm of investments . So, what's its purpose, you ask?

A Demat account, short for "Dematerialized account," is a secure and convenient repository for all your financial securities in electronic form. It eliminates the requirement for physical share certificates, making your life as an investor much easier.

Here's the scoop: When you buy stocks, bonds, mutual funds, or other securities, they are converted from their physical form into electronic entries and stored in your Demat account. It's like having a virtual vault where you can safely keep track of your without worrying about the risks associated with physical documents.

Plus, it offers a world of possibilities. You can access real-time information about your holdings, monitor their performance, and even receive corporate benefits like dividends and bonus shares directly into your account. It's like having your financial command centre at your fingertips.

title: How to Use a Demat Account?

, content: Using a Demat account is as easy as pie! Let's walk through the simple steps to help you navigate the world of digital investments with confidence:

Open a Demat Account: First, you must open a Demat account with a registered Depository Participant (DP). DP could be a bank, financial institution, or brokerage firm. They will be responsible for maintaining your Demat account and facilitating your transactions.

Next, you must fill out an account opening form, provide the required documents (such as identity proof, address proof, and PAN card), and complete the verification process.

Link Your Bank Account: Once your Demat account is open, you must link it to your bank account. This enables the smooth transfer of funds for buying and selling securities. You may need to provide your bank account details and complete the necessary formalities to establish the link.

Choose a Trading Platform: To execute trades, you'll need a trading platform. It could be an online trading portal your DP provides, a mobile app, or trading software. Your DP will guide you on the options and help you set up the platform for easy access.

Research and Select Securities: Now comes the exciting part—choosing the securities you want to invest in. Conduct thorough research, analyse market trends, and consider your investment goals.

You can explore stocks, bonds, mutual funds, ETFs, and other financial instruments. Remember your risk appetite, investment horizon, and diversification strategy while selecting.

Place Orders: Once you've decided on the securities you want to buy or sell, log in to your trading platform. Locate the order placement section and enter the security details, quantity, price, and other relevant information. Then, review the order carefully and submit it. Voila! Your order has been placed.

Monitor Your Portfolio: With a Demat account, you can easily monitor the performance of your portfolio. Keep an eye on market fluctuations, track the value of your holdings, and stay informed about corporate actions that may affect your investments.

Most trading platforms provide real-time market data, portfolio tracking tools, and reports to help you stay updated.

Settlement: The proceeds will be credited to your Demat account when you sell securities. Similarly, when you buy securities, they will be debited from your account and added to your holdings. The settlement process usually takes a few days, and you'll receive notifications and statements reflecting the transactions.

Stay Informed: Keep learning and stay informed about the latest developments in the financial markets. Read on investment strategies, attend webinars or workshops, and stay connected with the financial community.

title: How to Operate a Demat Account?

, content: Operating a Demat account involves a few key steps. Here's a general guide on how to operate a Demat account:

Open a Demat Account: To operate a Demat account, you first need to open one with a depository participant (DP) such as a bank or a brokerage firm. You must provide the necessary documents and complete the account opening process per the DP's requirements.

Linking Your Bank Account: Once your Demat account is opened, link it with your bank account. This linkage is necessary for seamless transactions, such as receiving funds from selling shares or transferring funds for purchasing shares.

Obtaining a Unique Client ID: The DP will provide you with a unique client identification number (Client ID). This ID is crucial for all your transactions and communications related to your Demat account.

Buying and Selling Shares: Once your Demat account is active and accessible, you can start buying and selling shares.

Here's a general process for trading:

Place Orders: Use your online trading platform or mobile app, or call your broker to place buy or sell orders for shares. Provide the necessary details, such as the stock name, quantity, price, and type of order (market order, limit order, etc.).

Confirmation and Execution: After placing an order, you will receive a confirmation specifying the transaction details. Once the order is executed, the shares will be credited or debited from your Demat account.

Settlement: Settlement is exchanging shares and funds between the buyer and seller. In India, settlement typically takes two business days (T+2). The shares you purchase will be credited to your Demat account, and the funds from selling shares will be transferred to your linked bank account.

Monitoring Your Holdings: You can regularly monitor your shareholdings and transactions through your Demat account. The account statement provided by your DP will help you keep track of your holdings, transactions, and any changes in your portfolio.

title: Can I Trade Shares without a Demat Account?

, content: No, trading shares without a Demat account is impossible in the Indian stock market. This is because the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI), the regulatory body governing the Indian securities market, made it mandatory to have a Demat account for trading and holding shares in a Dematerialised form.

A Demat account is a secure repository for holding and transacting in electronic securities. It eliminates the need for physical share certificates, making the trading process more efficient and convenient. All the shares you purchase are credited to your Demat account, and when you sell shares, they are debited from the account.

When you buy shares, they are converted from physical certificates to electronic forms and stored in your Demat account. This allows for seamless trading, quick settlements, and easier portfolio management. It also provides additional benefits such as electronic record-keeping, accessibility to corporate actions, and secure storage of your securities.

Therefore, if you want to trade shares in the Indian stock market, you must have a Demat account. It is an essential requirement for trading and holding securities in electronic form.

title: Ten Most Important Terms Associated with Demat Accounts, content: Here are ten essential terms associated with a Demat account:

Dematerialization converts physical securities, such as share certificates, into electronic form. Dematerialization enables the seamless trading and holding of securities in a Demat account.

Depository Participant (DP): An intermediary registered with a depository that offers Demat account services to investors. DPs are responsible for maintaining Demat accounts, facilitating transactions, and providing related services.

Beneficial Owner: The individual or entity that ultimately owns securities held in a Demat account. The beneficial owner enjoys the rights and benefits associated with the securities, such as receiving dividends and participating in corporate actions.

ISIN (International Securities Identification Number): A unique alphanumeric code assigned to each security, enabling its identification on a global level. The ISIN helps identify and track securities held in a Demat account.

DP ID (Depository Participant Identification): A unique identification number assigned to each Depository Participant. The DP ID and client ID are used to identify and differentiate Demat accounts maintained by different DPs.

Client ID: A unique identification number assigned to an investor by the Depository Participant. The client ID and the DP ID help identify and distinguish individual Demat accounts within a particular DP.

Nominee: A person designated by the Demat account holder to receive the securities in case of the account holder's demise. The nominee plays a crucial role in safeguarding the account holder's interests and ensuring the smooth transfer of securities.

Demat Statement: A statement provided by the Depository Participant that contains detailed information about the securities held in a Demat account. It includes transaction history, current holdings, and other relevant details, which record the account's activities.

Power of Attorney (POA): A legal document that grants authority to a designated person (often the DP) to manage and operate the Demat account on behalf of the account holder. POA facilitates smoother transaction execution and other operational activities.

Freeze and Unfreeze: These terms refer to the temporary restriction or removal of certain functionalities in a Demat account. An account can be frozen to prevent unwanted transactions or changes, providing an additional layer of security.

title: Conclusion : demat account, content: To maximize your Demat account, follow these steps to operate it effectively. First, open a Demat account with a registered Depository Participant (DP) and complete the necessary documentation.

Next, link your Demat account with your bank account to enable seamless fund transfers. Then, familiarize yourself with your DP's trading platform, which will serve as your window to the world of securities trading.

Finally, Conduct thorough research on the securities you wish to invest in and place your buy/sell orders through the trading platform. Stay informed about market trends and monitor your portfolio's performance to make informed investment decisions.

By understanding the use and operation of a Demat account, you unlock a realm of possibilities in the world of investments. So, embrace the digital revolution, leverage the benefits of a Demat account, and embark on a rewarding journey towards financial success.

title: How can I use my Demat account for the first time?, content: To use your Demat account for the first time, you need to follow these steps:

Open a Demat account with a registered Depository Participant (DP).

Complete the necessary documentation and provide the required identification proofs.

Link your Demat account with your bank account for seamless fund transfers.

Familiarize yourself with the trading platform provided by your DP.

Research the securities you wish to invest in and place your buy/sell orders through the trading platform.

title: Do I need a Demat account to trade shares?, content: Yes, it's mandatory to trade shares in India. Demat accounts to ensure secure electronic trading.

title: What happens if I don't utilise my Demat account?, content: No consequences, but be aware of maintenance fees or charges that may still apply.

title: Can someone else operate my Demat account?, content: Yes, grant them Power of Attorney (POA) after considering implications and responsibilities. Consult your Depository Participant or seek professional advice for specific concerns.

title: What is Tokenisation?, content: Tokenisation is the conversion of sensitive data, such as credit/debit card information, into a unique identifier known as a token. The token has no inherent value or meaning and is useless if intercepted by fraudsters. Tokenisation's primary goal is to secure sensitive data from unauthorized access and to limit the risk of fraud.

title: How Tokenisation Works?, content: The process of tokenisation involves the following steps: Data Collection: Tokenisation offers several benefits for both merchants and customers. These include:

Increased Security: Tokenisation has several advantages that make it an essential security feature for online transactions. These advantages include:

Reduced Risk of Data Breaches: Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has mandated the adoption of card-on-file (CoF) tokenisation as an alternative to storing customer card details on merchant servers. This directive aims to increase the security of card details and reduce the risk of fraud and data breaches while performing E-commerce transactions using debit card or credit card .

title: How to Tokenise Debit and Credit Cards?, content: Tokenizing your debit or credit card is a simple process that can be done online in just a few minutes. Here's how:

title: Conclusion : tokenisation, content: Tokenization is a powerful tool that can help protect sensitive data and enhance the security of digital payments. It offers several benefits and advantages, including security, convenience, compliance, and cost-effectiveness. In India, the implementation of tokenization is mandatory for all card issuers and payment gateways, which shows the government's and Regulators commitment to enhancing the security of digital payments.

title: 5 Tips On How To Use Credit Card Wisely, content: In today's world, credit cards have become increasingly popular and convenient. Credit cards can be a great tool for budgeting and building credit, however, it's important to use them wisely. This article will offer tips for how to best use your credit card so that you can enjoy the financial freedom they bring with true happiness in your heart. We will look at key topics such as setting spending limits, avoiding cash advances, and more, along with sharing some famous quotes. By the end of this article, not only you should feel confident in your ability to use your credit card in a responsible manner, you will learn some famous quotes that we swear by at all times.

title: Understanding Bank of Baroda's ATM Services, content: Bank of Baroda is one of the most trusted and reputed banks in India, offering a wide range of digital products to make banking easier and more accessible for its customers. Among these digital products, ATM and Kiosk services play a crucial role in providing 24/7 banking services to customers. In this blog, we will discuss Bank of Baroda's ATM services, their benefits, and tips for using them safely.

title: What is a Trading Account?, content: A trading account is a specialized account used to execute trades in various financial markets, including stocks, bonds, options, commodities, and more. It acts as a medium between an individual or an entity and the stock exchange or brokerage firm. This account allows investors to buy and sell securities based on their financial goals, whether for long-term investments or short-term trading. In simple terms, a trading account refers to any investment account that contains securities, stocks, and other holdings.

title: Why do you need a Trading Account?, content: A trading account is a vital tool for individuals seeking to engage with financial markets. It serves as the gateway to buying and selling various financial instruments like stocks, bonds, commodities, or currencies. By having a trading account, individuals gain access to the dynamic world of investing and trading, enabling them to participate in market movements, seize investment opportunities, and diversify their portfolios.

title: Features of a Trading Account, content: A trading platform provides access to a user-friendly online or mobile platform that allows account holders to place buy and sell orders. It includes tools for analysis, research, charting, and real-time market data.

title: Market Information :, content: Trading accounts provide market data in real-time, including stock prices, charts, market news, and more, to ensure that the trader makes informed choices.

title: Research and Analysis Tools :, content: Many trading accounts offer access to research tools, technical analysis, and financial news to help investors make informed decisions.

title: Execution :, content: Once the trader places the order, the trading account executes it on the trader's behalf. It matches buy & sell orders, executes the trade at prevailing market price, and confirms transactions.

title: Margin Trading :, content: Some trading accounts may allow margin trading, which enables investors to borrow funds from the broker to make trades, using their existing securities as collateral.

title: Order Types :, content: Allows different types of orders like market orders, limit orders, stop-loss orders, and more, enabling investors to set specific conditions for buying or selling securities.

title: Customer Support :, content: Trading accounts provide access to customer service or support teams that can assist with account-related queries, technical issues, or trading-related questions.

title: Types of Trading Account, content: There are various types of trading accounts available to investors and traders, catering to their specific needs and preferences. Here are some of the commonly used trading accounts:

title: Equity Trading Account:, content: An equity trading account is a type of brokerage account specifically designed for buying and selling company stocks or equity shares on the stock market. It allows investors to trade in equities and participate in the ownership of companies. However, this account cannot be used to subscribe to an IPO or trade in commodities.

title: Commodity Trading Account:, content: A commodity trading account is a specialized brokerage account enabling the buying and selling of commodities such as gold, silver, agricultural products, and oil.

title: Online and Offline Trading Accounts:, content: An online trading account allows investors to buy and sell financial instruments electronically through a brokerage's online platform. An offline trading account involves placing trades through a broker via phone, in person, or through other non-electronic means.

title: Two-in-One and Three-in-One Trading Accounts:, content: A Two-in-One trading account combines a Demat and a trading account, streamlining stock transactions. A Three-in-One trading account integrates a bank account, Demat account, and a trading account, offering a unified platform for seamless fund transfers and stock trading.

title: Also Read: Demat Account vs Trading Account: Key Differences, content: A discount trading account offers low-cost trades with minimal support or research resources. A full-service trading account provides a range of services, including research, advice, and personalized assistance, but typically with higher fees.

title: All-in-One Accounts :, content: An All-in-One trading account integrates multiple investment avenues (stocks, mutual funds , commodities) within a single platform, allowing diversified trading and investment options through a unified interface.

title: What is the eligibility criteria to open a Trading Account?, content: The eligibility criteria for opening a trading account in India generally include:Age : Individuals must be at least 18 years old. Some brokerage firms might allow minors to open accounts with a guardian or parent's consent.

PAN Card : Possession of a Permanent Account Number (PAN) card is mandatory for opening a trading account as it is used for financial transactions and documentation.

Address Proof : Providing a valid address proof, such as Aadhaar card, passport, voter ID, driving license, or utility bills, is necessary.

Bank Account : A linked bank account is required for transferring funds for trading activities. Most brokerage firms ask for a canceled cheque or bank statement as proof.

Income and Net Worth : Some brokers might ask for income details and net worth to determine trading limits or account types suitable for the investor.

KYC Compliance : Know Your Customer (KYC) norms are a prerequisite. Submitting the KYC form along with photographs and providing biometric details might be necessary.

What are the documents required for Trading Account? The basic documents required to open a trading account are:

How to open a Trading Account? Opening a trading account involves a few basic steps, and the specific process can vary based on the financial institution or the type of trading account you wish to open.

Research and Choose a Brokerage Firm : There are various brokerage firms available, each with different features, fees, and services. Research to find one that suits your needs. Consider factors like fees, customer service, available markets, ease of use, and security.

Gather Required Documents : Typically, you'll need identification documents (such as a passport or driver's license), proof of address (like a utility bill or bank statement), and sometimes financial information to meet requirements.

Visit the Broker's Website or Contact Them : You can usually apply for a trading account online via the brokerage firm's website. Look for a "Sign Up" or "Open an Account" option. Alternatively, you might need to visit their physical office if they have one.

Complete the Application Form : Provide the required personal information and details. This may include your name, address, financial information, employment details, and more.

Agree to Terms and Conditions : Review the terms and conditions, understand the risks involved, and agree to comply with them.

Submit Required Documents : This might involve uploading scanned copies of your identification and proof of address to verify your identity.

Fund Your Account : Once your application is approved, you'll need to deposit funds into your trading account. This can usually be done through bank transfers, credit/ debit cards , or other accepted payment methods.

Choose Your Trading Platform : After funding your account, you may need to download a trading platform provided by the brokerage or use their online platform to start trading.

Start Trading : Once everything is set up, you're ready to buy and sell securities. But be sure to understand the platform and market before you start trading to make informed decisions.

title: Understanding Repo Rate: Definition, Importance, Current Rates & Impact On Home Loans, content: In the complex world of finance, the repo rate, short for repurchase rate, emerges as a pivotal player in maintaining economic stability. This powerful tool resides within the arsenal of central banks, allowing them to regulate the financial system's liquidity and influence the broader economic landscape. With the help of this blog, let's embark on a journey to understand the intricacies of the repo rate, delving into its definition, functioning, and its profound impact on various stakeholders.

title: Analyzing Mutual Fund Performance, content: Investing in mutual funds is a popular choice for individuals seeking a diversified and professionally managed investment portfolio. Whether you are a seasoned investor or a novice, assessing the performance of your mutual funds is a critical aspect of successful investment management. By analysing the performance of your mutual funds, you can gain valuable insights into the effectiveness of your investment strategy and make informed decisions for your financial future.

title: What is Travel Insurance?, content: Travel insurance is a type of insurance that acts as a financial safety net that mitigate risks and uncertainties associated with travel. It typically covers a range of unforeseen events that can disrupt your trip, ensuring that the entire financial burden does not fall on your shoulders. Now that we have understood what travel insurance is, let us take a look at what they do.

title: Is travel insurance mandatory?, content: Now that we have understood what travel insurance is and what aspects of the trip it will help cover, let us answer the most commonly asked question, 'Is travel insurance mandatory?'. In short, the answer is, no, it is not mandatory. However, this cannot apply for all situations. Some countries require travel insurance coverage up to a certain level, while others have no such requirements. However, it is always better to have travel insurance, as it can save you from a lot of mishaps that lead to financial crises.

title: How to get travel insurance?, content: Buying travel insurance online is quite convenient nowadays, thanks to customized plans being available for different trips and itineraries. You can also opt for additional coverages, also known as add-ons, to get covered for things that are not already included in the insurance .

The period of your insurance can be chosen based on the type of trip you are embarking on - business, family vacation, educational tour, or more.

title: What does travel insurance cover?, content: Now that we have understood what a travel insurance is and how we can get it, let us take a look at the different aspects of a trip that travel insurance can cover: Trip Cancellations: Imagine meticulously planning your dream vacation, only to have it disrupted by unforeseen circumstances. A medical emergency, a family crisis, or urgent work commitments could derail your carefully crafted travel plans. Without travel insurance, you risk losing non-refundable deposits and payments, leaving you financially burdened. Having travel insurance helps reimburse these costs, thus alleviating the financial strain when plans take an unexpected turn.

Medical Emergencies: Health issues can arise at any time, even when you're on a vacation, far from home. If you fall ill or sustain an injury while traveling, medical expenses can easily burn a hole in your pocket. Travel insurance covers emergency medical treatment, hospital stays, and sometimes even medical evacuations, ensuring you receive the care you need without draining your savings.

Lost or Delayed Baggage: Misplaced or lost luggages are one of the most common travel mishaps. Airlines occasionally misplace or delay baggage, leaving travelers without essential items. Travel insurance can provide compensation for lost belongings or cover the costs of purchasing necessary items until the baggage is recovered.

Interruptions: Travel interruptions can occur anytime, be it natural disasters, political unrest, or other unexpected events. These disruptions might force you to cut your trip short or change your plans. Travel insurance can help compensate for costs associated with these unforeseen circumstances, allowing you to adapt to changing situations without financial strain.

Missed Flight: No matter how diligent you are with your planning, there is still a huge possibility of missing your flight. It can be due to traffic, sickness, last-minute calls, and many other unforeseen circumstances. Depending on the airline and their policies, you may or may not get a refund for the missed flight. A travel insurance can help reimburse the cost associated with the flight - either fully or partially.

title: Apply for Star Travel Protect Insurance Policy now !, content: There are several types of travel insurances, designed to meet the requirements of different travelers. Let us take you through a few of them:

title: International Travel Insurance:, content: As the name itself suggests, this type of travel insurance covers your overseas trip. Also known as foreign travel insurance, this is a must-have for anyone planning a trip abroad. It provides financial protection against unexpected events, such as medical emergencies, travel delays, and lost luggage.

title: Domestic Travel Insurance:, content: Domestic travel insurance covers unexpected situations like trip cancellation, medical emergencies, and lost baggage when you are traveling within your country. Even within your nation, these events can incur significant costs, so having financial protection can be invaluable.

title: Single-trip Travel Insurance:, content: The name is self-explanatory. This refers to a travel insurance policy designed to cover a single trip. Once the trip is completed, this insurance is no longer valid and cannot be used again.

title: Multi-trip Travel Insurance:, content: This type of travel insurance is suitable for travelers who frequently visit the same destination for business purposes, multiple times. Some policies provide coverage for an entire year, thus covering multiple trips. Opting for this type of insurance can prove highly cost effective for business men and frequent travelers.

title: Group Travel Insurance:, content: Group travel insurance offers an affordable way to protect everyone's investment and provides peace of mind knowing you're prepared for unexpected trip disruptions. From trip cancellation to medical emergencies, group coverage ensures financial protection and a stress-free experience for your entire travel team. This is usually opted for by people or companies who organize group tours.

title: Apply for Travel Guard by TATA AIG Today !, content: Having travel insurance while going on a trip is imperative for many reasons. A few of them are listed below:

title: Peace of mind :, content: Knowing you're financially protected against unforeseen circumstances allows you to relax and truly enjoy your trip.

title: Reimbursement for covered expenses :, content: From trip cancellations to medical emergencies, travel insurance covers a wide range of scenarios, minimizing your financial burden.

title: Protection against unexpected costs :, content: Avoid getting caught off guard by unforeseen expenses, letting travel insurance shoulder the financial impact.

title: Safeguarding your investment :, content: A well-planned trip involves considerable financial investment. Travel insurance safeguards this investment by reimbursing non-refundable expenses in case of trip cancellations or interruptions.

title: Also Read: What is Health Insurance? A Comprehensive Guide to Benefits, Types, and Importance, content: Investing in travel insurance is not just a practical decision; it's a commitment to enjoying your journey with the confidence that unforeseen events won't derail your plans or leave you in financial distress. So, the next time you embark on a new adventure, consider travel insurance as a necessity, ready to turn unexpected mishaps into manageable situations.

title: Why Consider Gold as an Investment?, content: Gold has always held a significant place in Indian culture and traditions for centuries. But today, gold has also emerged as a popular investment avenue in India. The country has a long-standing affinity for this precious metal and it plays a crucial role in the country's economic landscape.

title: What is Health Insurance? A Comprehensive Guide to Benefits, Types, and Importance, content: With increasing medical expenses, health insurance acts as a safety net to meet our financial needs. Medical inflation is rising exponentially, and health insurance acts as a financial buffer against medical costs that would otherwise leave one's emergency funds and lifetime savings sufficiently depleted. Not just for individuals, but for the entire family, Health insurance is a necessary part of financial planning and should be integrated with investment purchases as soon as one starts earning. The earlier health insurance is planned, the better coverage is assured for individuals at lower premium rates with no medical tests. We will discuss various aspects of health insurance, their benefits, features, types, and how individuals can choose the right health insurance.

title: Vehicle Loan – Meaning

, content: A Vehicle Loan is a loan that allows you to purchase two and four wheelers for personal use. Typically, the lender loans the money (making a direct payment to the dealer on the buyer's behalf) while the buyer must repay the loan in Equated Monthly Instalments (EMIs) over a specific tenure at a specific interest rate. The EMI comprises a portion of the principal amount and the interest component. Once you repay the loan in full, the lender transfers the vehicle registration in your name.

You can also apply for a Vehicle Loan to buy these vehicles to transport goods or company personnel. Common examples of commercial vehicles include buses, trucks, tractors, tippers, cabs, etc.

Your eligibility for a Vehicle Loan depends on your credit score and net (in hand) monthly income. Most lenders offer 75% to 100% of the vehicle's on-road price, based on its type and price. You can also get a loan to buy pre-owned cars and other previously used vehicles.

title: Types of Vehicle Loans in India

, content: Today, you can take on a Vehicle Loan to buy various kinds of vehicles in India. Below are the most common types of Vehicles Loans offered by Indian lenders.

- Car Loans

You can get a Car Loan to purchase a brand-new car of your preferred brand. Lenders generally offer up to 90% financing of the car's on-road price, while you have to pay the remaining 10% as a down payment. The on-road price of a new car includes the ex-showroom price, Regional Transport Office (RTO) registration charges, insurance costs, road tax, etc. A Car Loan generally comes with a seven-year repayment tenure. You can repay the Car Loans in affordable EMIs over your chosen tenure.

- Two-Wheeler Loans

A Two-wheeler is an excellent vehicle that allows you to navigate traffic, especially in a densely-populated city. It is compact, requires less fuel and helps you cover shorter distances comfortably. With Two-Wheeler Loans, you can buy geared motorbikes and non-geared scooters. Most lenders offer up to 100% financing on Two-Wheeler Loans, with a maximum repayment tenure of five years. The maximum financing offered on such loans is up to Rs 10 Lakh. Once again, you need to provide your income proof and credit scores to be considered for this loan.

- Pre-owned Car Loans

Another type of Vehicle Loan you can opt for is a pre-owned Car Loan. Purchasing a pre-owned car is a cost-efficient alternative to buying a brand-new car. Lenders generally offer up to 75% financing against pre-owned cars. The car is hypothecated with the lender till the repayment period ends and you repay all EMIs. However, the car's age and the new repayment period should not exceed eight years.

title: What Are The Features Of A Vehicle Loan?

, content: The following are some of the salient features of a Vehicle Loan.

- High-value financing

Lenders usually offer vehicle financing starting from 75% to 100%. As such, you need not worry about putting down hefty down payments.

- Competitive interest rates

Vehicle Loans are secured loans, i.e., the purchased vehicle serves as collateral with the lender until you repay the loan in full. Due to this secured nature, lenders typically levy a lower interest rate against these loans.

- Speedy disbursements

Lenders typically disburse the funds directly to the vehicle dealer, allowing you to purchase and register your vehicle instantly.

- Flexible repayment terms

Repayment tenures range from a year to 84 months, depending on the type of Vehicle Loan you need. Two Wheeler Loans and Commercial Vehicle Finance come with a five year repayment period, while you can repay your new Car Loan over seven years.

- Eligibility criteria

You can apply for the loan as long as you can show the minimum net monthly income (across the corresponding Vehicle Loan) and a good credit score exceeding 750 points.

- Loan processing and prepayment

Lenders levy minimal loan processing charges against Vehicle Loans. You can also prepay your loan before the stipulated tenure without incurring any penalties.

- Hassle-free documentation

Most lenders allow you to apply for a Vehicle Loan online without any physical documentation. You only need to provide scanned copies of your ID, address, and income proof documents.

title: New Car Loan Vs Used Car Loan

, content: You can choose between buying a new or used car using the loan facility. Here's how the two loans differ.

- Affordability and maintenance costs

Used cars are usually a lot more affordable and ideal for people who have recently learned to drive. Depending on the age of the used car, it may require regular maintenance from time to time, which can lead to added costs. A new car may seem expensive at face value. However, it typically runs smoothly for years without incurring extra maintenance costs.

- Repayment tenure

The repayment tenure for a new Car Loan is longer than that for a pre-owned Car Loan. You can repay a new Car Loan over the span of 84 months. However, the tenure for Pre-owned Car Loans is capped at 60 months.

- Warranty

New cars come with a free manufacturer warranty. The car manufacturer promises to repair the vehicle or replace certain mechanical or electronic components of the car during the warranty period without levying any additional costs. This warranty generally lasts for two to three years or up to a certain number of kilometres driven. By the time the car is put up for sale, the manufacturer's warranty may end. Used cars generally come without a manufacturer warranty. Depending on the car's age, you may obtain a warranty for a used car, but you have to pay additional charges.

- Insurance premiums

Whether you own a new or a pre-owned car, you need to purchase car insurance per the Motor Vehicle Act of 1988. New cars have a higher Insured Declared Value, i.e., is the maximum amount you can get when you file an insurance claim. Due to a higher IDV, insurance premiums for new cars are higher than for used cars. Insurers usually offer a lower IDV for pre-owned cars.

- Financing

Most lenders offer up to 90% of a new car's on-road price as the loan amount, thus reducing your down payment considerably. For a used car, you can get up to 75% financing.

- Car's age

Pre-owned cars must fulfil specific criteria to be deemed eligible for purchase, one of which is the car's age. Starting from the car's invoice date and including the repayment period, the age of the used car should be no more than 96 months. This criterion does not apply to new cars.

title: Apply for a Car Loan with Bank of Baroda

, content: Owning a vehicle gives you a sense of independence, whether you buy it for personal or commercial use. At Bank of Baroda, we offer various types of Vehicle Loans keeping your different requirements in mind. You can apply for a Vehicle Loan with Bank of Baroda and enjoy various benefits like high-value loans at attractive interest rates, flexible repayment terms and affordable EMIs. You can seamlessly complete the loan application process online or visit your nearest Bank of Baroda branch to get started with the loan application process. For more details, you can call our toll-free number 1800 5700 or walk into your nearest Bank of Baroda branch and let one of our executives assist you.

title: WhatsApp Banking - Introduction

, content: Banks are trying to win tech-savvy customers with a digital-first experience. WhatsApp banking is another addition to this convenience package of digital banking. As Avi Lousky, VP of Product Management, at Lightico points out, "When bankers can take customers through a single, seamless journey, everyone wins". Making customers' banking journeys comfortable with personalised and contextual customer experience, WhatsApp banking creates closer interactions with customers.

title: What is WhatsApp Banking?

, content: WhatsApp is a direct platform that allows banks and customers to meet in an instant window. Banking services on WhatsApp were launched in India in 2020 partnering with Meta authorised Technical Service Provider. Customers can receive direct messages from the bank on new product notifications and alerts in their messenger. Customers can send direct messages to their bank seeking answers to their queries. From typical banking inquiries on fixed deposits, Debit Card related services, Cheque book related services, preapproved loans, credit cards and outstanding amounts.

title: Why is WhatsApp banking a natural choice?

, content: In 2021 India had 487.5 million people communicating on WhatsApp, according to a survey conducted by <https://worldpopulationreview.com/country-rankings/whatsapp-users-by-country> . With such a huge customer base bridged by WhatsApp, banking services through WhatsApp are a convenient option.

title: Attributes of WhatsApp as a Banking Platform

, content: WhatsApp as a Banking Platform comes with safety features bolstering user confidence.

GDPR Compliance

Adding security and privacy to this private account General Data Protection Regulation adds features like no message archiving, encryption and pseudonymization to build a framework where your data is secure.

Encryption

Further securing data and making all banking-related confidential information watertight, they can be shared safely in the interface.

IT Security

Banks take extra care to safeguard all customer information. Running multiple secure transmissions through penetrative tests, the IT security enables to scan and remove vulnerabilities whenever they deem necessary.

title: How Does WhatsApp Banking Work?

, content: Banking services on WhatsApp are mostly guided by AI. A virtual banking chat box guides customers through simple tasks like opening accounts, getting details on their existing accounts and other banking tasks.

title: So how does WhatsApp banking work?

, content: If you are a Bank of Baroda customer, you can call from your registered mobile number or send a 'Hi' from your WhatsApp to 8433888777, the Bank of Baroda WhatsApp Banking number.

This service is available in English and vernacular for Indian and overseas customers.

You will receive an immediate response from the bank welcoming you to their instant banking services on WhatsApp.

A menu of the services offered will roll out on the screen, select the service you require. From digital banking channel-based services to fast tag services, wealth management services and digital loan services to other services and facilities, this instant banking solution is the easiest way to reach your bank account.

title: How to send money through WhatsApp?

, content: Payments through WhatsApp were launched via UPI in the year 2020. WhatsApp banking services does not allow payment transaction through WhatsApp. The Payment module under WhatsApp is managed by Meta with the help of NPCI.

Select the '₹' symbol in your chat window.
Choose your bank from the drop-down menu.
Verify the registered banking telephone number
If the WhatsApp number is the same as the registered bank number, a verification message will reflect on WhatsApp
Once you add the bank account, continue processing the UPI payment through WhatsApp
To send money to your select the '₹' symbol from your chat window Enter the amount and proceed with the transaction. This setting also allows you to check the balance.

title: Fingertip banking start chatting with your bank
, content: You can get all the information about WhatsApp banking from your bank's website. Once registered, you can start chatting with your bank by sending a 'Hi' to initiate the conversation and agree with the terms and conditions of WhatsApp banking set by your bank.

title: Wrap up!
, content: Digital banking through WhatsApp is completely safe only if you do not lose your phone. Make sure when using WhatsApp banking, to keep your phone locked. If the phone is stolen, contact your bank to deactivate your WhatsApp banking account. Though banking technology is in its nascent stages, banks are moving towards delivering easy-to-navigate services through seamless digital platforms offering branch experience through improved and extended technologies.

title: What is a Women's Savings Account?, content: A Women's Savings Account is a type of savings account that is specifically designed for women's financial needs. It has a variety of features, benefits and facilities that cater to the specific needs of women. Any woman, regardless of profession, income, or age, can open a women's savings account. These accounts can be opened with zero or low minimum balance requirements and offer interest rates comparable to regular savings accounts.

title: Complete Guide on Banking Services for Women, content: From Gen X to Gen Z, a conscious mindset change is palpable amongst women earners who have not only earned but also invested. These women acted as financial agents, preparing society towards change with confidence and competence. However, in the words of *Linda Davis Taylor, CEO, and chairman of Clifford Swan Investment Counsellors, "Wealth without knowledge is wealth wasted." Though many women have earned money, personal finance for women has been largely driven by their fathers or spouses who have taken care of their banking and investments both amongst the literate and illiterate earners.

title: 5 Common Mistakes to Avoid While Investing in Fixed Deposits, content: When investing, a fixed deposit investment features essentially in almost everyone's investment portfolio. This low-risk, stable saving lets you enjoy steady capital gains at the end of maturity. However, even fixed deposit investment demands careful planning. We will enumerate 5 common mistakes that people tend to make while opting for fixed deposit accounts.

title: Know Everything about Zero Balance Savings Account, content: Banks these days are offering different banking products to enhance the banking experience for their customers and zero balance savings account is one of them. Account holders in a zero balance savings account can operate the account with zero balance.

title: What is a Zero Balance Saving Account?, content: Generally banks have the Quarterly Average Balance (QAB) policy for the savings account and when the account balance does not meet the QAB requirements, a non-maintenance charge is levied whereas in a zero balance savings account, the QAB policy is not applicable and therefore no minimum balance is required, making it a 'no minimum balance savings account', same as BSBDA or BSBDA Small account.

title: Some of the zero balance accounts are as follows, content: Central Government Employee title: 6. Basic savings bank deposit account, content: The sub - categories are as follows -

title: How to open a zero balance savings account?, content: Indian banks offer zero-balance savings account opening facilities online and offline.

title: Should you open a zero-balance account?, content: Of Course Yes. A zero balance savings account does not just free you from the string of maintaining a minimum account balance but also helps you manage your finances and track your expenses. It helps you lower your expenditures and inculcate the habit of saving.

title: Conclusion : zero balance account, content: Undoubtedly, a zero balance account offers much more flexibility in comparison to a regular savings account that requires minimum balance maintenance. It adds to the financial inclusion of an individual as a 0 balance account and offers all the banking facilities that a regular savings bank account offers to its customers such as Internet banking, Mobile Banking , cards, customer support, etc.

title: Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana - Everything You Need to Know, content: The Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana account is a financial umbrella provided by the Government of India to make economically backwards Indian citizens fall within a structured financial institution. The program endeavours to reach out to every adult to open accounts with affordable banking for all. Low-income unorganised sectors, with daily wagers, cannot opt for private banking facilities owing to eligibility criteria that impede them from maintaining those accounts. But the PMJDY allows all banking privileges to Indian citizens in zero balance accounts allowing them to save as they earn without depending on private and insecure saving cooperatives.

title: Different Types of Savings Account, content: Savings give financial security and relieve stress. They are fundamental for a secure financial future. It is the fund that bails you out through rough times like the Pandemic. If it hadn't been for those wisely guarded pennies, people who went through layoffs or salary reductions could not have survived. Without their savings to fall back on, things would have been difficult. Saving account interest rates may have dropped but they still add 2.75 -3.35 % (subject to change) per year to your deposit. So, while we realise it is healthy to save, you should know the types of savings account that will best serve your purpose and be beneficial for your small, medium or large saving behaviour. Here's a quick checklist that will help you to make a more informed decision.

title: Subscribe to our Newsletter, content: Copyright © 2021 Bank of Baroda. All rights reserved title: What's the Difference Between a Gold Loan and a Loan Against Property?, content: Loans are one of the best ways to access funds in an emergency or to pursue your goals. There are broadly two types of loans that you can procure - a secured loan and an unsecured loan. If you offer collateral to the lender in exchange for the loan, you are said to have taken a secured loan. Many people prefer to take a secured loan as it helps them receive funds on suitable loan terms and conditions such as lower interest rates and higher loan amounts. When offering a secured loan, lenders usually accept gold, securities, property, and other similar assets as collateral. Out of all these types, a loan against gold and a loan against property are the two most common types of secured loans.

Now, both gold and property are extremely valuable and stable assets to place as collateral. However, is one asset better than the other? Here, we will do a gold loan comparison against loans taken on property to help you evaluate the differences between the two.

First, let's understand each loan type.

title: Gold loan definition

, content: A gold loan is a loan that is taken by offering gold as collateral to the lender. The value of the gold pledged as collateral is usually always higher than the loan amount. This means that most lenders can offer you a gold mortgage loan equal to and above 75% % of the pledged yellow metal's market value. Gold loans are generally expensive to get as the gold market is quite volatile and increases the risk exposure faced by the lender. Furthermore, loan providers usually only accept gold items that have purity from 18 karats to 24 karats.

You do not need to worry about the security of your gold as the gold collected as collateral is kept in a secured vault by the lender. Once you repay the gold in its entirety, you can collect your pledged gold from the lender.

title: What is a loan against property?

, content: When you offer your property as collateral to procure a loan, you are said to have taken a loan against property. Like gold loans, the market value of the property is usually higher than the loan amount. This is because the lenders typically only offer 40% to 75% of your property value as the loan amount. Loans taken against property are relatively cheaper as the real estate market is much more stable than the gold market; as a result, the risk borne by the lender is comparatively less.

Before your loan against property gets sanctioned, you must submit all the legal documents of your property to the lender. As a result, you cannot sell the property or make any legal changes to it until you repay the debt taken.

title: Gold loan vs home loan (mortgage against property): What are the differences?

, content: While many prefer to procure a loan against property due to the lower interest rates, gold loans are more accessible for others. Hence, it is safe to say that the right type of collateral depends on your financial stability, creditworthiness, and reason for procuring the loan. Let's take a closer look at the main differences between a gold loan and a loan against property.

title: Conclusion: gold loan

, content: As we can see, the choice between a gold mortgage loan and a loan taken against property really depends on your unique needs. This is because both these types of loans serve unique purposes and are equally useful for the borrower. While a gold loan helps you fulfil the need for money for immediate expenses, a loan against property is usually taken for long-term goals that have been carefully planned out. You need to carefully evaluate each loan type and decide which one suits your own situation.

Bank of Baroda offers gold loans and LAPs, among other types of loans. You can initiate the application for all our retail loans easily on our website. If you are taking a mortgage loan against property, you can make use of our Mortgage Loan EMI Calculator to understand and plan your payments. If you are taking a gold loan, we have a special Gold Loan Calculator too. Thus, you can plan your loans out with ease online from the comfort of your home. Moreover, all our loans have a hassle-free application process and affordable interest rates to make things easy for you. If you need any further assistance with the application process, do reach out to us on our toll free numbers - 1800 5700 or visit the nearest Bank of Baroda branch.

title: Refinance meaning in banking

, content: Let's begin by understanding what refinancing really is in lending. Refinancing is the process of taking a newer loan to pay off existing debt. Refinancing is usually done to benefit from lower interest rates than what is currently being paid.

For example: If you have a personal loan at an interest rate of 13% pa and you see a new lender offering the same type of loan at a rate of 11% pa, you might want to consider opting for personal loan refinance. Even the 2% reduction in the interest rate can see you save a lot of money when you repay your debt.

title: When should I refinance a personal loan?

, content: Now, it is important to note that refinancing is a decision that must be calculated and carefully planned. It might not be the perfect option for everyone. Firstly, you should consider refinancing only if you will make a substantial saving in your loan repayment. Next, you may want to choose to refinance if your credit score has improved significantly. In this case, you might get a much lower new rate on your loan based on your new score. People also choose to refinance their personal loans if they are looking for longer tenures. A new loan comes with new terms, and this includes a new tenure as well. If your current monthly payments feel too heavy, refinancing might be the solution you are looking for. You can smartly choose to lengthen the tenure to benefit from smaller, more manageable monthly EMIs.

Finally, you must also factor in prepayment costs (if any). Some lenders charge you a penalty if you repay your personal loan before its original tenure. If these prepayment penalties and the application fees for your refinance loan add up to a higher amount than what you aim to save through refinancing, you may want to reconsider your decision.

title: Steps to refinance a personal loan

, content: When you have figured out what you need to know about the basic details, such as the refinancing interest rate and terms of the new loan, you can go ahead and apply to the lender. Here is a quick look at the steps you may generally need to follow:

Step 1 – Calculate your requirement

You must begin your loan refinance process by calculating how much you need to borrow. This way, you can avoid taking more than what is required. After all, no matter how low the new interest rate is, the more you borrow, the more you have to repay. So, it is wise to be prudent and make a careful calculation.

Step 2 – Discuss with your current lender

Before you go ahead and make a deal with a new bank, you may want to consider talking to your present lender to see if they are willing to negotiate the terms of your loan and offer you a better deal than what you currently have. If you have been a loyal customer with a good record of payments for many years, they may actually retain you. You can even talk to them about the possibility of waiving a prepayment penalty if you choose to move to a new lender.

Step 3 – Choose a new lender wisely

If you are not satisfied with the deal offered by your existing bank or financier, you can go ahead and begin the search for a new one. Make sure to compare interest rates, loan tenures, and other benefits offered. You can run a search online to compare the various lenders in your city before picking a few options. Once you have selected a few options, do visit their offices, or call up their customer care numbers to see what kind of help you get. You can also read a few online reviews of the kind of experience other customers have had with the lender.

Step 4 – Check your credit score

Before you apply to refinance your loan, you need to be sure that your credit score is good. A good credit score will see your application sail through smoothly without any hassles.

Step 5 – Apply for your refinance loan

Once everything is in order, go ahead and apply for your new loan. These days, many lenders allow you to apply for personal loans online. If you need a bit of help filling the form and sorting out the paperwork, you can head over to the bank's office and fill up your application there.

title: Are there any drawbacks to refinancing a personal loan?

, content: Refinancing a personal loan is usually quite beneficial for you as the borrower. After all, it helps you escape from a higher interest rate on a loan that you took years ago for lack of better options. Refinancing lets you set new terms as per your current finances too. However, there is a slight flip side that you need to be aware of. Firstly, remember that refinancing a loan affects your credit score just like any other loan application would. Your credit score can dip slightly when you refinance your personal loan; however, don't let this dishearten you. With regular payments, your credit score can once again bounce back.

It is also important to remember that you may have to pay extra in terms of fees and charges when you refinance a personal loan. You may have to pay a prepayment penalty to your existing lender and pay loan processing charges to the new lender who is taking over your personal loan. These charges could add up to quite an amount, so you need to do your calculations very carefully.

It is important to weigh the pros and cons before you decide to refinance your personal loan. Remember to always evaluate your own unique circumstances and finances; what works for someone else may not work for you.

title: Get a personal loan from Bank of Baroda
, content: Bank of Baroda offers personal loan finance at affordable interest rates with easy documentation and a hassle-free application process. We offer a range of loans including special COVID 19 personal loans to help people tide over the tough times of the pandemic. Salaried persons and self-employed professionals can apply for these personal loans with ease at a Bank of Baroda Branch or even online. With principal amounts as high as Rs 10 lakhs and a tenure that goes up to 60 months, you get true flexibility with your finances. Call us today on our toll free numbers 1800 5700.

title: A best-in-class new hire on-boarding program, content: The program spans 6 months for officers and 2 week for clerks. The program for officers consists of classroom training sessions, covering basic aspects of operations, credit and forex, and comprehensive branch rotations which take you to a variety of branches of various types (like Rural/Semi Urban, Urban/Metro, advances-focussed). Apart from taking care of the functional on-boarding of newly hired officers, the bank also carries out a cultural on-boarding exercise, providing various forums for new hires to interact with senior management.

title: Carefully crafted career path policy
, content: The career path policy in the bank ensures a rich variety of exposures in areas like operations, credit, forex, and administration/facilitation for all officers joining the bank. It ensures that over time, all officers are wholesome, holistic bankers. The policy also ensures a growth track for all employees in the bank.

title: A comprehensive talent management system to groom future leaders of the bank
, content: Over the next few years, the Bank is poised for aggressive growth in business under its Transformation Process. Bank has put in a place a system which proactively identifies and groom future potential leaders This includes giving them proper exposure in various roles, giving them the right trainings, etc. to assume leadership roles in the future including succession planning for critical positions.

title: Benefits of taking a home loan from Bank of Baroda
, content: At Bank of Baroda, we truly believe in simplifying the process of getting finance for your home. As such, we offer a range of loans designed to meet your various requirements. From our pre-approved home loans to home improvement loans and home loan takeover scheme, there is something for everyone. Here are a few more benefits of getting your home loan from Bank of Baroda:

Low interest rates and processing charges
Higher loan amounts

Free credit card

Let's take a closer look at why you should consider opting for a Bank of Baroda home loan to buy your next or first flat or house. We will show you how to apply for home loan by discussing home loan eligibility, fees and charges, and documentation required in detail.

title: Bank of Baroda housing loan eligibility criteria

, content: To help more people finance their dream home, we have put together an easy to meet eligibility criteria.

Here are specifications of the eligibility norms you should make a note of:

Eligibility Criteria

Resident Type - Indian Residents, Non - Residents of India (NRI) or a Person of Indian Origin (POI) are eligible to apply for a home loan with Bank of Baroda.

Age criteria - The loan applicant should be at least 21 years of age to be eligible. In the case of a co-applicant, the minimum age requirement is 18 years.

At the same time, the maximum age limit is As under-Salaried Person: Age + Repayment Period should not be beyond retirement age. Can be considered beyond that on case to case basis on certain conditions.

Non-Salaried Person: Age + Repayment Period should not exceed 65 years. Can be considered beyond that on case to case basis on certain conditions.

Employment status - The applicant must be a salaried or a self-employed individual with a regular income source.

Work Experience - Salaried individuals must have at least one year of work experience. Self-employed must have a minimum of two years of work experience to be eligible for loan approval.

title: Bank of Baroda housing loan interest rate and processing fees

, content: To make sure that you are not burdened with heavy debt when buying a house, Bank of Baroda has curated a number of affordable home loan plans. We offer our loans at competitive interest rates and low processing fees.

The Bank of Baroda housing loan interest rate 2022 provides best interest rates in the market. To know current rates & charges kindly visit bank's website. This way, you are not burdened with these charges while buying a home for yourself and your loved ones.

title: Switching your home loan to Bank of Baroda

, content: If you already have an ongoing home loan with another lender and wish to switch over to Bank of Baroda, you can do so easily. You can opt for a transfer for your home loan from any bank/ HFC/ any other financial institute to Bank of Baroda seamlessly. This home loan balance transfer facility is available for all types of borrowers.

title: Documents required for home loan application

, content: Bank of Baroda has a simple documentation procedure for home loans. These documents will help us at the bank to verify your personal details, determine your financial standing, and inspect your creditworthiness as a borrower before we move forward with your loan request. Collect and put all your documents in order well in advance, so that you have them ready when you need to present them.

List of common documents:

Home loan application form

Two recent passport size photographs

Identify Proof - Aadhaar Card/Passport/PAN card

Address Proof - Aadhaar Card/ Voter ID/ or a copy of the electricity or telephone bill with your permanent address

Documents for salaried individuals:

A copy of the latest Form 16

Salary slips of the last 3 months.

Income tax return filing of the last two years

Documents investments made, if any Bank statements of the previous six months
Documents for self-employed individuals:
Proof of business address
Income tax return filing of the last three years
The company's / firm's balance sheet and profit and loss statement duly certified by a chartered accountant
Business certificate or professional practice licenses
Registration certificate of establishment - office, shop, factory or clinic Bank statements of business account of the previous six months
A note giving information on the nature of business /profession, form of organization, clients, suppliers etc.
List of property documents:
No objection certificate issued by the society or the builder
Original sale deed of the property, letter of allotment and stamped agreement of the property sale
Occupancy certificate in case of a ready to move in property
Original receipts of any advance payments made towards the purchase of the property
Bank account statements reflecting the advance payments made for property purchase
Original land tax receipts paid to the concerned authorities for the property in purchase Plan of the property provided by the builder title: Conclusion, content: Signing up for a home loan is a long-term commitment. And we, at Bank of Baroda, promise to be there for you every step of the way. From helping you sail through the documentation process with ease to offering expert advice on planning your loan repayment, we have it all covered for you.

In fact, you can now apply for a housing loan with Bank of Baroda online with a matter of a few clicks. We hope this was a great read for you today.

title: Why is a CIBIL Score Important?, content: Started in 2000, CIBIL or the Credit Bureau is an authorized credit information company that tracks debt repayment history and provides a credit score accepted by a vast network of financial institutions as a valid benchmark to examine a potential borrower's credit quality. Here's why a CIBIL score is important:

title: Lender considers the CIBIL score before approving a loan
, content: The information collected and maintained by the bureau is gleaned from data collected from banks and other lending institutions on a monthly basis. On the basis of this data, CIBIL issues a score. This score is shared with the lenders on request, when an applicant applies for a loan.

title: What is an ideal credit score?
, content: The range is from 300 to 900. Any score higher than 750 is a decent credit score. If an applicant has a credit score higher than 750, he/she is likely to get the loan approved and may get an attractive rate of interest. A loan application may be rejected if the credit score comes out to be too low.

title: How to source your CIBIL report?, content: Apart from a CIBIL score, you can also get your CIBIL credit information report. The report details the credit quality of your auto loan, home loan, credit card, overdraft facility and personal loans. It carries your personal details, employment details and account information. The procedure to source your CIBIL report is exactly the same as getting your CIBIL Score.

title: Components of the CIBIL report, content: CIBIL Score
The first part of your CIBIL report has your CIBIL score, which is a value between 300 and 900. A score closer to green that is above 750 is preferable.

Personal information

Another section contains your personal information like name, date of birth, PAN number, Passport details and gender.

Contact information

The contact Information segment will capture all your address and contact details.

Employment information

The employment section will provide details about customer's income and occupation at the time of a previous loan sanction.

Account information

An important section of the report is the account information which details the material about the borrower's credit cards, loans, name of the lender, type of loan (whether secured or unsecured) and all the accounts held by the borrower.

Consumer Dispute Remark

The borrower can also put in their remarks about a particular loan transaction in the Consumer Dispute Remarks for evaluators to see every time the credit report is opened for assessment. The comments are presented for a year.

title: Subscribe to our Newsletter, content: Copyright © 2021 Bank of Baroda.

All rights reserved

title: Please Select Constitution, content: You are being redirected to the Pension Saarthi web portal

title: Do you want to proceed ?, content: This is to inform you that by clicking on continue, you will be leaving our website and entering the website/Microsite operated by Insurance tie up partner. This link is provided on our Bank's website for customer convenience and Bank of Baroda does not own or control of this website, and is not responsible for its contents. The Website/Microsite is fully owned & Maintained by Insurance tie up partner.

title: Banking Mantra, content: Buy a brand-new two-wheeler & zoom ahead in life title: Table of Content, content: What is floating rate home loan?

title: What is floating rate home loan?, content: A floating rate home loan is one in which the interest rate charged by the lender changes with the market interest rate. This means that, if the interest rate charged in the market comes down, the interest rate charged on your home loan comes down as well. The floating interest rate is reset at regular intervals that are pre-defined by the lender.

title: Main advantages of a floating interest rate home loan?, content: Taking a floating rate home loan is quite beneficial for many reasons, such as:"• Helps you generate savings" People usually take floating interest rate home loans when they expect the market interest rate to decrease in the future. If the market interest rate decreases, they get to enjoy a lower cost of procuring the loan. "• Usually cheaper compared to fixed interest rate home loan" The cost of procuring a fixed interest rate home loan is usually higher when compared to the cost of procuring a floating interest rate home loan. Even if the floating interest rate increases more than the fixed interest rate, the rise is only temporary and there are good chances of the floating interest rate decreasing thereafter.

"• Ability to pre-pay loan without any penalty" Unlike fixed interest rate home loans, floating interest rate home loans do not charge you any pre-payment or foreclosure charges. Due to this, you can easily pre-pay your home loan without incurring any additional charges.

How do floating interest rates operate? The floating interest rate is pegged to an internal or an external benchmark by the lender. The intervals at which the interest rate is reset are pre-defined by the lender in the sanction letter or in the loan agreement document.

title: FAQs, content: Yes. Many lenders allow you to change your floating interest rate home loan to fixed interest rate home loan. However, they might charge you a fee for the change.

title: 2. Which is more beneficial, a fixed interest rate home loan or floating interest rate home loan?, content: The right interest rate type typically depends on the needs of the borrower. If you want to plan your finances in detail for the future or if you expect the market interest to up, choosing a fixed interest rate home loan might be a good option for you. Alternatively, if you wish to save money, pre-pay your loan, or expect the market interest rate to decrease, a floating interest rate home loan might be the right choice for you.

title: 3. Does Bank of Baroda offer both fixed and floating interest rate for home loans?, content: No, Bank of Baroda only offers floating interest rate home loans. Currently, Bank of Baroda offers home loans starting at an attractive interest rate of 6.50%. Furthermore, home loans from Bank of Baroda have a repayment tenure of up to 30 years.

title: 4. How to contact Bank of Baroda?, content: For assistance, you can contact a customer service representative on the toll-free numbers - 1800 5700. You can also give a missed call to the bank so they can get back to you for your queries on - 8467001111. You can also simply visit any Bank of Baroda branch that is the nearest to you.

title: What is a Home Loan Balance Transfer & How does it work?, content: Having a home of your own is a huge life milestone and achievement for most people. Since purchasing a home is an expensive affair that requires financial planning, you can rely on financial aid in the form of home loans. However, often when you opt for a home loan offered by a bank or financial institution, you might find yourself unhappy with the terms attached. Rather than stick it out with terms that are not favourable to your situation, you can later choose to opt for a home loan balance transfer. Let's look at the benefits of home loan balance transfer and show you how the process works.

title: Why You Should Prepay Your Student Loan? Know the Benefits, content: When taking an education loan, you need to carefully plan loan repayment even before your EMIs are due. This way, you can save yourself from falling into a financial crisis in the first few years of your career. Now, you may wonder - should I pay off my student loans before the tenure of the loan is complete?

title: What Is Tokenisation Of Debit & Credit Cards?, content: Tokenisation is a security procedure wherein your existing card details get substituted with a unique code. This unique code is referred to as a token. The token is a random combination of characters that has no true meaning and value.

title: How Will Card Tokenisation Work?, content: With a non-tokenised card transaction, your merchant's acquiring bank transmits your card details to your card issuing company. Your card issuer authenticates the transaction, and the merchant receives the payment. However, with tokenisation, you need to get your cards tokenised with your online merchants first. Here's the behind-the-scenes of a tokenised transaction:

title: Is Tokenisation Of Cards Mandatory For Cardholders?, content: Per the RBI guidelines, tokenisation is voluntary. In case customer opts to save his card on the merchant application, the card would be tokenised in-coordination with card networks and issuer bank and token would be saved by the merchant. Your bank or credit card issuer cannot force you to tokenise your debit card or credit card. It is completely free and requires explicit customer consent.

title: How Do I Tokenise My Card?, content: Tokenising your cards is a hassle-free process. Follow these steps for debit and credit card tokenisation. What Are The Key Challenges With Tokenisation? While RBI has observed considerable progress with tokenisation, several concerns have come to light:

- "• Guest checkouts:" Stakeholders, i.e., the merchant, the merchant's acquiring bank, and card payment networks, are yet to devise a guest-checkout mechanism that is in line with the new RBI guidelines.

- "• Systems for post-transaction activities:" Once a transaction is complete, the merchant needs to track and reconcile the transaction. Alternate systems for the same are still not ready for the new process.

- "• Systems for recurring payments:" Stakeholders are also concerned about how tokenisation will come into play in the case of mandated recurring payments like Equated Monthly Instalments (EMIs) on credit card and debit card shopping.

- "• Deleting customer data:" After the tokenisation deadline, merchants cannot save customers' card data. All existing data must be deleted as well. Merchants and payment aggregators have had to request the RBI to extend the deadline multiple times.

- "• Token processing solutions:" Albeit the token generation is progressing, the token processing solutions are still at an early testing stage.

- "• Bank compliance:" Several banks are yet to integrate payment hubs. Until they do, customers may face issues while making online payments.

title: Why Is Tokenised Card Transaction Considered To Be Safer?, content: The objective of tokenisation is to prevent the online transmission of your debit card and credit card details. Your card number is swapped with a token that has no value. Cybercriminals are always on the lookout to exploit online systems. If they get hold of the token, they cannot decipher it as the token is meaningless.

title: What Is The Card Tokenisation Deadline?, content: Due to concerns raised by various stakeholders on the card ecosystem, the RBI has postponed the deadline several times. As per the latest notification published on 24th June 2022, customers should tokenise their cards on or before 30th September 2022, and merchants should purge all customer data. From 1st October 2022, the customers who have stored their cards need to re-enter the card details for tokenisation purpose.

title: Tokenise Your Bank of Baroda Credit and Debit Cards, content: Bank of Baroda offers a plethora of Debit Cards and Credit Cards, each suited for different needs. You enjoy discounts and cashbacks across several brands. To continue enjoying a hassle-free checkout process, make sure you tokenise your BOB Debit Cards and Credit Cards before 30th September 2022. If you need help, get in touch with your relationship manager or call our toll-free number 1800 5700 title: New Credit Card Rules Effective from July 1, 2022, content: On 21st April 2022, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) released a notification named 'Master Direction - Credit Card and Debit Card - Issuance and Conduct Directions, 2022'. The notification includes new rules and regulations pertaining to the issuance of unsolicited facilities, credit card closures, new credit card issuance, etc. The new rules apply to all Scheduled Banks (except Payment Banks, State Co-operative Banks and District Central Co-operative Banks) and all Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs) in India. If you are a credit cardholder or plan to apply for a new credit card, here are the new credit cards rules effective from 1st July 2022.

title: 5 Key Changes in PPF Account Rules That You Must Know, content: Saving for retirement is incredibly important. The Government of India offers several schemes geared toward the same. Most of these schemes also come with tax deduction benefits. One such popular scheme that allows you to create a lumpsum retirement corpus is the Public Provident Fund or PPF. The GOI has introduced some changes to this incredibly popular scheme in recent years. Let us understand what PPF is along with the new PPF rules.

title: Wintelligence
, content: Dear Reader,

Till recently, methods that wine makers used to decide upon to produce have been mostly subjective. Without proper information, it was mostly a guess work. The wine industry is one of the oldest in the world and has dived into modern technological innovations to optimize production and save costs. Artificial intelligence is assisting vineyards world over from soil analysis to customer wine selection and pricing decisions. Technology is heavily influencing the value chain.

According to the International Organisation of Vine and Wine, wine production reached a record level of 293 million hectolitres in 2018. As per a report by Zion Market Research, global wine market is expected to generate revenue of around USD 423.59 billion by the end of 2023, growing at a CAGR of around 5.8% between 2017 and 2023.

In Australia, GAIA (Geospatial Artificial Intelligence for Agriculture) uses AI software and a satellite image library to plot every vineyard in the country. GAIA is a cloudbased, automated solution for vineyard identification and mapping. Deep learning neural networks are responsible for GAIA's ability to identify features of vegetation, and allow it to continuously improve. GAIA improves classification of vineyards and crop conditions by analysing the data it collects through deep neural networks.

Developed via a European Union research consortium, vineyard-monitoring robot Vinescout, uses an array of technologies for wine selection. VineScout utilizes an infrared sensor and a multispectral camera to respectively measure the temperature of plant leaves and the amount of water contained within the plants to let growers know if the plants are getting enough water, along with their current level of maturity and robustness.

Ailytic, a South Australian tech company, has developed an AI software to collect data from production and use it to analyze variables such as temperature and inventory. Then it generates an optimal production schedule based on the analysis, allowing companies to maximize their time and money.

Tastry, a sensory sciences company based in California, uses machine learning to teach artificial intelligence to "taste" – and this technology is shaking up the wine industry. Tastry's technology decodes aroma and flavor profiles by chemically analyzing thousands of wines in their lab. Then Tastry identifies the unique consumer palate of each individual that takes a quiz in a store or on their app.

Modern technology is changing the way we consume our wine. Tech is at play at the back end for the production process and in the front helping us make better wine choices

Credit:Akhil Handa

title: Vibrant Environment

, content: Bank of Baroda has a dynamic and a vibrant work environment that not just facilitates the career progression but also provides a platform to its employees to explore various dimensions of their personality. We believe that the happiest employees are the most productive

Bank of Baroda hosts various Inter -Zonal Competitions annually in various categories like Drama, Music & Dance, Carrom, Chess, Badminton, Table Tennis etc. to encourage the employees to explore their interests and passion beyond the regular work. The Annual Sports day is celebrated every year on 3rd Saturday of the November month across various Regions/Zones where all the employees and their family members are invited to participate in various sports activities/games.

title: Commitment to Inclusive Growth

, content: Bank of Baroda is a leading contributor for inclusive financial growth of the society. Bank has a wide network of 2,930 rural branches and more than 17,800 Business Correspondents serving across 10085 SSA locations and Bank has opened more than 5 Crore Basic Savings Bank Deposit accounts. Bank has extensively campaigned and marketed the social security products such as Pradhan Mantri Suraksha Bima Yojana, Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Jyoti Bima Yojana, Atal Pension Yojana etc. which are the flagship schemes of Government of India. Our bank has a market share of 13.29% in terms of PMJDY accounts and 14.40% in terms of deposit in PMJDY accounts in the banking industry. Bank is also a leader in providing Financial Literacy and Credit Counselling through 87 FLCC centers and skill based training to unemployed people through 64 Baroda Swarojgar Vikas Sansthan (BSVS). All our CSP outlets managed by BC agents are enabled for providing gamut of financial services to the customers.

Bank has been receiving numerous awards and recognitions in the field of Financial Inclusion from time to time. Some of the awards received by our bank in the recent past in the field of Financial Inclusion are as under:

Award from 'Governance Now' in 4th India Banking Reforms Conclave & BFSI Awards 2019 on 29th May 2019 at Mumbai.

Skoch Award 2019 - Banking Silver for Digital Financial Inclusion on 29th June 2019 at New Delhi.

title: Challenging Assignments

, content: At Bank of Baroda, you are provided a range of challenging assignments in various capacities throughout your tenure. A culture of sharing, collaboration, openness, and autonomy will inspire you to deliver your best. You are offered the opportunity to develop into entrepreneurial managers and business leaders. Read about the success stories of employees in the Bank in the "Meet Barodians" section.

title: Benefits

, content: Funded facilities, i.e. the bank provides funding and assistance to actually purchase business assets or to meet business expenses. Non-funded facilities, i.e. the bank can issue letters of credit or can give a guarantee on behalf of the customer to the suppliers, Government departments for the procurement of goods and services on credit. Available in both Indian as well as foreign currency.

title: The Ship Robots, content: The astounding progression of robotic technologies is playing a key role in the future of all industries. According to International Federation of Robotics (IFR), from 2020 to 2022 almost 2 million new units of industrial robots are expected to be installed in factories around the world. Like many different industries throughout the world, robots are impacting the maritime industry as well. Take for example, SeaRobotics which has developed a Hull cleaning robot that helps save fuel and improves the efficiency of a ship. Their Hull BUG is a small autonomous vehicle which attaches itself to the underside of ships, using a negative pressure device that creates a vortex between the BUG and the hull. Sensors provide obstacle avoidance, path cleaning and navigational capabilities. A fluorometer lets the robot detect biofilm and then it uses rotary brushes or water-jets to scrub the fouling film off. In another collaboration, the U.S. Maritime Administration (MARAD), has partnered with SEA-KIT to create robotic oil-cleanup vessels. Another solution by SeaDrone, can perform underwater inspections in lieu of Dry Docking (UWILD). The solution is designed in a way that provides an end-to-end hull inspection solution, inspecting a vessel in 1 hour and creating a certified report that can be quickly shared with the stakeholders. An alternative use case for robots in the maritime industry is strengthening of anti-piracy measures. ReconRobotics has developed a small, dumbbell-shaped robot that can infiltrate the main deck of a boat for stealth inspections. Magnetic wheels allow it to crawl up the side of a ship onto the deck and manoeuvre around. Cameras enable the operators to see what's happening in real-time, even during the night, with the help of infrared sensors. The company has recently been awarded a contract by U.S. Navy to develop the Recon Scout XT micro-robot for them. Promare, a U.K. ocean-research nonprofit, in partnership with IBM will unveil their new, fully autonomous ship - Mayflower on Sept. 16th, across the Atlantic Ocean. This autonomous ship will follow the same route on which the original Mayflower travelled 400 years ago. The Mayflower Autonomous Ship (MAS) is chiefly propelled by solar power, with a diesel generator on board as backup. IBM will power an onboard "AI Captain" with the ship leveraging edge computing for its AI and navigational smarts. All the data processing must be available on the ship because a vessel in the middle of the ocean can't rely on satellites or cloud connectivity. As COVID-19 shifts global structures and accelerates innovation, we can easily visualise how robotic technology could help ships continue operating through future pandemics. Credits : Akhil Handa title: Zero Gravity Fridge, content: Dear Reader, Thinking of a household kitchen without a refrigerator in it is almost impossible. Astronauts have been going to space since 1961, and have to eat canned and dried food that have only three years of shelf life as they still don't have a refrigerator that can work in space. The simple reason being, refrigerators rely on gravity to distribute oil through the compressor system that regulates temperature, so in space these systems don't work or break down quickly. Now, In a project funded by NASA, a team of engineers from Purdue University, Air Squared, and Whirlpool are building a prototype that can operate just as well in outer space as it does on Earth. The team of researchers is building a refrigerator that can keep food cold on longer missions in space, at zero gravity. It is aimed at giving astronauts a supply of food that could last five to six years. Even though fridge experiments have been made in space before, they either didn't work properly or eventually broke down. Cooling systems currently on the International Space Station are used for experiments and storing biological samples rather than for storing food, as they consume significantly more energy than on Earth. In a typical fridge, gravity helps to control the flow of liquid and vapour. Similarly, the oil lubrication system inside of a fridge's compressor is gravity-based. When bringing new technology into space, making the entire system reliable in zero gravity is the key challenge. The device is about the size of a microwave oven that can fit into the International Space Station's rack system and can store biological samples for science experiments. Purdue researchers also demonstrated that the refrigerator can operate in different orientations, even upside down, an important capability for the variable gravity of lunar and planetary missions. Overcoming the zero gravity problem and its effect on the flow of oil throughout the refrigerator has been addressed with the use of an oil-free scroll compressor developed by Colorado-based company, Air Squared, a specialist in oil-free scroll solutions. The compressor will be tested both in the prototype and in its larger, more instrumented counterpart built by Purdue researchers. The engineers have built three experiments to test the effects of microgravity on a new oil-free fridge design: a prototype for potential future use on the International Space Station, a setup for testing the prototype's vulnerability to liquid flooding and a larger version of the prototype with sensors and instruments to capture how gravity affects the vapour compression cycle. The team ran all the three experiments to test the machine in a specially-designed plane that flew in microgravity. They found that the refrigerator could operate in microgravity without any liquid flooding. The oil-free vapor-compressor inside the fridge addresses the concerns about their suitability in zero gravity. Thus, if we are to colonize Mars in the near future, it is safe to assume that we would have a ready prototype of a refrigerator for our households. Credits : Akhil Handa Clint James title: Can I have a physical Debit Card/I don't have a physical card? How do I apply for one?

, content: The request of Debit Card can be made through Digital channels (Mobile/Internet Banking) after opening of the account.

title: Can I get instant Debit? How do I apply for one?

, content: bob World Digital SB Account brings you a Virtual Debit Card which can be used by you to shop online, pay bills, recharge or use 'Scan & Pay' at merchant outlets. Yes, you will be given the choice for availing virtual card while account opening.

title: How much money can I deposit into my Savings account?

, content: No such restriction in the account.

title: What kind of fees does the bank charge for opening a bob World Digital SB Account?

, content: The Account opening is complementary and bank doesn't charge any fees for opening a bob World Digital SB Account.

title: How do I set password for my Net Banking?

, content: You can use your Debit Card credentials to register for Net Banking. You'll need your card number, expiry date, CVV and PIN.

title: How do I start using the Mobile Banking App once my account is activated?

, content: Once your account is active, you can log in to the Mobile Banking App by entering your Mobile number and one time MPIN. You will be prompted to change your MPIN.

title: What is an MPIN and why do I need to set one?

, content: An MPIN is a Mobile Banking Personal Identification Number. You will need your MPIN to login to the Mobile Banking App to transact and access your account details.

title: I haven't received my welcome kit. What do I do?

, content: You will receive Welcome Kit only if you have applied for the same at the time of account opening. Otherwise you will receive Welcome letter on your mail.

title: How long does it take to activate my new account?

, content: Opening & activation of a bob World Digital SB Account generally takes T+1 day.

title: Do I need to visit a branch after opening a bob World Digital SB Account?/Can I avail services of Branch ?

, content: You need not visit a branch post account opening. Your bob World Digital SB Account lets you avail almost all our services online. However you may visit for

Cash deposit greater than or equal to Rs 1,00,000/-
Deposit of outward clearing cheque in Cheque Drop boxes.
Availing Retail Loans.
Availing Foreign Exchange transactions
Availing Locker Services
Closure of Account
Change of Address.

title: Why do I need to add a nominee to my account?/How can I add/modify nominee in my Account?

, content: Adding a nominee to your account is the smart thing to do. In the unfortunate event of an accident or untimely death, the funds in your account will be transferred to your nominee quickly and easily.

title: How many beneficiaries can I add in a day in Internet Banking (Baroda Connect) for Funds transfer?

, content: Per day maximum limit for adding beneficiaries is as under:

for NEFT/RTGS : 5
for Third party transfer (within bank) : 3
for IMPS : 2

title: What are the transaction limits in Internet Banking (Baroda Connect)?

, content: Per transaction / per day limits are as under:

Fund Transfer Limit in Baroda Connect Self-linked Account & Govt. Payments Shopping Mall/Third Party A/c
(Rs. Amount in Lakhs) NEFT/RTGS
(Rs. Amount in Lakhs)
Per Transaction Unlimited 7 10
Daily Unlimited 10 15

title: Usage of Facility:

, content: By accepting the terms and conditions on the mobile phone while registering for the facility, the customer:

Agrees to use the bob World app for financial and non-financial transactions offered by the Bank from time to time.

Irrevocably authorizes the Bank to debit the Account which have been enabled for bob World app for all transactions / services undertaken using Transaction PIN. Authorizes the Bank to map the account number, Customer ID and mobile phone number for the smooth operation of bob World app offered by the Bank and to preserve the mapping record in its own server or server of any third party and to use such data at its discretion for providing/enhancing further banking/ technology products that it may offer.

Agrees that he / she is aware and accepts that facility offered by the Bank will enable him / her to transact using Transaction PIN within the limit prescribed by the Bank and the transaction being bonafide will not be disputed.

Agrees that transactions originated using the mobile phone are non-retractable as these are instantaneous / real time.

Understands and explicitly agrees that Bank has the absolute and unfettered right to revise the prescribed ceilings from time to time which will be binding upon him/her.

Agrees to use the facility on a mobile phone properly and validly registered in his / her name only with the Mobile Service Provider and undertakes to use the facility only through mobile number which has been given to register for the facility.

Agrees that the Bank is authenticating the Customer by his mobile phone number and Transaction PIN provided by the Customer and that such authentication would be sufficient for protection of the customer transactions. The customer is solely responsible for maintenance of the secrecy and confidentiality of the Transaction PIN without any liability to the Bank. The Bank at its discretion may adopt other authentication of electronic records and the same will be acceptable and binding on the customer.

Permissions: bob World application will require Phone and SMS permissions for activation of profile.

title: Miscellaneous

, content: Customer shall be required to acquaint himself/herself with the process for using the facility and that he/she shall be responsible for any error made while using the facility.

Bank reserves the right to decide what services may be offered. Additions/ deletions to the services offered under the facility are at its sole discretion. The instructions of the Customer shall be effected only after authentication under his/her Login PIN and Transaction PIN or through any other mode of verification as may be stipulated at the discretion of the Bank.

While it shall be the endeavour of the Bank to carry out the instructions received from the Customers promptly, it shall not be responsible for the delay / failure in carrying out the instructions due to any reasons whatsoever including failure of operational system or due to any requirement of Law. The Customer expressly authorizes the Bank to access his/her account information required for offering the services under the facility and also to share the information regarding his/ her accounts with the service provider/ third party as may be required to provide the services under the facility.

The transactional details will be recorded by the Bank and these records will be regarded as conclusive proof of the authenticity and accuracy of transactions. Customer hereby authorizes the Bank or its agents to send promotional messages including the products of the Bank, greetings or any other messages the Bank may consider from time to time.

Customer understands that the Bank may send rejection or cannot process the request messages for the service request(s) sent by the Customer which could not be executed for any reason.

Bank shall make all reasonable efforts to ensure that the customer information is kept confidential but shall not be responsible for any inadvertent divulgence or leakage of Customer information for reasons beyond its control or by action of any third party.

Customer expressly authorizes the Bank to carry out all requests/ transactions purporting to have been received from his/ her mobile phone and authenticated with his/ her Transaction PIN. All payment transactions, initiated from the customer's mobile phone using his/her Transaction PIN, will be treated bonafide expressly authorizing the Bank to make the payment.

It is the responsibility of the Customer to advise the Bank of any change in his mobile number or loss/ theft of mobile phone by adopting the procedure laid down by the Bank for the purpose.

Telecom Service provider of the customer may levy charges for each SMS / GPRS and the Bank is not liable for any dispute that may arise between telecom service provider and the Customer.

For Bill payments done through Quick Bill Payment/Registered Bill Payment/ Scan to Pay etc., make the payment at least 5 working days prior to the due date to avoid late payment charges.

Disputes: Register all the complaints related to Financial/Non-Financial services in Mobile Banking by visiting "Complaints & Feedback" option provided in the application or by visiting Bank's website. This will ensure tracking of customer's complaint centrally and its resolution within the TAT (Turnaround Time).

title: Fee structure for the Facility:

, content: At present, Bank does not charge any fee for offering this Mobile Banking Facility. Bank reserves the right to charge the Customer fee for the use of the services provided under the facility and change the fee structure at its discretion. Display of such charges on Bank's website would serve as sufficient notice and the same is binding on the customer.

title: Accuracy of Information:

, content: It is the responsibility of the Customer to provide correct information to the Bank through the use of the facility or any other method. In case of any discrepancy in information, the Customer understands that the Bank will not be in any way responsible for action taken based on the information. Bank will endeavour to correct the error promptly wherever possible on a best effort basis, if the customer reports such error in information.

Customer understands that the Bank will try, to the best of its ability and effort, to provide accurate information and shall not hold the Bank responsible for any errors or omissions that may occur due to reasons beyond the control of the Bank.

Customer accepts that the Bank shall not be responsible for any errors which may occur in spite of the steps taken by the Bank to ensure the accuracy of the information and shall not have any claim against the Bank in the event of any loss/damage suffered as a consequence of an inaccurate information provided by the Bank.

title: Responsibilities and obligations of the customer

, content: The Customer will be responsible for all transactions, including fraudulent/erroneous transactions made through the use of his/ her mobile phone, SIM card and Transaction PIN, regardless of whether such transactions are in fact entered into or authorized by him/ her or not and the customer will be responsible for the loss/damage, if any suffered.

The Customer shall take all steps possible to ensure that his/her mobile phone is not shared with anyone and shall take immediate action to de- register from bob World app as per procedure laid down in case of misuse/ theft/loss of the mobile phone or SIM card.

The Customer will use the services offered under facility using the Transaction PIN in accordance with the procedure as laid down by the Bank from time to time. The Customer shall keep the Login PIN and Transaction PIN confidential and will not disclose these to any other person or will not record them in a way that would compromise the security of the services.

It will be the responsibility of the Customer to notify the Bank immediately if he/ she suspect the misuse of the Transaction PIN. He will also immediately initiate the necessary steps to change his Transaction PIN.

If the mobile phone or SIM is lost, the customer must immediately take action to de-register from bob World app at any of the Bank's ATM/ Base branch/Internet Banking/Bank's Toll free Number for the account enabled for bob World app.

The Customer accepts that any valid transaction originating from the Customer ID and / or registered mobile phone number shall be assumed to have been initiated by the Customer and any transaction authorized by the Transaction PIN is duly and legally authorized by the Customer.

The Customer shall keep himself/herself updated with regard to any information/modification relating to the services offered under the facility which would be publicized on the websites and at the branches and would be responsible for the same.

The Customer shall be liable for all loss on breach of the Terms and Conditions contained herein or contributed or caused the loss by negligent actions or a failure to advise the Bank immediately about any unauthorized access in the Account.

The Customer shall be liable and responsible for all legal compliance and adherence of all commercial terms and conditions in respect of the mobile connection/SIM card/mobile phone through which the facility is availed and the Bank does not accept/ acknowledge any responsibility in this regard.

Bank shall not accept any Stop Payment instructions, once the transaction amount and the beneficiary account are keyed in and authorized by the Customer.

The Customer is advised to be prudent in downloading content through blue-tooth and ensure that proper anti-virus software is used from time to time to remove malware residing in the hand-set.

title: Disclaimer:

, content: The Bank, when acting in good faith, shall be absolved of any liability in case:

The Bank is unable to receive or execute any of the requests from the Customer or there is loss of information during processing or transmission or any unauthorized access by any other person or breach of confidentiality due to reasons beyond the control of the Bank

There is any kind of loss, direct or indirect, incurred by the Customer or any other person due to any failure or lapse in the facility which are beyond the control of the Bank.

There is any failure or delay in transmitting of information or there is any error or inaccuracy of information or any other consequence arising from any cause beyond the control of the Bank which may include technology failure, mechanical breakdown, power disruption, etc.

There is any lapse or failure on the part of the service providers or any third party affecting the said facility and that the Bank makes no warranty as to the quality of the service provided by any such service provider. The Bank, its employees, agent or contractors, shall not be liable for and in respect of any loss or damage whether direct, indirect or consequential, including but not limited to loss of revenue, profit, business, contracts, anticipated savings or goodwill, loss of use or value of any equipment including software, whether foreseeable or not, suffered by the Customer or any person howsoever arising from or relating to any delay, interruption, suspension, resolution or error of the Bank in receiving and processing the request and in formulating and returning responses or any failure, delay, interruption, suspension, restriction, or error in transmission of any information or message to and from the telecommunication equipment of the Customer and the network of any service provider and the Bank's system or any breakdown, interruption, suspension or failure of the telecommunication equipment of the Customer, the Bank's system or the network of any service provider and/or any third party who provides such services as is necessary to provide the facility.

The Bank will not be responsible if Bank's mobile banking application is not compatible with/ does not work on the mobile handset of the Customer.

title: Indemnity:

, content: In consideration of the Bank providing the facility, the Customer agrees to indemnify and hold the Bank harmless against all actions, claims, demands proceedings, loss, damages, costs, charges and expenses which the Bank may at any time incur, sustain, suffer or be put to as a consequence of or arising out of or in connection with any services provided to the Customer pursuant hereto. The Customer shall indemnify the Bank for unauthorized access by any third party to any information/instructions/triggers given by the Customer or breach of confidentiality.

title: Privacy Policy(bob World Application) :

, content: <https://www.bobworld.com/privacy-policy>

title: Do I need to visit a branch after opening a bob World Digital SB Account?/Can I avail services of Branch ?
, content: You need not visit a branch post account opening. Your bob World Digital SB Account lets you avail almost all our services online. However you may visit for

Cash deposit greater than or equal to Rs 1,00,000/-
Deposit of outward clearing cheque in Cheque Drop boxes.
Availing Retail Loans.
Availing Foreign Exchange transactions
Availing Locker Services
Closure of Account
Change of Address.

title: How much interest can I earn?
, content: Adding a nominee to your account is the smart thing to do. In the unfortunate event of an accident or untimely death, the funds in your account will be transferred to your nominee quickly and easily.

title: Why do I need to add a nominee to my account?/How can I add/modify nominee in my Account?
, content: Adding a nominee to your account is the smart thing to do. In the unfortunate event of an accident or untimely death, the funds in your account will be transferred to your nominee quickly and easily.

title: What is a FATCA declaration and why do I need to make one?
, content: FATCA stands for the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act. RBI requires us to collect a FATCA declaration from every customer who opens a savings bank account with us.

title: What kind of safety features does bob World Digital SB Account have?
, content: Your security is extremely important to us, and we've gone to great lengths to ensure it. Within the bob World Digital SB Account app, we use two-factor authentication (2FA) - a combination of Login password and Transaction Password (M-Pin) to protect against malicious external parties. All transactions that you make are constantly monitored for fraud, and our systems and infrastructure are always updated to stay ahead of threats.

title: Can I make investments with bob World Digital SB Account?
, content: Yes, you can carry out investments through bob World Digital SB Account by using Insurance & Investment tab in M-Connect Plus app.

title: How many beneficiaries can I add in a day in Internet Banking (Baroda Connect) for Funds transfer?
, content: Per day maximum limit for adding beneficiaries is as under:

for NEFT/RTGS : 5
for Third party transfer (within bank) : 3
for IMPS : 2

title: How can I withdraw cash through my bob World Digital SB Account?
, content: You can use card less withdrawal facility at any of the Bank of Baroda ATM by generating one time password transaction from your Mobile Banking. Per Day withdrawal limit is Rs 5000/.However Cash withdrawal can also be done using the Physical Debit Card if you have requested for same through Mobile banking.

title: Can I get instant Debit? How do I apply for one?

, content: bob World Digital SB Account brings you a Virtual Debit Card which can be used by you to shop online, pay bills, recharge or use 'Scan & Pay' at merchant outlets. Yes, you will be given the choice for availing virtual card while account opening.

title: How much money can I deposit into my Savings account?
, content: No such restriction in the account.

title: How can I fund My Account.
, content: You can fund your account by requesting fund collection using UPI ID. Alternatively you can deposit cash upto Rs. 2 Lakhs at Cash Deposit Machines available in e-lobby of the branches of bank of Baroda. You can also fund your Account Debit Card or Net Banking of another bank. You can also share your VPA/UPI ID for collecting the funds from a third party. You can also deposit Cash at branch counter if the amount to be deposited is Rs. 1 Lakh or more. You can also deposit clearing cheques in your Account in Cheque drop boxes title: What kind of fees does the bank charge for opening a bob World Digital SB Account?

, content: The Account opening is complementary and bank doesn't charge any fees for opening a bob World Digital SB Account.

title: What is the maximum period of funding the Account?
, content: In case of B3 Plus Account at least one transaction in the Account is required to be done within 7 days of Account opening. For B3 EDGE and ULTRA Account the funding needs to be done within 30 days of Account opening title: What is an MPIN and why do I need to set one?

, content: An MPIN is a Mobile Banking Personal Identification Number. You will need your MPIN to login to the Mobile Banking App to transact and access your account details.

title: How will I get my account details?
, content: Once the account is activated, you will receive Welcome mail on your registered Email ID along with your account details. The pdf file will be a password protected file which can be opened by inputting your PAN number.

title: How long does it take to activate my new account?
, content: Opening & activation of a bob World Digital SB Account generally takes T+1 day.

title: It says waiting for agent for my Video KYC. What should I do?
, content: Sorry for the inconvenience. This may happen due to heavy traffic on our platform, be online. As soon as the agent is available, your call will get connected.
You also have an option to schedule your call to a later date if that's more convenient for you.

title: Why do I need to give access to my location for the Video KYC process?
, content: According to RBI guidelines, Video Based Customer Identification Process is available for Indian Residents only. Providing location access will help us ascertain your location. This is for verification purposes only and will not be shared with any one.

title: I am not getting my OTP from UIDAI, what should I do?
, content: Due to some technical reason, there may be some delay however if OTP is not received for considerable time then you will be required to recheck AADHAR number keyed in the portal.

title: What is the minimum internet speed required for Video KYC process
, content: You will require good internet speed preferably 70 kbps and above to complete the Video KYC process.

title: I am facing internet issue. Can I re-initiate the call?
, content: Yes. You can use the same link you used earlier to start the video call again. You also have the option to reschedule your Video KYC if you don't want to do it now.

title: What are the advantages of V-CIP?
, content: This is a contactless and paperless way to verify your identity. Best of all, you can do it without going to the branch, from the comfort of your Home.

title: Can I do VKYC account opening through my mobile phone?
, content: V-KYC process can be done through mobile phone by clicking on the link sent through SMS on your registered mobile number which is compatible across various mobile devices.

title: How will I start my "Scheduled Video KYC"?
, content: You will get an SMS on your registered Mobile Number, -01- minute prior to your scheduled time. Click on the Hyper-Link in SMS and validate the same through OTP to start your Video KYC.

title: What are the steps involved in Video KYC?
, content: Our agent will carry out basic checks through video interaction. The agent will guide you through the process. Kindly keep your original PAN card, Aadhaar card, Operational Mobile number Registered with Aadhar number handy. Once the Video KYC is finished, you will receive an email to your registered email and text SMS in your mobile number informing the status of your application.

title: What are the timings for Video KYC? When can I carry out the video KYC process? Is it available 24*7?/ Can I open my Account on Sunday.
, content: You can schedule your Video KYC from 10AM to 5PM on all working days except Bank Holidays.

title: When can I schedule my Video KYC?
, content: After clicking on the Hyper-Link you will be required to generate OTP which will be received in your registered mobile number. After keying the OTP, you can immediately start your Video KYC by clicking on "Start" button or schedule it as per your convenience by clicking on "Schedule Later" button, and selecting your preferred date and time slot from the options available.

title: What are the requirements for Video- KYC?
, content: Following are the requirements for Video KYC :

Original PAN Card
Original Aadhar Card
Pension Payment Order (PPO) uploaded during submission of Online Account Opening

Application (Applicable only for Pension Accounts)
Web browser preferably Chrome and Safari (with Location permission in Settings)
Internet, Camera/Webcam & Microphone enabled Mobile/Device and Permission to access your device's location, camera and microphone.
Please make sure that you have a blank white paper with black/blue pen available during the Video KYC process to provide your signature.
Please ensure that you have uninterrupted data connectivity when you are going through the Video KYC process.
Please ensure that your background is blank. Also ensure that your background is light in color (Preferably white) and no other person should come into the frame during the Video KYC process.

title: Where will I get the link for scheduling my Video KYC?
, content: You will receive Video KYC Link on your E-mail and Mobile number used while filling up the online Account Opening Form. Also check your SPAM folder for mail from no-reply@bankofbaroda.com title: Can I open account using a number which is not registered with Aadhar?/

My mobile is not registered with Aadhar ,can I open my Account ?
, content: This Account can only be opened by individuals only if the Mobile Number is registered with Aadhar.

title: I am not getting OTP , content: There may be issue with your service provider, However you may request the bank to resend the link after 90 seconds.

title: I am not getting e mail verification link on your mail.
, content: Please check your junk email. Please check the email ID keyed in by you is correct. However you may request the bank to resend the link after 90 seconds.

title: Can I chose my preferred branch?
, content: Yes you are allowed to select your Branch as per PIN code in Aadhaar address.

title: Can I hold my account jointly with another applicant?
, content: Unfortunately, this account is intended for a single user only, and cannot be held jointly. The permissible mode of operation is self only.

title: My Mobile number is not registered with Aadhaar number. Can I still apply for an account?
, content: Unfortunately, we won't be able to accept your account opening request as we will be unable to access your Aadhaar data without OTP authentication which is done through registered mobile number.

title: I do not have an Aadhaar number. Can I still apply for an account?
, content: Unfortunately, we need your Aadhaar to open your account.

title: Where can I find link for bob World Digital SB Account?
, content: All you need is to download M-Connect Plus mobile banking application and click on "Open Digital Savings Account" to open bob World Digital SB Account.

title: List of Restrictions:

, content: Passbook issuance.

Cash Payment.

Cash Receipt however the same should be allowed through Cash Deposit Machine and as an exception customer can deposit cash of Rs 1 lakh and above in the Branch. Transfer of funds between Accounts.

RTGS / NEFT /IMPS.

DD/BC issuance.

Interest/Balance/TDS certificate.

Statement of Account

Debit card related services (Issuance/blocking/Pin changes)

Registration/Deregistration of Mobile Banking/Net Banking

Cheque Book related services (issuance/stop payment etc.)

Clearing transactions (Inward)

FD/RD creation

Account level modifications like (Nomination)

title: Collection of Personally Identifiable Information and Other Information

, content: When you use our application, we collect and store your personal information provided by you from time to time. We do so to ensure that you are provided a safe, efficient, smooth and seamless experience. This also allows us to understand your needs and provide for services and features that best suit them. We strive to provide for services and features that best suit them. We strive to provide for customizations on our application to ensure that your experience is always safer and easier. This requires collection of personal information to the extent necessary for achieving this purpose and objective.

You may please note that it is mandatory to register yourself in order to use the app. And once you give us your personal information, you are not anonymous to us. We may automatically track certain information about you based upon your behavior on our app to the extent permitted by law .

If you choose to transact on the app, we collect information about your transaction behavior. We collect some additional information such as a billing address, details of recipient or payer of the transaction, location, etc. which may be used for providing better experience to you while using the App.

If you choose to provide information by way of messages on our message boards (as & when available) and/ or chat rooms or any other message areas or if you prefer to leave feedback, we will collect that information you provide to us. We retain this information as necessary to resolve disputes in terms of transactions and otherwise, where needed, provide customer support and troubleshoot problems as permitted by law. We collect personally identifiable information (email address, name, phone number, Aadhar number etc.) from you when you register with us to create your unique identification in terms of Virtual Payment Address and/ or any other unique registration identification that is/ shall be made available to our customers.

title: Use of Demographic/ Profile Data/ Your Information

, content: We use personal information to provide the services you request. We use personal information to resolve disputes; troubleshoot problems; Send money, collect money; measure consumer interest in our products and services and we may use the information to keep you apprised on any online and offline offers, products, services and updates that shall be made available for use of our customers. We use the information thus obtained to customize your experience; detect and protect us against error, fraud and other criminal activity; enforce our terms and conditions which are an integral part of the use of this application; and as otherwise described to you at the time of such collection.

We identify and use your IP address to help diagnose problems with our server, and to administer our app. Your IP address is also used to help identify you and to gather broad demographic information.

title: Sharing of personal information

, content: We may disclose personal information if required to do so by law or in the good faith belief that such disclosure is reasonably necessary to respond to subpoenas, court orders, or other legal processes. We may disclose personal information to law enforcement offices upon such requests, third party rights owners or others in the good faith belief that such disclosure is reasonable necessary to:

Enforce our Terms or Privacy Policy

Respond to claims that an advertisement, posting or other content violates the rights of a third party

To protect the rights, property or personal safety of our users or the general public.

We will share some or all of your personal information with another business entity should we( or our assets) plan to merge with, or be acquired by that business entity, or re-organisation, amalgamation, restructuring of business. Should such a transaction occur that other business entity (or the new combined entity) will be required to follow this privacy policy with respect to your personal information.

title: Methods of Data processing :

, content: Data is controlled and processed in house by the bank. The in house Data centre processes the data of Users in a proper manner and appropriate security measures are taken to prevent unauthorized access, disclosure, modification, or unauthorized destruction of the Data. The Data processing is carried out using computers and / or IT enabled tools, following organizational procedures and modes strictly related to the purposes indicated. In addition to the Data centre, in some cases, the Data may be accessible to bank officials, involved with the operation of the service (administration, sales, marketing, legal, system administration) or external parties (such as vendors, third party technical service providers, mail & SMS carriers) appointed, if necessary, as Data Processors by the business Owner. The updated list of these parties may be requested from the business owner at any time.

title: Usage Data:, content: Information collected automatically from this Application (or third party services employed in this Application ), which can include: the mobile number and SIM serial number of the Users who use this Application, the method utilized to submit the request to the server, the size of the file received in response, the numerical code indicating the status of the server's answer (successful outcome, error, etc.), the features of the browser and the operating system utilized by the User, the various time details per visit (e.g., the time spent on each page within the Application) and the details about the path followed within the Application with special reference to the sequence of pages visited, and other parameters about the device operating system and/or the User's IT environment.

title: User, content: The individual (registered customer) using this Application, which must coincide with or be authorized by the bank Subject, to whom the Personal Data refer.

title: Data Subject:, content: The legal or natural person to whom the Personal Data refers to Data Processor (or Data Supervisor) The natural person, legal person, public administration or any other body, association or organization authorized by the bank to process the Personal Data in compliance with this privacy policy.

title: Place of data processing:, content: The Data is processed at the bank's Data centre and in any other places where the parties involved with the processing are located.

title: Storage of your information:

, content: With reference to the provision of the regulatory laws and rules, Bank shall maintain all necessary records of transactions between the Bank and the customer for at least five years from the date of the transaction.

Further, preserve the records pertaining to the identification of the customers and their addresses obtained while opening the account and during the course of business relationship, for at least eight years after the business relationship is ended.

Bank is also required to maintain the records for a longer duration in case there is a dispute and matter is pending in any Court/Enforcement Agencies etc.

Notwithstanding anything, Regulators/Courts may, by an order in writing, direct any banking company to preserve any of the books, accounts or other documents, for a period specified for their preservation.

In case of e-record, Bank has well defined procedures for process of sanitization, to expunge data from storage media for destruction.

Bank has well defined procedures and standards for handling data security.
title: Methods of Data processing :

, content: Data is controlled and processed in house by the bank. The in house Data centre processes the data of Users in a proper manner and appropriate security measures are taken to prevent unauthorized access, disclosure, modification, or unauthorized destruction of the Data. The Data processing is carried out using computers and / or IT enabled tools, following organizational procedures and modes strictly related to the purposes indicated. In addition to the Data centre, in some cases, the Data may be accessible to bank officials, involved with the operation of the service (administration, sales, marketing, legal, system administration) or external parties (such as vendors, third party technical service providers, mail & SMS carriers) appointed, if necessary, as Data Processors by the business Owner. The updated list of these parties may be requested from the business owner at any time.

title: About US : Chief Vigilance Officer, content: Mr. Surendra Kumar Dixit
Bank of Baroda
Baroda Corporate Centre
5th Floor, G-Block
Bandra Kurla Complex
Bandra East - Mumbai - 400051
Phone - 022 - 66985724
Email: cvo.bcc@bankofbaroda.com title: About US : Chief Group Compliance Officer, content: Mr. B. Elango Chief General Manager

Bank of Baroda
Baroda Corporate Centre
7th Floor, G-Block, C-26
Bandra Kurla Complex
Bandra East - Mumbai - 400051
Phone : 022-66985704
Email : cgm.compliance@bankofbaroda.com

title: About US : Domestic Subsidiary, content: BOBCARD LIMITED (Formerly known as BOB Financial Solutions Limited) : (Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Bank of Baroda)
CIN : U65990MH1994GOI081616
Shri Ravindra Rai M(Whole Time Director)
Corporate Office:1502/1503/1504,15th Floor,DLH Park, S.V. Road,Goregaon (West), Mumbai - 400 104
Maharashtra, India.Contact no 41683700
E-Mail Id : dy.md@bobcard.co.in Registered Office:2nd Floor, Baroda House,Behind Dewan Shopping Centre,S.V. Road, Jogeshwari (West),Mumbai - 400102.Maharashtra, India.Contact Number:022-42068502/Fax No.: 022-49631918

title: About US : Domestic Subsidiary, content: BOB Capital Markets Ltd.: (Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Bank of Baroda)
Shri Sanjeev Dobhal(Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer)
Registered & Corporate Office
1704, B Wing, 17th Floor,Parinee Crescenzo, Plot No. C - 38/39,G Block, Bandra Kurla Complex,Bandra (East), Mumbai-400 051,Maharashtra, India.Phone: +91-22-6138 9300
E-Mail: bcml@bobcaps.in Visit: www.bobcaps.in title: About US : Domestic Subsidiary, content: Baroda Global Shared Services Limited : Ms. Sumit Chadha

Managing Director & CEO
Baroda Global Shared Services Limited.
5th Floor, Baroda Sun Tower,
C-34, G Block,
Bandra Kurla Complex,
Bandra (East)
Mumbai-400051
Phone: 022-66985123
E-Mail: contact@bgss.in Visit: www.bgss.in title: About US : Domestic Subsidiary, content: Nainital Bank Ltd. : Shri Nikhil Mohan Managing Director & CEONainital Bank Ltd., NainitalPhone: 05942 236721, 05942 235823Visit: www.nainitalbank.co.inE-Mail: md.ceo@nainitalbank.co.in

title: About US : Domestic Subsidiary, content: IndiaFirst Life Insurance Company Limited : Ms. R. M. Vishakha
Managing Director & CEOPhone: +91 22 62700501Fax: +91 22 62700600Visit: www.indiafirstlife.com

title: About US : Domestic Subsidiary, content: Baroda BNP Paribas Asset Management India Private Limited : Mr. Suresh Soni - Chief Executive Officer
REGISTERED OFFICECrescenzo, 7th Floor, A Block,G-Block, Bandra Kurla Complex,Mumbai - 400051,Maharashtra, India.Phone: +91-22-69209600E-Mail: service@barodabnpparibasmf.inVisit: www.barodabnpparibasmf.in

title: About US : Domestic Subsidiary, content: Baroda BNP Paribas Trustee India Private Limited (Formerly Baroda Trustee India Private Limited) : Mr. I. V. L. Sridhar - Associate Director
REGISTERED OFFICECrescenzo, 7th Floor, A BlockG-Block, Bandra Kurla ComplexMumbai - 400051,Maharashtra, India.Phone: +91-22-69209600E-Mail: service@barodabnpparibasmf.inVisit: www.barodabnpparibasmf.in

title: About US : Domestic Subsidiary, content: BarodaSun Technologies Limited : (Wholly Owned Subsidiary of Bank of Baroda)CIN: U74999MH2017GOI296962Registered Office:3rd Floor, Baroda Sun Tower,C-34, G-Block, Bandra - Kurla Complex,Bandra (E), Mumbai 400 051,Maharashtra, IndiaContact No. 022 6759 2503

title: About US : Joint Venture Company (J.V.), content: India Infradebt Ltd.: Mr. Suvek Nambiar Managing Director & CEOIndia Infradebt LimitedThe Capital, 'B' Wing, 1101A,Bandra Kurla Complex,Mumbai - 400 051.Phone: 022-6819 6900Fax: 022-6819 6910E-Mail: suvek.nambiar@infradebt.inWebsite: www.infradebt.in

title: About US : Joint Venture Company (J.V.), content: India International Bank Malaysia Berhad : Mr. Anand Kumar - Chief Executive Officer
India International Bank (Malaysia) Bhd.Kuala Lumpur Branch,Ground Floor, Bangunan Yee Seng,15, Jalan Raja Chulan, 50200Kuala Lumpur, MalaysiaTel:ISD Code: +60General: 3 20261767Dir: 3 20261621Fax: 3 20261766E-Mail: ceo@iibm.com.my (CEO), dyceo@iibm.com.my (Kuala Lumpur Branch)click here <https://www.indiainternationalbank.com.my/> title: About US : Overseas Subsidiary , content: Bank of Baroda Botswana Ltd : Mr. Sanjay Joshi, Managing Director.

Bank of Baroda (Botswana) LtdPlot No. 14456, Kamoshungo Road,Gaborone West Industrial.Near Nokia CircleGaborone, BotswanaTelephone Nos:Gen: 00267 399 27 10Fax: 00267 399 27 20, 00267 399 27 21E-Mail: md.botswana@bankofbaroda.comSWIFT-BIC CODE - BARBBWGXXXX Gaborone branchPO Box 21559,Plot No. 1108, Queens Road,The Main Mall,Gaborone , BotswanaTelephone Nos:Gen: 00267-3933776 / 00267-3933773Fax: 00267-3188879E-Mail: gaborone@bankofbaroda.comSWIFT-BIC CODE - BARBBWGXXXXFrancistownLOT 31966,Baines Avenue,New Haskins Building,Francistown, BotswanaPhone: +267-2413429; + 267-2413440Fax: +267-2413437E-Mail: gwesbo@bankofbaroda.comSWIFT-BIC CODE - BARBBWGXXXX Gaborone West BranchPlot no. 14456,G- West Industrial Area,G-West, Gaborone,Botswana.Telephone Nos:Gen: 00267-3992705Fax: 00267-3992720E-Mail: gwesbo@bankofbaroda.comSWIFT-BIC CODE - BARBBWGXXXXPalapye BranchPlot 18679 (23) Madiba Complex,Palapye, Botswana.Private Bag No : 11,Palapye BotswanaPhone: +267-4920033/4920041Fax: +267-4920037E-Mail: Palapye@bankofbaroda.comSWIFT-BIC CODE - BARBBWGXXXX title: About US : Overseas Subsidiary , content: Bank of Baroda (Kenya) Ltd. : Head Office, NairobiAddress:Baroda House, Head Office, 90 Muthithi road,5. P.O.Box 30033-00100 ,Nairobi, KenyaTelephone : +254(020) 2248412/2248402SOL ID : 9590SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENAXXE-mail : kenya@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour :Mon - Fri : 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m.(EAT)Sat: 9.30 a.m. to 12.30 p.m.

(EAT)Sun: Holiday Muthithi Road BranchAddress:Baroda House, Head Office, 90 Muthithi road,P.O.Box 30033-00100 ,Nairobi, KenyaTelephone : +254(20) 2248402 / 2248412; Mobile +254 783142277E-mail : muthithi@bankofbaroda.comNairobi Main Office BranchAddress:Baroda House, 29th Koinange Street,P.O.Box 30033-00100 ,NairobiTelephone : +254 (20) 2226416SOL ID: 9590SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENANMOE-mail: nairob@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Fri : 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.(EAT)Sat: 9.30 a.m. to 11.30 a.m. (EAT)Sun: HolidayCustomer Care Number :(+254)0708167445 Industrial Area BranchAddress:Industrial Area, Enterprise Road,P.O. Box 18269-00500 , Nairobi.Telephone : +254 (20) 6555971/6555945SOL ID: 9587SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENAINDE-mail: indust.nairobi@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Fri : 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.(EAT)Sat: 9.30 a.m. to 11.30 a.m. (EAT)Sun: HolidayCustomer Care Number :(+254)020-2695367Diamond Plaza BranchAddress:First Floor, Diamond Plaza, LR No. 209/3413,Masari Road , P.O. Box: 583-00606,NairobiTelephone : +254 (020) 3742257/3742263E-mail: dp.nairobi@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Sat: 10.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. (EAT)Sun: 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. (EAT)Customer Care Number :(+254)020-3742257 Sarit Center BranchAddress:Sarit Centre, Lower Ground Floor,Westlands, P.O. Box 886-00606,Nairobi.Telephone : +254 (20) 3752590/91SOL ID: 9586SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENASARE-mail: sarit@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Sat: 10.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m.(EAT)Sun: 10.00 a.m. to 1.00 p.m. (EAT)Customer Care Number : (+254)0701752593Mombasa Road BranchAddress:Somak House (Ground Floor), Near Airtel Bldg,Mombasa Road, Nairobi,P.O. Box No. 18948 – 00500- Mombasa Road,Nairobi.Telephone : +254 (020) 6829118/6829119SOL ID: 9596SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENAMRNE-mail: mombasaroad@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Fri : 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.(EAT)Sat: 9.30 a.m. to 11.30 a.m. (EAT)Sun: HolidayCustomer Care Number :(+254)020-6829444 Digo Road Branch, MombasaAddress:Plot No.XXV/61, Kizingo, Mombasa.Telephone : +254 (041) 2224507/8,2226211SOL ID: 9582SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENAMOME-mail: digoro@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Fri : 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.(EAT)Sat: 9.30 a.m. to 11.30 a.m. (EAT)Sun: HolidayCustomer Care Number : (+254)0708166746Nyali Branch, MombasaAddress:Ground Floor, Texas Tower, Nyali Road,P.O. Box: 95450-80106, MombasaTelephone : +254 (041) 4471103SOL ID: 9593SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENANYAE-mail: nyali@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Fri : 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.(EAT)Sat: 9.30 a.m. to 11.30 a.m. (EAT)Sun: HolidayCustomer Care Number :(+254)0707545400 Thika Branch, ThikaAddress:Kenyatta Avenue, P.O. Box 794-01000, Thika.Telephone : +254 (067) 22379, 30048SOL ID: 9584SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENATHIE-mail: thika@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Fri : 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.(EAT)Sat: 9.30 a.m. to 11.30 a.m. (EAT)Sun: HolidayCustomer Care Number :(+254)0708167516Kisumu Branch, KisumuAddress:Central Square, P.O. Box: 966-40100, Kisumu.Telephone : +254 (057) 2021768/74, 2020303SOL ID: 9585SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENAKISE-mail: kisumu@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Fri : 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.(EAT)Sat: 9.00 a.m. to 11.00 a.m. (EAT)Sun: HolidayCustomer Care Number :(+254)0771927101 Eldoret Branch, EldoretAddress:Chardor Patel Plaza,Moi Street,P.O. Box 1517, -30100 ,EldoretTelephone : +254 (053) 2063341SOL ID: 9588SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENAELE-mail: eldoret@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Fri : 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.(EAT)Sat: 9.30 a.m. to 11.30 a.m. (EAT)Sun: HolidayCustomer Care Number :(+254)0716812368Nakuru Branch, NakuruAddress:Vikers House, Kenyatta Avenue,P.O. Box 12408-20100, NakuruTelephone : +254 (051) 2211718SOL ID: 9589SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENANAKE-mail: nakuru@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Fri : 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m. (EAT)Sat: 9.00 a.m. to 11.30 a.m. (EAT)Sun: HolidayCustomer Care Number : (+254)0512211718 Kakamega Branch, KakamegaAddress:Kenyatta Avenue, P.O. Box 2873, KakamegaTelephone : +254 (056) 2111777SOL ID: 9592SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENAKAKE-mail: kakamega@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Fri : 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.(EAT)Sat: 9.30 a.m. to 12.00 pm. (EAT)Sun: HolidayCustomer Care Number :(+254)0708167541Meru Branch, MeruAddress:Brown Rock Building, Njuri Ncheke Street,P.O. Box No. 2762-60200,MeruTelephone : +254 (020) 2341342/056-30632SOL ID: 9594SWIFT CODE (BIC): BARBKENAMERE-mail: meru@bankofbaroda.comBusiness Hour:Mon – Fri : 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.(EAT)Sat: 9.30 a.m. to 11.30 a.m. (EAT)Sun: HolidayCustomer Care Number :(+254)0708167592 title: About US : Overseas Subsidiary , content: Bank of Baroda (Uganda) Ltd. : Mr. Shashi Jaikishore Dhar, Managing Director Bank of Baroda (Uganda) Ltd. Head Office,

Kampala Road,
P.B. No. 7197,18,
Kampala, Uganda
Tel:
Gen: 00256-414232783
Fax: 00256-414230781
E-Mail: md.uganda@bankofbaroda.com, Industrial Area
Plot 37,39,41 & 43, Kibira Road,
P.O. Box No.73446,
Clock Tower, Uganda
Tel:
ISD Code: 00256
Gen: 414-237545
Fax: 414-237559
E-Mail: Industrial.kampala@bankofbaroda.com

Iganga
84A & 84B Main Street,
P.O. Box No.61,
Iganga, Uganda
Tel:
ISD Code: 00256
Gen: 434-242400
Fax: 434-242400
E-Mail: iganga@bankofbaroda.com
Swift: BARBUGKAXXX Jinja Plot 16A/B Iganga Road,
P.B. NO. 1102,
Jinja, Uganda
Tel:
ISD Code: 00256
Gen: 434-120478
Dir: 434-123162
Fax: 434-122777
E-Mail: jinja@bankofbaroda.com
Swift: BARBUGKAXXX

Kampala
Kampala Road,
P.B. No. 7197,18,
Kampala, Uganda
Tel:
ISD Code: 00256
Gen: 414-346985
Dir: 414-236192
Fax: 414-258263
E-Mail: kampal@bankofbaroda.com
Swift: BARBUGKAXXX Mbale Baroda House,
3, Pallisa Road
P.B. No. 971,
Mbale, Uganda
Tel:
ISD Code: 00256
Gen: 454-432817
Fax: 454-433583
E-Mail: mbale@bankofbaroda.com
Swift: BARBUGKAXXX

Mbarara
11 Masaka Road,
P.O. Box 1517,
Mbarara, Uganda
Tel:
ISD Code: 00256
Gen: 485-421330

Fax: 485-421330
E-Mail: mbarara@bankofbaroda.com
Swift: BARBUGKAXXX Railway Station
Plot No.2/2B,
Kampala Road,
P O Box 7266,
Kampala
Tel:
ISD Code: 00256
Gen: 414-255248
Dir: 414-255247
Fax: 414-255247
E-Mail: railway.kampala@bankofbaroda.com
Swift: BARBUGKAXXX
Kansanga
Plot No. 70 / 378,
3, KM Gaba Road,
Near Kampala International University,
P.O. Box 7467,
Kansanga, Kampala
Tel:
ISD Code: 00256
Gen: 414-269642
Fax: 414-269638/41
E-Mail: kansanga@bankofbaroda.com
Swift: BARBUGKAXXX Kawempe Shree Hari Complex,
Plot No. 35/36,
Bombo Road,
P.O. Box 7820,
Kawempe, Kampala
Tel:
ISD Code: 00256
Gen: 414-568740
Fax: 414-568744
E-Mail: kawampe@bankofbaroda.com
Swift: BARBUGKA-XXY
Mukono
Bank of Baroda (U) Limited, Plot No. 111, P.O. Box 122
Block No. 530, Mukono, Uganda
Tel:
ISD Code: 00256
Phone: 414-291990
Fax: 414-291991
E-Mail: mukono@bankofbaroda.com
Swift: BARBUGKA-XXY Lira
Bank of Baroda (U) Ltd,
Lira Branch,
Plot No 2, Aputi Road,
P O Box 266,
Lira, Uganda
Tel:
ISD Code: 00256
Phone: 473-420030
Fax: 473-420030
E-Mail: lira@bankofbaroda.com
Swift: BARBUGKA-XXY
Ovino Market
Plot No. 22 Kisenyi Road,
P.O. Box 7239 Kampala, Uganda
Tel:

ISD Code: 00256
Phone: 414-256188
Fax: 414-256183
E-Mail: ovino@bankofbaroda.com Kabale Plot No.94, Kabale Main Road,
P.O.Box 1137,
Kabale, Uganda
Tel:

ISD Code: 00256
Phone: 4486-422087
Fax: 486-422158
E-Mail: kabale@bankofbaroda.com
Entebbe
Plot No. 24, Gower Road, Opposite Junior Entebbe School,
P O Box . 589,
Entebbe, Kampala
Tel:

ISD Code: 00256
Phone: 414-323155
Fax: 414-323156
E-Mail: entebbe@bankofbaroda.com Kololo
Bank of Baroda (U) Ltd,
Plot -31, Kira Road, Kampala
Tel:

ISD Code: 00256
Phone: 414-532227
Fax: 414-531970
E-Mail: kololo@bankofbaroda.com
Lugazi Branch ( New)
Plot No. 101 & 102,
Lugazi Circle, Block 17, Jinja Road,
Lugazi, Uganda
Tel:

ISD Code: 00256
Phone: 414-448005
E-Mail: lugazi@bankofbaroda.com
Arua
P. O. Box 1539, Plot No. 16-22,
Duka Road Block A, Arua, Uganda.

Telephone : +256-414673734

E-Mail: arua@bankofbaroda.com

title: About US : Overseas Subsidiary , content: Bank of Baroda (Guyana) Inc. : Bank of Baroda (Guyana) Inc.10 Avenue of the Republic,Regent Street,
Georgetown,P.O. Box 10768,Guyana, South AmericaTel:ISD Code: 00592General: 2264005/06Dir: 2266423Fax: 2251691E-Mail: ce.guyana@bankofbaroda.com, bobinc@networksgy.com Mon ReposGround Floor,Mon Repos Mall,Lot - 30, Tract
'A',Mon Repos,East Coast Demerara,Guyana, South AmericaTel:ISD Code: 00256Phone: 220-8593 / 220-8604/ 220-8608Fax: 220-8593E-Mail:

monrepos@bankofbaroda.comGeorgetown10 Avenue of the Republic,Regent Street,
Georgetown,P.O. Box 10768,Guyana, South AmericaTel:ISD Code: 00592General:
2264005/06Dir: 2272627Fax: 2251691E-Mail:
georgetown@bankofbaroda.comwww.bankofbaroda.gy title: About US : Overseas Subsidiary , content: Bank of Baroda (New Zealand)

Ltd. : Mr. Nitin Pandey, Managing Director Bank of Baroda (New Zealand) Ltd.

114, Dominion Road,
Post Box No. 56580,
Auckland, New Zealand-1446
Tel: +64-9-6321020
Fax: +64-9-6385082

E-Mail: md.nz@bankofbaroda.com
Website: www.barodanzltd.co.nz Wellington Post Code 6145,
55, Featherston Street,
Post Box No. 5813,
Wellington, New Zealand-6011
Tel: +64-4-4710196 / +64-4-4710197
Fax: +64-4-4994343

E-Mail: wellnz@bankofbaroda.com
Auckland
114, Dominion Road,
Post Box No. 56580,
Auckland, New Zealand-1446
Tel: +64-9-6321020
Fax: +64-9-6385082

E-Mail: aucknz@bankofbaroda.com title: About US : Overseas Subsidiary , content: Bank of Baroda (Tanzania) Ltd. : Mr. Aditya Narayan Singh, Managing Director
Head office Plot No.149/32
Ohio/Sokoine Drive,Dar-es-Salaam P.O.Box 5356,TanzaniaEast AfricaTel: +255-22
2124456E-Mail: md.tanzania@bankofbaroda.comDar-es-SalaamPlot No.149/32
Ohio/Sokoine DriveDar-es-Salaam P.O.Box 5356,TanzaniaEast AfricaTel: +255-222124456/72/87Fax: +255-222124457E-Mail: bobdar@bankofbaroda.com ArushaPlot No.
12, Block E, Goliondoi Road,P.O. Box 3152, Arusha,Tanzania, East AfricaTel:
+255-27-2544986 / 2548306Fax: +255-27-2544955E-Mail:
bobaru@bankofbaroda.comKariakoo BranchPlot No. 8, Block - 13,Mafia Street, Dar es Salaam,P.O. Box 5610,Tanzania, East AfricaTel: +255-222185721 / +255-222185390Fax: +255-222185403E-Mail: bobkar@bankofbaroda.com Mwanza BranchPlot
No.153, Block-T,P. O. Box 1914, Kenyatta Road,Mwanza, Tanzania, East AfricaTel:
+255-28-2501421Dir: +255-28-2501420, +255-28-2501423Fax: +255-28-2501422E-Mail:
bobmwa@bankofbaroda.com

title: About US : Overseas Subsidiary , content: Bank of Baroda (UK) Ltd. : Mr.
Madhur Kumar, Managing Director
Address of Head office of UK subsidiary Bank of Baroda (UK) Limited
32, City Road, London
EC1Y 2BD

Telephone No : (+44) 02074571521/(+44) 02074571521
Fax No : 0044 20 7457 1523
e-mail : md.uksub@bankofbaroda.com London Main Branch
London Main Office Branch, 32 City Road, London - EC1Y 2BD Telephone No.
20 74571544
20 74571515
Fax No 20 74571516
Email Id: agm.lmo@bankofbaroda.com

Southall
86, The Broadway, Southall,
Middlesex - UB1 1QD
Telephone No.
20 85715637
20 85741324

Fax No 20 88431171
Email Id: southa@bankofbaroda.com Wembley
2, Ealing Road, Wembley,
Middlesex - HA0 4TL
Telephone:
20 89020072
20 89027407
Fax:20 89031977

Email id: brent@bankofbaroa.com
Kenton Road
213, Kenton Road,
Harrow,

Middlesex - HA3 0HD
Telephone:
20 89091739
Fax:20 89071358
Email id: kenton@bankofbaroda.com Tooting 39, Upper Tooting Road, Tooting,
London - SW17 7TR
Telephone:
20 87676469
Fax:20 86821669
Email: streat@bankofbaroda.com
Birmingham
173/175, Soho Road, Handsworth,
Birmingham - B21 9SU
Telephone:
121 5235018
121 5235973
Fax:121 5510058
Email id: handsw@bankofbaroda.com Manchester
50, Swan Street,
Manchester - M4 5JU
Telephone:
161 8322291
161 8325588
Fax:161 8323400
Email id: manche@bankofbaroda.com
Leicester
59A, Belgrave Road,
Leicester - LE4 6AS
Telephone:
116 2663120
116 2663970
Fax:116 2668019
Email id: leices@bankofbaroda.com Ilford
171, Ilford Lane,
Ilford, Essex - IGI 2RT
Telephone:
20 85148609
Fax:20 85531333
Email: ilfoln@bankofbaroda.com

title: About US : Overseas Associate, content: Indo-Zambia Bank Ltd. (Lusaka) :
Mr. Kowdichar Shashidhar, Managing DirectorClick here
<https://www.izb.co.zm/english/home.aspx>Branch Name : Lusaka Main BranchAddress :
Plot 6907, Cairo Rd, LusakaE-mail Id : cmlusm@izb.co.zm \ bmlusm@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Chilanga BranchAddress : S/D 1880, Kafue Rd, LusakaE-mail Id : bmchilanga@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Kamwala BranchAddress : Plot 228 (A) Chilumbulu Rd, LusakaE-mail Id : bmkamwala@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Northend BranchAddress : Plot 830, Malasha Junction, LusakaE-mail Id :
bmnnend@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Industrial BranchAddress : Plot 284, Mumbwa Rd, LusakaE-mail Id : bmindl@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Chandwe Musonda BranchAddress :
Prinx Park, Chandwe Musonda Rd, LusakaE-mail Id : bmchandwe@izb.co.zmBranch Name
: Mandahill BranchAddress : Plot 1860B, Manda Hill Shopping Mall, LusakaE-mail Id : bmmadahill@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Crossroads BranchAddress : Crossroads Shopping Mall, Leapords Hill Rd, LusakaE-mail Id : bmcrossroads@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Chawama BranchAddress : Plot 27/100 Spar Chawama Shopping Mall, LusakaE-mail Id : bmchawama@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Chilenje BranchAddress : Plot 22/25
New Chilenje, LusakaE-mail Id : bmchilenje@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Kafue BranchAddress : Plot 1076, Lusaka Rd, KafueE-mail Id : bmkafue@izb.co.zm Branch
Name : Lusaka Civic CentreAddress : Stand No LUS/3249/REM Independence Avenue, LusakaE-mail Id : civiccenter@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Levy Mwanawasa Medical University AgencyAddress : LOT/LUS/LUSAK/3170151, Levy MwanawasaMedical University, Public Hub, Great East Road, LUSAKAE-mail Id : lmmu@izb.co.zm Branch

Name :Kabwe BranchAddress : Plot No 56 Great North Rd, KabweE-mail Id :
 bmkabwe@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Mulungushi AgencyAddress : Mulungushi University, Great North Rd, KabweE-mail Id : Branch Name : Serenje BranchAddress : Stand No
 19 Convent Rd, SerenjeE-mail Id : bmserenje@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Ndola Main BranchAddress : Plot No 30 President Ave, NdolaE-mail Id : bmdola@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Jacaranda BranchAddress : Plot No 3539 Corner Mushili/Kabwe Rd, Jacaranda Shopping Mall, NdolaE-mail Id : bmjacaranda@izb.co.zmBranch Name :
 Kitwe BranchAddress : Kingstone Building, Kaunda Square, KitweE-mail Id :
 bmkitwe@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Chingola BranchAddress : Plot no 1860 Kwacha street, ChingolaE-mail Id : bmchingola@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Chililabombwe BranchAddress : Plot 2100 Midway Ave, ChililabombweE-mail Id : bmchililabombwe@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Solwezi BranchAddress : Plot no 408/409 town centre, SolweziE-mail Id : bmsolwezi@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Solwezi Civic Center AgencyAddress : Plot no 17979 Independence Ave, SolweziE-mail Id : Branch Name : Kasama BranchAddress : Stand no 9 Independence Ave, KasamaE-mail Id : bmkasama@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Mungwi AgencyAddress : Plot No 1031, MungwiE-mail Id : bmmungwi@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Chinsali BranchAddress : Plot no 2008
 Victor Ngandu Rd, ChinsaliE-mail Id : bmchinsali@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Mansa BranchAddress : Stand No.170 Corner Mulenshi/Chembe Rd, MansaE-mail Id :
 bmmansa@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Nyimba BranchAddress : Plot NYI 1700 Great East Rd, NyimbaE-mail Id :Branch Name : Chipata BranchAddress : Plot S/D 2310A Hospital Rd, ChipataE-mail Id : bmchipata@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Lundazi BranchAddress : Stand no 2553, LundaziE-mail Id : bmlundazi@izb.co.zmBranch Name
 : Choma BranchAddress : Stand 79A Livingstone Rd, ChomaE-mail Id :
 bmchoma@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Livingstone BranchAddress : Stand No 122/A Mosi
 O Tunya Rd, LivingstoneE-mail Id : bmlstone@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Livingstone Civic Centre AgencyAddress : Stand No LIV 1962 Mosi O Tunya Rd, LivingstoneEmail Id : Branch Name : Zimba AgencyAddress : Stand No 3 Plot No 26 Lusaka Rd, ZimbaE-mail Id : bmzimba@izb.co.zmBranch Name : Mongu BranchAddress : Plot No 3255 Independence Ave, MonguE-mail Id : bmmongu@izb.co.zm Branch Name : Longacres BranchAddress : Longacres Mall, Stand number 27395, Alick Nkhata Road, mass media, LusakaE-mail Id : bmlongacres@izb.co.zmPhone : +260 211220068Branch Name : Premier BranchAddress : Indo house corporate head office, Plot 1213/1214, Conner of great east/Addis Ababa drive, Lusaka P O BOX 35411E-mail Id :
 Bmpremier@izb.co.zmPhone : +260 211220052

title: About US : Corporate Social Responsibility, content: Bank is carrying out CSR activities through RSETIs and FLCC centers and other CSR activities as donations and contributing actively to the socio-economic development through various activities in following areas:Skill development through training programs to youthHealth care, sanitation, drinking water facilities, education/literacyWomen empowermentSocial welfare/economic developmentPromotion of digital payment & others

title: About US : Offices & Branches, content: Registered OfficeHead Office,Baroda House, Mandvi,BARODA - 390001Contact No: 0265
 2316795/2Email :gm.ops.ho@bankofbaroda.comHead OfficeBank of BarodaGeneral Manager (Principal Nodal Officer)Baroda Bhawan7th floor, R.C. Dutt Road, Vadodara - 390007Corporate CentreBank of BarodaBaroda Corporate Centre, Plot No.
 C-26, Block G, Bandra Kurla Complex, Bandra (East), Mumbai 400051Ph : (022) 6698 5000-04 (PBX)Fax : (022) 2652 1955 title: About US : Awards, content: Bank of Baroda awarded National Award for Outstanding Performance in the SHG Bank Linkage Programme for the year 2022-23

 With immense pleasure, we like to inform you that our Bank has been honoured with the prestigious "National Award for Outstanding Performance in the SHG Bank Linkage Programme for the year 2022-23" by Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana- National Rural Livelihood Mission, Ministry of Rural Development, Government of India on 29.11.2023 at 24th CLCC Tripura.

The award was received by our Honourable Executive Director Shri Ajay Kumar Khurana from Shri Charanjit Singh, Additional Secretary, MoRD Govt of India.
 This is the fourth time that our efforts have been recognized and awarded.

title: About US : Awards, content: Bank of Baroda is awarded BT-KPMG Best Bank Awards 2022 for Workforce and Talent Management.

title: About US : Awards, content:
 Bank of Baroda is awarded Best in Employee Engagement Strategy and Excellence in

Implementation of HR Technology in 5th CHRO vision and innovation Awards 2023

title: About US : Awards, content:

Bank of Baroda is awarded Best in Community Impact Initiative during Employee Happiness Award Summit 2023 organized by Kamikaze B2B Media title: About US : Awards, content: Bank of Baroda Apex Academy Research Team of Baroda bagged the 3rd prize in Technology Category for their paper on the theme 'Technological Development in Banking and Payment Systems' at the 5th International Youth Symposium by Gujarat University.

Bank of Baroda Apex Academy Research Team of Baroda bagged the 3rd prize in Technology Category for their paper on the theme 'Technological Development in Banking and Payment Systems' at the 5th International Youth Symposium by Gujarat University.

title: About US : Awards, content: Bank of Baroda is awarded 'Golden Peacock HR Excellence Award' for the year 2020 for Excellence in Human Resources Management.

Bank has undertaken significant initiatives to improve its HR practices and created new benchmarks. It has gone beyond the statutory labour and compliance requirements to achieve high standards of HR Excellence. The Golden Peacock HR Excellence Award has been conferred upon our Bank as a recognition of its Best HR practices. Bank has undertaken significant initiatives to improve its HR practices and created new benchmarks. It has gone beyond the statutory labour and compliance requirements to achieve high standards of HR Excellence. The Golden Peacock HR Excellence Award has been conferred upon... Read More

title: About US : Awards, content: Brandon Hall, HCM Excellence award 2019 - Best use of Mobile Learning

Brandon Hall, HCM Excellence award 2019 - Best use of Mobile Learning The Excellence Awards recognize the best organizations that have successfully deployed programs, strategies, modalities, processes, systems, and tools that have achieved measurable results. The awards attract entrants from leading corporations around the world, as well as mid-market and smaller firms. Our Bank has also participated in the Mobile Learning category and won award for Best use of Mobile Learning among many participants around the world.

title: About US : Awards, content: Bank of Baroda was conferred the Rajbhasha Kirti award by Shri Amit Shah, Union Minister of Home Affairs

Union Minister of Home Affairs Shri Amit Shah presents Rajbhasha Kirti Award to Shri S. L. Jain, Executive Director, Bank of Baroda Bank of Baroda, country's second largest public sector bank, was recently awarded the Rajbhasha Kirti Award for the year 2018-19 under 'B' linguistic region. The award was given to the bank for exceptional achievement in implementing the official language policy, consecutively for the third year in a row. The award was facilitated by the honourable Union Minister of Home Affairs Shri Amit Shah to Shri Shanti Lal Jain, Executive Director, Bank of Baroda in presence... Read More title: About US : Awards, content: The L&D innovation platform and tech summit & awards 2020 - Best use of Online Learning - Baroda Radio & Best Learning Platform implementation of the year - Baroda Gurukul

We have also won -2- awards in The L&D innovation platform and tech summit & awards 2020 for our Online Learning initiatives and Learning platform implementation. We have also won -2- awards in The L&D innovation platform and tech summit & awards 2020 for our Online Learning initiatives and Learning platform implementation.

title: About US : Awards, content: Brandon Hall, HCM Excellence award 2019 - Best use of Mobile Learning

Brandon Hall, HCM Excellence award 2019 - Best use of Mobile Learning The Excellence Awards recognize the best organizations that have successfully deployed programs, strategies, modalities, processes, systems, and tools that have achieved measurable results. The awards attract entrants from leading corporations around the world, as well as mid-market and smaller firms. Our Bank has also participated in the Mobile Learning category and won award for Best use of Mobile Learning among many participants around the world. Bank of Baroda was conferred the Rajbhasha Kirti award by Shri Amit Shah, Union Minister of Home Affairs Union Minister of Home Affairs Shri Amit Shah presents Rajbhasha Kirti Award to Shri S. L. Jain, Executive Director, Bank of Baroda Bank of Baroda, country's second largest public sector bank, was recently awarded the Rajbhasha Kirti Award for the year 2018-19 under 'B' linguistic region. The award was given to the bank for exceptional achievement in implementing the official language policy, consecutively for the third year in a row. The award was facilitated by the honourable Union Minister of Home Affairs Shri Amit Shah to Shri Shanti Lal Jain, Executive Director, Bank of Baroda in presence... Read More

The L&D innovation platform and tech summit & awards 2020 - Best use of Online Learning - Baroda Radio & Best Learning Platform implementation of the year - Baroda Gurukul

We have also won -2- awards in The L&D innovation platform and tech summit & awards 2020 for our Online Learning initiatives and Learning platform implementation. We have also won -2- awards in The L&D innovation platform and tech summit & awards 2020 for our Online Learning initiatives and Learning platform implementation.

Bank of Baroda received the IPE award for "Best practices in CSR awards - 2020" for livelihood initiative. The award was received by Shri P. Srinivas, Zonal Head, Hyderabad on behalf of the Bank

Bank of Baroda received the IPE award for "Best practices in CSR awards - 2020" for livelihood initiative. The award was received by Shri P. Srinivas, Zonal Head, Hyderabad on behalf of the Bank

Bank of Baroda received the IPE award for "Best practices in CSR awards - 2020" for livelihood initiative. The award was received by Shri P. Srinivas, Zonal Head, Hyderabad on behalf of the Bank

Bank of Baroda awarded 'National Award for Excellence in Training & Development' for Excellence in Training & Development and 'National Awards for Best in Class Learning & Development' for Best Deployment of a Learning Management System.

Bank of Baroda awarded 'National Award for Excellence in Training & Development' for Excellence in Training & Development and 'National Awards for Best in Class Learning & Development' for Best Deployment of a Learning Management System.

SKOCH 'Order of Merit' Award for Baroda Anubhuti (Enhancing Employee Experience) on 29.06.2019

SKOCH 'Order of Merit' Award for Baroda Anubhuti (Enhancing Employee Experience) on 29.06.2019

World HRD Congress -2019 - Best Use of Technology " Baroda Radio" & Innovation in Training "Life begins at 60"

World HRD Congress -2019 - Best Use of Technology " Baroda Radio" & Innovation in Training "Life begins at 60"

World HRD Congress is organizing these awards for more than 25 years and we have won -2- awards in -2- different category. Last year also we have received 2 awards from World HRD Congress.

SKOCH 'Order of Merit' Award for Project SparshPlus (Human Touch for Business Excellence) on 29.06.2019

SKOCH 'Order of Merit' Award for Project SparshPlus (Human Touch for Business Excellence) on 29.06.2019

Bank of Baroda awarded the National Award for outstanding performance in SHG Financing during FY 2018-19, among the Public Sector Banks.

Bank of Baroda awarded the National Award for outstanding performance in SHG Financing during FY 2018-19, among the Public Sector Banks.

Proactive approach and initiatives of Bank of Baroda in SHG Bank Linkage has been acknowledged by DAY-NRLM, Ministry of Rural Development, GoI.

BOB has been awarded the National Award for their outstanding performance in SHG Financing during FY 2018-19, among the Public Sector Banks. Mr. B.R. Patel, General Manager- Chief Coordination, Agriculture & FI received the award from Ms Leena Johri- IAS, Joint Secretary MoRD, GoI, in presence of Shri Sanjeev Kumar, Ad...

Read More

Bank of Baroda bags an award "Winner for the Most Customer Centric Bank Using Technology" at the IBA Banking Technology 2019 Awards Function, held at St. Reges, Mumbai.

Bank of Baroda bags an award "Winner for the Most Customer Centric Bank Using Technology" at the IBA Banking Technology 2019 Awards Function, held at St. Reges, Mumbai.

Bank of Baroda received Runners Up award for "Best Payment Initiatives", at the IBA Banking Technology 2019 Awards Function, held at St. Reges, Mumbai.

Bank of Baroda received Runners Up award for "Best Payment Initiatives", at the IBA Banking Technology 2019 Awards Function, held at St. Reges, Mumbai.

Best Technology Bank of the year - Winner - "Baroda Rajasthan Gramin Bank, at the IBA Banking Technology 2019 Awards Function, held at St. Reges, Mumbai

Best Technology Bank of the year - Winner - "Baroda Rajasthan Gramin Bank, at the IBA Banking Technology 2019 Awards Function, held at St. Reges, Mumbai

Bank of Baroda bags CSR Excellence award

Bank of Baroda bags CSR Excellence award

PDF file that opens in new window. To know how to open PDF file refer Help section located at bottom of the site.(82.5 KB)

Bank of Baroda bags two awards at Atal Pension Yojana Awards 2018-19

Bank of Baroda bags two awards at Atal Pension Yojana Awards 2018-19

Shri Rajiv Kumar, Secretary, Department of Financial Services, in the presence of Shri Hemant G. Contractor, Chairman, PFRDA and Shri Supratim Bandopadhyay, WTM (Finance), PFRDA, presented the award for "Leadership Capital" to Shri G.B. Panda, General Manager (Govt Relationship) Bank of Baroda on behalf of Shri P.S. Jayakumar, MD & CEO, Bank of Baroda. Bank of Baroda has been awarded and honoured as the 'Best Bank in Supply Chain Finance' by The Institute of Supply Chain Management. Bank of Baroda has been awarded and honoured as the 'Best Bank in Supply Chain Finance' by The Institute of Supply Chain Management. Description: The award was presented to Shri. Litesh Majethia, Head, Supply Chain Finance, Bank of Baroda at the 4th Asian Supply Chain Thought Leadership Summit and Awards 2018. Bank of Baroda wins award for official language implementation Award received from His Excellency Vice President Bank of Baroda wins award for official language implementation Award received from His Excellency Vice President IBS India Banking Summit & Awards 2018 has conferred upon Retail Bank of the year to Bank of Baroda & CEO of the year to our MD & CEO Mr. P S Jayakumar. IBS India Banking Summit & Awards 2018 has conferred upon Retail Bank of the year to Bank of Baroda & CEO of the year to our MD & CEO Mr. P S Jayakumar. Best Digitized Supply Chain Finance Platform to help MSME Financing Bank of Baroda is proud to receive the appreciation and honor from World Trade Center, Mumbai for the Best Digitized Supply Chain Finance platform to help MSME at the 7th Global Economics Summit 2018. Bank of Baroda has been awarded winner in Agricultural Banking in the large class bank category in ASSOCHAM social banking excellence award 2017. Bank of Baroda has been awarded winner in Agricultural Banking in the large class bank category in ASSOCHAM social banking excellence award 2017. Our Executive Director Mr. Ashok Kumar Garg along Mr. G B Bhuyan and Mr. B. R. Patel (General Managers from Rural & Agri Banking and CSR Department) receiving the winner award for "Agricultural Banking" under Large Banks from the hands of Shri Shiv Pratap Shukla, Hon'ble Minister of State for Finance, GoI during 13th Annual Banking Summit cum Social Banking Excellence Award 2017 organised by ASSOCHAM. Banking Frontiers Finnoviti 2018 Awards - Award for Financial Inclusion to Bank of Baroda. Banking Frontiers Finnoviti 2018 Awards - Award for Financial Inclusion to Bank of Baroda. Bank of Baroda has been ranked among the top 50 companies in India on People Capital Index (PCI). Bank of Baroda has been ranked among the top 50 companies in India on People Capital Index (PCI) which is brought out by HR analytics and assessment firm, Jombay in partnership with Job portal site Naukri.com and British Standards Institute (BSI). Bank of Baroda won -4- Awards at the 57th Association of Business Communicators of India (ABCI) Awards. Bank of Baroda won -4- Awards at the 57th Association of Business Communicators of India (ABCI) Awards. Awarded -4- Categories are as under: Wallpaper (Cat 6) - Vigilance Awareness Week Web Communication - Online Campaign (Cat 27) - Friendship First online Campaign Features (Language) (Cat 13) - Akshayam Table Calendar (Cat 22) - Table Calendar 2017. Bank of Baroda has won the award from PFRDA, Govt. of India for Makers of Excellence APY (Atal Pension Yojna) Campaign (7th to 20 th December, 2017). The Award was received by Mr B.S. Dhaka, Zonal Head, Lucknow Zone on behalf of our MD & CEO, Mr P.S. Jayakumar from Chairman PFRDA, Govt of India, at New Delhi on 28.02.2018. The award was conferred for opening of 42665 APY accounts during the campaign by PFRDA, Govt of India against target of 30000 accounts during the campaign. Asian Business Leadership Forum has conferred upon Business Innovator award -2017 to our MD & CEO Mr. P S Jayakumar. Asian Business Leadership Forum has conferred upon Business Innovator award -2017 to our MD & CEO Mr. P S Jayakumar. Bank of Baroda has won the three awards under the Atal Pension Yojana Scheme (APY). Bank of Baroda has won the following three awards under the Atal Pension Yojana Scheme (APY) : 1st - Top Performing Bank in sourcing APY accounts FY 2016-17 (For opening highest number of APY accounts during FY 2016-17) 2nd - Best Performing Bank in sourcing of APY accounts FY 2016-17 (For second highest average APY accounts per branch during FY 2016-17) 1st - APY Transformative Leader (For opening highest number of APY accounts during the APY Transformative Leaders campaign) 1st - APY SLBC Leader (For opening highest number of APY SLBC Leadership Campaign in the state of Uttar Pradesh) 1st - AP... Read More Shri P.S. Jaykumar, MD & CEO received the first award at the hands of His Excellency, The president of India , Mr. Ramnath Kovind. Bank of Baroda has bagged prizes in five categories as under: First Prize among all the nationalized banks in Linguistic Region 'B' under Rajbhasha Kirti Award Scheme of Government of India for the year 2016-2017 for outstanding achievement in implementation of official language policy. First and Second Prizes in title: About US : Information on Amalgamation, content: Bank of Baroda is a pioneer in various customer centric initiatives in the Indian banking sector. Bank is amongst first in the industry to complete an all-inclusive rebranding exercise wherein various novel customer centric initiatives were undertaken along with the change of logo. The initiatives include setting up of specialized NRI Branches, Gen-Next Branches and Retail Loan Factories/ SME Loan Factories with an assembly line approach of processing loans for speedy disbursal of loans.

Linguistic Region 'A' under TOLIC category Second Prize in Linguistic Region 'B' under TOLIC category Rajbhasha Gaurav Puraskar Scheme Shri P.S. Jayakumar, MD & CEO received the first award at the hands of His Excellency, The president of India, Mr. Ramnath Kovind on 14th September... Read More Bank of Baroda won Silver Award for Best Social Media Brands under Bank category. Best Social Media Brands Awards 2017 is in its first edition and was instituted by Social Samosa an Indian knowledge repository website on Social Media.

title: About US : Information on Amalgamation, content: FAQs : Bank of Baroda is a pioneer in various customer centric initiatives in the Indian banking sector. Bank is amongst first in the industry to complete an all-inclusive rebranding exercise wherein various novel customer centric initiatives were undertaken along with the change of logo. The initiatives include setting up of specialized NRI Branches, Gen-Next Branches and Retail Loan Factories/ SME Loan Factories with an assembly line approach of processing loans for speedy disbursal of loans.

title: About US : Compliance, content: Bank of Baroda is a fully compliant and conservative bank The Bank is committed to participating in international efforts to counter money laundering and terrorist financing and it ensures that it's senior management and employees are committed to complying with all legislation and appropriate guidelines have been designed to combat money laundering activity, the funding of the terrorist or criminal activity. The Bank has made this declaration in order to provide all relevant information required from the bank to supplement the completion of AML Questionnaire. This declaration is reviewed and updated periodically. USA Patriot Act Certification Wolfsberg Group Correspondent Banking Due Diligence Questionnaire (CBDDQ) V 1.4 Bank of Baroda Standard KYC questionnaire Bank's licence W-8 BEN-E Form Chief Group Compliance Officer Mr. B. Elango Chief General Manager Bank of Baroda Baroda Corporate Centre 7th Floor, G-Block, C-26 Bandra Kurla Complex Bandra East - Mumbai - 400051 Phone - 022 - 66985704 Email : cgm.compliance@bankofbaroda.com title: About US : History, content:

Maharaja Sayajirao Gaekwad III

The founder of Bank of Baroda

The bank was founded by the Maharaja of Baroda, Maharaja Sayajirao Gaekwad III on 20 July 1908. The bank, along with 13 other major commercial banks of India, was nationalised on 19 July 1969, by the Government of India and has been designated as a profit-making public sector undertaking (PSU).

title: About US : Initiative, content: The major ongoing initiatives of the Bank are detailed below: Project Navodaya Bank has initiated a major business transformation christened "Project Navodaya" with various initiatives cutting across business units and support functions across the Bank. The three pillars of the Project Navodaya viz., (1) Transform and monetize the core business (2) Build next-gen capabilities in priority areas viz, digital, shared services, analytics and relationship management (3) Nurture the organization and unleash the talent pool while building a strong control and compliance culture across the Bank. Bank has established shared services centre first of its kind in the nationalized banking space through a wholly owned subsidiary undertaking all back office functions of the Bank which are happening in silos in different geographies at one centralized place at GIFT city, Gandhinagar. This will enable reduction in turn around time, higher transparency, standardization, economies of scale, etc besides freeing up man-hours for front end staff for sales and service. People Initiatives Bank is endowed with a competent and motivated employee base which is engaged in handling the extensive business operations of the Bank across the globe. Strategic HR interventions like, according cross border and cross cultural work exposure to its managers, hiring diverse functional specialists to support line functionaries and complementing the technical competencies of its people by imparting conceptual, managerial and leadership skills, gave the Bank competitive advantage. People initiatives were blended with IR initiatives to create an effectively harmonious workplace, where everyone prospered. Bank's HR policies and strategic human resources development initiatives have made the Bank a breeding ground for business leaders. The Bank provided several leaders to the industry men who went on to build other great institutions. Bank's human resources initiatives are given in detail in the following link. <https://www.bankofbaroda.in/about-us/human-resources>

New Technology Platform Bank has made substantial progress in its end-to-end business and IT strategy project covering the Bank's domestic, overseas and subsidiary operations. All Branches, extension counters in India, overseas business and five sponsored regional rural banks are on the core banking solution (CBS) platform. Bank has been providing to its customers Internet Banking, viz., bob World Internet and other facilities such as online payment of direct and indirect taxes and certain State Government taxes, utility bills, rail tickets, online shopping, donation to temples and institutional fee payment. Bank has a wide network of ATMs across the country and has also launched mobile ATMs in select cities. Initiatives have been taken to provide corporate customers with facilities like direct salary upload, trade finance and State Tax payments etc. Bank has introduced Mobile Banking (Baroda M-connect) and prepaid gift cards. Bank has implemented the Global Treasury Solution in its key territories like UK, UAE, Bahamas, Bahrain, Hong Kong, and Singapore. Bank has taken various technological initiatives in overseas operations such as implementation of Centralized SWIFT activity through Data Centre in Mumbai, Payment Messaging System with Anti Money Laundering check, Anti Money laundering Compliance and Online List Matching solution. While Bank implemented Transaction-based Internet Banking facility for its customers in Uganda, Botswana, UAE, New Zealand, Kenya, Mauritius and Seychelles, a view based e-banking facility was made available in Fiji, Oman, Tanzania and UK.

Marketing Initiatives Ever since its rebranding in 2005, Bank has consistently promoted its major strengths viz. large international presence; technological advancement and superior customer service etc. Bank had introduced the sub brand Baroda Next, state of the art-straight from the heart to showcase how it has utilized technology to nurture long term relationships for superior customer experience. The sub brand has been reinforced by alternate delivery channels such as internet banking, ATMs, mobile banking etc and robust delivery outfits like retail loan factories, SME loan factories, city sales office etc. Bank's constant endeavor to strengthen its branch/ATM network combined with well informed staff offering personalized service at its various touch points have enhanced customer interactions and satisfaction. Thus the Bank has firmly positioned itself as a technologically advanced customer-centric bank.

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) Initiatives Bank has a long legacy and tradition of contributing actively to the social and economic development of the communities in which it operates through various development activities in the realm of education, health, human welfare and other social activities. Bank of Baroda always transcends from business interest and reaches out to weaker section of society, with a view to make a meaningful difference to them. Bank helps in importing training to unemployed youth for gainful employment through our 64 RESETI Centres in ten States/UT. Up to 31.03.2020 Baroda RSETIs have trained 5,03,145 youth out of which 85,685 are SC, 1,11,296 ST, 42,645 minorities and 1,57,231 are other backward communities. Bank has also providing knowledge sharing, problem solving and credit counselling through our 87 Financial Literacy and Credit Counselling Centres (FLCC). Since inception 30,94,565 persons have been benefited from the services of FLCCs. Bank also undertakes other activities viz. healthcare, sanitation, education/literacy, drinking water facility, other eligible activities as listed under Schedule VII of Companies Act 2013.

During year 2019-20, Bank has made expenditure under CSR in different activities as under:

Segment	Amount (Rs. in Lacs)
Education & Skill Development	402.89
Health & Care	79.57
Socio-Economic Development	64.98
Grand Total	547.44

The Future Revolutionary and discontinuous changes in the operating environment are stark reminders that business success is 'impermanent'. Bank has achieved substantial progress in technology and is continuously integrating multiple platforms of technology to generate synergies. Bank continuously attempts to adapt to the dynamic economic environment while engaging in long term relationships to provide superior customer service. Bank's constant endeavor to delight its customers, which is built on its strong fundamentals will make it stronger, more resilient and enable to achieve its vision of to be the most admired Bank.

title: About US : Overview, content: It has been a long and eventful journey of more than a century across 17 countries. Starting in 1908 from a small building in Baroda to its new hi-rise and hi-tech Baroda Corporate Centre in Mumbai, is a saga of vision, enterprise, financial prudence and corporate governance.

title: About US : Overview, content: It is a story scripted in corporate wisdom and social pride. It is a story crafted in private capital, princely patronage and state ownership. It is a story of ordinary bankers and their extraordinary contribution in the ascent of Bank of Baroda to the formidable heights of corporate glory. It is a story that needs to be shared with all those millions of people - customers, stakeholders, employees & the public at large - who in ample measure, have contributed to the making of an institution.

title: About US : Overview, content: Our Mission

To be a top ranking National Bank of International Standards committed to augmenting stake holders' value through concern, care and competence.

title: About US : Overview, content: Our Logo

A unique representation of a universal symbol. It comprises dual 'B' letterforms that hold the rays of the rising sun. We call this the Baroda Sun.

The sun is an excellent representation of what our bank stands for. It is the single most powerful source of light and energy - its far reaching rays dispel darkness to illuminate everything they touch. At Bank of Baroda, we seek to be the source that will help all our stakeholders realize their goals. To our customers, we seek to be a one-stop, reliable partner who will help them address different financial needs. To our employees, we offer rewarding careers and to our investors and business partners, maximum return on their investment.

The single-colour, compelling vermillion palette has been carefully chosen, for its distinctiveness as it stands for hope and energy.

We also recognize that our bank is characterized by diversity. Our network of branches spans geographical and cultural boundaries and rural-urban divides. Our customers come from a wide spectrum of industries and backgrounds. The Baroda Sun is a fitting face for our brand because it is a universal symbol of dynamism and optimism - it is meaningful for our many audiences and easily decoded by all.

The current identity is a result of the amalgamation of e-Dena and e-Vijaya with Bank of Baroda.

The revised logo consists of two parts: the identifier and logotype in Hindi and English along with the Vijaya and Dena Bank units. Together, they are referred to as the Composite Logo. The new corporate brand identity is a clear, strategically designed, powerful visual representation which affirms that we recognize and are prepared for new business paradigms in a globalized world. All while we stay in touch with our heritage and the enduring relationships on which our bank is founded.

title: Other Links :Code of Banks Commitment to Customers : Products & Services, content: You may open different types of accounts with us such as, savings accounts, term deposits, current accounts etc. with us. You may open such accounts in the following stylesSingleJointJoint (Either or Survivor)Joint (Former or Survivor)Joint (Latter or Survivor)In any other styleWe will make available 'Basic Savings Bank Deposit Account' (BSBD Account) to all customers, without the requirement of any minimum balance. We will offer / provide minimum common facilities, without any charges. The relevant details will be made known to you in a transparent manner at the time of opening of the account.The above accounts may be opened by you with nomination facility, wherever permissible. We will include, in the account opening form, the option for nomination as also the option for indicating the name of the nominee in passbooks / account statements / FDRs. We will explain the implications of the foregoing accounts as also the nomination facilities at the time of opening of the account. We will acknowledge the receipt of your nomination details and record the fact of nomination on the passbook/account statement/ FDRs. At your request, we will also indicate the name of the nominee thereon. We will also inform you about liquid deposit facility, sweep account and similar types of products offered by us and their implications and procedures involved, at the time of opening of account.

title: Other Links : Deposit Accounts, content: Account opening and operation of deposit accounts

Before opening any deposit account, we will:

carry out due diligence as required under "Know Your Customer" (KYC) guidelines. ask you to submit or provide necessary documents or proofs to do so. obtain only such information to meet with our KYC, Prevention of Money Laundering or any other statutory requirements. In case any additional information is asked for, it will be sought separately and we will explain the reason for obtaining such additional information. Providing such information will be voluntary, unless required by law. The information will be kept confidential, unless required by law enforcing agency / banking regulator. provide the account opening forms which will contain details of essential information required to be furnished and documents to be produced for verification and/or for record for meeting the KYC requirements. require you to submit documents in respect of KYC at periodic intervals to enable us to update our records as required. explain the procedural formalities and provide necessary clarifications sought by you while opening a deposit account. give you the Most Important Terms and Conditions (MITC) governing the deposit facility you have sought to avail. at the time of opening of the account, make available to you the details of the insurance cover in force under the insurance scheme, subject to certain limits and conditions offered by the Deposit Insurance and Credit Guarantee Corporation of India (DICGC).

title: Other Links : Changing your account, content: If you are not happy about your choice of current / savings account, you may within 14 days of making your first payment into the account, approach us to switch to any of our other accounts. Alternatively, you may ask for refund of the amount which will be given back to you with any interest it may have earned. We will ignore any notice period and any extra charges.

If you decide to close your current/savings account we will do so within three working days of receiving your instructions, subject to your completing all formalities and submitting all required documents.

If you want to transfer your account to another branch of our bank we will do so. On receiving your request, we will transfer the account to the transferee branch within 3 (three) working days without insisting on fresh proof of address and on the basis of a self-declaration from you giving your current address. You will have to submit documentary proof of this address within a period of six months. We will intimate you as soon as the account is operationalised. The new branch will be provided with information on your existing standing instructions / direct debits, if any.

title: Other Links : Savings/Current accounts, content: When you open a Deposit Account, we will:

inform you about number of transactions, cash withdrawals, etc. that can be done free of charge in a given period.

inform you about the kind of charges, if any, in case of exceeding such limits. Details of the charges will be included in the Tariff Schedule.

inform you of the rate at which interest is paid on your savings deposits, how it is calculated and the periodicity of its payment.

Minimum Balance

The minimum balance to be maintained in the Savings Bank account will be displayed in our branches.

For deposit products like Savings Bank Account and Current Account or any other type of Deposit Account, we will inform you:

about the minimum balance to be maintained as part of terms and conditions governing operation of such accounts.

about charges which will be levied in case of failure to maintain the minimum balance in the account by you. Details of the charges will be included in the Tariff Schedule.

30 days in advance, of any change in minimum balance to be maintained. During this notice period, we will not charge you for non-maintenance of such higher minimum balance prescribed title: Other Links : Charges, content: Specific charges for issue of cheque books, additional/duplicate statement of accounts, duplicate passbook, copies of paid cheques, folio charges, debit card, ATM card, verification of signature, return of cheque, change in mandate or style of account, closure of Savings Bank / Current accounts etc., will be included in our Tariff Schedule. Concessions or relief given will not be withdrawn during the original validity period of the concession/relief.

title: Other Links : Passbook / Statements, content: To help you manage your account and check entries in it, we will provide you with a monthly statement / e-mail statement (subject to your acceptance) of account unless you have opted for a passbook.

You can ask us to provide you with account statements more often than is normally available on your type of account, at a charge. This charge will be indicated in the Tariff Schedule.

We will indicate our MICR Code and IFS Code in passbooks and statements of accounts.

We will make available the Customer Care number of the bank / Contact number of the branch in passbooks and statements of accounts.

We will ensure that entries in your passbook / statements are brief, informative and intelligible.

title: Other Links : Upgradation of deposit accounts, content: In case your account meets the terms for upgradation, we will upgrade your account only after obtaining your consent in writing or through any other mode or where your consent is obtained through authenticated electronic means after necessary validation.

title: Other Links : Accounts of Minors, content: We will tell you, on request, how a Deposit Account can be opened in the name of a minor and how it can be operated.

We will intimate the date on which the minor becomes major.

title: Other Links : Inoperative / Dormant accounts, content: We will:

inform you when you open your account, the circumstances under which your account will be classified as inoperative / dormant. You will also be informed at least three months before your account is classified as inoperative / dormant and the consequences thereof.

also endeavour to send an SMS/e-mail advising that your account is being classified as inoperative/dormant.

notify the joint holder/s also before an account is classified as inoperative / dormant.

inform you of the procedure to be followed if you want to activate the account.

not levy any charge merely because an account is inoperative / dormant.

not charge you for activation of the inoperative account

Closing your account

Under normal circumstances, we will not close your account without giving you at least 30 days' notice indicating the reasons for such closure. In such cases, you will be required to make alternate arrangements for cheques already issued by you and desist from issuing any fresh cheques on such account.

We will exchange soiled/mutilated notes and/ or small coins and issue good quality, clean bank notes / coins at all our branches. We will extend this facility, within prescribed limits to walk-in customers too.

For transactions above a specified amount we may require you to furnish your PAN.

Clearing Cycle / Collection Services

We may provide a drop box facility to enable you to deposit cheques to be sent for collection. Necessary precaution will be taken to ensure that cheques deposited in the drop box are properly and promptly accounted for. However, you may, if you so desire, hand over cheques at the counter against acknowledgement instead of depositing in the drop box.

We will inform you about the clearing cycle for local instruments and the outstation instruments including details such as cut-off time for lodging of instruments for same day clearing, when you can withdraw money after lodging instruments and when you will be entitled to earn interest on delayed collection as per our Cheque Collection Policy.

We will pay you compensation, as per our Cheque Collection / Compensation Policy for any delay in collection of instruments, without waiting for a demand from you.

We will inform you, immediately, by SMS / e-mail when a cheque deposited by you for collection is returned unpaid.

We will return a cheque unpaid / dishonoured along with a duly signed return memo indicating the date of return as also the reason for return / refusal of payment within 24 hours.

If immediate credit for outstation cheques is offered, we will provide relevant information including the applicable terms and conditions, such as the limit up to which instruments tendered by you can be credited, operating accounts satisfactorily, etc.

We will proceed as per our Cheque Collection Policy and provide all assistance for you to obtain a duplicate cheque/instrument in case a cheque/instrument tendered by you is lost in transit and compensate you as per our Cheque Collection / Compensation Policy.

We will give the above information when you open your account and whenever you ask for it. If there is any change in our Cheque Collection policy, the revised policy will be displayed on our website and will be made available at all our branches.

title: Other Links : Cash Transactions, content: We will accept cash and dispense cash at any of our branches under core banking subject to any restrictions on type of transaction or charges, if any, applicable to such transactions.

title: Other Links : Direct debits and standing instructions, content: We will:

at the time of opening the account tell you how direct debits/ standing instructions work and how you may record/cancel them and the charges connected with them. Charges will be levied as per the Tariff Schedule.

act upon mandates given by you for direct debits [say Electronic Clearing Service (ECS)] and other standing instructions. In case of any delay or failure in executing the mandate resulting in financial loss or additional cost, we will compensate you as per the compensation policy of the bank. If the mandate cannot be executed due to insufficient balance in your account, we will levy charges as per the Tariff Schedule.

credit your account along with interest as soon as it is determined that any amount has been unauthorisedly/erroneously debited from your account and compensate you as per the Compensation Policy of the bank.

title: Other Links : Stop payment facility, content: We will:

at the time of opening the account tell you how direct debits/ standing instructions work and how you may record/cancel them and the charges connected with them. Charges will be levied as per the Tariff Schedule.

act upon mandates given by you for direct debits [say Electronic Clearing Service (ECS)] and other standing instructions. In case of any delay or failure in executing the mandate resulting in financial loss or additional cost, we will compensate you as per the compensation policy of the bank. If the mandate cannot be executed due to insufficient balance in your account, we will levy charges as per the Tariff Schedule.

credit your account along with interest as soon as it is determined that any amount has been unauthorisedly/erroneously debited from your account and compensate you as per the Compensation Policy of the bank.

title: Other Links : Cheques / Debit instructions issued by you, content: We will:

keep original cheques/debit instructions paid from your account or copies or images of the cheques received from the presenting bank under CTS, for such periods as required by law.

give you the cheque / image of cheque / debit instruction or a copy thereof as evidence as long as records are available with us. If there is a dispute about a cheque paid / debit instructions from your account and in case the request for such cheque, etc. is made within a period of one year from the date of cheque / debit instruction, no charge will be levied. In respect of requests received beyond this period, charges will be levied as per the Tariff Schedule.

inform you how we will deal with unpaid cheques and out-of-date [stale] cheques. The details of charges to be levied will be included in the Tariff Schedule.

Term Deposits

When you place a term deposit with us, we will obtain instructions from you in the account opening form for the disposal of your deposit at maturity.

Where there are no instructions for disposal of the deposit at maturity, we will inform you well in advance through letter / mail / SMS about its impending date of maturity.

In case we still do not receive any instruction from you, we will renew the deposit, excluding deposits like tax savings deposits etc, for the same period of time as the matured deposit at the prevailing rate of interest.

We will inform you the procedure for withdrawal of term deposit before maturity.

This information will also be made available in the account opening form / MITC / reverse of the FDR.

We will inform you of the interest rates applicable and charges for premature withdrawal of term deposit.

We will permit premature withdrawals of term deposits in accordance with the mandate 'Former or Survivor / Either or Survivor', provided you have given us a specific joint mandate from all the depositors for the purpose. We will provide for such a mandate in the account opening form.

We will inform you, at the time of acceptance of the deposit, the terms and conditions and interest rate applicable in case you renew the deposits on a date after the date of maturity. This information will also be made available in the account opening form / MITC / reverse of the FDR.

We will advise you of provisions of Income Tax Act applicable to the interest income accruing to you on your deposits, our obligations under the Act and provisions available to you for seeking exemption from Tax Deduction at Source.

We will obtain Form 15 G or 15 H as applicable from you at the time of application if you are not liable to pay tax on your interest income. You may submit to us such Form periodically as required, if you are not liable to pay tax on your interest income. We will acknowledge receipt of such Forms.

We will issue the requisite certificate within the stipulated period if we deduct tax from interest paid / accrued on your deposits.

We will indicate the tax deducted, if any, on interest on term deposits credited to your Savings / Current account in the passbook / statement of account.

The survivor(s) / nominee would be receiving the payment from the bank as a trustee of the legal heirs of the deceased depositor, i.e., such payment shall not affect the right or claim which any person may have against the survivor(s) / nominee to whom the payment is made.

The payment made to the survivor(s) / nominee, subject to the foregoing conditions, would constitute a full discharge of the bank's liability.

In case of term deposits with "Either or Survivor" or "Former or Survivor" mandate, premature withdrawal on death of one of the depositors of the deposit by the surviving joint depositor/s will be permitted only if there is a mandate from all the depositors to this effect.

title: Other Links : Advances against term deposits, content: We will explain the facility of loan/overdraft available against term deposits title: Other Links : Settlement of claims in respect of deceased account holders, content: We will follow a simplified procedure for settlement of accounts of deceased account holders.

We will provide claim forms for settlement of claims of the accounts of deceased persons, to those who approach us for the forms. We will also place the claim forms on our website.

Accounts with survivor/nominee clause

In the case of a deposit account of a deceased depositor, where the depositor had utilized the nomination facility and made a valid nomination or where the account was opened with the survivorship clause ("either or survivor" or "anyone or survivor" or "former or survivor" or "latter or survivor"), payment of the balance in the deposit account to the survivor(s)/nominee of a deceased deposit account holder will be made, provided:

the identity of the survivor(s)/nominee and the fact of the death of the account holder, is established through appropriate documentary evidence.

there is no order from the competent court restraining the bank from making the payment from the account of the deceased.

In such cases, payment to the survivor(s) / nominee of the deceased depositors will be made without insisting on production of succession certificate, letter of administration or probate, etc. or obtaining any bond of indemnity or surety from the survivor(s)/nominee, irrespective of the amount standing to the credit of the deceased account holder title: Other Links : Accounts without the survivor/nominee clause, content: In case where the deceased depositor had not made any nomination or for the accounts other than those styled as "either or survivor" (such as single or jointly operated accounts), we will adopt a simplified procedure for repayment to the legal heir(s) of the depositor, keeping in view the imperative need to avoid inconvenience and undue hardship to the common person. Keeping in view our risk management policy, we will fix a minimum threshold limit up to which claims in respect of the deceased depositors could be settled without insisting on production of any documentation other than a letter of indemnity title: Other Links : Time limit for settlement of claims, content: We will settle the claims in respect of deceased depositors and release payments to survivor(s) / nominee within a period not exceeding 15 days from the date of receipt of the claim subject to the production of proof of death of the depositor and suitable identification of the claimant(s), to the bank's satisfaction.

title: Other Links : Premature termination of term deposit accounts, content: In the case of term deposits, we will incorporate a clause in the account opening form itself to the effect that in the event of the death of the depositor, premature termination of term deposits would be allowed. The conditions subject to which such premature withdrawal would be permitted would also be specified in the account opening form. Such premature withdrawal would not attract any penal charge.

title: Other Links : Treatment of flows in the name of the deceased depositor, content: In order to avoid hardship to the survivor(s) / nominee of a deposit account, we will obtain appropriate agreement / authorization from the survivor(s) / nominee with regard to the treatment of pipeline flows in the name of the deceased account holder. In this regard, we will consider

We could be authorized by the survivor(s) / nominee of a deceased account holder to open an account styled as 'Estate of _____, the Deceased' where all the pipeline flows in the name of the deceased account holder could be allowed to be credited, provided no withdrawals are made.

We could be authorized by the survivor(s) / nominee to return the pipeline flows to the remitter with the remark "Account holder deceased" and to intimate the survivor(s) / nominee accordingly. The survivor(s) / nominee / legal heir(s) could then approach the remitter to effect payment through a negotiable instrument or through electronic transfer in the name of the appropriate beneficiary.

adopting either of the following two approaches:

title: Other Links : Safe deposit lockers, content: We will give you the complete details of the rules and the procedures applicable for allotment of the safe deposit lockers and also safe deposit of valuables, in case we offer the service. We will allot lockers without linking it to placement of fixed deposits. However, to ensure prompt payment of locker rent, we may at the time of allotment, obtain a Fixed Deposit which would cover 3 years' rent and the charges for breaking open the locker in case of an eventuality.

title: Other Links : Foreign exchange services, content: When you buy or sell foreign exchange, we will give you information on the services, details of the exchange rate and other charges which apply to foreign exchange transactions. If this is not possible, we will tell you how these will be worked out. If you want to transfer money abroad, we will inform you how to do this and will give you:

a description of the services and how to use them.

details of when the money you have sent abroad should get there and the reasons for delays, if any.

the exchange rate applied for conversion of the foreign currency (if this is not possible at the time of the transaction, we will let you know later what the rate was).

details of any commission or charges, which you will have to pay and a caution that the person receiving the money may also have to pay the correspondent bank's charges.

We will tell you if the information provided by you for making a payment abroad is adequate or not. In case of any discrepancies or incomplete documentation, we will advise you immediately and assist you to rectify/complete the same.

If money is transferred to your bank account from abroad, we will tell you the original amount received and charges if any levied. If the sender has agreed to pay all charges, we will not take any charges when we credit the money into your account.

We will guide you about the regulatory requirements or conditions relating to foreign exchange services offered by us as and when requested by you.

In case of delay beyond the day when the amount is due for credit, you will be compensated (a) for any loss on account of interest for due period beyond the due date and (b) also for adverse movement of forex rate as per the Compensation Policy of the bank.

All certificates required to be issued under regulatory/statutory instructions will be issued free of charge.

title: Other Links : Remittances within India, content: If you want to remit money within India we will inform you how to effect it and will:

give a description of our services and how to use them.

suggest to you the best way to send the money to suit your needs.

disclose the details of all charges including commission that you will have to pay for the service as per the Tariff Schedule.

send you an SMS / e-mail informing you of the fate / status of the remittance made by you through mobile banking / NEFT / RTGS.

make available on our website updated contact details of our Customer Facilitation Centres to handle your queries / complaints regarding NEFT / RTGS transactions.

In case of any delay we will compensate you for the delay and any loss/additional expense incurred by you.

We will extend remittance facilities within prescribed limits to walk-in customers too.

title: Other Links : Lending, content: We will have a Board approved policy on Loans and Advances.

We will base our lending decisions on a careful and prudent assessment of your financial position and capacity to repay.

We will not discriminate on grounds of sex, caste and religion in the matter of lending. However, this does not preclude us from instituting or participating in schemes framed for specified sections of the society.

title: Other Links : Loans, content: General Information

We will:

give you the Most Important Terms and Conditions (MITC) governing the loan / credit facility you have sought to avail.

give you information explaining the key features of our loan and credit card products including applicable fees and charges while communicating the sanction of the loan/credit card.

advise you about the information / documentation we need from you to enable you to apply. We will also advise you what documentation we need from you with respect to your identity, address, employment, etc. and any other document that may be stipulated by statutory authorities (e.g. PAN details), in order to comply with legal and regulatory requirements.

verify the details mentioned by you in the loan / credit card application by contacting you at your residence and / or on business telephone numbers and / or physically visiting your residence and/ or business addresses through agencies appointed by us for this purpose, if deemed necessary by us.

if we offer you an overdraft, or an increase in your existing overdraft limit, tell you if your overdraft is repayable on demand or otherwise. We will, if required, also advise about the method of calculation of overdrawn amount and also the computation of interest.

in case we offer / approve a credit facility over the telephone, we will credit your account with the amount only after receiving your acceptance in writing or through any other mode and where your consent is obtained through authenticated electronic means / after necessary validation.

not offer any unsolicited pre-approved credit facility in any form, including enhancement of credit card limit and top up of personal loan limits, etc.

title: Other Links : Loans

, content: At the time of sourcing a loan product, we will provide as part of the loan application form, information about the interest rates along with the annualised rates of interest, whether floating or fixed, as also the fees/charges payable for processing, the amount of such fees refundable if loan is not sanctioned / disbursed, pre-payment options and charges, if any, penal rate of interest for delayed repayments, if any, conversion charges for switching your loan from fixed to floating rates or vice-versa, existence of any interest reset clause and any other matter which affects the interest of the borrower, so that a meaningful comparison with those of other banks can be made and an informed decision can be taken by you.

We will provide you with a checklist of documents to be submitted (compliant with legal and regulatory requirements) along with the loan application form to enable you to submit the application complete in all respects. If required, we will assist you in filling up your loan application form.

We shall invariably provide you with an acknowledgement of your loan application, whether submitted online or manually, indicating therein the time frame within which the application will be processed.

We will convey our decision on your loan application for a limit up to ` 20 lakh within 30 working days from the date of receipt of the application provided your application is complete in all respects and is submitted along with all the documents as per 'check list' provided. We will convey our decision on applications beyond ` 20 lakh within a reasonable time frame.

Normally all particulars required for processing the loan application will be collected by us at the time of application. In case we need any additional information we will contact you immediately.

We will communicate, in writing, the reason(s) for rejection of your loan application.

We will provide you the sanction letter detailing particulars of amount sanctioned and the terms and conditions.

We will provide you an amortisation schedule (schedule of repayment of principal and interest for the duration of the loan).

We will also inform you whether you have an option to let equated monthly instalments stay constant and changed tenure or vice-versa when the interest rate changes.

We will, at your request, supply authenticated copies of all the loan documents executed by you at our cost along with a copy each of all enclosures quoted in the loan document.

We will give written receipt for all documents to title taken as security/collateral for any loan.

We will endeavour to send you a communication through letter / mail or SMS about the status of your account before it becomes an NPA.

We will give you notice, sufficiently in advance, if we decide to recall / accelerate payment or performance under the agreement or seek additional securities.

We will provide you with an annual statement of account of your term / demand loans.

We will provide you with the loan statement, more often, if required, at a cost which will be indicated in the Tariff Schedule.

We will return to you all the securities / documents/title deeds to mortgaged property within 15 days of the repayment of all dues agreed to or contracted. If any right to set off is to be exercised for any other claim, we will give due notice with full particulars about the other claims and retain the securities/documents/title to mortgaged property till the relevant claim is settled/paid.

We will compensate you for any delay in return of securities / documents / title deeds to mortgaged property beyond 15 days of the repayment of all dues agreed to or contracted.

In the event of our losing the securities / documents / title deeds you have provided to us when you availed a loan, we will compensate you for the loss. We will issue a certificate indicating the securities / documents / title deeds lost and extend all assistance to you for obtaining duplicate documents etc.

We will process a request for transfer of borrowal account, either from you or from a bank/financial institution, in the normal course and convey our concurrence or otherwise within two weeks of receipt of request.

We will not levy foreclosure charges / pre-payment penalties on home loans carrying floating interest rate.

title: Other Links : Applications for loans and their processing, content: At the time of sourcing a loan product, we will provide as part of the loan application form, information about the interest rates along with the annualised rates of interest, whether floating or fixed, as also the fees/charges payable for processing, the amount of such fees refundable if loan is not sanctioned / disbursed, pre-payment options and charges, if any, penal rate of interest for delayed repayments, if any, conversion charges for switching your loan from fixed to floating rates or vice-versa, existence of any interest reset clause and any other matter which affects the interest of the borrower, so that a meaningful comparison with those of other banks can be made and an informed decision can be taken by you.

We will provide you with a checklist of documents to be submitted (compliant with legal and regulatory requirements) along with the loan application form to enable you to submit the application complete in all respects. If required, we will assist you in filling up your loan application form.

We shall invariably provide you with an acknowledgement of your loan application, whether submitted online or manually, indicating therein the time frame within which the application will be processed.

We will convey our decision on your loan application for a limit up to ` 20 lakh within 30 working days from the date of receipt of the application provided your application is complete in all respects and is submitted along with all the documents as per 'check list' provided. We will convey our decision on applications beyond ` 20 lakh within a reasonable time frame.

Normally all particulars required for processing the loan application will be collected by us at the time of application. In case we need any additional information we will contact you immediately.

We will communicate, in writing, the reason(s) for rejection of your loan application.

We will provide you the sanction letter detailing particulars of amount sanctioned and the terms and conditions.

We will provide you an amortisation schedule (schedule of repayment of principal and interest for the duration of the loan).

We will also inform you whether you have an option to let equated monthly instalments stay constant and changed tenure or vice-versa when the interest rate changes.

We will, at your request, supply authenticated copies of all the loan documents executed by you at our cost along with a copy each of all enclosures quoted in the loan document.

We will give written receipt for all documents to title taken as security/collateral for any loan.

We will endeavour to send you a communication through letter / mail or SMS about the status of your account before it becomes an NPA.

We will give you notice, sufficiently in advance, if we decide to recall / accelerate payment or performance under the agreement or seek additional securities.

We will provide you with an annual statement of account of your term / demand loans.

We will provide you with the loan statement, more often, if required, at a cost which will be indicated in the Tariff Schedule.

We will return to you all the securities / documents/title deeds to mortgaged property within 15 days of the repayment of all dues agreed to or contracted. If any right to set off is to be exercised for any other claim, we will give due notice with full particulars about the other claims and retain the securities/documents/title to mortgaged property till the relevant claim is settled/paid.

We will compensate you for any delay in return of securities / documents / title deeds to mortgaged property beyond 15 days of the repayment of all dues agreed to or contracted.

In the event of our losing the securities / documents / title deeds you have provided to us when you availed a loan, we will compensate you for the loss. We will issue a certificate indicating the securities / documents / title deeds lost and extend all assistance to you for obtaining duplicate documents etc.

We will process a request for transfer of borrowal account, either from you or from a bank/financial institution, in the normal course and convey our concurrence or otherwise within two weeks of receipt of request.

We will not levy foreclosure charges / pre-payment penalties on home loans carrying floating interest rate.

title: Other Links : Guarantee, content: If you want us to accept a guarantee or other security from a third party for your liabilities, we may ask you for your permission to give confidential information about your finances to the person giving the guarantee or other security, or to their legal adviser.

We will also:

encourage them to take independent legal advice to make sure that they understand their commitment and the possible consequences of their decision (where appropriate, the documents we ask them to sign will contain this recommendation as a clear and obvious notice).

inform them that by giving the guarantee or other security they may become liable instead of, or as well as, you.

inform them what their liability will be.

give a copy of the terms and conditions of the loan sanctioned / loan agreement, free of cost, to the guarantor(s) of the credit facility availed by you.

When you are considering to be a guarantor to a loan, we will tell you:

your liability as guarantor;

the amount of liability you will be committing yourself to the bank; circumstances in which we will call on you to pay up your liability;

whether we have recourse to your other monies in the bank if you fail to pay up as a guarantor;

whether your liabilities as a guarantor are limited to a specific quantum or they are unlimited; time and circumstances in which your liabilities as a guarantor will be discharged as also the manner in which we will notify you about this;

of any material or adverse change in the financial position of the borrower to whom you stand as a guarantor.

We will return to you all the securities / documents/title deeds to mortgaged property within 15 days of the repayment of all dues agreed to or contracted.

We will compensate you for any delay in return of securities / documents / title deeds to mortgaged property beyond 15 days of the repayment of all dues agreed to or contracted.

In the event of our losing the securities /documents, we will compensate you for the loss. We will issue a certificate indicating the securities / documents lost and extend all assistance to you for obtaining duplicate documents, etc.

title: Other Links : Central Registry, content: When you avail of a loan facility involving immoveable property as primary or collateral security, we will advise you the functioning of the Central Registry and the fact that their records will be available for search by any lender or any other person desirous of dealing with the property.

title: Other Links : Settlement of dues, content: You should let us know, as soon as possible, if you are not able to make your payments in time. We will consider all cases of genuine financial difficulty sympathetically and positively, in consonance with regulatory guidelines and our policy. We will try to help you overcome your difficulties. In case we offer you a One Time Settlement (OTS) for repayment of dues, we will explain to you the details of the offer. We will spell out, in writing, the terms and conditions of the OTS offered to you. If the dues are settled under OTS, we will explain to you the implications of such settlement on your credit history maintained by the CICs.

title: Other Links : Securitisation of loans/card dues, content: In case we securitise (sell) your loans / dues on your card to another entity, we will advise you the name and contact details of such entity along with the amount of your loan / dues transferred to them. In the normal course, loans / card dues, which are non-standard are considered for sale to Asset Reconstruction Company (ARC) through assignments. Where dues are settled through compromise, assigning such assets to ARC does not arise.

You will then be liable to pay the amount due to the entity to which the loan / dues have been transferred.

The entity to which the loan / dues have been transferred will continue to report your credit information to the CICs.

We will endeavour to assist you in case you have a grievance against the entity to which your loan / dues have been transferred by us.

title: Other Links : Electronic Banking, content: PINs and Passwords

We will conform to internationally accepted standards for methods of generation, storage and terminal security relating to PINs and Passwords to ensure their confidentiality and security for your protection.

We will deliver your PIN to you at our branch after due identification or deliver it at the address we have on record. You may, also at your convenience, generate PIN.

In order to safeguard your account, simple PINs or Passwords such as those listed below should be avoided.

birth dates, months or years;

sequential numbers (e.g. 3456);

number combinations that may be easily guessed (e.g. 1111); parts of your telephone number;

parts of numbers in the order in which they are printed on any of your cards;

other easily accessible personal data (e.g. driving licence, or other numbers easily connected with you);

names of family members, pets or streets.

You must safeguard your PIN or Password

Do not:

allow anyone else to use your card, PIN, password or other security information.

write down or record your PIN, password or other security information.

store your password(s) in your mobile / browser.

give your account details, password / PIN or other security information to anyone, including those who claim to be authorised representatives of the bank.

respond to any communication asking for bank account details for any purpose.

fall prey to fictitious offers / lottery winnings / remittance of cheap funds in foreign currency from abroad by certain foreign entities / individuals, including Indian residents acting as representatives of such entities / individuals. These offers are generally made through letters, e-mails, mobile phones, SMSs, etc.

Always:

memorize your PIN, password and other security information and destroy the written communication, if any, received by you.

choose your new PIN carefully, if you change your PIN.
choose a "strong" password and change it regularly.
take reasonable steps to keep your card safe in your personal custody and your PIN, password and other security information secret at all times.
take care to ensure that no-one can see you enter your PIN when you use your card at ATMs or at Points of Sale (POS) counters.
inform us of the disclosure or possible disclosure of your PIN or Password as soon as you are aware or suspect your PIN or Password has been disclosed. You should also change your Password / PIN as soon as you are aware or suspect that someone else knows them.
consider using a different PIN or Password for different cards or equipment.
put in a power-on/access password in your PC / Mobile, screensaver password on your PC, so that no one else can use your PC/ Mobile without your consent.
In case someone else knows your PIN or other security information, we will, on your notifying us, take immediate steps to try and prevent these from being misused.

title: Other Links : Internet Banking, content: We will take all necessary steps to put in place security systems to enable safe access to and transacting through internet banking.

We will take appropriate measures to ensure that our Internet Banking system and technology are secure and are regularly reviewed and updated for this purpose. We will undertake various initiatives to educate you on online security by way of periodic e-mails, through our websites and at various customer touchpoints like ATMs, etc.

We will never ask you in person or in writing (including by e-mail) to confirm your Internet Banking security information or to disclose your Password.

When we first give you access to our Internet Banking services, we will tell you where to find the information you need to safeguard your online information and to protect yourself and your own computer from fraud, scams or unauthorised transactions. This information will be updated from time to time.

We will inform you of what procedures you must use to report unauthorized access to your information, accounts or disputed transactions using Internet Banking service and make available to you contact particulars so you can report the unauthorised activity as soon as you are aware of it.

When you have access to Internet Banking services, we will also inform you of the applicable terms and conditions relating to such services. Detailed Internet Banking terms and conditions will also be available on our website.

All Internet Banking related services and associated charges, if any, will be displayed and available to you online. Charges associated with Internet Banking services will also be available in the Tariff Schedule.

We will carry out additional authentication process via second factor parameters for financial transactions, as prescribed by the regulator from time to time.

We will send you SMS / e-mail alerts for the financial transactions undertaken by you beyond the specified limit, at the contact details registered with us.

We will send you an SMS / e-mail on all payee / biller registration done on Netbanking.

We will offer you the facility of fixing a cap on the value, mode of transactions and beneficiaries in electronic modes of transactions. We will require an additional authorization in the event of your changing the options. We will send you an alert when a request for change in the options is received. You may opt out of Internet Banking Services at any point of time. However, you must keep us informed of your decision and ensure that you complete the requisite formalities.

You will not be liable for losses caused by transactions before your access to Internet Banking facility is activated / made operational.

In any dispute about receipt of Passwords or security information that are not issued to you in person, we will not rely merely on proof of despatch to your correct address as proof that they have been received by you.

In the event of any unauthorized transaction after you have received the means to access Internet Banking, your liability will be the lesser of:

the actual loss at the time of notification to us; or the balance that would have been available for withdrawal from your account(s); or

the limit you may have set for such transactions;

lower of (i) to (iii) or maximum of `10,000 (Rupees Ten thousand only).

If you advise us as promptly as is reasonably possible that your Password or any other security information is or may be known to another person or there has been an unauthorised access to your Internet Banking information or accounts, you will not be held responsible for any loss, from the time you have notified us, unless you have acted fraudulently or negligently or have contributed to such disclosure or unauthorised access.

If you incur a direct loss that is due to a security breach of our Internet Banking system as a result of our failure to take reasonable care and is not caused or contributed to by you, we will reimburse/ compensate you for that loss.

Online banking is safe and convenient as long as you take a number of simple precautions. Please make sure you follow the advice given below:

Visit our secure Internet banking site directly. Avoid accessing the site through a link from another site or an e-mail and verify the domain name displayed to avoid spoof websites.

Ignore any e-mail asking for your password or PIN and inform us of the same for us to investigate. Neither the police nor we will ever contact you to ask you to reveal your online banking or payment card PINs, or your password information.

Log off from Netbanking when your session is complete. Use the 'Log Out' button to log out so that the session closes. Do not just close the window to log off.

Do not use cyber cafés /shared PCs to access our Internet banking site.

Update your PC with latest anti-virus and spy ware software regularly.

Install security programmes to protect against hackers, virus attacks or any malicious programmes.

Install a suitable firewall to protect your PC and its contents from outsiders.

Disable the 'File and Printing Sharing' feature on your operating system.

Log off your PC when not in use.

Do not store your ID/PIN in the Internet Explorer Browser.

Check your account and transaction history regularly.

Follow our advice - our websites are usually a good place to get help and guidance on how to stay safe online.

title: Other Links : Mobile Banking, content: We will take appropriate measures to ensure that our mobile applications are secure and regularly reviewed and updated for this purpose.

Apart from your obligations when using Internet Banking, when using a mobile application or any other form of social media to access banking services you will need to take additional care to protect your device, by:

not leaving your device unattended and logged into a mobile banking service; locking your device or taking other steps to stop unauthorised use of your mobile banking service; and notifying us as soon as practicable if your device is lost or stolen.

If you opt for mobile banking services we will, prior to your registration for the service, inform you of:

the security procedure adopted by us for user authentication;

the applicability or otherwise of stop payment instructions and the terms and conditions for the acceptance, if any, for the same.

title: Other Links : ATM / Debit and Credit Cards, content: We will offer you an ATM / Debit Card if it is normally issued with the type of account you have opted for. You may decline to accept the card if you do not want it.

Where cards are delivered to you personally, we must be satisfied about your identity before allowing cards to be delivered.

We will send a service guide/member booklet giving detailed terms and conditions, losses on your account that you may be liable if your card is lost / misused and other relevant information with respect to usage of your card along with your first card.

We will inform you which of your accounts your card can access. We will also inform you whether the card issued to you has more than one function and if so, what those functions are.

We will advise you of the current transaction limits that apply at POS counters, ATMs and forex transactions.

We will advise you of the fees and charges that apply to your card.

We will provide 'Online Alerts' to you for all card transactions, irrespective of the amount. While sending you an alert every time your card is used, we will indicate the telephone number which you can contact to deactivate your card, if the transaction has not been initiated by you / your card has been misused. We will send you an SMS in the event of 3 consecutive incorrect attempts of log in on the same day.

You must always ensure that you have informed us of your current mobile number / e-mail Id so that you receive alerts promptly. Failure to keep your contact information with us updated may result in your being liable for any loss suffered as a result of misuse of your cards.

When we issue your card we will inform you how best to safeguard your card. For example, you must:

- not leave your card in an unattended wallet, purse or vehicle or anywhere from where it could be removed without being noticed;

- sign your card as soon as you receive it;

- not give your card to anyone or let anyone else use your card. Always remember to take your card back after using it;

- inform us if you change your address, so a replacement card is sent to the correct place;

- report the loss or theft of your card as soon as you are aware of it.

title: Other Links : Reporting loss / Theft / Disputed transactions, content: We will inform you of the procedure you must follow to report the loss, theft or unauthorised use of your card or PIN.

We will include in the terms and conditions what your liability will be in relation to the loss or theft of your Card or disclosure of your PIN or Password.

We will make available to you telephone numbers / e-mail Ids that you can use to report loss, theft or unauthorised use of your card, PIN or password as soon as you are aware that any such event has occurred.

You should inform us as soon as you discover that your card has been lost or stolen or someone else knows your PIN, password or other security information apart from changing them immediately.

In case your ATM / Debit / Credit card has been lost or stolen, we will, on your notifying us, take immediate steps to try to prevent these from being misused.

You may be liable for misuse until the time that we have been notified.

We will block a lost or misused card immediately on being informed of the loss/misuse. You could tell us about the loss / misuse by phone at our 24 hour toll free number and send us a written confirmation to that effect immediately. You may also send us an e-mail using the e-mail id we have given you for this purpose. We will send you a confirmation for having blocked usage of the card promptly.

Once you have advised us that your card has been lost or stolen, or your PIN or Password disclosed, you will not be responsible for any unauthorised use of your card after that time. This protection will not apply if you have acted fraudulently or negligently.

In the case of a disputed transaction, we will give you more details if you ask us to do so. In cases where we do not accept your contention, it will be our responsibility to provide evidence of your having authorized the transaction in question.

If you notify us of an incorrect, invalid or unauthorised transaction, we will investigate the matter. If the transaction is found to be incorrect, invalid or unauthorised we will reverse the transaction as per the chargeback process.

You will not be liable for losses before you receive your Card or, if applicable, your PIN and Password, provided you have notified us of your current address. In any dispute about receipt of a card, PIN or Password that is not issued to you in person, we will not rely on proof of despatch to your correct address as proof that the Card, PIN or Password was received.

You will not be liable for loss caused by:

- fraudulent or negligent conduct by our employees or agents or parties involved in the provision of electronic banking services;

- faults that occur in machines, cards or systems used, unless the faults are obvious or advised by message or notice on display; unauthorised transactions before you have received your cards, PIN or Password;

- any other unauthorised transaction where it is clear that you could not have contributed to the loss.

You will be liable to pay not more than `10,000/ (Rupees Ten thousand only) for any loss that occurs before you notify us. However, this limit will not apply if:

you have acted fraudulently or negligently; or you have contributed to the unauthorised use of your Card.

In the event that the clause above applies, your maximum liability will be the lesser of:

the actual loss at time of notification; or the maximum amount that you would have been entitled to withdraw from your account between the time your Card was lost/stolen and the time you notified us.

You will have a limited time to dispute a transaction. We will inform you of this time in the terms and conditions. Failure to report the incorrect, invalid or unauthorised transaction within that time will mean that we cannot reverse the transaction and you will have to pay for it. There are limited circumstances under which we can reverse a credit card transaction, particularly where the rules of a credit card company apply. For example, we cannot reverse a credit card transaction where there is a dispute with the Merchant as to the quality of the goods and services, or you have changed your mind about the quality of the goods and services or an error has been made by you or the Merchant on a Debit Card transaction.

We will display the telephone numbers of the help desk / contact persons of the ATM owning bank at ATM locations to enable you to lodge a complaint / seek redressal.

We will also display the name and telephone number of the officials with whom the complaint can be lodged.

We will reimburse amounts wrongly debited in failed ATM transactions within the prescribed time limit. For any delay beyond the prescribed time limit, we will pay compensation as prescribed, provided the claim is lodged with us i.e. the ATM card issuing bank within 30 days of the transaction.

In case of disputed ATM transactions, we will retain the relevant camera footage till the dispute is settled. Access to such footage will be available only if the dispute is raised within the prescribed preservation period of such records.

title: Other Links : Credit Card, content: When you apply for a credit card, we will explain the relevant terms and conditions such as fees, interest and other charges, billing and payment, method of computation of overdues, financial implications of paying only 'the minimum amount due', renewal and termination procedures, and any other information that you may require to operate the card. We will give you a copy of the Most Important Terms and Conditions (MITC) at the time of application.

We will advise you of our targeted turnaround time while you are availing / applying for a credit card.

We may also issue a deactivated (not ready to use) credit card if we consider your profile appropriate for issuing credit card and such deactivated card will become active only after you convey your acceptance of the card and take steps for its activation as required and subject to such other conditions as may be specified.

In case we activate the card without your consent or bill you for the card for which you have not given your consent, we will not only reverse the charges forthwith but will also pay a penalty amounting to twice the value of the charges reversed.

We will extend a loan / credit facility or enhance the credit limit on your card only with your consent in writing. Consent received through electronic means where you specifically validate the transaction and having read the MITC and where digital records of such consent can be retrieved as a proof of consent will also be treated as consent.

We may issue an add-on card(s) to the person(s) nominated by you. We will, at your request, set a credit limit (within the overall limit) for the add-on card(s) issued to you. You will be liable for all transactions made by such additional card holders.

If the limit on your credit card is proposed to be reduced, we will inform you immediately including the reason therefor, by SMS / e-mail followed by confirmation in writing.

We will ensure that we comply with your request for cancellation and confirm cancellation / closure of the credit card to you within 7 working days of the request being received in writing or through an e-mail Id registered with us, provided that the outstanding amount, if any, is settled / paid.

title: Other Links : Third Party Products, content: We will undertake to sell third party products like mutual funds, insurance, etc. only if we are authorised to do so. We will have a Board approved policy regarding marketing and distribution of third party financial products.

We will inform you if we, as agents of any investment / asset management company or insurance company, offer any type of investment product including mutual funds or insurance products.

We will ensure that all investment and insurance products we are selling are in accordance with extant rules and regulations.

When you avail a banking service or product from us, we will not compel you to purchase / subscribe to any third party product as a quid pro quo.

In the case of securities provided by you for loans availed from us, we will not insist on your obtaining insurance cover from any particular provider / same organisation. Obtention of insurance products if any offered by us will be purely on voluntary basis. You will be free to obtain insurance cover from a service provider of your

We will, at regular intervals, educate you by way of advertisement/ notice board/information on website/ distribution of pamphlets etc. the benefit of the products being sold at our branches, unless you have opted not to receive such information.

We will ensure that all investment and insurance products sold at the branches will be explained to you by personnel who are duly qualified to sell the products.

We will apply appropriate customer due diligence measures before selling investment / insurance products to you.

We will sell a product to you if we believe it is suitable and appropriate for you.

We will obtain the requisite application and documentation for a product offered only after you have consented to subscribe / avail of the product, in writing or through authenticated electronic means / after necessary validation.

We will provide detailed terms and conditions of the product which is being offered to you.

We will ensure that the charges for related service for selling of various products will be displayed and made available to you.

We will ensure that the statement / policy documents will be delivered to you within 30 days from the completion of all the formalities (including medical examination) as per the scheme.

We will arrange to provide maximum possible 'After Sales Service' like reminder of SIP, latest NAV, date of maturity, due date of payment of premium, etc.

We will arrange for you to have at periodical intervals information on the performance of the scheme/products you have availed.

We will disclose details of all commissions / other fees received, if any, from mutual fund / insurance/ other financial companies for marketing their products.

title: Other Links : Credit Counselling Facility, content: We will endeavour to provide credit counselling facility. Wherever such facility is available, we will display, at our branches in a particular centre, the address, timings, etc. of the counselling centres set up by any bank at that centre to enable you to avail of the service.

title: Other Links : Getting Records, content: We will, on request, make available to you, at a cost, records pertaining to your transactions, provided this is within the prescribed preservation period of such record.

title: Other Links : DEA FUND Claim Procedure, content: Policy Guidelines On Inoperative Accounts (10 Years & Above)/ Unclaimed Deposits

As per DEA FUND guidelines, An Account Shall Be Classified As Inoperative Accounts (10 Years And Above) / Unclaimed Deposits If The Same Is Not Operated (Other Than Interest Credits And Service Charge Debits) For 10 Years And More From The Date Of Last Operation.

The Customer / Survivor / Legal Heir/Authorized Signatories, As The Case May Be, May Lodge A Claim For The Unclaimed Deposit to Activate The Account, As The Case May Be.

The claim process is as follows: -

Claim by Self: Customer may visit the base branch of the Bank with the request letter (in the given format - Annexure 2) and submit valid proof of identity, address & latest photograph. On verification of the same branch shall convert account into Operative category and allow transactions in the account.

Claim by Legal Heir / Nominee: For the claim process, the Legal Heir / Nominee can visit the base branch of the Bank and submit the required documents and has to comply with the claim settlement process of the Bank.

Claim by Non-Individual: For claim of Non-Individual accounts, the customer needs to submit the Claim Form on the Company's/ Firm's / Institution's letterhead duly signed by the authorized signatories along with their valid identity and address proofs. The customer may also be required to submit such other documents as may be requested by the Bank.

title: Other Links : Central Scheme of interest Subsidy For Education Loans, content: Govt of India Education Loan Interest Subsidy Scheme

A student can apply for an education loan and get an education loan subsidy by checking his eligibility under these subsidy schemes:

Get education financing for your dream education with a education loan from Bank of Baroda. Apply for a education loan today. Give a missed call* : 846 700 1122

Central Scheme of Interest Subsidy for Education Loan

For economically weaker sections to pursue technical/professional courses in India.

Please click here for detailed guidelines of the Scheme

CENTRAL SECTOR INTEREST SUBSIDY SCHEME, 2009 _As Revised - Applicable for loans taken w.e.f. 01 .04.2018

Padho Pardesh Scheme of Interest Subsidy for Education Loans

Padho Pardesh Scheme: For students of minority communities to study abroad.

Please click here for detailed guidelines of the Scheme

Dr. Ambedkar Central Sector Scheme of Interest Subsidy for Educational Loans

Dr. Ambedkar Central Sector Scheme of Interest Subsidy for Educational Loans:

For Other Backward Classes (OBCs) and Economically Backward Classes (EBCs) to pursue education abroad title: Other Links : Code of Banks Commitment to Customers, content: Overview

This is a Code of Customer Rights, which sets minimum standards of banking practices member banks have to follow while they deal with individual customers. It provides protection to customers and explains how banks are expected to deal with customers in their day-to-day operations.

The Code does not replace or supersede regulatory or supervisory instructions of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) and we will comply with such instructions/directions issued by RBI from time to time. Provisions of the Code may have set higher standards than those prescribed in the regulatory instructions and such higher standards will prevail as the Code represents best practices voluntarily agreed to by us as our commitment to you.

We will endeavour to adopt higher standards of banking practices to extend better customer service and achieve higher levels of customer satisfaction.

title: Other Links : Code of Banks Commitment to Customers, content: In the Code, 'you' denotes the customer and 'we' / 'us', the bank, the customer deals with.

promote good and fair banking practices by setting minimum standards in our dealings with you increase transparency so that you can have a better understanding of what you can reasonably expect from us encourage market forces, through competition, to achieve higher operating standards promote a fair and cordial relationship between you and your bank;

foster confidence in the banking system.

title: Other Links : Code of Banks Commitment to Customers, content: Objectives of the Code

The Code has been developed to:

The standards of the Code are covered by the key commitments in Section 2.

title: Other Links : Application of the Code, content: This Code applies to all the products and services listed below, whether they are provided by our branches or agents acting on our behalf, whether across the counter, over the phone, by post, through interactive electronic devices, on the internet or by any other method. However, all products discussed here may or may not be offered by us.

Current accounts, savings accounts, term deposits, recurring deposits, PPF accounts and all other deposit accounts

Payment services such as pension, payment orders, remittances by way of Demand Drafts, wire transfers and all electronic transactions e.g. RTGS, NEFT

Banking services related to Government transactions

Demat accounts, equity, Government bonds

Indian currency notes / coins exchange facility

Collection of cheques, safe custody services, safe deposit locker facility

Loans, overdrafts and guarantees

Foreign exchange services including money changing

Third party insurance and investment products marketed through our branches and / or our authorised representatives or agents

Card products including credit cards, debits cards, ATM cards, smart cards and services (including credit cards offered by our subsidiaries/companies promoted by us).

The meanings of (key) words in bold black have been given in the Glossary.

title: Other Links : green-initiatives-by-bank, content: From the grain of a sand, to the snow-capped peak of the mountains;

From the vein of the leaf, to each breath and heartbeat;

Nature has nurtured us and given us the gift of life to not just prosper but also give back to the same 'Nature' which created us.

title: Other Links : green-initiatives-by-bank, content: On the momentous occasion of Bank of Baroda's 116th Foundation Day, we reaffirm our commitment and responsibility towards protecting & preserving the gifts of nature for our future generations. Hence, the bank has decided to launch a number of 'Green Initiatives' under the name of bob Earth.

As part of this initiative, we have ensured energy efficient infrastructure by ensuring TAB banking, digitization and automation of customer processes like Audit Automation, Video KYC and compliance reporting.

Green Consultants have also been appointed in 10 zones converting each step into an achievement.

171 branches of Bank of Baroda are running on solar power, thus reducing carbon dioxide emission. Segregation of waste is being stringently observed with wet waste being used to produce biogas.

title: Other Links : Pehchaan Con !, content: Decoding Pehchaan Con; a message against digital frauds

Remember the day when a person had to walk up to the Bank for every banking service? Time passed by and slowly technology bloomed making it easier for people to perform all banking functions online. But, with every advantage comes a disadvantage. So it is with technology.

The increase in digital banking has also led to a rise in digital frauds. Since 2018, there has been a continuous increase in reported incidents of cybercrime and the numbers don't seem to decrease even in 2022. As technology progresses each day, what also progresses is digital frauds.

Amidst the increasing cybercrime numbers, Banking institutions took it upon themselves to make sure that people were more aware of the frauds that can happen in their day-to-day lives. Banks have sensitive data of their Customers and hence, it becomes all the more important for people to understand how well they can protect themselves from the scams. Bank of Baroda also took the onus of speaking about the same. But, just informing people about the scams was not going to cut it anymore. The audience needed more than awareness. They needed to be nudged to act on it. And that's how "Pehchaan Con" sprung to birth.

title: Other Links : The Big Idea, content: The audience that is spoken to is well aware of the fraudulent practices. Thus, the idea takes two steps forward and provides them with the knowledge to fight these scams. It gives people slices of life situations that pose as potential frauds forcing a reaction out of them. A reaction of identifying the Con aka Pehchaan Con and vocally shutting them down with their knowledge of it.

To take the same message ahead, Bank of Baroda released 6 digital films that cater to 6 different kinds of viewers targeting different age groups and kinds of frauds. These films are entertaining and informative at the same time, forcing the audience to think while they see. They remind the audience of instances that may have transpired with them or around them. With the quirky tone of the films, it attempts to make the audience recall the films, thereby leaving them with the message.

Cybercrime security has become a very vital issue. This has forced the Government to educate its citizens about Banking frauds and scams. Hence, the first Wednesday of every month is regarded as Cyber Jagrookta Diwas. Bank of Baroda is also aligning its cybercrime security initiatives with Cyber Jagrookta Diwas.

On every first Wednesday of the month, Bank of Baroda releases a short film with a text message on fraud awareness trying its best to communicate with its audience in a consistent and relatable manner.

Bank of Baroda has also extended its wings to Cinema Branding. We all know how audiences enjoy watching movies in theatres and how they pay attention to everything that's played on the big screen before and after the movie. Hence, Pehchaan Con advertisements are also shown in cinema halls so that they can reach a wider range of audience and educate them.

title: Other Links : The way forward, content: Pehchaan Con germinated as a campaign idea but has snowballed into an initiative, which Bank of Baroda is more than happy to start and be a part of along the journey. In the near future, plans to amplify the reach through influencer level activity on Social media and PR initiatives are also on the cards. More so, a full-fledged TVC campaign is also envisaged. With this, the Bank aims and wishes that every viewer is educated, empowered and equipped to fight such scams everyday.

title: Other Links : Baroda Swarojgar Vikas Sansthan, content: Bank of Baroda has set up Baroda Swarojgar Vikas Sansthan trust under which Bank is sponsoring Rural Self-Employment Training Institutes (RSETIs) with an objective to impart training to unemployed youths particularly from Rural and Semi Urban areas to engage them to in self-employment activities. At present, there are -65- Baroda RSETIs functioning across the country. Bank of Baroda RSETIs function as per the guidelines of Ministry of Rural Development, Govt. of India.

title: Other Links : Baroda Swarojgar Vikas Sansthan, content: Major Aims And Objectives

To identify, orient, motivate, train youth and impart them the knowledge and skill for taking up self employment ventures.

To develop attitude for working in rural areas, in rural development projects.

To assist trained youth in self employment as far as possible, in obtaining credit from bank / other financial institution, and to assist them in successfully setting up their own ventures.

To conduct various training programmes (either independent or in collaboration with other organization) connected with rural technology, rural development and entrepreneurship development.

To provide counseling and consultancy guidance with all possible help to the youth in the field of Self Employment and Rural Development.

Work for development of villagers and quality of life in rural areas.

title: Other Links : Baroda Swarojgar Vikas Sansthan, content: Eligibility Criteria For Training Programmes

Any unemployed youth in the age group of 18-45 years, irrespective of caste, creed, religion, gender and economic status, having aptitude to take up self employment or wage employment and having some basic knowledge in the related field can undergo training which is totally free.

Important Training Programmes Conducted

Our RSETIs conduct various training programmes which are aligned with National Skill Qualification Framework. Some of the major activities are:

Dairy Farming

Women Tailoring

Costume Jewellery Udyami

Beauty Parlour Management

Jute Products Udyami

Papad, Pickle and Masala Powder Making

Soft Toys Maker and Seller

Paper Cover, Envelope and File Making

Refrigeration and Air-Conditioning

Mobile Phone repairs and service

Photography and Videography

Installation& Servicing of CCTV Camera

Vegetable Nursery Management and Cultivation

Computerized Accounting

Krishi Udyami

Embroidery & Fabric Painting

title: Other Links : Objectives of FLC, content: To provide financial counselling services through face-to-face interaction as well as through other available media like e-mail, fax, mobile etc. as per convenience of the interested persons, including education on responsible borrowing, proactive and early savings, and offering debt counselling to individuals who are indebted to formal and/or informal financial sectors;

To educate the people in rural and urban areas with regard to various financial products and services available from the formal financial sector;

To make the people aware of the advantages of being connected with the formal financial sector;

To formulate debt restructuring plans for borrowers in distress and will advice the beneficiary to submit the same to formal financial institutions, including co-operatives for consideration ;

To take up any such activity that promotes financial literacy, awareness of the banking services, financial planning and amelioration of debt-related distress of an individual.